

County Board Meets

J. H. Johnson was elected delegate from the Yakima county library board to the American Library association convention in New York in June during last night's meeting of the county library board. New county library headquarters in the Grange building will open with an open house June 1, it was announced. Over 2680 books were circulated by the library during the past month. A $2500 state grant to the library will be used to purchase a new bookmobile. A one month vacation for professional help and a two week vacation for clerical help was approved by the board. Attending the meeting were Johnson, Mrs. Doris McDonald, Mrs. Annie A. Morrison, Miss Carol Trimble and Miss Helen Remsberg.
