THE RUSSIAN THISTLE

W. H. Redman Declares That It Is Not Such a Dangerous Nuisance After All and That It Has Value as a Forage Plant

To the Editor: In last week's issue of the Democrat is published the statements of Mr. E. R. Parker of Fruitvala and other farmers regarding the growth vicinity and that the county commissioners should employ a man to go about and dig up this noxious weed wherever found, closing with the following words: t is up to the county commissioners to act in the matter. The question is, will they do it?"

Now, if Mr. Parker will go with me I can snow him a hundred thousand acres-probably more- in Yakima county over which this plant is now scattered and growing. For some miles on each side of the N. P. R'y from Kennewick to the Naches river, Russian thistle is extant and has been for several years. It was growing out beyond the power house and in North Yakima some four years ago. Prof. Leckenby of the U. S. Agricultural department, division of plant industry, informed the writer some three or four years ago that Russian thistle had then already gotten beyond control and beyond any hope of extermination in the Yakima valley. Six years ago Indian Agent Lynch upon his request was allowed a fund by the government to exterminate this weed, which was found growing in the vicinity of Toppenish, which money was used, but with no perceptible effect. At the same time the railroad companay put a large force at work digging and burning it on its right of way, but all was futile. In the Sunnyside country effort was also made to exterminate it without success. People of this valley who are just finding out that Russian thistle is growing about here are greatly behind the times in that regard, and more so if they think the work of any one man or of a hundred men could eradicate it. The whole Russian army, while it might be employed in a better business than it now is, if it were here engaged in destroying this thistle, could hardly exterminate it. I doubt even if the Japanese army could whip it out. The germ of the seed lives three years in the ground. No; the county commissioners should not spend a dollar at such attempt, it would be a foolish waste of money. The Russian thistle is here

Nor is this plant such a criminal as it was formerly supposed to be; for while there is a statute against permitting its growth upon farms and highways of this state, there are farmers of exalted local renown who speak words Sunnyside-Bernice Barnes, Myrtle of high praise for Russian thistle as a forage plant. Hon. H. D. Jory, once a law maker, and who now aspires to promotion to such position in the national councils, a year ago informed the writer hereof that he was sowing the seed of this thistle on a large body of land which he owns in the Sunnyside country. One funny thing about it was that he had gone to considerable trouble to gather a large bag of this seed to thus sow and his horses had unawares wagon and scatter them along the west line of his land and the wind will do ing likewise. Perhaps the county compick up the seeds or next year dig up

> Cultivation will tend to keep down the Russian thistle about the same as it does any other tumble weed, than which it is not particularly worse except that it "stickers" on when matured. If only a small territory was beset with it a band of sheep grazed on the land for three or four successive years would wipe it off that part of the face of the WM. H. REDMAN.

The Boxing Exhibition.

A boxing exhibition was given at the Athletic club Tuesday evening which drew a fair sized crowd of spectators. Several of Prof. Thempson's pupils put on the gloves and boxed by rounds and furnished lively entertanment for the crowd which included a number of business and professional men. It is understood that an effort was since made by some of the church people to have warrants issued for the arrest of the club management and several participants on the ground that the state law had been violated, but the matter seems to have been dropped. Prosecuting Attorney Parker drew up the complants, but found nobody willing to sign them, it is said.

The Story About Coon.

There is no more able man in the state of Washington than Charles E. Coon, mayor of Pt. Townsend, and republican candidate for lieutenant governor. Coon, however, was weak once-weak when he was attacked by political enemies in that joint stock companay composed of far- hotbed of detestable trickery and chieanery-Washington. Suddenly rumors of the grossest kin.l. were circulated concerning Coon. They were rumors of a kind that, even though they could be disproved, would still leave such a taint and stain upon his name that it would be imposible for him to look his old friends in the face. He suddenly resigned, and disappeared from Washington.

Years ago those who knew of the incident and of Coon were convinced that the rumors were untrue; that they were tissues of falsehoods aimed at a man who was absolutely true to his trust, and who could be goten rid of in no other way. STATE PRESS OPINION

What Evergreen State Editors Are Talking About-Different Views Expressed on Current Topics.

The Seattle Times is for Senator Turfor lieutenant governor. No thank you, no mixed drinks in ours .- Davenport

The republicans have discovered that there is an unsavory odor to the Coon which they treed in the lieutenant governor timber at Tacoma, and they want to substitute for him something more palatable.-Davenport Tribune.

It is said the "Boxers" will have a state organization and that J. H. Price, formerly of this city, is one of the leading spirits. The main object of the movement is the defeat of Mr. Mead republican candidate for governor.-Olympia Capital.

And now the democrats are considerng who can put to rest the present state enator from Kittitas county. Among others proposed, all of whom are good men, are E. E. Wager, of Ellensburg; W. Sides, of Cle Elum, and Mayor Matt Flynn of Ellensburg.—Cle Elum Echo.

The Chelan Leader says that Mr. Mead met with a very "chilly reception" while on his "stll hunt" trip there last week. If Mr. Mead's party had treated ts people right he need not be skulking around the country trying to appease the wrath of an outraged constituency. It is only the evil doer that dreads investigation.-Waterville Press.

Isn't it a little strange that whenever the republicans want a shrewd party manager they select him from the lemocratic ranks? George Stevenson ran the party two successive campaigns and landed Ankeny in the U. S. senate, by leverage of his "bar'l"; now J. D. Farrell has stepped in and declared all that was done by the state convention was to suit himself and his masters. Selah.-Olympia Standard.

Now that the lobby has demonstrated its complete control of the republican party, and has dictated the candidates and platform of that party, the democrats can use the words of Gov. McBride: "But I do not regard the decision of the lobby as conslusive or final; and I appeal from its decision to the heart and the conscience and the intelligence and the honor and the manhood of the people of this great state.-Colfax Com-

With Mark Hanna and Matt Quay dotage the republican party this year will lack the astute leadership that it has had for many years. Cortelyou as chairman o fthe national committee will be only a figurehead for Roosevelt, the real chairman, and it is doubtul whether the president will stoop to the political methods that have long characterized the management of republican campaigns by unscrupulous bosses. -Walla Walla Statesman.

Your Home Paper.

Someone has well said that your home paper never loses interest in you. This possibly you have never given a passing thought. No matter whether you like the newspaper man or he likes you, if he is true to his profession and publishes a paper for the people, he allows no personal matter or petty spites to interfere with his work of news-gathering. He may meet you as a stranger, yet along with his best and dearest friends chronicle your successes and your sorrows wherever you may be. Those who would forget you but for your home paper, are ever and anon reminded of your existence by some item in the village paper where you spent your boyhood days. Others may deceive and defraud you, but the home paper never forgets you. Possibly you do not always deserve it, but a newspaper on the right lines has no pets, and should it at any time say things that causes your fur to turn the wrong way, study a moment and see if it has not at various times said many nice things of which you failed to give it credit.-Milan (Ills.) Independent.

The Lobby Badly Scared. Chairman Palmer of the republican state committee is now trying to force Charles E. hope to check it by placing an eastern Washington man on the slate for lieutenant governor. To accomplish this they do not hesitate to attempt to ruin the reputation of one of their most faithful supporters. No doubt Coon is just as good as his detractors, and if they were not mad they would not imagine they could help their cause by ner for governor and Harold Preston such contemptible methods.-Walla Walla Statesman.

Washington Mineral Products.

According to data secured by F. A. Wing, in charge ot the government assay office at Seattle, the value of precious metals produced in Washington during 1903 was $862,443,76. Of this sum $466,364.38 was gold, $394,861.93 silver, $12,102.22 copper, and $9,115.23

Placer mines of the state produced $20,995.06 worth of gold and $323 worth of silver. Quartz mines yielded $326,-481.36 in gold and $202,390.88 in silver During the year 1902 the precious metal production from all sources was $1,321,-822.61, as against $862,443.76 during 1903, showing a net decrease of $459,378 .-85 during the year just past.

There was an increase of over 3,000 fine ounces of gold occasioned by the increased output of the mines in Ferry and Whatcom counties; however, this was more than offset by the decrease in the silver produced owing to the closing down or limited operations of the silver-lead mines, principally due to the low price of silver.

The bullion production of Washington deposited at the United Statos mints and assay offices during 1903 was distri buted as follows: Mints: Philadelphia, $9,201,98; San Francisco, $2,267 53. Assay offices: Seattle, $125,829.80; Helena, $36,069 09; Boise, $3,284.89 Total, $176,653.29. Of the remainder, $664,573 02 never reached either the mints or assay offices directly, but was shipped to custom smelters and refineries direct by the producers.

The counties contributing directly to the metallic wealth of the state were Asotin, Chelan, Ferry, King, Kitittas, Okanogan, Snohomish, Stevens and Whatcom. Of these, Ferry, Sno homish and Whatcom produced the most gold, and Ferry, Snohomish and Stevens nearly all of the silver .- West Coast Trade.

Meaning of World Power.

To be a world power we have warped the constitution. The constitution can go to ballyhack, but we must keep the Philippines.

To be a world power we have made the flag of the free a symbol of conquest. That, we are told, was unavoidable; we must keep the Philippines.

To be a world power we have forgotten the Declaration of Iudependence. Men over the river and Boss Platt in his are not born to be free, and unalienable rights are exploded myths. We could not both hold those beliefs and keep the Philippines, and we must keep the Philippines.

And now they tell us we must discard our ideals. We can't keep the our pines, and we must keep the Philip-

What is this precious possession that we must give up for it all that has made America great and glorious and godlike among nations? They say, truly no doubt, that a col-

The Horse Heaven Ditch Scheme

The Agri. had an interesting interview this week with a party in from the Horse Heaven country of eastern Klickitat in relation to the proposed Big Klickitat irrigation canal. He says that surveyors are now at work on the preliminary survey in that section. They will work on towards Goldendale, keeping high up on the Simcoe ridge, and expect to connect with the old survey of Engineer Smith, made some ten years ago. This Smith survey started at the Big Muddy well up towards the head of the Big Klickitat river, and was carefully surveyed for 15 or 20 miles, Engineer tenant governor on Farrell's ticket to Smith and party working at it for two summers. The panic of 1893 stopped work on the scheme. We are told that checking the revolt against railroad there will be ample capital to back the new canal. is what everyone hopes to have-some day. It is the most wonderful trip in the world. There are more than 3000 square miles of weird, marvelous, unimaginable things that can be seen nowhere else, therefore if one ever sees them one must go to the Park, in the heart of the magnificent Rockies with snow tipped peaks all around. If Old Faithful geyser, a Paint Pot, Mud Volcano, or Emerald Pool were to be found in Lincoln park, Chicago; Central park, New York; or Fairmount park, Philadelphia; the people would flock to see it or them by tens of thousands. For a very small sum, comparatively, all these and hundreds more of nature's unduplicated marvels can be seen between June 1 and September 30 of each year, and one will enjoy, to boot, the best coaching trip in the country.

The Northern Pacific folder on Yellowstone Park, just issued, is a new, right up to date, finely illustrated dessertation on this Yellowstone Park trip. It is not descriptive, but deals with the detailed, technical matters everyone needs to know about such a trip. It tells all about the hotels, the stage coaches, the roads, the cost of the tour; where the geysers, the waterfalls, the bears, the canyons are, and where the trout fishing is found. The Yakima Democrat is the only Waller. Democratic Journal in Central Washington.

North Yakima, Wash., June 18 1904.

The republican papers of this state thinking to delude the newer class of voters are charging that the Hon. George Turner is a railroad man. Without further comment on the duplicity exhibited by the supporters of the Farrell state ticket in making such an attack in the face of Judge Turner's long and consistent record in the matter of railway regulation, we produce herewith some cold facts which tend to explain to the new voters the exact attitude taken by Judge Turner on this important question waile a member of the constitutional convention which assembled at Olympia in the summer of 1889 and framed the organic law of the state of Washington. Everyone of these provisions in the state constitution was written into the state constitution by Judge Turner and championed by him on the floor of the convention against the vigorous protests of the railway lobby of that time as all the older residents of the state well know:

"I. Giving the legislature power to fix and regulate rates for the transportation of both freight and passenger rates on all railroad lines within the state. (Article 12, section 18).

"2. Giving to the legislature the power to create a railroad commission and to define its powers. (Article 12, section 18). Without this section it would be impossible to make a fight for a railroad commission now, because the legislature would have no power to create it

"3. Making it mandatory on the legislature to pass an anti-pass bill, and fix proper penalties for its violation. (Article 12, section 20).

"4. Forbidding the consolidation of competing lines of railroad within the state, (Article 12, section 16).

45. Forbidding discrimination rates, either as against individuals or against communities. (Article 12, section 15).

"6. Forbidding 'pooling,' whereby the earnings of any railroad company carrying any particular article of freight, should be shared with any company not carrying such articles. (Article 12, section 20.)"

The Democrat has a good deal of sympathy for the unhappy parents of Miss Pearl Harris, the unfortunate young woman of this community whose name has been on every one's tongue for the past week. The poor, grief stricken, half demented mother languishes in a Spokane jail with the serious charge of infanticide lodged against her, while the heart broken father is doing everything in his power to secure the release of the woman who has been his true and faithful helpmeet for many years.

All this trouble has come upon the father and mother because of the waywardness of their only daughter, whom they have both loved better than their own lives.

Yet, the parents themselves in this ease as in thousands of similar cases. furnished the conditions for their own undoing, though unconsciously, of course, Like most other doting parents they allowed their young daughter to much liberty with the usual result, except that the element of tragedy has been added.

It is to be hoped that this terrible lesson will not be lost on a host of other parents in this vicinity. The real, the ernment. Mead is evidently just the true part of every girl's education con- kind of man the railroad lobby wants sists in what she is taught at home. The mother, if she will, can as a rule, so train her daughter that she may feel Statesman. confident that her offspring will never bring disgrace upon herself and sorrow into the home.

The unfortunate family under consideration are entitled to smpathy and especially the crazed wife and mother. The man or woman who would rail at her are themselves lacking in the essential elements of decency. As the Prince of peace said: "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

This is not government by the people or their chosen representatives, it is dictatorship pure and simple. If such a policy is continued it will only be a question of time when the government of the United States is reduced to the same low level as that of imperial Rome or of the nations of Latin America today. It is a disgusting exhibition of one man power in a country that boasts of being more free than any other nation on

The democratic state central commitee met at Seattle, June 11, and issued a decree to the effect that the state nominating convention should assemble at Bellingham, Tuesday, August 2. The basis of representation will be one delegate for every 50 votes on an average cast for the three congressional nomi nees in 1902. "What shall we do to be saved?" was the question that the Farrell railroad candidates asked each other at the "love feast" held last week in Seattle.

It was a discouraged, forlorn lot of office seekers that gathered about that banquet board under the patronage of tasteful to the trusts since the "Cap-John L. The position sylvania have unanimously agreed upon of these politicians may be likened to the "trust buster" of the Roosevelt adcompany of men stranded on a derelic in mid ocean.

Surely the troubles of this unfortunate crowd are thickening. They see about them open and widespread revolt. But the matter that most directly concerned them was how best to get rid of one of their associates on the ticket, a man accused, not by democrats, mind you, but by members of his own party with an unmentionable crime

Albert E. Mead, the candidate of Boss Farrell for governor of this state, says that he does not believe that a governor should urge the passage of laws or veto any bills passed by the legislature. As the constitution of the state gives these powers to the governor, it would be only a putty man without a backbone who would fail to make use of them when he deemed it necessary in the interests of prudent, honest and economical govfor governor, but he is not the kind the people are looking for.-Walla Walla

The Spokesman-Review is doing splendid work, particularly in exposing the present grafting methods employed in the handling of the state's money. Banker Lord of Olympia, who has grown rich by lending out the state's money will find himself very much of an issue in the coming campaign.

Poor old man Coon is up a tree and won't come down on the demand of the party bosses. Apparently, the bosses are afraid to fire at their quarry for fear of spreading an unpleasant odor. They seem to have come to the conclusion that the only way to get at him is to chop down the tree.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

The Perdicaris Incident Not Closed -The Peculiar Dr. Mary Walker Who Still Persists in Masquerading in Men's Clothing,

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., June 11. This city is still the Mecca of ambitious partisans who seem not at all to be perturbed by its location between the red-hot canopy and the broiling asphaltum. While the White House holds the president it will continue to be the center of attraction. He has earnestly discussed several matters there this week with prominent members of his party, who are anxious about the bearing taey may have on the decisions of November.

The Perdicaris incident is far from being closed; it is giving the state department much anxiety; the "new diplomacy" has run against an ugly snag. The big navy is a fact; the ships are on the spot; but no troops are landed for reprisals; no marines are marching across any kind o fa "zone" to catch the bandit; no protection to American in terests have yet been afforded. The case is somewhat different from the uncivilized Filipinos; from the Boxers in (hina; from the powerless and poor people of Colombia. With these there was no hesitation; then hasty orders were given and executed, and explanations came afterwards. But now! The navy is no good; the affair must be settled along the "usual diplomatic channels." Wny? Because France and Spain and Italy are close at hand; because one or two strong nations claim a paramout interest in Morocco. Dollars to dimes and that Mr. Perdicaris dies in captivitl; that the Sultan is not called to account; that the navy will presently be holiday evhibition of itself.

When your correspondent knew Mr. Perdicaris in New York, and Trenton, N. J., he was a tall, well built gentleman, polite and easy in his manner; interesting in his conversation, hospita-He has lived all his life among books; in the study and practice of art; and in the company of all the choice spirits of America and Eupore. He has an almost universal acquaintance and an innummuch too important to be ignored by the administration, and if he is not safely returned to his family ,there are many who will insist upon knowing the reason wing. He is now an old man. and he has been torn from a home of luxury and refinement to be thrust into mountain hut; dragged hither and yon; possibly to be butchered by bandits. He is one of the kindest, most inoffensive of men and has done his best in Tangiers to keep the tradition of an American nation and people alive; o show the believers in the false pro-F. X. NAGLER phet that there is a civilized law-abidng people on the wetsern side of the At lantic. If ever a case called for vigorous and prompt action, this one does.

> Dr. Mary Walker has gone to St. Louis, whether as a spectator or an exhibit, deponent saith not. He is always making a grotesque spectacle of himself but visitors consider her a lusus naturae Museum. She wears the same dainty shoes, the same striped unmentionables, the same sack coat, and the same dapper ently, and her silk hat, really it ought do not know her try to get the Capitol police to arrest her when she persistclusive apartments off the senate ga!-

> Mary is the center of many contretemps. She has a claim which for years she has been trying to get through congress. One days, swinging her little cane, she made her way into the representatives hall a few minutes after that body had adjourned. Col. Baker of New York was tsill in his seat, writing a belated letter to his constituents. He filled the seat completely and with his fat hands he becomed to a page to bring him some more ink. Just then a strange vision sidled around and appeared in front of him. "This is Colonel Baker of New York, if I am not mistaken," said the little man and removed

What can I do for you?"

"That's it, Colonel, you can. You can. I have a small and very just claim here minute's silence he spoke again; "Say, See here! You ain't a man are you? You're a woman, ain't you?"

"Yes, Colonel, I am a woman-Dr. Mary Walker."

"Go 'way! Go 'way!" and he squirmed out of his seat and ejaculated "Gway! Go and dress yourself! Put on proper costume! Then you can come back.' Gway! 'Gway!" and he violently shooed her away with both his rotating arms. "Why Colonel, you mustn't treat me so. You mustn't drive me away."

"Gway! Gway! Gway! he exclaimed, and it was his entire stock of conversation-and with fluttering hands ne motioned her out of the door as if he would relieve the hall of her presence. "Now, Colonel, see here! I want

"Gway! Gway! Move out! Gway! Gway! Gway!" She did not blush, but he did and ne fired off the "Gways" with tremendous rapidity. In fact, perhaps for the first time in her life she was somewhat alarmed at the astonising demonstration, and she took her little silk hat from the desk and till protesting, softly tiptoed out of the chamber. About all the members of ongress know her now personally, for ner claim is on the calendar-for services as a nurse during the civil war. Dr. Walker is a selfmade man, but the tailor of his Majesty, Edward VIII, would fearlessly affirm that her pantaloons do not fit.

Mead is Not Sincere.

A. E. Mead, the railroad candidate for governor has written a letter to prominent republicans saying he would sign a railroad commission bill, but this declaration will not deceive many votera. They know very well that he must obey the bosses who secured his nomination, and they would never permit him to do such a thing. Two that the United States does nothing, years ago the republican platform contained a commission plank, yet the members of the state legislature who were the tools of the railroads ignored sent off elsewhere to make a summer the platform and defeated the bill. (Senator Baker of Goldendale was chairman of the senate railroad committee.) This year the platform is silent on the commission question. Is it probable that Mead will favor a commission when the platform he is ble, and highly intelligent and cultured. making his race on is silent on the question, while last year men of his ilk who were elected on a commission platform refused to favor it?

Mead has made a trip through some of the eastern counties and has learned erable host of friends. His capture is that he cannot be elected if he makes an anti-commission fight, hence he seeks to mislead the people by pretending to favor a commission, but the people have been deceived by the lobby politicans too often, and they are going to vote this year for the man about whose position there is no question .- Centerville Journal.

Brazen, Shameless Grafting.

C. J. Lord, president of the capital National bank of Olympia, is lending the funds of the state of Washington to rival banks, and charging them 2 per cent interest thereon. The 2 per cent goes not into the coffers of the state, but into Mr. Lord's private pocket. He has grown enormously Leave orders at Hotel Yakima rich by reason of his long continued control of state treasurers and his consequent monopoly of state money.

If George G. Mills, the Farrell nominee for state treasurer, is elected next in this city-herseif, I mean. She is fall, Lord's graft will be continued such a familar sight here that Washing- for four more years. J. D. Farrell tonians no longer turn to look at her, allowed Lord to name his nominee for state treasurer in return for Lord's delike thr three headed cat in the Medical livery of Thurston county against Governor McBride.

What a shameless spectacle it is! Here is a private citizen enriching cane that she has worn for years, appar- himself by the manipulation of public funds-by levying tribute upon other to be classed as hardware. Women who citizens, and charging his business rivals interest on money which belongs to the people. And the amazing ently makes her way into her sex's ex- feature of it all is that there is no concealment about it. Everybody knows it, and the railroad organs make no pretense of denying it.

At the Tacoma convention the state treasurership was peddled to Lord by Mr. Farrell with the same nonchalance which a dry goods clerk displays in selling a piece of calico. Lord simply sold the 15 delegates from Thurston county to the railroad lobby. The consideration was the privilege of handling state funds for four years more-the privilege of extorting blood money from other bankers who have, to say the least, equal rights with Lord to the use of state money.

It is a state's prison offense for a state treasurer to charge interest on public funds which he deposits in banks. But there is no punishment "The same, sir," said the representa- save the righteous indignation of a tive, "Sit down, sit down." It is surprising how the little place called Bluelight, between here and Bickleton is improving. Wilbur Carroll has established a general merchandise store and livery stable at that place, and Simons, Sanders & Wommack have opened a blacksmith and general repair shop. The school census for the city of Prosser, just finished by A. M. Camplow spent the past few days with their bell, gives a total of 172, which is a gain of 46 over last year. Of this number 89 are girls and 83 boys. It will be some time before the canvass of the outlying districts is completed. A house o house canvass is necessary and the dwellings are widely scattered. There should be a larger relative gain in the outside districts than immediately in Prosser, and there is no question but that the increase will be surprising as

S. H. Mason, who has been in Klickitat county, near Cleveland, for the past two weeks or so, reports the latest spring and poorest prospects for crops he ever saw, and he has known that vicinity for nearly twenty years. Some of the people have just finished their spring sowing of grain, and searcely any potatoes are yet planted. Crops that were sowed early and all fall wheat are excellent. While there is little doubt but a good crop will finally be raised in that section, it has never before been so late as this spring.—Record.

THE NEW WOMAN

She Speaks Her Mind

E had been a bad man. He had the forbidden things. He would have been sent to the penitentiary, but suddenly a good girl who knew him somewhat interested herself in him. It was so dreadfully romantic and womanly to be interested in a crimfnal and forger! By and by the good gir! said she would marry the bad man and criminal if he would promise never, never to do so again, and then the two would go and begin life anew. She would pour out the fine womanly devotion of a lifetime on him and make a good man of him. Did the criminal himself think she could accomplish the job of making a man of him? the judge asked the bad man himself. "I think I can be a good man again if I have Angelina by my side to inspire me and help me," replied the bad man. Then the judge, touched by the tender romance of the thing and the womanly devotion of the girl, suspended sentence on the bad man to give him a chance. Society forgave him and welcomed him and almost made a lion of him. Just so. Péople who have been bad and say they will try to be good should always have a chance even if some woman has to sacrifice herself in the effort to make them good, and the result is not always worth the effort either. But what I want to know is this: Suppose the bad man had been a bad woman, with no without avail; how he had fallen dead without avail; how he had fallen dead more reputation than that criminal had, would some good man have married her and given his life to the effort to make her good, and if he had done so would society have applauded him, taken the woman to its arms and made even more of her because she had passed through the fires and been dropped both him and her like a hot potato, all except the new woman, that dream was being pitifully enacted."is. The new woman would have really given the ex-bad woman a chance and would have received her as an equal if she bore the test. That is one differ-

Recently a manufacturing firm offered a series of prizes for the best photographs of outdoor scenery and some form of bicycling. There were two classes, one for women and the other for men, and one of the judges was a lady, Miss Edith J. The woman's first prize was won by Mrs. Nellie E. Cross of Concord, N. H., and in point of picturesque scenery her photograph surpassed all the rest, even that which won first prize in the men's

LAURA KEENE'S DREAM.

A Vision In Slumber That Was Turned Into a Reality.

Stuart Robson used to tell a strange story of Laura Keene, with whom he played in the sixties in the last centu-"The sight of a bottle of red ink was enough to upset her for a week." stolen. He had done most of he said. "On one occasion we were playing a farce called 'The Lady and the Devil.' An important scene of it was when she was sitting at a table preparatory to writing a letter. I, as her servant, stood at the back of a chair. Take your right hand off that chair,' she whispered. The stage dialogue proceeded. You are sure you can find Don Rafael at his lodgings? 'Yes, madam; his servant tells me his wounds will confine him to his bed for a week.' 'Is this the only paper that we have? Where is the ink? 'Here, madam.' And I bent forward to place the ink within her reach, when, in my confusion at her reproof, the vessel was upset and its contents trickled on to the lap of her satin dress. The ink was blood red. I shall never forget the ghastly look that overspread her face, and I was so frightened that I never knew how the scene ended.

The next morning at rehearsal she told me I was doomed to ill luck for the remainder of my days. She called the company together and gave them a detailed description of the 'awful scene' the night before occasioned by the young man who would never make an actor. She told of a terrible dream she had had in which some great person had been foully murdered before her eyes; how she had attempted rescue at her feet, and how his blood slowly oozed into her lap. It was two years after this that Miss Keene was playing at Ford's theater, Washington, on the occasion when Abraham Lincoln was shot. Miss Keene was the only person who seemed to realize the situation. She ran to the box, and in a scorched? Exhausted Brain Cells.

Nerve specialists say that a great many suicides are the direct results of exhausted brain cells. When you find yourself becoming morose and despondent, when you are conscious that the zest of life is evaporating, that you are losing the edge of your former keen interest in things generally and that your life is becoming a bore, you may be pretty sure that you need more sleep; that you need country or outdoor exercise. If you get these, you will find that all the old enthusiasm will return. A few days of exercise in the country rambling over the hills and meadows will erase the dark pictures which haunt you and will restore buoy ancy to your animal spirits.-Success
