Mrs. Ina P. Williams,
Yakima, Washington.

My dear Mrs. Williams:

I received your letter this morning with reference to Judge Pemberton's candidacy, and I am indeed pleased to know that you and Mr. Moran are attempting to work out a plan whereby the Bone organization can work for Judge Pemberton.

I am sending you herewith a photostatic copy of Mr. Martin's announcement of his candidacy as the same appeared in the Spokesman-Review on January 29th, 1932. I have underscored that portion which had to do with his bank connections.

For your information, I quote from an article in the Seattle Star of last night, which shows a Spokane date line and which came over the United Press:

"Warrants were issued today for the arrest of John F. Davies, Clyde Johnson, E. P. McBride and Arnold Gleason, officers of the American Bank, which closed its doors in Spokane on April 15th".

The American Bank is the bank of which Mr. Martin was a director. I am enclosing herewith a photostatic copy of the statement issued by the American Bank on December 31st, 1931, which shows Mr. Martin to be a director of the bank.

It occurs to me that when the people of this State realize what Mr. Martin's true connections are, they will reject his candidacy.

I am sending these photostatic copies to you because I feel that you will show them to the people who can help us. They can be again photographed at an expense of about 10 cents apiece, and if you can put them in the proper hands we will be glad to reimburse you for any expense in the matter of making additional photostatic copies.

Stimson Note Inquires as to Proposed Course in Shanghai Fuss.

Japanese Feel America "Unduly Alarmed"—Not to Aggravate Trouble.

TOKYO, Jan. 28. (P)—The United States government asked today for an explanation of just what Japan purposes to do in dealing with the Chinese at Shanghai.

The inquiry, contained in a note from Secretary of State Stimson, was answered with the assertion that Japan had no intention of aggravating the situation. A foreign office spokesman, commenting on press dispatches rather than on the Stimson note itself, said the United States "seems unduly alarmed."

Occupied City Since.

The exchange of inquiry and answer at Tokyo took place before the Japanese had occupied Shanghai.

It was authoritatively said the Stimson note could not be considered a protest. The communication pointed out, it was understood, that the United States has large commercial interests in Shanghai; that there were conflicting reports about the Japanese intentions, and that the American government, in common with other governments, was eager to avoid any measures that might jeopardize its interests.

The Japanese government ordered three more warships to Shanghai. When they arrive, the total Japanese naval strength there will be 40 vessels.

Fears Are "Groundless."

A foreign office spokesman declared fears of Japanese action within the Shanghai international settlement were groundless.

"Since the authorities at Shanghai have promised to close the headquarters of the anti-Japanese movement in the international settlement," this spokesman said, "Japan's action will be confined to closing the offices of the settlement."
