

Dear Mr. Relander:

I ordered the pics. Your letter was tremendously interesting. We have no pics of Red Hawk or Jim Billy. Sorry. Suggest you write Dr. J.M. Cornelison, Pendleton.

We were able to get pics of burial because I am right chummy with one Luke Cowapoo. The Round-Up has two chiefs--- not chiefs of their tribes, but designated as OUR chiefs and ~~the estimable~~ Luke is one of same and quite amenable to persuasion; I cajoled him into ^{introducing} ~~introducing~~ our photog ~~introducing~~ to the noble red men of the reservation. However, in one pic two Indian ladies have turned their backs, sternly, on the picture taker. I love our Indians; they are good friends of mine and ~~The~~ East Oregonian always tries to give them a fair deal.... like using pic of bride, sassiety page, as mentioned in enclosed editorial. By the way wish I had had YOUR fine dope on Jim when I rotten this.

Good luck to you.

Sincerely

Elsie Fitzmaurice Dickson

[Enclosure, n.d., Dickson]

Charlotte Ka-ni-ne (~~at~~ center), widow of the late chief Jim Ka-ni-ne, last of the recognized Indian chiefs at the Umatilla reservation, mourns his passing at the funeral June 20. To the right is Josephine Brancho from Idaho. ~~Below~~ Indians in the background beat tom-toms at last rites.

(Photos by Merle D. Gors, East Oregonian)