Tampico, W.N.
July 8/85

Dear Waters

The records of the Yakima Valley Historical Society would not be complete without a brief sketch of the A. D. Eglin family - We hope to have a short sketch of every early pioneer of the Valley - We thank you for the publicity given to our "Historical Society"

Whenever the name "Tampico" is mentioned in the presence of pioneers - at once their minds recall that grand old pioneer familiarily known as "Uncle A. D. Eglin".
A. D. Eglin was born in Woodstock Canada of American parentage in 1834 - When only a mere youth he crossed the plains by ox team in 1854 - Danger lurked in every turn of the road - Hostile Indians ever ready to use the scalping knife and the tomahawk beset them and several of the party were tortured & slain.
Marauding parties would steal their horses and their cattle - long wearisome days and sleepless nights wore heavily on the physical strength of the driftners.
He settled in Western Oregon & in James Eglen married ^{Miss} Nellie Elmer and they live in Portland

Frank Eglen married ^{Miss} Lulu Harlow and lives on part of the homestead where he was born

The last four boys were born on the Tampico farm

Mr & Mrs Eglen came to the Tampico Valley in 1871 and lived there nearly 40 years

Mr Eglen was a very successful farmer and especially did he excel in the production of hops -

He was a real sportsman and was the owner of some very fast animals -

Mother Eglen as we affectionately called her is deserving of a name high on the rolls of pioneer women

No night was too dark no storm was too severe to keep her from visiting and caring for her loved ones and her neighbors

"Their seed shall remain forever and their glory shall not be blotted out; Their bodies are buried in peace, but their names live for evermore."
