To: Click Relander

We ask you to keep this confidential...you are among the winners of the 1962 Contest. Congratulations!

Thank you very much for your interest and support of the contest, as well as for entering to help us in our endeavor to give Inland Empire writers some deserved recognition.

There were more entries this year than ever before - 59 in one of the categories. And the judges were unanimous in their comments about the fact that entries were of very high quality - and judging was difficult. Judges were:

Mrs. Helen Hector, Associate Editor, The Readers' Digest
Mr. Ray Schrick, Northwest News Bureau Manager, The Wall Street Journal

Mr. Sam Sharkey, Jr., Editor of News, National Broadcasting Company

Mr. Robert Garst, Assistant Managing Editor, New York Times

Mr. Paul S. Deland, Associate Editor, The Christian Science Monitor

Mr. Don Tennant, vice-president in charge of TV Commercial Department, Leo Burnett Advertising, Chicago.

The Awards Banquet will be held Saturday, March 10, 1962, at the Spokane Press Club. (Enclosed invitation gives all the details.) We hope you can come and receive your award in person and enjoy the company of your fellow writers.

We thank you again and look forward to seeing you March 10th.

Sincerely,

Virginia L. Grimes
