Mr. Reelander:

Do you ever loan any of your pictures ? I am doing a story for another publication and need a picture of the old Wanapum mat houses. The story concerns the completion of Wanapum dam. In days gone by I have walked the river bank at Priest Rapids dozens of times looking for arrowheads, took note of the mat houses but never took a picture.

So far all the pictures I have ever used have been returned to me (except a couple the Harold used).

May I hear from you.

Dear Mr. Relander:

I am here returning the negative you so kindly loaned me. My story is on completion of Wanapum dam and I needed a picture to fortify the paragraph on the Wanapums.

I am taking the promotion sheet on "Strangers" to a Pen Womens meeting and I think I can move a couple of books for you - I also want one for my own library.

You asked if I were keeping a record of "place names ", as for a list
I have quite a few but probably not nearly as many as you. I became intersted in the subject a number of years ago - my father around the turn of the century worked with the geodetic survey team and was responsible for naming a number of creeks and lesser mountain peaks through out the state.

Lately I have been working on and gathering material on forgotten towns, schools and mines in central Wash.— trying to decide if it would be worth the effort to to continue and have it published in booklet form.

How do you find time to do so much writing along with your other work? Thanks again for the use of the picture.

Sincerely,

Mr. Lathime Wunex
