Look at the Label

The post-office authorities are after us because of our many delinquent subscribers.

Now we know you folks are all right and good as gold, but we must get our subscription list straightened out and up-to-date.

If you are in arrears less than one year, don't read any further, for we don't mean you.

But you folks who are over a year in arrears will receive a notice of subscription due.

Don't get mad and fly off the handle. Just consider our position with the post-office department. They are after us and therefore we have to remind you of your account. If convenient it will be a great favor to us to have you clear up your delinquency.

Look at the date after your name on the little yellow label. Perhaps we have it wrong. If so we will be glad to make it right. If over a year in arrears, let us hear from you.

EXPRESSION FROM PEOPLE DESIRED

Commercial Club Speakers Want North Yakima Citizens to State Their Preferences on Waterworks Question.

While there were opposing views and ideas as to the advisability of municipal ownership of the water supply and water works for North Yakima, the general opinion of the men present at the meeting of the Yakima Commercial club Wednesday evening appeared to be that they desire the immediate submission of the question to the people and desire that the voters express their views on the ballots.

Municipal ownership, both as a theory and a practice was supported in the discussion by Dr. Granville Lowther, President Richards, of the Yakima Valley Transportation Co., Mayor Armbruster and even by George Arrowsmith, manager of the Northwest Light & Water Co. However, the latter's support of the plan was only on the ground that the company had been made the "butt" of all politics for several years, and that the corporation was "sick of it," and for that reason was willing to sell out to the municipality.

William H. Redman, Attorney Hatfield and Rev. Maurice J. Bywater led the opposition side in the discussion and Attorney Sidney Livesey injected a new phase in advocating the support of a state wide public utilities commission law as a general remedy of management.

Dr. Lowther was introduced by President Alex. Miller of the club, and the audience of nearly a hundred members listened attentively to a carefully written paper in which Dr. Lowther quoted statistics and facts showing that municipal ownership of public utilities is a good thing. This paper proved the basis of discussion, and its various phases were brought up by every speaker. Dr. Lowther said that he believed in municipal ownership of public utilities where the people were capable of managing the plants, and said that he believed the voters and citizens of North Yakima were in a position to manage the water works.

Engineer Redman followed Dr. Lowther, and said that he was opposed to the municipal ownership plan on the ground that he would rather bear with evils and troubles known than to face those unknown. He also brought up the question as to whether bonds could be floated for building of a new plant, and whether it was best to buy the old plant at the figure agreed upon by the corporation and the plant under civil service rules.

Mayor Armbruster was called upon to tell his idea, and said that he was in favor of municipal ownership, as he believed it would be for the benefit of the citizens and the water users. He advocated the management of the plant under civil service rules.

Manager Arrowsmith, of the water company injected spirit into the session when he declared that the corporation had been made the "butt" of all politics for several years, and that the corporation was "tired of it, sick of it all." He gave figures showing that the receipts of the company from the water plant are approximately $46,000 a year and that the running expenses are about $10,000, with only six men employed. He ridiculed the idea that these six could be considered a political machine to be used in city politics and said that the city could easily pay for the water plant in a few years from the earnings, besides carrying the interest on bonds and paying all running expenses.

Attorney Hatfield was the next speaker, and appeared in opposition to the municipal ownership plan, although later in the evening he said that he would favor the plan if he could see where competent men would give their services to the city could be found to handle the plan, acknowledging there were such men in North Yakima.

President Richards of the street car company, was a speaker and told of the experience of Pendleton in handling a water plant, saying that the water commission plan and municipal ownership was a pronounced success.

Opposition to municipal ownership in North Yakima was shown in Rev. Maurice J. Bywater's talk, in which he said that the city was "abnormal" in many ways, and that instead of being "against the corporations" the citizens should aid them in attempting to keep up with the rapid growth.

Secretary James of the club, created an exciting moment when he asked Mayor Armbruster to say whether the report of City Engineer Doolittle on value and condition of the plant would be given to the public. In a carefully worded statement, the mayor suggested that the report would probably become the property of the public soon.

President Miller spoke in opposition to the plan of municipal ownership, but in making a statement as to the feeling expressed, said he believed that the question should go to the people at once.

Attorney Livesey, in the concluding talk of the evening, told of the workings of the New York law providing for a public utilities commission, suggested the support of such a law in Washington and its use in handling corporations for the joint benefit of the citizens and the stockholders.

Bounty on Scapls.

Ranchers are not getting rich killing coyotes in this county this season. Only $51 has been paid out in bounties in the quarter that has just closed, $36 for coyotes and $15 for a timber wolf. The average paid out in the other three quarters of the year was over $300. Yakima county officials believe the falling off is due to the fact that the new bounty law is not understood, as fully half of the applications that have come in in the last quarter have been rejected. Ranchers still bring in only the scapls or the pelts with the right fore leg to the ankle, while the law requires that the full pelt with the right fore leg to the elbow intact be presented. There has also been discovered evidence that an effort has been made by some to collect double bounties.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Jack Johnson and Stanley Ketchell worked furiously today, not at training, however, for both are in the pink of condition. Each spent a strenuous day in his camp working under command of a moving picture operation who made pictures which will be used as an introduction to the real fight pic-

Nine Fraternal Orders Establish Sanitarium for Afflicted Numbers.

Nine fraternal and benefit organizations with a membership of nearly 3,000,000, and three international labor unions with a membership of over 100,000 have joined the ranks of the fighters against consumption within the last year, according to a statement issued today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

A year ago only one fraternal organization, the Royal League, and one labor union, the International Typographical Union, maintained institutions for the treatment of their members. Since January 1, 1909, the following fraternal and benefit organizations have taken up the consideration of tuberculosis, and in most instances have decided to erect institutions: Brotherhood of American Yeomen, Order of Eagles, Improved Order of Red Men, Modern Woodmen of America, Knights of Pythias, Royal Arcanum, Workmen's Circle, Knights of Columbus, and Foresters of America. The international labor unions which have joined the fight against tuberculosis are the International Photo-Engravers Union of North America, the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union, and the International Boot and Shoe Workers' Union.

The Modern Woodmen and the Knights of Pythias have already opened sanatoria for their members who have tuberculosis at Colorado Springs, and East Las Vegas, New Mexico. The Workmen's Circle is about to erect a similar institution at Liberty, N. Y. The Royal League

Seriously Damaged Mine.

Speaking of the explosion at the Roslyn coal mine Oct. 2, State Mine Inspector D. C. Botting said:

"The cause of last Sunday's explosion is yet a mystery, but it made terrible havoc in mine number four and the dip. The explosion covered a very large territory and its force must have been terrific. No. 4 was a well ventilated and well guarded mine and the coal company did everything possible so far as I can see to safeguard against explosions, and the cause of this one certainly seems hard to explain. Not a single shot was fired in the mine last Sunday and no work was being done at all except repair track and the fans were kept going so the ventilation was all that could be desired. It will be a difficult task to put the mine in order again."

ST. PAUL, Oct. 14.—J. J. Hill today denied that the Great Northern railway is trying to enter Harriman territory in California by extending its Oregon trunk railway to San Francisco. He also denies that during his visit to New York there had been a conference of railway magnates attended by himself and Morgan and by Harriman and Hawley representatives. The stories published on the Pacific coast that the Oregon Trunk proposes to build into San Francisco is emphatically denied. All the building will be done in Oregon. He said: "There is plenty of room for new feeders in that state and the mileage which we expect to add to our system will be confined to that state. We have no intention of entering California."

FRUIT MEN AT BIG APPLE SHOW

Interest Continues Undiminished--Attendance From All Sections Reported Large--Entered With Music.

SPOKANE, Oct. 13.—Fifty-two competent bandsmen will furnish the musical program at the second national apple show in Spokane, November 15 to 20, also heading two parades daily during the week. The largest organization is the National Apple Show band of 32 pieces, under the direction of A. G. Reemer, which scored an instantaneous hit at the first exposition last November. The Knights of Pythias band of 20 pieces has also been engaged. This band has been heard on various occasions, meeting with favor at all times. The National Apple Show band will be stationed in the armory, where a new stand will be erected, while the Pythians' band will be in the main exposition hall.

Immense Band.

"Probably this is the largest combined band that has ever been heard in this part of the northwest," said Ren H. Rice, secretary-manager of the show, "and we expect this will be a big feature during the week. Prof. Reemer is now at work on a new march, which will be dedicated to the National Apple Show, Inc., while W. Van Hinkle of the Pythians' band is arranging for a composition in honor of King Apple."

"We have also completed our board of judges by the engagement of W. J. Green of Wooster, chief of the department of horticulture at the Ohio experiment station. He has been actively engaged for 35 years in promoting the interests of fruit culture and is in hearty sympathy with the interests of the apple show."

Judging Department.

"The judging department is headed by Prof. H. E. Van Deman of Washington and the associate judges in addition to Prof. Green are: A. P. Bateham of Mosier, Ore.; H. M. Dunlap of Savoy, Ill., and George J. Kellogg of Lake Mills, Wis."

"The engagement of Prof. Green will be of particular interest to former residents of Ohio, now living in the Inland Empire. He has been horticulturist at the Ohio station for 26 years, during which time he has given special attention to the apple, its culture and exhibition at fairs and expositions. He has also served as judge at various horticultural and pomological meetings, also at county and state fairs. He is a member of the American Pomological society and an honorary member of several prominent horticultural associations."

POTATOES CHEAP GROWERS BLUE

Dealers Say Crop Is Plentiful on Coast—Growers Insist That Crop Will Fall Short.

Spuds at $9 a ton does not meet the anticipations of hundreds of Yakima ranchers who put their land into that crop this season, in the belief that high prices would prevail. The price this fall for potatoes is about $5 less than it was at this time last year. And according to dealers in this city, the chances are not bright that the price will increase much until next spring.

"There is a good crop of potatoes all over the coast country," said Lloyd Garretson, the local commission man.
Tuesday. "The conditions are quite different than a year ago. Then there was a complete failure in the Palouse country. Few potatoes were grown on the sound. That made a heavy demand for Yakima spuds and the price was good."

Crop Large This Year.

"This year the Palouse country has a good crop, and the sound dealers say they prefer the Palouse potatoes to those grown here. On the Sound the Japanese have rented much land and are growing spuds. Between these two there is little use in sending potatoes to the sound markets from here."

"I have just received a letter from Greely, Colo., to the effect that they are getting but $15 a ton there from the eastern market. From this I judge that there would be little object in shipping spuds to the east from here, as the freight is $13 a ton."

Notwithstanding the present market and the predictions of the dealers, the growers who have the spuds on their hands look for an advance in the price before the year is gone. They say that when digging commences in real earnest it will be found that the finest fields are not yielding what they did a year ago and that in consequence the supply will be short. Those who have made close examinations and watched the situation critically dope out the crop proposition in this fashion and declare that dealers are trying to bear the market.

Frank Herke, of Tampico, was a passenger west on Tuesday for Seattle to see the exposition.

FURMAN MAY GO EAST WITH FRUIT

Minneapolis and Chicago Exhibits to Be Accompanied By Representative to Explain Things.

C. H. Furman of Zillah will probably accompany to Minneapolis and to Chicago the exhibits of fruit which Yakima county will send to these cities this month. It is expected to get the Minneapolis exhibit away this week. It will be necessary for the man in charge to stay there for two weeks and then he will go to Chicago for two weeks to remain during the Land and Irrigation congress. No selection has been made of a representative for the county with the fruit display but a decision will be arrived at in a few days. Mr. Furman and Howard Wright are the most likely candidates at this time, though there are several others in the field.

It is desired to procure a representative a man who will have a detailed knowledge of a varied character. He must know the various kinds of fruits and their attributes.
He must know methods of irrigation.
He must be acquainted with all parts of the county, with land values in each and, in short, be in a position to answer correctly and intelligently almost any question regarding this section of Washington that is put to him.
This type of man is more or less of a rarity. Some of those who are desirous of making the trip measure up well.

WAPATO SHIPPED 216 CARS

September Consignments Less Than During August.

WAPATO, Wash., Oct. 11.—Shipments from Wapato during September amounted to 216 cars. This is 101 cars less than during August, but the deficit is due to a lack of cars, owing to the heavy shipments of wheat. The shipments, segregated, are as follows:
Hay, 176 cars; melons, 21 cars; potatoes, 3 cars; feed, 8 cars; live stock, 2 cars; fruit, 6 cars.

In addition to the freight shipments
there was a large output by express, the output of cantaloupes alone for the month being 4252 crates.

The fruit shipments have come from the Parker side of the river, but many of the young orchards on the reservation will be in bearing next year. Apples from 2-year-old trees on the ranch of F. O. Jones on exhibition here and at North Yakima have attracted attention.

Yakima county will benefit greatly by a contract just awarded by the federal government to W. W. Robinson to furnish 10,000 tons of Washington hay for use in the Philippines. The contract calls for eastern Washington timothy. While most of this will be procured in Kittitas some portion of it will go from Yakima. The main point, however, is that alfalfa from this section will move forward to replace the timothy taken out for the government service. The bid of Mr.
Robinson was $22.65 per ton, the hay to be double compressed.

Licenses to marry have been issued by the county auditor to Charles W.
Burlingame, aged 19 and Miss Ida H.
Stephenson, aged 16, both of North Yakima; Thomas E. Gentry, aged 22 and Miss Laura L. Long, legal, both of North Yakima and to Albert W.
White, aged 21 and Miss Clara E. Fit-zger, aged 22 both of North Yakima.

BRANCH LINE TO BE CONSTRUCTED

Contractor McKivor Undertakes to Construct Branch Line from Northern Pacific Railroad.

Construction of a spur track a mile in length from the Northern Pacific railroad at Beekman to Lake Cle-Elum is a work to which Contractor McKivor of North Yakima will now devote himself. The track will lead from the main line of the Northern Pacific directly to a new mine of the Consolidated Fuel company. Its operation means a big thing for a number of citizens of North Yakima, for it is estimated that there are over 3,000,000 tons of coal in sight and it is a downhill haul to all parts of this valley. Moreover, the coal can be hauled readily at the other end at the mine and is said to be an excellent quality of Roslyn coal. The North Yakima men who are officers of the Fuel company are: Arthur E.
Poole, president; G. S. Rankin, vice president; James O. Cull, secretary-treasurer, and George Weikel, general manager.

McKivor Tells of Mine.

Mr. McKivor, speaking to the Herald about his contract, says that no time limit has been placed on him, but that he will push the work as rapidly as possible. Speaking of the mine Mr. McKivor said:

"This mine is really just being opened. The coal comes out of the side of the mountain on a gravity track. There are two tunnels, which are in 600 feet and all the way they run through coal. There is a hole there of six feet in size in which a man can walk right through solid coal, and it is the finest kind of Roslyn.
No man on earth, I believe, can estimate the amount of workable coal there, and one of the best features of it is that the cars from the mine can be run out without difficulty to a point where their contents can be dumped into Northern Pacific cars and pulled out to the main line."

LOCAL HOP YIELD MAY BE SURPRISE

Present Indications Are That All Previous Estimates Have Been Too Low.

Yakima county will produce more hops than has all along been anticipated and the price is steadily rising.
Deals have been closed at 25 cents and present prospects are for a still better figure. Experts who watch the local conditions have figured the yield for this section of the state at between 8000 and 9000 bales for this season. The latter named figure has been the outside estimate. As picking proceeded and the crop came down lighter and lighter the estimate was lowered. Recent development, however, appear to indicate that the statisticians were wrong and that the crop will aggregate higher than any one had supposed. Statements made Friday were to the effect that present prospects are for at least 11,000 bales with possibly more than that.

UNION LABEL SELLS FRUIT

AND FORMS FOREIGN CONNECTION

Forty Thousand Boxes of Yakima Apples Have Been Contracted for By An English Buyer.

D. Crossley & Sons, of New York and Boston, also of Liverpool, Eng., and Glasgow, Scotland, have purchased the winter apple supply of the Yakima Horticultural Union. The price paid is not made public. By the deal Messrs. Crossley control some 40,000 boxes, or thereabouts, of the finest apples this district produces. Their purchase brings to North Yakima for the first time, and to the northwest for the first time, a foreign buyer after a considerable quantity of fruit. It means that the Yakima growers, through the union, have established a foreign connection.

Praise for the Union.
"Such of the fruit," said William Crossley, who was in North Yakima Thursday, "as belongs in Great Britain or in Europe will be sent there and such as belongs in New York and the eastern American markets of this country will be sent there. By that I mean that we will place the fruit ac-ording to the market for which it is best adapted. I want to say right now, also, that the Spitzenbergs are the very best I have ever seen.

"It is because of the fact that we have had, heretofore, the fruit packed and shipped by your horticultural union that we are back again this year. You know that we also had the prize fruit from the National Apple show last year. We buy here because your horticultural union is a guarantee of excellence and uniformity of pack. We know that the output of your union is excellent and after our customers have purchased the fruit they will know it. We are working, not for this year, or for next year but for years to come. Grading, packing, selection and all those things mean so much that I think I should say for your union that, having had some of its fruit last year, we are back again this year for more of it."

Mr. Crossley expressed himself as greatly pleased with the quality of the fruit grown here and also, by his action, with the manner in which it is handled. Work on filling the order began Thursday, when two cars were loaded out from the Horticultural Union.

An Indian whose name was Sam came to the sheriff's office Wednesday and showed signs of having been in a fight in which a rock was used, his face and head being somewhat battered up. He admitted that the fracas happened while he was partly drunk. He did not know his assailant.

W. W. Ewing will return from Seattle this morning where he has been on business for several days.

I. H. DILLS WILL REMOVE STORE

TO THE A. E. LARSON BUILDING

Star Clothing Company Will Take the Stand Now Occupied By the Eastern Furniture Company.

I. H. Dills will in January become a tenant of A. E. Larson, occupying the store on Yakima avenue and Second street now occupied by the Eastern Furniture company. He will establish the Star Clothing company there and proposes to give the city the best he is capable of in the way of a modern furnishing house. As already announced in the Herald, Mr. Larson is to start in early in November on reconstruction of the building. Show windows are to be placed on the Second street side as well as new windows on the avenue side. The entrance will be double, one from each street, leading to a common entrance to the store.

"Under our agreement," said Mr. Dills last evening, "Mr. Larson is to expend $4000 on the reconstruction of the store and I expect to spend as much more in fixtures, etc., so that I think I will have a pretty nice place. I do not intend giving up my present location. I will move the Star Clothing company to the new store and use the store I now occupy for other purposes."

The Eastern Furniture company, it is understood, will remove to the Second street store in the Larson building.

At the Yakima next Friday and Saturday night and Saturday matinee Mr. Wright Lorimer will present for the first time in this city his stupendous production of the powerful four act romantic drama, "The Shepherd King." This wonderful play, now in its sixth successful season, is the largest production on the American stage. Its plot is founded on the Old Testament narrative of the early life of David, costuming, the picturesqueness of its mounting, and the interest of its story makes it one of the most interesting dramas of its time. Mr. Lorimer who is under the management of William A. Brady, is surrounded by a supporting company of one hundred people, prominent among whom are Brigham Royce, Irving White, Daniel Gilfeather, Frank Campbello, Harold La Costa, Earnest Roseman, Daniel Lawler, Walter Brown, Helen Singer, Frederica Goings, Allison Skipworth, Ruth Copley and Ioah Ferrier.

Arctic Explorer, Now University Professor, Ridicules Statement by Eskimos As to Trip.

TOPEKA, Oct. 13.—Professor L. L. Dyche, head of the department of natural history of the University of Kansas, who made several trips north as a member of both the Peary and Cook exploring parties and is personally acquainted with both explorers, made a statement today to the Topeka State Journal touching on the present controversy, after reading Peary's statements.

"Commander Peary's statement published today," said the professor, "to my mind is absolutely incredible. It is based on testimony of ignorant Eskimos incapable of understanding a country in which they had never been before well enough to outline such a map as that published today, credited by Peary to their explanation. Only an intelligent white man with instruments could make their way to such country and be able to report in detail upon it a year after the trip was made. While I believe Peary reached the pole, accompanied by relay men, physicians and supplies, backed up by four well equipped supporting parties with Eskimos and trained dogs, I have not a shadow of doubt that Cook reached the pole first and exactly as he details in his own published story, supported by photographs and observations taken by him and printed or told in connection with his story.

"The most astounding part of Peary's story seems to me to consist of a statement that Cook got to the north part of the land bordering on the Great Arctic ocean, the point for which he had striven for a month during the hardships of intense cold and rigors of the Arctic climate, with ample supplies, sledges and Eskimos all in first class condition and then simply turned back apparently for no reason. How unlikely it is that a man with over twenty years' arctic experience, fired with the ambition of a lifetime would give up just at the time and place when one of the greatest trophies the world has to bestow upon a brave and daring explorer was standing within his reach, beckoning to come on.

H. A. Bolles of Billings, who has been spending a few days here on business, has gone to Seattle to see the close of the fair and will then return to Montana. Mr. Bolles is sales agent for a large tract of land in the Musselshell country, in which a great deal of Yakima capital is interested. He states he met in Billings last week W. L. Dimmick, formerly of this place, who was there for the purpose of purchasing a steam plow to use on the section of land he recently acquired, and which he will put in grain.

GRAZING FEES TO BE REVISED.

Representatives from This Section Invited to Special Meeting to Be Held in Utah Soon.

Sheepmen of Yakima county and of eastern Washington have been called upon by the National Woolgrowers' association to agree upon a rate for grazing sheep in the national forest in this section that will be fair and equitable. The request comes from George S. Walker of Cheyenne, Wyo., and is addressed to H. Stanley Coffin, secretary of the Washington Woolgrowers' association. Sheepmen of the United States had a meeting recently, at Rawlins, Wyo., with Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, at which time the secretary stated that "either cattlemen were not paying enough or sheepmen were paying too much for grazing in the national forests."

Action Is Invited.
Following this, Assistant National Forester Potter requested the sheepmen to get together on the fee question to agree upon a rate that will be satisfactory. Since then there has been considerable correspondence asking that action be deferred by the federal authorities until after the convention at Ogden, Utah, in January, of the national sheepmen. To this Mr. Potter replies that such a delay is impossible. He says: "I regret that it will not be possible to defer action until the January meeting, because in order that proper notice may be given the stockmen, it is important that the grazing allowances and the fees be fixed before December 15."

Taft May Intervene.
Mr. Potter suggests that it is possible that President Taft may have some suggestions to make in reference to grazing on the national forests as a result of his observations on the trip he is now making. The sheepmen are asked by Mr. Potter to make their representations to Secretary Wilson not later than November 15, and he says: "I feel sure that it would give the stockmen just cause for complaint if we were to defer action on the allowances and fees for next year until a later date."

Mr. Coffin and other Yakima sheepmen are asked to hold themselves in readiness to go to Salt Lake City or Ogden for a special meeting, representing the sheepmen, to secure, if possible, a material reduction in the grazing fee.

PLOTTED TO DEFEY NEW LAW.

Is Nasty Charge Made Against Judge Gaynor of New York—Would Nullify Reform Measure.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The mayorality contest today developed a sensation in the attack upon William J. Gaynor, democratic nominee for mayor, by Robert H. Elder, assistant district attorney of Kings county (Brooklyn), who has represented the state in the fight to enforce the anti-betting laws on the race tracks. The attack was in the form of a statement and was designed to support and supply details to the charges made Monday night by William M. Ivins, republican, but a Hearst supporter, that Gaynor as a justice of the supreme court had sought to defeat the purpose of the anti-gambling statute.

Elder declared with some degree of supporting circumstance that he had learned of an alleged conference of Gaynor, Patrick H. McCarren and Eugene Wood of Brooklyn, at which the constitutional phase of the race track law was discussed and as charged, a test case contemplated upon which Justice Gaynor was to render a decision. It is alleged they knew how the law could be nullified and that a habeas corpus case was being arranged to be brought before Gaynor to get a decision that would allow the gamblers to do business on the race tracks. Gaynor was busy today reading Elder's charges but refused to make a statement at this time.

Sheep are to be assessed in the county in which the owner has his residence and not in the county in which they may be grazing at the time the assessor finds them. This was decided in Benton county Thursday in the action of Dan Goodman against that county. The sheep of Mr. Goodman had been assessed in Benton and also in Yakima. He contested the right of Benton county to take such action and Judge Holcomb upheld the claim.

Mrs. N. C. Gauntt has gone to Seattle to visit for a few days.

OVATION TO BRYAN.

William Jennings Bryan, Democracy's oft defeated but untirred leader, received a remarkable ovation while a visitor within the state of Washington during the past week. At Spokane and later at Seattle, where he was the guest of the exposition officials Tuesday, he was given a rousing and enthusiastic welcome and his speech on the grounds was listened to attentively by many thousands. Everywhere the peerless leader extended and received the glad hand and the welcome extended him was certainly a genuine one. Old time followers from every part of this state and from Oregon had gathered at Seattle to testify by their presence their unshaken faith in their leader, and the evidence of their fidelity touched and unquestionably gratified the great Commoner. Never before within the history of this country has a personality appeared that equalled or even approached that of Bryan. What is there about this man that makes his millions of followers almost worship him, that causes them to cheerfully follow and cling to him through defeat and adversity? Within the realm of politics there is no parallel in history of such untiring devotion to a leader thrice defeated.

Of course the reason is to be found in the personality of the man and what a wonderful personality he has. To accurately describe it is a task well nigh impossible. Bryan simply represents about the best effort that nature seems capable of in the production of man. Nature expended thousands of years in the production of a Shakespeare and of a Napoleon. The facts seem to indicate that our common mother spent an equal length of time in the production of a Bryan. What more can be said?

Judge McCredie, lawyer, judge and g. o. p. nominee for congress over in the second district, is said to be a better judge of whiskey and baseball than of the law. McCredie has also the unenviable distinction of being the only judge in the state who flatly refused to don the silk robe prescribed by a law from the last legislature, thus becoming himself a law-breaker. Elected to the bench as a nopolitician, this sporty judge went to the partisan congressional convention at Olympia at the head of the Clarke county delegation pledged to the support of another man, yet he seized the nomination for himself. What rot to talk of McCredie as being an eminently fit candidate for congress!

The last Republican National platform promised the people postal savings banks. President Taft dwelt long and loudly on that plank throughout his campaign. He harped on it in his speeches everywhere in the effort to offset Mr. Bryan's guaranty of deposits plan. Taft won, and the veriest tyro in politics knows that his postal savings bank plank helped materially to win his battle. But President Taft will deliver no goods in the shape of postal savings banks.

The American Bankers Association has given notice that it will stand for no such foolishness, and Aldrich says so, too, and that what the people really want is a central bank. Poor Mr. Taft, what has he got to do with it anyway?

The Central Bank! Yes, we knew it was coming in these glad days of a Hamiltonian renaissance in the United States. It is to be a modern counterpart of old Nick Biddle's cherished bank of 80 years ago, which the courageous Jackson grappled with and finally choked to death, the bank which assumed to own him and control his policies. Yes, we are to have the Central Bank! For the leading money changers of the nation have said so, Senator Aldrich has said so, and finally President Taft has said so. Do our Republican friends ask for any better testimony?

The Democrat has never taken any stock in the aspersions cast upon Secretary Ballinger by his enemies in the Pinchot camp. Mr. Ballinger has spent most of his active life as a citizen of this state and it is not too much to say that his reputation is clean and that the people of Washington, regardless of party, consider him as not only an honest man but as an exceptionally able one. Many eastern papers and periodicals, perhaps not knowing the character of the man they were assailing, have said some pretty mean things about Ballinger, and like a pack of wolves, are still barking and snarling at him. Yet it has been proven that the Secretary has done nothing to deserve such condemnation.

In North Yakima there is usually more interest and excitement manifested in a municipal campaign than in a state or presidential election. And yet, especially since the direct primary law has been in effect as a rule there has been a dearth of really desirable candidates offer themselves for municipal service. That, by the way, is the weak point in the direct primary system. Men of pronounced ability such as the public want, like the overly modest youth in his courting days, are too apt to hang back. As for the other kind, they generally need to be held back. Like Barkis, they are always willing.

Many monopoly-fed, Aldrichized Republican papers of the far east have alluded sneeringly to the Republican insurgents of Iowa and other middle western states and have dubbed them "half-breeds." But the name don't fit well, a fact that every Democrat with experience as a party warhorse in that section would cheerfully testify too, for they know how hard that variety of Republicans are to lick at the polls. Indeed they would much rather tackle the trust sucking Republicans when it comes to a real fight. The Iowa Republicans are not to be sneered at. They represent the very flower of the g. o. p. organization, if it has any flower.

The Spanish government is exulting greatly over the defeat of the Moors, and other nations rejoice with her. Yet Spain has merely been playing her old role of pirate. Valuable gold mines were discovered in Morocco and these the Spaniards were determined to have, hence the war of conquest. The Moors were merely trying to defend their own property, and it is too bad they were beaten.

The shifty, unreliable Hearst came out flat-footed the other day with an endorsement of Judge Gaynor, Democratic nominee for mayor of New York. A couple of days afterwards Hearst's blatant followers of the so-called Independent League held a mass meeting in Cooper Union and by unanimous vote nominated the Great Noise himself for mayor. Then Hearst turned around, repudiated Gaynor and begun throwing rocks at the great jurist. The Great Noise is certainly the limit when it comes to pure, unadulterated gall.

One can hardly read the story of Dr. Cook's trip to the pole, as written by himself and published in certain newspapers, with all rights reserved, etc., etc., without arriving at the conclusion that the genial doctor is a real hero. In the face of such evidence that the doctor got there the base insinuation of Peary that his Arctic rival, instead of going to look for the pole, put in his time living comfortably with his Esquimaux friends, seem like the croaking of an envious soul. Peary, after drawing his back pay from the navy, which he never earned, should go out and soak his head.

The Iowa Republicans do not appear to take kindly to President Taft's policies and close affiliation with Aldrich. In fact, the tariff reform element of that state seem to feel very much disgusted with the present national administration, so much so that a movement has already been started there with ramifications in every part of the Hawkeye state to boost Senator Cummins for the presidential nomination in 1912. Isn't this a pretty situation that Mr. Roosevelt's legatee has developed during the first year of his reign?

President Taft's long journey through the west is proving a fiasco so far as political results are concerned. For the most part the views and policies he presents do not suit the west. As his hosts, the people, are too polite to tell him so, but many express their disappointment after he passes. It is particularly galling to many westerners to see the president holding Aldrich up as the people's friend. No doubt the fat and jolly president has been won over to the Aldrich way of looking at things, but at the same time it is a cause for wonder that he is advertising that fact particularly in the west.

The city council instructed the city engineer to examine the physical conditions of the water system and report. The examination was duly made and the report filed with the mayor, who refuses to make it public, indeed to even permit the council to see it. Now wouldn't that rasp you for pure gall? And what shall we say of a set of councilmen who permit themselves to be treated like a lot of unruly children?

A vacancy exists on the city library board owing to the death of the late H. K. Sinclair. Mayor Armbruster, who has the appointing power, has so far refrained from filling the vacancy, it is said, for the reason that he is unable to make a selection as between the two ladies, with influential husbands, having promised the position to both. Nor is he likely to make the nomination until after election, even if the library should go to the dogs. 'Twas ever thus in politics.

Mr. Armbruster still poses as the champion of the "peepul," and he probably always will as long as he lasts in politics, for that is the string the adventurer always harps on. But what has the whilom mayor done for the "peepul" since he has been mayor? Nothing but to provide city jobs for a few men who were prevailed upon to support him in the campaign last year, thus compelling the public to pay his political debts. 'Twas ever thus with the faker in politics.

President Taft has said that he will recommend to congress that that body authorize the issuance of $10,000,000 of irrigation bonds to complete unfinished irrigation projects. Judging from the pace set so far by the reclamation service, better make it $40,000,000, Mr. President.

William J. Bryan said at Spokane last Saturday that he never expected to run for any office again. But he didn't say positively that he wouldn't.

Judge McCredie, Republican nominee for congress in the second district, refuses to resign his position on the bench and also refuses to hold court until after election in spite of the fact that his docket is a heavy one. The chances are that the sporty judge will have plenty of time to hold court after election.

President Taft had to go to bed down in California the other day while his valet was drying his clothes. That incident ought to give Mr. Taft a sympathetic feeling for a few millions of his countrymen who never have a change of clothes.

McCredie, the Sport.

Judge McCredie, the baseball sport of Vancouver and Oregon, was nominated for congress last Wednesday by the Republican State Convention at Olympia. His strength over Pierce county's candidate, James M. Ashton, was 20 votes.

If Gov. Hay, the great direct primary election law advocate, had been true to the principle, the result would have been different. At a primary election, a worthy Pierce county man could easily have won. There was no occasion for haste in filling Mr. Cushman's seat, for at the short session of congress nothing of vital importance is ever done, anyway.

George Stevenson, the erstwhile notorious railroad lobbyist, it is said, "turned the trick" that brought McCredie into the race—and upset Ashton. All the old-time ringsters and manipulators were in evidence—it being an old-time sort of convention. Stevenson, of course, was on deck, too, and—as of old—outmatched the Pierce county crowd.

They say that Mr. Maurice Langhorne, a leading Tacoma lawyer, will be a candidate for the position on the Democratic ticket. If so, he shall have this paper's support. He is, first, a Pierce county man; second, he spends most of his time in this state; and third, he is not a "sport." Let the fans, the jolly good fellows—and Portland—take care of McCredie's interests.—Puyallup Tribune.

Conservation Run Mad.

Elbert Hubbard, writer and lecturer, who has been in all parts of the country, thinks the east is wrong on the question of conservation as it affects the west. What we need in the west, he says, is people. "Conservation," says Mr. Hubbard, "is a good thing up to a certain point, but if conservation goes too far the law of diminishing returns comes in. You want people here. This is going to be one of the richest, if not the richest, state in the Union. You have more waterfront than New York. The Columbia river has navigable water double the distance of the Hudson river. You have tremendous wealth, untouched practically. New York has none. And you have in the state of Washington soil that produces $1000 per acre. No soil in New York will produce $100 an acre. You need men in this country and to Ballinger the laugh of a child is much more musical than the song of the cascades. Let in the settlers; also let in the capitalists, they will turn your waterfalls into heat, light and power." A good many persons in the east think we should be willing to let the resources now undeveloped be conserved for the use of the older states that have wasted their own resources.

The announcement that Mr. Wright Lorimer in his romantic scenic spectacle, "The Shepherd King," will be the attraction at the Yakima next Friday and Saturday will be hailed with enthusiasm by the patrons and lovers of the higher class of the drama. It will be remembered that "The Shepherd King" was first presented at the Knickerbocker theatre, New York City, four years ago, at which time the entire press of the metropolis were unanimous in pronouncing it one of the greatest moral as well as one of the most beautiful lessons and pictures ever given on the American stage. Mr. Wright Lorimer, who created the role of David, will be seen in that part during the engagement here with his excellent supporting company of selected players who are under the direction of that astute manager, William A. Brady. The same massive scenery, gorgeous costumes and effects that marked its New York premier will be produced here in its entirety.

BRANCH LINES IN KITTITAS

N. P. PLANNING FOR FEEDERS

Gasoline Motor Cars Will be Used as Are Contemplated on the Yakima Valley Lines.

"The Northern Pacific railroad will commence building branch lines in the Kittitas valley within the next few months, says the Ellensburg Record, quoting a business man of that town. The first line to be built will leave the main line near Thrall and will strike east into the Denmark and Badger Pocket districts. Part of the right of way has already been purchased and dirt will be flying in the near future.

"The northern Pacific is already building branch lines throughout the lower valley. Graders are already at work on a line from North Yakima into the Moxee and another into the valley below Union Gap.

"Railroad men explain that the Northern Pacific is doing this extensive work simply to protect the big freight tonnage the road has always had from this territory. With the coming of the Milwaukee into this territory it was necessary for the older road to build more feeder lines. Railroad men generally believe that the line into Badger Pocket is only one of several planned by the Northern Pacific in this valley.

"The line from Thrall into the Denmark and Badger Pocket districts would produce revenue from the start. Hundreds of acres of land in that territory are already being set to fruit and a line such as is planned by the N. P. would tap the heaviest freight producing sections in the valley. Most of this freight would naturally now go to the Milwaukee at Kittitas. I understand that the N. P. would install a service on this line much the same as is planned on the new lines out of North Yakima, namely, a gasoline motor service. One motor car of this nature could make several trips daily over the line and give a regular interurban service. Freight loaded at points along this line would be given as good service as that loaded at Ellensburg.

MILWAUKEE ROAD MAKES A DEFAULT

Fails to Present Evidence Regarding Pass Between Priest Rapids and Columbia River.

So far as the Milwaukee railroad is concerned the strip of land along the Columbia river between the river and the bluffs at Priest Rapids is a pass and is to be used in common. This was determined at the local land office Thursday, when the Milwaukee road failed to make an appearance in accordance with an order, from the department of the interior regarding the strip in question, which is some 14 miles in extent.

The North Coast filed its survey through this section, but the Milwaukee went ahead and procured its right of way, or part of it, and then applied to Washington for a route along the section in question. Word was sent out for the company to make an appearance at the land office here and show why the strip is not a pass and to be used in common. Thursday was the day for the hearing. H. J. Snively was on hand as attorney for the North Coast but no one represented the other road.

Engineers W. C. Marlon and N. H. Bogue presented their belief, based upon investigation that there is room there for but one line of railroad and that there are physical obstacles to the construction of another line.

INSPECTS MOXEE SCHOOLS.

Dr. Frank Finds Health Conditions
Good in Valley.

Dr. P. Frank, county health officer, has completed an inspection of the Moxee schools and reports that only one pupil was sent home because of threatened illness. Dr. Frank made the trip to Blackrock, taking in four schools. He also made a casual inspection of general sanitary conditions in the Moxee, which were found to be generally good.

Dr. Frank will continue his inspection of all the county schools, visiting those furthest from medical attendance first. He will cover this part of the valley first, taking in the lower county last. Dr. Frank will devote two days each week to this work.

DIVORCE SUIT IS RECALLED.

Well Known Johnston Case Comes up
Under New Phase.

Once more the Johnston divorce case is brought before the public. H. W. Livingston having filed an action against J. O. Johnston and Mabel L. Taylor, who was Mrs. Johnston, claiming $100 due on an alleged promissory note and $75 attorneys fees. M. O. Reed of Colfax is attorney for the plaintiff and H. J. Snively for the defendants. Since the divorce of the Johnstons the wife has married again and is now said to be living in British Columbia. The Johnstons have figured in considerable litigation in this county for a considerable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson, visitors from Kansas, are at the home of William Lee, Jr., and are studying the claims of Yakima county for consideration. So far they are well pleased.

MONEY LEFT TO P. S. UNIVERSITY

BY WILL OF SANFORD L. BURRILL

Balance of the Estate Is Divided Between the Widow and the Children.

Under the will of Sanford L. Burrill, filed Tuesday in the probate court, about $7000 are left to form a nucleus for a scholarship at the University of Puget Sound, as may seem best to Mrs. Burrill or for the purpose of aiding some religious or benevolent institution as she may direct. Under the wording of the will it appears to have been the hope of Mr. Burrill that the money go to the Puget Sound school. The property consists of real estate of a value of $25,535 and personal property worth $7,575. Helen A. Burrill, the wife is executrix and Alvin S. Burrill of Weston, Ore., is executor. The will bears date of April 28, 1909 and was written in California.

Mrs. Burrill is to receive $4,000; a son, C. E. Sims, of Worthington, Minn., and the daughter, Mildred Ann Stone of Bloomington, Ill., are to receive $100 each. The balance of the estate is to be divided equally, two-eighths to be used for the scholarship above mentioned or for the other purpose suggested. Of the remainder three-eighths is given to the son, Robert Burrill of North Yakima and an eighth each to Alvin S. Burrill of Weston, Oregon; John R. Burrill of Find, Wash., and Thomas O. Burrill of Harrington, Wash.

BRINGS CROSS SUIT TO OBTAIN DIVORCE

Effie A. Bland Asks That All Property of Herself and Her Husband be Awarded to Her.

Effie A. Bland has filed an answer to the suit for divorce filed against her by William E. Bland. The husband in his action alleged that his wife has a violent temper and has treated him cruelly and inhumanly. Their life for several years, he says, has been a life of strife. The wife declares the husband to be an habitual drunkard and says that he has treated her cruelly, that he has assaulted and choked her and humiliated her. She says also that he has abused her in the presence of their children.

The couple were married in Yakima, November 4, 1894 and there are four children the eldest being 14 years. The property consists of about 12 acres of land in the Ahtanum and personal property worth $332. The wife asks that she be given all the property, custody of the children and $50 per month alimony.

Silverware and Other Valuables Taken During Daytime—Second Robbery of Same People.

During the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Galler from their home, 212 east Maple street, Tuesday thieves ransacked their house and carried off several hundred dollars' worth of silver ware, jewelry and other valuables. Equally valuable things were untouched by the thieves. Sheriff Lancaster and the local police were notified and are working on the case.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Galler work out during the day. Mr. Galler is engineer at Read's Laundry and Mrs. Galler does various kinds of house work for other people. Their home is not occupied during the day, and whoever committed the burglary was apparently acquainted with the affairs of the Galler. Following are among the valuables taken:

Many Valuables Taken.

Three dozen knives and forks, six solid silver soup spoons, 14 teaspoons, several pieces of fancy work, an Elgin watch, pair of diamond earrings, gold brooch made in Germany, revolver with initials "K.R." on butt and some clothes.

The robbery of Tuesday recalls a former rather sensational robbery of the Gallers, about two years ago, when they were residents of Capital Hill. This resulted in both a civil and criminal case in the superior court. Mrs. Galler charged one of her neighbors with robbing her of $3000 while her husband was absent in Spokane. Both cases were decided against her.

A ton of Douglas fir seeds, capable of sprouting 80,000,000 big fir trees, will be planted within the coming few weeks by the national forest service in Oregon forest reserves. Fully one-third of the seed will be sown in the Bull Run reserve where reforestation is undertaken experimentally to see what effect it will have in increasing the flow of Bull Run river, the source of Portland's water supply. It is estimated that the present flow of the stream is sufficient to supply the city for the next 50 years, but it is believed the volume of water can be doubled, providing for all future demands the city may make upon the river. Other forest reserves will be experimented upon in covering bare slopes with the baby trees. Forest service officials have been handicapped in the past in securing the seed in sufficient quantities, although from $1.50 to $2.50 per pound is paid for Douglas fir seed.

Mrs. Martha E. Getchell, mother of the late Mrs. John F. Simmons, died Tuesday at 4 a. m., at the home of John F. Simmons, North Third street. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the residence.

WHAT CRANE REALLY SAID

(From the Minister's Speech before the American Asiatic Association in New York.)

We believe that although China has great problems to solve, such as the administrative problem, the opium problem, the currency problem, the revenue problem, she is perfectly capable of solving them alone if she can be kept free from menace; and we also believe that if she increases and prospers she will make a better market than if she deteriorates. Of course, in this development she will require much foreign material, and in a perfectly legitimate and friendly way Secretary Knox has determined that we shall have our share. It may not always be necessary to repeat the new form of holdup which our State Department has recently been so successfully engaged in--of forcing money on China.

DEMONSTRATION OF ORCHARD HEATERS

Yakima Valley Horticulturists Are Invited to Attend Display at the Horticultural Union.

Orchard heating devices are to be given a public demonstration at the warehouse of the Horticultural Union on Saturday afternoon next at 2 o'clock. Everybody who is interested in orchard heaters is invited to be present at the demonstration and learn all that the experts can tell and that can be obtained from actual observation.

The orchard heater has come to stay and it is one of the greatest devices in the interests of the fruit grower ever introduced. They form an almost absolute assurance against frost, cost little to purchase and operate and in a season save many times their value. Where they have been used in the Yakima valley this year the best crops of apples are to be found. The time is coming when the heater will be found in every orchard, not because they are a necessity but because they are one phase of modern and progressive horticultural work. It is the progressive men who have them.

At the sandwich sale Tuesday noon at the high school the proceeds amounted to about fifteen dollars which amount was given to the Athletic association. The stock of sandwiches was sold out to the hungry crowd in about a quarter of an hour.

OLD, OLD STORY SAYS DR. COOK.

Says That Statements of Eskimos Were Twisted to Meet Perverted Ends.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 12.--"It is the same old story," said Dr. Cook tonight when shown the statement issued by Commander Peary together with the map accompanying it. Cook added that the map clearly indicates that the Eskimos have respected their promise to Cook that they would not give Peary any information.

Cook went on to say that Whitney has said that the Eskimos did not understand the questions put to them by Peary and others of his expeditions, nor the maps laid before them. Their replies, said Cook, "have been twisted to suit his perverted interest. Cook would not consent to go over the details contained in Peary's statement further than to say: 'The Eskimos were only too anxious to say something they think would please their questioners.' Cook said that Rasmussen would be here soon and that he had seen the Eskimos and knows the real story. 'They did not try to deceive him.

Cook also said he would bring the Eskimos to New York at his own expense and they will prove, as Whitney did, 'all that I have said.'

BOY BURGLAR SHOWS CACHE

STOLEN HARDWARE IS FOUND

Reuben Morton Brought Back From Reform School by Sheriff Lancaster Reveals Stolen Goods.

Reuben Morton the lad who was arrested several months ago charged with having burglarized the Treat-Raynor hardware store on South Second street, was brought back from the reform school at Caealis Wednesday and taken to the Naches valley where he located a quantity of the loot in a cache heretofore not discovered by the sheriff's office. In the cache were 18 revolvers and the same number of cartridges, about 200 flies and many fish lines and other fishing apparatus.

When young Morton was arrested together with his pal, a young man named Brown, he was under age and had escaped from the reform school. He was taken back there but he recently became of age and the authorities could keep him no longer. Accordingly Sheriff Lancaster was notified and Morton was brought here Wednesday to answer to the charge of burglary. He promised to locate the balance of the loot taken from the Treat-Raynor store and was taken to the Naches valley yesterday where he uncovered the goods referred to. He will have his hearing today.

Is Not a Religious Play.

Persons who expect to find a strong religious interest in Wright Lorimer's "The Shepherd King" are doomed to disappointment. The story of the play has a biblical foundation, but the play itself is in no sense a religious play. It is a big melodrama, using that much abused word in its better sense. Use is made of the familiar stories of the affection existing between David and Jonathan, of the slaying of Goliath, and of the affection existing between David and Michal, the youngest daughter of Saul.

"The Shepherd King" has numerous spectacular features. The production is one of the most massive in this country. There is one great scene showing the barbaric beauty of the interior of the palace of Saul. Another big scene shows Saul's camp in the Vale of Elah.

A very attractive ballet representing the dancing daughters of Israel is introduced in the third act of the play, and there is also a splendid color about this oriental dancing and a grace of movement which is difficult to adequately describe. The costumes worn by the ballet are also most attractive and give a splendid idea of the costumes worn by the women of Israel in the days when Saul was a monarch.

BRYAN OVATION EQUALS TAFT'S.

Crowds at Gate Halt Famous Nebraskan and Interfere With His Seeing Exhibits.

SEATTLE, Oct. 12.--William J. Bryan's visit to the World's Fair today was made the occasion of a popular demonstration that rivaled in earnestness the greeting to President Taft two weeks ago. The weather was not favorable when the Nebraskan arrived here this morning. Rain was falling and though it stopped the sky continued overcast. Bryan arrived at the exposition at 10:15 and found the entrance opposed by a multitude of people who were possessed of a common desire to make as much noise as possible and shake hands with the visitor. So great was their insistence, that Bryan was not permitted to see the exhibits. Bryan was entertained at the fair much as was President Taft. After luncheon in the New York building he spoke to an outdoor audience in a natural theatre to a crowd but little smaller than the one before which Taft made his ship subsidy speech. Bryan's address was on "The Average Man." Tonight Bryan delivered a democratic address to a large audience. It was recommended that Bryan make a prepared speech taking issue with Taft on ship subsidy, but he declined to do so. He spoke extemporaneously on many subjects. Tomorrow Bryan will go to Victoria and thence east over the Canadian Pacific.

Transportation Company's Engine Chips Yakima Avenue's Brick and Council Will Investigate.

When the city put in its fine brick paving on Yakima avenue last year, it did not make allowance for running steam locomotives through the streets. Now it is found that the paving which blocks in the tracks of the Yakima Valley Transportation company is being badly chipped and smashed and this condition is charged to the steam locomotive which is run on Yakima avenue every night hauling rails and ties to the extension of the Transportation company's line west of the city.

This condition of the pavement will furnish discussion at the next meeting of the city council, next Monday night. City Engineer Doolittle has made an inspection of the pavement along the street car tracks and does not like the looks of it. What can be done to repair the pavement or to put an end to further damage of the kind will be settled by the council Monday night.

Marriage licenses issued by the county auditor Tuesday were to James R. Gale, aged 32 and Miss Mary W. Ballard, aged 22, both of North Yakima; Lloyd Moffit, aged 25 and Miss Florence A. Kinyon, aged 24, both of North Yakima; Andrew E. Fisk, aged 30 of Grandview and Miss Janie A. Young, legal, of North Yakima; Roy W. Boutwell, aged 22 and Miss Ethel N. Lym, aged 19, of North Yakima.

Yakima apples of all varieties are on sale in the Pike Place market at $1.35 to $2.50 delivered, says the Seattle Times. This includes about a dozen choice apples.

Selah Methodists broke ground for their new church Tuesday and in addition procured $75 for the building fund. There was a large attendance at the ceremonies and much interest in the address of Dr. Gibson. Later in the work of erecting the new edifice, when the cornerstone is laid, there will be inserted in the enclosure within the stone a list of the donors to the building fund.

Rev. E. A. King has returned from Seattle where he was in attendance at a meeting of the executive committee of the Washington Home Missionary society of which he is a director.

Burns Soft Coal

Without Smoke or Soot. A strong statement to make for any stove, but one that is easily proven with The 20th CENTURY LAUREL HEATER --the pioneer soft coal burning stove.

The Great Objection against the burning of soft coal has been the black sooty smoke. This heater does not produce black sooty smoke and as soft coal gives as much heat as hard coal, it is the equal of a base burner in heat comfort and cleanliness.

Think of What You Save on coal bills by using soft coal, lignite or slack.

Come in and Let Us Explain how the coal is consumed without giving off smoke. Let us show you the patented device adding new fuel to the fire, that prevents soot or dirt from escaping into the room; how the mica in the door is kept clean and bright.

The Illustration Gives You some impression of the beauty of this wonderful heater. Wearing or heating qualities and strength have not been omitted at the expense of beauty in this heater.

SEC. BALLINGER PUBLIC TRUSTEE

People of United States Expect Him To Use Power to Protect Their Rights.

The Outlook of October 9 says in regard to Secretary Ballinger and the Cunningham claims.

"The people of the United States own in Alaska 5000 acres of coal lands which are estimated to contain $126,000,000 worth of coal of excellent quality. Certain individuals have presented a claim on these coal lands based on entries made under the homestead law. Prior to his taking the present office of the secretary of the interior, Mr. Ballinger, acted temporarily as legal adviser of certain of these claimants and advised them— we quote from the president's published letter to Mr. Ballinger—'that there was no probability of securing a patent of the claims without presenting them under recent remedial legislation imposing conditions which the claimants were either unwilling or unable to meet. We may assume, therefore, that at present the legal title to these lands rests, in the opinion of Secretary Ballinger, in the people of the United States; that the lands are theirs and the Cunningham claims in the form in which they are now presented are not legal. What is the duty of the secretary to the people of the United States in view of these facts? What he seems to have thought was his duty is thus stated by the president:

"The record overwhelmingly establishes that, expressly because of your relation as counsel to one of the claimants, from the time you entered upon the duties of the office of the secretary of the interior until the present day you have studiously declined to have any connection with the Cunningham claims or to exercise any control over the course of the department in respect to these claims, that you have said so in written and verbal communications to your subordinates and to the claimants themselves. Moreover, in May last, you came to me and made a similar statement to me of your course and intention in respect to these claims."

Should Do More.

"Is this what the people of the United States have a right to expect of Secretary Ballinger? Frankly, we do not think that it is what they have a right to expect. It furnishes satisfactory evidence against the charge that he is using the present power of his office to aid his former clients. But this is not all that the people of the United States have a right to ask of him. They have a right to ask that he use the official power with which they have entrusted him to protect their rights against claimants whose claims he has already declared, while their counsel, to be without adequate basis in law."

"When a case is brought before a judge, and it appears that he has had a previous connection with the case as counsel for one of the parties, he properly refuses to act. It is not necessary that he should act, because there are other judges of equal authority with himself who can act as well and as authoritatively. It is not proper that he should act, because a judge should be absolutely neutral. He should have no interest in either side, and he should be, as far as possible, free from all suspicion of having any such interest."

Trustee for the People.

"But Mr. Ballinger is not a judge. He is not appointed to act as a neutral umpire between two contending parties—the Cunningham claimants and the people of the United States. He has been appointed trustee for the people. They are owners of large landed estates. These estates can not be managed by popular vote. They can be managed only by a competent representative acting for the people and in their interest. It is the duty of such a trustee not to maintain an attitude of neutrality between his wards and hostile claimants, but to use all his skill and all his official power to protect the interests of his wards against hostile claimants."

"Nor can he transfer his duties and responsibilities as counsel and trustee for the people to a subordinate. The duties of a trustee are not thus transferable at the pleasure of the trustee. Let us suppose, for example—and we believe that this supposition is in substantial accord with the facts—that his subordinates reach a different conclusion from that which Mr. Ballinger had reached. May the secretary sign away the property of his wards to claimants whose claims he has himself investigated and adjudged to be unfounded, and justify himself to his clients, the people, because a subordinate thinks they are well founded? Would any trustee in private life be justified in so doing?"

"Would any lawyer think he might sacrifice vast pecuniary interests of his clients to claims which he thought unfounded because a managing clerk in his office dissented from his opinion and thought those claims well founded? If a trustee thinks that his prejudices, his interests, or his past connections make him incompetent to act as trustee, or if he thinks that the public suspicion of his prejudice or his interest makes it inexpedient for him to act, he has but one course open to him—to resign the trust. He can not properly retain the trust and turn over its duties and responsibilities to a subordinate."

"We do not hope that Mr. Ballinger will resign. We do hope that he will reconsider his declaration to exercise any control over the course of the department in respect to the Cunningham claims and put unreservedly at the service of his clients, the people of the United States, his large experience and his acknowledged legal talents in protecting the property of the people against these claims. If they are well founded in law there are courts to which the claimants can appeal. And certainly the patents which Mr. Ballinger has advised them that they are not entitled to ought not to be issued under his authority unless his judgment is overruled by a court of competent jurisdiction."

Depending on Ballinger.

"Of course, it is conceivable that Mr. Ballinger may belong to that decreasing minority who disbelieve in the conservation of the nation's resources and who think or seem to think, that the shortest and surest road to national prosperity is to turn over as rapidly as possible all those resources to private enterprise to be used for private profit. This is conceivable; but it evidently is not the case. If it was he would not have taken office under an administration pledged to the reversal of that policy; nor would President Taft say in his published letter addressed to Mr. Ballinger: 'From my conference with you and from everything which I know in respect to the conduct of your department, I am able to say that you are fully in sympathy with the attitude of this administration in favor of the conservation of natural resources.'

"The successful carrying out of that policy depends more upon Mr. Ballinger than upon any other member of President Taft's cabinet. We look to him, and we believe the country looks to him, to make good President Taft's words by the vigor which he displays in protecting those resources from all questionable claims of private parties."

C. A. Brewer, of Centralia, Ill., has purchased, through L. A. Dash five acres of the Lince tracts paying $5,500 therefor. He will make his home here.

D. T. Brown is in the city again from New York and will within a few days have on display at Cahalan & Co.'s a beautiful lot of oriental rugs and carpets.

James A. Drain, formerly adjutant general of this state, now editor of the Arms and Man magazine, spent Thursday in the city with officers of the local militia company.

Mrs. C. P. Wilcox has recovered sufficiently to return from the sanatorium where she has been for several days. She will leave soon for her home in Pasadena, California.

Mike Maher, who was held in the county jail on the charge of passing a check belonging to some one else, the money having been paid back by a friend of Maher was discharged Thursday.

George Dunn, accompanied by his mother, left Thursday morning for Montana on a business and pleasure trip. Mrs. Dunn will visit relatives while her son attends to business matters in Twin Falls.

Health Inspector J. E. Fitch tested the milk and cream of the various local dairies yesterday and found the quality of milk good, but a few specimens of cream that were not up to the required standard.

Licenses to hunt have been issued by the county auditor to the following: Herbert Wright and A. W. Week of Toppenish; E. B. Johnson, J. H. Tuttle and J. W. Milner, of Granger, and Floyd Baldy, of this city.

Rev. A. W. Laningham of the Washington Children's Home Finding association is to speak at the Methodist church Sunday evening giving an illustrated talk on the children and the work of the association.

A lady who was accompanied by her grand daughter as a witness and by her great granddaughter as a companion appeared before the marriage clerk at the office of the county auditor Thursday and was issued a license to wed.

Dr. J. W. Ridgeway was called to the T. L. Irwin ranch in the Wide Hollow yesterday to administer restoratives to a cow suffering from bloat. When he reached there he found the whole herd in like condition, and arrived just in time to save them from dying.

Licenses to wed have been issued by the county auditor to Herman Sanftenberg, age 58 years, of Kiona, and Mrs. Sarah Wheelock, age 62 years, of North Yakima, and to Edmund S. Prentiss, age 57 years, of Seattle, and Mrs. Anna Mashmeier, age 55 years, of Baltimore, Ohio.

W. W. Sawyer left for Spokane yesterday, following the car of apples which he will exhibit at the National Apple show. Mr. Sawyer will place the apples in cold storage in Spokane until the opening of the show. He believes he will make every competitor hustle to beat him in the carload contest.

Will Iler, Charles Barnes, I. H. Dills, John Cleman, John Campbell and Hugh Steele have returned from a trip into the mountains where they located a ledge of gold bearing ore which they discovered while camping last summer. The party packed into the hills a week ago and went clear to the summit.

Some unknown persons drove off a horse and buggy belonging to the Washington livery Wednesday night and let it return to the barn, a few hours later in a badly used-up condition. The rig had been used by Lowther, Wilcox & Co. during the afternoon, and it was while waiting for the livery men to call for it that the horse was driven off.

Ethel Ribbey was filed suit for divorce from Burt A. Ribbey whom she married at Grandview, March 8, 1908, and whom she alleges abandoned her in April 1909. Ribbey, she says, went to North Dakota and from there went to the southern part of that state. She says that he is lazy, that he has a habit of gambling and that he has failed utterly to support her.

Selah Horticultural Union expects to be ready in 10 days or thereabouts to handle the winter fruit of that section through its new union warehouse. The work has been progressing rapidly and is now well along towards completion. A number of buyers have been in the Selah district making overtures as to the crop but as yet no big deals have been made.

A. E. Kinsey arrived Thursday from Indiana and will probably decide to remain. Mr. Kinsey was for several years in the grocery business in this city but sold out and returned to his old home in Indiana. However, the Hoosier state does not look as good to him as it did before he had a good view of Evergreen Washington. Mr. Kinsey says no one appears to like the eastern home after a residence of a year or two in the west.

I. H. Dills, C. H. Barnes, Will Iler, John Cleman and Jack Campbell did a bit of traveling Thursday. When they breakfasted they were 50 miles away from this city and well back in the Cascades, where the trolley line does not operate and where the Naches road has not built a branch. They rode 20 miles on horseback and then had luncheon. They then took an automobile and came in to this city, making the 30 miles in 90 minutes. They arrived here before 4 o'clock.

Manager Hunt of the high school football team announces that one of the most important games of the season, the one with the Ellensburg high school, is to be pulled off next Saturday. True to his word, the coach has put the boys through a hard week of training, and the game promises to be a warm one from the time the whistle blows until the end. The high school boys have decided to have a rally tonight to let the people know that there is something doing.

TRENCHES FOR HEATING PLANT

Crew of 75 Men Will be Placed at Work Digging on Saturday.

Work will be undertaken on Saturday in the construction of the trenches for the pipes which will convey the heat of the Central Heating company from the boilers at the plant of the Artificial Ice & Cold Storage company. At that time a crew of 75 men will be put to work and the trenches, which must be carried under the tracks of the Northern Pacific Railroad company, will be rushed through to completion. It is expected that heat will be installed within a very brief time in a number of the buildings the owners of which have decided to become patrons of the company.

GROWERS DECLINE OFFERS FOR APPLES.

Buyers Say They Cannot Handle Yakima Apples Under the Existing Conditions.

Buyers of winter apples are making no effort to purchase fruit in this district at this time. They are waiting in the expectation that the making of deals will be easier. Outside buyers say they cannot touch Yakima fruit at this time at the prices asked by the growers. They do not say that the fruit is not worth what is asked for it. They do say, however, that present conditions will not justify them in paying the price. The buyers have been out among the growers and offered their best figures. These offers were rejected and since then there has been little doing. Fruit, it is said, is going from other districts into the markets where North Yakima sells, at a price below the figures that the local growers are asking of the buyers. It is necessary, therefore, to wait until the other stuff is consumed and removed from competition before there can be any expectation of disposing, to advantage, of the fruit raised here. It is probable, therefore, that no offers will be made for some time, unless in isolated instances.

TAFT FAVORS STATEHOOD.

Says That Their Constitutions Should be Simplest in United States and Best.

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Oct. 13.—Taft won a hearty welcome into Arizona today by proclaiming wherever he went that he was heartily in favor of statehood for each of the territories of Arizona and New Mexico. The president had some sober words for his audience in which he sought to impress upon them the necessity for deliberation in framing the constitution. He declared their constitution should show the simplest constitution in the United States. He urged the people of Arizona to profit by what he termed the mistakes of Oklahoma in constitution making. He characterized the Oklahoma constitution as a zoological garden of cranks.

George Botsford and Charles Cook Cleaning Out Adams Stock—Will Open With New.

George Botsford and Charles Cook have purchased the stock of the Adams Shoe company at 215 East Yakima avenue and taken over the lease and will conduct the business there in the future. This morning the new firm opens with a big sale which will continue for about a month at which the prices will be slashed deeply enough to permit of cleaning out all of the Adams' stock. On November 15 the firm will open with an entire new stock of shoes which will include the very best lines on the market.

Mr. Botsford is well known to Yakima people having been associated with the leading firms of this city for a number of years. A few months ago he accepted a position as manager for the Adams shoe company after resigning a good position with the Barnes-Woodin company. Mr. Cook came here from Seattle several months ago to accept a position with the Barnes-Woodin company and is leaving that firm to embark in business for himself. Both of these young men have many friends in this community who wish them success in their venture.

POWER PUMPS BARRED UNDER TIETON CANAL.

Reclamation Service Will Water Only Such Lands Under Tieton as Can be Reached by Gravity.

Announcement that no hydraulic rams, gasoline or other power pumps or similar means of lifting water above the level of the Tieton canal and laterals will be permitted by the reclamation service settles an important question in connection with that canal, says The Times of Seattle. It means that no water will be furnished for irrigation excepting where gravity flow canals have been installed, and that owners of land above the canal or above the laterals cannot expect a supply, at least for ten years.

The interior department has announced the opening of homestead lands above the Tieton canal for this fall, and the reclamation service has made the statement relative to prohibition of water lifts in order that homestead seekers will not attempt to locate on these lands with the belief that they will be supplied with water. Some 2,200 acres of public lands under the canal will be opened to entry, in forty-acre tracts, as soon as the various units are completed. This will afford about fifty-five good homesteads, worth from $6,000 to $8,000 each.

ASKS THAT DEEDS BE DECLARED VOID.

Miss Elnora Shillig Institutes New Action Against John Jackson Involving Title to Land.

Elnora Elizabeth Shillig, of Seattle, who was plaintiff in a breach of promise case tried here recently, in which John E. Jackson was defendant, and who procured a verdict, has filed notice of suit against Jackson and his partner, Pliny B. Holdridge asking that certain deeds made by Jackson transferring lands to Holdridge be set aside. It is averred in the notice of action that the transfers were not bona fide but were for the purposes of avoiding the judgment. The land, title to which is involved, is lot 13, block 391, Capital Addition to North Yakima; the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter and the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of the south-

LOCAL FANS INTERESTED.

Many Bets Are Up on Detroit-Pittsburg Game.

Local interest in the baseball game today between Pittsburg and Detroit is keen, and many bets are up. Both teams have about equal backing. All week local fans have watched the bulletin boards closely and the championship games have been a subject of much interest. It is likely that $500 will change hands locally on Saturday's game providing it is not a tie. Most of the bets are small.

A feature of the championship series is the interest taken by the women. They are following the games as eagerly as the men and many of them are betting small amounts.

FLOWERS FOR DIAZ.

Natives Accord Chief Magnificent Ovation.

EL PASO, Oct. 14.—No crowned head ever received a more magnificent welcome than that accorded to President Diaz in the city of Chihuahua yesterday and today. The street through which he passed was elaborately decorated and several times people broke through the lines, crowding about his carriage and loading it with flowers. He leaves early tomorrow for Juarez and will arrive there early in the afternoon.

PORTLAND, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Katherine M. Collins, who shot and killed her husband, Dr. Roy Miles Collins, in this city several weeks ago, was acquitted by a jury in the state circuit court here today of the charge of murder on the grounds of insanity. Mrs. Collins was shown to have been insane at the time she committed the deed.
