OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

THE brilliant young man with the big bump of humor, sometimes referred to as the "Melancholy Dane," who dictates the foreign policy of our local contemporary, appears to be quite as badly mixed in the Porto Rican muddle as the Hanna administration, which he deems it his duty to defend. Evidently stumped by the assertion of this paper that the Constitution must necessarily extend over Porto Rico, otherwise congress was without authority to govern the island, he recklessly quoted Daniel Webster, the greatest of all expounders of that document, as having gone on record in the following language: "The Constitution is extended over nothing but the United States, and can extend over nothing else, except such states as may hereafter be admitted to the union." It may be true enough that the great Webster uttered the above; but if he did, we have thus far failed to find it in any of his public speeches. But suppose that he did say so; it does not help Col. Robertson and his party out of the pit into which they have fallen. What right has he, or his party, to assume that it is not the intention of the people of this country to eventually include Porto Rico in the grand sisterhood of states? Do they propose to hold the little island in perpetuity as a crown colony under the absolute control of a president and congress, limited in power by the Constitution? This is plainly what Webster had in mind if he did utter the above. He meant and believed that we had no business with extra territory, except such as was to be made into states. Since the muddled colonel has quoted Daniel Webster for the purpose of proving his false contention, we will now quote the same authority to disprove it. Every person familiar with the speeches and writings of the great expounder will recognize our quotation as genuine. It formed a portion of Webster's great speech in the senate, delivered March 23, 1848, on the question of the ratification of the Mexican treaty. The language used is so clear and unmistakable that we trust a perusal of it will forever estop our misguided brother from again quoting Daniel Webster in support of the administration's unholy schemes of conquest. The quotation follows: "Arbitrary governments may have territories and distant possessions, because arbitrary governments may rule them by different laws and different systems. We can have no such thing. They must be of us, part of us, or else strangers. I think I see a course adopted which is likely to turn the Constitution of the land into a deformed monster; into a curse rather than a blessing; in fact a frame of an unequal government not founded on popular representation, not founded on equity, but on the grossest inequality; and I think that this process will go on, until this union shall fall to pieces. I resist it, today and always. Whoever falters or whoever fails, I continue the contest."

WHARTON Barker, the senile old gentleman lately nominated by the middle of the road populists, let the feline animal out of the bag when he stated to the reporters, after his interview with President McKinley, that he expected to get just enough votes to beat Bryan, and prophesied the re-election of the Canton statesman. Barker must have felt considerably enthused after his private confab with the pious William, to have blundered into making such a damnable confession. The mask has thus been stripped from this canting old fraud, and any reformer that now votes for him will do so with the full knowledge that he is casting a vote for Hannaism and throwing the other half away.

DEMOCRATIC leaders, or would be leaders, in this state, should refrain from getting excited over what republicans say about them. It is merely a trick of the Hanna organs to stir up strife. The P.-I., for instance, seems to be able, through its local news columns, to keep a number of the prominent democrats of that town at loggerheads and in a constant state of ferment. These gentlemen should understand that they will receive no favors from the party at large as long as they continue to belabor and belittle each other. The state democracy has grown weary of this intestine warfare, and is not in the humor to honor any man that engages in it hereafter. Turn your guns on the enemy, brethren, and not on each other.

THAT bright and vigorous young man, W. R. Hearst, who owns the New York Journal, has been elected president of the national association of democratic clubs. Mr. Hearst wisely recommends that democrats everywhere make a special effort to celebrate the Fourth of July this year, and give vent to their emphatic opposition to the policy being pursued, which can have no other effect than to annul the Declaration of Independence and destroy the Constitution. Mr. Hearst's idea is a good one. Let it be acted on right here in Yakima.

A GREAT deal of rot has been disseminated by republican daily papers anent the late convention at Spokane. The flaring and sensational headlines of boss rule were not justified by the facts. It is true, however, that the "bunch grass" counties were organized and ruled the convention, and ruled it wisely too. The fact that a number of prominent gentlemen who were members of the unseated Hart delegation, happened to be supporters of Gov. Rogers, is no justification for the oft repeated statement that the executive himself had been turned down by the convention. The simple truth of the situation is that the majority of the delegates were animated with the idea that they were there for the purpose of selecting delegates to the national convention and not to nominate a candidate for governor, which is the duty of a convention to assemble three months hence. In order to carry out objects in view—the election of their candidates—alliances were entered into without a thought of how it might effect any man's chances for the governorship or any other office. When it comes to the selection of a state ticket there may or may not be an altogether different sort of a lining up. The rank and file of the party—the men who furnish the notes—have yet to pass on the question of a state ticket and there will be, mightier than that of any man who may assume to be a political boss.

THE famine in India is not a food famine so much as it is a money famine. Reports agree that there is plenty of grain stored there, but that there is no money with which to buy it among the starving natives. The petitions for aid being circulated in this country call for money and not food offerings. Travelers in India ascribe the misery that exists as largely due to the financial system that prevails in the country. India, it will be remembered, was placed upon the gold standard basis some seven years ago.

THE Boer peace envoys are only wasting their time in their efforts to induce President McKinley to intercede for their country and bring about an honorable peace. The president merely jollied the honest Dutchmen and gave them assurances of his sympathy and distinguished consideration, whatever that may be worth; but he held out no hope of intercession. Not on your life, for William is engaged in the empire building business himself.

THE old mossback Oregonian, which but a few weeks ago was vigorously lambasting every man in congress who voted for the odious Porto Rico bill, is now busily engaged in whooping it up for Messrs. Tongue and Moody, who it will be remembered voted for and defended the law. The Oregonian, between campaigns, professes to be an independent newspaper; but when the party bosses crack the whip it invariably jumps back into the traces.

WITH the fall of Johannesburg and Pretoria, the Boer cause seems to be hopelessly lost. The result, of course, will be the incorporation of their territory into the British empire. Thus falls another republic. The fact that the Boers failed to capture such strategic points as Ladysmith, Kimberley and Mafeking early in the war brought about their utter rout. The world owes them much, however, for the stand they have made in the holy cause of liberty.

CONVENTION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Royal Welcome Given the Ladies by the People of this City.

The fourth annual convention of the state federation of Women's clubs was held in North Yakima this week and has left many pleasant memories in the minds of all the ladies who participated as well as the numerous persons who listened to the interesting proceedings.

The meetings were held in the large and commodious M. E. church and with the exception of the first day, Tuesday, when all the delegates had not yet arrived, was attended by nearly 100 delegates, representing all the clubs in the different parts of the state.

The church was most beautifully and tastefully decorated for the occasion by the committee having that matter in charge.

On Tuesday evening a reception was tendered the visiting delegates by the members of the local clubs which was a most enjoyable affair. Some 200 people in all were present. The program consisted of choice selections of music, both vocal and instrumental, recitations and short talks by different officers of the federation. At the conclusion of the program a very elegant lunch was served in the banquet room by the ladies of the home clubs.

At the Wednesday evening session, at which a large number of Yakima people were in attendance, the president of the federation, Mrs. Kate Turner Holmes, of Seattle, delivered an annual address, which was regarded by all present as a very able presentation of the scope and work of Woman's clubs. The three days' session of the federation closed on Thursday evening amid much enthusiasm.

In the matter of selecting a meeting place for the convention next year a good deal of rivalry developed, there being several cities in the state desirous of the honor. Whatcom, Walla Walla, Hoquiam and Olympia were in the field, and three ballots were required to settle the question, the good natured contest ending in favor of Whatcom.

At the conclusion of each day's session, carriages were in waiting and the visitors were shown North Yakima and its environs. During the three days session, the local club issued a daily paper called the "Clover Leaf" which was a very clever effort. Mrs. Ina P. Williams edited the paper, and Mrs. Ida B. Sharkey was its business manager. The most of the visitors took their departure on Thursday and Friday.

R. N. Harrison has sold out his second hand store to Chas. McConnell, of Walla Walla.

Local cattlemen are feeling considerably annoyed over the non-arrival of their grazing permits from Washington. The time for the entry of cattle into the reserve was fixed at June 1st, and sheep July 1st.

Messrs. Goldsmith and Kinney, of Welcome, Minn., arrived this week, closed their pending deal for Nick McCoy's ranch in the Moxee and took immediate possession thereof. The consideration is said to have been $600.

Quite a number of local people were up unusually early on Monday morning to view the partial eclipse of old Sol by the moon. The boys had mostly provided themselves with smoked glass and other necessities, but the view was not regarded as satisfactory.

Garrett Bros. have received their new brickmaking machine which they have moved to their new yard in the Selak.

Quiett & Ayres are engaged this week in making some extensive improvements in the interior arrangements of their drug store.

Superior court will convene next Monday for the June term. It is expected that a jury will be called on Monday. There are ten criminal cases on the docket and quite a list of civil cases.

Col. J. G. Boyle has accepted the responsible duties of reporter on the Republic during the time that Major Hayworth will be engaged in counting noses in this city for your "Uncle Samuel."

Japanese Labor.

It appears that the horde of Japanese contract laborers pouring into the United States has attracted the attention of the government, which has information that about 50,000 are being thrown in by way of British Columbia, which is under the domination of our friends, the British. The government officials have a theory upon which they are working, and that theory is not based upon the injury to American labor, but is based upon almost certain facts that these Orientals are being imported by one of the gigantic trusts. A rigid search of the country is being made to learn where Japs are at work. Suspicion runs all the way from the Standard Oil company's mines in the Coeur d'Alene to Carnegie's new steel trust, and the theory is that one of these big trusts will turn up with a full complement of Japanese laborers and cause prodigious scandal in the coming campaign, one that will do incalculable harm to the republican member from California, which, however, may only result in ascertaining the facts without being able to apply a remedy, for the reason that there is no restriction against the importation of Japanese labor. Ugly stories are floating about with reference to the failure to enforce the immigration laws on Pacific coast ports, and these are also being rigidly investigated. The matter is serious enough to justify president Gompers in calling the attention of the public to it. He says, speaking of the Japanese: "They are coming into this country in droves. It is pretty near time something is done in this matter, as the first thing you know you will be over run with Jap labor, which will supplant you as the Chinese attempted to do." Things are coming to a pretty pass under the republican regime of the trusts, and it may not be going too far to say that a continuance of the McKinley administration will leave very little for the American laborer except a miserable existence.

Ellensburg Items.

Robert Engles was here yesterday with a broad smile on his face and one of the handsomest gold nuggets ever found in this county in his pocket. It was four and one-fourth by two and one-fourth inches by five-eighths of an inch thick and almost as smooth as satin. It weighs $300, and was picked up on Wednesday in the company's Bolder creek property.—Capitol

In the superior court on Friday morning the case of Walter J. Reed vs. Thos. Johnson, came on for hearing wherein the rights of property in the Cle-Elum townsite is involved. Judge C. B. Graves and Ira P. Englehart, of North Yakima, appeared for the prosecution and E. E. Wager and Attorney Muday appeared for the defense.

Crofton & Company, of the Grand Hotel, closed their doors on Wednesday evening, and made an assignment to C. V. Warner for the benefit of the employees. Nearly all of our business men were left to hold the sack. These gentlemen, if all reports be true, are what may be considered pretty good confidence men. They have been in business about three months, and are leaving the town owing in the neighborhood of $500 to $600.—Localizer.

The Trusts Must Go.

From every section of this land a tender moan is heard from labor. At some points it is a groan which is filling the air. The tender moan arises from apprehension—realization of fear they know not of, but which they feel without being able to accurately describe. This moan is result of lack of faith in the employers of labor. Things should be prosperous—they have all the symptoms requisite to assure labor of continued uninterrupted work. Labor feels that the assurance is not valid; that there are conditions behind the "trust" movement which make them abnormal; that they are loaded down with capital, real and fictitious, which one of these days will bring the enterprise around the ears of those who work in them; that at an unexpected hour, when prosperity seems at its best, the collapse will take place and ruin will come to all who are employed, except those who are situated as employers with exact information as to the complete "trust" enterprise. They are not business corporations to which open scrutiny is invited. It is not necessary for every man or woman or estate which is induced to make investment to become familiar with each operating movement. On the contrary it has been demonstrated during the past ten days that a trust such as the "steel wire trust company" has been manipulated to the injury of every stockholder except a few of the most dominant and unscrupulous. It was also proved that, notwithstanding stringent legislation had been enacted in the state of New York, so severe, it was said, that prison doors would open to the culprits, there was not the shadow of possibility of inflicting penal servitude on any one of them. An assurance that Mr. Gates' policy would continue in the management, and that that gentleman would spend ninety days abroad, enjoying the beauties and wonders of the Paris exhibition, was the only sacrifice that he was compelled to make to pick up his $1,720,000 of ill-gotten gain, and this is illustrative of the ways in which sturdy faith is assaulted by those who are recognized as ingenious in the use of methods which bring doubtful fortunes to wasteful lives.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Cannot Afford to be Tyrants.

The democratic party has never acquired an inch of territory that it did not sign and seal a covenant with its inhabitants that they should have all the rights of American citizenship and that their territory should be finally admitted as states of the union. The republican party was the only party in this country that has ever proposed to hold vassal provinces, and the democratic party wanted no share of the honor. If a people were not fit for the government of such people. We could not afford to become tyrants on the ground that another people were not fit to be free.—Hon. R. R. Crumack, Tennessee.

A Snap at Lochren.

The New York Tribune does not like the decision of Judge Lochren of Minnesota, in which he holds that the flag and the constitution go together. To destroy the effect of the decision, the Tribune accuses the judge of being a democrat and a products of the northwest territory not democrats who voted for McKinley in 1896. They may now feel ashamed of themselves for having done so.

WILL BE REWARDED AT LAST

A Bill for the Relief of the Living and the Widows of the Dead Has Passed the House.

It will be encouraging news to the pioneers of the northwest, particularly those who participated in the stirring events of those days, to know that after exasperating delays on the part of the federal law makers at Washington City, where no less than seven congresses took half-way action, there has at last been passed a measure providing pensions for those who laid aside the cross cut saw and took up the gun in defense of the women and children against massacre at the hands of the Indians.

The native wars of 1855 and 1856 are still vividly remembered by many of the old timers here, and it will at least be a small gain of comfort for the surviving fighters and widows of those brave path blazers to know that congress has at this late day recognized that heroic and unselfish bravery by passing a pension measure for their relief.

The thanks of those who are to be benefited by this long-delayed legislation are due in great measure to Major J. Thomas Turner, formerly of Island county. For many years he has regularly had the bill providing pension relief introduced in both houses of congress, and has regularly had opportunity to see it die in one or the other of the branches.

This year, however, success has crowned his persistent efforts, and on the 20th of February the bill passed the senate without a single dissenting voice, portending success in the house.

Col. Robert C. Hill, cashier of the First National bank here, one of the early settlers of Island county, yesterday received a letter from Major Turner, his companion in arms against the Indians fifty years ago, in which the writer requests that the matter be given "all possible publicity in the leading newspapers of the state."

Accompanying Major Turner's letter is data in printed form taken from the printed copy of the bill, showing the total number of persons to be benefited by the measure, now all but passed. It covers the Seminole war, 1817-18; Winnebago disturbances, 1827; Sac and Fox Indian war, 1831; Sabine war, 1836-37; second Seminole, 1842-58; Cayuse, 1847-48; Texas and New Mexico, 1849-55; California, 1851-52; Utah, 1850-53; Oregon and Washington territory, 1851-56. From the wars enumerated there are 7,609 survivors, of whom 4,618 are participants and 2,991 widows.

Of the foregoing numbers the statistics show that the Indian wars in this and the neighboring state of Oregon have 3,010 survivors, of whom 1,871 were participants and 1,138 widows.

Among the survivors and widows of the Washington Indian wars are many who reside in this vicinity. The list includes the following, the first eleven being residents of Port Townsend or Jefferson county:

James Keymes, widow of Henry Webber, F. W. James, widow of C. W. Bradshaw, William Eldredge, J. F. Tukey, widow of A. A. Plummer, sr., widow of T. M. Hammond, sr., Robert C. Hill, William Bishop, James Woodman, Nathan Battalu, Humphrey Hill, John I. Anderson, Hugh Crockett, Thomas Hastie, E. H. McAlmond, Ed D. Warbass, Sam D. Howe.

Supplementary to the printed report Major Turner writes that since the data of Washington and Oregon were secured death has been busy throughout the two states gathering in the old timers, until it is not unreasonable to say that 1,300 will cover the roll of honor, including 800 widows.

Col. Hill still has the muster roll of his pioneer frontier company which fought with him, and a copy of all the names thereon has been sent to Major Turner.—Port Townsend cor. Seattle P. I.

Revival of Silver.

The Portland telegram editorially raises its warning voice against a "step backward" in relation to the gold standard. This editor is a very presumptuous man. First, he presumes that the gold standard is thoroughly established; secondly, that it was a move forward when it was established, neither of which is true. However, he exhorts just about as well from his assumed basis as though his text was real scripture. The gold standard is not only not established but it never will be accepted by the American people. This editor thinks that the election of Bryan "would bring a revival of the silver idea." Suppose it did. Would that not be the reproduction of former republicanism? President McKinley shouted himself hoarse to set on foot such a "revival" just a short time before he was nominated. Was there any danger in that kind of preaching then? No. Like young and hungry birds all republicans fell back with their mouths wide open and gulped it down. But what a horrible thing it is for W. J. Bryan to say the same thing after Mayor McKinley had to surrender himself, soul and body to the money combine in order to be elected.—Walla Walla Argus.

McKinley May Lose Ohio.

Ex-Attorney General Frank S. Monnett of Ohio in an interview on the 19th inst. says Ohio will be lost to the republicans this fall.

"I do not see how the republican party can escape punishment this fall," said he.

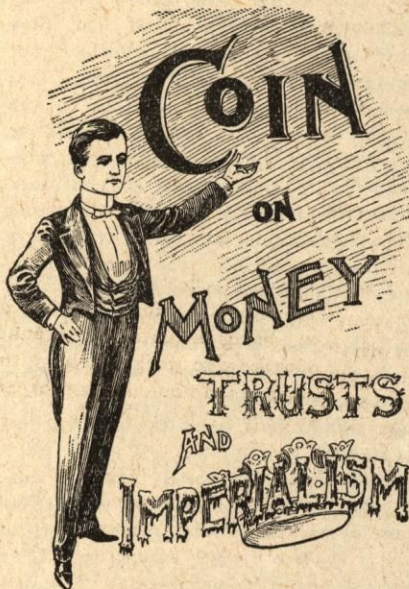

"The platform of the republican party in Ohio strongly condemns the trusts and their unlawful methods. I was elected as attorney general of Ohio on such a platform, and as the officer of the state and the representative of the party I carried out as best I could the platform of the party. Yet I was not supported in this by many of the leaders, and the party organs criticised me for doing just what the platform of my party pledged me to do. Newspapers of the state, about 100 of them, printed paid articles criticising my actions and they, too, party newspapers.

"This is not all. The legislature which has just adjourned killed the Russell bill and the maximum freight bill, and that too by almost a strict party vote. Will not the people punish the party of its servants? The party, as such is not in sympathy with such methods. Although the Russell bill was bill No. 10, it was side tracked by the trust lobbyists and held back until near the adjournment and then over the protest of some of the best men of the party, and almost all of the democratic members, it was defeated. This was a repudiation of the party platform and the sentiment of the party. I cannot believe that he will escape punishment, and I believe it will come this fall. Why should not the party be punished when the men who control its actions disregard the will of the people?"—Press Bulletin.

A Text Book for the Campaign of 1900

BY W. H. HARVEY,

Author of "Coin's Financial School."

This Book is Now Having a Wonderful Circulation.

The retail price is 25 cents. In size it is 35 pages larger than "Coin's Financial School," profusely illustrated, with best paper, enameled cover in two colors. Its treatment of the subjects of Money, Trusts and Imperialism is exhaustive and yet simple and plain as A B C's. It will educate and arouse the American people to a common defense of their homes and the heritage of free institutions. It teaches organization and points out the remedy. It is educational and practical. It should be in the hands of every man, woman, boy and girl in the United States.

The book is a school, and the little boy COIN is the teacher. His school in May, 1894, "Coin's Financial School," electrified a nation and moulded the political sentiment of a National Political Party.

COIN ON MONEY, TRUSTS AND IMPERIALISM may be expected to rally anew the forces of human liberty.

Stake Races at the Fair.

The state fair commission has arranged for two stake races to take place on the track during fair week. There will be a 2:18 pace and a 2:20 trot, the purses being $500 for each. Entries close July 1. Blanks may be obtained from Secretary Gunn at any time. The fees are fixed at five per cent of purse and five per cent additional from money winners. Entrance payable $10, and $15 on September 1. Money will be divided 50, 25, 15 and 10 per cent of purse. Mile heats, 3 in 5 and hoppers will not be barred. These are only special harness events which will be put on during the week of the fair. The commission proposes to offer very liberal purses and make up a good meeting of horsemen from the states of the northwest.

What a Woman Needs.

In the preparation of this article we made many examinations and investigations of the different methods of treatment and remedies for all the ills so common to the female sex, and our investigation has brought forth the fact that nothing proves so uniformly successful in restoring health and happiness to worn out women as the "Viavi Treatment," and we also found that this was the opinion of the most careful and scientific medical men of this country. This system of treatment has been remarkably successful in all cases of chronic diseases peculiar to women. No more trouble, misery, and suffering are among the speedy results after its use, as it certainly represents the latest and best treatment for all complaints of women's diseases. It has been proven by years of success and the testimony of thousands of ladies, including the highest and most noted of the women of the United States and England, who have been restored to health and the enjoyment of life by reason of "Viavi Treatment" even after all other methods of treatment had been tried and found wanting. The "Viavi remedies" are composed entirely of vegetable ingredients, and are manufactured under conditions of perfect cleanliness. Upon entering the system it supplies at once a clean, wholesome food to the muscular tissues and nervous fibres. It makes the circulation full and vigorous, and in this way enables the veins to carry to the organs of elimination all the impurities which it is their function to remove from the body. It acts as a prompt specific for all nervous and other troubles common to women, including irregularities, prostration, headache, anemia, palpitation of the heart and the thousand and one ills peculiar to the sex.—Extract from the National Health Journal.

Decoration Day Observance.

As has been the custom for a number of years past, decoration day in Yakima was most appropriately observed, a large crowd of people being in attendance. The procession formed at the G. A. R. Hall at 9:30 a. m., the line of march being up Yakima avenue to Front street thence to A and Second, back to the hall where conveyances were in waiting to take as many of those as wished to go to the cemetery. At the head of the procession was some 60 odd members of the G. A. R.; next in line were members of Company E—veterans of the Spanish war, headed by Capt. Scudder and Lieut. Lemon. Next in marching order was Company C of the national guard commanded by Capt. Coombs, after which came the U. R. of K. P. and other orders.

The ladies of the W. R. C. had provided a large assortment of most beautiful flowers, which were tenderly placed on the graves of the departed heroes in Tahoma cemetery. The graves of the five young soldiers of Company E, who lost their lives as a result of the Philippine campaign, were literally strewn with the choicest of the floral offerings.

The exercises which were concluded at Mason's opera house in the afternoon were more than usually well attended, standing room in the hall being at a premium.

The stage was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and F. A. Alexander was selected as master of ceremonies. The exercises were opened with a song by the boys choir of the Episcopal church followed by an invocation from the Rev. J. H. Condit, after which a solo was sung by Geo. S. Vance which seemed to be much appreciated by the audience.

The Rev. J. H. Wood was then introduced as the orator of the occasion and in an eloquent address of about an hour and a quarter, held the close attention of his large audience. The speaker drew tears to the eyes of many of his listeners as he depicted the trials, suffering and sacrifices of the soldiers of both wars. It seemed to be almost the universal opinion of those in attendance that the address was the best Decoration Day address that they had ever heard.

The roll call of the G. A. R. was responded to by 47 veterans.

On the whole the observance of soldiers day in Yakima was complete in every respect, and the weather which was that of a typical Yakima summer day, was all that could be desired.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Brief School Notes.

The annual report of the city schools is not ready yet, as Miss Hagy's school—Fairview—continues until June 15.

The enrollment for May was 693. Average daily attendance 684 or 186 in excess of last year. Per cent of attendance 96.3, last year 90.

Patron's Day was a success. About 781 visits were made to the school during the month of May.

Fully 200 different individuals inspected the work of the grades on Patron's Day.

Approximately the enrollment during the year reached 935, of whom 436 were boys. There were 9 colored children enrolled, and about 50 pupils neither absent or tardy.

Friday was field day, the sports taking place on the high school grounds.

The high school closed Friday evening with a brief literary program, refreshments and sociability.

Several pupils were advanced to senior year and will graduate in 1901.

A Good Idea.

President William R. Hearst of the national association of democratic clubs, has in an interview outlined his plans for the campaign, and it is an inspiring broadside. Every democratic organization in every city, town or village in the United States will be asked to assemble on the night of July 4 to celebrate the declaration of independence and to receive news from the national convention. In this connection Mr. Hearst says: "The national association desires to recall to the whole country the fact that this year the people of the United States must defend the declaration of independence or abandon it. No man who has a drop of democratic blood in his veins can fail to assist in this great national protest against the establishment of subject colonies under the American flag. The great question to be decided at the polls this year is whether this country is to continue to be a republic controlled by the people, or an empire controlled by the trusts. All minor questions disappear in the presence of this giant issue." Hearst will make it caldronical for Hanna between now and November 6.—Whatcom Blade.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Lauderdale died on Monday.

Guy Grafton is opening a neat cigar and tobacco store in the building formerly occupied by Dr. Gunn and Judge Taggard.

THE DEMOCRAT man is under obligations to Wm. Stegillier for the gift of a box of the largest and finest strawberries that we have seen this year.

The annual school election in district No. 7, North Yakima, will be held on June 9. The officers to be elected are a director for the term of three years and a school clerk.

The grand lodge I. O. O. F. will meet in Seattle during the coming week as will also the grand lodge of Rebekahs. A number of local Odd Fellows and their wives will be in attendance.

Judge Taggard on Saturday tied the connubial knot that now binds Arthur Hussey and Mrs. Sarah Hinkle, of Tampico. The ceremony took place in the parlor of the Pettit house.

The local wool market still remains comparatively inactive, no sales of any magnitude being reported except that of Coffin Bros. to Davis and Co., which included their total clip of 350 sacks at 11½ cents. The price, now, however, rules somewhat lower and growers appear to be holding off for another raise.

The school board at its meeting Monday night rejected all three of the bids received for the construction of the proposed new school house on Third street. The board apparently had no other alternative as the lowest of the bids was $3648 higher than the maximum cost of the structure which was to be $11,000. The bids received were as follows: Bissell $14,825, Felton $14,770, Bruenn $14,648.

Matt Nooner, a 17 year old boy whose home is on the Nile, was brought to this city on Saturday last by Sheriff Tucker and on Monday had a hearing before justice Taggard on a charge of stealing a horse, saddle, revolver and a number of other small articles from J. D. Hargis. He entered a plea of guilty and was bound over in the sum of $500 to appear before the superior court.

the Yakima reservation was sure of final passage. This will be good news for the lease holders and others contemplating the leasing of land as they have all along contended that the five-year term was totally inadequate to produce good results.

The sheriff and his deputies on Thursday in response to a telegram from Prosser, took a man known as Dr. F. Skata off the west bound train. The arrest was made on a warrant sworn out by J. H. Bailey, of that place, charging Skata with having obtained money under false pretenses.

Attorney Fred Parker says that his artesian well over near the "hog ranch" is now down 240 feet. The workmen are now going through a shale deposit having at last bored through the series of boulders which gave them so much trouble. Water now stands in the well to within 20 feet of the surface, and Mr. Parker and his workman feel confident that they will soon strike a good flow.

Charles Niles and Miss Nellie Jungst had a narrow escape from serious injury on Tuesday evening. They were coming in to the city in a single buggy from Nob Hill, down the new Yakima avenue grade, and when at the crossing of the Schanno ditch, the night being quite dark the buggy missed the bridge and was turned over in the stream. Neither of the occupants were seriously injured by the fall, but the buggy was considerably damaged. Considering the situation the young folks got off remarkably lucky.

Mrs. W. G. Griffith, of the Aktanum, had an unpleasant experience on Monday afternoon. The lady had driven into town to do some shopping and after concluding her purchases had started homeward, when suddenly, while driving on West Yakima avenue, one of the horses hitched to the vehicle, stumbled and fell and soon expired, evidently from heart disease. Richard Strobach, who lives in that neighborhood, helped the lady out of the difficulty by hitching in one of his own horses, enabling her to reach home without any serious inconvenience.

A. L. Breckelman, the old German gardener who lived in the house known as the "castle" on the west side, was taken before Court Commissioner Preble on Thursday morning for the purpose of inquiring into his insanity. The examining board consisting of Doctors Gunn and Dulin, after an examination pronounced him insane and he was therefore committed to Medical Lake. Sheriff Tucker took him over to the asylum the same day. The unfortunate man's insanity being of a mild type it is hoped that a few weeks at the asylum may restore his mind.

Burglars got in their work again on Monday night. The office of the Pioneer Lumber Co. and the office of Mickelson & Ewing being the places visited by the midnight marauders. At the former place the safe was opened and the sum of $19 extracted. Fortunately Mr. Watt, the manager, had removed from the safe and banked some $315 on the day previous. The burglars gained entrance to the coal office by cutting out with a knife a portion of the back door panel and thence sliding the bolt. Nothing was secured there, however. The work done in both places displays an intimate knowledge of the premises on the part of the robbers, which causes a well grounded suspicion that they are right here at home.

Trusts and Capital.

Mr. Justice William S. Gaynor, of the supreme court of New York city, in a recent lecture on "Trusts Economically and Legally Considered," before the Brooklyn institute of arts and sciences, make the following observation: "The cry against protests is really a protest against great aggregations of capital. The protest is the fear that such vast aggregations of capital are a menace to the individual capitalist and a danger to our form of government."

From a theoretically economic point of view, Judge Gaynor reiterates what other economists before him have declared to be the danger to our social fabric. But the definition possesses no definite distinguishable meaning in the lay mind. It is ex-Speaker Reed's idea. "We do not need money so much as capital." This is a colder and bolder suggestion, but implies the same difference between money and capital as appears in Judge Gaynor's proposition when explained.

The common, coarse, vulgar idea of capital is "money." So far as the trusts are concerned, their idea of capital is money, but "capitalization," as stocks, bonds, etc., and every form of certificate of indebtedness. As a matter of fact it is impossible for an aggregation of capital—considering the latter as money—to reach the sum total of our circulating medium, which is and must be the basis of our enormous trust capitalization, reaching into ten thousand millions of dollars and more. The sum of the circulating medium cannot be controlled as an aggregated sum, because it must be turned over and over several hundred times to accomplish the financial results which are now pressing us down, and preparing the way for a universal crash through wrecked values.

It is the capital of trusts, known as "capital stock," that is the fearful monster which is agitating the country. Carnegie has not 500 millions of dollars of capital, neither has Standard Oil 500 millions of good sound dollars. What they and the others have is a capitalization upon which they draw an interest or dividend amounting to say 120 millions per annum.

The menace is in creating income producing wealth out of what is not capital but indebtedness, and it is this trading upon debts and transforming them into credits that is dangerous, not only to the government but to every man engaged in earning money to secure a precarious existence.—Chicago Bulletin.

"Positive Principles."

Mr. Bryan was asked the other day why he declared:

"The people are with us this year, and they are in sympathy with the principles which shall be embodied in the Kansas City platform, and which represent the feelings of the great mass of the American people."

And his answer, which appeals to every American citizen who has the welfare of this country at heart, was:

"Because every principle of the democratic party is a positive principle, more positive than was the declaration of the republican party in 1896, and while my party has grown all the while in its firmer adherence to principle and positive declaration of the republican party is 'trekking' in just the opposite direction. It is less positive and its adherence to its own heretofore fixed declaration of faith is now quite disregarded."

Help the Census Takers.

How many people will give a cordial reception to the agents of the great national inquisition which begins on Friday, June 1?

The census enumerators will ask not a few questions that will seem needless to many persons and therefore impertinent. Few men and still fewer women like to be asked to state their age. Yet a correct return of the ages of all persons now living in the United States is of real importance and value. All that we can know of the increasing or decreasing length of life, of the actual amount of child labor, of the average marrying age, of the relative size of families of different races, of the proportion of adults to children and of the actual number of our fighting men must be found out by asking every person "How old are you?"

Similarly all exact information as to the conjugal relations of both sex, the number of married and single persons, the proportion of the married and single among our native and foreign born population, the quantity and general characteristics of our immigration, the probable future destiny of the black race and the Indian tribes can only be obtained by such questions as: How many males and how many females live in this house? Where were they born? To what race do they belong?

Exact knowledge is the indispensable preliminary of all political and social progress. A really accurate census will be a national blessing, valuable alike to the statesman and philanthropist, the capitalist and the wage earner. Help it along.—New York World.

Shipping Honey.

A beekeeper expresses himself as follows in The American Bee Journal:

It was my privilege last year to ship several tons of honey. In marketing this large amount there were only two complaints made by the purchaser. One was that in some cases old cans were used and the other that the grades of honey were mixed. It is often very convenient to clean old gasoline cans and use them for extracted honey. The fact that such cans can be had for almost or quite nothing is tempting indeed. I believe, however, that it will always pay to only use clean, new, bright cans. It is also just as important to be very careful not to mix the amber or darker grades of honey with the water white grades. It requires no little care to keep all of these kinds of honey entirely distinct. By a little attention, however, this can be done, and unless it is much of the first class honey, like that from white sage, will sell for less than its real value.

Cuban Bric-a-brac In Vogue.

Curiosities and bric-a-brac from Cuba are now slowly coming into vogue. Oddly enough, they were quite fashionable 40 and 50 years ago. A favorite and one of the most beautiful objects imaginable is a bunch of crystals from one of the famous caverns in the limestone district. Some of these are as clear as rock crystal, and are not alone many faceted but are often covered in part with masses of large and small crystals of great brilliancy. When the faceting occurs in certain patterns, the crystal has the fire of a precious stone and, in a well lighted parlor will throw colored lights and fires in every direction. Still another beautiful object is a mass of fine fern leaf coral, which is found near the keys in the middle and eastern part of the island. Some of this is so delicate that it suggests a petrified cobweb.—Margherita Arlina Hamm in New York Mail and Express.

The best time to plant lilies is in October and November.

Dracena sanderiana is one of the choice things for the center of jardinières and fern pans.

What the calla needs: "Water like a mill, heat like a furnace, food like an army, absolute rest during summer."

It is best not to take up dahlia roots for at least a week after frost, as the tubers ripen better and are not so likely to shrivel when stored in the cellar over winter. The roots should be turned upside down in the sunshine to let the water drain out of the stems, says an authority.

Perennial phlox can be transplanted in October and November.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, May 26, 1900.

There has been lying as well as stealing in connection with Cuban affairs. First Assistant Postmaster General Perry Heath has repeatedly and publicly declared that he had nothing whatever to do with the appointment of Neely, the head of the looting conspiracy, and now Mr. Rathborne, the suspended director of posts in Cuba, asserts that he appointed Neely on Perry Heath's recommendation. There must be documentary evidence that will show which of these men have lied, and it ought to be produced, and doubtless will be if Senator Bacon's resolution for a congressional investigation goes through.

The Boer peace envoys, who have been snubbed officially and jollied personally, by the administration, are preparing to visit a number of large western cities for the purpose of trying to arouse a public sentiment that will compel the administration to do something to bring the war in South Africa to a close before England succeeds in wiping the two little republics off the map. Republicans defend Mr. McKinley's treatment of the envoys, when they have to, but mighty few of them commend it.

The big payers of war taxes are to be bled by Boss Hanna. That was made certain when the republican managers of the house decided that the ways and means committee should be given authority to sit during the recess for the purpose of fixing up a bill for the reduction of war taxes. In order to catch as many of the tax payers as possible, the committee will not begin its sittings until a few weeks before election. Boss Hanna's program is to allow all of the heavy war tax payers to believe that if they contribute liberally enough to the republican campaign fund their interests will be favored in the bill, but he will take good care that not a single item in the bill shall be decided upon until after the election. It is a good scheme of its kind, but it is a very bad and disgusting kind, but no worse than others manipulated by the same man in 1896.

It being apparent that the senate committee on privileges and elections had no idea of reporting the resolution for a constitutional amendment, providing for direct election of United States senators, Senator Pettigrew has offered a resolution to discharge the committee from further consideration of the resolution and have it reported and placed on the calendar. The senate will not pass this resolution until compelled to by public sentiment to do so, although the large majority for it in the house should have convinced senators of the state of public sentiment on the question.

The senate has adopted a resolution calling upon the secretary of war for information as to the condition in the Philippines—press news of the week showed that there was neither peace nor American control outside the places garrisoned—offered by Senator Allen; but if the information is not more definite than that furnished by the same department about Cuba, in response to senate resolutions, it will not carry much enlightenment for anybody.

Senator Bacon has offered an amendment to his resolution for a congressional investigation of the Cuban stealing by republican officials, which promises to reach enormous proportions, authorizing the committee to sit during the recess at such places, either in this country or in Cuba, as the committee may deem necessary or important and to send for persons and papers. The republicans are "between the devil and the deep sea" on this investigation. They are afraid to vote for it and afraid to defy public sentiment by refusing to do so.

Senator Spooner who is one of the senators who started out by vigorously opposing permanent retention of the Philippines, even going so far as to say that he would not have voted for the ratification of the Paris treaty of peace had he supposed that it would lead to permanent ownership of the Philippines by the United States, and afterwards had his mind changed for him by the administration, made a set speech, occupying a portion of two days this week, in favor of his bill giving Mr. McKinley autocratic power in the Philippines, which is now before the senate, and which was used as a club to defeat Senator Morgan's resolution to take up the Nicaragua canal bill. The solid republican vote against taking up the latter bill will not be allowed to be forgotten during the campaign. It showed up the hypocrisy of the republicans who pretend to favor that bill. It could have been passed in an hour had the republican senators supported Senator Morgan's motion, but Hanna ordered them to vote down the motion and they obeyed orders. The people's orders will be issued next November.

And now a newspaper man, Mr. W. R. Hearst, proprietor of the New York Journal and the San Francisco Examiner, and the newly chosen president of the national association of democratic clubs—is enjoying a boom for the democratic vice presidential nomination. Bryan and Hearst wouldn't sound bad.

Mr. J. P. Daly of New York, an official of the Knights of Labor, who is now in Washington, said: "I have always voted the republican ticket, but I think the democrats will win this year." That sort of talk is getting quite common.

A Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery which wholly cured me. Hundreds have used it on my advice and all say it never fails to cure Throat, Chest and Lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Quigg & Ayres Drug Co's.

While the democratic convention in Spokane Saturday was applauding its senator, Turner, ex-and-would-be senator, John L. Wilson sat under a locust tree in the park listening to the strains of the band as it played, "I Want Dem Presents back," and silently and pathetically wept.—Dayton Constitution.

Jesse Drumheller said the other day: "McKinley made a bad bargain in buying the Filipinos at $2 a head on the range. He should have made Spain corral the niggers and brand every one of them before he paid a cent. It will cost him twenty times the purchase price before he gets them rounded up." Walla Walla Argus.

Chairman Thomas Maloney of the democratic state central committee says: "We are going to win. It will be a greater victory this year than it was in 1896. Why, four years ago we couldn't muster a corporal's guard for a democratic county convention. At the convention in Tacoma in 1886 there were not more than 200. Saturday we had nearly 200 from one county."—Cheney Free Press.

More than a year ago the newspapers and magazines sickened their readers and appalled the public with graphic illustrations from photographs of famine sufferers in India. And now the dose is being repeated. Several of the periodicals abound in hideous and revolting pictures of the living and dying skeletons of the famished Indians. It should be enough to know such scenes are taking place, in a land presumably governed with enlightened wisdom by Christian England, but really the victim of a selfish commercial and imperial policy, which spares no expense to conquer the Boers, and yet seems content to signally fail year after year to conquer famine.—Sumner Herald.

A Startling Accusation.

With a record of nineteen years' service as a republican senator, Mr. Hale, of Maine, can afford to treat with disdain, as he did in the senate yesterday, the suggestion that he is not a sound republican because he will not endorse Mr. McKinley's colonial policy and defend the scandals that have grown out of it. Coming from a senator of his record and standing, Mr. Hale's accusation that there is a well defined movement to break the pledged faith of the nation and permanently deny independence to Cuba is startling. "There are," says Mr. Hale, "very powerful influences in this country, largely located in New York city, largely speculative and connected with money making enterprises, that are determined we shall never give up Cuba."—New York World.

The Man That Knows.

"There are some men," said Mr. Staybolt, "that always know about things. They have a power of judgment that amounts to genius. They discern the truth unerringly. They know what is right and what is wrong in a question, and they know it at the outset without waiting for the event. They range themselves not with confidence, but with knowledge, and however the clouds may lower they are not disturbed. Indeed they rather like the storm, for they know when the end will be."

"They are more powerful than other men because they are unhampered by doubts. They don't doubt, they know, and men follow them, as they always will. Everybody admires a man that knows and is sure about it."—New York Sun.

Killed His Sentiment.

A newspaper correspondent at the battle of Atbara tells a good story about a couple of Scotchmen. He was walking softly about the camp so as not to disturb the sleepers on the night before the fight when he overheard a sentimental Seaforth highlander say to a comrade:

"Ah, Tam, how many thousands there are at home across the sea thinking o' us the night."

"Right, Sandy," replied his chum, "and how many millions there are that don't care a d—n. Go to sleep, you fool."

And silence fell upon that corner of the square.

John Milton's Portrait.

John Milton's harmonically and ingeniously soul did lodge in a beautiful and well proportioned body. He was a spare man. He had auburn (auburn) hair. His complexion exceeding fair—he was so fair that they called him "the lady of Christ's College." Oval face. His eyes adarke gray. He had a delicate tunable voice, and had good skill. His father instructed him. He had an organ in his house; he played on that most. Of a very cheerful humor.—He would be cheerful even in his gowtfeits, and sing. He was very healthy and free from all diseases: seldom took any physque, (only sometimes he took manna:) only toward his latter end he was visited with the gowte, spring and fall. He had a very good memory, but I believe that his excellent method of thinking and disposing did much to help his memory. He pronounced the letter R (littera canina) very hard—a certain sine of a satyricall witt. Temperate man, rarely drank between meals. Extreme pleasant in his conversation, and at dinner, supper, etc., but satyricall.—Aubrey's "Brief Lives."

Told on Kentucky Legislators.

A member of the late legislature from southern Kentucky was invited one evening to participate in a Welsh rabbit lunch at the Capitol hotel. Diking himself out, he awaited the hour. With that prince of good fellows, Tutt Burman, he walked into the dining room, where coffee and rabbits were served standing. After partaking of one or two and a cup of coffee, he remarked to Tutt: "This is no rabbit. It's nothing but fried cheese and light bread." It is useless to say that member never attended any more lunches.

On another occasion the assembly balls or germans, which were given every Tuesday night, attracted the attention of a mountain member, and he asked, "Whar are all them people goin that are goin up stairs?" Some one remarked up to the german. "The you say. Do they let the Dutch dance here?"—Owenton (Ky.) News.

Nervous Old Lady (to deck hand)—Mr. Steamboatman, is there any fear of danger?

Deck Hand (carelessly)—Plenty of fear, ma'am, but not a bit of danger.—Harlem Life.

Resolution.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL of the city of North Yakima that said city intends and hereby declares its intention to improve Second street in said city by the construction of a sidewalk along the west side of said Second street between the northeast corner of block No. 24 and the southeast corner of lot No. 7 in block No. 25 in said city according to the plat thereof on file in the office of the county auditor of Yakima county, Washington; said sidewalk to be eight feet in width and to be laid with planks two inches thick, eight inches wide and eight feet long, surfaced on one side and resting on stringers, four inches by six inches; said sidewalk to be laid on the grade marked out and established in front of the lots and lands herein-after described as the same appears from the grade stakes; all material used to be good, common No. 1 fir lumber.

That the estimated cost of said improvement is $150; that the cost of the same is to be assessed against the property abutting on said sidewalk and included in the following assessment district, to-wit: Lots Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 in block No. 24 and lots Nos. 7 and 8 in block No. 25. All of said lots and lands being according to said plat of said city of North Yakima.

That protests against said proposed improvement may be filed in the office of the city clerk of said city of North Yakima at any time before 3 o'clock p. m. on the 4th day of June, 1900; that the city clerk give due and legal notice of said proposed improvement.

Passed the Council the 7th day of May, 1900; approved the 7th day of May, 1900.

Attest: W. H. REDMAN,

H. B. DOUST, Mayor.

[SEAL] City Clerk. 37-2t

Notice of Sheriff's Sale.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF YAKIMA County, State of Washington. F. W. Morse and T. H. Brew, partners, doing business as the Pioneer Lumber Company, plaintiffs vs. J. T. Kingsbury and C. H. Bruen, defendants. Under and by virtue of an execution, decrees of foreclosure and orders of sale issued out of the Superior Court of Yakima County, State of Washington, on the 25th day of April, A. D. 1900, in a certain action wherein F. W. Morse and T. H. Brew, partners, doing business as the Pioneer Lumber Company, plaintiffs, recovered judgment and decree of foreclosure in said Court against J. T. Kingsbury and C. H. Bruen, defendants, on the 31st day of March, A. D. 1900, for the sum of $128.75, with interest thereon at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum from date thereof until paid, and the further sum of $50.00 as attorneys' fees, and costs of suit taxed at $12.00; and the defendant C. H. Bruen recovered a judgment and decree of foreclosure on the 23rd day of April, A. D. 1900, against the defendant J. T. Kingsbury, for the sum of $53.78, with interest thereon at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum from date thereof until paid; the further sum of $50.00 as attorneys' fees, and costs of suit taxed at $8.00, and increased costs, I am commanded to make sale of the property hereinafter described; said judgments being a foreclosure of a Mechanic's Lien on the following described property, to-wit: Lot four (4), in block eleven (11), of the City of North Yakima, according to the plat thereof on file in the office of the County Auditor of Yakima County, State of Washington. Notice is hereby given that on Saturday, the 2nd day of June, A. D. 1900, at the hour of 1:30 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the front door of the Court house in the City of North Yakima, in said Yakima County, Washington, I will, in obedience to said execution, decree of foreclosure and order of sale, sell at public auction, the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said judgments and decrees with interest thereon, attorney fees, costs and increased costs, to the highest bidder for cash, lawful money of the United States of America.

Dated this 25th day of April, A. C. 1900.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. C. J. Taft returned from Baker City, Ore., Sunday morning.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Dilley was in Ellensburg Thursday on official business.

Wm. McMillan, wife and child left Sunday for Tacoma, where they will in the future reside.

G. S. Rankin and W. T. Clark returned home from a business visit to the Sound on Tuesday.

V. Beaudry, of Crookston, Minn., arrived on Thursday to join the French colony in the Moxee.

Mrs. A. L. Steinman, of Ellensburg, has been in attendance on the Woman's Federation this week.

J. B. Catron, warden of the penitentiary at Walla Walla, passed through town Sunday morning, bound for Tacoma and other Sound points.

S. C. Sorenson, of Manti, Utah, a brother-in-law of Joel Shomaker, arrived here on Wednesday and will probably conclude to settle in this valley.

S. L. Jenkins, of Seattle, arrived this week to do the scenic work for Larson's theater. Mr. Jenkins is a brother of Hon. W. D. Jenkins secretary of state.

Mrs. D. E. McKinnon, of Wallace, Idaho, with her two children is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. McCurdy at their home north of town.

Arthur Rinehart, who formerly resided with his mother in this city, is now employed in the Seattle postoffice having passed a very satisfactory examination.

Prof. Conolly, who is traveling for an eastern millinery house, is visiting his family this week. The professor states that he and Mrs. Conolly will accompany his sister home to Scotland, leaving here in August.

Rev. Mr. Dawson, who has been in charge of the Ahtanum academy for the past year, left on Monday for a month's visit with relatives in Ohio. Mrs. Dawson and child left the same day for their former home at Blaine, Wash. The reverend gentleman before taking his departure visited the different newspaper offices of this city for the purpose as he stated, of giving in a correct version of his late pugilistic encounter with an Ahtanum rancher. The minister very vigorously denied that he had come off second best in the little affair of honor.

Messrs. Rankin, Howard, McCafferty, Switzer and Bruenn visited Ft. Simcoe on Thursday to make estimates on the proposed addition to the dormitory building and the water works which will be constructed this season.

The partnership heretofore existing between Coleman & Cady, the harness makers, has been dissolved. Mr. Cady this week moved to Sunnyside where he has located, having bought out the harness business of E. R. Taylor. Mr. Coleman it is understood, intends going to Cape Nome.

Phil Ditter left last week for a month's visit in St. Paul and Minneapolis. Mrs. Ditter and children accompanied by the lady's sister, Miss Guffey, who has been spending the winter here, will join Mr. Ditter in the east. They will probably leave during the coming week.

L. R. Rinehart returned Monday from a visit to his former home at Union, Ore. He and his associates brought up some 35 head of horses which they sold to C. W. Thebo, who will ship the animals to Alaska. Mr. Rinehart states that politics are pretty warm just now in the webfoot state. The election takes place there next Monday.

A Chance to Get a Nice Suburban Home.

I have just laid out my farm joining town on the north, into two and one-half acre tracts. The title is perfect and the water right unsurpassed. A portion of the place is covered with bearing fruit trees. The location is desirable and convenient. Prices reasonable and rate of interest low. Call on or address

The Rose Carnival.

List, all ye of weighty and serious air!
Come to the carnival, throw away care.
All the cares that beset him a man may forget
And not be the worse for forgetting. So let Beauty, and fragrance, and music, and mirth
Combine for one evening and pay their true worth.
Our faith, gracious queen and her whole retinue
Will all do their prettiest to charm and please you.
The Knights and the maids, the fairies and pages
Will sing sweetest songs and orate like sages.
They will be assisted and that ably, too,
By Mesdames Hauser and Crow, and also—'tis true—
By Miss Ross and that stayer, his honor the mayor,
Whose reputation is wide as a mighty care-slayer.
All this for a quarter you pay at the door.
And when they are thro' you'll wish it were more.
But we'll not disappoint you, so don't take it to heart.
Our cooks have been mindful and have all done their part.
With cake and ice cream and the ruddy strawberry
So pay one more dime, eat, drink and be merry.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

What About a Fourth of July Celebration in Yakima?

Will the people of North Yakima and vicinity celebrate the Fourth of July? Is the question that is now agitating the average citizen of this city. In the past the patriotic people of this locality have scarcely ever failed to properly observe the great independence day, and it is hoped that they will not do so this year.

In past years with the exception of last year, the fire department boys have taken the initiative in this matter and it was assumed that that organization would do so this year, but it seems that the fire laddies are unwilling to take that responsibility.

The Commercial club last year initiated the movement for a celebration, which was generally regarded as quite a success, but one celebration seems to have been sufficient for the club as the governing board of that institution on Saturday night last, declined to attempt to hold another.

THE DEMOCRAT man this week interviewed a number of leading citizens on the subject of a celebration this year and found that the sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of celebrating, but the opinion of all with whom we talked seemed to be that it ought to be along different lines from what it has been in past years.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that the celebration this year ought to be held at the state fair grounds, and that the affair should be more in the nature of a picnic than anything else. The cool and inviting grove at that place it was thought would be a delightful place on a hot day, while the splendid race track was by long odds the best place for the holding of the day's sports.

President Baxter, of the state fair commission stated on Wednesday that the fair grounds could be secured for that purpose.
