A PET PROJECT OF "HIS HONOR"

Mayor Armbruster Said to Sanction New Tender- Nimble Chase at Seattle for Exposition Dollarsloin District === Councilman Fred Shaw Opposes Location of the New Redlights.

"red-light stockade" now located just irside the city limits on the west side of the N. P. track in the southern extremity of the city, may not be allowed to open for business. This is the opinion of Councilman Fred Shaw, who is strenuously opposed to Mayor Armbruster's project.

Ever since the last city administration exterminated the old tenderloin district a quiet, but determined, effort has been under way to re-establish this dis-

About one month ago building activity commenced in the immediate vicinity of the Frank Sinclair ice house, and on the banks of the old ice pond. A high board fence was erected and within these walls a row of houses have since been built. It is said that the enterprise has had the sanction of Mayor Armbruster, but it is a fact that the majority of the city council do not favor the scheme.

Councilman Shaw and Councilman Miller will do everything in their power to prevent the formal opening of this district. In the first place they are opposed to again allowing the reestablishment of an immoral district in the city, and even though they should consent to the strict police regulation of finally comes up.

There is quite a probability that the such a district, the present location does not meet with their approval. In speaking of the situation Councilman Shaw said: "This is a scheme of his honor, the mayor. A majority of the council oppose it, although I am informed that Councilmen Schorn and Mull, who are members of the police committee, think it is alright.

"If I consented at all to the establishment of such a district in the city, I would still oppose the location of the present project. There would be would practically be without protection. There would be great danger to human lives from the fact that men under the over by trains while staggering along the railroad track late at night. There men to operate there, inasmuch as the be a great burden on the taxpayers, and therefore I am opposed to the scheme." It is quite likely that the city fathers will have a warm fight when the matter

ELIMINATE MR. O'BRYAN

That is What the Pomona Land Owners Wish to do - Several More Hot Conferences Held.

Another long and heated conference between Clarke O'Bryan, promoter of the Pomona Heights irrigation project, and the various landowners under the proposed system, was held in the farmers' room of the court house. The meeting was a warm one and resulted in much heated talk between the promoter and

A strong disposition was shown by the land owners to eliminate Mr. O'Bryan from the entire proposition after that gentleman had left the meeting. A number of landowners expressed the view that as they were absolutely dependent on the reclamation service for a water right that the best way to try to solve the problem would be to organize a water users' association, ar range to take over any equity in the project claimed or owned by O'Bryan and his company and then proceed to deal with federal government. The argument presented was that a proposition from a water users' organization would be much more apt to receive favorable consideration at the hands of the secretary of the interior than would One Hundred Acres Will Be Set to Apple any proposal made by a private corporation. The Pomona landowners, it scems, wish the government to take over and complete the project, failing sell to them the necessary water.

EVIDENCE OF PROSPERITY Savings & Loan Association Has Too Much Money on Hand.

The Yakima Savings & Loan Assoiation, a local institution formed three or four years ago for the purpose of helping along the development of the city in the building line, is confronted by the misfortune of too much prosperity. Notwithstanding the large number of new buildings that are planned for the spring months, the association has accumulated a bank account of several thousand dollars more than enough to take care of all accepted applications for

We have always welcomed these offers, but recently they have not looked so good to us on account of the scarcity of applications for loans.

"The association is prepared to make loans on first class improved city property, and will welcome applications. Its terms are more favorable than those of any loan company operating in this territory. The interest charges are lower, and loans can be paid up at any time without extra charge.

ELECTRIC LINE

FOR TOPPENISH

Definite steps for the building of an electric line with Toppenish as a center vere taken at the meeting of the Commercial clubs of the Yakima valley in that city Monday. The proposed line will run from Toppenish to Zillah and Parker Bottom, traversing a rich fruit and produce district, and making Topenish one of the greatest produce shipping centers in the state. The fruit and produce of the adjacent fruit and produce country would be shipped to this place by electricity, and then by rail to other points.

The statement is made that Toppenish is the largest produce shipping point on the Northern Pacific railroad, next to North Yakima. The electric line as proposed would largely increase the shipments, and aid in the settlement of the rich country. Preliminary work is expected to be started soon and be completed in time for the fruit rush of 1910.

WATER FOR SUNNYSIDE.

A Washington dispatch of March

The secretary of the interior today nnounced that water will be furnished o all irrigable lands in nine townships luring the season of 1909.

A charge of $52 per acre is made against this land, representing the pro rata cost of construction of the project, which amount is to be paid in 10 annual installments of $5.20 each. To this will be added maintenance of 95 cents per year, making the annual charge $6.15.

The first payment becomes due March 15, 1909, and subsequent payments on March 1 of each succeeding year until full payment has been made. There is part of the Sunnyside project for which water cannot be furnished this season and charges on that area will not begin until after water has been turned on

Failure to make any two payments of installments of charges when due will render application subject to cancelation with forfeiture of all rights and all moneys already paid in.

COLUMBIA RIVER LAND

Has demonstrated the fact that as a producer of apples it has no superior in any country on earth. Not alone in the production of apples is the land at Richland equal to any on the Columbia, but all the different varities of fruits are grown with equal superiority on land situated on the peninsula formed by the confluence of the Columbia and Yakima Rivers, known as

DIGITALIA BILLALIA On the Columbia

This section possesses all the essentials necessary for the development of one of the greatest fruit-producing districts in this country. This large tract of land, comprising 16,000 acres of the choicest irrigated land, is watered by means of GRAVITY FLOW DITCHES, under a water right over nineteen years old. No restriction has ever been placed on the amount of water a grower may use. We have more than we will ever need.

We Wish Particularly to Call Your Attention to This Land That We Are Selling as Low as $100.00 Per Acre.

Including PERPETUAL WATER RIGHTS, on terms suitable to all. This is what we call an opportunity, and any person contemplating the purchase of an irrigated tract of land, should compare this price with what is being asked in less favored localities. We have the same soil, same climatic conditions exist, same transportation facilities, with the additional advantages of GRAVITY FLOW method of irrigation that some other irrigable land districts are asking from two to three times this price. As we have said before,

Land at Richland Has Been Made to Pay for Itself in Two Years

From returns received on crops raised between the rows of fruit trees. What others have accomplished you should be able to do. Why not start right in and take advantage of this, the greatest opportunity ever offered the homeseeker?

Richland is a Reality

It has over five hundred bona fide inhabitants, good school, bank, newspaper, business houses, churches, etc. If building and improvements are a criterion of prosperity, then the scenes at Richland and on the acreage tracts adjoining surely depict a prosperous section. The valley reminds one of a newly discovered mining district, as no matter which way you look, the building of houses, etc., and the improvement of fruit tracts is met with. Hustle seems to be the watchword. The faith investors have in the town of RICHLAND is well shown by the substantial buildings being erected, the majority of which are two-storied concrete, modern business blocks.

When you stop and consider the fact that during the past four months a good many thousands of acres of land have been sold in Richland valley, you will appreciate the fact that the prices of this choice irrigated land, in a superior location, is considered by all persons interested in getting hold of a small tract with a view of becoming independent in a few short years, is an opportunity not to be passed by. Investigate before the prices are advanced.

Remember the vital point—WE FURNISH WATER THROUGH GRAVITY FLOW DITCHES—no pumps, no chance for a breakdown in the middle of the irrigating season when you need the water the worst—just open the gate and gravity does the rest. Call or write for literature.

SUCCESSFUL PLOWING

Can always be accomplished, in all sections and under all con ditions, by the Success Plow. It is a frameless plow that will last a lifetime. It has been on the market for years, has been tried and proved, and is, beyond question, the simplest, most perfect and most popular riding plow of its class now in use.

THE P. & O. CANTON SUCCESS PLOW

Is the best and cheapest plow for the following reasons: It does the same work as plows that cost a great deal more. It costs less than other riding plows because it is made of fewer parts. On account of its having fewer parts it wont get out of order.

Plows get out of order because they are complicated. The Success isn't complicated—it's very simple. A plow that won't get out of order is what you want, isn't it? You would call such a plow strong and durable.

That's why the Success Plow is named "SUCCESS". Being less expensive than others, doing first-class work, possessing the essential qualities of strength and durability, the Success deserves all we claim for it. That is why it is the cheapest. The best is always the cheapest.

THE STATE CAPITOL STEAL.

The Olympia lobby seems to have thoroughly hypnotized the recent legislature into consenting to build a mil-Lon-dollar capitol on the old foundation laid 15 years ago at Olympia.

The recent unlamented legislature passed a bill authorizing the sale of sufncient capitol lands to pay off the present capitol fund warrants outstanding to the extent of over $200,000, including years of accrued interest. To this extent perhaps the action of the legislature was wise if the lawmakers had only stopped there, but they did not. Under the hypnotic spell of the state capitol lobby, composed of women as well as men, the unwary solons were cajoled into going much further. They were induced to authorize the sale of state lands to the extent of $1,000,000 riditional for the purpose of erecting a new state capitol building on the old and repudiated McGraw foundation that was laid 15 years ago. The legislature did this in spite of the fact that the state already has a good and sufficient capitol building, which has been in use but a few years and which cost the state nearly a quarter of a million dollars, including the graft in connection therewith. However, it is a reasonably good building and would have answered the needs of the state for many years to come, by which time the state lands, now to be sacrificed, would naturally bring a much better price. It is a fairly good guess to assume that the million dollar capitol building that the Olympia people are demanding will cost at least two million dollars before it shall be finished, if we are to judge from past experience and the experience of other

This action on the part of the legislature is, we believe, absolutely contrary to existing sentiment throughout the state. The people of the state outside of the ancient capitol city were satisfied with the present capitol building and desired to continue its use until such a time as it should be deemed desirable to take another referendum vote as to where the capitol of the commonwealth of Washington should be permanently located. Since that question was passed upon 18 years ago thousands, yes, huncome into the state and these people lature. as well as many of the older settlers had hoped to have another opportunity of having a say as to where the state capitol should be permanently located. But this unlooked for action of our imbecile legislators has robbed the people of even expressing themselves on that subject.

Poor old Olympia! In her old age the capitol town at the head of Budd's inlet is expert at nothing but in wheedling what she wants out of green legislators. A few short years ago old Mother Olympia found that she had an elephant on her hands in the shape of an expensive court house. She straightway got out of the difficulty by talking the solons of that period into taking it over at a good round figure. Now they probably feel that since the state has been pursuaded into building a new capitol they will get their old court house back again.

But after all it is hardly fair to blame the Olympians. For years they have been used to living off the bounty of the state until the practice has become a sort of second nature.

It is the legislature that the people will hold responsible.

TAFT NOT A TRUST BUSTER.

President Taft's selection of a cabinet is not reassuring to the trust busters. Five of his nine adverisers, headed by Knox of Pennsylvania, are corporation lawyers. To expect radical action from a set of men accustomed by training and long experience to take the corporation view of things is, to say the least, illogical.

This will not be a trust busting administration. The new president in many respects is the very antithesis of his predecessor, Mr. Roosevelt. He is cool headed, phlegmatic and slow to action. He is not sensational, nor inclined to go about looking for trouble. The great corporations and money kings feel better now that Taft is in the White House and Roosevelt out of it and they make no secret of it. Not that Roosevelt ever really hurt them much, but he put the fear of justice in their hearts and kept them on the ragged edge of uncertainty. They have

The Yakima Democrat merely bided their time until they were

Roosevelt has left to Taft a legacy in the shape of a lot of unfinished suits against divers corporations. The country is waiting to see what Mr. Taft is going to do.

The friends of Secretary of State Nichols and Insurance Commissioner Schivley in the legislature simply won't stand for having those officials investigated. Both of these men, holding as they do, high and honorable positions of trust, are nothing less than common grafters and every unprejudiced man of ordinary intelligence in the state should now realize that such is the case. Of course, these men, particularly Schively, don't want to be investigated, for an nonest investigation would show up his rotten record and doubtless separate him from his graft. The public has a right to be suspicious of any official who fears an investigation. The members of the legislature who are shielding Schively, knowing what he is, must necessarily be as crooked as he. Certainly, there is great need of another general house cleaning in the state of Washington, such as we had in 1896. The rotten spots are beginning to show up again pretty strong.

The late legislature has not been a vicious body, like some of its predecessors. It has simply been incompetent. Two-thirds of the 60-day session was frittered away in idle discussion and fruitless effort. When the law-making body did finally buckle down to work it tried to make up for lost time and as a result a lot of half-considered, illdigested bills were passed to further cumber the state books. The appropriations made will probably total over $8,500,000, which is at least $2,000,000 more than ought to have been voted. As against the well organized lobby of beggars for appropriations that besieged the legislative halls the average member appeared to be as helpless as a man of putty. The house, which was a veritable bear garden, developed not even one leader with any indication of genius. The senate was a more competent and businesslike body, although it too included a goodly number of misfits.

It has leaked out that the great Weyrhauser Timber syndicate is the factor behind the scene that is pulling the strings in the matter of building a new state capitol. The bill passed by the legislature provides that a large body of the state capitol lands shall be sold enbloc to the highest bidder in order to raise a sufficient fund to take up all outstanding capitol fund warrants, and a million dollars additional with which to construct the proposed new capitol. is the milk in the cocoanut! > The legislature last Tuesday appropriated the sum of $15,000 for the maintenance of the proposed Southwestern Washington fair. At this writing it seems the legislature has refused to appropriate a single cent for the Washington State fair at North Yakima. Is this because the Yakima boys over there are merely being punished, or did they exhaust their strength in securing the $10,000 deficiency appropriation?

Nurseryman Says Thousands of Throughout the Yakima Valley.

this year in tree planting. Local nur- of prunes were shipped out of the valley have all faith in the prune industry. serymen declare there are more fruit trees being set out this season than ever before during the same period of shipped in from outside nurseries, due to the fact that local nurseries are rushed with business and in some cases, unable to supply the demand. County Fruit Inspector T. O. Morrison is kept busy at the Northern Pacific depot inspecting trees as they are unloaded from freight cars.

When asked Tuesday as to the number of trees that will be planted this spring, a local nurseryman replied:

Impossible to Estimate.

"You might as well ask me how many stars there are in the heavens. There will be those who will be on hand with figures but I say it is impossible to tell how many or about how many, young trees will be planted here this season. That the Yakima valley will smash all records of the state is not doubted. Walla Walla and some other small fruit districts are making the proud boast that they are about to spoil Yakima's reputation as a fruit center by planting tens of thousands of trees this spring.

"What Walla Walla, Wenatchee and all the other fruit districts of the state plant this year, will not be half the number of new trees set out here. And it is a certainty that by the time the oung trees come into bearing, the demand for Yakima fruit will be such that even the increased output of the valley will be unable to satisfy the markets."

Besides the new orchards there are many shade and ornamental trees being planted in and around the city. Arbor day will see hundreds of new trees and shrubs planted and the school children are planning to continue the good work of beautifying the school grounds of North Yakima.

Women Take Part. The feature of the election was the activity of the women. They did not take their coats off, but the campaigning they did for their respective sides made some of the old politicians who work in their shirt sleeves stand back and look on. The gum-shoeing started some time before the election and the women exhibited as much craftiness as the men in lining up indifferent voters and shaping the balloting. So much of more than one secret caucus held which even hubby knew nothing about, as he learned on election day. But there was no hair pulling if the wires were worked overtime, and the election passed off with the male population convinced that there are some things about politics that they don't know.

COMPLETE OPINION

IN THE YORDY CASE

Much Local Interest Manifested in Reasons Given for Holding Against Ontario Land Company.

The full text of the opinion of the apreme court of the United States in the action of the Ontario Land company against Jay Yordy and Minnie E. Yordy, has just been received here. This is the action of much local interest. It involves the title to property on Capitol Hill, purchased at tax sale by Jay Yordy and wife, but claimed by the Ontario Land company. On account of the local interest and the importance of the decision the full text of the opinion is published below:

"The contention of the plaintiff in rror is that sustaining the tax proceedings divests it of its property without due process of law, in contravention of the 14th amendment to the con stitution of the United States. At the time of these proceedings, while the land in controversy was within the limits of Capitol addition to North Yak ima, it had not been divided into lots and blocks, but was simply marked on the official plat 'reserved." In other words, according to the record, there was no such property as that described, and nothing to identify any property.

Land Could Be Identified.

"There being no legal description, no official identification, no one could, by any examination of the records, know what property was the subject of the proceedings. Hence they were void and no one was bound to take notice

"But land may be identified, although not technically or officially described, and the identification may be sufficient to sustain a contract or conveyance. The owner of property is bound to take notice of the time and place provided for tax proceedings. He knows that his property is subject to taxation.

"The plaintiff was the owner of the entire Capitol addition to North Yakima. It was charged with notice of the fact of platting and the condition shown by the plat. Examining the tax proceedings, it would find that four blocks not named on the plat, but within that addition, were listed and assessed for taxation. It would also know that if the tract reserved had been divided into blocks and lots and numbered in harmony with that of the balance of the addition, blocks 352, 353, 372 and 373, would occupy the place of the tract marked 'reserved.'

Plaintiff Charged With Notice,

"It therefore had notice by the records that the authorities were listing and assessing for taxation certain blocks and lots which occupied the place marked upon the official plat as 'reserved.' It also had notice that the tract marked 'reserved' was not otherwise listed or assessed for taxation, and that, if its entire property was listed and assessed, the words blocks numbered 352, etc.,' were used by the authorities for describing the 'reserved' tract.

"Could it ignore these facts because the description in the tax proceedings was not officially or technically correct or sufficient? But the case does not rest on this presumption. It appears from the testimony of the county treasurers that the plaintiff knew that the authorities were attempting to assess and tax this 'reserved' tract under the description blocks numbered 352, etc.,' so that it had not merely notice from the record, but notice in fact, that the tract marked 'reserved' was being assessed Bygienic Cream & for taxation under the description of blocks 352, etc., and in no other way State Court Upheld.

"We are of the opinion that the fed eral question in this case was rightly decided, and the judgment of the supreme court of Washington is affirmed." It is understood that the other side of the case, now before the federal courts, will be contested to the end.

YAKIMA GREATEST FRUIT SECTION IN AMERICA

Duluth Man Who Visited Here in 1900 Returns and Becomes Enthusiastic Over Bright Prospects of the Valley.

"When all the available land in the akima valley is set to fruit trees and he orchards get to bearing this counry will outdo all other sections of the United States combined."

This is the way William Getty, a umberman of Duluth, Minn., expressed imself after spending the last three or our days riding about the valley.

"I was in North Yakima in 1900," said Mr. Getty. "The town was dead. It needed paint, the people appeared to be living and that was all. They had not discovered what was best suited to the country. There were orchards and the people ate their own apples. What they didn't eat went to waste on the ground. The change that has taken place in the town and surrounding coun ry hardly seems real, both have made such rapid progress. Everything has advanced in proper proportion, the country is well balanced.

Compares Climate.

"Of course, Minnesota is a great state out it gets cold there in the winter time. The young men do not notice the limate, they rather like cold winters. but after living in such a climate for 25 or 30 years a country like the Yakian valley is a pretty nice place to go to. I suppose that is why you get so many of our citizens. This country afords opportunities and the difference is that a man does not have to have so much of it as he does back east.

Quick Returns.

"Fruit is more prolific here than in the east, the trees grow quicker, and a man gets early returns on his investment. At the rate the country is going in the production of fruit it really seems that central Washington will produce enough in a few years to supply ill the markets in the country.'

Mr. Getty is accompanied by Mrs. setty and his son. They will remain bere perhaps a week longer before returning to their home in Duluth.

ENGLISHMAN REPLIES TO APPLE BOX NOTE

The scheme inaugurated by the Comnercial club last year to advertise the Yakima valley by having shippers inclose a little circular in each box calling attention of the purchaser to the products of the valley, has met with unexpected success. Numerous inquiries have come to the club from different sections of this country and Canada. This morning Secretary James received the following letter from F. L. Ager, of Moreland Bros., limited, of Bradford,

England, asking for literature about the Yakima valley: Answer to Note.

"Gentlemen: Having come across the inclosed paper in one of your boxes of apples, wanting an application for your illustrated circular, I shall be pleased to receive the same at our Darley street address. I remain, yours sincerely,

(Signed) "F. L. AGAR." The little note which was inclosed in the box of apples reads:

"This fruit was grown in the Yakima Valley, Washington, celebrated for its apples, pears, plums, peaches, apri-cots, cherries, prunes and berries. For illustrated circular write the Commercial Club, North Yakima, Washington."

Letter from Scotland. A short time ago a letter similar to that from Bradford was received by the Commercial Club from Edinburgh, Scotland. Who shipped the apples to England is not known. Secretary James says they may have been exported by one of the big eastern jobbing houses or shipped direct from North Yakima. The result of the advertising plan has been so satisfactory that it will be-come a permanent feature of the pub-licity department of the club.

ROOFING TIME

Now is the time to settle your coofing problem, and the most economical and satisfactory way

J-M ASBESTOS ROOFING

It is permanently lurable because made of ASBESTOS, an inde-structible mineral, which is not affected by fire, rot, rust or wear "J-M" is the only prepared roofing which does not require coating or painting to preserve it. Hence it is the "cheapest-per-year" roofing. Easily applied. ASBESTOSIDE is an Asbestos Siding for buildings and is the most economical, durable and sasily applied siding known.

Best Sound Deadener

"Keystone" Hair Insulator is an ideal lining for the walls and floors of buildings, being equal in insulating properties to ten layers of ordinary sheathing paper. As an insulation against heat and cold, and as a SOUND DEADENER, it is far superior to building felts or sheathing paper. "Keystone is as easily applied as one layer of ordinary paper. It outlasts the building, remains elastic, will not pack down or settle, fits odd corners, and is always flexible,

From the economic standpoint alone, "Keystone" should be used as it pays for itself many times over in the saving of fuel.

It consists of thoroughly cleansed cattle hair, to which is added granulated cellulose, securely fastened between two layers of strong non-porous paper.

Its construction produces a strong material filled with innumerable air cells, so minute that all circulation of air is prevented, as is also the penetration of exterior air, thus creating an effective dead air space, the result of which is perfect insulation and the highest sound deadening qualities.

The efficiency of any material for sound deadening depends upon a ability to resist or reflect the sound waves. "Keystone" reits ability to resist or reflect the sound waves. ceives the impact of the sound waves and the resilience of the hair and cellulose dissipates them. No other known material of the same thickness is so effective. Plain building papers, so commonly used for this purpose, have little value, as they are solid and as much a conductor of sound as the flooring or partition.

If you can call or write for samples kindly do so, as it will prove a mutual money maker for both of us.
