Dear Mr. Relander:

Mr. William B. Freeman, President of Miller Freeman Publications, has turned over to me for handling your letter of May 26 concerning the Memoirs of Miller Freeman and your desire to obtain a copy of this privately published book.

We are most appreciative, of course, of your interest in Mr. Freeman's journal and certainly want to do everything we can to accommodate your research activities. Of course, as I know you understand, the Memoirs of Miller Freeman is a privately published volume with extremely limited distribution and it is not available through ordinary channels.

However, in view of your expressed desire to use a copy for research and historical purposes, Mr. William B. Freeman has authorized me to send you a copy, entirely complimentary, if our inventory of the books in this office permits. Our inventory is sufficiently large that we feel we can do this and a copy of the Memoirs is en route to you under separate cover.

Sincerely,

B. M. Hampson
