

LEWIS^{AND} CLARK TRAIL

For Release TUESDAY, May 26

This design of a proposed marker for the Lewis and Clark Trail, from St. Louis, Missouri, to the Pacific Ocean, won first place in nation-wide contest for Edgar J. Kulla of Warson Woods, Missouri. Kulla, a staff artist for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, was awarded a $500 cash prize by the J. N. "Ding" Darling Foundation, sponsor of the contest. Sacajawea, Indian squaw, who guided the expedition through the uncharted West, is the central figure in the design.

LEWIS & CLARK TRAIL

For Release TUESDAY, May 26

Above design of proposed marker for the Lewis and Clark Trail, drawn by Albert Parella of Poland, Ohio, was runner-up in nation-wide contest sponsored by J. N. "Ding" Darling Foundation. Parella was awarded an original autographed etching made by the late Mr. J. N. "Ding" Darling, famous newspaper cartoonist and conservationist, for whom the Foundation was named.
