RAILROAD AND SUGAR MILL.

Sunnyside Wants the Railroad and Under the Sugar Factory. By Usser Effort Both May Be Had.

A mass meeting was held at Prosser recently in the interest of the beet sugar factory at that place and of the proposed railroad from Prosser to Toppenish via the town of Sunnyside. The meeting, according to the Record, was a very enthusiastic one. W. N. Granger made a rattling speech in which he said that the people of Sunnyside wanted a railroad and that if Prosser would help to get the road Sunnyside would aid Prosser to secure the sugar factory by agreeing to raise a goodly proportion of the necessary beets. Mr. Granger wound up by assuring the people of Prosser that if the two propositions worked successfully that that town would have 10,000 people before North Yakima would have 7,000. (Applause.)

The Sunnyside correspondent of the Spokesman Review states that the railroad committee of that place has made a proposition to General Manager Cooper to grade free of charge the right of way of the proposed belt line in consideration of the Northern Pacific undertaking to build the two necessary bridges over the Yakima and of laying the track and operating the road. Mr. Cooper is said to have responded that if such an offer is made by responsible parties both he and President Mellen would recommend its acceptance by the board of directors, who would have to pass on the proposition.

PICKING IN FULL BLAST.

Yakima Hop Fields Scenes of Great Activity.

Hop picking is now in full blast in all of the yards of this valley, except perhaps in two or three small yards where an early start was secured at picking and which are now finished and in the bale. There is now no scarcity of pickers as there was a week ago. The Indians began to come out of the mountains in great numbers the first of the week and with the additional pickers that have arrived from the Sound there is now plenty of help to be had.

Growers all over the valley say that they never saw hops ripen so fast before as is the case this year. The cool and cloudy weather this week has not been regarded as favorable for harvesting the crop, especially in such yards as are infested to any extent with lice. In all yards located on the low lands extraordinary efforts are being made to get the crop picked as soon as possible. In a number of yards, so the owners say, spraying will be resorted to next year. One spraying in the month of June, it is thought, will be all that will be required.

A number of sales of 1902 hops were made this week. McNeff & Alter Monday bought 76 bales from L. Davidson. J. McNeff purchased 123 bales of F. B. Shadlow and 52 bales of H. D. Winchester. J. H. Hubbard bought 37 bales from Davenport & Stewart, while H. L. Hart bought 73 bales from S. Wade. A. E. Poole & Co. bought from Capt. Dunn 143 bales and from D. A. McDonald 150 bales. The price on all the above sales is reported at 20 cents except the last which is 20½ cents.

He Fell from Grace.

At the Columbia River conference of the M. E. church held at Spokane last week the charges against Rev. C. D. Nickelson for "conduct unbecoming a minister" were dropped and the record in the case ordered expunged. This was done in consideration of Mr. Nickelson having asked for a letter of dismissal both from the ministry and the church.

Mr. Nickelson, it will be remembered, is the Colfax preacher, who although a married man with several children, fell violently in love with Mrs. M. E. Dunbar, a society woman who lived a few months in this city. What led the minister into trouble was his habit of writing letters to the object of his affections in one of which he demanded that Mrs. Dunbar should meet him at Spokane on a certain day and jump off the Monroe street bridge with him. At this the lady became alarmed lest that Nickelson should take his own life. She did not go as summoned, but instead sent Attorney Meigs of this city to reason with the lover and preacher and if possible prevent him from committing suicide. Subsequently the facts in the case were published by the Spokesman-Review, which led the bishop to declare the pulpit of Rev. Nickelson at Colfax vacant.

The erstwhile preacher is said to be holding down a clerical position at Spokane while the lady of whom he was much enamored is teaching music at Portland.

Company E Leaves Sunday.

Capt. C. T. Dulin of Co. E, with the company's full roster of 65 men expect to leave tomorrow, Sunday, for Tacoma, to go into camp at American lake for 10 days.

This will be the first encampment held by the state militia under the auspices of the U. S. Army. A battalion of infantry, a troop of cavalry and two batteries of artillery are expected to be present from the different government army posts in this state and the officers of the different branches of the regular service will drill the militia men in the arts of war. The work in the camp will be hard and incessant and if any of the home boys entertain the idea that they are going on a picnic their minds will probably soon be disabused of that idea after they have been put through the paces.

The National guard of this state now consists of seven companies of infantry and one troop of cavalry, located at Tacoma. The infantry is located at the following towns, Seattle having two companies: Seattle, Tacoma, Everett, Whatcom, Vancouver, Aberdeen, Ellensburg, North Yakima, Waitsburg, Colfax and Spokane.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

Large Amount of Business Disposed of—Yakima W. L. & P. Company ask a Renewal of Franchise.

The regular meeting of the city fathers was held Tuesday evening, Monday being a public holiday. Mayor Shaw and all the councilmen except Moran, were present.

A communication was read from H. B. Hurley of Tacoma accepting the gas franchise granted him by the council in June.

A petition was read for the grading of North First street from A to H street. On motion of Liggett the same was granted. A petition was read to grade Seventh street its entire length from H to Race street. On motion of Harrison the petition was granted.

A petition for a board side walk from A to C on the east side of North Sixth street was read and on motion granted.

A petition for a concrete walk on the east side of South Natches avenue was read and granted.

A petition was read to have Selah street opened from the north line of Millville addition to the city limits. Referred. A petition was read to have an arc light located at S. Second and Maple streets. Liggett moved to grant the motion was defeated by a tie vote the same but of 3 to 3.

The petitions of Bert Fletcher and Olaf Sandberg for renewals of their respective saloon licenses on Front street were read and motion of Keck granted.

The monthly reports of Police Judge Taggard and Marshall Mull were read. These showed the sum of $485 collected for the month; $425 from prostitutes and $60 from miscellaneous sources.

A franchise ordinance was read for the first time granting a franchise or rather extending the present franchise of the Y. W. L. & P. company for a period of 25 years. The matter went over.

The council then passed four improvement ordinances and also resolutions accepting two sidewalks built by John La Chance and one by G. H. Moulton after which the council adjourned.

Liggett stated that several hundred dollars were due the city from purchasers of lots in Tahoma cemetery and on his motion Clerk Doust was authorized to collect same and to notify the debtors that if payment is not made that the city will resell any lots not paid for.

State Fair Notes.

The new buildings as well as other improvements under construction at the State Fair grounds are all nearing completion, and everything will be in readiness for the fair with the close of another week.

The new exhibit barn for the accommodation of draft horses, which will be filled with the best show of this class of horses ever seen in the northwest, will be one of the many features that will please all lovers of fine stock.

Exhibitors throughout the state are manifesting a great deal more interest in the fair than usual, thereby demonstrating their appreciation of the opportunity to make the fair of 1903 a credit to the state. This is apparent with manufacturers as well as live stock exhibitors and we are promised several new features in this line—in short the people throughout the state are awake to the realization that it necessitates more than the efforts of a State Fair commission to make a creditable state fair. Wide awake business men, recognizing the state fair as an opportune place to advertise are lending their assistance. Continuous inquiry is being made by intending visitors relative to accommodations. The Commercial Club has this matter well in hand and with this management and the increased capacity of the city we have no hesitancy in assuring the people that ample accommodations with reasonable charges will be found for the increased thousands that will attend the fair.

Wrestling Match.

A wrestling match between Prof. F. S. Lewis, formerly middle weight champion of the world and Chris Larson of Minot, N. Dakota was held at the armory last for $100 a side and the gate receipts.

W. H. Patterson is the stakeholder. A $60 forfeit was posted with Mr. Patterson to insure the pulling off of the event. A large crowd was expected to be in attendance.

Prof. Lewis, in addition to being a famous wrestler is a most scientific boxer and fencer. His opponent in this match has also a record of victories behind him, having been successful in a number of matches with professional wrestlers.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

CHICAGO, it would seem, is suffering from too much labor unionism. A recent report from that city states that a number of employers in that city have already located their plants in other places or contemplate doing so, giving as a reason that too much is exacted from them by the labor organizations of the big city and that their business is too much disturbed and interfered with through sympathetic strikes and the machinations of the walking delegate. Among other large employers of Chicago who are about to remove their plants from that city is the great publishing house of Rand, McNally & Co. On being interviewed on the subject Mr. McNally said:

"The labor troubles and the high wage scale prevailing in Chicago have made it difficult for us to compete in the manufacture of books with other firms more fortunately situated."

Other firms that have found it necessary to move out of Chicago are the Bradley Implement Mfg. Co., Ross-Selinger Glove Co., Chas. Mosen Glove Co., Buckingham Bros. garment makers, Vassar Swiss Underwear Co., Redd & Crafts paper box makers, Atlas Parlor Mfg. Co., A. H. Revell & Co., Pole Printing Co. and A. H. Conkey & Co. printers.

Labor organization is, of course commendable as it is necessary. But the trouble with a great many labor leaders is that they never seem to know when to quit turning on the screws. Drunk with power they often go to such extremes as to kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

Unquestionably the tendency of the times is toward compact organization. On one side we have the trust and on the other the labor union and as a rule one is as tyrannical and intolerant as the other. Between these two great opposing forces is the middle class, the average man of small means who has no way of protecting himself against either. If things keep on going as they are in this country this class is apt to be wiped out, or ground up like wheat between two millstones.

The St. Louis Fair Commission for this state complain that the railroad people absolutely refuse to make any concessions in the matter of forwarding exhibits to St. Louis. The material for the state building they say, was generously donated by the lumbermen of the state has not yet gone forward for the reason that the lowest rate that they have been offered for hauling it is the modest sum of $5000. The business of preparing an exhibit, it seems, is practically at a standstill for the reason that if the railroads continue to "stand pat" a great part of the appropriation of $75,000, made by the last legislature for the purpose of having the state suitably represented at St. Louis would have to be spent in paying freight charges. This would certainly be the case unless the exhibit should be materially reduced. The commission points out that the railroads have not pursued the same policy in dealing with the neighboring states of Oregon and Idaho, where, as has hitherto been the custom in this state, they have pursued a liberal policy.

The railroad magnates certainly have as much interest in advertising the resources of the state of Washington as anybody else and as a matter of fact ten times more. If it is true that they have decided to punish this state because of their dislike for Gov. McBride they will find that such a foolish policy will react and arouse the people as nothing else would.

PARENTS and guardians of children between the ages of 8 and 15 must send them to school under the operations of the law passed by the last legislature. The new statute makes it obligatory to send children between the ages named above to school for at least four months out of the year and in town or city districts for five months.

The penalty attached for a violation of the provisions of the law is a fine of from $20 to $50, which, when collected shall be turned in to the county treasurer and by such officer shall be credited to the district in which the defendant in such case may reside. The law fixes the duty for making complaint jointly upon the county superintendent, school clerk and teacher and fixes a like penalty upon such officials for failure to comply with the law.

The Spokesman-Review says that Senator Foster beat a hasty retreat for home last Sunday from Spokane when apprised of the fact that Ed Hamilton was about to announce his candidacy for his, Foster's, seat in the American house of lords. If a little thing like this throws Foster into a panic he will be likely to know what it is to experience a real scare before he gets through with Sam Piles and the Great Northern crowd.

The shrinkage in the alleged value of stocks in the recent Wall Street panic is said to be in excess of two billion dollars which is somewhere near the amount of the nation's debt. Yet this gigantic upheaval is referred to by the administration organs as a "mere flurry." If the process of wringing the water out of a great mass of rotten stocks is a mere flurry it would be interesting to know how the organs would describe a real panic.

GENERAL Manager Granger is reported as having said in a speech recently delivered at Prosser that if the proposed railroad and beet sugar propositions were carried to success, that Prosser would be a town of 10,000 before North Yakima would have 7,000. If Bro. Granger is in the habit of making such prophecies he is likely to soon gain the reputation of being a practical joker. Prosser will have to hurry.

The chairman of the democratic state central committee of Tennessee in order to learn the trend of public sentiment in that state regarding a choice for the democratic presidential nomination sent out 500 circular letters to representative democrats of that state as to their choice. The replies received were as follows: Alton B. Parker 255, W. J. Bryan 164, Arthur P. Gorman 12, Grover Cleveland 11, David B. Hill 2 and the balance scattering. According to this the Parker boom is not so dead as some of the politicians appear to think.

Joseph Grimes of Cincinnati, aged 34, died last week. Grimes, while living, had the distinction of being from a physical standpoint the biggest man in the world, his weight being 854 pounds and his height 6 feet four inches. In an evil hour one day Grimes hired a cab to convey him home. While being whisked along the bottom of the carriage suddenly gave away precipitating the fat man into the street. The injuries received resulted in his death.

ROLAND MOLINEUX, who escaped the gallows in New York on the charge of murder, has recently written a book in which he undertakes to justify his wife for having recently obtained a divorce from him in South Dakota. Molineux takes the matter so philosophically in fact that the casual reader is apt to conclude that he really doesn't care very much about it.

HARPER'S WEEKLY figures out that "Teddy" has no dead cinch on winning out next year. It says that in all probability he will lose all of the border states carried by McKinley as well as New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. However that may be, the fact is quite plain that the president is not as strong as he was a year ago. This is particularly true in the east and south.

The initial number of the Payallup Valley Tribune, published at Payallup by Robert Montgomery, has reached our exchange table. The Tribune, judging from the first issue, is the best thing that ever happened in the shape of a newspaper at Payallup. The DEMOCRAT wishes the new paper success.

JUDGE BELT of Spokane has rendered a decision knocking out the new game law passed by the last legislature on the ground of its being unconstitutional. It is pretty safe to bet that the supreme court will affirm this decision.

A PRETTY strong hint comes from Washington that the transcontinental railroad lobby is responsible for the defeat of the canal treaty in the Columbian senate. That is very possible. In fact it is quite probable.

$20,000 Apple Contract.
A Hood River correspondent of the Oregonian states that Joseph A. Wilson, manager of the Hood River Applegrower's union, last Saturday consummated a $20,000 apple sale. The Davidson Fruit company, of Hood River, is the purchaser, and has deposited $1000 to bind the sale. The price for fancy four-tier Spitzbergers is $2 a box; yellow Newtowns, $1.80, the apples to be delivered at railway at picking time. Before the recent organization of the union buyers were paying $1.45 cents a box for Spitzbergers. This is the largest fruit sale ever made in Hood River.

Washington Letter.

(From Our special correspondent.)

An epidemic of scandals seems to be the leading feature of the present administration of the federal government. The post office scandal has dragged along all summer, with every now and again some surprising development. The interior department scandal, involving subordinates of that department and practically all the members of the Dawes commission, has only recently come to light and is not yet under investigation and now comes information to the effect that because of reports involving many of the subordinates of the departments of justice the attorney general has ordered a drastic investigation of every official connected with his department located in the "Indian Territory jurisdiction." It seems that charges against United States attorneys and marshals, other than those in connection with the allotment of the Indian lands, have reached the attorney general charges which allege the connection of these officials with contracts for feeding prisoners, sharing profits accruing from illegitimate liquor selling and similar practices and as a result Attorney General Knox ordered the current investigation some weeks ago.

Secretary Hitchcock is still wrought up over the Indian lands scandal but he had not yet secured a competent man to undertake the investigation ordered by the president. He is trying to secure a man familiar with Indian affairs and one who has no personal interest in the situation and finds it difficult to obtain the services of such an individual. In the meantime, the facts in connection with the system of "graft" which has permeated the entire allotment of Indian lands and which involves practically every member of the Dawes commission become daily more conspicuous.

Affairs in the postoffice department have taken another lively turn. Louis Kempner, superintendent of registry, has been discovered to have been conducting a system of smuggling Cuban cigars and selling them to his friends in Washington at prices in the neighborhood of $7 per box. The last consignment of these cigars was confiscated by the inspectors and turned over to the treasury officials. Customs officials said today that every registered package coming from a foreign country and addressed to a private individual was held up and the person addressed compelled to come before a customs officer and open the package in his presence. From this it is argued that Kempner must have had the cigars concealed in registered packages of official mail. Kempner has long been under investigation on other charges but it is claimed that this alone would be sufficient to insure his dismissal from the postoffice department.

Another interesting feature of the past week has been the summoning before the District of Columbia grand jury of State Senator George E. Green of New York, in connection with the Bundy time-clock contract. It was this contract that got George W. Beavers into the clutches of the law and it is predicted that Senator Green, who lives at Binghamton, N. Y., and has long been a personal friend of the president, will be indicted by the grand jury before its adjournment. As told some months ago in these letters, quantities of these clocks were purchased by Beavers at $125 each and it is claimed that the conspirators made a profit of 60 per cent by the deal. The clocks were installed in numerous post offices, many of which have only two or three employees and where they could be of no possible use. It is also a matter of interest that Beavers has been located in New York and a friend of his came to Washington this week and made arrangements with a local company to go Beavers' bail in case he should be indicted by the local grand jury, as is anticipated.

Every inquiry at the state department with regard to the European situation, which the president ordered to Beirut when the canard that vice consul Magelsen had been murdered was received, appears to cause embarrassment and it is plainly seen that the officials think that the president acted precipitately and ill-advisedly in the matter and that he has placed the United States in a ridiculous position. The latest advice is to the effect that Magelsen was not fired at but that some drunken Turk, celebrating a marriage, fired a pistol in the air in the vice consul's vicinity. It is also reported that several arrests have been made as a result of this disorderly conduct. It is feared that the presence of an American fleet will have no effect but to make trouble where none now exists.

But we would like to keep them with us and have them engage in other business.

Say, did you take time to read the Washingtonian last week and did it alarm you? Well, say, wasn't that a fierce attack upon our little city. Wonder who wrote that article anyway. Called our hamlet Yakima City. What a farce. Not yet, at any rate. Concessions, why we have none to make. "Drop City." We can't, we haven't it to drop. We are officially known as Yakima, Wash., both by the U. S. postal department and Rand, McNally & Co. Aren't they ample authority for you Also to know us as Yakima without flying to your kite tail. So if North Yakima or any of our citizens want to have the whole cheese called Yakima, Wash., then the proper step would be to consolidate with Yakima, for we are the only and original Yakima us to annex? No we would prefer building toward Union Gap and beyond to the reservation. We can see no advantages in annexation as it would make our taxes higher and as it now is they are mild and reasonable. Yes, the Washingtonian was right when it stated "go it alone" for there is where we came from and long before any other cities now near here were platted and nursed. It is time also that we are having a revival of business boom. Our mill is a sure go and a brick yard in sight. No one has ever doubted that the reservation would be any other than a great source of benefit to us. The most of all this agitation is a false alarm, for we are Yakima, Wash., and no one can help it.

Saint Making Triumvirate.

A preacher came at a newspaper man in this way: "You editors do not tell the truth. If you did you could not live your newspapers would be a failure." The editor replied: "You are right, and the minister who at all times and under all circumstances tells the whole truth about his members, alive or dead, will not occupy his pulpit more than one Sunday, and then he will find it necessary to leave town in a hurry. The press and pulpit go hand in hand, with whitewash brushes and pleasant words, magnifying little virtues into big ones. The pulpit, the pen and the grave-stone are the great saint-making triumvirate." And the great minister went away looking very thoughtful, while the editor turned to his work and told of the surpassing beauty of the bride, while in fact she was as homely as a mud fence.

Hope for the Cannery.

The shortness of the sockeye pack is to be made up for in part by the advanced price which will be put on all grades of salmon by reason of the shortage, and the cannery companies may not go bankrupt, after all. But that does not affect the truth of the statement that the only salvation of the fishing industry on the Sound is the establishment of sockeye hatcheries and the establishment of open seasons when the salmon will not be fished on their way to the spawning grounds.—Seattle Times.

General Weaver's record for devotion to principle in preference to party, together with his most distinguished service as a radical leader in American politics, should bespeak for his opinion the interest, respect and consideration of democratic men of all parties, factions and organizations.—The Public.
