

1212 N. 32nd Avenue, Yakima, Was

July 11, 1955

The Paper House,
Moscow,
Idaho.

Book Dept.

Dear Sir:

I am well satisfied that my publisher has advised you of the forthcoming book, Drummers and Dreamers. But because I wish you to know of my desire to cooperate with you in any way regarding this book, I am enclosing a circular.

In the event that Caxton salesmen do not call on you, or even if they do and have not been there recently, any advance order you forward to me will be, as you note, credited to them.

You see my interest is determining, through advance correspondence, the early reaction to this publication.

The circular does not explain that the foreword is by Dr. F.W. Hodge, but indicates that the book is not only the story of one Columbia River tribe but others, as well as the Palouse. I am satisfied it will contain much of interest, from several standpoints, to some of your purchasers.

I am also writing at such an early date, to suggest the possibility that you would wish a "book party" marked by the appearance of some of the very unusual "anapums. I don't know exactly how that can be worked out, but I am making plans for a trip throughout the region at publication time, now being set up for the spring. And if correspondence and advance purchases indicate a general interest, I will attempt to do so, even though I realize of course that ~~news~~ sales would perhaps only be scattering and in no way like that around Yakima or Spokane.

The enclosed clipping will show how the "anapums are headed for considerable above usual" publicity".

I sincerely trust I may hear from you

Click Relander