STATE FAIR WEEK.

Most Successful Exhibition Ever Held In North
Yakima Closes Today.

Finest Exhibits in Live Stock Stock Ever Brought Together In the Pacific Northwest. Attendance Larger with Increased Receipts Over Past Years.

The Washington State Fair for 1902, which closes today, is in many respects more satisfactory both to the commission and to the public, than any State Fair previously held. While the display of fruit and farm products in the pavilion is hardly up to that of last year for quantity, what it lacks for quantity is fully compensated for in quality.

The live stock exhibits, particularly that of cattle, is much better even than that of 1901, which was considered exceptionally good. A number of the finest herds of high bred cattle in this state and Oregon are on exhibition this year. The excellent showing made in this department is due mainly to the special effort made by President Splawn, who has spared neither labor nor expense to make the live stock department of the fair all that it should be. The exhibits of hogs and sheep, too, are very creditable. The poultry and pet stock departments show quite a marked falling off in the number of birds exhibited, said to be due to a feeling of indifference on the part of a number of the most prominent poultrymen of the state.

The racing program, which seems to interest a larger number of patrons than any other feature of the fair, has been decidedly better this year than ever before. The fastest horses in the northwest are here, and so many of them that stable room on the grounds has been at a premium.

The Woman's department in the pavilion, presided over most efficiently by Mrs. C. M. Bartlett with a number of lady assistants, has come in for a good many compliments from visitors. The list of articles in art and needle work in this department is too extensive to be given in detail here and must be seen to be appreciated. A number of remarkable looking curios are also on exhibition, including two cases from the valuable collection of L. O. Janek, of this city.

The fruit and general farm exhibits in the pavilion are all exceptionally fine. The Yakima county exhibit, entered for the first prize of $300, is the property of W. L. Wright and William Lee. The Clark county exhibit probably attracts more attention than any other in the building. It was collected and is owned by W. T. Jackson, who is the proprietor of a large seed farm near Vancouver. The exhibit consists of a large and complete collection of grain and grasses, seeds, fruits, vegetables and root crops. The samples of grain and hay are put up in a most attractive style and never fails to catch the eye.

The Kittitas exhibit is also a very excellent one as is that of Chelan county, where they grow big red apples which rival those of Yakima. The Sunnyside exhibit, made jointly by Rev. S. Waldron and Joseph Lannin, consisting almost entirely of a fruit display, is extremely good, and is much admired by visitors. Orlando Beck has a fine fruit exhibit in the pavilion as has also O. M. Moore, of the Seattle Bureau of Information.

A better showing is made in Machinery hall this year than ever before. The well-known firm of Wyman & Fraser, occupy one half the space in the building with a splendid display of bugies of all styles, wagons, stoves, ranges and harness. The Yakima Hardware company is also represented by a good display of agricultural implements, especially of the Parlin-Orendorf make. Coffin Bros. are also represented in Machinery hall.

The cattle exhibit has received a great many well-deserved compliments, and it certainly is excellent. Among the exhibits are the Hereford and Polled Angus herds of A. J. Splawn and the exhibit of Polled Durham by J. E. Shannon. The outside exhibits are the Grand View, Or., herd of Herefords; the celebrated Alamo herd of Herefords, owned by John Sparks, the noted fancy cattle breeder of Reno, Nev.; L. K. Cogswell's herd of red Polled Angus from Chehalis; the Lakeside herd of Holstein-Friesian cattle from Scappoose, Or.; the Hazel View herd of registered Jerseys, owned by the W. S. Ladd estate of Portland; the Oak Hill herd of Shorthorns from North Yamhill; the D. H. Looney, herd of Jerseys from Jefferson, Or., the red Polled Angus herd of R. O. Dunbar & Son of Olympia, and the Kelvin Grove herd of Ayrshire cattle from Scappoose, Or.

There are also splendid exhibits of Berkshire hogs and Cotswold and Rambouillet sheep from the Hazel Fern and Oak Hill farms.

Three big excursions, all from the Sound cities, arrived during the week. The special train from Tacoma pulled in at 5 p. m. Tuesday with about 450 people aboard. Wednesday afternoon the train from Seattle arrived, bringing about the same number. On this train were about 100 people from Kent and Auburn. On Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock the Odd Fellows' excursion arrived, which was made up jointly of both Seattle and Tacoma people. There were about 300 in the last party.

The town's facilities for feeding the visitors were taxed to the utmost, but all were fed. The hotel and restaurant people, however, are pretty thoroughly tired out after such a busy week. As for beds, everyone, seemingly, who had the price being provided for. All the hotels had rooms on the outside. Most of the visitors on arrival would rush to the hotels in search of accommodations, evidently preferring public to private quarters. City Clerk Doust, assisted by J. C. MacCrimmon and Ed. McCoy, were kept busy directing people to private houses where rooms had been secured.

There has been plenty of attractions all the week to entertain the crowds. Located in town are two merry-go-rounds, two Ferris wheels, two moving picture galleries, besides numerous devices of a gambling nature to catch the loose change of the unwary.

At the theatre, Manager Fournier played the Georgia minstrels all the week, while at the armory the band boys nightly gave a dance which was well patronized.

Owing to a lack of space and of help in the mechanical department, the DEMOCRAT is unable to present this week a complete list of premium winners. The first premium of $300 for the best county display in the pavilion was awarded to Clark county, the second to Yakima county and the third to Kittitas county. The two beautifully engraved Silver loving-cups contributed respectively by the Fair commission and the Frey-Bruhn company for the best exhibit of beef cattle were awarded to John Sparks, of Reno, Nev., the owner of the fine Alamo herd of Herefords.

The band contest was participated in by the Kent, Ellensburg and Prosser bands. The first prize of $100 was won by Kent, the second of $60 was gathered in by the Prosser boys, while Ellensburg took third money, $40.

The following is the racing program for today:

Pacing—2:40 class for 2-year-olds; best two in three; purse $150.
Trotting—2:15 class, best three in five; purse $405.
Running— $\frac{1}{4}$  mile, consolation purse for beaten horses; purse \$150.
Missouri Derby by African ladies; good purse.

IRRIGATION ASSOCIATION.

Organization Effected In This City Thursday Night and Officers Elected.

In response to a call issued several weeks ago, a quite large number of representative men of Yakima and other counties of this state assembled in the parlors of the Commercial club Thursday evening to organize an association to promote the irrigation interests of the state of Washington. A temporary organization was effected by the election of Ira P. Englehart as chairman and S. J. Harrison, secretary.

E. F. Benson and others then explained the object of the meeting, which is best told in the preamble to the constitution subsequently adopted, which reads as follows: "The object of this association shall be the reclamation of the arid lands of the state of Washington by the U. S. government by the construction of reservoirs and canals and the preservation of the forests of the state upon a broad and comprehensive basis."

The by-laws were read and, after some alterations, adopted. They fix the annual dues at one dollar and admit free membership a representative each newspaper in the state.

Short speeches were made by E. F. Blaine of Seattle, E. F. Benson of Tacoma, Judge Graves of Ellensburg, Edward Whitson of this city and a number of other gentlemen. All commended the plan of organization and pledged their support.

The election of permanent officers was then taken up, and after some caucus work the following were elected: President, S. J. Harrison, Sunnyside; first vice, Ralph Kauffman, Ellensburg; second vice, Arthur Gunn, Wenatchee; secretary, Marshal S. Scudder, North Yakima.

In compliance with the by-laws, an executive committee was selected to consist of two members from each county in the state. From the counties represented at the meeting the following named gentlemen were chosen: King, E. F. Blaine and J. W. Clise; Pierce, E. F. Benson and G. H. Plummer; Kittitas, Carroll B. Graves and R. P. Tjossem; Yakima, H. B. Scudder and John Chisholm.

The meeting was very enthusiastic and harmonious, and 36 of those present signed the roll and paid the annual dues. Before adjournment it was decided on

THERE is no great issue at stake in the local campaign this year to distract the attention of the people of this county and divide them into hostile camps. There are, to be sure, some local questions, in the proper settlement of which many of our people are vitally interested. The position of the county democracy is clearly stated in the platform on these questions, and the party has no apology to make for the stand that it has taken. It said just what it means to do, if its candidates are elected. The republican party, in its platform, dodges these local issues—notably, protection to the watershed, and the regulation of irrigation corporations—so that in the event of the election of the republican legislative ticket, nobody would know whether the successful candidates stood for the desired reforms or not, though probably they would not.

The republican ticket in Yakima county this year is purely machine made, and it is perfectly safe to say that the major portion of it does not represent the wishes or will of the rank and file of the party. A little coterie of politicians of this city made the ticket and assert that it will be elected. They do not rely upon the fitness of the candidates to pull them through, but upon the numerical majority, which they assume that their party has in this county.

On the other hand, the democrats this year not only voiced public sentiment in their platform, taking just grounds in the settlement of vexed local questions, but it offers the people a set of candidates who are one and all well qualified to fill the positions for which they have been nominated. These men are none of them professional office-seekers, who assume that the public owes them a living, but were called to make the race by the united voice of their party. The minority can almost always be depended upon to deal more fairly with the people than does the majority, for reasons which the average voter well understands.

In the local campaign the issue is as to men rather than to any great principle that divides the people into political groups. Well satisfied with its own ticket, the democratic party of this county is willing to pass the question of selection up to the voters.

THE editor of the Republic has been having a warm time lately in his cunning efforts to embarrass the democratic legislative nominees in the matter of county division, but the chickens, seemingly, are coming home to roost. The colonel's methods in this matter are so manifestly unfair as to call down upon him the condemnation of many members of his own party. The letters of Ira J. Crofutt and W. M. Scott are still unanswered to the satisfaction of the public, and the foxy colonel has put his foot in it, so to speak.

In accordance with the past policy of this paper, the DEMOCRAT in the present campaign does not propose to indulge in any bitter personalities in discussing the merits or demerits of any candidate. In other words, we do not intend to go behind the returns. We do not believe in mudslinging, have never practiced it and we don't intend to begin it now. No republican candidate, therefore, need fear that we will turn the search-light upon his private life or invade the sanctity of his home, drag a possible skeleton from the family closet and parade it before the public eye. The DEMOCRAT is a partisan paper—that is, it aims to be partisan to a reasonable degree. It seeks to make the best showing that it can for its party, because it believes that that party stands for the best interests of all the people as against any other party in the field; but if it wins, we wish it to win on principle and not by questionable or hunderhanded means.

All this does not mean, however, that we do not hold ourselves free to discuss the fitness and qualifications of candidates. When a man sets himself up for office he should expect that his public record, if he has any, will be scrutinized closely, and that his capacity or want of capacity to fill the place will be weighed carefully in the judgment of the voters. The people expect the press to inform them to a considerable extent in such matters, and this paper has no disposition to shirk its part of such duty.

"TEDDY'S" administration has seen fit to interfere in the internal affairs of a foreign nation by sending a diplomatic note to the Roumanian government protesting against the persecution of Jews that is said to be going on in that country. The Roumanian government thus far seems to have paid but little attention to the American protest except to ridicule it and assert that the domestic affairs of Roumania should not concern our government; in fact, that it is none of our business. This view of the matter seems also to be the one taken at several of the European capitals, particularly Vienna and Berlin. There is no justification for American interference with the Jewish question in Roumania, they say, and we ought to keep out of such affairs.

And what intelligent, fairminded American will say but that these people are right. Does any man presume that the people of the United States would not angrily resent the disposition of any foreign country to interfere in the settlement of our home affairs, whether such interference was based on the ground of humanity or not? Certainly they would resent it, and so would any other self-respecting nation. This incident shows how dangerous it is to have a man of Teddy Roosevelt's impetuous disposition at the head of national affairs. He is likely either to humiliate or to drag the country into a useless and unnecessary foreign war at any time.

FRANK B. COLE, one of the three democratic candidates for congress in this state, had the following to say regarding trusts in a recent issue of the Spokesman Review:

"The main question in this campaign is the solution of the trust issue. It is the first issue that ever had such a large percentage of the voters on one side. Republicans and democrats alike feel the need of controlling and regulating the great aggregations that are fast absorbing the avenues in which all men have been free to enter. The republican party, through its chief, advances a solution which even at the best would give the trusts five years more of life. Judging by their progress in the past three years, five more would be all they would need to dictate terms to any peaceable party.

"The worst feature of the question is the closing of the mouths of thousands of citizens—men who owe the bread and butter their families eat to the trusts. Not only are working men made silent, but in the smaller lines of manufacturing and trade thousands dare not defy the trusts. To my mind there is but one solution, and that must come from the democratic party. The republicans will not give up their old fetish of protection, even to save the people from a commercial tyranny that is drawing blood, as seen in the coal mines of Pennsylvania."

THE Washington State Fair, like everything else in this favored country, is an institution that is steadily growing in importance and in usefulness. It has already evolved from a small and humble beginning, under a good many discouraging conditions to an exhibition that has merit to draw an attendance from all parts of the state. As is to be expected, the Fair this year in nearly every respect is superior to that of any previous year, and the patronage received is very much more satisfactory. Under the present management it seems to be run on fairly good business principles. With continued good management assured, the institution will keep growing until it will become what it was originally intended to be—a great exhibition to portray the agricultural and industrial resources of a state that is destined to become one of the greatest in the Union.

It looks as though R. A. Grant, the efficient marshal of this city, would be the next sheriff of Yakima county. Mr. Grant is a man well equipped for the duties of that office. He is a fearless and conscientious man in the discharge of his official duties. As marshal of North Yakima for several years—a very difficult job, by the way—he has given almost entire satisfaction to the people. He has compelled the tough element to observe the law, and has kept the town orderly, even though he has had to work day and night to do it. Yet he has used his authority with good judgment and made but few enemies. Grant ought to be elected sheriff, and he will be if the fitness of things is considered by the voters.

BRYAN endorses Tom Johnson of Toledo, Ohio, in the following language: "Johnson has brains. He does not deal in fancies, but his arguments are based upon undisputable facts and figures and carry conviction to every honest heart."

A VOTE for the republican legislative candidates in this county means three votes for Levi Ankeny and possibly for "Yakima" Jones for senator, although the latter contingency is rather remote. The senatorial issue is pretty clear-cut in this county. It is Levi Ankeny versus George Turner.

Not only democrats, but a goodly number of republicans, regret the fact that H. M. Gilbert has felt the necessity of withdrawing from the legislative ticket. Nothing but Mr. Gilbert's declination could have prevented his election. He represents the very type of men that ought to go to the legislature.

O. M. Moore, representing the Puget Sound bureau of information of Seattle, is doing a splendid work in the way of advertising the whole state. Mr. Moore has gathered a very creditable exhibit of central Washington products, which he is exhibiting at the State Fair. The bureau of information is supported by a number of enterprising business men of the Queen City.

"YAKIMA" JONES, as he was once fondly called, is making the welkin ring with his musical voice on the stump, as he sings the praises of Teddy Roosevelt and the g. o. p. Since Mr. Jones' greatest and most distinguishing trait is said to be party loyalty, it would be interesting to know how the congressman defends his course in congress as an "insurgent" when the president was endeavoring to procure a measure of justice for long-suffering Cuba.

A SHORT time ago, while Teddy Roosevelt, Jr., was on his western hunting trip, an irate Dakota farmer, who objected to trespassers, turned his dog loose on Teddy, Jr., and his party of pot hunters. Now, to the ordinary citizen there would be nothing in the above to cause any particular outburst; but a lot of sycophantic editors throughout the country have made a great deal of fuss and feathers over the incident. One would think from these newspaper exuberations that the house of Roosevelt had been insulted by lese majeste toward Teddy the Second, and a new complication precipitated in politics.—Mt. Vernon Argus.

The Octoroons.

Manager Fournier was indeed fortunate in securing The Octoroons as the attraction at Larson's theatre for fair week. This talented company of 30 colored artists opened on Monday evening to a fair-sized house and the patronage has increased at every performance. Last night the house was crowded and judging from the tremendous applause and encores given the performers, the audience was more than pleased. Mme. Plato, the only cultured colored prima donna on the American stage, has an excellent voice and her numbers cannot be too highly spoken of. The Carter Bros. are a clever pair of acrobats and compare favorably with the best ever here. Frank Withers renders some solos on the slide trombone which shows that he is a perfect master of that instrument. The comedians, Jones, McCorkle, Oliver and Walker, are excruciatingly funny. In fact the entire program is made up of stars in their line, and the singing of the quartettes and choruses cannot be passed without mention. The company closes its engagement here tonight and no doubt the house will be filled. Prices 25, 50 and 75 cents.

A High Indorsement.

A couple of years ago The Capital printed a description of an alkali annihilator, a reclamation plow, invented and operated by R. P. Tjossem on his farm below town. Attention was at that time called to his wonderful ability to redeem alkali land, ample evidence being furnished by ground, which a year before had been utterly worthless to the writer's positive knowledge, and which was made to produce magnificent crops of alfalfa.

Mr. Tjossem made the plow for his own use, did not patent it, nor has he ever pushed it into general notice. When Mr. Newell, the eminent government engineer, was here he was shown the reclaimed land and exhibited much interest in it and the plow, and asked for more information, which was sent to him. His reply is the best evidence of his interest in the matter. He said: "Washington, D. C., Sept. 15, 1902.—Your letter of August 29 has been received with blue print and description of the reclamation plow. Please accept my thanks for your kindness in sending these, as I am greatly interested in the device, and if you had not assured me of its success would have regarded it as wholly visionary. It seems to me the device should have a wider use."

Very Truly Yours
F. H. NEWELL."

The Fowler Bill a Live Issue.

Some republican organs and republican orators are seeking to convey the impression that the so-called Fowler currency and banking bill has been disposed of. It is true that the measure originally introduced by Mr. Fowler, together with other similar measures, were reported by the committee, but out of the several bills presented the republican members of the house banking and currency committee framed a bill which embraced, in the main, the features provided by Mr. Fowler's bill. Mr. Fowler is also the chairman of that committee and when the bill was favorably reported by the republican members it came to be popularly known as the Fowler bill. That bill is now on the calendar in the house and may be taken up at the December session provided a sufficient number of republican votes can be obtained to insure its passage. Otherwise it will be re-introduced at the next session of congress in the event that the republicans are successful in the congressional elections of next November. The Fowler bill, therefore, is a thoroughly live issue, and one on which every candidate for congress should be required to take his stand.—Commoner.

Beautiful Complexions

Are spoiled by using any kind of preparation that fills the pores of the skin. The best way to clear a complexion, free from sallowness, pimples, blotches, etc., is to keep the liver in good order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at Fred L. Janek's.

It Goes Right to the Spot.

When pain or irritation exists on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment will give prompt relief. "It goes right to the spot," said an old man who was rubbing it in to cure his rheumatism. C. R. Smith, proprietor Smith House, Tenaha, Texas, writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for several years and have found it to be a fine remedy for all aches and pains and I recommend it for all pains in the throat and chest." 25c, 50c and $1, at Fred L. Janek's.

We Carry the HOVER POTATO DIGGER

This Potato Digger is the oldest and acknowledged to be the best built. Don't buy until you see it work.

We are large buyers, hence we can dictate somewhat to the manufacturers and get goods made right for the Northwest trade. It also enables us to buy closer than others, and the large volume of business handled by us enables us to handle each line on a smaller margin of profit than those whose trade is not so far reaching; therefore we feel justified in saying, and think we can say without truthful contradiction, that we give more value for the money than can be had elsewhere. It is our aim to sell cheap goods, but to have each article of quality consistent with the duty to be performed and get the price as low as possible and leave us a reasonable margin for doing so.

The Local Round-Up.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Marble, Sunday, Sept. 21, a son.

James J. Wiley is quite ill at his home on Seventh street, of typhoid fever.

Have you seen "Alice?" Have you seen "Boscow, the Abyssinian Wonder?" If not, "you'll have to hurry."

The number of hack licenses issued this year to run to the Fair grounds was 93, a much larger number than ever before issued.

Richard Strobach was called hurriedly to Spokane Monday on account of the sudden death of his mother, Mrs. Paul Strobach, at her home in that city.

Assistant Postmaster Geo. S. Hough, who is ill at the hospital, is reported to be somewhat improved this week, and his friends hope that he will soon be able to be about again.

A greater number of attractions, both good and bad, have been attracted by the fair this year than ever before. The city treasury has been enriched to a considerable degree from the license fees received.

Invitations have been received in this city from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cox of Spokane to attend the marriage ceremony Oct. 15, which will unite for life Miss Gertrude Evelyn Wright and Fred Miller, formerly of Yakima.

The managers of the Miniature railway failed to connect and did not bring their plant to the State Fair as announced. The blame lies at the door of the Southern Pacific railroad for failure to furnish the necessary transportation.

Sam George, Johnnie George and William and George Wallabee, the four Yakima Indians who had their trial before the U. S. court at Spokane last week for assault upon Indian policeman Jacobs, were all acquitted. H. J. Snively defended the quartette.

Marriage licenses were issued this week to J. F. Rains and Miss Etta W. Savage, Chas. F. Heimback and Miss Minnie A. Ester, James Spahr and Miss Etta Murray, Isaac N. Dadds and Miss Emily Heathcoat, M. L. Potter and Miss Christie McLeod.

Mayor Feciter, in Tuesday's issue of the Tacoma News, has a most excellent descriptive letter on the resources of the Yakima valley. The purpose of the letter was to furnish the class of information that many Fair visitors are presumed to want when they come here to see the Fair and look over the country.

The game of baseball Sunday between the "Hoppickers" and the Ellensburg team resulted in a victory for the Yakima boys by a score of 9 to 8. It was a lively game from start to finish. Unfortunately there was a row or two between the players, which had the effect of marring the pleasure of the occasion. About fifty people came down from the "burg" to witness game.

The Democrat is pleased to acknowledge a serenade given it Thursday morning by the Ellensburg band. Unfortunately, the editor was not present to do the honors for the office in return for such a handsome compliment. The Ellensburg band is a musical organization that any city in the state might well be proud of, as the boys play divinely. Come again.

The republicans open their fall campaign Monday next. Among the spellbinders who will go on the stump to talk to the dear people are Candidates Englehart, Hare, Dunn and Guthrie. In addition spellbinders Krutz and Thompson are on the speakers' list and have been busy most of the week preparing red-hot speeches.

The harvest and threshing season in the Horse Heaven country is said to be nearly finished. The yield of wheat in that portion of the district included in Yakima county is said to be about 600,000 bushels. The yield is not quite so heavy as last year, but the increased acreage will make the total crop a little larger than that of 1901. The quality of the crop is reported good.

D. E. Lesh, who was appointed by the governor as a delegate to the national irrigation congress to assemble at Colorado Springs Oct. 6, finds that he is unable to attend. It is thought that the Washington delegation, among whom will be E. F. Blaine, of Seattle, will make a strong effort to have the next annual meeting of the congress assemble in this city, the recognized irrigation center of the Pacific northwest.

The sideshow attractions at the Fair grounds have all had a big run this year. Edward Fournier, with his company of Japanese performers, has played continuously to good houses in his new theater. Ella Ewing, the Missouri girl, whose height is only 8 feet 7 inches, received much attention, as did also Luella, the lady without arms, who uses her toes with so much skill in ministering to her own wants.

There was a considerable amount of "kicking" done by a number of citizens Sunday on account of the number of street fakers being permitted to do business openly and brazenly on that day. The street scene that day was calculated to remind one of the midway or circus day instead of Sunday. It seems to be the opinion of a good many people who are not "church cranks," either, that the thing was carried too far, and that traveling fakers, who live upon a gullible public, should not be permitted to come here and desecrate a day that is held sacred by a large proportion of our people.

Special City Election.
The special election in North Yakima and in Eastern addition, held to vote on the proposition of annexing the latter district to the city, carried last Monday by an overwhelming majority. The vote cast was light, but there was only one dissenting vote cast, which was in Eastern addition.

The fact that Monday was the first day of the Fair and everybody was busy, coupled with the general assumption that the proposition would carry any way, served to keep a good many people away from the polls.

The following is the vote of the different polling places: First ward, 35; second ward, 26; third ward, 15; Eastern addition, 7—six for and one against.

Personal.

Judge Graves has been down this week from Ellensburg attending the Fair.

W. T. Clark, now a resident of Seattle, spent the first of the week in town.

J. B. Pugsley and wife of Seattle, came over Sunday and are taking in the Fair.

State Dairy Commissioner E. A. McDonald, of Seattle, is here this week for the Fair.

H. A. Smull was up Saturday from Pasco where he is now engaged in the hotel business.

Miss Carrie Goudy, of Enfield, Ill., arrived Saturday morning for a few weeks' visit with Mrs. W. P. Guthrie.

Judge Rudkin has been holding court this week for Judge Emory of Seattle. His honor is expected home today.

W. R. Coleman of Seattle came over on the excursion Wednesday to see the Fair and visit his brother, Z. Y. Coleman.

Manager Bush of the Roslyn mines, accompanied by Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Doneen, of Roslyn, have been taking in the Fair this week.

Mrs. Banning, of the Ahtanum, returned home Wednesday from Junction City, Kas., whither she went five weeks ago to attend her father's funeral.

J. W. Whitlock, formerly of this city, but now an undertaker of Ballard, came over Monday to attend the funeral of his uncle, the late Matt Stanton of the Ahtanum.

Hon. T. O. Abbott and Hon. O. G. Ellis, leading attorneys of Tacoma and prominent in democratic state politics, arrived Tuesday and have been taking in the Fair most of the week.

Senator George Turner, accompanied by Mrs. Turner, arrived Monday morning from Spokane to take in the State Fair during the first of the week. They were guests at the Yakima.

Will Prosser, now a reporter on the Seattle P.-L., stopped off in this city for a few hours Saturday while enroute from Eastern Washington, where he had been doing some special work for his paper.

Among prominent Fair visitors this week have been Senator George Turner and wife, Spokane; Hon. Levi Ankeny and wife, Walla Walla; Supreme Judge Dunbar and wife, Olympia, and Hon. E. C. Hughes and wife, Seattle.

W. B. Mathews, democratic candidate for county commissioner in the third district, was in the city Thursday and Friday of last week. Mr. Mathews stated that the people generally in his locality were very much pleased with the democratic ticket this year and were disposed to support it.

Death of Matt Stanton.

The many friends of Matt Stanton, the well known pioneer farmer of the Ahtanum, were pained to hear of his death, which occurred at his home Monday, the 29th inst. The news of Mr. Stanton's demise, however, caused but little surprise among those who knew his condition, as it was known he could not long survive with the serious spinal disease, complicated with other troubles which afflicted him.

The funeral, which was held from the residence of the deceased, 12 miles up the Ahtanum, on Wednesday, was largely attended by the neighbors and friends of the sorrowing family. Interment was made in Tahoma cemetery.

Mathias Stanton was born near La Porte, Ind., Feb. 7, 1837. With his parents, he crossed the plains by wagon to the Willamette valley, where the family settled. Mr. Stanton came to Yakima county in 1868, taking up a homestead in the Ahtanum valley, on which he resided continuously to the time of his death.

Besides a widow, five children are left to mourn his death, two sons and three daughters. The deceased had a large circle of friends, especially among the pioneers of this county.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Another Runaway Accident.

E. H. Hinman, who came here about two years ago from Minnesota and resides on North First street, met with a very painful and perhaps serious accident Tuesday morning. He was driving a hack to the Fair grounds, and while returning to town his mettlesome team ran away, throwing the driver out. Mr. Hinman's face and head were badly cut, and he is believed to have sustained serious internal injuries. He was taken to the hospital, where he is said to be doing fairly well. The team was stopped on the edge of town.

MR. GILBERT DECLINES.

Business Reasons Prevent His Candidacy for the Legislature—The Committee Names J. P. Marks of Ahtanum to Fill the Vacancy.

The following letter, which was received Monday by Chairman Redfield, of the Democratic County Central committee, from H. M. Gilbert, one of the democratic nominees for the legislature, is self explanatory:

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Sept. 26, 1902.
Chairman Democratic County Central Committee:

DEAR SIR:—As I stated on the day of your convention and previously to members of the convention, the present condition of my business affairs positively compels me to decline the nomination to the legislature, which I now do.

Respectfully Yours,

H. M. GILBERT.

This action on the part of Mr. Gilbert was not unexpected on the part of the local leaders of the party, as it was rumored from time to time since the date of the convention, September 13, that Mr. Gilbert felt forced to decline the honor which had been tendered him by the unanimous vote of the convention. General regret was expressed by democrats and not a few republicans that Mr. Gilbert's circumstances were such that he felt compelled to decline, as it was felt that if he would consent to remain on the ticket he would almost certainly have been elected.

Mr. Gilbert's nomination was made by the convention under a misapprehension. It was assumed that he would accept if tendered a unanimous nomination, and the same was given freely. It seems that the convention was mis taken in the matter, judging from the tone of the nominee's letter of declination.

However, when Mr. Gilbert's final refusal was made known and the uncertainty ended, the party leaders began to canvass the situation to find a suitable candidate to fill the vacancy or the ticket. The county central committee had been called to meet Thursday and as it had been given the authority to fill any vacancies that might occur, it was felt that a choice would necessarily have to be made at that time.

At a called meeting of the county central committee, held at the DEMOCRAT office Thursday evening, J. P. Marks, the well known pioneer of the Ahtanum, was nominated to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Gilbert.

A campaign committee, consisting of W. A. Cox, J. C. Liggett and A. J. Shaw, was appointed by Chairman Redfield.

SCOTT ROASTS ROBERTSON.

Kiona Man Shows Up the Rank Hypocrisy of Republican County Leadership on Division Issue.

The following letter, written by W. M. Scott, of Kiona, to the Washingtonian, was published this week in that paper: KIONA, Sept. 27.—Judging from the result of Mr. Croft's effort to elicit information from the Republic, it would seem a hopeless task to seek to find out where the republican legislative nominees stand on the question of county division.

The Republic stated editorially a week or two ago that the position of the republican nominees thereon is well known. Its efforts to ascertain the position of the democratic nominees is very laudable, but why discriminate?

If the Republic knows so well "where the republican nominees are at," speak out and let the dear public know. Give the information explicitly, for each candidate.

So far as the writer knows, people of the lower end of the county know nothing as to the position of any of the legislative nominees on this question, which the Republic says in its last number is an issue in this campaign, except the current rumor that Capt. Dunn, when asked where he stood, answered, "go to h—l."

Mr. Croft tried to draw from the Republic some of its store of knowledge on the question, and got artistically and sarcastically reared for his pains. It's a way the Republic has of making and holding republican votes, and the writer hereof will, of course, come in for his brown roast in the next issue.

The strength of the republican party in this county lies below the gap. The upper end hogs everything in sight, and when asked by the lower-enders for information as to where they stand on important questions, the reply is, in effect, if not in words, from candidates and newspaper sponsors, "go to h—l."

Possibly the lower end will make the same answer on election day. Much as would be deplored the calamity of permitting the re-election of George Turner to the senate, worse calamities could befall this county; and one of them would be the demonstration that a reckless gang of political ringsters can manipulate the republican party of this county, dictate the nomination of unworthy men, and elect them at the polls.

Can they do it? Let the people answer in November. W. M. SCOTT.
