

EX-GOV. McBRIDE TO BE ORATOR

Candidate for Republican Nomination Accepts Invitation to Deliver Principal Address on the Fourth.

The greatest efforts are now under headway to make the Fourth of July celebration this year one worthy of North Yakima's citizenship. The business men are determined to do this in spite of the fact that the streets in the business section of town will not be in condition to offer the best of inducements for a street parade and athletic sports, but Contractor McKivor has promised to redouble the efforts of his working force to clear the streets of cobble stones.

Unusual interest is manifest in the celebration here by all the neighboring towns in the Yakima valley. Several of them have declared they will send a brass band and large delegation. Every town will also send a coterie of athletes to compete in the various contests on the long program, and for which liberal purses are being hung up.

The business men's committee in charge of raising funds for the celebration are fast approaching the $2500 mark. There is to be a ball game, balloon ascension, and a magnificent display of fireworks in the evening. Of course there will be competitive sports of all kinds.

The right Hon. Henry McBride, former governor of the state, and candidate on the republican ticket for the nomination, has accepted an invitation to deliver the oration of the day. Col. McBride has further promised to say nothing in a political way during the course of his speech that might hurt the numerous friends of Gov. Mead in this valley. Col. McBride will deliver a regular old patriotic fourth of July oration free from the vitriolic denunciations of political irony.

The railroads will all be running on schedule time by the fourth, according to Agent Ryerson of the local N. P. office, although he will not promise any regularity in the schedule before that time. The indications are that North Yakima's Fourth this year will eclipse all previous attempts of the business men, and it is a well known fact that the committee has about three times as much money to work with, as was ever subscribed on any other occasion.

CAPT. GALE VISITS YAKIMA.

Landlord of Popular Kaches Summer Resort Transacts Business.

Captain J. W. Gale, landlord of Kaches lodge on Lake Kaches in the heart of the Cascade mountains, had occasion to visit North Yakima the first of the week on some matter of business.

The captain says the recent warm weather has caused some of his old friends to take notice of his log cabin inn on the banks of Kaches lake, and they are beginning to write for rooms. "I expect a large congenial crowd of pleasure seekers this summer," said Captain Gale, "and my wife and I are prepared to extend every courtesy to all visitors."

Kaches Lodge is one of the most ideal summer resorts in the state of Washington, or in fact the Northwest. Here one may enjoy hunting, fishing, mountain climbing, rowing and bathing.

CONGRESSMAN JONES HOME.

Says He Will be Pretty Busy Campaigning This Summer.

Congressman Wesley L. Jones returned home last week from Washington City. He was glad to get back home again, and has been quite busy since arriving shaking hands with his many friends, all of whom assure him unquestionably that he will be the next United States Senator from this state.

Every day Congressman Jones receives invitations from the various sections of the state requesting him to speak at some public gathering and these invitations he accepts wherever the dates do not conflict. "I expect to keep pretty busy this summer," said the congressman.

APPLE CROP WILL BE LARGE THIS YEAR

Prices Not Likely to be as Good, But in Any Event Growers Will Realize Nice Profit.

The outlook for good prices on apples this year is fair enough. The prices won't be exorbitant by any means, but fruit growers will obtain a nice profitable price regardless of the fact that there is an enormous crop in the Yakima valley.

Buyers are not out this year making large contracts and agreeing to pay the prices offered apple growers a year ago this time but on the other hand very few buyers are in the community just now.

Bruce Wees, the old timer and reliable apple barometer, has been hanging around making a contract now and then. He is of the opinion that apples will average in the vicinity of $1 a box this season, with the higher grades bringing $1.50.

Quite a number of buyers got stung last season. They jumped in at the outset and paid a big price for apples, and in the fall when the slump came, of course there was nothing doing in the eastern apple market.

The indications are now that the Yakima valley will harvest an enormous crop of apples, not to speak of other lines of fruit, and the result may prove an over supply.

This theory, however, has been set aside with the argument that in the middle west storms and late frosts have practically ruined the fruit districts. In that event prices ought to be good here.

PINAFORE MADE HIT

Both Yakima and Ellensburg Raved Over Amateurs.

The comic opera Pinafore played to crowded houses in both North Yakima and Ellensburg. The former naturally gave the largest house, while the latter was noticeably the most enthusiastic.

The Ellensburg people put forth every effort to make the visitors feel good, and every number of the opera was vigorously encored.

After the entertainment at the opera house the Young Men's Dancing club, of Ellensburg, gave a dance in honor of the troupe which was attended by the nicest people in the Normal school town.

The work of L. L. Linn, as Sir Joseph Porter, was greatly appreciated by the Ellensburgers, and the crowd went into raptures over the superb singing and acting of Miss Arrowsmith. Pinafore was a great success in every way.

DOCKSTADER COMING.

The Great Minstrel Man Will be Here On June 18.

On Thursday night of next week the patrons of the Yakima theatre will be given an opportunity of seeing and hearing the King of Minstrels, Lew Dockstader, and his inimitable troupe of artists.

Dockstader has been the rage of New York this season, and is said to have the best bunch of songsters that were ever gathered under his management.

The Pioneer's Picnic.

The first annual picnic of the Yakima Pioneers' society was held, according to announcement, at the state fair grounds last Saturday. The attendance, made up almost entirely of pioneer residents and their families, was about 150 and the occasion was a most pleasant one. Well filled lunch baskets were in evidence and the ladies spread an elegant luncheon that all present did ample justice to.

In the absence of President L. L. Thorp, the vice president of the society, A. J. Splawn, presided, and did the honors of the occasion in a most satisfactory manner.

Now that the society is well organized it is to be hoped that all old settlers will attend the its meetings.

"FAMOUS WINDOW SMASHER" CAUGHT

Arrested by Officer in Spokane Because He Resented Reprimand While in Act of Whittling on a Building.

Sheriff John Edwards has gone to Spokane to bring back "the famous window smasher." The robber who broke Fred Ackenhausen's fine plate glass window and secured several hundred dollars worth of jewelry, who later returned a part of the stolen goods writing Mr. Ackenhausen where to find them, was arrested at the Northern Pacific station in Spokane Tuesday night. The robber is a young man 17 years of age. He gives his name as H. T. McClelland.

The officer who arrested young McClelland had no idea that he was the man wanted in North Yakima for window smashing. McClelland was using his pocket knife on an outbuilding near the depot, and was told by the officer to quit. He resented the call down, exchanging words with the officer, with the result that the officer placed him under arrest. At the police station McClelland was searched and several gold watches found on his person. Further search revealed the discovery of newspaper clippings from North Yakima papers telling of window smashing incidents.

Suspicion was immediately aroused and Sheriff H. B. Doak took the young man into custody later obtaining a full confession from him.

WILL BE A CANDIDATE.

Fruit Inspector Joe Brown Wants to Be Clerk.

Fruit Inspector Joe Brown will make a formal announcement in a few days of his candidacy for county clerk. He stopped a reporter for the Democrat on the street Wednesday afternoon and made known his intention.

Mr. Brown was formerly county clerk. Of recent years he has been prominently connected in the inspection of orchards of the county and his work has been highly satisfactory.

Kootenai Convicted.

Rudolph Crist, alias Dick Kootenai, a well known local sport, was convicted by a jury in the superior court Thursday afternoon of assault with a deadly weapon. Clara Hays, a woman of the red light district, is the party that Kootenai was charged by two policemen threatening to kill on the night of May 22, but woman-like, she testified in behalf of the prisoner, declaring that Kootenai had made no attempt on her life at all, evidently wishing to screen the prisoner. However, the sworn testimony of the two officers was enough for the jury and accordingly the verdict of guilty was rendered. Judge Preble allowed the prisoner to continue at liberty under a cash bail of $1000 pending sentence.

Still Badly Tied Up.

There has been but little change in the railroad tieup on the Northern Pacific during the past week, owing to the tremendous damage done the line by floods in Montana. Agent Ryerson has received instructions to receive no freight of a perishable nature or express matter for eastern shipment, nor to sell tickets for points east of Trout Creek, Mont.

Passengers from the east arriving in North Yakima this week have all had the story of long and vexatious delays to tell of the trip. Most of the belated passengers reached this state by coming over the Oregon Short Line from Butte. The big flood has been an expensive one for the Northern Pacific. For some time now it has cost that company $4000 per day to feed the marooned passengers alone. It is expected that through traffic will be resumed some time next week.

Unloading Rails.

Rails for the street railway are being unloaded and piled on Front street. They will be put in place as the paving brick goes down.

A GOOD ROADS CLUB ORGANIZED

Public Meeting Held Last Tuesday Evening Results in Permanent Organization—Slogan: "Good Roads for Yakima."

A public meeting was held in the council room at the court house last Tuesday evening the result of which the Yakima County Good Roads association was organized. There was a fair attendance of local citizens and also a number from Toppenish. W. L. Steinweg acted as chairman and C. A. Marsh as secretary. A number of short speeches were made, the object being to get the sense of the meeting as to the best method by which to proceed in order to get the good roads movement properly started in Yakima county. The consensus of opinion was that a central good roads organization should be established at once here in North Yakima and that auxiliary clubs should later be started in every precinct of Yakima county.

W. L. Steinweg was unanimously elected temporary president, Dr. A. H. Henry vice president, H. P. James, secretary and L. O. Joneck treasurer of the organization.

A committee on constitution and by laws consisting of T. A. Noble, Ed. Remy, F. A. Horsley and S. J. Harrison was appointed with instructions to report Tuesday evening, June 16, the date of the next meeting. A membership committee, headed by John H. Lynch was also appointed. All those present promptly signed the roll.

The meeting was an enthusiastic and will, it is believed, accomplish much good, as it was made up entirely of good roads enthusiasts. The next meeting will be held at the court house next Tuesday evening to effect a permanent organization.

The slogan is: Good Roads For Yakima! Everybody should help.

DISPENSE WITH CONTEST

Bands Visiting North Yakima July 4 May Do So at Expense of Association.

The plan to hold a competitive band concert in North Yakima July 4 has been dispensed with by the Business Men's association. Instead of providing $200 for prizes for the bands which are expected to participate in the celebration, the committee on oratory and music has decided to take that money and add $200 or $300 to the amount and pay the entire expenses of all bands which will agree to come here on the Fourth and furnish music throughout the day.

The latter plan is believed to be more feasible than the one first decided upon. Some bands from the smaller districts have signified their reluctance to play in a competitive contest in North Yakima. For this reason the committee has taken the above action.

Ed. Allen has been appointed to visit all the towns in the valley the latter part of this week on a boosting trip. He will take the large bills that are now being printed, and post them in conspicuous places in every town he visits. At the same time he will explain to all musical organizations the plan decided on for their entertainment and the entertainment of all visitors who will be in the city on the big day.

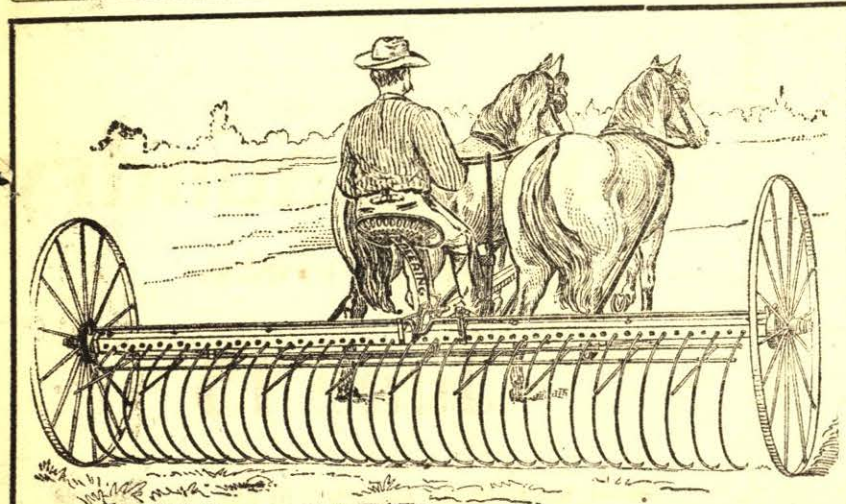

Extra "bleachers" are to be built at Athletic park for the seating of all persons who may attend the baseball game or go in the evening to witness the fireworks. The proceeds of the grandstand receipts will in all probability go toward buying sweater coats for the men of the Tiger team. These coats will be given each man when the team takes the much-talked-of trip to the Sound this summer, the object of which

Church Contract is Let.

The contract for the stone work for the new Christian church has been let to Thomas Russell, of the Tenino Stone company, and the facing stone of the new edifice will be of Tenino stone backed by the local black stone. It had been hoped to construct the church of North Yakima stone but it was found that the cost would be too great. While the figures of Mr. Russell's contract have not been announced it is understood that they are in the neighborhood of $9000. The stone is to be laid "broken ashlar", which will be different from the work on any public building in this city. The balance of the work on the church is to be by day labor and will be under the supervision of J. H. Corbett. It is expected that the stone work will be completed by September 1 and the balance shortly afterward. The church will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000.

Miss Bessie McPhee returned Saturday night from Seattle, where she has been employed for the last two years. She will probably remain in North Yakima indefinitely.

YAKIMA LEADS STATE IN FRUIT ACREAGE

Yakima county, in acreage devoted to fruit, leads every county of the state and with one exception leads in every kind of fruit grown on trees, and cultivated in Washington. The one exception is plums in which it is surpassed by several counties, Clarke and Whitman in particular. The total acreage in bearing orchard in this state is 71,627 acres and of this Yakima has almost a third, its acreage being 22,628.

The fruit acreage of the state is divided as follows: Apples, 50,297; pears, 3825; quinces, 59; peaches, 5704; cherries, 3244; plums and prunes, 7250; apricots, 236; almonds, 116; English walnuts, 896.

Yakima County Acreage.
The acreage of Yakima county is as follows: Apples, 16,640; pears, 1977; quinces, 9; peaches, 3053; cherries, 392; plums and prunes, 160; apricots, 74; almonds, 92; English walnuts, 285. The counties which lead in plums and prunes are as follows: Asotin, 229; Kitsap, 171; Pierce 168; Thurston, 636, and Whitman, 764.

The 10 counties having the greatest number of bearing fruit trees are as follows, each ranking in the order named: Yakima, 22,682 acres; Chelan, 6191; Whitman, 4631; Clarke, 4524; Spokane, 4465; Pierce, 4037; Kitsap, 2750; Cowlitz, 2530; Asotin, 2120; Columbia, 1944.

Cultivation of Walnuts.
A significant feature of the table is the progress that has been made in the culture of English walnuts. The total bearing acreage of English walnuts this season is 896. Every county but one, Adams, has English walnuts under cultivation, Yakima leading with 285 acres. In King county there are three acres in bearing. Another significant feature is the fact that there are 116 acres of almonds in bearing in the state, Yakima leading with 92 acres, with none in bearing in King county.

CERTIFICATES GRANTED TO YAKIMA TEACHERS

Many from This County Receive Their Diplomas from State Superintendent.

Yakima is well represented in the list of those accorded certificates as teachers from the office of the superintendent of public instruction at Olympia. Those from this county thus honored are:

TOPPENISH HORSEMAN DIES OF BROKEN NECK

Charles Grady Dies of Injuries Sustained in Breaking Vicious Beast.

Charles Brady, of Toppenish, died in North Yakima Saturday as a result of injuries sustained in riding a horse there Friday. Death is said to be due to a broken neck. Mr. Brady, who was about 35 years old, was thrown from a horse he was trying to break. His spur caught in the cinch and he was dragged. A number of Indians gave chase, caught the horse, and rescued the man from his position of peril. It was found that he had sustained a severe cut on one jaw and that his spine was dislocated. The Toppenish physician who attended ordered that he be brought to St. Elizabeth's hospital in this city for treatment and he was accordingly brought here on the Sunnyside train Friday. He died Saturday afternoon.

Good Work at Fair Grounds
Considerable work has been done at the state fair grounds this spring under the direction of Superintendent John Lacy, one of the most important undertakings in the way of improvement being a boulevard which runs from the barns to the race track, giving a broad and level highway for the horsemen to and from their stalls in workouts and races. Instead of the old and winding trail the horsemen now have direct and pleasing access to the track. Other work done worthy of attention is the forestry work on the grove of trees just south of the main entrance. This grove has been nicely parked, dead and unnecessary trees removed, tops cut, and a great deal of pruning done. The track itself is in as good condition as the scarcity of water permits.

Butter Scouring Contest.
North Yakima, during the time of the state fair, will be the place and the time of the next butter scouring contest in this state. Referring to the recent contest in Seattle Secretary Ira P. Whitney, of the Washington Association of Butter Makers, said: "Ten of the 14 entries scored above 90 points. The principal criticisms of the judges were in regard to the off flavors caused by too old or overripe cream. In a few entries there was a distinct weedy flavor. The color also was far from uniform, each butter maker having his own idea as to how much butter should be colored, and as a result no two entries had the same shade. Uniformity should be sought after. As none of the scores are to be taken as final, they will not be published until after the final scoring in December when premiums will be awarded to those having the highest averages for the three scorings."

ABOUT GOVERNOR MEAD.

The Harrington Citizen permits itself to exclaim that it is "simple justice to say that Governor Albert E. Mead has more than fulfilled the expectations of his friends and silenced the cavilings of his enemies." We quite agree with the esteemed Citizen that he has fulfilled the "expectations of his friends," for the reason that we know that no self-respecting friend of the present executive would expect anything of him. And as to the last, no one ever took Governor Mead seriously enough to be offended. His acts are not offensive; they are merely irritating. The voters receive them as they would the mistakes of a small child. They know that he has never become aroused from that state of coma which came upon him immediately after election. They expect, however, to arouse him next fall.

"He not only stood boldly for a railroad commission, but he demanded that it be, to use his own words, 'a good commission,'" says the Citizen. Foxy Governor Mead! Who would have thought of demanding, in clarion tones—"A good commission?" And such a man was held so long captive in a dinky law office in Bellingham!

Everyone knows, however, that, though he may ask for it, he didn't get that "good commission." Well, at any rate he demanded it, which is somewhat different from getting it.

The Citizen closes with the solemn statement that "better than an untried man is Governor Mead, and fully as good as a tried one who promises no more than Governor Mead has already performed." The Harrington editor is a real humorist.—Washington Democrat.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

Hon. George Turner has sent the following letter for publication to the editor of the Washington Democrat at Seattle, which is self explanatory:

"I am not a candidate for President on the Democratic ticket, and have no idea the Democratic convention, or any considerable part of it would consider my name seriously if it were presented in that convention. Moreover, I am earnestly in favor of a distinguished Democratic statesman whose mental and moral equipment make him the ideal of his party and eminently fit for the office of Chief Magistrate of the Republic.

Neither am I a candidate for Governor, or Senator, on the Democratic ticket at the ensuing primaries in this state.

"My determination to decline any proffered candidacy this fall was taken before the assembling of the late Democratic State convention, and was well known to my personal friends. It does not, I assure you, arise from pique at action taken at that convention. The fact is that I have been actively engaged in politics for forty years, during more than one half of which period I have served the public in various capacities, and now I crave rest and repose.

I will not disguise, however, that the action of the convention in departing so far from the time-honored Democratic doctrines in its platform of principals has confirmed me, so far as confirmation was necessary, in my determination. Having opposed the adoption of the most important declaration in the platform concerning State policy, I am not the man to lead the Democratic forces of the State in advocacy of that policy; moreover, if that policy shall, in fact, blaze the way to Democratic success, (as was claimed on the floor of the convention by its most distinguished advocates) then some gentleman in sympathy with it and responsible for its adoption is entitled to reap the fruits of the victory.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE TURNER.

The plank in the Democratic state platform objected so seriously to by Judge Turner is the so-called prohibition plank.

THE OKLAHOMA WAY.

The following report on an Oklahoma bank failure shows the way they do things in that democratic commonwealth:

"The International Bank of Coalgate was reported to the bank commissioner by one of his examiners a few days ago for violating the banking laws of the state, particularly in its managing officers borrowing from the depositors' money.

"The bank commissioner at once visited the bank in person and found that the total deposits were about $37,000, of which the president, L. A. Connors, owed over $6,000 and the cashier, L. Ezly, owed over $4,000—in other words, about thirty per cent of the deposits had been borrowed by the two managing officers. The bank commissioner demanded that they immediately replace the money. They failed to do so. He closed the bank at 2:15 Thursday evening; telephoned the state banking board; received instructions to immediately proceed to pay all approved deposits. In forty-two minutes from the closing of the bank the bank commissioner was ready to pay approved deposits. By Friday evening sixty per cent of the depositors had appeared, proved their claims and received their money. By the end of the second day ninety per cent of all the deposits had been paid. A few depositors who live in the country don't seem to be in any hurry about drawing their deposits. One farmer is reported as answering over the rural telephone that he is too busy to come after his money, but will want it in a week or so.

"In the meantime both the president and the cashier have been arrested for the violation of the state banking law, and are held under heavy bond.

"There will probably be no loss to the state guaranty fund, and no assessment required on other banks. Liquidation will likely reimburse the state fund within thirty days. The loss will probably not exceed the capital stock."—The Commencer.

TAFT AT GRANT'S TOMB

The Decoration Day speech of Secretary Taft at the tomb of General Grant has called forth a vast amount of criticism. Even many of the secretary's friends have criticised this lack of tact. Besides a number of General Grant's old army friends say that some of the statements made by the secretary in his type written speech are untrue. General Fred Grant, who heard the address, is said to have felt much mortified and at the conclusion of the exercises mounted his horse and rode away without speaking to Taft. Leading G. A. R. men are quoted by the N. Y. World as denouncing bitterly what they regard as no less than an attack upon the memory of General Grant.

According to the World this is what the secretary actually said in reference to the great general's early career:

"It is true that Grant received an education at West Point, but certainly nothing was developed there in him to indicate his fitness or ability to meet great responsibilities.

"He did well in the Mexican war, as did other lieutenants. He manifested as regimental quartermaster energy and familiarity with his duties. But in 1854 he resigned from the army because he had to. He had yielded to the weakness of a taste for strong drink, and rather than be court martialled he left the army. He returned from Vancouver, on the Pacific coast, to his family in St. Louis without money, without property, a disheartened man. He accepted from his father-in-law a loan of 75 acres of land, upon which he constructed a home for his family to live in, and there he carried on farming operations. His chief business seemed to be that of selling wood, cutting it and piling it in the back yards of well-to-do people of St. Louis.

"After six years of this life he gave up farming because of ill health and went into the real estate business for a year. He failed in this. His associate dissolved the partnership. Then at last his father offered him $600 as a clerk in his leather store at Galena, Ill., and then he moved from St. Louis. He worked here for a year also. During these seven years, though everything looked dark, he overcame in a great measure his weakness for strong drink. But he was so constituted that it seemed impossible for him to earn a livelihood even when he had given hostages to fortune in the shape of a wife and four children."

BRYAN'S NOMINATION ASSURED

The nomination of W. J. Bryan on the first ballot by the Denver convention is now practically assured. The delegates have now been all or nearly all chosen and a little more than seventy per cent. of them have been instructed to cast their votes for Mr. Bryan. The Bryan men, therefore, will easily organize the convention and will have the strength to nominate the great Nebraskan under the two-thirds rule, which, by the way, is an undemocratic practice that never should have been adopted and should now be discontinued.

The last lingering hope of the small plutocratic element to defeat Bryan at the Denver convention is now hopelessly gone. With every delegate they have been able to buy or pick up by hook or crook they cannot muster the desired one third of the convention by which they had planned to hold up the nomination of Bryan and thus eventually force the selection of a compromise candidate. The anti-Bryan crowd with all their blustering promises and threats are virtually out of the game now so far as the nomination goes. It remains to be seen what the small plutocratic remnant, led by the New York World will do in the succeeding campaign.

Gov. Johnson of Minnesota, after all the bluster and loud talk of his campaign managers, will go into the convention backed by but 22 instructed delegates, those from his own state, while Bryan will have over 700. No doubt Johnson will draw to him the support of the delegates from New York and New Jersey and the minority of 17 in Pennsylvania, where the delegation is divided. However, the representatives of the plutocrats would not be lending their aid to Gov. Johnson if they thought there was any show for his nomination, for hardly less than Bryan is Johnson their kind of a man.

TAFT'S FOOL MANAGERS.

From the beginning the administration crowd has seen to it that no one but Taft should have as much as a look in for the presidential nomination and the plan is working well.

The hearing of the contest cases involving the right to seats in the national convention of 249 delegates now in progress before the republican national committee, is a farce pure and simple. The administration gang control the committee, and not being satisfied with that they packed it with their own hirelings. Behold even Hitchcock, the Taft manager, sitting in judgment on the contested cases as a proxy man from New Mexico and in addition two of his employees sitting as proxies from Alaska and Hawaii. Surely evidence of greater gall, to say the least, has never been manifest in the political game. It is enough to make Mark Hanna turn over in his grave and roar with indignation.

The methods that have been employed from the first to procure the nomination of Taft have not been pleasing to a large element of the American people and tens of thousands of republican voters are really very much disgusted at the successful attempt to foist Taft upon the party, for it is now everywhere taken for granted that he will be the nominee. This feeling of disgust is certain to find expression at the polls in November. Mr. Roosevelt and his powerful federal machine may be able to dictate to the party, but it will not be so easy to dictate to all the American people.

Taft's fool managers are making splendid capital every day for Bryan's use in the campaign, but they don't seem to realize it.

CAN'T RULE HIM OUT

Col. Robertson and other members of the local Jones club are apparently very much put out by reason of the fact that Hon. Lee A. Johnson has made up his mind to run for congress. Of course, it is none of our funeral, but we can't just see why the Sunnyside statesman should be discriminated against or an attempt made to rule him out of the race. As the father of the local option movement, an issue that the bosses figure to win on this year, surely the Hon. Lee is entitled to some consideration. Mr. Jones, who never opened his mouth in defense of that issue when it was unpopular will now go out on the stump and ring the changes on it for all he is worth. Yet it is really Johnson's issue by right of discovery and now when he has the chance of a lifetime to break into congress on the strength of it the Jones men are unreasonable enough to expect him to stay at home and keep himself in the background while Mr. Jones plays the "Big Injun" in the state campaign. Besides the Jones "push" of this city don't realize the fun that the preacher-statesman gets out of the strut of running for office.

BAND WAGON POLITICS

Congressman Jones, on his return from Washington this week is quoted by the Yakima Republic as saying:

"The opinion is very general in the east that Bryan will be nominated at Denver and the opinion is also general that he will be badly defeated at the polls, and that there are other democrats who would be much stronger than he."

Of course Mr. Jones might be expected to make such a statement as the above, for it is in the usual flippant style that republican politicians adopt in referring to the great Nebraskan.

On the other hand Mr. Jones speaks of Secretary Taft in the most extravagant praise. "He is," says the congressman, "splendidly equipped for this office and will make a magnificent president."

And yet up to a short time ago Mr. Jones was everywhere believed to be in favor of the nomination of Speaker Cannon for president. How it would hurt the Yakima statesman's feelings if he should finally miss the band wagon.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION

Everything seems to be all over but the shouting at Chicago. Next week Mr. Taft will be nominated at Chicago on the first ballot and with him a nominee for vice president, selected by Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt has also been good enough to assume the serious task of making the party platform. The Roosevelt-Taft machine has also settled the contest cases in advance by throwing out bodily all the "Nigger" and anti-Taft delegates from the south. So the delegates won't have much to worry them on that score. In fact, the delegates of the people will have nothing to do at Chicago, save to register the will of the king and do the necessary shouting.

All talk of the Chicago convention being a deliberative body is pure nonsense. It will merely ratify the cut and dried program made at the White House and then adjourn.

The indications are that Senator Sam Piles soon after his arrival home will be forced to take the stump for Levi Ankeny. This the Seattle senator probably dislikes to do but he will be forced to do it, the alternative being a break with Boss Crocker. And as Senator Sam goes about the state begging for his semile senatorial partner he will be making for himself a goodly crop of enemies that will be much in evidence when it comes to the selection of a senator in 1910.

Democrats all over this state are sorry to learn that Judge Turner won't stand as their candidate for senator this year. Judge Turner is a great man, but like most other great men he has a great fault or two. Because the state convention by an overwhelming majority refused to stand for the Turner "personal liberty" plank the judge admits that he feels a little sore. But a little thing like that shouldn't bother a man who has been in politics for forty years.

The so called allies, which according to the Oregonian means the list of Republican pretenders, none of whom have so much as a look in for the nomination, appear to be getting the rough end of the stick from the Taft crowd at Chicago. Fairbanks the ice wagon man is probably the only one of the bunch who is likely to draw even a consolation prize at Chicago. He may secure the vice-presidential nomination after numerous others have refused it.

If anybody thinks that the Ankeny "push" under the command of that masterful politician, Boss Crocker, won't contest every inch of ground in the present senatorial fight that person better get undecieved at once. "Yakima" Jones, if he proves to be any good as a fighter, should be able to defeat the Walla Walla banker in the primary, but he will have to go some. The road to the U. S. senate is never lined with roses for any man.

The poor old Oregonian has finally had to admit that Chamberlain will be elected senator. Forty six votes are necessary to a choice in the legislature and forty seven Statement No. 1 members have pledged themselves anew to Chamberlain since the election. The five other Statement No. 1 men were non-committal, but of this bunch it is figured that at least three will vote for the Democratic governor.

Colored delegates from the South, incensed on being counted out and then thrown out by the Republican National committee, are now threatening to bolt the nomination of Taft, organize what they call a Lincoln Republican party and nominate Foraker for president. It is plain that the negroes have no use for Taft and if there is no bucking ticket in the field many of them will vote for Bryan.

The farmers of the Yakima valley, but more especially the fruit farmers, should name their places. They should then stencil the ranch name on every box of fruit sent out and especially made stationery should be used for all business correspondence. If it is your business to produce standard and fancy grades of fruit for the market be up to date. It will pay in dollars and cents.

Certainly local working men should have the preference over outside laborers in the North Yakima paving work. If the city council has not an agreement to that effect with the contractor the council has been remiss in its duty. There are plenty of local men, many of them home owners, who are out of work. The necessity of bringing in outside help to do the work is not apparent.

The Wall street interests are now believed to be entirely reconciled to the nomination of Secretary Taft. That the interests will support the big secretary may be taken as a sure thing. For months the emissaries of the Ohio candidate have been working quietly in Wall street circles and not only have secured promises of support, but a big sack of campaign funds as well.

It is said that Judge Godman, formerly of Dayton but now of Seattle, has finally decided to enter the race for the Democratic nomination for the governorship. Ex-Mayor Byrne of Spokane and Mayor Pattison of Colfax are also said to be out for the nomination. However, the Hon. Jack Splawn could beat them all at least four city blocks if he would try.

The Washington Democrat is the comprehensive name of a splendid weekly paper published at Seattle by H. A. Porter. The Democrat is ably edited and is a vehicle of important political news, state and national. It is worthy of the support of every Democrat in the state of Washington. The subscription price is but $1 per annum.

The returns of the Oregon election shows conclusively that the high Republican tide of four years ago is now decidedly on the ebb. Oregon is now fair fighting ground and Bryan may succeed in carrying it this fall. The Republican party is unquestionably pretty well shot to pieces in that state.

The action of the Taft crowd in grabbing all the Pro-Taft delegates from the disputed states shows how unfounded was their claim that they had the nomination cinched a month ago. The truth is that they need the delegates from the South to keep their man from failing on the first ballot.

Col. Robertson editorially advises Oregon Republican legislators to violate their pledges to vote for Chamberlain as senator. Does Col. Robertson feel that he is competent to tender such advice owing to a somewhat similar experience he has had in dealing with Senator Ankeny and Boss Crocker.

President Roosevelt announces that after the expiration of his presidential term he will go to Africa for a year's hunt of big game. Doubtless this is another move in the interest of Taft's candidacy.

June, as ever, brings forth another crop of sweet girl graduates. June graduates! June brides! And the sweetest roses to be sure, bloom in June.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

North Yakima's crop of strawberries is finding a hearty appreciation just at present, the warm weather of the past few days having made the summer fruit season a fact and ready demand for the berries an actuality. The home demand is practically absorbing the home supply and berries are selling at $2.25 a crate to the producer and are today quoted at 10 cents a box to the consumer. The season this year will in all probability be much shorter than has been the case for several seasons and careful housewives will need to act promptly in laying aside the proportion which, as preserves, will grace the table during the winter months. The lack of sunshine and the cold weather has held the berries back and given them a long time to develop. They are now coming in rapidly from all producing centers and the price is certain to drop quickly to the normal. Yakima berries have sold at $4 both at Seattle and Spokane, but prices have fallen off over a dollar in both cities.

Other Home Produce.
Local cherries are also on the market and coming in daily in increasing quantities. The fruit appears to be excellent but the best are yet to come.

Home grown potatoes are also in evidence in North Yakima stores, and are retailing at 5 cents a pound. The old potatoes are retailing for a dollar a sack but no wholesale price can be fixed. There is in existence no definite market figure for old potatoes, though perhaps $12 to $13 a ton is as good as the producers can do on any stock they have. A large number of North Yakima ranchers and ranchers in the adjoining valleys have been compelled this year to re-seed their potato acreage, the potatoes planted having rotted in the ground.

Butter and Eggs Firm.

No changes are announced in either eggs or butter. With reference to the eggs, dealers are exercising more care in their purchases in order to insure clean stock. Butter has weakened somewhat in the coast markets the last day or two, that condition being due to the filling of all Alaska orders for some time ahead. The change, however, is not sufficient to affect conditions here. Stocks are reported generally to be accumulating slowly and in the larger centers dealers have been forced to place some in storage, a risky move under present quotations. It is a condition, however, highly satisfactory to oleomargarine manufacturers in the east who have always believed that they failed in procuring their portion of the western trade.

Meats Are Going Lower.

In meats the tendency is downward. Chickens are off 2 cents a pound with today's quotations and will drop still further as they are replaced by the rising generation. A half cent a pound has been cut on the steer prices and while wethers and lambs are not reduced, every indication is that that market is destined soon to show a lower figure. Letters and quotations sent out from Portland show no hope for better figures for the mutton men. Recent sales in wool also indicate that the 9 to 12 cent price is the prevailing figure and in this portion of the country. General quotations are as follows:

WANT NORTH YAKIMA IN NORTHWEST LEAGUE

Managers of Northwest Teams
Look Favorably on This City as Addition to League.

"It will only be a very short time before North Yakima is represented in the Northwest league. For the first time since this city has been able to support a ball team the fans of Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane and in fact every town in the northwest league are looking this way with a view to taking us aboard." So says Manager Payne, of the Yakima Tigers. He, with some of the most prominent business men of North Yakima have taken hold of one of the biggest undertakings in sporting circles of the state, namely, to put the Tigers in the Northwest league.

Since Payne and his associates have taken the management of the Tigers fans of North Yakima have witnessed the best ball they have ever seen in North Yakima. The Coast and Northwest leagues are on the verge of a part consolidation. Tacoma may decide to hereafter play in coast circles. Besides this fact, the managers wish to drop Butte from the Northwest. The jump from the Sound to Butte has always been considered too far.

North Yakima Has Chance.

If Tacoma and Butte are subtracted from the Northwest, popular opinion says North Yakima and Everett will fill the vacancies. For years both players and managers have desired to get away from the long jumps across the state. If Spokane stays with the Northwest, which it undoubtedly will do, the Sound teams would still have the long jump between Seattle and Spokane. The only way in which this expense can be spanned is to take in North Yakima, if for nothing more than a place to feed and water.

"One thing is certain," said Payne this morning, "we can not expect to have North Yakima taken into the Northwest unless the people here show some desire to do so. Look at Aberdeen, away down in southwestern Washington and with a small population—the people of that town wanted baseball and they showed their appreciation of what was furnished them to such an extent that the managers voted to take the town into the Northwest league. Now it has one of the top rungs on the ladder of success.

Live People Here.

"There is no reason on earth why North Yakima should not be known for its live people who are just full enough of ginger to demand that this town turn out a league team—not a bush league aggregation—but a bunch that can hold its own with the Al players of the state and coast. Walla Walla and a bunch of those wheat towns are tied up in some sort of a baseball combine that is the laughing stock of all the fans in the country. North Yakima does not want any such sort of business. We want to be in the right bunch or not at all.

"It is simply up to the people here. If they want baseball and if they want this town to be talked of in Seattle and all the big cities of the Sound and coast, they have got to turn out and enable me to support this team. The team is somewhat in debt; we've got to get out of it some way before we take the trip to the Sound. The only way in which we can do this is to realize something from the gate receipts at the coming games.

Good Games in Sight.

"Next Sunday we go to Ellensburg; the following Sunday Gonzaga college of Spokane will play here and the following Thursday the Washington State college team will play the Tigers in North Yakima. Everybody knows what kind of a team the boys from Pullman town have got. It has won the northwest collegiate championship for years past. We are trying to get teams here that are known and that will furnish some attraction to the fans. We can not continue to furnish good ball unless we have the support of every fan and baseball lover in North Yakima."

Notice of Sheriff's Sale.

Catholic Boys Give Drama.

Tuesday night the boys of St. Joseph's school more than satisfied the expectations of those who attended their reproduction of the beautiful drama "Flavius." All were struck with the beautiful acting and the manner in which the boys performed their difficult parts. It was a great feat. Although the actors were mere boys they showed that they understood what they were doing. The power with which they acted would have given credit to speakers more advanced in years and experience. Melvin Bartholet rendered the part of Clemens in such a manner as to draw tears from the eyes of all present. Theodore Kohls, as Superior Domitian, astonished all by the majesty of his bearing, while Benjamin Koreski played his part as Stephenus in a no less pleasing manner. Joseph Schenk showed that he had grasped the part of Jewish magician and William Meyer, as Newm, deserves the great praise. The other boys, Adelbert Bergeron as Cimber, captain of the guards; Martin Koreski, as Perennius; Herman Lindhagel, as Lubinus; George Kenney as Eurycles, and Lester Schorn, as servant, showed also that they had been well and carefully trained. The whole play was a marked success. The costumes were beautiful. At times when the stage was filled with the principal actors and a number of senators and soldiers, the scene was pleasing and attractive.

Conklin Guilty of Assault.

After the charge of assault with a deadly weapon made against George B. Conklin, in connection with the stabbing of D. M. Cook, in the Shadlow saloon September 9, had been withdrawn from the consideration of the jury by Judge Kauffman Saturday afternoon, the jury was instructed to try the man for common assault and returned a verdict of guilty on that charge. The extreme penalty for the offence of which Conklin was convicted is a fine of $500 or six months in the county jail. Cook, the prosecuting witness, gave different testimony from that given by him at the preliminary hearing.

Yakima Apples in Alaska.

Jack Maher of the Highland Real Estate company, has sent a box of Wine-sap apples to the president of the Mine Owners' association at Fairbanks, Alaska. The apples will be put on display in Fairbanks for the purpose of showing to the people of that city and surrounding country what Yakima valley raises in the way of choice fruit. More Alaska money has been invested in the Yakima valley during the last year than at any time previous. People of that territory, who have made their stake, are looking with eager eyes on the lands of the Yakima as a place to spend their days in peace after a period of toil and struggle in the frozen north.

Miss Elizabeth Osborne of the Yakima Abstract & Title company, has sold to John T. Chapman of Salt Lake City, 16 acres of Selah land. Miss Osborne purchased the land only a short time ago and has now sold it to good advantage. Mr. Chapman is a contractor and builder. He will move his family here and make this his home hereafter. The sale was made through the Highland Real Estate company.

The Week End Society Events

In Honor of Miss McIlvanie.

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the party given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. George S. Rankin at her home on South Sixth street, complimentary to Miss Elizabeth McIlvanie. These marriage has been announced to take place this month. A profusion of roses decorated the rooms very attractively. Baskets of the same fragrant flowers were suspended from the chandeliers. The guests brought their thimbles and devoted the afternoon to sewing for the prospective bride. The guests were given a list of questions to answer with the initials of their names. Some of the answers were very amusing. Places at the refreshment tables were found by matching roses. The dainty refreshments which were symbolical of the occasion were heart shaped.

Methodist Aid Society.

Mrs. F. L. Miller was the hostess of the meeting of the Nob Hill division of the Methodist Aid society Friday afternoon. The ladies spent the afternoon very pleasantly sewing and at the business meeting a free will offering of over $18 was taken up. At the close of the social hour delicious refreshments were served by Miss Gertrude and Miss Florence Miller, Miss Irish and Miss Bernice Babcock.

Mrs. Edmund G. Tennant's and Mrs. George Hill's Bridge.

Mrs. Edmund G. Tennant and Mrs. George J. Hill entertained at bridge in a charming manner Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Tennant on North Second street. Roses in pink and white were used in profusion about the various rooms where seven tables were set for bridge. The favors, a handsome cut glass mullage jar were awarded to Miss Mary Cameron and Mrs. Timothy L. Lynch. Those aiding the hostesses in serving were Miss Jessie Snively, Miss Vera Hill and Mrs. Vestal Snyder. Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Tennant will entertain again Tuesday afternoon, June 16, at the home of Mrs. Tennant.

P. E. O. Banquet.

The P. E. O. society concluded their meeting for this year with a banquet Thursday evening at the home of the president Dr. Evangeline Howick on North Sixth street. It was an especially enjoyable occasion as their husbands, the "B. I. L.'s" were invited to participate. After supper each one was requested to write a description of the one who was seated with them at the table. These, when read were provocative of much laughter as most of them were very clever. The lady's prize, a P. E. O. pennant was awarded to Mrs. Howick, and to Logan H. Roberts was awarded the gentlemen's prize, a "B. I. L." pennant.

Mrs. Hedges Recital.

The pupils of Mrs. J. L. Hedges gave an excellent musical Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian church. The church was crowded with an appreciative audience. It would be impossible to comment on the respective merits of those taking part as throughout the entertainment was excellent. While all of the numbers were heartily received the audience accorded enthusiastic applause to Miss Nellie Bunnell's rendition of "Meditation" and the "Fairy Tale" by Miss Gladys Michell, the duet of Barbara Eschbach and Raymond Kroeber and "The Sailor Boy's Dream" by Miss Ruth Hedges.
