

*The United States of America
Department of the Navy*

The thousands of binoculars, telescopes, spyglasses and navigation instruments furnished the Navy by individuals, in response to its appeal for "Eyes for the Navy"

have been a vital contribution in the protection of our warships, transports and supply vessels against the submarine activities of the enemy during the Great War.

The Navy acknowledges, with thanks and appreciation, your cooperation, and this certificate is issued to

G. M. Stewart

in recognition of the sacrifice made for the safety of our ships, and the assurance of final victory.

Franklin D. Roosevelt
Assistant Secretary of the Navy.
