F. X. NAGLER

G. O. P. IN BAD SHAPE.

Woods Full of Candidates, with a Good Deal of Knocking Being Done. Local Bosses Very Uneasy.

As convention time approaches, a considerable amount of activity is beginning to be manifested in local politics especially among the numerous class seeking nominations on the legislative and county ticket.

The situation at this time within the republican party of this county is, to say the least, very peculiar. In other words, things are badly mixed, and most of the boys scarcely know where they are at. There is an entire lack of harmony among the leaders and a big crop of aspirants for all the offices. These two things are certain—beyond that all else is as yet uncertain.

The Hon. W. L. Jones is now at home and is presumed to be busily engaged in fixing up his fences here in his own bailiwick, which are evidently in need of repair. The congressman's homecoming this time was quiet and unostentatious. His fellow townsmen were apparently glad to see him, but little enthusiasm was manifested. Quite a number among the faithful, as is well known, are sore at the treatment they received at the hands of Mr. Jones regarding appointments, and their friends naturally sympathize with them. But this is by no means the extent of the opposition. The republican leaders in this county, in fact, are nearly all either secretly hostile or else indifferent to Mr. Jones' candidacy for a third term. This feeling, while more marked than formerly, is not new, however, and the reason thereof is not far to seek. It is due to the fact that Mr. Jones' prominence casts a great shadow over the aspirations of several other local statesmen who are growing mighty tired of waiting and watching.

Yakima is relatively a small county and it is generally assumed that it is doing well if it can succeed in getting the name of one man on the state ticket. This year, though, the republican delegation of Yakima is likely to ask for two places. The friends of Judge Rudkin are not a bit backward in declaring that their man is made of the right stuff to ornament a place on the supreme bench, and that inasmuch as Judge Reavis, the retiring justice, is a Yakima man, that he is entitled to the place. They assert, moreover, that the bar of the state generally sympathize with the Judge's life-long aspirations, and that now is his opportunity which may never occur again. If Judge Rudkin asks for such endorsement, it is believed by many of the leaders that he can get it, not only from his home county, but from Kittitas as well, and get it, too, regardless of the effect upon Mr. Jones' chances.

At present, not less than six men are being talked of for the state senate, all of whom are believed to be quite willing to accept no honor if it can be induced to come their way. The following is the list of both active and passive candidates: Fred Parker, W. B. Dudley, W. H. Hare, Ira P. Englehart, W. J. Reed and B. F. Barge. The fight, however, is likely to narrow down to three of these candidates.

For the two nominations for the lower house there is said to be a big grip of candidates, although the situation is not yet very well defined. Those being freely mentioned for these places are S. J. Cameron, chairman of the county committee, John Cleman, Dan Sinclair, J. J. Wiley, Capt. Dunn of Parker, Nelson Rich of Prosser, — Kelso of Kiona, and S. J. Harrison of Sunnyside. In addition at least two of the candidates named above for senator are said to be willing to accept a house nomination in the event of failing to land the higher honor.

The contest for the sheriff's office promises to be a hot one. There is quite a long list of aspirants for this place, the principal candidates being Sindall and Leach, the present deputies, Geo. Ker, C. E. Lum and A. L. Dille. The last named is a very active candidate, and is said to have secured a good many pledges of support from possible delegates. Mr. Sindall has the support of his chief, Sheriff Tucker, besides a number of friends actively at work in his behalf.

Three active candidates for auditor are in the field—namely, Deputy Newcomb, F. C. Hall and J. C. MacCrimmon. Newcomb is ably supported by Ed Kelso, the retiring auditor. Hall is being backed principally by business men and certain church people, while MacCrimmon's candidacy is being looked after by Editor Boyle and Attorney Krutz.

For the office of treasurer there is likely to be a spirited contest between Earl G. Peck, the present chief deputy in the office, and Assessor Robt. Scott. The former is considered strong in the party generally, but it is said that Mr. Jones has promised this nomination to Scott in order to propitiate that gentleman for the loss of the postoffice. It remains to be seen, however, whether or not the congressman will be able to deliver the goods.

For the clerkship there are three active candidates, as follows: Deputy J. W. Day, City Clerk H. B. Donst and Dell Fox, the Zillah merchant. This is an office that is likely to be traded off to the man who can deliver the most votes.

For assessor, not so many candidates have yet developed. Mr. Scott, the present incumbent, who is barred from running again, is said to be desirous of passing it along to his chief deputy, Harry Coonse. This office, too, is apt to be regarded as trading capital by the leading politicians.

For the desirable office of prosecuting attorney there is one avowed candidate in addition to W. P. Guthrie, the present incumbent, who desires to stand for re-election. This is W. M. Thompson. Thompson will make a determined effort to win this time, and has already received numerous pledges of support.

For school superintendent there is not likely to be any serious opposition to S. A. Dickey, the present official, in the convention, as Mr. Dickey is now serving his first term.

For commissioner in the north district to succeed Frank Horsley, it is said that George Donald will be a candidate. It is also presumed that Mr. Horsley desires to be his own successor.

Congressman Jones will, it is believed, actively espouse the cause of certain candidates for places on the county ticket, in order to not only fulfil some promises made to friends, but to placate certain gentlemen who consider that they have been misused. Some of Mr. Jones' closest friends admit that if he is to continue in public life he must have a better home organization, which in this case means that he must take better care of his friends. They say that he intends to take the bull by the horns.

FOR COUNTY DIVISION.

Mass Meeting Called to Meet at Prosser July 30 to Open Campaign.

The Prosser Record of last week contained interviews with most of the leading citizens of that place on the question of county division and the organization of a new county. With one exception, all the people interviewed expressed themselves as being heartily in favor of the plan for division. On the strength of this sentiment a mass meeting has been called by a number of prominent citizens of that town, to convene at Prosser next Wednesday afternoon, July 30, to devise ways and means and appoint committees to begin and carry on a campaign for the organization of a new county, with the seat of government to be located presumably at Prosser.

It is said that the present plan for division, insofar as the boundary lines of the proposed new county are concerned, is not materially different from that of two years ago, when the bill was shelved in the state senate after passing the house, except that it is now proposed to take a larger slice of territory from the present county of Klickitat, drawing a line north and south several miles west of Bickleton.

Hon. Nelson Rich of Prosser, the present republican representative from this county in the legislature, was in North Yakima Wednesday. In an interview with the DEMOCRAT, Mr. Rich stated that the campaign for division was now on, and that the sentiment of the people of his section was now almost unanimous for the creation of a new county, with Prosser as the county seat. The people of eastern Klickitat, he said, are heartily in favor of the plan, as they have nothing in common with the western section of that county and find it very difficult and inconvenient in getting to Goldendale, the county seat. The mass meeting to be held at Prosser next Wednesday afternoon, said Mr. Rich, will be a big gathering, as 500 invitations to attend have been sent out to people in the disaffected territory.

From other sources the DEMOCRAT learns that the division issue is likely to be injected to some extent into the coming campaign. The "east end," it is said, will demand representation on the republican legislative ticket this fall, and will present the name of Mr. Rich for renomination as a member of the house. This courtesy, said a leading republican of that section to the DEMOCRAT this week, will be demanded as a fitting vindication of Mr. Rich's record in the last legislature, which is entirely satisfactory to the people of the "lower end."

"At any rate," concluded our informant, "our section is entitled to some representation on the legislative ticket."

The invitation to be present at the mass meeting reads as follows:

"PROSSER, Wash., July 17, 1901.

"Dear Sir:—Now that the era of development has fully demonstrated that the people of the east end of Yakima county are justified in asking that a new county be set aside, and a new seat of county government be established, we the committee are instructed to extend to the citizens of Sunnyside, Mabton, Bickleton, Kiona, Patterson, Rattlesnake, Kennewick, and all other localities interested, an invitation to meet with us, by committee or otherwise, at Prosser, Wednesday, July 20th, at 2 o'clock p. m. The object of the meeting is to outline the boundaries of the proposed new county, and to discuss the proposition from a mutual standpoint. Let every locality be represented. By order of the committee."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

If the Prosser newspapers and the people of that promising and enterprising burg can demonstrate clearly to the people of Yakima county that a large majority of the people of the lower end desire separation and the privilege of establishing a county government of their own, then and not till then, we believe will the people of the north end give serious heed to the movement.

So far, such evidence has not been furnished, and the DEMOCRAT seriously doubts if it can be. So far the fight for and against the division has been largely confined on both sides to politicians who have been looking out for their own selfish interests and other people who have axes to grind. The taxpayers are the ones really interested, the people who by right ought to settle the question.

The truth of the matter is that the clique of republican politicians in and about this city, which dominates the affairs of the county is largely responsible for the growth of the division sentiment in the lower end. As a rule, that section has been treated with but scant consideration for years, and it is hardly to be wondered at that the people down that way are growing weary of the present condition of things.

The DEMOCRAT would, of course, prefer to see the unity of the county maintained if it can be done. Division would only weaken us in influence as an integral part of the state and create confusion in plans now maturing for the development of the entire valley.

However, this paper believes in the time-honored democratic doctrine, that "government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed," and if our friends below can show us that a decisive majority of the people in that portion of the county earnestly desire separation, and can give good reasons for wishing to set up in business for themselves, we do not consider that we have any right to say that they shall not do so.

The Taxpayers League of this state, with headquarters at Spokane, promises to make quite a vigorous campaign before the coming legislature for a reduction of the prevailing high tax rates. A committee of the league has been investigating the machinery of government to some extent and find that more than the necessary amount of "grease" is used in running it. The courts of the state, particularly, the committee reports, are run on too expensive a scale, too much public money being frittered away in private litigation. The following is the declaration of principles of the Taxpayers League:

1st.—We favor the amendment of the laws of the state in the direction of making litigants pay a reasonable share of the costs of the courts; thus relieving the taxpayers from bearing the entire burden of the present heavy court expenses.

2nd.—We favor the reduction of jury fees from $3 to $2 per diem, and the requirement of at least 15 days service during the jury term by all citizens who shall be summoned thereto, and the reduction of all mileage fees from 10c to 5c per mile.

3rd.—We favor an amendment to the state constitution providing for separate election of judges in both the superior and supreme courts with the object of removing said election from party politics.

4th.—We demand that all nominees shall pledge themselves to an economic administration of the office to which they may be elected to the end that the present excessive costs of administering county and state affairs shall be materially reduced.

One of the worst phases of this Tracy business is the terrible example that he has set for boys and viciously inclined young men. There is just enough of the dramatic element in Tracy's flight from justice to appeal to the thoughtless and inexperienced, who are apt to regard this dangerous outlaw and murderer with a price on his head, as a great hero. As an instance of this a couple of young cubs who were inmates of the Chehalis reform school took it in their heads to imitate Tracy. Accordingly they managed to make their escape from that parental institution and armed with a revolver which they had managed to procure in some manner they proceeded to hold up people which they did successfully in two or three cases before being captured at Portland.

Nor is the disposition to lionize this bandit and common felon confined to thoughtless youth alone. A great many grown people, who ought to know better, express sympathy for him and their desire that he may escape. It is needless, of course, to say that this is all wrong and is due to perverted sentiment. Tracy has made himself an enemy to society in the same sense that a mad dog running at large is and should receive no more consideration. The only pity is that he still retains his liberty, which means further power to work evil and cause death.

The Roosevelt administration, in its fruitless negotiations with the Vatican, the object of which was to purchase the lands of the friars in the Philippines and thus be enabled to exclude that element from the islands, has brought itself face to face with the religious question in politics, which is apt to cause trouble. Cardinal Rampolla, speaking for the Pope and the Holy See, has politely but firmly refused to consider Gov. Taft's proposition to sell the friar lands to the United States or to be a party in any way to the expulsion of the friars from the Philippines, which, of course, is the object really aimed at by the administration. In defense of his refusal to so treat Cardinal Rampolla alleges that the property interests of the church in the islands are fully and in specific terms protected by a provision in the treaty of Paris, which places the responsibility on our government of protecting such interests as against either native or foreign interference. Any agreement, he says further, on the part of the Vatican to sell these lands against the interests and will of the church in the Philippines would be contrary to the long established policy of the church.

Now that the administration has its answer, it remains to be seen what Teddy is going to do about it.

Even the fiery-tongued Cushman speaks well of Senator Turner. In a recent interview in the Spokesman-Review the Tacoma congressman said:

"The relations between all the members of the Washington delegation have been most harmonious and amicable, and this fact has enabled us all to work together for the up building of the state. While I am on this subject I want to say a word about Senator Turner. He has come to be recognized as one of the strong and able members of the United States senate. His force and ability have won fame for himself, and above all have reflected great credit on the state he so ably represents.

"I do not agree with Senator Turner on political questions, and I propose doing all I can in a straightforward republican fashion to defeat him for re-election; but simple justice demands that I say what I have about his ability and attainments and standing. Through Senator Turner's cooperation the republican members of the delegation have been enabled to do much more for the state than they would have otherwise."

The republican convention of Spokane county endorsed Wilson for senator and also endorsed Governor McBride's proposal for a railroad commission. This looks very much like trying to ride horses in opposite directions and catch everybody both coming and going. Wilson, it seems, was forced to swallow the McBride resolution in order to escape possible defeat. With him it is a clear case of "when the devil was sick the devil was well the devil a monk was he."

Hobson, of osculatory fame, jumped into the Mississippi the other day to rescue a silly maiden who plunged headlong into the stream in order to give the over-gallant seaman an opportunity to rescue her. Hobson fished the dripping damsel out all right, but afterwards manifested to kiss her, which was very thoughtless of him, as that was doubtless what the poor girl risked her life for.

The Seattle Times says editorially that the Hon. Joel Shomaker, its Yakima correspondent, recently saved the hop growers of this valley a half million of dollars by giving readers of the Times a timely tip that the price of hops was going up. If this is the case, the hop farmers ought to meet and not only endorse Joel's candidacy for congress, but buy him a gold-headed cane.

The farmers along the proposed lines of electric railways in this county will consult their own interests by showing a disposition to deal liberally with the rights-of-way committees. By evincing a disposition to "hold up" the enterprise, as is reported in a few cases, they may succeed in defeating the movement, at the same time cheating themselves.

The Washingtonian, which compliments itself frequently on publishing all the local news, had not even a two liner on the home coming of Congressman Jones. Was this merely an oversight on the part of the editor, or is the local organ determined to give the western Abraham the icy hand and the marble heart? Speak out, neighbor; speak out.

The way that Acting-Governor McBride whipped John L. Wilson into line for a railroad commission strikes most people as being rather amusing. McBride administered the "water cure" to John L., after throwing him flat on his back, and Wilson swallowed the dose, though with a very wry countenance.

If there is to be another row over the matter of county division, it is certainly up to the republicans to settle it. That party foolishly precipitated the issue two years ago by sending to the legislature a man committed to division.

How is it that there are so many failures being reported daily by Brad street's and Dun's agencies in these piping times of prosperity?

WHAT the Washingtonian lacks in news it usually makes up in assumption.

HOW THE TARIFF WORKS.
The Difference in the Price of American Made Goods at Home and Abroad.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Saturday, July 19. That American-made goods are sold cheaper abroad than in this country and that the high tariff is responsible for this condition, has been the contention of the democrats in congress for the past two or three sessions. When Chairman Griggs assumed control of the democratic campaign committee he undertook to prove the claim for the purpose of making it an issue in the campaign for tariff revision. Last week he advertised in the New York papers, offering a reward of $100 for a copy of the special discount sheet to accompany the export price list of the firm of Henry W. Peabody & Co. Mr. Griggs has succeeded in obtaining the information he desired and today issued the following statement:

"A gentleman in the employ of the democratic congressional committee has for several months been engaged in an effort to secure some of the special discount sheets of a leading export house. By the co-operation of several friendly members he has succeeded in obtaining the export list of about half a dozen of the 200 exporting houses in New York. Although the lists are not the special discount sheets advertised for by the committee, and do not quote bottom prices for export, they quote prices far below any that can be obtained in the United States. It will give the two prices on some articles:

Which the Better Way?
Fifty years ago Japan was a heathen country, without trade or commerce. Her people were unacquainted with the outside world, and utterly ignorant of Christian civilization. Without the firing of a shot or the shedding of a drop of blood, Japan was rescued from her isolation, her people made acquainted with the world at large and helped on the road to liberty. No nation presumed to teach the Japanese self-government. No nation assumed to control them under the specious plea of benefiting them. No nation declared its purpose to govern the Japanese and grant them as much freedom as their condition warranted and the interests of the controlling nation dictated. On the contrary, Japan was left to work out her own salvation, and although an oriental island and occupying a vantage point for oriental commerce, no nation seized the island. During the fifty years since Commodore Perry opened the ports of Japan and made a treaty with the Japanese, the people of Japan have made progress unparalleled in the history of the world. Today Japan is a world power. Her people are classed among the intelligent and progressive peoples of the earth. Autocratic and arbitrary power has faded away before intelligence, and trade and commerce flourish without the bullet and the bayonet.

For three hundred years the Philippines have been peopled by Christians. The Filipinos have banded schools and larger institutions of learning. The people have sent representatives to the leading universities of Europe. They have worshiped the true God, erected homes, founded cities and struggled for freedom. Yet a Christian nation seizes the islands under the specious plea of acting under Divine providence, drenches the islands with blood, lays waste towns and cities, devastates fields and makes sport of yearnings for liberty and freedom and self government. Peace marked the dealings with the heathen Japanese; slaughter and sword mark the dealings with the Christian Filipinos. No one sought to interfere with the government of Japan by the Japanese, although they were ignorant of Christianity and knew nothing of civil liberty. But a people yearning for liberty, worshipping God, and eager to take a place among the nations of the earth, are coldly told that they must submit to arbitrary government, relinquish the dreams of centuries, and be shot if they oppose their conquerors.

Which is the better way—the one pursued in Japan or the one now being pursued in the Philippines?—The Commoner.

NEWSPAPER REPORTER.
A Bullet Sometimes Gets His Name Into Print.

In the Paterson riots a newspaper reporter who was on duty for his paper was shot through the lungs and may die. It is only when something of this kind happens that a reporter's name gets into the public prints. At other times the world hears little and knows little about his life, which is one of frequent peril and hardship.

A soldier does a daring deed and is hailed a hero by his grateful countrymen. A fireman saves a life, and his courage is lauded by his fellow citizens. Even the prosaic policeman is given due credit for any unusual achievement in the line of his duty. But the reporter, whose life is a constant exposure to the dangers of all the others, usually lives and dies "unwept, unhonored and unsung."

In the long march of the allies to Peking the reporter was there. When the "boys in blue" swept up San Juan hill the reporter was dodging the Spanish bullets from the blockhouse at the summit. Pelee was still belching fire and ashes when the reporter, far in advance of the scientific investigator, crept into the terrible tragedy for a waiting world. What the world learned of these events the reporter risked his life to give it, but little acclaim did he receive in return, and none indeed did he ask.

The newspaper reporter is one of the most important factors in the affairs of this busy world; but, like the men who work in the hold of a great steamship, the credit he receives is from his superior officers and not from the throngs that promenade the deck.—Newark (N. J.) Advertiser.

Jones and the Sheppmen.
It is reported that a private conference was held last Saturday between Congressman Jones and a number of prominent sheppmen in the office of Secretary Nichols of the Woolgrowers' association. Not much has been permitted to leak out, but it is said that Mr. Jones gave the flockmasters present assurances that he would continue to labor in their interest, and that he would endeavor to procure the appointment of R. K. Nichols as supervisor of the eastern half of the Rainier reserve.

May Start a Brewery Here.
The DEMOCRAT has the information from a leading business man of this city that there is a very strong probability of a brewery being started in North Yakima at an early date.

During the past week S. A. Moore of St. Louis, who is connected with the Moon Bros. Buggy Mfg. company of that place, visited this city and looked over the situation. Mr. Moore is a gentleman of means, and is connected with wealthy people in the Missouri metropolis. He felt convinced, he said, that Yakima offered a splendid field for the establishment of a brewery, and that as soon as he reached home he would lay the matter before his associates. Mr. Moore expects to return here within the next sixty days.

Sheriff and Posse Return.
Sheriff Tucker, Alex Starrett and Ed Case returned to this city from Natchez pass Wednesday evening, after a week's hunt for Tracy in the mountains. The two Pierce county deputies who accompanied the party from here, under instruction from Sheriff Hartman of that county, did not return with the posse, but started home Tuesday by way of the Gold Hill trail.

It is needless to state that the sheriff and his men saw nothing of the famous fugitive, for he evidently was not in that neck of the woods at the time.

Wednesday's Tacoma News conveyed the information that Tracy had suddenly bobbed up Tuesday at Miller's logging camp on Green river, a short distance from where Sheriff Goddard abandoned the search for him last week. Tracy, so the story goes, suddenly appeared in camp and asked for his dinner, which was given him, of course. He conversed freely for several hours with the six men in camp, and seemed to enjoy their company. He said that he was in the best of health, had not been wounded, and was still hanging about in that country for the reason that he wanted to give Merrill's brother an opportunity to see him.

A Good Coal Prospect.
Geo. Weikel, who, with a force of six men, is engaged in prospecting a group of coal claims located on the divide between the head of Bumping river and the Cowlitz pass, reports that the work of development is progressing in a very satisfactory manner and that the coal being taken out is a good quality of anthracite. Tunnels have been driven in at various lengths at different locations on the claims, in all of which the coal measure has been struck. The new fields are distant only about 45 miles from this city and are reached by a fairly good trail. The claims are all held by parties in this city.

RINGLING BROS'. CIRCUS.
Biggest Show that Ever Traveled to Visit This City in a Few Weeks.

As already announced, North Yakima is to be given another opportunity to see Ringling Bros'. World's Greatest Shows. Arrangements have been completed for the appearance of this famous combined circus, menagerie and hippodrome in this city Saturday, Aug. 16. Ringling Bros'. circus is now undoubtedly the largest traveling amusement institution in the world, and it is run upon such a high plan as to win the approbation of every community in which it exhibits. Its performances are always high class and thoroughly up-to-date, and Ringling Day is always a day to be remembered with pleasure. This is not only the experience of this city, but it is also the experience of every city where the great show exhibits, from Maine to California and from British Columbia to the Gulf of Mexico. The engagement of the show this year will be particularly interesting from the fact that the performance is entirely new and serves to introduce hundreds of clever artists never before seen in this country. This element of novelty pertains to every department of the show, and while many great features of other years have been sacrificed, the new offerings are greater and infinitely more attractive than anything in the arena line ever seen in a circus in the past. The number of unique acts is so great and the program so diversified that it seems more like a hundred shows than a single composite exhibition.

John O'Brien, the most famous and successful of all trainers, presents for the first time his marvelously beautiful equine ballet militant—the most astonishingly gorgeous display of equine training and horsemanship ever attempted. The splendid company of acrobats includes the famous Dunbars, from Australia; the Pettis, the Ty Bell sisters, the wonderful Holloway trio of mid-air gymnasts, and scores of others equally remarkable. The Nelson family of ten men, women and children are the top-liners of a notable and infinitely world's greatest acrobats, and 40 dwarfs furnish the comedy element of the great show. The Hobsons, the Schadels, and John and Michael Rooney are among the celebrated riders. Captain Webb brings his great company of juggling seals direct from Paris; Prof. Wood presents his dog and pony circus for the first time, and Pearl Sanders introduces scores of new and wonderful tricks in his amazing performance of 20 big and little elephants.

The menagerie offers the most complete zoological display on earth, including the only living giraffe and a great herd of 30 elephants. The hippodrome is a colossal, thrilling reproduction of the sports, spectacles and races of the ancients, and the parade that introduces circus day is the most brilliant display of the kind seen in twenty centuries. Such a show ought to have a great day here, and it will.

White Man Turned Yellow.
Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was yellow jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Quigg & Ayres, druggists.

CITY DADS CONVEYE.
Marshal Grant Elected Street Commissioner
---Contract Let for Macadamizing
Second Street.

On Monday, the regular meeting night the city council met and adjourned until Tuesday evening, owing to the lack of a quorum.

Tuesday evening the mayor and entire council, with the exception of Moran, were present, the two new councilmen—Aikens, successor to Ayres, and Keck, successor to Sinclair—being present for the first time.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The quarterly reports of City Treasurer Donovan and City Clerk Doust were read and referred to the finance committee. The report of N. H. Yates, showing $136 collected in poll taxes since July 7, was also read and referred.

W. A. Cox asked the council to reimburse him to the amount of 19.04, the amount of taxes which he had paid on certain property the second time through error. Mr. Cox produced his receipts for both payments, and on motion of Keck the council ordered the amount refunded.

A remonstrance was read from certain property owners on Seventh street, against the proposed trunk line sewer on that street, on the ground that to assess the cost against the abutting property was double taxation.

An ordinance granting a 25 year franchise to the Chi-tan Co-Operative Telephone association of Sunnyside, received its first reading and was laid over to the next meeting.

A communication from the Yakima National bank, asking that the city make due effort to collect taxes delinquent on certain street improvement warrants, was read, and on motion the city attorney was instructed to proceed to collect same.

H. Larson, on the recommendation of the committee on police, was elected a member of the force to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Wilbrite.

Liggett, as chairman of the street and ditch committee, made a report in favor of electing Marshal Grant to the position of street commissioner, made vacant by the resignation of C. M. Hauser. The recommendation was accepted and Marshal Grant elected, with the understanding that his salary is to be increased $15 per month.

One bid was read for the macadamizing, curbing and guttering of Second street, between Walnut and B streets. The bid was that of Wm. McKivor and was for $6.35 per lineal foot. After considerable deliberation, the bid of Mr. McKivor was accepted by a vote of 5 to 1, Councilman Reed being the minority.

The bids of Wm. McKivor and Au-miller & Lull for building a 6-foot macadam sidewalk on the east side of Second street between B and D were rejected on the ground of being excessive.

The bids of the Yakima Hardware Co. and Fawcett Bros. to furnish the city 500 feet of hose were referred to the committee on fire and fire limits, and Chief Hauser, with power to act.

An ordinance establishing a sub-sewer district on Selah avenue between West Yakima avenue and A street was passed and the clerk authorized to advertise for bids.

No further business appearing, the council then adjourned.

About Those New Commissioner Districts.

It has been discovered that Commissioner Dimmick represents nearly one-half the population of the county. As the district referred to comprises the east end of the county, it would indicate that we are growing. It is proposed to lighten the burden of the east end commissioner by redistricting the county, which, according to the Yakima Republic, is favored by Mr. Dimmick, as the following indicates: County Commissioner Dimmick, when asked about the attitude of the board, said to a Republic reporter: "I'm in favor of it, and will bring the matter up before the board adjourns. I will insist upon a redistricting."

We would suggest to the honorable county fathers that they let the matter stand as it is until later. The establishment of Riverside county will cut off a greater portion of the present east end district, which will make it necessary for the parent county to redistrict to give a third district within its boundaries. —Prosser Record.

Tilt. Phillips was up from Mabton Wednesday to attend the funeral of his niece, Mrs. Minnie Phillips.

W. T. Clark was in town Friday from Wenatchee. He says that work on the high-line canal is now on in full blast.

The Order of Washington put up a surprise party and swooped down on the lodge at Artesian Thursday night. Local members report a delightful time. The merry party danced until 2 a. m.

The present spell of hot weather delights the hearts of the hop growers, as it is just what they have been longing for. The scorching rays of old Sol, they say, is making the lice turn up their toes by the millions.

Yakima people who have visited Ellensburg lately say that the town up the creek seems to have taken on a new lease of life and is beginning to look lively. While Yakima is now practically a closed town, Ellensburg is running wide open and is accordingly now doing more business than ever before.

The boys of Co. C took the special train which arrived here about 8 a. m. Sunday morning enroute to Tacoma. The companies from Spokane, Waitsburg and Colfax were aboard and with the company from North Yakima made a merry party. The militia went into camp at American Lake last Monday and will continue there until Thursday of next week.

A mass meeting of farmers and others interested in the proposed "high line" ditch was held at Ellensburg last Saturday. The promoter of the enterprise submitted his proposition, and it is reported to have been accepted by the citizens. After certain legal formalities are settled, it is said work will begin on the big ditch, as the money has been secured with which to construct it.

A. F. C. Merged With the Order of Washington.

At a meeting of the superior club of American Fraternal Club, held in this city last Monday, it was decided to recommend to the membership of the order that the plan of merging the club with the Order of Washington be adopted. In pursuance of this purpose, a general meeting of the membership of the A. F. C. was called the convene at the armory last evening.

In a circular letter mailed to members the officers of the superior club state that after weeks of negotiations with the superior officers of other insurance organizations, satisfactory arrangements have been concluded with the Order of Washington, with headquarters at Portland, Ore., for the consolidation of the two societies—in other words, the absorption of the former within the body of the latter.

The statement is set forth that the superior club has met all the expenses promptly, paid all losses up to date and closes its books without owing any man a dollar. It is further represented that the club could not become a paying institution within three or four years, and that the financial burden meantime on the superior officers is greater than they longer care to assume.

The A. F. C. was conceived by the Hon. Joel Shomaker, the well-known journalist of this city, who for a time was its superior secretary. The work of organizing branch clubs began here in October, and for a few months everything worked smoothly and the membership grew rapidly. Then dissensions unfortunately began within the Superior club and the work of organization ceased after about 700 members had been secured. Branch clubs were established at N. Yakima, Parker, Prosser, Sunnyside and Ellensburg.

How Portland Got Its Name.

According to a writer in the New York World, the city of Portland received its name under these circumstances: Two men named Pettygrove and Lovejoy were the first owners of the ground on which the city of Portland, Ore., now stands. Pettygrove had gone there from Maine and Lovejoy from Massachusetts. Pettygrove, out of admiration for Portland, in his own state, wanted to name the new place Portland. Lovejoy, being a Boston man, insisted on calling it Boston. Unable to agree, they finally decided to toss a penny, the man getting heads to name the place. Pettygrove got heads and named the place.

The New Bank Organized.

The stockholders of the new Yakima Valley Bank met in the U. S. land office Friday evening of last week and elected a board of seven directors to serve one year as follows: Miles Cannon, Arthur Coffin, John S. Baker (Tacoma), J. E. Shannon, W. J. Reed, H. Stanley Coffin and D. G. Goodman.

After the adjournment of the stockholders' meeting, the newly elected board of directors met and proceeded to select a set of executive officers for the new institution. The following officers were elected: President, Miles Cannon; first vice president, Arthur Coffin; second vice, John S. Baker; cashier, H. Stanley Coffin; assistant cashier, Duncan Stuart.

The capital stock of the bank is $75,000, sixty per cent of which must be paid by Sept. 1, as the new institution will open for business during the first week of that month. Being organized under the state laws, the new bank will be enabled to do a general loan business.

The fixtures for the bank have been ordered from Chicago, and will be up-to-date in all respects, costing in the aggregate $7000. The safe ordered is manganese steel, and is fitted with the latest improvements.

The corner room of the Ward block, now occupied by the clothing store of E. O. Keck, is to be the home of the new bank. Mr. Keck expects to vacate Aug. 1, when the work of repairing and decorating will begin.

The Yakima band boys went to Ellensburg Thursday and played a game of baseball with the nine of that place, which resulted in a score of 20 to 9 in favor of Ellensburg. It is evident that the local band can beat the "windy city" aggregation playing, but not playing ball.

Scott; priest, Nora Bedker; treasurer, A. J. Mulholland; scribe, Gertrude Zook; escort, Ollie Varker; inside guard, Oscar Dillon; outside guard, Orville Dorset.

While driving to Old Town her horse became scared and collided with another vehicle. The lady was thrown out and received some painful bruises on the head, which fortunately proved to be not of a serious nature.

"Ping Pong" Postponed.

Manager Fournier returned the latter part of last week from Seattle, whither he had gone to see if he could procure suitable talent to produce his new comic opera "Ping Pong," which according to announcement was to have been put on for the initial performance at Larson's theatre August 1st and to be repeated on the 2nd.

After investigating all the operatic talent to be found in Seattle, the manager concluded to defer the presentation of "Ping Pong" until he can procure the best available talent on the coast to present it. He is now negotiating with leading managers in San Francisco and as a result expects to have a company organized that will be able to present the piece in good style to the people of Yakima some time in September.

"Ping Pong" is the creation of Manager Fournier's own brain, being the third piece that he has written. Those who have read it say that it is a very clever production, much superior to many others in comic opera that have had a great run. It is a piece in two acts with four scenes, two and one-half hours being consumed in its presentation.
