

General Rosser and staff at Brainard · 1871

General Thomas L. Rosser, veteran of the Confederate cavalry, friend and West Point classmate of General Custer, supervised engineering and construction of the eastern district of the Northern Pacific for more than a decade. Rosser, in white hat, is shown on the steps of the engineers' headquarters at Brainerd, Minn., in the fall of 1871.