Regular Meeting of the City Council Tuesday Evening.

Owing to the fact that Monday was a legal holiday, the regular meeting of the city council was postponed till Tuesday evening, when there were present Mayor Fechter and Councilmen Liggett, Shaw, Wyman, Keck and Aikens. Clerk Doust read the minutes of the preceding meeting, which were duly approved.

The petition of Bert Fletcher for a saloon license on lot 22, block 11, South Front street, was laid before the council. By vote the petition was granted on condition that all the requirements be complied with. The petition of O. Sanberg for a saloon license on lot 20, block 11, was likewise granted.

The monthly report of City Marshal Grant stated that 37 arrests had been made during August, that 22 prostitutes had paid fines, and that 126 meals had been served prisoners.

The report of Police Judge Nichols showed that 15 trials had been held and a total of $170 collected in fines. Report of City Sexton Caivosso showed 19 burials for the month and $40 collected.

In the matter of the petition of the Ontario Land company, praying for the vacation by the city of portions of Pasco and West Walnut streets in Capitol addition the same on motion of Shaw was granted on condition that petitioners open up and grade a public roadway on the west line of said addition as agreed to in said petition.

On motion of Shaw, C. M. Gilman was elected by the council to position of plumbing inspector.

On motion of Liggett, Health Officer Frank was authorized to enforce the ordinance compelling property owners to make sewer connections after legal notice had been duly served. At the suggestion of Marshal Grant the council ordered a new street lamp to be installed at the corner of A and Chestnut streets, also that several incandescent lamps be placed in the alleys to the north and south of Yakima avenue.

The bid of D. T. Daniel of $814 for the construction of 780 feet of sewer, 8 inch pipe, on Selah street between A and West Yakima avenue was accepted.

The mayor read a communication from Mrs. Elsie Ferrill St. John of Everett, protesting against what was alleged to be the extortionate charges of the city sexton for keeping cemetery lots in repair. Referred to cemetery committee. The usual grist of monthly bills having been O. K'd by the finance committee were ordered paid after which no further business appearing the council adjourned.

What White Bluffs Needs.

C. L. McGlothlen of the White Bluffs settlement on the Columbia river, was in town this week after supplies. Mr. McGlothlen says that the greatest present need of that community is better mail facilities. If nothing better even than a weekly mail service was given them by the department, he says, the people over there would feel satisfied for the present at least.

Work will be resumed again in a few days by Mr. Deeringhoff and his crew on the Waring artesian well. The hole was down about 400 feet when work was stopped a few months ago for the summer. Mr. Waring, who is a wealthy real estate broker of Seattle, has assured the White Bluffs people that if a flow of artesian water can be secured he will do much development work in that neighborhood and will put a boat on the Columbia to ply between the Bluffs and Kennewick.

There are 13 families—representing nearly 50 people—in the settlement and they all want better connection with the outside world. The people over there are also anxious to interest Prof. Newell of the geological survey in the great possibilities for governmental irrigation in the Columbia valley.

Police Jottings.

In Judge Taggard's court last Saturday William Brooks was fined $50 and trimmings for using abusive language to one Mamie Parker, sentence being suspended in order to give the defendant an opportunity to leave the city.

On Monday William Lewis was fined $99 and costs on each of two cases of assault, one against Lucy Williams and the other against Frankie Brown. The parties in the last two cases were off color in two ways.

In the case of state vs. Mrs. F. M. Williams, for forcible entry into a house owned by defendant and occupied by Miss Flora Kampeter and her two brothers, defendant was fined $5 and costs by Justice Taggard on Monday. The case was hotly contested, the two contending attorneys, Messrs. Thompson and Krutz, reaching high altitudes in oratory in the discussion of the alleged grievances of their respective clients.

Democratic Primaries Today.

Democratic primaries will be held in the various precincts throughout Yakima county today to select delegates to the county nominating convention which will convene at the court house in this city at 10 a. m. next Saturday, Sept. 13. The hour set by the central committee for the meeting of the primaries in the country precincts is 2:30 unless otherwise designated by the precinct committeeman. In the three wards of this city the time of meeting has been fixed at 7:30 p. m.

In the first ward the primaries will be held at the armory, in the second ward at the court house, and in the third ward at the city hall.

Democratic Primaries.

The democratic primaries called to be held in this city tonight at 7:30 o'clock p. m., will be held in the various wards as follows: First ward, at the armory; second ward, at the court house; third ward, at the city hall.

To Plat Stone Tract.

It is reported that a deal has been closed for the purchase of the Stone tract between the Eastern and Beck additions. This means a great deal to property owners in the north-eastern part of the city who have long regarded this unplatted land as an eyesore and deterrent to material development in that section.

The land will be platted, streets and alleys laid off to conform to the city plat, and sold at auction prices as will insure its rapid settlement. This piece of land is in the limits of the proposed addition to the city, an election having been called for Sept. 29 to vote upon the annexation.

Local Postoffice Changes.

Capt. Will Lemon now signs P. M. after his name on all official government paper, having taken possession of the local postoffice Monday, with George S. Hough as assistant postmaster. Fred Chandler, the retiring assistant will remain in the office during this month, or until the new officials have become familiarized with the regular routine.

Mrs. Sperry will remain in this city, having concluded not to go to Prosser to reside, as contemplated some time ago.

W. W. Doty, who has been an extra in the office for some time, now goes on the third city route as carrier.

Horse and Saddles Stolen.

Anson Elliott, the well known farmer and produce shipper of the Moxee, mourns the loss of a good horse, two saddles and a pair of "chaps" from his premises Tuesday night. The horse was taken from the feed lot, while the other things were stolen from the stable. Mr. Elliott feels satisfied that the thief is an Indian, as he discovered fresh moccasin tracks about the barn the next morning. The sheriff's office was promptly notified, and has communicated a description of the stolen property to all the nearby towns.

Morgan's Dog.

J. Pierpont Morgan, Chas. M. Schwab and several friends were at Mr. Morgan's kennels looking over some of the prize hunting dogs recently, before the first named gentleman sailed for Europe. Mr. Schwab fell in love with a fine-looking pointer, and asked Morgan the dog's name.

"That dog's name is Russell Sage," said Mr. Morgan.

"And why do you call him Russell Sage?" was the query.

"Because," replied the great financier, "he never loses a scent."

Schanno Stops Off.

Alfred Schanno, a native Yakima boy, who has been for some years employed by the N. P. railway company and is now an engineer on the road between Ellensburg and Pasco, took a day off 1st Wednesday to visit his friends and relatives here. While going through on the road almost every day, Mr. Schanno hasn't taken in the town for a year, and he says that he really thought he had been put off at the wrong station.

No Casult.

When W. T. Scott, the republican nominee for the office of prosecuting attorney, was conducting a canvass for votes, he asked a woman of his acquaintance if she would use her influence to obtain for him her husband's vote.

"Sure I will," exclaimed the woman at once; "aren't you grateful to you since you got my husband off for stealing a gun?"

"Not for stealing a gun," corrected Mr. Scott, "but for the alleged stealing of a gun."

"Alleged nothing," said the woman. "Come up stairs and I'll show you the gun."—Ex.

EACH WINS HIS SUIT.

Attorney Fred Miller, formerly of this City, and His Law Partner, Win Suits in Cupid's Court.

Col. Fred Miller, formerly of North Yakima, but now a highly successful practicing attorney of Spokane, is soon to be married according to the society reporter of the Spokane Chronicle, who perpetrates the following upon the colonel and his law partner, Mr. Rosenhaupt:

One Monday morning in June Harry Rosenhaupt invited his partner, Colonel Fred Miller, into his private office and bashfully announced that he had become engaged. To the interrogatory from his partner as to when it occurred he made answer, "On Saturday evening." "That's nothing," Mr. Miller retorted, "I can out-spot you a week."

It's true. Fred Miller of Spokane and Miss Gertrude Evelyn Wright, formerly of St. Paul, are to be married on October 15. Harry Rosenhaupt of Spokane and Miss Estelle Mayer of Chicago are to be married September 17.

Miss Gertrude Evelyn Wright was formerly of St. Paul, having been in Spokane only about six months. She is a cousin of Mrs. Harry Cox of E12 Hill avenue. The wedding of Miss Wright and Mr. Miller is to take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cox October 15. They will go east on their wedding trip, returning to Spokane about the middle of November, when they will be at home to their friends at 2004 College avenue.

Mr. Miller has been in Spokane about three years. With Colonel F. C. Robertson he formed the firm of Robertson & Miller, which later became Robertson, Miller & Rosenhaupt. He was appointed a colonel on Gov. John R. Rogers' staff in 1898, and is a member of the governor's staff at present.

Both Mr. Miller and Mr. Rosenhaupt are well known socially in Spokane, and have a large circle of friends. It is only natural that they regard these suits they have just won as the most important of any in which they have been successful.

A. B. PEARSON,

Miller Block. 'Phone 971 North Yakima.

THE YAKIMA DEMOCRAT,
JOHN DAVID MEDILL,
Editor and Publisher.
Entered at the North Yakima Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.
One Dollar Per Year—In Advance.
Published every Saturday morning at the Democrat Printing House on First Street, North Yakima, Washington.
OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

EDITOR GUILD of the Prosser Bulletin takes to Yakima politics as a duck takes to water. Notwithstanding the fact that this gentleman, who is the latest addition to the rank of Yakima's newspaper colonels, has hardly been among us long enough to have worn out a pair of shoes, as the distinguished Col. Boyle would say; yet he appears to be a person of consequence, and one to be reckoned with.

Col. Guild publishes a paper at Prosser—a very bright paper, too, by the way. When the journalistic infant was born into this world of trouble, the first thing it cried for, naturally enough, was county division. That, however, was to be expected. But very recently a change has come over the spirit of the editor's dreams; so recently, in fact, that it must have come upon him since the county convention met, in which he sat a disappointed delegate. He did not get what he and his fellow-delegates had hoped to secure, but the colonel, we understand, was royally treated. Unlike his socialistic neighbors, he was not put off with a diet of watermelon, but received something more substantial, and was sent home in a delirium of joy, with promises sufficient to feed his optimistic, generous soul throughout the campaign.

It is well. The colonel, on returning to his Prosser sanctum, made haste to assure the good people of that favored section that there should be no hurry about this matter of carving out a new county; and that the people of North Yakima can be trusted to start the wheels of government to going, all in their own good time. That the division sentiment is inspired by Senator Turner and the democrats, who desire to politically profit by the agitation.

The brother must either be in a very hard row of stumps in the effort to square himself with his constituents or else he is habitually careless with facts. At any rate, he is not logical. If his own party has placed the gentleman from Oregon in a hole, so to speak, it is not the part of fairness to lay the blame at the door of his political adversaries.

On the face of the returns it would seem that Governor McBride will control the republican state convention, and put that body, which meets at Tacoma next week, on record in favor of an appointive railway commission.

Still, it is very doubtful if the governor succeeds. While it may be true that a majority of the delegates have been instructed to support him, it is very possible that a majority will not do so. The railroad influence, which heretofore has been all-powerful in the republican councils in this state, is now quietly at work to undo the efforts of the governor and his friends, and it is likely to succeed. When the governor gets his delegates together he will probably find them as hard to control as a bunch of Texas steers.

It is more than likely that a compromise will be effected on the basis of an elective commission, and the governor, perforce, will have to be satisfied with that. The creative mind of Hon. W. L. Jones is responsible for springing the elective plan, and it offers a happy way of solving the problem. At the very least, it defers action for two years, as has been pointed out by Senator Turner, and a great deal may happen in two years.

Whether the republican state convention declares for or against the appointive plan, is really a matter of little consequence, for if they do the people will understand that it will still be necessary to elect a democratic majority in the legislature in order that the recommendation may be carried out.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, going about the country making political talks and explaining his personal views on public questions, is a spectacle not calculated to create respect for the presidential office. To say the least, he is violating the ethics, as well as all precedents.

Mr. Roosevelt without question is a most remarkable man, and a great many of his political opponents sincerely admire some things about him. But he is entirely too strenuous, too self-assertive and too much given to the spectacular. Besides he seems to be lacking in discretion. If he is really planning a campaign against the trusts, as he asserts, it would seem as though from his point of vantage there was a better way to go about it than by junketing about the country on a special train and denouncing trusts from the rear platform. It looks like hunting ducks with a brass band.

Not long ago the president warned a number of federal officeholders in Illinois against neglecting their official duties to meddle in politics. The American people may find it necessary to serve just such notice upon Teddy before he completes his term.

MONDAY, Sept. 1, was Labor Day, and was observed as a legal holiday in 41 out of the 45 states of the Union.

"The busy season" is now on in Yakima with the advent of hop-picking. The hop-growers proceed to harvest their crop with more interest than usual, owing to the splendid price their product commands this year.

The prohibitionists, as well as the socialists, announce their intention of putting a county ticket in the field this fall. There is, of course, no law against our fellow-citizens thus wasting their voting strength, if they want to.

The Republic is endeavoring to heal some of the sore places by a liberal application of soft soap. The editor, however, in his assumed capacity of physician, is so clumsy that the public is constrained to laugh at his expense.

The city council has appointed a plumb inspector, whose duty it will be to strictly enforce the plumbing and sewer ordinances. Property owners in the city should co-operate with the authorities, for upon the enforcement of this ordinance largely depends the sanitary condition of the city.

The city council new offers a standing reward of $50 for the conviction of any person turning in a false fire alarm. It is to be hoped that the next smart Alec who turns in a false alarm, in order to see how quick the fire department will respond, will be caught at it and made to suffer the consequences.

Until some convincing proof is forthcoming the DEMOCRAT will refuse to believe the stories circulated to the effect that this city's water supply is contaminated. The Natchez river is a swift flowing mountain stream, and if its waters are impure, it would seem like a very difficult matter to procure good water in this vicinity.

The Levites appear to be in high feather just now over their recent victories in the nomination of candidates for the legislature. The Ankeny men appear to have won out lately, not only in Yakima county, but in Whitman, Okanogan, Stevens, Ferry, Franklin and Whatcom. The Ankeny barrel seems to be unusually potent this year.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT had a narrow escape from death near Lenox, Mass., Wednesday, by reason of the carriage in which he was riding being run down by an electric car. The president received some severe bruises, as did other members of the party, while William Craig, a detective, was killed. This ghastly incident ought to convince the president of the folly of his present course. As the head of the nation, he owes it to the people to take better care of himself and not expose his person needlessly to the risks of travel or the bullet of some crazy assassin.

The Republic says that it does not matter whether the editor of this paper be suited with the republican ticket or not, as the directions say that the dose must be taken. Yes, that's the Republic's idea, and the idea of all the local party bosses. They assume that the people of the county must swallow the emetic, whether they like it or not. But we seriously doubt that a majority will consent to do it. It is easier to nominate a ticket than it is to elect it, as the Republic is apt to discover ere the idea of November.

In the nomination of a county ticket the democratic convention should aim to recognize as far as possible all sections of the county.

The republican party unwisely placed in nomination a ticket the material for which was taken almost entirely from a crowd of office seekers in this city, and naturally enough the country districts resent such work. The town of North Yakima represents probably less than one fourth of the population of the county and ought to be satisfied with something like that proportion of the offices. The republicans in choosing their candidates seemed to act upon the assumption that candidates cannot be found in the country who are competent to fill county positions.

UNDER the circumstances, the refusal of the republicans to nominate J. W. Sindall to the office of sheriff was very unjust. Mr. Sindall has been the chief deputy in the office for nearly four years, and no one can truthfully assert that he has not made a most conscientious and efficient officer. Since all the other deputies in the courthouse who desired a nomination, received it, what excuse can be given for turning down Sindall? He was certainly at least as much entitled to the honor as were any of the others of the courthouse crowd.

The only reason we have heard advanced for Sindall's defeat is the alleged fact that the legislative combine found it necessary to placate the Hon. Abram Lincoln Dilley. Dilley, being a strong supporter of Wilson and a hard worker at the primaries, was likely to seriously interfere with the plans of the combine, which is believed to favor the senatorial aspirations of Levi Ankeny. It was thus deemed good politics to nominate Dilley, even though such action meant rank injustice to Deputy Sindall, whose nomination we believe, would have been more satisfactory to the citizens of this county generally.

STATE PRESS OPINION

The Advance publishers attended the republican county convention at Chelan on Thursday, and acknowledge frankly that it was without precedent in many respects. Delegates voted against life-long friends, revengefulness was rampant, and the whole affair finally degenerated into a farce. The political boss and heeler was more than in evidence and it was quite plain that the policy of rule or ruin governed a large number of those in attendance. To be perfectly frank there was little in the convention to commend itself, and we are very much afraid that corrupting influences have been at work. Changes have been wrought in men that we did not deem possible. Time and space prevent more extended remarks, but it is just as well that little should be said at this time—we are disgusted.—Wenatchee Advance. (Republican.)

HANNA WILL BE A CANDIDATE—A Washington dispatch of a late date says that Hanna's friends admit that from his time on he may be regarded as a candidate for the republican nomination for president in 1904. It is now admitted that he has been secretly whetting his knife on all opportunities for taking Teddy's scalp, and that his denials have only been influenced by a fear of premature occupation of the field. Lines are rapidly closing for a contest between himself and the president. The late announcement of Platt that New England is solid for Roosevelt has hastened somewhat the closing of the issue.—Olympia Standard.

The president has begun his "swing around the circle," with the example and its blighting consequences of Andy Johnson's exploit in that line still fresh in the memory. But then President Johnson did not possess Teddy's "strenuousness" to buy him up amid the sea of perplexities he encountered when he started out as a schoolmaster to the American people. By the way, how does Mr. Roosevelt square himself with the order to his appointees to avoid "pernicious activity" in party affairs.—Olympia Standard.

We knew it would come. A Chicago publisher is out with a book about the life and exploits of Harry Tracy.—Lind Leader.

Perhaps "Tom" Johnson considers the mayoralty of Cleveland in 1902 as good a stepping stone to a presidential nomination as Cleveland's mayoralty of Buffalo was in 1882. But to make the parallel good, Mayor Johnson would have to be elected democratic governor of Ohio this fall by about 192,000 plurality that won't happen.—Tacoma News.

It is amusing to hear some of the republicans talking of the dictation of Governor McBride in this county, as if were something new. The fact is that he is allowing them more liberty this year than they have enjoyed for the past decade. This year he is only dictating the legislative nominees, and is allowing the chosen ones of the herd to select the remainder of the ticket. In the past he has named the whole ticket.—Mt. Verden Argus.

James L. Courtwright, the well known young stockman of Yakima City, was married Thursday evening to Miss Nellie Adams, a charming and popular young lady of that place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Crockett, for merly of this city, but now of Olympia. The DEMOCRAT extends congratulations to the happy couple.

McCarthy's Mishap, Sept. 11.

"McCarthy's Mishaps" is a red-hot Irish comedy of the right kind. There is real humor in every situation. Barney Ferguson, who stands at the head of the list of Irish comedians, as the luckless McCarthy is extremely funny in the various mishaps to which he falls heir. The cast is strong throughout, introducing some of the greatest comedian and acrobats of modern days. This great production will be given at Larson's theater Sept. 11.

The Hop Outlook.

Hop-picking in the Yakima valley began this week; a number of growers having commenced harvesting Monday. In most of the years, however, work will not be started until next Monday. Apparently, there will be no dearth of pickers, as was anticipated two weeks ago, most growers reporting that they have engaged their crews. There will be fewer pickers from the Sound than formerly, but the deficiency is made up by a larger home supply. As far as the DEMOCRAT can learn, no grower is paying more than $1 per box for picking. The price offered for hops still ranges about the 25c. mark.

School Begins Sept. 22.

The fall term of the city schools, it is announced, will open Sept. 22. The school board and Supt. Jolly have so classified the grades in the different schools that it will unnecessary hereafter for children to cross the track, except perhaps in the 8th grade. In both the Central and Lincoln Schools the full eight grades will be taught, and the first seven in the Columbia.

Prof. Luther Scroggs, late of the government Indian school service of Alaska, has been engaged as principal of the Columbia school, to fill the place to which Prof. Plumb was elected, but resigned last week. Mrs. Scroggs will probably be engaged to fill one of the two vacant places in the corps of teachers.

Socialist Convention Today.

The mass convention of the socialists of Yakima county is scheduled to meet today at the court house, the announced purpose of the meeting being the nomination of a county ticket.

As the socialist party of this county has heretofore never had a party ticket in the field, the size of its vote is largely a matter of conjecture. Some enthusiastic believers in the Bellamy idea place the voting strength as high as 400, though a number of local socialists think this estimate too high.

The party strength centers largely in the precincts of Zillah, Sunnyside, Mabon and Prosser. The convention today will be watched with much interest by local politicians.

Troubles on the Reservation.

Indian Agent Jay Lynch on Wednesday night, reinforced by two Indian police and Sheriff Tucker, brought to the county jail four blanket swashes, who with several others were implicated in brutally beating an Indian policeman named Jacob at Toppenish.

Mr. Lynch says that for a long time the reservation officials have been greatly bothered by whisky peddlers along the railroad, and Jacob went to an Indian ranch where a regular whisky "dance" was being held to arrest the "bootleggers." There were seven or eight bucks on a "high lonesome" at the place, and, having secreted the offenders, they attacked the officer with clubs and axes, inflicting injuries from which it is thought he will not recover.

The defendants were before Commissioner Howlett yesterday, and stand committed to the U. S. court for trial—whether the charge will be murder or assault to kill developments will determine.

Mr. Lynch says that unless licenses for those saloons contiguous to the reservation are revoked by the county commissioners, he will hereafter allow the county to pay the cost of prosecution in similar cases.

21 Years a Dyspeptic.

R. H. Foster, 319 S. 2d St., Salt Lake City, writes: "I have been bothered by dyspepsia or indigestion for 21 years; tried many doctors without relief; recently I got a bottle of Herbine. One bottle cured me. I am now tapering off on the second. I have recommended it to my friends; it is curing them, too." 50c. at Fred L. Janek's.

PRESENTS FOR HIS WIFE.

The Worm's Story of How He Final-ly Came to Turn.

"Hello, old man! What have you in all those bundles?" asked a gay, airy young bachelor of a careworn, solemn looking young man as they met in a suburban railway train.

"Presents for my wife," was the sentimental reply. "It's her birthday."

"Well, what are you bringing your wife in that package from your tailor's?" gayly pursued the bachelor.

"Trousers," was the answer.

"What?"

"Yes, I repeat—trousers. Just you listen. On my birthday my wife got me three or four beautiful lace handkerchiefs, such as women carry at afternoon teas and such places, and a black velvet hat with high feathers, one of the three story kind that obstruct your view of the stage in the theater. They looked mighty well on her, and she asked me if I wasn't having a nice birthday."

"Well, I didn't mind that very much, but when Christmas came I got another deal of the same sort. I gave my wife a pretty gold ring. She gave me a turquoise ring too small to go over any of my knuckles, and she wears it now next to the one I gave her. But that wasn't the worst of it. She got her sister to give me some after dinner coffee cups and my sister to make me a lot of lace doilies. That was all I got for Christmas."

"Tomorrow is my wife's birthday. In this package I am bringing her a pair of trousers which I had made to my measure and which I shall wear. In this parcel is a pair of the very best patent shoes, size 8½, a good deal too big for my wife; in this package is a box of cigars, and in my pockets I have a new meerschaum pipe and a packet of tobacco. Now, I don't see how she can fail to have a happy birthday. Do you? I hope she'll enjoy it, for I want to get even for all the pretty things she has given me."—London Tit-Bits.

Hop Warehouse Burned.
The hop warehouse and contents on the ranch of Geo. Bosdet, six miles west of town in Wide Hollow, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday night or rather early Sunday morning. The warehouse was 18x30 feet in dimensions and three stories high and contained a hop press and all the accessories for baling.

It seems to be a mystery how the fire got started, although the supposition is that some of the men employed about the place dropped a lighted match on the hop cloth during the evening, and that the fire started in this way and smoldered several hours without being discovered. The loss is a total one, the property destroyed being valued at $600, covered by $400 of insurance. A new warehouse is being constructed this week on the ruins of the old one.

The Chinaman's Dress.

Those who understand the subject have to admit that when it comes to the question of rational dress the Chinaman has very much the best of it. American clothes are not made for the performance of much stooping or domestic gymnastics, but the Chinaman, in his loose, easy fitting clothes, is as free to stoop, jump, run or turn hand springs as a small boy in bathing. In a Chinese suit of clothes you can lie down and sleep with the same amount of comfort that you can stand up and walk.

During the nineteenth century 235 new comets were discovered as against 2 in the eighteenth century. The nineteenth century also beheld a greater number of large and brilliant comets than did its predecessor. The finest of these were the comets of 1811, 1843, 1858, 1881 and 1882. In the year 1800 only one periodical comet was known, Halley's. Now many are known, of which at least 17 have been seen at more than one return to perihelion.

A TWO NICKER.

The Old Printer Explains What He Meant by the Expression.

"I was just stepping off the street car," remarked the old printer, who was telling a story, "when I met a two nicker face to face."

"You met a what?"

"A two nicker. And, as I was saying, she."

"But what in the world is a two nicker?"

"Oh, you know what that is, don't you?"

"No, I don't. Never met one in my life."

"Well, a two nicker is a lady, a woman, anything that wears petticoats."

"I never heard the expression before. Where does it come from?"

"Now you're too hard for me. I don't know where it started, but in the good old times of case type and hand presses it was the common expression used to designate a woman in a print-shop. It wasn't used outside of the composing rooms. I'll tell you how I think it arose. All the old hand type, as everybody knows, is provided with nicks on the side, so that the typesetters don't have to look at the face of the type to know how to throw it in the 'stick.' Far back in prehistoric days the type had only one nick, but later two nicks became the style, and 80 years ago two nicks was the usual thing. But there came improvements in typesetting, and it was discovered that three or four nicks on the side of the type made it easier for the printer to handle, and so the three or four nicker type came into style and the two nicker type went into disuse and had no more. Printers despised the two nicker type. About that time women got a foothold in the printing office. They were not regarded with favor by the old time printers. The women and the two nicker type were in about the same category in the esteem of the old type, and it was very natural that he should come to express both by the same words. They both became 'two nickers,' and the expression has become traditional in printshops."—Memphis Scimitar.

THE LIGHTHOUSE.

When boats come home across the bay
And winter's sunlight dies afar,
When green and purple dusk creeps down
And hides the harbor and the town,
Each night far out to sea a beam
Of pale, wan light sends forth its gleam
Across the peaceful, darkening tide
And marks the lighthouse where she rides.

When, tempest tossed, the ships slip by
And hid behind the sea and sky
In torn with wreck of scudding cloud,
And winds of winter cry aloud,
Lo, through the roar of crashing wave,
Above the tempest's moan and rave,
A voice comes o'er the troubled tide
And marks where yet the lightship rides!

A DEAL IN WHISKY.

The Profits Were Not So Large as the Buyers Expected.

"There are tricks in the whisky business as well as in others," said the drummer for a large compounding house, "and I remember once how the firm I was with got stuck. One day a man drove up in a one horse wagon carrying one barrel of whisky, which he wanted to sell. He told us some kind of a story about an old uncle dying and leaving it to him; but, as he couldn't afford to use as good liquor as it was, he had concluded to sell it."

"We took the barrel into the house, and, prying out the bung, we slipped in the siphon and drew off a glass of it to sample. And it was fine. The barrel showed age, and the liquor tasted it. It was worth $10 a gallon if it was worth a cent, but we didn't give the man any such pointers. We knew by the weight that there were at least 40 gallons of it, and we made him an offer of $150 for the barrel. He higgled awhile, but took the money at last and drove away."

"In the course of a couple of weeks we concluded to put that whisky in bottles and sell it as case goods, so we set the siphon to work at the bung and began to draw it off. After the fourth bottle had been drawn the siphon refused to work, and we examined it to find what was wrong. We could not get at it that way, and, as the contents seemed to be all right, we set the barrel on end and bored another hole in it. Then the siphon worked, but the liquor was much paler, and one of the men tasted it. By George, it wasn't whisky at all! It was only water, colored somewhat from the charred inside of the barrel."

"That scared us, and we smashed the head in to see what was inside, and we saw in a minute. The wily cuss had filled a can with fine old whisky to the bung where we made the examination before purchasing, and when that had been emptied the whole story had been told. He had probably paid $8 for the gallon to fill the can, and we sold it for $2.50 a bottle, but we didn't get a blamed cent for the 39 gallons, more or less, of water that filled the rest of the barrel."—Washington Star.

The Tamahac or Tomahawk.

Tamahac eventually came to designate the "war hatchet" of the Indian, supplied by the military commanders of the whole continent in equipping the warriors on the many expeditions in which French and English were constantly engaged, and was furnished the Indian allies of the English in our war of independence.

This weapon was either in the form of a spear or hatchet blade on one side, while upon the opposite side there was a cuplike cavity, with a small hole extending into the eye of the weapon, in which a tough handle of wood was fitted 18 inches or two feet in length. The handle was perforated along its entire length, and below the hollow of the bowl it was bored at right angles to this perforation, a suitable stemhole for the passage of the tobacco smoke when the implement was in use as a pipe.

BIG ENOUGH TO HIT.

So Thought the Small Boy, but the Man Thought Differently.

He wasn't very big, but he was a sturdy little chap with a face that bore the marks of much thinking and premature responsibility. I learned afterward that he was supporting a crippled mother and an invalid sister who had been left helpless in the world by the death of her father. He might have run away from home and evaded the responsibility, but he didn't think of it. He just sold papers.

At the loop on Fifteenth street a crowd was gathered, waiting for the evening cars. A ragged young girl was selling flowers at the Fifteenth street end of the waiting station when a man, rushing to catch his car, knocked her against the side of the building. Without stopping, probably not having noticed what he had done, he continued his rush, when the boy stepped in front of him defiantly.

"Say, what do you want to knock a girl down for? Hit me. I'm big enough."

The man paused in surprise and then glanced around. He saw the flower girl picking up her wares and understood. Without a moment's hesitation he went back to her, gave her enough money to make her eyes sparkle with joy and said:

"I'm sorry, my dear, that I hurt you. I didn't see." Then, turning to the boy, he continued: "You said you were big enough, young man, but you're a great deal bigger than you think. Men like you will have a lot to do with keeping this old world in a condition of self respect."

Then he caught his car, and the boy and the girl stood there wondering what he meant.—Denver Times.

Conditions in the East.

Editor Goodyear, of the Colfax Commoner, who lately returned from a visit to his childhood home in Massachusetts, has this to say of industrial conditions
in the east:

"The coal strike is creating great havoc in the east. It is opening the eyes of the people on the trust question.
You cannot buy but one ton of coal at a time, and the operators have raised the price on it $2 a ton. Many people think the strike has been precipitated by the trust in order to furnish a cover for boosting up the price of coal."

"It looks to me as if the east is on the verge of a political revolution. The republicans are dissatisfied with existing conditions. The trust evil is creating great unrest. The Philippine policy of the administration is not popular in the east. It never has been. It decreased republican majorities for McKinley in 1900, and is likely to result in the election of a democratic congress this year and a democratic president two years from now. Democrats everywhere are hopeful. The New England democrats are not reorganizers. The magnificent reception they gave Mr. Bryan is an evidence of that."

Answer This Republican Paper:

The Hartford Courant, a republican paper, says: "But the fact that protection has done so much is as far as possible from justifying what man be called the hog element in trade. It is perfectly fair game for the opposition to show up trusts that, entrenched behind protective laws, either tariff or patents, sell their goods abroad at lower figures than they sell them at to the very nation whose people give them the protection that is their life. It is robbery.
The man who said he was selling good-below cost, and could only maintain himself by doing a large business at it, is a by-word for idiocy. No successful concern sells its products at less than cost, and if goods can be sold at a certain figure in London and South Africa, when made in America, then they can be sold for more profit right where they are made, and the man who denies that seriously needs a conservator. The protection given to trusts that sell abroad cheaper than they do at home should be taken off at once."

Those republican organs and orators who protest against tariff revision might employ their spare moments during the campaign in framing a reply to this republican newspaper's interesting statement."—The Commoner.

She Declined.

The following anecdote, the Observer thinks, ought to please the brethren who do not tolerate instrumental music in the house of God. An old woman who had been vainly urged for years to attend church services at last made her appearance and took a seat in a reserved pew. Just as the sexton told her the mistake and asked to give her another place, the harmonium began to play.
Being a little deaf, she answered:
"You will have to ask someone else.
I don't dance."—Ex.
