OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

THE ticket nominated by the joint convention of the three parties in this city last Saturday, while, of course, as a whole is perhaps not satisfactory to every one in the reform parties, is, as far as we can observe, entirely satisfactory to the masses. Our friends, the enemy, have no fault to find with the personnel of the ticket, for the very good reason that none can be found. The candidate for representative, at whom many of our Republican friends are inclined to sneer, is a most estimable young man, who has had to make his own way in the world; who has educated himself and by his own efforts acquired a start in life. He was not a candidate for the office and his name was not even discussed among his friends until a day or two before the convention—when it suddenly dawned on many members of the Peoples party that he was the most available man in their ranks. He is a highly intelligent, and an honest man. He understands the needs of our people thoroughly, and we believe he will be elected and that he will serve his Republican constituents as acceptably as any man not of their political faith could do.

WE regret that lack of space forbids us printing in this issue the platform of the Democracy adopted at Ellensburg. It is by far the most masterly and statesman-like document ever submitted to the people by the party in this state. It is progressive and aggressive in style, and clear cut in phraseology. It places the party on advanced but tenable ground. It is well worth a careful perusal.

GENERAL MILES is after Alger hard, the press of the country is clamoring for the removal of the secretary, and it is hardly probable that President McKinley will allow the matter to pass without ordering an investigation. Secretary Alger should resign the position he has disgraced. As the Philadelphia Ledger puts it: "President McKinley ought to get rid of Alger before he becomes hopelessly involved with his secretary of war, and made responsible for his acts. For Algerism has aroused a sentiment throughout the country which will sweep away the Republican administration if it is not disavowed by the president." There appears to remain no question as to the gross incompetency of this man, and the sooner he writes his name Ex-Secretary, the sooner will justice have been, in a measure, done to those who have suffered through his blunders.

THE three conventions at Ellensburg yesterday agreed to fuse on the basis of a democratic congressman and judge, a populist judge and a silver republican congressman. The conventions adjourned sine die about 4 p. m. The ticket nominated is as follows:

Judges of the Supreme Court,
M. M. GOODMAN, of Dayton.
B. F. HEUSTON, of Tacoma.
Congressmen,
JAMES HAMILTON LEWIS, of Seattle.
W. C. JONES,
of Spokane.

THE conventions of the three reform parties of Yakima county on Saturday last, were perhaps as harmonious and successful as could have been expected. Although there was some jarring and discord, which to a certain extent is almost inevitable in any political convention, there was a general desire among all the delegates to do what was best for the common cause of reform. The platforms of each of the three conventions, while lengthy enough for a national declaration, are able expositions of where the different elements of the Fusion party stand on the important issues of the day. The idea of a joint nominating convention was a grand one, and the good results attained by it generally admitted. The county ticket placed in the field is a good one, a strong one, and one which we believe will unquestionably be elected. Several of the candidates were renominated by acclamation (something very unusual in a political convention), which is a splendid endorsement of their present administrations.

THE Republic talks knowingly and very much about the slate going through in the fusion joint convention. Well, yes, of course there was a slate. The slate was made in the minds of the fusion voters many months ago. Flint's name was on the slate; likewise that of Shaw, Coe, Plumb, Donovan, Lasswell and Marble. That kind of a slate is all right, Brer Sperry; but your kind of a slate is different, one that is fixed up just before convention, when good men are forced out of the race, so that the slate will go through without making enemies. Pretty smooth plan that, Brer Sperry; your methods are improving.

THE boys say that the grand old party reunion today will be a love feast. Other candidates have been induced to withdraw, and Wheelhorse Tucker will be trotted out again in the hope that his popularity will help to pull the legislative ticket through, and ditto Nichols for attorney. As a friend of those gentlemen, THE EPIGRAM protests against this brutal slaughter.

DEMOCRATS of this county had a right to demand the joint senatorship. The populists promised it four years ago in consideration of the support given their nominee then. The silver republicans promised it a week ago; but the goods were not delivered. As usual, they swiped the plum themselves.

ONE of the very best planks in the democratic county platform is that pertaining to railway legislation. It states the situation just as it exists. It states what the people of this county want and what they demand. We will endeavor to publish the platform in our next issue.

WHEN business men in all branches are happy prosperity may be said to wear, are preparing to assume, her most confident smile. This is a condition prevailing in North Yakima at present, with substantial evidences of increase both in volume and quality.

THE consensus of opinion among the majority of delegates at the Ellensburg convention was that this year would see the last of fusion. Hereafter, they say, there will be but one reform party, and that will be the democratic.

YAKIMA JONES is attempting to introduce a new departure into the selection of delegates to the republican state convention by asking permission to name the delegation.

The State Conventions.

THE EPIGRAM'S scribe concluded to follow the crowd last Tuesday night and take in the great three-ringed circus which has been in session in our neighboring city of Ellensburg during this week. So in company with many other pilgrims all made weary by waiting, we finally reached the quiet city on the upper Yakima about 1 a. m. on a lumbering freight train, and none of the party having had the forethought to wire for rooms, another hour was consumed in getting our party stowed away for the night in the residence portion of our little sister city. Next morning we were roused from our slumbers by the music of the brass bands who were receiving the numerous delegations who had arrived on the Times' special train. Ellensburg was in holiday attire, and the streets looked beautiful with their decorations of gay colors and arches of evergreen. Every fusionist we met seemed to be happy and glad and confident of a successful meeting and victory at the polls. Over a thousand delegates were in the city, and many among the number were men of great reputation. The conventions were called to order about 11 a. m., the populists meeting in the armory, the democrats in the opera house just overhead, while the silverites met in the court house four blocks away. Temporary organization having been effected in each of the conventions, a recess was taken until 1:30 p. m. The Yakima delegates of all parties feel highly pleased at the recognition given George S. Courter, of this city, in being chosen secretary of the silver republican convention, and the incentive connected therewith, which has given that gentleman a state reputation. The center of interest, however, during the conventions was Floyd's opera house, where nine tenths of the delegates were doing business in either the populist or democratic conventions. The democrats organized by electing Hon. J. T. Ronald, of Seattle, as temporary chairman, who made a splendid presiding officer, but who was succeeded by one equally as good as permanent chairman in the person of Hon. Jere Neatzer, of Whatcom. The tact and ability displayed by the latter gentleman not only as a parliamentarian, but in discreetly controlling the conventions, especially at critical times, when it seemed that a majority of the weary and impatient delegates were sick of fusion and ready to seize control of the convention for the purpose of nominating a straightout ticket, so angry were they at the jibes thrust at their party by the middle-of-the-road populists. Then the adroit chairman would recognize some smooth talking fusionist, who would still the ruffled waters by a story or a joke, while the populist fusion delegate in the same position would endeavor to close the mouth of the middle-of-the-roader with the assertion that the agents of Mark Hanna were doing business in town. Chairman Hart, of the populist convention, is likewise entitled to a great deal of credit for the skillful manner by which he managed the wild steers in his convention. It certainly required a man with a cool and steady head to accomplish what he did. The failure of the big conference committee to agree after being out 24 hours in regard to the disposition of the supreme judgeships was disappointing. The silver republicans who at first conceded the justice of the democratic claims to one judge changed their minds when the populists started to leave the hall and made haste to range themselves on the side of the pops to save fusion as they believed, but when the democrats by an emphatic majority refused to adopt the conference report and the middle-of-the-road democrats began to assert themselves the silverites again became alarmed, and headed by Senator Turner and Congressman Jones beseeched the populists to surrender a judge lest fusion be entirely lost.

JOINT SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The delegates from both Yakima and Klickitat counties of the three wings of the fusion party met in caucus at the Ellensburg court house Thursday at noon. There were two candidates for the honor of the senatorial nomination in the field, namely, Fred Miller, the well known attorney of this city, a democrat, and a Mr. Brooks, of Goldendale, who is said to be a silver republican. It was thoroughly understood and believed by the democratic delegates of Yakima county that by the terms of an agreement in the conference committee of the Yakima county conventions wherein it was understood and explained to the democratic and silver republican conventions that the joint conference committee had agreed to support and recommend to their conventions a democrat for senator in lieu of the fact that the democrats would recede from their demand for prosecuting attorney or representative. With this assurance Mr. Miller entered the race. The vote is given below. Comment is unnecessary: For Miller—Yakima democrats, 11; Yakima populists, 4; Yakima silver republicans, 2; total, 17. For Brooks—Klickitat democrats, 6; Klickitat populists, 7; Yakima populists, 8; Yakima silver republicans, 9; total, 30.

N. H. Lillie and a man named Calahan, an agent for steam engines, had an altercation in the depot at Toppenish on Saturday evening, which might have had a fatal ending. Mr. Lillie acting, he declares, through self-defense, took a shot at Calahan. Mr. Lillie was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Cory on Monday and brought to this city. At his appearance before Justice MacCrimmon on Thursday, after a large number of witnesses were examined, he was bound over to appear before the superior court under $1500 bonds.

STATE FAIR NOTES

Secretary Gunn desires to notify all horsemen that the special circuit rates on race horses will be published within a few days. He also desires to call the attention of all intending exhibitors of live stock, from one animal to a carload or more, that he has secured special rates on all points on the line of the Northern Pacific railway and branches, including Portland, Ore., for live stock shipped here for exhibition, but in order to secure these rates it is necessary to correspond with the Secretary, or G. A. Graham, agent of the N. P. Ry. Co., at North Yakima, before shipping. Rates will be furnished on application.

Entries to harness races closed Sept. 1, and the Commission is gratified to be able to announce that with very few exceptions, the harness races have filled, and the horses are arriving daily. This insures a grand meet for the Fair.

Arrangements are just about perfected whereby the leading dailies of the larger cities of the state will take up the matter of excursions and will get them up at very low rates, giving the opportunity of staying over at the Fair two days. This insures the largest attendance ever known at a fair in the state of Washington.

With a view of being assured of ample accommodations for the immense crowds that will be here the Commission desires to urge all the churches, as well as individuals who desire to aid in making a name for North Yakima as a hospitable people city, to take up the matter of serving meals. The hotels are all exerting every effort to care for the crowds, but without the assistance of others cannot take care of all.

The band stand will be enlarged in order to accommodate Wagner's band of 25 pieces, without encroaching upon the grand stand space.

A sheep and hog house of the latest approved pattern, will be constructed next week, and when the poultry coops are finished, this will give ample facilities for caring for large exhibits of all kinds.

The press committee appointed by the Commission to extend invitations to, and provide entertainment for, the editors who will attend the Fair, have issued a circular requesting those who will be present to notify the secretary, Chas. F. Bailey, not later than Sept. 15. Members of the press will be provided with season tickets on application to the secretary's office on arrival.

Many people from the city are here enjoying an outing and a picnic and at the same time loading up with iron dollars.

Everyone so far as interviewed seems well satisfied with the action of the fusion convention last Saturday, even some prominent members of the opposition commending the ticket. Without doubt the party of reform will score another grand victory in November.

The County Convention.

The Democratic, Populist and Silver Republican county conventions met pursuant to call in this city on Saturday last and put in nomination for the different county offices, as strong a ticket as perhaps under any circumstances could have been named.

The great surprise of the day was the willingness of a majority of all the delegates to go into mass convention to nominate the candidates. The joint convention convened at 7 p. m. at Masou's opera house, where the Democrats had held a stormy meeting during the day, nothing occurred to mar the harmony of the evening session, except the deliverance of one or two windy dissertations by disgruntled populists.

The convention was presided over jointly by the three chairmen of the separate conventions, and the experiment proved a great success. The nomination of F. H. Colby, for representative, was something of a surprise to many people, as he played the part of a dark horse, prancing out of his stable and winning the great stake of the meeting. The complete ticket follows:

Representative—F. H. Colby.
Sheriff—A. J. Shaw.
Prosecuting Attorney—Vestal Snyder.
Treasurer—C. R. Donovan.
Auditor—A. B. Flint.
Clerk—Jas. R. Coe.
School Superintendent—F. H. Plumb.
Assessor—J. L. Lasswell.
Surveyor—F. H. Marble.
Coroner—Jack Ker.
Commissioner, First District—J. P. McCafferty.
Second District—Stephen Schreiner.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic county convention was called to order promptly at 10 a. m. by Chairman A. F. Snelling, of the county central committee, and the call for the convention was read by Secretary Fred Miller.

Fred Miller was unanimously elected temporary chairman, and entertained the delegates with a short, witty speech. I. M. Krutz was made temporary secretary, after which committees were appointed on permanent organization, credentials and resolutions, of five members each, and an adjournment taken until 1:20 p. m.

On reconvening the committee on credentials reported, as did also the committee on permanent organization. The latter report stirred up quite a tempest of opposition, but finally matters were amicably adjusted and the platform read and approved, after which a conference committee was appointed to confer with like committees from the Populists and Silver Republicans. The committee reported that the joint conference committee had agreed on the basis of fusion to be the same relating to the apportionment of offices, as it was two years ago; also that the conference committees would recommend that the three conventions be merged into one mass nominating convention, with the provision that each candidate whose name was put before the convention should be nominated by delegates of his own party. This was agreed to, and the convention adjourned to meet in joint assembly at 7 p. m.

The following were elected delegates and alternates to the state convention:

THE POPULIST CONVENTION.

At the Populist convention, held Saturday at the court house, Dr. H. Green was elected temporary chairman, and A. L. Flint secretary.

A committee of five each on credentials, platform, and order of business were appointed by the chair, when a recess was taken until 1:30 p. m.

At the afternoon session the various committees reported; temporary organization made permanent, and George Stephenson appointed assistant secretary.

Delegates to the state convention were named, as follows:

L L Thorp, G S Taylor, A E Howard, J G Boyle, Thos Lund, J C MacCrimmon, D M Angus, H D Jory, J D Stone, D W Beck, Dr H Green, W B Matthews. Alternates, Fred Gibson, R L Fraker.

The conference committee reported substantially the same as the like committee from the Democratic convention, when an adjournment was had until 7 p. m. to meet in joint session.

In the afternoon committee reports were received and a conference committee appointed, when the convention adjourned to meet in joint session at Masou's opera house at 7 p. m.

The following were elected delegates to the state convention: G. N. Tuesley, R. Strobach, E. S. Yeates, G. S. Courter, Dr. C. J. Taft, W. H. Brownlow, D. L. Druse, A. J. Shellhammer, H. D. Winchester, Geo. Carpenter, T. H. Brew.

People who contemplate planting an orchard should first make it a point to see J. A. Waters, of the Yakima Nurseries, and look over his fine stock which he offers at extremely low prices. 51-2t

The E. M. Harris grocery has this week shipped a great quantity of fruit to various points in the northwest. On Friday they filled an order 300 pounds of Bartlett pears that were beauties—every one of them.

Marshal Grant has in the city jail eight or ten hobos that are to be given an opportunity to do some needed work on the streets for the pleasure of sleeping in the city hotel. Four or five of the number will be ornamented with ball and chain.

David Reagan, the light fingered gentleman who burglarized a number of houses in this city recently, and who was captured at Pasco, had a hearing before Justice MacCrimmon on Thursday and was bound over in the sum of $750 to appear before the superior court.

The information was brought to this city Friday afternoon that Carl Sinclair, a lad of 14 years, living on the upper Natchez, had received serious injuries in a runaway. Our informant was unable to give the particulars, other than that the boy had an arm completely severed from the body.

At the council meeting Tuesday evening very little business was transacted. Bids were ordered for a sidewalk on south Second street; E. W. Dooley was granted a renewal of saloon license; the city marshal was instructed to enforce the ordinance relating to fire escapes, etc., and a number of other minor affairs were disposed of.

How it Acts.

There is no waiting weeks and months for relief while taking Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedies for Rheumatism. Some cases of years' standing have been entirely cured with one treatment. Relief and benefit are felt from the first, and if the treatment is persisted in, the stiff joints and drawn cords are restored. If your druggist has not got these remedies do not take anything else. Describe your case and send $5 to the Drummond Medicine Co., New York, and the full month's treatment of two large bottles will be sent to you.

For nice ripe Crawford peaches cheap, go to A. W. Speyer's orchard of 1000 peach trees on Knob Hill.

Take your own Indian pictures with an Eastman kodak. You don't need a dark room. They can be loaded in the sunlight. Moore & Moore, the stationers.

May Be a Bonanza.

J. C. Carter, of Bozeman, Mont., a well known mining man, who has been stopping in Yakima for several days, made a trip recently up the N. P. road into the Cascades and while there made a thorough inspection of the Blue Jacket property at Nelson siding, which is owned principally by Yakima and Ellensburg men. Mr. Carter, who is conceded to be an expert mineralogist, as soon as he saw the Blue Jacket rock, he declared the property to be a copper proposition, which for the depth attained promised better than most of the great copper mines of Montana. Mr. Carter intimated that he would soon make a proposal to purchase the property, but the owners are now talking of doing further development work at once.

The State Militia.

Adjutant General Canton arrived in this city Monday night for the purpose of mustering into the National Guards, the new company of infantry. The general is a pleasant and affable gentleman, and is chock full of military knowledge. He stated that under the present law only fifteen companies could be supported, but that there were thirty-three towns in the state that desired companies.

The general further stated that since he had assumed office he had caused a strict investigation to be made of the records of the office, and had discovered that during eight years of statehood $390,000 had been expended by the state on the militia, with very little to show for it. Stuff that cost the state $110,000 was piled up at Olympia on which he would be glad to realize $2000 for now. The general also stated that he proposed putting the militia on a sound and stable footing. He left for Ellensburg to muster in a company at that place.

Edna, the Wonder.

In speaking of the exquisite and altogether inimitable bareback riding of Little Edna, with Lemen Bros.' World's Monster shows, there is no language too strong to proclaim her merits. Nor is it claiming too much to avers that she is, beyond all question, the most dashing, the most daring, the most accomplished, and in every way the most finished equestrienne the world has produced. Her riding is a revelation and a poem. Beautiful as an houri and as graceful as a fawn, Edna accomplishes on her flying courser numberless feats none else ever dared attempt, and backward and forward somersaults are to her the merest bagatelles.

There are many equestriennes in the profession, but there is only one Edna, and she is with the Lemen Bros.' Circus. The management say they will willingly forfeit $10,000 to any one who can produce her equal.
