Dear Click;

Here I am again - wanting something as usual. If you have a negative for the picture of Pat with the long hair - wearing a light blouse with dark scarf, I wonder if I could get you to get me some more prints of that. (8x10). I want to pay you for them & also for the copy of the certificate you sent. I know that cost something. If they don't cost too much I'd like to have 6 prints. I could send the picture out but am afraid to, as it is the only one I have. I want to have one of those framed for the girls - they want one of her with long hair. I hear very little from them - sometimes I think the FBI confiscates their mail.

I wonder if his insurance paid for the nurses? You said the hospital would turn in the bill.
Do you know anything about it?
I'd bet you think I'm quite a nuisance.

Things have quieted down some for me but still find it hard to keep from my mind. Don't sleep much.
I suppose time will help. I had worried so much before & so long about the way things had become with her - I keep thinking there must have been something I could have done to help her - but seemed like I had tried every way. I must have missed somewhere.

Guess Mom told you Dee
was here & ~~put~~ put the bite on me - embarrassed me that I couldn't help her & made me a little angry she should expect it. I stopped over there + I certainly felt sorry for her Mother. She was sorting potatoes + those two daughters + the other girl just laying around the house. She works so hard. I was earning my own living long before I was Dea's sisters age. Always earned my own school clothes since I was big enough. I used to work in hops - fruit - berries etc. Are people different these days or what?

They don't even fix dinner for her when she comes from work. Enough of that. I (+Henry) hope we can get down to see girls before too long. I got so sick from heat in Calif<sup>3F</sup> when Henry came from Alaska, he flew down + drove home with me - so he got to see them for a little visit. Poor Linda just wouldn't let go of him. He was just broken-hearted.

4) It would make it easier if Chandler was a little different. I had some engraving done at cemetery, had to have it put on large family stone - as there wasn't room - she is buried directly behind it - in fact they had to remove it to dig the grave - I learned later. It worked out quite well tho.

Pats aunt (her fathers sister) - was here last week & stayed over night - on her way back to Carson City - but she wasn't going to have time to go by Redding to see my girls. I try very hard not to worry about them but don't seem to have much luck. Hope you don't find this request too much of a bother, but if you can't do it please let me know & I'll send the picture out - but I do hate to chance it.

Stop in when if you come by.

Sincerely

Theresa.
