Indian Claims Hearing Planned

WELLPENIT, Wash. (AP)—A delegation from the Spokane Indian Tribe will go to Washington, D.C., for a hearing Feb. 3 on a proposed $6.7 million land claims settlement.

The offer of settlement was made by the U.S. Department of Justice, and was accepted by the general council of the tribe Dec. 17. The case now goes before the Indian Claims Commission.

Part of the money must be used for development programs on the reservation.
