Sure to please the friend who has started a gallery wall, these delicately detailed cameos are priced at just $12 each. Low relief figures in soft bisque white are silhouetted against traditional blue or black grounds. Irresistible cupids at left are displayed in rectangular Regal style frames of simulated wood in patina gold and distressed black finish. Oval Countess frames in patina gold set off the graceful Grecian figures at right. Cupids are 5 x 5-7/8 inches overall. Grecian figure plaques measure 5 x 8-1/2 inches. Made by Arabesque of Traverse City, Mich., they may be found in furniture, department and gift stores.

A gift that will reflect the glow of the holiday spirit year-round, Venetian mirrored sconces by Arabesque have the look of treasured antiques. They're of simulated wood, exactly reproduced from hand-carved original designs and finished in rich patina gold with smoked glass mirror panels. Measuring 7-1/2 x 19 inches and projecting 3 inches, these handsome sconces are priced individually at $15 each.

Men appreciate the rich colors and bold designs of heraldic art, represented here in a quartette of deep-dimensional wall plaques by Arabesque. Reproduced from original hand-carved designs, the simulated wood plaques measure about 12-1/3 x 18-3/8 inches. Multi-color finishes highlight the details of (clockwise from upper left) English, French, Austrian, and Italian crests. Priced at about $15 each, they're handsomely at home in a den, office, or bachelor's "pad."

A gift with patriotic flavor, this rugged spread eagle is a wall plaque in distinctive "weathered" wood technique. Reproduced by Arabesque of Traverse City, Mich., from hand-carved originals, it is available in a choice of two sizes: 41-inch wingspan, priced at about $30; 25-inch wingspan, priced at only $10. Both are colorfully finished to add a decorative touch to an Early American home, a man's office, or a boy's bedroom.
