A NEW INDUSTRY.

Cascade Lumber Company to Establish Sawmill, Shingle Mill and Box Factory at North Yakima—Will Employ 200 Hands.

The Cascade Lumber Company is the name of a newly organized corporation that promises to do much to aid in developing North Yakima and the surrounding country. This company, which is composed in the main of rich lumbermen of Minnesota and Wisconsin, propose to make Yakima the great lumber center of Central Washington by erecting and operating here a mammoth saw mill in connection with which will be built a large shingle mill and also a factory for the manufacture of boxes and other things of that nature.

The site selected for this big new industry is the old Lewis ranch north of town consisting of nearly 300 acres, which was purchased from the owner, M. L. Matterson; last week for a cash consideration of $14,000. This property is surrounded on two sides by the Yakima river and is considered an almost ideal site for the purposes of the company, since the intention is to raft the logs down the Yakima river from the mountains, where the company has already secured by purchase several thousand acres of very valuable timber land which has cost an aggregate sum of nearly $100,000.

To G. S. Rankin of this city is due almost entirely the credit for promoting this great enterprise. The idea originated within the fertile brain of that gentleman about two years ago. He subsequently interested Fred Pennington of Stillwater, Minn., in the proposition and through that gentleman interested H. P. Swenson, a wealthy lumberman of Hudson, Wis., O. W. Sinclair of Duluth, Minn., and E. K. Hughey of Bellevue, Iowa, all of whom have made large fortunes in the lumber trade. Mr.
Pennington, who left here only this week for his home in Minnesota, is very enthusiastic over the plan, stating that he considered it feasible in every way and that the industry when established, would yield handsome returns on the investment.

It is the intention of the new company to commence operations right away.
Of course a great deal of preliminary work has to be done. A large pond will first be made to hold logs and excavation commenced for the foundations of the mill. The plans for the entire plant have already been prepared and accepted.

The capacity of the saw mill will be 100,000 feet per day with two band saws.
The shingle mill to be constructed later, will also be of large capacity. The factory for the manufacture of fruit boxes will be of sufficient capacity to supply the demands through the larger part of Eastern Washington. The plant when fully equipped for business will represent an outlay of at least $75,000, and will probably furnish employment to about 200 men—which means a large pay roll.

The DEMOCRAT was in possession of most of these facts several months ago, but not desiring to embarrass the gentlemen who were planning this great improvement before their plans were mature the matter was withheld from publication. Mr. Rankin however removed the embargo of secrecy this week when he learned that the news had already leaked out through the medium of an overzealous local correspondent of a Sound daily. The Yakima promoter then courteously called this office up by long distance telephone Friday from Seattle and removed the restriction of further silence.

THE YAKIMA VALLEY BANK.

A Preliminary Organization Effected—Board of Trustees Elected.

As was announced exclusively in the DEMOCRAT last week, a new bank is to be organized in North Yakima under the state law. The new institution will have a capital stock of $75,000, which will be fully paid up, the whole amount in fact, being already subscribed for.

Wednesday evening a preliminary meeting of stockholders was held at the office of the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Co., at which a temporary organization was effected, and a board of seven trustees elected to file articles of incorporation and otherwise forward the work of organization.

A good deal of enthusiasm was manifested at the meeting, all the stockholders seeming to feel sanguine that the new institution would prove highly successful. The following gentlemen were elected as a board of trustees: Miles Cannon, Stanley Coffin, John S. Baker, (Tacoma), Arthur Coffin, C. P. Wilcox, D. G. Goodman and J. E. Shannon. The new bank will probably not be ready for business before September 1.

The following parties have subscribed for stock:

Miles Cannon, E. E. Kelso, Ira P.
Englehart, J. E. Shannon, G. L. Allen, Stanley Coffin, W. J. Reed, D. G. Goodman, Harold Thompson, Arthur Coffin, Stephen Schreiner, Grace W. Robertson, L. H. Dills, John S. Baker, S. J.
Harrison, N. Woodin, Robert Dam, Dr.
Geo. Sloan, N. Woodhouse and others whose names we are not at liberty to use.

LOOKS GOOD FOR ROAD.

Farmers Are Taking Much Interest in Sunnyside Line.

The executive committee of the Commercial club and its sub-committees have been kept busy during the past 10 days holding meetings in the different precincts. A. J. Splann and Editor Robertson have been doing the heft of the orating at the country school houses, although Miles Cannon, Edward Whitson, O. A. Fechter and J. F. McNaught all addressed one or more meetings.

These gentlemen report that the sentiment in the different localities is now almost unanimous in favor of complying with the requirements and securing the road. At the meetings, which were all well attended, much interest was shown by the farmers, as was indicated by the questions asked. When the desired information was given all seemed satisfied, and local committees invariably appointed to circulate the traffic contracts and secure signatures. Two meetings were held in Moxee, one at Parker, one at Zillah, one at Outlook; also one at Sunnyside which was held Saturday night with a big turnout.

Mr. McNaught put a surveying party in the field Friday to begin at the proposed terminal grounds in the south end of town, and run a line of definite location clear to Sunnyside. Mr. Mc-Naught stated that the survey did not necessarily mean that the line would be built, but that it was being made at this time for the reason that the farmers along the route were all very anxious to know where the line was to run. Therefore the survey was being made now to facilitate the work of securing the necessary traffic agreements.

A New Coal Field.

S. O. Ewing and C. H. Shelhammer returned Saturday from Lewis county where they went to inspect some coal lands. They say that they found the prospect even better than represented and concluded to each locate a claim and take stock in the Crescent Coal Company which is being organized to develop the claims in that vicinity. The new fields are located only a few miles from the town of Chehalis and although no development work has yet been done the indications are that they will prove valuable. Three well developed veins of 10, 8 and 5 feet in width, respectively, have been uncovered and show a good quality of bituminous coal that tests well.
Messrs. Ewing and Shelhammer have secured the agency of the new company's product at Portland.

Yakima Fruit Growers' Union.

At the meeting of the fruit growers at the court house last Saturday, at which there was a fair attendance, it was voted to name the new organization the Yakima County Fruit Growers' Union. F.
W. Clark, Orlando Beck and E. Remy were appointed a committee to formulate by-laws by which the organization should be governed. Before adjournment a motion prevailed to invite Joseph Lannin, an experienced fruit grower of Sunnyside, to be present at the next meeting and deliver an address. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the president, W. L. Wright. J. M.
Brown is the secretary of the organization.

Charged With Contempt.

Sheriff Tucker, armed with a bench warrant from Judge Belt's court of Seattle, went to Cowiche Monday and arrested J. S. McLane at the home of his brother, F. M. McLane. He also took into custody Forest, the 7-year old son of Mr. McLane, whom he found attending the district school. The arrest was made on the complaint of the recently divorced wife of the prisoner on the ground that he had abducted the boy whom the court had awarded to the mother. Mr. McLane was taken before Judge Belt Tuesday and was released on $500 bail that was furnished to guarantee his appearance in Judge Belt's court June 7 to answer to the charge of contempt.

The Wenas Water Case.

Judge Belt of Spokane held court here Monday and heard the testimony in the long drawn out Wenas water case. The Supreme court some time ago overruled the decision of the Superior court in this case and remanded it back to the court here for the purpose of fixing the exact amount of water to which the appellant, David Longmire, is entitled. The Superior court was also instructed to allot to T. D. Quinn water for 136 acres on the same basis as Longmire. Thirty-five witnesses were examined, the arguments being made by the attorneys on briefs.
The court took the matter under advisement and will render a decision later.

For A Reservation Canal.

W. H. Redman, resident engineer of the Yakima Indian reservation, has recently completed a survey and estimates of a proposed ditch to irrigate a portion of the reservation lands. These reports have been forwarded by Mr. Redman to the Indian department and that gentleman hopes that the matter of building the ditch may receive favorable consideration at the hands of the government.
The intake for the proposed canal is at Union Gap which is an elevation sufficiently high to carry the water to within a few miles of Fort Simcoe. The amount of land that would be tributary will approximate nearly 60,000 acres.

A strong effort will be made to induce Congress to appropriate the amount necessary to build the canal. In case of failure to do so an attempt will be made to induce private capital to build the ditch as the proposition is a most legiti-mate one and is sure to yield substantial returns on the investment.

E. M. HARRIS,

THE FIRST ST. GROCER.

THE YAKIMA DEMOCRAT,
JOHN DAVID MEDILL,
Editor and Publisher.
Entered at the North Yakima Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

Published every Saturday morning at the Democrat Printing House on First Street, North Yakima, Washington.
OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

It is the avowed purpose of the Post-Intelligencer and Times of Seattle and divers other newspapers in the state of Washington, that are consecrated to the service of the railroads, to use their utmost endeavor to prejudice the people against Gov. McBride in the determined stand he has taken in favor of the regulation of railways. In pursuing this policy the organs of "Jim" Hill are, to use a slang term, very "foxy." They carefully refrain from making any direct attack on the governor, as to do so might defeat the end they have in view. They have adopted a subtle and perhaps much more effective course to bring the governor's cause into disrepute before the people.

The plan being pursued by the representatives of Mr. Hill is to try to discredit the movement inaugurated by the executive by appealing to the selfishness of the people, especially the commercial element of the Sound cities. The plea is speciously made that if the state shall exercise its unquestioned right to regulate the roads, that Mr. Hill and all his associates will get mad and will, to all intents and purposes, boycott the state. That they will be likely to raise our freight rates and quit shipping our stuff to China. In fact, these newspapers freely assert that unless the wrath of Mr. Hill be appeased, which means in effect that unless the pending suit against the "merger" be withdrawn and the governor and his supporters silenced, the devil will be to pay generally in Washington.

One of the tactics employed is to publish interviews daily with well known men in the state who are assumed to have large interests at stake and therefore possessed of a right to speak authoritatively in behalf of the people. One and all they covertly condemn and sneer at the policy pursued by the governor, but usually in such smooth reading English that an observing reader is invariably forced to the conclusion that these alleged interviews were all written by the trained hand of a cunning railroad "worker." Sometimes the victim of the interviewer is made to say some silly things, as for instance, a certain man was made to say, after denouncing the interference on the part of the state with the plans of the railroad people, that what the people of the state wanted was the passage of a rate bill and not the appointment of a commission. What rot!

If it was proposed to pass a rate bill this individual would doubtless be clamoring loudly for a commission. It is clearly evident that the newspapers that wear the collar of the corporations have received instructions to begin systematically the work of throwing dust in the eyes of the people. It is too bad that this is so. The influence of the press is usually all powerful in moulding public sentiment; a fact which Mr. Hill doubtless took due cognizance of when he invested large sums of money in newspaper enterprises in this state.

The Yakima valley is destined to become a thickly settled district. Our situation, our proximity to great markets, our capacity to produce the most valuable classes of agricultural products and last but not least our matchless climate will soon bring us and in fact is now bringing us a large population.

It is needless to add that this will be largely a rural population, for this is essentially an agricultural country. The conditions are such that the great majority of our population will live on small but highly cultivated farms. What then can be more important than that our people should have the benefits of quick and easy transportation? Not for themselves only, but for the advantageous marketing of their products.

What will be needed, what is already needed is a cheaply operated system of electric roads radiating into all the surrounding valleys with North Yakima as a common center. Such a system will pay and it will pay our people big to have it. Of course it will take time, years perhaps, to get such a perfected system but it will come, especially if we go after it, and there never will be a better time to start than now.

The projected road to Sunnyside is of vastly more importance than any other line of this proposed system and it behooves our people to make a success of this undertaking. If North Yakima is to continue to grow and become a city of any great importance it is imperative that this road be built and as soon as possible. If this is not done the trade of a large and populous section will go elsewhere, for trade like most other things follows the lines of least resistance.

There may be croakers among us who say that our destiny is fixed and that it is quite unnecessary for any of us to put our shoulders to the wheel to help along the car of progress, but the sad experience of countless other towns has demonstrated the falsity of such reasoning. The old adage that the Lord helps him who helps himself is still as true as ever.

Our neighbor, the Washingtonian, puts itself on the back with pardonable pride, and well it might, for has it not accomplished some herculean tasks in the sacred cause of reform? Like unto a knight of the olden time, the distinguished colonel who shapes the policy of our youthful contemporary, has gone out of his way to do battle with evildoers and already has many scalps and other trophies dangling at his belt.

Even before the journalistic intendant had become old enough to learn the ways of this wicked world it discovered that a conspiracy existed against a "leading in dustry" (sheep raising), and promptly rushed to the rescue of the oppressed brethren with the result that the "self-seeking politicians" were soon routed and put to flight and their unholy schemes exposed. Then a wicked city council that had been squandering public money with a prodigal hand, next claimed the attention of the zealous young reformer. The searchlight of publicity was promptly turned on and the municipal plunderers, one and all, were soon made to rue the day they were born.

Next came the crusade against the knights of the green cloth. The edit went forth from the editorial sanctum that the unholy traffic must cease and it did cease, and so suddenly that the oracle itself was struck dumb. Emboldened by this crowning success it was then announced that that class of gentry known as "gentleman friends" must perforce seek pastures new and behold the order was promptly issued to "pass on."

The chivalrous knight of the Faber then began to realize that a great public benefactor, the much abused "Jim" Hill of merger fame, was being badgered and imposed upon by political ruffians. He lost no time in training his heavy artillery upon these disturbers of the peace and soon they became as worms of the dust.

Yea, verily, the pen is mightier than the sword. Our infantile contemporary certainly has proven that to an admiring world. "What meat hath this our Caesar ate that he hath grown so great?"

The teachers of the Puyallup schools have begun a movement for the building of a monument to mark the grave of the late Governor John R. Rogers, whose remains are interred at that place. The idea originated with a Puyallup teacher, but it has now become so popular that the schools in every part of the state have taken it up and the children are contributing their pennies to the fund.

The good wishes of the whole people, we believe, will go out for the success of the movement. It ought to and doubtless will succeed. There is ample reason why the school children of Washington should reverence the memory of John R. Rogers, for he was their steadfast friend. It was he who conceived and carried out the present beneficent "barefoot" school boy law. During his five years service as the chief executive of this state the public schools were the especial object of his solicitude. What could be more fitting than that the school children of the state, each by contributing a mite, should erect a marble column to perpetuate the memory of the great and good man who in life was their friend and benefactor.

The Yakima Republic succeeded in giving its readers considerable of a surprise last week. In an editorial leader the local organ came out in opposition to "Jim" Hill. With a vigor truly popularistic it flouts the great magnate, ridicules his assumption of ownership of the people of Washington and tells him that if he does not like the conditions here to take his railroad out of the state and go to the devil with it.

Considering its subservient policy on the railroad question since the date of its first issue, this remarkable declaration of our ancient contemporary is most alarming. In fact, it is so startling as to almost cause its old time readers to fall dead. At any rate until some explanation is vouchsafed, the public will be apt to conclude that somebody has been fooling with the colonel's transportation and perhaps have cut it out.

The capital stock of the Standard Oil Company is $100,000,000. In 1901 it distributed in dividends to its stockholders $48,000,000, which is 48 per cent net on the investment. John D. Rockefeller, the saintly gentleman who is the principal beneficiary of the great oil trust, receives nearly $20,000,000 per annum out of his oil stock. Yet this sanctimonious old fraud has the hardihood to tell his Sunday school class that present conditions are well nigh perfect and that he regards himself as a special instrument in the hands of the Lord.

The republicans are manifestly uneasy as to the result of the Oregon election next Monday and with reason. While the "webfoot" state is normally republican by about 10,000, the local conditions are such that the democrats seem likely to elect at least a portion of their ticket this year. With the Simon crowd openly knifing the ticket, the unpopularity of the republican candidate for governor and the 6000 striking workmen in and about Portland, who are in an ugly humor, the prospects are not very bright for a g. o. p. victory.

Not within the memory of the oldest inhabitant has there been a better prospect for a good crop year at this season of the year than is now the case in Yakima valley. Some complaint has been made about the season being backward and while this is undoubtedly true it should be remembered that for this section, at least, such a condition has a distinct advantage. A backward season means for us the husbanding of our water resources in the mountains until such a time as the life giving fluid is needed by nature to make and perfect the growing crops.

DECORATION DAY should be one of the most generally observed holidays of the year, for its significance is great. It is a day of hallowed memories that ought to be kept sacred in the mind of every American man and woman, boy and girl. It will be a sad day for the nation when it forgets its brave defenders, many thousands of whom sacrificed their lives on the field of battle in order that free government might continue to live and its blessings enjoyed by future generations.

THE state government, not satisfied with the 83,000 acres of arid lands, mainly in this county, which it has kept tied up for the past ten years, now insists upon gobbling up all the vacant lands that there is left. The people of this section would have no objection to the state taking these lands if there was any reasonable probability that an honest attempt would be made to redeem them by irrigation. But there is no such probability, and the way the matter stands the state is simply playing the part of the dog in the manger.

THE democratic state convention of South Carolina, which assembled recently, repudiated Senator Mc Laurin and passed resolutions denouncing him for the course he has pursued in the senate.

"Too Rich to Marry."

When Edwin Owings Towne wrote the beautiful comedy, "Too Rich to Marry," he did not do so in a hit or miss manner. He wrote it with a thorough knowledge of the people whose odd ways he was borrowing to furnish the comedy in the piece.

The beliefs of the religious sect known as Dunkards, and their queer ideas of the world, afforded Mr. Towne plenty of humorous situations and enough pathos to make his comedy highly entertaining, and far above the average in quality.

Mr. Towne has a thorough knowledge of the Dunkards, their manners of living, their beliefs and their quaint ideas, so that one who sees his picture comedy, "Too Rich to Marry" will receive the right impression about the Dunkards. Mr. Towne has studied them and lived among them, and knows whereof he writes. The comedy will be at the Larson theatre Tuesday, June 10th.

"Missouri Girl" Coming.

Secretary Gunn of the State Fair commission, announces that he has secured a particular attraction for the State Fair this fall. He has secured a promise from Miss Ella Ewing, the "Missouri Girl," whose home is at Gorin, Scotland County, Missouri, to come out this season and make the North Pacific fair circuit which opens at Seattle August 18 and closes at Boise, Ida., October 25. The tall lady expects to arrive on the coast about July 1 and will spend the first six weeks of her stay at the seashore. Miss Ewing is about 24 years of age and is 8 feet 9 inches in height, being unquestionably the tallest woman in the world. At home she has a house especially made for her, the doors in which are 9 feet high with everything else in proportion. When she travels a long distance she uses her private car in which is placed a specially constructed berth for the lady's use.

The parents of Miss Ewing are people of ordinary size as are also her brothers and sisters. Some years ago she traveled over Europe with Barnum & Bailey's show. Her father was a poor man and consented to her being placed on exhibition in order to help the family. She soon earned sufficient money to lift the mortgage off her father's farm. Her home is in the neighborhood of Memphis, Mo., from which place Dr. Gunn, W. A. Cox and a number of other Yakima people came here from. It is safe to say that Miss Ewing will not be the least of the attractions at the State Fair this fall.

AN EXPERT'S OPINION.

Ranger Carr Contributes a Letter on the Evils of Sheep Grazing.

The following self-explanatory letter was received recently by Mayor F. C. Carr from A. P. Carr who is quite well known in this vicinity:

"Macklin, Wash., May 17 1902
Hon. O. A. Fechter,
North Yakima, Wash.

Dear Sir: I wish to be permitted to say a few words in relation to Rainer Forest reserve. I have hunted for game, fur and mineral in the Cascades from Snoqualmie Pass to Mt St Helens for more than 30 years. During 1900 and 1901 I was a forest ranger in the employ of the Department of the Interior and I think I know something about that region.

"Whenever sheep have been grazed in the mountains the verdure is gone, totally destroyed. Now don't pooh, pooh, at this, go and see for yourself.

Cattle do some injury but sheep destroy the vegetation. I have often talked with the herders; they admit that this is so but say: "But what is it to us? We work for wages." I know of numerous small streams that always were fine brooks until the vegetation was destroyed by sheep and fires that got started accidentally(?) near sheep camps. Afterwards wind and sun carried away the water, no longer protected. Now, many water courses are dry and I know what I am talking about.

The soil in the mountain region is light and shallow. Sheep pull up the grass, it dies and the ground is left bare. Now don't jump up and dispute with me because some friends of yours want to feed stock in the reserve or he wont vote for a certain man, but go up there ride around far and wide with your eyes open and see how much I have misrepresented the matter.

Yours truly,
A. P. CARR.

The Assessor's Census.

Assessor Scott states that he has received the census returns from all his deputies except one and that the amount of population so far reported for the county totals 13,211. The districts not yet reported embrace Parker, Sunnyside and a portion of Mabton precinct, the combined population of which Mr. Scott estimates at 2300. If such estimate is correct it would give a total population for the county of 15,511, a figure which, by the way, is considered by a number of people materially less than the real number.

The completed returns for this city is 3871, which includes none of the outlying additions.

Resolution of Confidence.

School District No. 7, Yakima Co., State of Washington.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., May 26, 1902.
At a regular meeting of the board of directors of school district No. 7, Yakima county, held on the day and at the place above written, after the conclusion of the labors of the board, and on the retirement of President Larson, the following resolution was unanimously adopted, and the clerk of the board ordered to engross the same upon the minutes, and transmit a copy thereof to Mr. Larson, the retiring member; Be it

"Resolved, by the members of the Board of Directors of school district No. 7, of Yakima County, Wash., that on the retirement of President Larson from this board after a full term of three years' self denying, earnest, intelligent, zealous work in behalf of the schools in this school district, the remaining members of the board desire to officially express their high appreciation of his services as a member and presiding officer and as sure him that he will carry into private life the greatest respect and regard of every member of the board, as well, it is believed, of the superintendent, the principals, the teachers and pupils in the various public schools and also of the taxpayers of the district.

Shudders At His Past.

"I recall now with horror," says Mail Carrier Burnett Mann, of Levanna, O., "my three years of suffering for Kidney trouble. I was hardly ever free from dull chest or acute pains in my back. The Ladies' Musicales.

The musicale given at the Congregational church Wednesday evening by the Ladies' Musical club, was a treat for all those in attendance and the seating capacity of the church was taxed to the utmost with music lovers.

The features of the entertainment were the vocal selections rendered by Miss Thompson of Spokane, a guest of Mrs.
Marshall Scudder, an obligatti by Mrs.
Louis Lesh and the instrumental duets by Mrs. Richards and Miss Daisy Boyle.
It is probable that the club will give another musicale before the end of the season.

Etodus of Macks.

There has been a general exodus this week from North Yakima of that element of society popularly known as "macks" or "gentlemen friends." Marshal Grant on instructions from Mayor Fechter and City Attorney Snyder Wednesday night notified 15 of them, all that could be found, that their room was more desired than their company and that they would be given 24 hours time in which to shake the dust of Yakima off their weary feet.

The macks doubtless expecting such a summons, took the matter philosophically and prepared to leave. The next morning eight of them bid a tearful good-bye to their sweethearts and took a train, some going east and others west. That evening another batch pulled out. Any that refuse to go will be arrested and fined under the vagrancy ordinance and in case of failure to pay will be put to work on the chain gang.

A Neat Sum Realized.

The sum of $233 was realized by the Congregational church as its share of the proceeds of the Queen Esther cantata, which represents 50 per cent of the net receipts. The entertainment drew nearly as large an audience Friday as on the preceding evening, many people being so well pleased with the first presentation that they went the second time. Prof.
Robinson, who conducted the concert, before leaving North Yakima paid a high compliment to the musical talent of this city which, he said, was equal if not superior to that of any other town of similar size that he had visited in the west.

Dayton vs. Hoppickers.

As the DEMOCRAT goes to press, Friday evening, the match game of ball between the Hoppickers and the Dayton club is in progress with a large attendance on the grounds. The Dayton team will remain here over Sunday, on which day the second game of the series will be played. The local team feels confident of being able to gather in both games.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Attorney Snively made a professional visit to Prosser Wednesday.

The Cliff Cleman ranch in the Natchees was sold this week. We did not learn the name of the purchaser.

Charles Owen and Fred Cline, accompanied by their best girls, paid a visit to friends at Fort Simcoe last Sunday.

The best machine for pulling stumps and for pulling brush out of ditches, will be built next week at the Yakima foundry near the railroad Y.

Dr. Frank left Friday on a 10 days' visit to the Sound. He will take in the grand lodge meeting of the I. O. O. F. at Whatcom during his absence.

The Rainier hotel, better known as the Guiland house, was sold Thursday by H. P. Smull to W. C. Capps. The consideration is said to have been $3500.

F. D. Clemmer leaves today for What-com, having been elected a delegate from the local lodge I. O. O. F. to the grand lodge which convenes in that city Monday. A number of other odd fellows will go from here as spectators.

A rattling game of ball was played at the Capitol Hill grounds Wednesday, between the Yakima High School nine and that of Ellensburg. It was a hard fought game from start to finish, resulting in a victory for the home team by the score of 13 to 12. This gives the Yakima boys two out of the three games so far played this season.

A move is on foot to establish a cold storage warehouse in Yakima with an ice making plant in connection. Local parties in connection with two monied men from Indiana, propose to establish the new business. One of the parties went east this week to order the machinery. The DEMOCRAT refrains from publishing the particulars this week by request.

A committee of the W. C. T. U. has been industriously at work this week in the effort to procure signatures to a petition addressed to the city council praying that the saloons be closed hereafter on Sundays and between the hours of midnight and 6 a. m. The petition was quite numerously signed. It will be presented to the city dads for their consideration at the meeting of the council Monday night.

Myron W. Avery of Port Orchard, Wash., through his attorney, H. J.
Snively, has begun a suit against the N.
P. R. company for damages. The plaintiff alleges that as he depended from the train at Prosser one day this week, he stepped on a long, rusty nail that protruded from a plank in the platform, with the result that it produced a dangerous wound in his foot.

W. F. Clark and associates expect to get started to work next week on their high line canal in the Wenatchee valley, which is designed to cover 6,000 acres of what will prove very valuable land. It is a great undertaking from an engineering standpoint, as the contour of the country traversed is very rough, requiring a large amount of fluming and several siphons. It is expected that the work will be finished January 1, and that the cost will aggregate $150,000.

Two Little Waifs.

An originator and a man of unique ideas, Lincoln J. Carter is perhaps unlike any other person in the theatrical world. Novel, to the extreme, is the manner in which he secured, or rather engaged, a general manager for his many attractions.

Mr. Carter has always argued, "if you want to do anything, start out and do it, always keeping your mind on the thing to be done." Gathering several applications in his private office he abruptly broke the silence with, "Good morning, gentlemen, I want to tell you a little story." Proceeding, Mr. Carter related the following incident: "A little squirrel sitting on a tree contentedly cracking nuts, when a hunter passed that way, seeing the little animal, raised his gun to his shoulder and fired. The gun missed fire and the squirrel scampered down the tree and into a barn filled with hay or straw, with the hunter in hot pursuit. In the barn were some boys who had carelessly thrown a lighted match in the straw and the ignited refuse soon destroyed the barn and all its contents." Hesitating for a moment Mr. Carter asked the assembled managers what they thought of his story. One ventured to question, "was there any insurance on the barn?" Another asked, "were the boys burned?" and so on until it came to John B.
Hogan, who modestly asked, "what became of the squirrel?" Mr. Carter laughed loud and long and said: "Mr.
Hogan, you are my general manager; you keep your mind on the point. Now try and squirrel on the best cast and scenic equipment you can secure for my latest production, "Two Little Waifs." The result will be seen at Larson's theatre Wednesday, June 4.

The advance sale of seats will be at the box office of the theatre June 3 and 4 from 11 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and 4 p. m. to 6:30 p. m. each day.

Decoration Day Observances.

Decoration Day was generally observed in Yakima Friday. A large number of people went to Tahoma cemetery, leaving town at 10 a. m., to decorate the graves of departed soldiers and friends, and loved ones generally.
At 2 p. m. the procession formed in front of G. A. R. hall with the band, Co. C and the old soldiers in line, and the march was taken up to the armory, which was filled with people to hear the exercises of the day. The oration, delivered by Rev. H. M. Bartlett, was a very touching and masterly address.

Stores, and business houses generally, remained closed from 1 to 5 p. m.

The Way of the World.

She was a woman, worn and thin, whom the world condemned for a single sin. They had cast her out of the king's highway, and passed her by as they went to pray. He was a man and more to blame, but the world spared him a breath of shame. Beneath his feet he saw her lie, but he raised his head and passed her by. They were the people who went to pray at the temple of God on the holy day. They scorned the women, forgave the man, they were thus since the world began. Time passed on and the woman died; on a cross of shame she was crucified. The world was stern, and would not yield, and they buried her in the potter's field. The man died too, and they buried him in a casket of cloth with a silver rim, and said as they turned from the grave away, "We buried a noble man today." Two mortals meet at heaven's gate, stood face to face to enquire their fate. He carries a passport with an earthly sign, but she a pardon of love deigned. On ye who judge 'twixt virtue and vice, which, think ye, entered paradise? Not he who the world had said would win for the woman alone was ushered in.—Bob Taylor.

If we felt like bothering our customers to read testimonials, we could fill a paper full. There are 500 men in the county using McCormick's and after they use them once wouldn't have anything else. We have already sold two cars and any one desiring one out of the third car, please get your order in soon.

We are having a car of buggies or wagons come in nearly every week now. We buy in large quantities and ship everything in carload lots, enabling us to make prices which cannot be equaled, quality considered.

We also have the largest stock of HARNESS AND SADDLERY in Central Washington.
