WASHINGTON LETTER

Tariff Bill Causing Hot Debate and After Feeling—Champ Clark Cas-tigates the Twenty-three Traitors in the Democratic Camp.

(From our regular correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., March 28.—Representative Champ Clark, the minority leader, has made his long looked for speech on the Payne tariff bill and some parts of his arraignment made the republicans squirm. He pointed out that except for a few commodities which have been put on the free list the rates were one and a half per cent higher in the Payne bill than in the Dingley tariff. He urged that the tax on tea be removed, asserting that it was a tax on "the poor man's breakfast table," and one which many could ill afford to pay, while there had been no increase whatever of the tax on beer which could easily stand an additional 50 cents a barrel, which was a luxury which no man needed and many were better off without. He showed the subterfuge by which the Standard Oil company is protected, petroleum being placed on the free list but a differential provided for in the case of any other country placing an export tax on oil, which results in saving the Standard company from all competition. His speech was vigorously applauded by the democrats but the republicans looked very much unhappy as he proceeded.

Mr. Clark said he was confident that if the house were afforded an opportunity to vote on the question it would take the tax off tea and increase the tax on beer, an opinion which apparently is shared by the republican leaders for they are plotting to secure the adoption of a rule which will make it impossible for the members to secure a vote on any amendment whatever unless it is first reported by the ways and means committee which Speaker Cannon named and which, of course, he dominates. The leaders now count on shutting off general debate with a rule next Wednesday after which, if their plans carry, there will be debate under the five minute limitation to each speaker for ten days, then three days will be set apart for voting on amendments and it is expected that the house will vote on the entire bill about April 15.

The president has given notice to the senate leaders that if they so change the bill as to make it a high protection measure or to reduce its revenue producing powers he will veto it, and moreover, that he will probably recommend the adoption of a tax of 2 per cent on the dividends of all corporations except banks and a few others. It is estimated that such a tax would yield at least $15,000,000 of revenue and possibly considerably more. President Taft is disappointed at the showing that this tax would yield so little. Of course it would not apply to bonds and a large part of the capitalization of the corporations, especially of the railroads, consists of bonds.

The secretary of the interior has asked for and accepted the resignation of the assistant attorney general for that department, although of course the resignation had actually to be called for by the attorney general. This means that the all powerful influence of Gifford Pinchot, the national forester, in the interior department is at an end, for Assistant Attorney General Woodruff was an employee of the bureau of forestry before going to the interior department and his chief conception of law was that Mr. Pinchot's word was law. There will be a general diminution of the influence of Forester Pinchot in this administration, which will be very different from the last when anything that Mr. Pinchot said went with the president, the secretary of agriculture and the secretary of the interior.

WANT MORE FUNDS

A-Y-P Committee Rustling Hard for Exhibition Money.

The Yakima county A-Y-P committee was in session at Toppenish Thursday afternoon, the meeting being called for 4 o'clock.

The committee is endeavoring to raise a popular subscription fund of $25,000 to assist the county in making a suitable exhibit of Yakima's resources at the A-Y-P exposition. In order to fairly distribute this burden the committee has made an assessment on every precinct, according to the vote cast at the last election, North Yakima's proportion of the fund being $11,000.

Several friends have come up cheerfully with their assessments, in fact have raised their quota themselves without troubling the county committee. Other sections are rather tardy in coming forward, probably for the reason that the proper local men were not selected to do the soliciting. Only about two-thirds of the required amount has thus far been secured, it is reported.

The county fund, which was raised by special taxation totals about $9200, of which about $7000 is still unexpended, the commissioners last fall having purchased a large quantity of choice apples and placed the same in cold storage for exhibition purposes. It is understood, however, that the commissioners will not permit any portion of this fund to be used except in the maintenance of the regular Yakima county display in the big state building. The $10,000 building and the special exhibit to be maintained therein, is the express purpose for which the $25,000 special fund is to be used for.

E. G. Peck, assistant secretary of the county committee, is the field marshal in charge of raising this needed fund, and is working hard to accomplish it, as are other members of the committee.

It is to be hoped that the fund will be speedily raised, as the time is growing short in which to make the necessary preparations. The county building, now in course of construction, will be finished May 1, and the committee desires to begin installing the exhibit very soon after that date.

JONES GIVES WIFE CREDIT.

Washington, March 30.—(Special.)—The following line appears in the biographical sketch of Senator Jones, printed in the new edition of the congressional directory:

"Was married to Minda Nelson at Enfield, Ill., in the fall of 1886, and whatever success he has attained is due to her earnest, faithful help and cheerful self-denial."

WON'T APPOINT CUSHMAN.

Late advices from Washington state that President Taft has informed the delegation from this state in congress that he will not appoint Edward Cushman, brother of Congressman Frank Cushman of Tacoma, to the new federal judgeship in this state, the president apparently not believing Cushman to be properly qualified for such a high position. Moreover, the president is said to have stated that he will not defer to senators and congressmen in making judicial appointments.

FRED PARKER WILL BUILD.

Fred Parker, the well known pioneer attorney of this city, will soon let a contract to have his present one story office building on South Second street torn down. As soon as the ground is cleared Mr. Parker will begin the erection of a three story modern office building on the same site, which is a valuable one.

The first floor of the new building when erected will be used as the office of the Consolidated Abstract company, the second will be occupied by Mr. Parker and his assistants, and the third will contain his extensive law library.

Aged Pedestrian Discouraged.

MEADVILLE, April 1.—Weston arrived here tonight at 7 o'clock. He admitted he was a little discouraged by the hard traveling. He was greeted by thousands of citizens. He will leave here tomorrow for Youngstown.

NORTH COAST PRESIDENT TALKS

Says North Coast Don't own Valley Road, has No Connection with Trolley Line—
New Route Through Union Gap.

Robert E. Strahorn, president of the North Coast railway company, "the road of mystery," was in the city Tuesday, accompanied by Chief Engineer Pitman and Right of Way Agent Woods.

On being interviewed by the representatives of local papers, Mr. Strahorn exhibited all of his old time skill in evading leading questions. From what the state press has been saying of Mr. Strahorn and his great project it was thought that he might now be ready to announce definite plans of North Coast construction work, if not indeed the true paternity of the entire project itself, which is a sort of Chinese puzzle that still continues to worry every newspaper editor in the northwest as well as the public generally. But Mr. Strahorn is not yet ready to unbosom himself on that point.

He did say while here, however, or at least he is charged as stating while here, that the North Coast does not own the North Yakima & Valley line, has no sort of an option on that property and does not contemplate its use as an integral part of the North Coast system, and that the new line will have its own right of way and rails up the Naches.

Mr. Strahorn is further quoted as saying that the North Coast is in no way connected with the Yakima Valley Transportation company, which owns the electric line, and that it has no designs on that property.

Mr. Strahorn also stated that the North Coast road would be completed into North Yakima by Jan. 1, 1910, and that it would have in operation by that date 100 miles of road within the state, according to franchise requirements.

It is reported that the promoters of the North Coast have about made up their minds to give up their right of way along the west side of Union Gap, for which that road contended in the courts for two years against the Northern Pacific, finally securing from the supreme court a decision that is by no means satisfactory to the new line. It is said that Engineer Pitman has this week been making a close examination of the east bank of the river through Union Gap with the purpose of locating a new right of way. This change would necessarily mean the construction of two bridges across the Yakima, unless the entire route should be changed between Grandview and North Yakima, in which case only one new bridge would be required.

PLATS ARE NOW ON FILE NIGHT SESSION PROVES LIVELY

OF LANDS ENTITLED TO WATER REPARTEE BY ALABAMA MAN

Reclamation Office Has Basis for Water Applications to Land Under the Sunnyside Project.

Plats have been received at the United States land office here, according to an announcement made by Register Saint Thursday, of the lands which will be placed under irrigation from the Sunnyside project in 1909 and subsequent seasons. These plats are filed as a basis for applications for water rights for irrigable areas of private lands. Lands which will be placed under irrigation from the Sunnyside project this year and in subsequent seasons are, as hitherto announced, sections 11, 20; 11, 21; 10, 21; 10, 22; 10, 23; 9, 22; 9, 23; 8, 24; and 9, 24. Water is to be furnished for that portion of the land shown on the list on file in the land office, land which has hitherto received water and is now in cultivation. Water for the remainder of the irrigable portion will be procurable from time to time as announced. Water right applications may be made for the irrigable areas shown on the plats.

Charges Are Announced.
Charges as announced in the latest circular from Washington will be $2 per acre of the irrigable land for the building of the system, payable in 10 annual installments, and for operation and maintenance a minimum charge at present and according to rates, at a later date, the rates to be fixed after data has been procured. For the present the charge will be 95 cents per acre for operation and maintenance for irrigable land for which water is ready whether the water is used or not. No water will be furnished until the first instalment of operating and maintenance charges has been paid. Failure to make any two payments may result in cancellation of granted rights.

Thomas of Kentucky Makes Maiden Speech—Burnett Calls Cushman of Washington Committee "Baby."

WASHINGTON, April 1.—At the night session of the house Thomas of Kentucky, a new democratic member, made his maiden speech. By quoting figures from Dunn's Review, Thomas endeavored to show that the price of labor had decreased 30 per cent instead of increased 19 per cent, as claimed by the bureau of labor. He based his contention on the claim that the cost of living had increased 49 per cent.

Burnett of Alabama declared that the Payne bill was aimed directly at American womanhood. Burnett discussed false teeth, hosiery, garters and other apparel for women, "which those gentlemen have unblushingly put into the bill."

Though not surprised at the "more ancient" members of the committee he said he was shocked at the unprovoked treatment accorded the women by the princely young gentleman from Ohio (Longworth), the gallant and chivalrous gentleman from West Virginia (Gaines), the fiery and impetuous youth from Michigan (Fordney), and the committee baby from Washington (Cushman).

Elks Install Officers.
The Elks held their annual installation of officers last evening. The new officers are: Thomas Grady, exalted ruler; Dr. A. J. Helton, leading knight; Frank Sharkey, esteemed loyal knight; Harry H. Andrews, esteemed lecturing knight; C. Roy King, secretary; H. C. Lucas, treasurer; Harry McSpadden, tyler. The Elks orchestra furnished music during the social hour.

GOVERNOR COSGROVE DEAD

Washington's Invalid Governor Died at Paso Robles Sunday Morning—Funeral at Olympia.

Samuel Godlove Cosgrove, sixth governor of the state of Washington, died at Paso Robles, Cal., Sunday, March 28, at 3:30 a. m. of Bright's disease. The governor died very suddenly. Mrs. Cosgrove was the only person with him at the time but so quickly did the final death summons come that there was no opportunity for parting words between the devoted couple.

The news of the governor's sudden demise was a surprise to the people of the state, as the news had been published far and wide that the governor's health was improving constantly and that he was feeling so much better that he planned to return to Olympia by May 1 and take up the duties of his office.

The remains of the late governor arrived at Olympia at 6 a. m. Wednesday morning. The funeral was a state function and was held at 1:30 the same day, the body being interred in the Masonic cemetery, south of the capital city.

The remains were met at Portland by Gov. Hay and his staff and a legislative committee, consisting of senators and representatives.

The casket, which contained all that was mortal of the late governor was literally covered up with flowers. Among the floral pieces was a bouquet of lilies of the valley sent by former Vice President Fairbanks and wife, who are now visiting in California. The late governor and the former vice president were old friends, having been college chums in Ohio, 40 odd years ago.

Gov. Cosgrove was born in Ohio in 1847 and was therefore at the time of his death 62 years of age. At the age of 16 he enlisted in the union army and remained to the end of the war. He took up his residence at Pomeroy, this state, in 1882, following the practice of law. He was also a farmer on a large scale, cultivating a 1400-acre ranch near Pomeroy. He leaves an estate valued at $40,000. His family consists of the widow and three children. The latter are Mrs. Kinmer and Elliott Cosgrove of Seattle and Howard Cosgrove of Olympia, who is private secretary of Gov. Hay, who will fill out the unexpired term of the late governor.

Marion E. Hay, elected as lieutenant governor, took the oath as governor Monday to succeed the late Gov. Cosgrove.

YAKIMA GRILL OPENS.

Manager Schroeder Furnishes Music and Meals at Night.

The popular Yakima Grill with an excellent orchestra opened April 1st with a night service which is expected to eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted before in this city.

The grill will be open every night until 1 o'clock in the morning. The Elite orchestra augmented with a singer and violinist discourses sweet music beginning at 6 o'clock and continuing throughout the entire evening.

WILL CONTEST LAW

Chinese Restaurant Men Will Refuse to Remove Boxes Until Ordered to Do So By the Supreme Court.

As the Democrat goes to press the case of the city versus five Chinese restaurant keepers is on trial in the superior court. This is an action brought by the city to abate the box nuisance in local restaurants, the maintaining of which is contrary to a city ordinance. The war was begun two weeks ago by the arrest of five Mongolian restaurant keepers for refusal to remove the boxes. The five restaurant keepers, with the wealthy Sam Chong at their head, have organized to fight the case out with the city, and have employed Attorney H. J. Snively as their counsel. It is understood that they intend to fight the case through the supreme court if necessary. As it will require several months to do this, there is little likelihood that the boxes will be banished at once.

The city authorities claim that the restaurant boxes are the scenes of high jinks and disorderly conduct generally every night until a late hour, and that their existence has been the cause of numerous young girls being led astray by tough men, who meet girls and women in the boxes by appointment. The police have been watching the night restaurants closely for some time and have, it is claimed, collected a good deal of damaging evidence.

The defense, on the other hand, assert that the charges made are for the most part untrue. The restaurants are conducted in an orderly manner, they say, and that there is no just cause for the prosecution, especially since all curtains at the box entrances have been removed, thus doing away with all secrecy.

Mr. Snively says that the public would be much inconvenienced if the boxes were to be abolished, as many people, especially women with children desiring and are entitled to a degree of privacy in public eating houses. Unless the city "dads" recede from their position the case will be a bitterly contested one.

PARKER TOWNSITE SALE.

Lots in the new town of Parker will be placed on sale today for the first time by the Parker Townsite Co., composed of Geo. S. Rankin and Alex. E. McCready. The sale starts today at 1:30 p. m. at the company's office in the Hotel Yakima building.

The Parker townsite is located on the Yakima Indian reservation about midway between Yakima City and Wapato. It is surrounded by a rich agricultural country, most of the contiguous land being adapted to the production of fancy fruit.

Messrs. Rankin and McCready are the original promoters of the Wapato townsite, which they placed on the market some five or six years ago. The great success of their Wapato enterprise is now well known local history. They feel that they will meet with equal success with Parker.

HUNTING BEARS.

You Meet a Wounded Grizzly Give Him a Wide Berth.

A wounded grizzly is a mean thing to fight, and if there is a tree handy it is a pretty good thing to climb if anything gets wrong with your shooting irons. I do not think a grizzly will climb a tree, though brown and black bears will. Any bear is pretty sure to fight if crippled, but I know there is this difference between a black or brown bear and a grizzly: If you meet a black bear face to face unexpectedly give him five seconds and he will be out of sight, but meet a grizzly the same way and give him five seconds and you will be out of business.

About the most fascinating way to hunt bear, which is even better than night work, is to trail him right to his home and meet him in broad daylight on his own doorstep, as it were. It can be done, but everything must be just right. The ground might be covered with a light fall of snow, and the snow ought to be melting. Then the twigs won't break. One has to be very careful, and when bruin is found, which is generally at the foot of a large tree, one must never forget that instead of one there may be two, and, in that case, one must be able to shoot fast and straight, and implicit confidence in the gun he carries is about the best stock in trade a man can possess. About the surest place to shoot a bear to stop him quickly, to my way of thinking, is directly in the brain. It is really not a hard shot, usually at short range, and it puts him out mighty quick.—Field and Stream.

Burned at the Stake.

As late as the end of the eighteenth century counterfeiters were publicly burned at the stake in London. On March 18, 1789, Christiane Murphy was executed at Newgate tower, London, for the crime of "coinage." She was bound to the stake seated on a stool, the main tie being a cord around the neck. The funeral pyre was then lighted by the executioner and his deputies, one of the latter of whom finally jerked the stool from under the wretched creature, allowing the weight to fall on her neck. Within forty-eight minutes the body was entirely reduced to ashes and buried in a hole on the spot where the execution took place.

The Unit of Heat.

We cannot, of course, measure heat by yards, pints or pounds, but the unit of heat, the standard measure of that phenomenon, has been agreed upon by those whose business it is to philosophize on that subject to be that quantity which can raise a pound of water one degree. Now, to turn a pound of water into a pound of steam it requires 967 of these units of heat—that is to say, if we boil a pound of water until it all goes away in steam we shall have used in doing so a quantity of heat which would have raised 967 pounds of water one degree higher in temperature.

PAYING IN CENTS.

Creditors May Refuse Large Sums of Small Change.

Ordinarily when a debtor appears before a long time creditor there is no questioning of the United States coin in which the debt is to be paid, but the wide possibilities possessed by an arbitrary creditor in stipulating at what coins and in what amounts he will receive payment are enough almost to discourage borrowing.

You can't force a mean creditor to take more than 25 cents' worth of nickels or 25 cents' worth of copper cents. If you could get as much as $5 worth of old silver three cent pieces of another generation you could unload $5 worth on him, just as he would have to take $5 worth of the silver five cent pieces and $5 worth of the obsolete twenty cent pieces, which made so much trouble in the late seventies. But you can pay out $10 in silver dimes and silver quarters and silver half dollars. The trade dollars, of which there are a few still coming into the treasury of the United States for redemption, are worth nothing, while the standard dollar is an unlimited legal tender, as is the old "dollar of our dads," the first of which was coined in 1794 and the last in 1872.

Coins that virtually have disappeared from circulation are gold three dollar and one dollar pieces, the trade dollar of silver, the nickel three cent piece, the copper two cent piece, the copper half cent and silver three and five cent pieces.—Omaha World-Herald.

The Evil Eye.

Antiquity held that certain women of Scythia, being provoked and vexed against some men, had the power to kill them only with their looks. The tortoiseshells and ostriches hatch their eggs with their looks only, a sign that they have some ejaculative virtue. And concerning witches, they are said to have offensive and harmworking eyes.—Montaigne.

A Deadly Poisonous Beeswax.

Wax is a substance secreted by bees that is said to be analogous to the fat of the higher animals. In Patagonia, Tierra del Fuego and other portions of southern South America honey is never eaten. In the countries mentioned all beeswax is a livid, whitish, blue color and more poisonous than either strychnine or arsenic.

A Mind Reader.

One night at a court ball in the Tuilleries Napoleon III. was so attentive to a beautiful young woman as to excite comment among the other women. At last, in response to a direct tribute to her beauty, she said: "Ah, but your majesty compliments me too much!" "How remarkable," he replied with a twinkle in his eye, "that you should say just what every other woman here is thinking!"

THE SPIRIT OF HOME.

It Must Be Within You if You Would Create a Home.

To create a home you must have the spirit of home. Just as the smallest village may have its history, its moral stamp, so the smallest home may have its soul. Oh, the spirit of place, the atmosphere which surrounds us in human dwellings! What a world of mystery!

Here even on the threshold the cold begins to penetrate; you are ill at ease something intangible repulses you.

There no sooner does the door, however in than friendliness and good humor envelop you. It is said that walls have ears. They have also voices, a mute eloquence. Everything that a dwelling contains is bathed in an ether of personality. And I find proof of its quality even in the apartments of such colors and solitary women.

What an abyss between one room and another room!

Here all is dead, indifferent, commonplace; the device of the owner is written all over it even in his fashion of arranging his photographs and books. All is the same to me! There one breathes in animation, a contagious joy in life. The visitor hears repeated in countless fashion: "Whoever you are, guest of an hour, I wish you well. Peace be with you!"—Charles Wagner.

Southern Industries.

Not only does the south now take more than half of the cotton output used in this country, but on June 30 last there were twenty-nine cotton mills under construction. But the south is making gigantic strides in other directions as well as cotton manufacture. The tons of mine products in the territory traversed by the Southern railroad alone increased by 1,190, 166, or 17 per cent, last year over the preceding year. In the same territory during the year investments in lumber and other woodworking enterprises completed amounted to over $5,000,000 and in additions to existing plants to about $2,500,000. The capital invested in tanneries completed during the year amounted to about $600,000 and in additions to existing plants to about $380,000. Our protective tariff is accomplishing wonders for the south and dissipating the old free trade sentiment. Is it not about time that this sentiment should be expressed at the polls?

A "Natty" Problem Solved.

"Will the Democrats go to the polls next year as a united party?" was asked of William J. Bryan as he was going over the gangplank to take a steamer for Europe. Of course the great man had no time to enter into an elaborate argument, so he philosophically disposed of the matter by saying: "I think all Democrats will be united at the polls, but not, of course, those who are not Democrats. Those who are not Democrats will not be with the Democrats." Thus is a "natty" problem actually solved.—South Bend Tribune.

MAYOR GIVES WOMEN FROSTY RECEPTION

It now develops that the anti-vice crusade which began Thursday night at the instance of the secret committee of the Civic Federation, was not due alone to that body. The refusal of Mayor P. M. Armbruster to recognize a petition signed by about 60 property owners in the vicinity of the restricted district established near the gas works, which was presented to him by two women, is directly responsible for touching off the smoldering explosion that has been underlying the objectionable element for the last two weeks.

Women Interview Mayor.

Last Thursday two women with a petition signed by about 60 residents near the gas works, called upon the mayor and asked him to cause the district to be removed. These women report that the mayor became very indignant and told them that if they would keep their noses out of city affairs the question would be solved properly. They asked him how. He told them that it was his plan to get all the objectionable characters out of the downtown buildings into the inclosure. When they questioned such a policy the mayor is said to have become angry and told the women he did not know or care what became of the matter then.

The women pointed out that the district lay in their very dooryards, was a menace to their families, and depreciated the value of their property. The mayor gave them audience but told them to keep their hands off and allow him to take care of the situation.

Appeal to Council Members.

A consultation of women was held after the interview and it was decided to appeal to certain members of the council. In the meantime an emissary of the special committee of the Civic Federation was having a conference with those same members. When the women put in an appearance and told of their meeting with the mayor and its result, the four members of the council who were responsible for the order to clear out, got together and decided to take matters out of the mayor's hands.

Now that the ball has started to rolling it is declared by those behind the movement that it will be kept going, that no district in any location will be allowed to start, and special counsel will be hired, if necessary, to prosecute landlords and property owners who willfully assist in breaking the law.

LOWER NACHES.

V. E. Newman spent the last of the week in Seattle on business.

Ed Kershaw is screening the porch on three sides of his house, putting a new fence about the house lot, painting his buildings, and making other improvements.

The friends of Jay Wardwell are glad to see him about again. He is recovering rapidly from his operation.

Miss Mayne Wyser is visiting at the Newmans'. Frank Coats took dinner there Sunday.

The special meeting of the Brotherhood was held at the church, the committee on rural routes and good roads reporting progress. The next regular meeting will be Thursday evening, April 1, the subject for discussion being "Naches Beautiful." Papers will be read comparing this with Wenatchee and other well known valleys.

Mrs. Ben Chaney, Mrs. G. F. Gerry, Miss Edyth Whitmore spent Thursday with Mrs. Ed Kershaw. Sewing was the amusement.

The Ladies' Union meet with Mrs. Hatfield Wednesday, making aprons is the order. The ladies are preparing for quite an extensive Easter sale.

"Personal Experiences in Coming Into His Kingdom" will be the topic of Rev. Whitmore's sermon next Sunday. The congregation taxes the seating capacity of the house nearly every Sunday, and that new church or addition will have to be started soon.

The subject for the C. E. meeting will be "Great Missionary Books, Home and Foreign," with Mrs. W. B. Friend as the leader, next Sunday eve.

George Mattoon sold 40 acres of dry land last week at $40 per acre. He paid $5 per acre for it a year ago.

WATER READY FOR SUNNYSIDE LANDS

Plats Filed in Land Office Show Irrigable Area to Be Sup- plied This Year.

Water will be furnished from the Sunnyside project, under the provisions of the reclamation act, for the irrigable land shown on township plats of the following now on file in the local land office: Township 11, ranges 20 and 21; township 10, ranges 21, 22 and 23; township 9, ranges 22, 23 and 24, and township 8, range 24. These plats were approved on March 2 by the secretary of the interior and have just been received here.

Water will be furnished for the irrigation season of 1909 for that portion of the land which has heretofore received water from the Sunnyside project and is now under cultivation. The water will be furnished for the remaining portions of the irrigable land from time to time as the announcement shall be made that the water is available.

Water right applications may be made for the irrigable land upon the plats. The charges shall be made per acre in two parts, as follows:

Details of Charges.

1. The building of the irrigation system, $52 an acre of irrigable land, payable in not more than ten annual installments, each payment not less than $5.20 an acre or some multiple thereof, provided, however, that full payment may be made at any time of any balance remaining due, after certification has been made by the commissioner of the general land office that full and satisfactory compliance has been shown with all the requirements of the law as to residence, cultivation and reclamation.

2. For operation and maintenance, which will, as soon as the data are available, be fixed in proportion to the amount of water used, with a minimum charge per acre of irrigable land, whether water is used thereon or not. The operation and maintenance charge for the irrigation season of 1909, and until further notice, will be 95 cents an acre of irrigable land for which water is ready for the irrigation season of 1909, whether water is used thereon or not.

Toppenish Board of Education Orders Plans Drawn for Fine Structure.

Toppenish is to have another new school house. Architect A. K. Thompson returned to North Yakima this afternoon after having visited Toppenish where he completed arrangements with the directors for plans to be furnished for the new building. The new structure will cost $20,000. It will be two stories high and will have eight rooms, besides small class rooms and offices for the instructors and principal. Concrete blocks will be used for the superstructure. This will make the third school building for the reservation city.

"Toppenish is certainly enjoying a rapid and substantial growth," said Mr. Thompson this morning. "There are several fine office buildings now in course of construction and scores of new residences are going up in every section of town. They have needed another school building for some time. This last winter the schools were especially crowded. An old church building and a private dwelling house were pressed into service." Mr. Thompson will have the plans for the new building completed within a short time.

DIVORCE FOR KRUPP'S DAUGHTER.

Report is that She is Living Unhappily With Her Husband.

Chicago, March 31.—A Tribune cablegram from Berlin says that it is reported at Essen that there is a probability of divorce proceedings between Herr and Mme. von Bohlen Undee Halbach, who was Miss Bertha Krupp. It is reported that they are living unhappily together, especially since the death of their infant son two months ago.

Many Complaints Made.

A number of complaints have come from Toppenish and other reservation towns to the effect that there is much liquor being sold in them by persons who have no license. Oliver Lachapell has made the complaint on which the warrants in the above cases were issued. Prosecuting Attorney Ward is determined to put a stop to the practice if possible.

Claims and Transfers Discussed.

Schenectady, N. Y., March 24.—The ninth quarterly meeting of the Street Railway association of the state of New York was held in this city today with a large and representative attendance. "Claims" and "Transfers" were the principal subjects discussed at the meeting.

THE WEST IS SACRIFICED.

The Payne tariff bill, now before congress, is a measure that has been skillfully drawn in the interest of the east and against the interest of the people of the Pacific coast and the south, who for the most part are producers of raw materials. In nearly all cases the finished products of the east are well taken care of in the new schedules, although there are no changes made in the schedules of the existing Dingley law in the great majority of dutiable articles, numbering nearly 5000 in all. The Payne bill, except in the matter of providing for free hides, free lead and zinc ore, free coal, provisionally, and a cut in lumber duties to $1 per thousand, etc., will leave the average duty, especially on manufactured articles as high, perhaps a trifle higher, than ever.

The wool schedule, however, has been left almost untouched, only a slight reduction having been made in the coarser grades of that product, notably carpet wools. Why or how the western sheepmen managed to escape the general assault on western industries has not yet been explained. Perhaps the fact is due to the flockmasters' acquaintance with Mr. Taft's campaign manager. At any rate, the wool producers with their usual good luck, are coming through almost unscathed.

It is not unlikely that lumber will be placed on the free list before the bill becomes a law, as the congressmen from all the prairie states are demanding it and free coal as well. The Payne bill provides that coal shall be admitted free only from such countries as extend the same privilege to American shippers. As neither Canada nor Australia levy a duty on American coal, the Payne bill means free trade in coal, so far as the state of Washington is concerned.

The industries of the state of Washington are being crucified by the republican tariff tinkers! No wonder Cushman and Humphrey are belching forth fire and brimstone and threats that the west will go democratic in their numerous congressional speeches.

Fifteen years ago when the harmless Wilson bill made a few conservative changes in the schedules on western products the republican politicians of this state almost hollered their heads off. Many men already ripe for the bankruptcy court, by reason of a long and vicious period of speculation, blamed the democratic policy for their misfortunes. And the republican newspapers, we well remember too, persistently damned the democratic party on the ill founded charge of legislating against western industries in the Wilson bill.

But now the shoe is on the other foot and the g. o. p. of this state is painfully, oppressively, silent. Even that great oracle, the Post-Intelligencer, has shut up like a clam. Could partisan servitude go farther?

DEATH OF COSGROVE.

The death of Gov. Cosgrove, while not unexpected, is a matter of general regret to the people of this state, regardless of party affiliation.

The invalid governor made a brave fight against an insidious disease in order that he might live to fulfil his public duty to the state, having been elected governor in November last for a four year term. Even when nominated the fact was evident to all but those who would not see that the man was stricken with a deadly disease and that his days were numbered. Even then he was a very sick man, for the heat and bitterness of the long campaign had worn him out. After being nominated he was elected easily enough, for there was a general feeling of sympathy and pity for the plucky man. For it was known of all men that Mr. Cosgrove had an ambition to become governor for over a score of years, and now that an accident of politics had at last thrown the coveted office within his reach, death threatened to cheat him out of it. However, his friends made political capital of the unfortunate condition of the nominee and used his illness as a means of getting votes. "Mr. Cosgrove has had a lifelong ambition to become governor," they said, "and in his condition it would kill the old man to be beaten now." That was enough, for the sentiment of the voters had been touched, and they did the rest. No one could but admire the optimism and splendid courage of Mr. Cosgrove in arising from his deathbed in California and journeying to Olympia in stormy weather to take the oath of office. No doubt the effort required to do this shortened his days, but the sick governor fretted to do his plain public duty. The act itself was of good import, for it deposed the holdover governor, Mead, and made the lieutenant governor, Hay, chief magistrate of this commonwealth until January, 1913.

It is unfortunate that Gov. Cosgrove is dead; it is, perhaps, still more unfortunate that a weak man, lacking public confidence in his ability, is to serve out his term. It is an unfortunate condition for the state all around.

The sympathy of the people of the state goes out to the grief stricken family of the late governor, especially to the faithful wife, who so bravely fought the battle with death for her husband's life, and who seemed to cheat the Grim Destroyer of his prey, at least for a time.

DRIVE THE TRAITORS OUT!

The 23 traitors in the democratic congressional camp, who sold out to Speaker Cannon and the interests, should be drummed out of the party. And without doubt such of them who hail from the south will be. As for the half dozen who represent Tammany hall districts, of course, it may be impossible to eliminate them from public life, for that organization of traders and traitors can see nothing wrong in the trade made with Cannon. But there will be some way to get at them.

Late revelations show the fact that an infamous deal was arranged months ago between Pat McCarren, the notorious Brooklyn boss and legislative agent of the Standard Oil Co., and sugar trust, and "Old Uncle Joe" for the delivery of the votes of the 23 democratic traitors to sustain the Cannon organization. In return for their much needed support Cannon agreed to give all the congressmen of the "McCarren bunch" desirable committee appointments and special consideration in the new tariff bill for the benefit of certain industries in their respective districts. That Old Uncle Joe further guaranteed McCarren satisfaction in the new sugar and oil schedules may, of course, safely be taken for granted, for that was the main purpose of the smooth and crafty McCarren.

Champ Clark, the leader of the 144 intrepid democrats in congress who have stood by their colors and fought Cannonism to the last ditch, is entirely justified in publicly castigating the 23 traitors in his own camp. But he should go still farther and demand their exclusion hereafter from the democratic caucus, which would be equivalent to reading them out of the democratic party.

Cannonism is a vile and noxious plant that feeds on public corruption. But unfortunately it is quite firmly rooted now in government soil and is therefore a difficult nuisance to extirpate. There is now only one way by which it can be done, and that is through the election of a democratic house of representatives. And that is what will happen in 1910, for the people of this country are now thoroughly sick of Old Uncle Joe and the rotten system that he stands for. There is no other way to get rid of him.

IT IS GOV. HAY NOW.

Mr. Hay, our new governor, is the real thing now. He says that he will endeavor to give the state a business-like administration and that he will remove no man from public office without cause. As to the first part of that statement we can all hope that he will. However, we would have more faith in the promise if the governor had made a better showing thus far. To have given the state a business-like administration he should have begun by cutting out a number of rascally items from the appropriation bill, instead of taking the cowardly stand of permitting the bill to become a law without his signature.

As for the governor's announcement that he will remove no man from office except for cause, that is a statement that has doubtless been accepted with heartfelt gratitude by the crowd that is now in, but taken with bad grace by the gang that wants to get in. But the people are not concerned about the troubles of the office seekers. Whether for good or bad, Mr. Hay is our governor. As such he is justly entitled to a fair trial. Let us hope that he will give the state a creditable administration.

We believe it would have been very much better for the people of this state if Hon. Henry McBride had been chosen as governor last fall. McBride, no matter what his enemies have said about him, is a man of great ability and splendid courage. If he were governor now the state treasury would not be plundered and threatened with bankruptcy by a lot of grafters and nincompoop legislators. There is no state in the union probably that needs a strong man in the governor's chair worse than does the state of Washington.

The determination of the Knights of Pythias drsor, Qssracmfwyetaoicmfwyp Columbus to restore and preserve the buildings and site of the old Ahtanum mission is a most laudable one and should meet with general commendation in the Yakima valley. The old Catholic mission on the Ahtanum was the first settlement of white men in all this great section, probably antedating 1845, unfortunately the exact date not being now known. It is most fitting that the old mission house be restored and the grounds be properly kept, for the spot sacred to many, has a historical as well as a religious interest.

Mayor Armbruster is a late convert to the use of sulphur water. His honor is said to have arrived at the conclusion that the sparkling waters from a subterranean flow is equally as healthful as the famous home brewed beer, therefore he recommends the artesian brand for general use. Furthermore, it is stated that his honor has given the new drink a fair and impartial trial and that he is now thoroughly satisfied of its fat producing qualities and has recommended its constant use to his friend and mentor, Col. Robertson.

Washington should be abreast of her sister states on the Pacific and have a law that would prevent race miscegenation. The spectacle of a cultured American girl traveling all the way from San Francisco to Seattle to marry a Japanese servant, simply because there is no law in this state to prevent such an unfortunate union, is one that is not relished by the average citizen.

In less than 20 years of statehood two of Washington's governors have died in office, Rogers and Cosgrove. Elisha P. Terry, the first governor of the state, was an invalid and while he did not die in office he did die very soon after the expiration of his term in 1893. Three ex-governors are living, McGraw, McBride and Mead. Mr. McBride was not elected governor, having been called to the office through the death of Gov. John R. Rogers.

The civic union simply wouldn't stand for Mayor Armbruster's "stockade," and his honor appears to have surrendered at the first volley. With all due respect to the civic union we are inclined to think that the mayor was nearer right in that matter than his critics. But unfortunately the mayor and "his council" took to their heels at the first onslaught, leaving their friends, who had invested their good hard money in the ill-starred enterprise, to look out for themselves.

After a blood-sweating, heart-breaking campaign between the three candidates for governor last year the fates have finally decreed that none should have the prize, but that it should go finally to a man unknown and untried, whom nobody expected would land it. "The best laid plans of mice and men gang aft a'gle."

Some of our republican friends hereabouts are appalled at the prospect of having Mr. Hay for their governor for four years. It is said that those who could did pray most fervently that the Lord might spare Gov. Cosgrove, in order that such a calamity might be averted.

Now that the love lorn Miss Emery has finally got her Japanese husband according to the story writers she ought to be happy. But the chances are that in such an ill-assorted union neither of them will be for long. Since his mother-in-law is to live with them perhaps the Jap will have occasion to rue the bargain first.

FINE HOME FOR C. H. HINMAN.

Will Build $5000 House on Sanitarium Road West of City.

Charles H. Hinman is going to build one of the finest homes on Nob Hill. Architect A. K. Thompson has just completed plans for a $5000 house for him, work on which will begin soon. Mr. Hinman's property is at the top of the hill on the Sanitarium road. It commands a fine view of the entire valley. The new house will contain nine rooms and there will be a basement. The house will be heated by hot water. Several other buildings are going up in that vicinity. Most of them are neat and up to date structures. The city is growing towards the west. Several additions are being platted and put on the market and lots in all of them are being sold to advantage. The Lesh place is soon to be platted.

BIG MOXEE RANCH TO BE DRAINED

Three thousand acres of land, known to be as good as any in the Yakima valley, are to be saved from the destructive work of King Alkali by the Moxee Ranch company of this city. The work of draining this immense area is to begin immediately, states H. B. Scudder, one of the owners of the Moxee ranch. Yesterday two cars of machinery arrived in the city consigned to George Kerr, manager of the Moxee ranch. Today it is being unloaded and hauled in parts to the Moxee valley. The machinery comprises the huge steam ditcher and its accessories, recently purchased by the company for this work.

Voted Against Drainage.

Two years ago the question of draining the entire Moxee was presented to the resident and property holders of the valley for consideration. To drain or not to drain was the issue. The question of establishing drainage districts was put to a vote and defeated.

The Moxee company, realizing it could not afford to lose the valuable land held, began some time ago to make arrangements to do the work itself. Accordingly the large steam ditcher was purchased and an expert engineer engaged to look after the work. The equipment has arrived and the engineer will be here in a day or so. He comes from Seattle.

Drain Entire Valley.

"After we get started we will be in position to do work for any other land owner who may desire his land drained," said H. B. Scudder this morning. "We know that it will be necessary to drain the land if we expect to retain its value. The entire Moxee valley must be worked. We have no idea what the cost will be and probably will not have until we get into the work. It is a duty which can be overlooked no longer, we feel."

"It will probably take a year to complete the entire system of draining. We have a ditcher with a capacity of 500 yards a day. It will dig a trench 20 feet deep at any slope we may desire. The work will be prosecuted vigorously and will be begun immediately."

Could Have Saved School Section. Mr. Scudder says the land on the school section which has become practically valueless because of alkali, could have been saved had the residents of that section taken the precautionary steps.

PLANT TO RUN IN FALL

Stockholders of the Mortland Manufacturing company, which is planning to build the biggest cider and vinegar works this side of Chicago, held an adjourned annual meeting last night and elected a new board of directors. M. M. Richards and I. H. Dills were chosen as members of the board from North Yakima, and T. S. Mortland, S. G. Mortland and E. Mortland, of Seattle, the old members, were re-elected. The time of the annual meetings was changed from January 1 to July 1 of each year, and they will be held in North Yakima. The company has purchased four and one-half acres near the Rex Spray works for a site for the plant, and as soon as Foreman J. B. Hileman returns from an inspection trip of similar plants in the east, construction will begin. The plant will have a capacity of 6,000 tons of apples and pears during the season. The building will be finished in time to take care of this year's crop.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give $100 for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

A.-Y.-P. FAIR IS TO BE THE MOST BEAUTIFUL

Combination of Natural Beauties and Architectural Skill Never Equalled.

Seattle, March 30.—With the combination of natural beauties and architectural skill offered by the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, this great fair of the Pacific has already been pronounced the most beautiful ever planned. And that is because the landscape artists have worked out so many striking designs in building sunken gardens and because the whole scheme for beautifying the grounds has for a fitting background a lavish display of mountain, lake and woodland scenery. Two years ago the campus of the University of Washington, that is that portion of it where the exposition has been built, was a forest in which men, but a few years ago, had hunted the wild game native to this state. Today, handsome state, county, religious, fraternal, amusement, federal and exhibit buildings of every character are nestled in among the stately firs. Shady walks and paths have been cut through the underbrush and the old skid roads are now asphalt paved thoroughfares. holds its head always erect facing the sun, and blooms continuously throughout the summer.

A feature of the exposition is the three radiating vistas, cut through great stretches of fir trees to obtain the excellent view of the lakes and mountains seen on every side. These vistas are now carpeted with great stretches of lawn flanked on either side by walks. Roman benches and settees, as well as electric fans, have been set in place along the vistas.

Campaign for Pure Food.

The campaign for pure foods which was inaugurated recently by State Food Commissioner Davies and his deputies is being earnestly supported by city authorities at various points, and the most recent phase of the work in this city has been the inspection of candy makers and the condemning of candy that contained impurities used for flavoring or coloring. The sale of cheap and impure candies is highly dangerous to children, who are the chief patrons of small candy stands, and an especial effort will be made to see that no candy containing adulterants is sold in this city.

Flowers in profusion are now to be seen on every hand and the central court of honor is one magnificent floral display. Thousands of roses cover the slopes between the drives encircling Cascade Court and Japanese iris will succeed the roses when out of bloom. The entire court will be framed in with rhododendrons, the Washington state flower, and cactus dahlias, official flower of the exposition, have been planted among the rhododendrons, while flowering horse chestnut trees will give shade to the walks.

About the geyser basin will be more than 500,000 English tufted pansies, a beautiful and delicate plant that city during the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition.

The prosecution by the pure food authorities of the Carstens Packing company, started at Ellensburg, was dismissed by Judge Kauffman because the Carstens company was not the owner of the diseased beef that the inspectors seized. That company, however, being exonerated, has joined with the state officials to prosecute the real offenders, who tried to sell the diseased animals to the Carstens concern. The pure food campaign seems to be getting results, and Mr. Davies and his deputies deserve the heartiest cooperation in every locality.

Successful Charitable Work.

One of the most notable cases of successful charitable work that has come to the attention of local charity workers in recent months has been the curing of little Edna Smith, a four-year-old blind child, who came into the hands of the Washington Children's Home society from Pierce county about a year ago, and was regarded by the officers of that institution as a hopeless case. A local optician offered to operate on the child's eyes and did so, removing a severe infant cataract that was causing the blindness. The little girl was soon able to see quite well with the aid of glasses, and has now been adopted into a private family who will bring her up. Being blind from birth, the child was peculiarly helpless, and had been totally neglected, but today she is a bright and attractive girl, and a joy to her foster parents. Supt. Covington, of the Washington Children's Home society, declares that the case is one of the most remarkable he has ever handled.

The lumber interests of the west are meeting with much discouragement in their fight in congress for a high lumber tariff. The east seems to be solid for free lumber and the democrats, who were counted on to favor a lumber tariff to protect southern lumbermen, have come out flat-footed for free lumber. Dispatches from the capital quote Champ Clark, the minority leader in the house of representatives, as declaring that he favored free lumber for two reasons, to protect our forests and to help the working men of the country to own their own homes. When it is considered that Washington, Oregon, Idaho and California together have no more votes in the house than Massachusetts alone, it is evident what a hard up against.

DRIVE GOLDEN SPIKE FOR MILWAUKEE R. R.

Arrangements Made for Ceremony Next Week a Few Miles from Missoula.

Chicago, Mar. 27.—The latter part of the coming week, if present arrangements are carried out, the ceremony of driving a golden spike will take place a few miles from Missoula, Montana, to mark the completion of the Pacific coast extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. The new line is the latest of the transcontinental roads to be built and will afford another through route between Chicago and Seattle. One hundred millions of dollars is the estimated cost of the road.

The total length of the extension from the Missouri river to the coast is 1400 miles, and by the time it is opened the total mileage of the St. Paul system will have reached 9000 miles. The construction of the extension to the coast has occupied only three years, which is something of a record for quick work in railroad building.

The completion of the $1,000,000 bridge across the Columbia river is alone a great engineering undertaking. Altogether the construction of the road required the building of more than 20 miles of permanent bridges.

Missouri River Crossing. The new road crosses the Missouri river about 100 miles due west of Aberdeen, S. D., and then parallels the state line through the Standing Rock Indian reservation and swings into North Dakota, touching several towns on the Little Missouri river, thence it proceeds to Terry, Mont., on the Yellowstone river, following this stream to Miles City, where large division terminals are being built.

At Lombard the new line crosses the Northern Pacific and then climbs the great continental divide between Piedmont on the eastern side of the Rockies and the city of Butte on the west. At an elevation of 6350 feet the road pierces the mountains at the head of Pipestone pass. The summit work includes two tunnels respectively 2268 and 1143 feet in length, and three steel trestles over ravines from 100 to 160 feet deep and from 400 to 600 feet wide.

SCALY APPLES FROM YAKIMA ARE BURNED

Two hundred and fifty boxes of apples from North Yakima were condemned and burned Saturday in Seattle by Warren C. Pendleton, deputy state commissioner of horticulture, according to the Post-Intelligencer. These were the first apples from North Yakima to be condemned in Seattle this season. Several shipments from other points in the Yakima valley have been condemned and burned this season but the shipments from North Yakima have been comparatively free of scale or worms.

These apples were originally consigned to Victoria, B. C., were refused admission there, and then shipped to Seattle, where Commissioner Pendleton immediately condemned them. The apples were covered with scale. A shipment of 72 boxes of apples from Blaine were condemned and burned at the same time.

Not from Union.

It has not been learned in North Yakima who shipped the bad apples. Manager E. E. Samson of the Horticulture Union says he believes the apples did not go out from the union warehouse. He has been away several days but his assistants have been careful to see that all fruit shipped was inspected before leaving the warehouse.

The apples that were condemned were probably the last of some shipper's holding. Most of the shippers along commission row are getting rid of the last few hold-overs and it is possible that some one grew careless at the last moment. Regret is expressed by the growers ament the burning of the apples in Seattle. If it had not been for this one scaly shipment, North Yakima would have had a record for clean shipments that would have been hard to beat.

Farmers Fight Pests.

District Fruit Inspector T. O. Morrison returned Saturday from a trip down the valley. He says orchardists are spraying and taking the best of care of the trees. He found many orchards that will have to be treated thoroughly and he gave instructions to spray diligently and systematically.

A. J. Shaw & Sons, the well known pioneer furniture dealers, are now practically out of that business, although the firm will continue in the undertaking line. Auction sales of furniture have been held at the store for several days past until the entire stock has been disposed of.

ACRES IN DOUGLAS

President Elliott Announces a New N. P. Branch Line from Adrian to Pasco.

One hundred thousand acres of land which can be irrigated will soon be opened up by a branch line of the Northern Pacific to be built from Adrian on the Great Northern and the present terminus of the Washington Central, to Pasco. This land is in Douglas county and borders the Moses Lake region.

President Howard Elliott of the Northern Pacific made the above announcement in Seattle Tuesday. He is accredited with the following interview in the Post-Intelligencer:

"I cannot say just when we shall begin work on the Moses lake line, for I have many very important matters to attend to which will not permit of my taking up the matter of this branch line. The survey is through a beautiful country, and if irrigated it will in time become as fertile as the Wenatchee or Yakima valleys. I am out here for the sole purpose of completing the sale of some of our lands in the state and shall be here but a day and in Tacoma a day, for I must be in New York on April 7. Later I expect after looking into the Spokane rate case more thoroughly, to take up the question of building this Moses lake road, which, once started, will be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

Feeder for Northern Pacific.
"This line will be a very important feeder to the Northern Pacific, for it will give an outlet to all our wheat tonnage from the Big Bend country instead of sending it back to Cheney or over the mountains by transfer to the Great Northern. By connecting with the North Bank road at Pasco we have almost a water level haul from the great wheat country of the Big Bend.

"It took the interstate commerce commission two years to make its decision in the Spokane rate case and it would be impossible for anyone to interpret it properly in the few short weeks since it was given out. Transportation men must not only interpret its full meaning but take weeks to figure the new rates out to the needy required in the railway business. It takes time, and I do not think any man would be justified in giving an opinion until, as I say, he has gone to the very depths of the question."

MABTON CANAL LEAKS BADLY.

Government Engineers Have Trouble About Getting Water to Syphon.

Some time ago a large number of farmers owning valuable ranches under the canal leading to the Mabton syphon united in signing a petition to the reclamation officials protesting against turning water into the said ditch unless it was first lined with cement.

It was not lined and a couple of weeks ago the water was turned into the canal in tremendous quantities. For days the water was poured into the canal before a drop of it reached the opening of the syphon. At this point there is a weir or settling board about four feet high, to which height the water must rise before it can flow into the syphon. Ranchers who watched the water say it was nearly four days after the water finally reached that point, before the canal would hold enough of the immense torrent to reach the top of the board. Sometimes it would just about get there, when suddenly the water would find another big hole somewhere along the canal, and down it would go until the bottom of the canal would be bare. Once or twice a small, weak stream, about as big as one's arm, was gotten into the syphon. When it was there it is alleged that even the syphon began to leak through the pores of the cement. Water was shut off for a few days while a force of men tried to fill the bottom of the canal with dirt and also painted the outside of the cement tube in the hope of thus making it water tight. Tuesday last a large force of men, under the direction of an engineer, was scraping dirt to the edge of the canal and shoveling it into the water, in the hope that some of it might sink and find its way into the cracks and crevices among the gravel. —Prosser Record.

TWO CLASSES COME WEST

J. C. Mason, of Chicago, has purchased 40 acres of Tieton land from Calhoun, Denny & Ewing, and will set the whole tract to fruit trees and improve the place for a home. Mr. Mason has spent a month in the state of Washington and finally decided to locate in the Yakima valley.

"Things are pretty dead in the east just now," said Mr. Mason this morning. "In Buffalo, N. Y., wages have recently been reduced 10 per cent. That city has had hard sledding for several years and there are others that have had their troubles. I suppose the cost of living is no greater here than in the east, while wages are much higher. It is this condition that is driving people from the east to the west. The movement is beneficial to both sections of the country. A surplus of labor is taken off the eastern market and finds employment in the west. Small investors are also looking to the west to place their savings where they will bring the greatest returns. So, it appears to me that the west is getting two classes in particular, the wage worker and the small investor, although capitalists are also placing their money in this country."

Overlooked His Opportunity.

Acting Governor Hay, by allowing the general budget appropriation bill, and a number of bills making special appropriations, to become laws without his signature, has overlooked an opportunity to render the people of this state a service he might have rendered them.

If he thought that some of the appropriations ought not to have been authorized, or that some of them were too large, he should have vetoed them; on the other hand, if he regarded the appropriations as proper, purpose and amount both considered, he should have signed the bills, thus showing a disposition to share equally with his associates in the administration whatever responsibility may attach to these enactments.—Seattle P-I.

Failed to Do His Duty.

He (Gov. Hay) should have used a pruning knife on those appropriations, and he should have spared nothing unnecessary. That $30,000 gift to Spokane for the entertainment of the irrigation congress should have received attention, as well as others of these money spending proposals. But here we have the whole thing—Wenatchee bridge, irrigation congress and all. There has been none to stand between the taxpayer and the most extravagant legislature which this state has ever known. In failing to interpose executive authority, the acting governor has signally failed to perform his whole duty.—Aberdeen World.

INSPECT INTAKE.

Mayor and Council, With Expert, Look at Water Company's Plant.

Members of the city council, Mayor Armbruster, W. J. Roberts, the water expert, and City Engineer Doolittle, went up the Naches river this afternoon, to go over the lines of the Northwest Light & Water Co., and inspect the intake. Expert Roberts and Engineer Doolittle made a trip over the line yesterday and Mr. Roberts wanted the council to make a trip with him.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

Brief Record of Local Happenings for the Week in North Yakima and Vicinity.

Will Johnson, the Easton merchant, was a Yakima visitor Wednesday.

The Yakima Mortgage-Loan Co. was incorporated recently by O. A. Fechter and L. O. Janek.

N. P. Hull has sold his Ahtanum ranch of 44 acres, highly improved, to Frank Jordan of this city for $16,000.

J. P. Melrose, mayor of Puyallup, was in the city this week looking after his property interests. Mayor Melrose formerly resided here.

G. S. Ellis has been entertaining a friend from his town in Illinois this week. The visitor is a Mr. Smoot of Mattoon.

Cooler weather prevailed throughout the Yakima valley this week with an occasional zephyr from Ellensburg.

Fred W. Collins of Toppish has returned home from Old Mexico, where he reports having spent a most delightful winter.

H. J. Snively has purchased from J. P. and E. B. Marks of the Ahtanum 160 acres of upper Wide Hollow land, which will be brought under the Tieton canal. The consideration was $16,800.

Excavation work was begun Monday morning for the new business building to be erected by P. Y. Heckman on South First street, one-half block from the avenue.

Charles Wannassey, a wealthy and well known half-breed on the reservation, was bound over for trial in the superior court by Justice Goodrich of Toppish Tuesday, the charge being adultery.

J. B. Harness, for the past 18 months chief clerk of the U. S. land office here, has been given a deserved promotion, having recently been appointed special agent to travel out of Spokane.

A new lodge of Knights of Pythias was instituted at Kennewick Tuesday night, a number of knights being in attendance from North Yakima and Ellensburg.

E. L. Boardman, formerly of this city, who is now state printer, has leased his newspaper, the Puyallup Republican, to a Tacoma man and has moved his family to Olympia.

The trout fishing season opened in this state April 1 and as a result local Nimrods are rushing off up the creeks to try their luck. So look out for fish stories.

It is understood that Mr. Steinweg will open Sumach park to visitors tomorrow, Sunday. In that event there will doubtless be many people go out to look it over. Mr. Steinweg deserves commendation for his park enterprise.

That time-worn play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," was presented at the Yakima theater Tuesday evening by a rather seedy looking company, the most conspicuous members of which were the inevitable bloodhounds and the meek and lowly ass.

J. M. Murchie has closed out his lively business and is now engaged in converting his Fourth street concrete stable into an apartment house. The building is being literally "gutted" and when the change is made will present a very different appearance internally.

Many farmers have been inquiring for help this week and report a shortage of desirable men. There is also a strong call for men this spring for railroad construction work. There seems to be about the usual number of Weary Willys hanging about town, but of course they are too aristocratic to work.

William Nessley, the venerable father of J. M. and Frank Nessley, died at the home of the former in Fairview, Monday at 3 p. m. The funeral was held from the home Wednesday afternoon. Deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, where most of his life was spent, and was 72 years of age. In late years he had made his home with his son, Joseph M. Nessley.

Councilman Nelson Smith, who has been a regular attendant lately at the revival meetings conducted by the Rev. McIntyre in the big tent on South Third street, is reported to be a convert. Rev. McIntyre, who is an evangelist, is both original and picturesque, appears to have been meeting with much success in the way of making new converts.

Gov. Hay on Monday re-appointed F. A. Huntley of this city as state horticultural commissioner. The appointment of Mr. Huntley is said to be satisfactory to a majority of the fruitmen, although there was some opposition.

Under the provisions of the new law Mr. Huntley will be obliged to transfer his headquarters from Tacoma to Kennewick.

returned about a week ago from his eastern trip. Besides visiting relatives in Maryland, Mr. Sloan witnessed the Taft inaugural ceremonies at Washington and later visited New York and other cities. He says that the blizzard at Washington March 4 upset all arrangements for the inauguration festivities and caused bitter disappointment to thousands of people.

Judge Kauffman of Ellensburg held court here Monday for Judge Preble, the latter being disqualified in the Walker vs. Boag case. Judge Kauffman decided the case against Walker, who sought to recover the custody of his 13 year old daughter from his former wife, who is now married to Boag, a White Bluffs saloon keeper. Walker set up the plea that the home of the Boags is not a fit place for the girl.

W. H. Redman, reservation engineer, although his resignation was filed with the Indian bureau two months ago, is still on the job, his resignation not having been yet accepted. He has been looking for laborers this week to put to work on the Ahtanum ditch, which was begun last fall. Mr. Redman says that he expects to have the ditch completed by May 15 if the work is not retarded, and that it is the last piece of work that he expects to do for "Uncle Sam." Mr. Redman is an expert at ditch construction and it would be a source of gratification to many people if he would keep on building ditches.

Needed Encouragement.

"I remember," said an old naval officer, "hearing of an incident on board of a ship which was commanded by a religious captain who would not allow the mate to use profane language or violence toward the crew and where the work and discipline were carried out more by moral suasion than by force, with the result that things went very slowly. The men did not jump to the braces or ropes, and the general work of the ship was slow."

"While at anchor one day in the harbor of Rio two of the sailors, leaning over the rail, were watching work going on on board of another ship anchored close to them, where the opposite system prevailed. The air on that ship was lurid with the language of the mate, and the men were treated with a violence that was far from necessary, but the work went on quickly. The sails were furled and the yards braced in a smart and seamanlike manner. As they listened to the sulphurous orders of the mate one of the sailors on the good ship remarked sententially to the other:

"Bill, d'ye see now what it is we want aboard here? We want a little encouragement!"

Cupid and the Recruits.

"Cupid is one of the best recruiting officers that Uncle Sam has," confided one of the sergeants attached to the recruiting headquarters. "Back of nearly every enlistment there is a woman in the case. Lovers quarrels chase a lot of fine lads into the service. Your romantic youth gravitates to the recruiting officer after a serious break with his sweetheart as naturally as a duck takes to water. It seems to him the most fitting way in which to sacrifice himself when love's young dream is apparently dispelled. Way down in his heart he nursed the idea of making his erstwhile inamorata sad, and it's the army or navy, with the possibility of death in battle, for him. Again, other first class material is recruited by the desire of young fellows to sport a uniform before their girls. In such cases Cupid does his recruiting through vanity. But in both ways he manages to fill up big gaps in the ranks of Uncle Sam's fighters."—Philadelphia Record.

Pampered Stomachs.

Even though it takes pork four hours to leave the stomach and six more to be dissolved and absorbed in the small intestine, what does that matter so long as it is completely assimilated by the end of that time, as it is in 90 percent of all digestive canals? It is the slowest, but one of the surest foods that we have to give off all its energy to the body. Its very slowness is what gives it its splendid staying powers for hard work, whether muscular or mental. As a matter of fact I have seen more cases of dyspepsia cured by the use of breakfast bacon than by any kind of drug or restricted diet. An adult alimentary canal which cannot digest bacon or ham is not to be regarded as healthy, and, instead of humoring and giving in to a weak digestion, it should be braced up and, under skilled supervision, educated to take what is given it and make no fuss. Stomachs can be spoiled by giving them too little to do almost as easily as by giving them too much. A healthy stomach fit to cope with the emergencies of life must be able to digest not only that which is digestible, but much that is difficult of digestion, and this is the standard which should be aimed at in dietetic therapeutics.—Woods Hutchinson, M. D., in McClure's Magazine.

Quite a Difference.

"What is the difference between hens and poultry, pop?"
"Why, hens, my son, are things that belong to our neighbors; poultry is something a man owns himself."—Yonkers Statesman.

Stung Him.

Two very great swells, one a young duke and the other a young viscount, brushed against each other one night at the theater. The duke, anxious to snub the viscount, pretended to take him for an usher and said, holding out his hand, "Have you a programme?" But the viscount, too quick for the duke, smiled and replied: "Yes, thank you, my man. I got one from the other fellow."

How He Told It.

Papa—Is the teacher well satisfied with you? Toby—Oh, quite. Papa—Did he tell you so? Toby—Yes. After a close examination he said to me the other day, "If all my scholars were like you I would shut up my school this very day." That shows that I know enough.—Indianapolis Star.

Had Heard It Before.

Mamma—It is strange that girls have not more sense. Grandpa—I think you inherit that opinion. Mamma—What do you mean? Grandpa—Well, it is exactly what your mother used to say twenty-five years ago.—New York Press.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Every mother is a trained nurse, with the two unimportant exceptions of the uniform and the wages.

There isn't any greater waste of time than that spent in worrying because others are not doing their duty.

A man may think he is boss of his own home, but after his wife has been sick once or twice he finds it is the doctor.

There are a great many ways of becoming unpopular, but one of the surest is to rush in where angels fear to tread.

When a man comes home and asks if "mother is home" what he really wants to know is if she is in the kitchen cooking.

If there is whipped cream on any old thing on the table a girl is apt to think that the requirements for a "dainty" luncheon have all been met.—Atchison Globe.

The architect cannot live by the junction to make no plans for the future.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Holystone.

The holystone is a soft stone used by sailors for scrubbing decks and is said to have got its name because it was originally used solely for Sunday cleaning. Others assert that the first stones used for this purpose were taken from churchyards, while it is also said to get the name from the fact that a sailor has to go on his knees to use it.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Proper Way.

"So Wiseman is married at last. He used to say if he ever got married he'd manage his wife all right."

"Well, he's pretty shrewd; he's going about it in the right way."

"Is he? How?"

"Letting her have her own way."—Philadelphia Press.

The Unsatisfactory Public.

Citizen—When you were running for the place, you were full of promises of what you would do for the public; now you don't seem to care a penny for the public.

Legislator—When I said I was ready to do anything the public wanted, I thought my election was what the public desired. They've got that, and now they want a lot of other things. It looks as though the public would never be satisfied.—Boston Transcript.

He Really Wanted to Work.

Gritty George—Lady, I hear dat yee cuckoo clock is out of order.

She Didn't Sleep Well.

A woman who lives in an inland town, while going to a convention in a distant city, spent one night of the journey on board a steam boat. It was the first time she had ever traveled by water. She reached her journey's end extremely fatigued. To a friend who remarked it she replied:

"Yes, I'm tired to death. I don't know that I care to travel by water again. I read the card in my state-room about how to put the life preserver on, and I thought I understood it, but I guess I didn't. Somehow I couldn't go to sleep with the thing on."—Ladies' Home Journal.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

Brief Record of Local Happenings for the Week in North Yakima and Vicinity.

D. L. Thacker, contractor and builder, spent most of the week on the Sound. He says that there is much evidence of extensive building activity in all the Sound cities this spring.

The Knights of Pythias lodge of this city, having purchased the Hauser lots on East Yakima avenue, are having plans prepared for a handsome three-story building to be erected thereon this year.

A movement has been started among some of the financial pillars of the town for the establishment of a country club and different sites are said to be already under consideration. It is deemed likely that a location in the Naches will be chosen if present plans materialize.

Sunnyside wants a public library and an appeal will probably be made to the millionaire library builder, Andrew Carnegie, in the hope of securing the necessary financial aid.

Sam Ahrendt, the pioneer Jewish merchant of this city, died at Paso Robles, Cal., Thursday night, March 25, of Bright's disease. The funeral was held in San Francisco Sunday with burial in the Jewish cemetery. Mr. Ahrendt had been in failing health for the past two years.

George F. McAulay, the popular attorney, was a Walla Walla visitor this week.

Speaker Meigs attended the funeral of Gov. Cosgrove at Olympia Wednesday.

Lester Coffin of Lapwai, Ida., was in the city this week visiting his brothers.

J. W. Hill of Tacoma arrived here Wednesday to relieve John R. Ryerson as Northern Pacific depot agent here. Mr. Hill was formerly passenger agent at Tacoma. Mr. Ryerson was offered the Kennewick agency, which he has declined. He announces that he will remain in Yakima, as he likes the town and the people. He will likely go into business here.

Judge Preble this week, through the medium of Attorney Vestal Snyder, sold his 200-acre ranch in the Wide Hollow to Wm. Steward, proprietor of the Horse-shoe bar, the consideration being $40,000, or $200 per acre. The farm is located seven miles west of town and is regarded as a good property. Judge Preble purchased the farm of A. J. Shaw eight years ago for $7000. It is understood that the purchaser will cut the ranch up into smaller tracts for the market.

Edwin Young, driver of a local meat market, reports that he has fallen heir to a fortune of $154,000, which he will share equally with a married sister, through the death of an uncle in Kentucky, who was an extensive owner of valuable coal lands in that state. The young man announces that he will not permit his good luck to turn his head. But, of course, that remains to be seen.

W. P. Sawyer, the enterprising Parker rancher, was in the city Monday to attend a meeting of the directors of the trolley line.

The Yakima horse market is dull just now, say the horse dealers, for the simple reason that there are few, if any, horses left to sell, that is to say, work horses. The demand for work horses this spring has been unusually strong, the buyers being farmers and railroad contractors. All the available stock in the hands of dealers, including several hundred shipped in, have been sold, and there is still inquiry for more.

Will Johnson, the Easton merchant, was a Yakima visitor Wednesday.

The Yakima Mortgage Loan Co. was incorporated recently by O. A. Fechter and L. O. Joneck.

N. P. Hull has sold his Ahtanum ranch of 44 acres, highly improved, to Frank Jordan of this city for $16,000.

J. P. Melrose, mayor of Puyallup, was in the city this week looking after his property interests. Mayor Melrose formerly resided here.

G. S. Ellis has been entertaining a friend from his town in Illinois this week. The visitor is a Mr. Smoot of Mattoon.

Cooler weather prevailed throughout the Yakima valley this week with an occasional zephyr from Ellensburg.

Fred W. Collins of Toppenish has returned home from Old Mexico, where he reports having spent a most delightful winter.

H. J. Snively has purchased from J. P. and E. B. Marks of the Ahtanum 160 acres of upper Wide Hollow land, which will be brought under the Tieton canal. The consideration was $16,800.

Excavation work was begun Monday morning for the new business building to be erected by P. Y. Heckman on South First street, one-half block from the avenue.

Charles Wannassey, a wealthy and well known half-breed on the reservation, was bound over for trial in the superior court by Justice Goodrich of Toppenish Tuesday, the charge being adultery.

A new lodge of Knights of Pythias was instituted at Kennewick Tuesday night, a number of knights being in attendance from North Yakima and Ellensburg.

E. L. Boardman, formerly of this city, who is now state printer, has leased his newspaper, the Puyallup Republican, to a Tacoma man and has moved him family to Olympia.

The trout fishing season opened in this state April 1 and as a result local Nimrods are rushing off up the creeks to try their luck. So look out for fish stories.

It is understood that Mr. Steinweg will open Sumach park to visitors tomorrow, Sunday. In that event there will doubtless be many people go out to look it over. Mr. Steinweg deserves commendation for his park enterprise.

That time-worn play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," was presented at the Yakima theater Tuesday evening by a rather seedy looking company, the most conspicuous members of which were the inevitable bloodhounds and the meek and lowly ass.

J. M. Murchie has closed out his livery business and is now engaged in converting his Fourth street concrete stable into an apartment house. The building is being literally "gutted" and when the change is made will present a very different appearance internally.

Many farmers have been inquiring for help this week and report a shortage of desirable men. There is also a strong call for men this spring for railroad construction work. There seems to be about the usual number of Weary Willies hanging about town, but of course they are too aristocratic to work.

William Neasley, the venerable father of J. M. and Frank Neasley, died at the home of the former in Fairview, Monday at 3 p. m. The funeral was held from the home Wednesday afternoon. Deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, where most of his life was spent, and was 72 years of age. In late years he had made his home with his son, Joseph M. Neasley.

Councilman Nelson Smith, who has been a regular attendant lately at the revival meetings conducted by the Rev. McIntyre in the big tent on South Third street, is reported to be a convert. Rev. McIntyre, who is an evangelist, is both original and picturesque, appears to have been meeting with much success in the way of making new converts.

Gov. Hay on Monday re-appointed F. A. Huntley of this city as state horticultural commissioner. The appointment of Mr. Huntley is said to be satisfactory to a majority of the fruitmen, although there was some opposition. Under the provisions of the new law Mr. Huntley will be obliged to transfer his headquarters from Tacoma to Kennewick.

Charles Worth moved in the new house on Wm. Wyman's ranch. Mr. Worth and family came here from Minnesota.

M. Stranz and Joseph Worrel have had their houses painted.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stewart were in North Yakima Monday.

Prof. J. M. Arneson was at his home at North Yakima Saturday and Sunday.

W. E. Thompson and A. Rightmire transacted business in North Yakima Monday.

Ralph Chambers and Bert Rider are leveling 30 acres of land for Charles Fedes.

Charles Bierly has the contract for leveling Sam Huntington's upper hop ranch. Mr. Huntington will run the lower ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. John Yoakum and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Yoakum are moving on the ranch they recently bought from Mr. Trueblood.

George Angle is "chef" for A. H. Bair's gang of levelers on his Fruitvale ranch, which will be all set to trees.

E. M. Stearns is looking after his business affairs in Pasco this week.

W. H. Redman, reservation engineer, although his resignation was filed with the Indian bureau two months ago, is still on the job, his resignation not having been yet accepted, has been looking for laborers this week to put to work on the Ahtanum ditch, which was begun last fall. Mr. Redman says that he expects to have the ditch completed by May 15 if the work is not retarded, and that it is the last piece of work that he expects to do for "Uncle Sam."

Mr. Redman is an expert at ditch construction and it would be a source of gratification to many people if he would keep on building ditches.

H. J. Snively spent several days this week at Ellensburg and on the Sound looking after some legal matters.

The Yakima Booster concert given last Wednesday night at the First Methodist church under the auspices of the Woman's club of this city, was largely attended. The program was excellent.

The real estate men of North Yakima are manifestly the busiest people in the city just at present. The indications are that they will keep busy through the present year. Business, however, is good in all lines.

L. H. Linbarger, the popular transfer man, has signified his willingness to accept one of the vacant positions that will occur on the state fair board by the resignations of President Sam Cameron and Treasurer L. O. Joneck.

A. W. Barr, clerk of the superior court, with the concurrence of Judge Preble, has established a rule that hereafter attorneys taking papers from the clerk's office must return same within five days, otherwise they will no longer be shown that courtesy. The clerk, under the law, is responsible for the safe-keeping of all legal instruments. It is stated that owing to neglect on the part of certain attorneys a number of important papers taken out cannot now be located.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
