Dear Committeeman:

I noticed the story in the Spokesman Review, Rosellini
Lauds Book on Old City. However, no price was quoted for this item.

I am very interested in obtaining a copy for my own extensive Western Americana and historical library, and a second copy should be with our state historical society library (Olympia) (I am a member of the board of curators and will see that such is placed there when I attend our Aug. 8 board meeting. Mr. Joel Faris, now dead, was one of our curators and was a prominent historian of your city).

Will you please send me two copies with a memo of the price which I will remit? If they are marked "educational material" I believe the enclosed will take care of their transmittal.

Any history of the material noted, preserved in printed form, is a commendable project. It is no easy undertaking, believe me. You are to be congratulated.

Sincerely
