TO DEVELOP LOWER VALLEY

Washington Irrigation Company is Planning Great Improvements.

"The policy of the Washington Irrigation company is now to develop the lower valley as fast as the work can be done safely and properly. We are now working toward Prosser on the main ditch, and this work will be continued as long as there is a demand for our lands, such as now exists. We have also decided to put water on the large tract of land below Snipes mountain between Sunnyside and Mabton. This enterprise will be put under way as soon as we can get to it."

This statement was made to the REPUBLIC Tuesday morning by Mr. Denny of the Washington Irrigation company. Messrs Denny and Blaine, two of the most active and most heavily interested stockholders of the company, came over from Seattle Wednesday of last week and spent six days inspecting the property. They returned home Tuesday.

"We are well satisfied with the Sunnyside property," continued Mr. Blaine. "The whole country under our ditch is prospering to a wonderful degree, and the people down there continue to be, as they always have been, enthusiastic over its prospects. This has been the year of greatest development. A great amount of land is producing its first crop now, and the tonnage of products for shipment this fall will be almost double what it has ever been before. More land would have been cultivated this year, but it could not be prepared for planting. A large sum of money was put into the hands of our company this year by purchasers of our lands, to be used in clearing, leveling and irrigating their purchases. We could not get men and teams to do the work, and have had to return the money."

"In my opinion the lower valley of the Yakima is the best agricultural section on the Pacific coast, and its settlement and development will proceed from this time on as fast as homes can be provided for those who want them. Our company is now making practically no effort to get settlers. The problem which takes all its time is to provide for those who come of their own accord. At the present rate of growth, it will be but a few years before the bulk of the taxable farm property of the county will be in the lower end."

"The time has come when the whole valley on our side of the river feels the need of a railroad. We expect to do what we can to secure a road, and we want the assistance of the North Yakima people. We are friendly to the plan of building an electric line down the valley from North Yakima, and will help it along. We also want, and hope to have in the near future, a loop line from the main line of the Northern Pacific."

"The extensions of our canal system which have been decided upon will in three or four years add thousands of acres to the productive lands of the county. The work cannot be done in a single season, and perhaps it may take longer than we anticipate. We shall set no time for reaching certain places. We shall build as fast as we can furnish a good water supply to our lands, but no faster. Our new lands will require more water than those which have been irrigated for several successive seasons, and we want to be able at all times to furnish all the water that is needed for good crops under the canal. It is a great mistake to try to reclaim too much land at once—a mistake that we shall not make."

"We are still selling our Sunnyside lands at $35 an acre, and do not expect to raise our prices, although it may be necessary to make higher prices on the new lands lower down, for which we shall carry water 60 to 75 miles. However that may be, it is our policy to allow the settler a large margin for improving his land. We find that this is the most profitable thing to do in end. Land under the ditch which has been bought at $30 and $35 in the last two or three years, and put under cultivation at small expense, sells now for $60 to $80 an acre. In this way we have made it an object for people to come to Sunnyside, and they have been well satisfied after they came."

Damaged Nearly $350 Worth of Cigars.

Monday morning about 4 o'clock the basement under Thomas Lund's saloon was flooded to a depth of nearly two feet with water from the Northern Pacific stand-pipe directly across the street. Cigars in boxes to the amount of $334.60 were ruined, and much other damage resulted. Mr. Lund filed a claim against the railway company for the damage the water did to the cigars. He says he warned the officials of the company before when a small amount of water leaked into his basement, so now he thinks he has a just cause for complaint and he believes he will encounter no difficulty in getting damages.

Run Over by a Hand-Car.

William Graham, a man employed on the section extending south from this station, fell from a rapidly moving hand car near Yakima City Tuesday morning, was run over by the car and sustained injuries. He was brought to town and placed in St. Elizabeth's hospital under the care of the railway physician, Dr. Gunn. His injuries are not serious and he is gradually improving. While riding on the car he missed his grip on the handles and was thrown on the track in front of the car, the wheels of which passed over his body. His home is in this city.

Yakima mineral water is the most perfect club water to blend with liquors and wines.

A SCHOOL OF HIGH STANDING

Ellensburg Normal School a Leading Educational Institution.

Principal W. E. Wilson of the Ellensburg Normal school was in North Yakima last Saturday on the way to his home after a trip to Goldendale and Walla Walla. In the former place he assisted in conducting a county teachers' institute. He says there are many bright young men and women in Klickitat county who expect to go to Ellensburg this year to prepare themselves for teaching in this state.

Mr. Wilson has had charge of the state normal school for three years, and during that time the school has grown materially in numbers and advanced many steps in almost all lines. Previous to his connection with this institution Mr. Wilson was principal of the Rhode Island normal school, one of the most progressive schools of the kind in the country. It enjoys the distinction of having the finest normal school building in the United States. Mr. Wilson is a man of much experience and one who stands high in educational circles. He is modest, however, and prefers to talk only about the school. Concerning it he said to the REPUBLIC:

"The Ellensburg state normal school was established in 1890 and there has been a steady development in courses, methods of teaching, etc., ever since. It is recognized by the national educational association and by the bureau of education as among the progressive state normal schools of the country. We flatter ourselves that the national association has given us even somewhat more than our share of attention at some of their late meetings. Normal school men in the east know our school, as one of the younger institutions of the west whose diploma signifies breadth of scholarship and sound professional training."

"The school has been somewhat hampered by insufficient funds and its growth in attendance has been checked, no doubt, by the multiplication of educational institutions. We had hoped to secure an appropriation from the last state legislature for a training school building, but we were unsuccessful in the attempt. At present there is one large building, but it hardly answers all of our requirements. We are improving the equipments from year to year."

"The normal school proper contains two courses, the elementary and the advanced. The former is three years in length and resembles the ordinary four year high school course except that it is more comprehensive and I might say more thorough. This is not the course to which we give the most attention. The advanced normal course is the specialty of the school. It consists of two years of higher work in literature, the classics, pedagogy, biology, psychology, and the like. A graduate from the elementary course is given a teachers' first grade certificate, which is good for five years. A diploma from the advanced course entitles the holder to a life diploma after two years of teaching."

"The normal school is intended to teach how to teach. As this cannot be done entirely in theory it is necessary to have a school within a school upon which the normal students may, if you will, experiment. This department is called a training school and embraces the primary and grammar grades, that is from the first to the eighth, inclusive."

"This training school is in charge of Miss Wilcox, who has direct supervision over the grammar grades. She is a wonderfully competent teacher. She is assisted by Miss Sanford, who is a graduate of our school. She showed particular aptitude for teaching and was made a member of the faculty. The primary department is presided over by Miss Lucinda Boggs, Ph. D. She has had a three years' post graduate course in Germany. These teachers command salaries of from $900 to $1050, so you may judge of their competency. In addition there is a kindergarten department, whose teacher is Miss Mary Proudfoot. She also spent three years in Germany."

"The students in the elementary course teach classes in the training school under the supervision of these instructors. This is done gradually at first, and when the students become members of the higher course they are given charge of rooms for a period of an hour. In the last year they have entire management of rooms for weeks at a time. This gives them confidence, skill in management and an opportunity to put into practice methods of discipline and study."

"The plan upon which the normal school is formed is an excellent one. It is difficult to conceive of a more advantageous way of instructing teachers in pedagogy. It would not be supposed that the people of Ellensburg would like to have their children enter the training school, but we find it the reverse, and we are compelled this year to limit the number who can attend. They do not send their children, I am confident, for public spirited motives, but I believe that they do so solely on the school's merits. It seems that what evil effects there may be from the teaching of inexperienced instructors is more than counterbalanced by the excellence of the supervisors. Last term there were 123 students in the normal school and nearly as many in the training department."

"We feel that when our students receive their diplomas they are fully competent to teach any primary, grammar or high school in the state or in the United States. Our course is so practical in every detail and so thorough in all particulars that I have no hesitancy in making this observation."

"North Yakima has been well represented in Ellensburg ever since the school was started. Last year I believe we had more than 20 students from this city. Miss Katharine McKinney, who will teach this year at Nob Hill, and Miss Minnie Larson, who has a position in the North Yakima schools, are two

"I had hoped when I came west three years ago to become well acquainted with the people of Yakima but my duties have been so pressing that I find time for only an occasional visit. I know several persons in North Yakima, however, engaged in school work. Among them is Mrs. Ella Starr, the principal of the Yakima high school. She was a pupil of mine at one time in the Nebraska state normal school."

Death of B. F. Ward

Bela F. Ward, an old resident of the Ahtanum, died Friday, August 16th, 1901, at the age of 67 years. His death was due to heart trouble. The funeral was held from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. J. Wiley in this city at 2 p. m. Saturday. Mr. Ward was a native of New England and had been to sea a great deal in the course of his life. He came to the Yakima valley in 1879 and settled on the Ahtanum. Since that time he has been a familiar figure to the residents of that locality and of North Yakima. He leaves a wife and four children all of whom live in this vicinity. The children are Mrs. Wiley, George, Frank and Mamie Ward. Mr. Ward's death was sudden and unexpected. He had been in town but a day or so before and at the time of his death he was sitting in a chair reading a book. Without any warning the book dropped to the floor and by the time assistance reached him he was breathing his last.

Buried in a Forty Foot Well.

Last Thursday afternoon Pascol Lungo, who is generally known as Indian Jimmy, was buried alive 40 feet deep in a well near Prosser. He was at work cleaning out the well when, without any warning, it caved in and he was under 40 feet of earth. Rescuers immediately began work. By 11 o'clock that night they heard his voice and he was taken out, more dead than alive, at 4:30 the following morning. The timbers in the well had fallen in such a way as to protect him from the great weight of the earth.

DOING THINGS.

On his way east from Colorado Vice President Roosevelt stopped off at Hutchinson, Kan., long enough to address the Grand Army veterans assembled at that place, says an exchange, and as usual he said things of interest to more than the few hundred people who heard them.

Here is one point he made:
You who left us a reunited nation left us something as great in a lesson to be applied to civic life—a great lesson of brotherhood. When you stood in the ranks you cared little who your neighbor was or where he came from. What you wanted to know was: Would he stand fire? Would he go forward? If he would and did, you honored him. It is the American principle to honor the man who does something.

There is no place in the roll of honor for those who are afraid to do things. We give honor to whom honor is due. Honor is due only to those who do something.

The first president of the United States was not elected to that position simply because he was wise and good, but because he had done many things wisely and rightly, and it was safe to assume he would exercise the same traits in the discharge of the duties of the highest office in America.

The example set in the election of Washington has been observed in all the succeeding years. The man to be chosen to office must first have done something to prove his worth and ability.

The principle is just as true in the business world. The man or woman who can do something when occupying even a subordinate position is the only one likely to get the opportunity to do large things. But a man must not be content with doing one important thing; he must keep at work. Perhaps the one greatest characteristic of Americans is that they are at work. Ours is a nation of people who do things. This is what makes Roosevelt so eminently popular.

SENATOR FOSTER has gone to Washington to make his last stand for the appointment of Charlie Hopkins as United States marshal. He is armed with the endorsements of 29 out of 36 state committeemen; nine out of 13 hold-over republican senators; the four presidential electors; a majority of the delegation to the last national convention, and the national committeeman. It was intimated some days ago that the administration would honor the request of Senator Wilson for the re-appointment of Ide, and give Foster something in the place of the marshalship to square things. Senator Foster says that he will either name the marshal or request the administration to hand all of the patronage over to Mr. Wilson.

DISTRESSING stories are told of the poverty in which the late ex-Governor Newell died and of the economy in funeral expenses that thereby became necessary. A useful man in his day and generation; humane in purpose and in practice, and public-spirited in modest, unassuming ways, his success in life is not measured by the financial conditions that darkened his closing years, but by the record he left as "one who loved his fellow-men." The man who originated the life saving service of the nation has a monument on every point on the coast where life has been plucked from the wrathful sea, and the inscription thereon is not dimmed by the fact that his burial robes were of the plainest, and his obsequies the simplest.—The Oregonian.

IT SEEMS to be generally conceded now that the macadamizing of the avenue is a good thing; that the work has been well done, and that the macadamized roadway is just what Yakima has been looking for. Some who were outspoken against the improvement in the beginning, and many who were fearful that it would not be a success, are now enthusiastically in favor of the work and are signing petitions for improving other streets. Let the good work go on. A better investment by property owners could not be made.

J. HOWARD WATSON, who has had charge of the Walla Walla Union for Mr. Ankeny for the past eighteen months, has quit the newspaper business and will farm in Chelan county. The Union was a good paper under his management, but didn't pay expenses. It may not be quite so good hereafter, but it won't lose so much money and will suit old man Ankeny just as well. He has no particular business with a newspaper any more.

northern Luzon. You may say that the whole territory is pacified but not tranquilized, but it will not be many months before law and order are observed everywhere. While the conditions are not perfect, they are gratifying. A new group of armed insurgents is still at large, but the men will soon surrender, as their power is broken and they are not being aided by the natives. These natives have come to see that surrender does not mean death, and they are coming in every week with their rifles. Throughout northern Luzon the insurrection has been dead for some time and there is freedom of movement. Still a large criminal class there commits depredations on Americans and natives, though the latter suffer the most severely. The natives are earnestly seeking the establishment of civil government."

THE South Bend Journal published the delinquent tax list of Pacific county last week. The matter occupied 13 pages of the paper. The REPUBLIC will soon publish the delinquent tax list for Yakima county. It will make less than one page. There are few counties in the state which will publish smaller delinquent lists. In none of them is the list so small in proportion to population and assessed valuation.

AN Ellensburg paper says that the people of that town have never been especially interested in the Lind out-off, and that they are rather glad the company has abandoned it. The capacity of being cheerful is one of God's greatest gifts. Our esteemed Ellensburg contemporary is blessed with it.

THE steel trust appears to have the best of it this week. Reports from the cities where the mills are located generally indicate that the strikers do not have the sympathy of the people. Without that they cannot hope to win. It is not unlikely that all of the mills will be running within a month.

President Grant's first term, $116,136, 275; average per year, $29,034,069.

President Grant's second term, $114,395,357; average per year, $28,598, 839.

President Hayes' administration, $145, 322,479; average per year, $38,330,622.

President Garfield's administration, $237,825,070; average per year, $54,456, 268.

President Cleveland's first term, $305,636,662; average per year, $76,409, 165.

President Cleveland's second term, $557,950,407; average per year, $139,487, 602.

President McKinley's administration, (first), $560,000,547; average per year, $140,000,137.

The number of persons now drawing pensions is 997,735. Of these, 249,086 are widows; 739,994 are invalids, and 8655 are survivors of the wars before the rebellion.

Yakima Elks at Tacoma.

The Yakima Elks made a fine showing in the procession at Tacoma on Friday. They didn't return with all the prizes, but they got one, and should have won another.

Great injustice was done Doc Hare by the committee which decided that he was not the homeliest Elk in the line and awarded the prize to another man. Doc has been in training for 45 years for this prize, and he was fairly entitled to it.

Col. A. C. Walker was given the prize for being the youngest old Elk at the carnival. In this award the committee partially redeemed itself.

The Yakima boys took Chief Charlie Wesley with them, and he marched at the head of the Yakima contingent. He is a big, fine looking fellow, and all the way up the street the people cheered him. Lieut. Lamon heard the cheers, and thought they were for him, as he is a pretty good looking boy himself.

After the procession disbanded he caught up with Exalted Ruler Rigg, who was on the way to a place where they sell soda pop, and said:

"Rigg, old boy, did you notice how they cheered me coming up that street? Say, if I don't get the Yakima postoffice I'm going to run for governor, sure. I'm proud of this demonstration in my honor. I believe I'm a world beater."

They Want a Road to Yakima.

GLENWOOD, WASH., August 16, 1901. Editor of the REPUBLIC—The citizens and tax-payers of this section are greatly interested in procuring road communication between this and North Yakima. We propose, at our own cost, to bridge the Klickitat river at some feasible point about six miles from this town, thence to the summit of the Simcoe mountains the road will run over a natural table-land country, requiring very little construction work from that point, the top of the range, where the road is now in existence through the Indian reservation and requires very little work to be put in first class shape. The most of this road will be in Yakima county and will be a much traveled and a greatly needed thoroughfare. The county along the line of this proposed road is settling up very fast and all settlers are clamoring for direct communication for your city. This road will put your section in close connection with the wonderful "ice cones" on the Reserve, and Trout lake which is annually visited by thousands of sight-seers who all wish to go back to the railroad by the line of this new route. The government during the past year, under the direction of Supervisor Nichols of your city is opening up good trails to all of those wonderful natural curiosities. The stockmen of this section look to North Yakima for a market for their cattle, sheep and horses. All of this means increased business for your pushing, go ahead city. We believe Yakima business men are too far seeing to let this chance for increased business slip through their fingers. We think and hope that if we are willing to build the bridge over the Klickitat and give it to the county of Yakima, your business men will call upon the county commissioners of Yakima county to do the rest, especially as the building of the bridge is the principal cost to give you this new feeder. Please give this space in your paper and call the attention of the Commercial club to the necessity of taking some favorable action.

Very Respectfully,
G. W. BOWEN.

American Fraternal Club.

The American Fraternal Club has received its certificate of incorporation from the secretary of state and is prepared for business. Suitable offices will be located in this city and the work of organization will proceed at once, under the management of the Superior Executive committee. It is expected that at least 300 members will be initiated in the first club organized here.

The club is offering a cash prize of $15 for a design for an emblem. This will be used on the seals, buttons, badges and printed matter of the club. Any person can compete for the prizes which will be divided into two, one of $10 and the other $5. All that is necessary is for the person to make a rough pen or pencil sketch of the design, or describe it in writing on an envelope. Write the name on a slip of paper and enclose in the envelope. Then place this in a larger envelope and address The American Fraternal Club, North Yakima, or hand to one of the officers. The envelopes will be opened on Monday, September 2, at 2 o'clock, p. m. and the awards made by a committee of citizens.

The American Fraternal club is a new social, fraternal and beneficial society, with headquarters in this city. Its field of operations includes the United States and Canada.

A new feature of this society is the building of a fraternal home in this city, where aged and disabled members, widows and orphans may be cared for and the headquarters located.

The organization purposes paying sick, accident, old age, disability, funeral and death benefits to members. Men and women are accepted on an equal footing and the same benefits are paid to all. Organizers are at work securing applications and the first subordinate club will be instituted in a few days by the Superior club.

A Northern Pacific bridge crew was at work here Tuesday and Wednesday putting in plank between the station platform and the side track lying next to the freight depot platform. This is for greater convenience in loading express cars with fruit.

The Wolf system of drying hops has been adopted by a number of growers this season. The advantages claimed for the method are that hops can be cured more uniformly than by the old method, and that they will not break up so badly. A. B. Weed says that he expects also to gain 1 1/2 pounds of dried hops to the box, which is a considerable item in a yard which will produce 2500 boxes, as Mr. Weed's will. Besides Mr. Weed, Lombard & Horsley are pulling in the Wolf system and the Moxee company will use it for four kilns. It is said that a number of others will try it.

State Fair Notes.

The state fair commission has contracted for some new seats in front of the grand stand and will add an iron fence in the place of the tall board one now hiding the track. Efforts are being made for a uniform rate of 10 cents fare to the grounds from the city and a similar amount for returning. The commission will try to add to the comfort of visitors as far as possible and make everything pleasant for all who come. To this end of course they ask the hearty co-operation of every citizen of the city and county.

Several outside counties have signified an intention of taking away the $600 purse offered for the best county exhibits. The county commissioners of Columbia have taken hold of the matter and are making a collection of everything grown in that county. They expect to secure every prize possible. The Commercial club of Vancouver has charge of the exhibit from Clarke county and will make a fine showing. Pierce county will have a larger and better exhibit than in any of the past years. This will be made by Henry Benthien who says he expects to beat Yakima in every display.

Michael Sullivan, the merry-go-round man, has engaged his old stand for this year. Professor John E. Baldwin, the balloonist, has forwarded 10,000 circulars describing his wonderful aerial leaps from a parachute 8000 feet above the fair grounds. He comes here from St. Joe, Missouri, where he makes ascensions every day for a week. His balloon will be an attraction here during the last three days of the fair. The bombs discharged in midair can be heard for 30 miles and will startle the natives when he first begins bombarding the skies.

The commission will make an effort to get some excursions from different points in the state and will ask the people to assist in giving proper accommodations to the visitors. To this end there should be a general united effort made to get suitable lodgings for everybody attending the fair. As only five weeks more remain until the opening of the fair it is time the people were getting things in shape for the reception of strangers and visitors.

Arrested in Tacoma.

"Peg Williams," the boot-black at the corner of Yakima avenue and First street, otherwise known as W. L. Gilbert, feels rather unkindly toward the people of Yakima, and particularly the police of that city, because within a few minutes after his arrival there last Thursday he was arrested and put in jail. The policeman who made the arrest would not tell the cause of his action and Williams had to stay in a cell all night and until the middle of the next afternoon when he was taken before the police judge and charged with vagrancy. It is supposed that the cause of the arrest was that he is a cripple and probably the police thought he belonged to the tough element, which is far from being the case.

Mrs. Struben, wife of the late Al Struben, Wednesday received $2000, the amount of insurance her husband carried with the Fraternal Aid association of Lawrence, Kan. He had been an enthusiastic member of the order for many years. This makes $4000 Mrs. Struben has received. The other $2000 was taken out with the Woodmen of the World.

Dan Libby and wife, until two years ago residents of North Yakima, are in the city again for a few days. They came west from Maine, in which state they have been visiting relatives for several months. Their many friends are hoping that they will conclude to remain in Yakima.

Arthur Coffin returned home from Long Beach last Thursday. He says he spent several days pleasantly on the beach, as the weather was much cooler there than here. Mrs. Coffin and Miss Coffin are still at the beach.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Gus Hamill was in Tacoma to see the Carnival last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Lauderdale were visitors at the Carnival last week.

Miss Friend, one of the copyists in the auditor's office, is taking a vacation on the sound.

Lincoln Greenwalt and wife of the Moxee were visitors at the Elks' Carnival last week.

H. E. Dean of Lester has been in the city this week looking after a number of property interests.

Miss Flossie and Miss Virginia Richards returned to Yakima from the Tacoma carnival Monday.

Mrs. H. F. Marble visited friends in Ellensburg for a few days this week on her way home from the carnival.

A. L. Dilley, E. J. Jaeger and Fred Alter were among the Elks who returned home from Tacoma this week.

William Willhite was appointed Tuesday by Mayor Fechter as a special policeman to be on duty during the day.

The A. O. U. W. will occupy the Masonic hall hereafter. C. M. Hauser and J. W. Sindall have been elected A. O. U. W. trustees.

Wallis Williams has returned from Oregon City, to which place he was called by the serious illness of his father, who died shortly after his arrival.

T. K. Berry of Tacoma, the editor of the Pacific Christian, preached Sunday morning and evening in the Christian church and Sunday afternoon in Selah.

Mrs. Lombard, Miss Lombard, Mrs. Edward Whitson, and Rev. and Mrs. P. B. Jackson spent several days this week camping near the old mission in the Ahntum.

Dr. R. N. Gordon and wife are taking an outing near Lake Chelan. They left Yakima last week and at the time of their departure intended to be gone ten days or two weeks.

Marshall Lillie, the son of Charles Lillie who was shot while playing with a revolver two years or more ago, died recently in Seattle. His death was caused indirectly by the wound he received at that time.

George W. Cary received word Tuesday morning that his daughter Georgia, who went with her mother to Portland last week, is sick in that city with fever and will be unable to come home for some time.

Mrs. Coe of Arlington, Ore., returned to her home Monday after a visit of several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Robert E. Smith. She has been accompanied on the visit by her little brother and little cousin, who went back to their home with her.

The Yakima Hardware company gave an exhibition of the work of the "O. K." potato digger on the A. H. Blair place west of town one day recently. A number of farmers were there to watch the potato digger work and several machines were sold upon the showing made.

Louis Clements, a man who has been well known here for years as a nurse, is falling rapidly in health and his friends fear that he never will rally and be strong again. He has made many in debt to him through his kindness and the expressions of sympathy for him now are numerous.

Ellensburg Localizer: It's no use talking, Ellensburg is rather dull these days. The people have scattered right and left until there isn't scarcely enough of us at home to get up a game of crokinole. Even the Indians will not come to town unless there is a circus and even then they go home right after the parade.

Thomas Mitchell, who purchased the Kane place near Zillah, was in the city Tuesday. He came from Asotin county, near Lewiston, about two months ago but thinks that the country under the Sunnyside ditch surpasses in fertility any other place he has ever seen. Mr. Mitchell went over to the carnival last week and said his first visit to Tacoma was a pleasant one.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bartlett arrived home Saturday from their trip east. All of their stay was at Jackson, Mich., the former home of both Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett. From the reports they had heard of the Buffalo exposition they thought they preferred to visit with their friends and relatives in Jackson rather than go on to see it. They enjoyed their visit exceedingly except, for the intense heat which prevailed for such a long time.

THINKS PAVING IS ALL RIGHT

Council Announces Intention of Macadamizing Parts of Front, 1st and 2nd streets.

A number of the property owners on Second street between A and Chestnut street petitioned the council that that section of the street be macadamized. Councilman Weed moved that if this petition be granted First street be macadamized from Chestnut to B streets. The city attorney was instructed to draw the necessary resolution. This was done before the meeting adjourned and the resolutions were passed. A resolution was passed also declaring it the intention of the city to grade and macadamize First street from A to Chestnut.

The E. C. Burlingame Co. petitioned the council for an extension of 20 days on the contract for macadamizing Yakima avenue. The request was granted. The contract called for the completion of the work by the 27th of August. The work must now be completed by the 16th of September.

The street and ditch committee recommended that the street commissioner be instructed to open Rainier avenue from Yakima avenue to A street; and it was so ordered.

John Lemon, the city teamster, asked the council for an increase in wages from $2 to $2.50 a day. He furnishes his own team. A compromise was effected at $2.25.

The subject of licensing fakirs during the next two months received consideration by the council. At present the ordinance directs that all fakirs, hawkers, quack doctors, etc., shall pay a license of $25 a day or $400 a quarter. This practically is prohibitory. At the time of the passage the intention was to force all such out of the city to the fair grounds. The ordinance was so amended Monday as to make it read that fakirs, etc., shall pay a license of $100 per month or $25 a day for a period less than one month. There are several persons under this classification who expect to come here within a short time and stay a month if the license is satisfactorily changed.

The ordinance to license bowling alleys at the rate of $5 a month was passed. Mayor Fechter said that he believed the city should employ a sufficient number of policemen to keep the city free from crime during hocking season and fair time. The council agreed to this and left the matter at the discretion of the mayor.

Many of the principal streets are dusty and need sprinkling. This was ordered done under the supervision of the mayor.

Ex-City Attorney Riggs was given three days after notification of the council's action in which to take up the redemption certificate on lot 5, block 70, city of North Yakima. If he fails to comply with the council's order the property will be taken by J. P. McCafferty.

W. Holden appeared before the council and said that E. Hamilton has no right to the position of street commissioner because his residence is outside the city. He contended that Hamilton should be dismissed from the employ of the city. City Attorney Snyder took the point under advisement until the next meeting of the council.

The following bills were ordered drawn:

Prof. Harry Fielding Reid of Johns Hopkins university with a Goldendale party made the ascent of Mt. Adams recently. Mr. Reid was engaged in examining the glaciers of the mountain. He is one of the foremost authorities on glaciers in the United States. Mt. Adams is volcanic but has not the symmetry of Mt. Hood. It has several main craters and many small parasitic cones. These small craters are results of late actions, probably not more than a few hundred years ago. Glacial scratches indicate that at one time the snow was of much greater extent than it is now.

Goldendale Agriculturist: Prof. M. L. Miller, of the Field Columbian museum, connected with the Chicago university, was in Goldendale last week gathering data concerning the antiquity of man on the Pacific coast. He has collected much valuable information on his western trip. He was much interested in Dr. Stewart's collection of 46,000 arrow heads and in the petrified bones of a human being dug out of the cement rocks at a depth of 40 feet near The Dalles.

The carrier will begin delivering mail on the Toppenish-Zillah-Parker free delivery route the 2nd of September. All mail going to those places should be addressed to Toppenish. The establishment of this delivery route is very acceptable to the residents of that locality as it will be a great convenience.

Howard Wright went to the sound Saturday and returned Monday. He attended the reception in Seattle Saturday evening held in honor of John G. Wholley, the colonel of the 1st Washington regiment.

Elder Stiversson will preach at the Adventist church next Sunday at 8 p. m. on the subject of Divine Healing. All are invited.

Fawcett Bros.' Early Fall Announcement.

We wish to call attention before the harvest is over and before the fall business opens up, to several of our staple lines, and to advise people who are thinking of making purchases to investigate what we have to offer before they buy. We have a splendid stock for their inspection, and the orders from headquarters are to do business if fair prices and good goods will attract customers.

Buggies and Wagons That Excel.

Our stock of Buggies comprises some of the handsomest vehicles that we could find in one of the largest manufacturing on the continent. We take especial pride in these buggies. They are built to wear, and to afford every possible comfort and full satisfaction to the user. The fact is that we have no competitor in this particular line. The prices are no higher than many inferior buggies are selling at.

Our Rushford Wagons will arrive about the 1st of September. We will promise for them that they will stand the most rigid examination by the most exacting purchaser. All styles and sizes.

Stoves and Ranges.

The Acorn Range which we are now selling is the most economical one we have ever seen. All the latest improvements, and very low prices. A large line of cook stoves, and a handsome stock of heaters which will be shown a little later.

Do not overlook the fact that we are dealers in Hardware of all kinds, as well as implements and vehicles. If you are going to build this fall let us figure on your bill.

Poultry Supplies.

Keep the poultry in good condition. It is easy if you are careful about the food. Come to us for Ground Oyster and Clam Shells and Ground Bone. We also keep all the best remedies in stock. All other supplies for the poultry. We keep the most complete stock in Central Washington.

Fashion Stables Change Hands.

Fred and J. C. Brooker this week sold the horses, harness, vehicles, etc., of the Fashion stables on east Yakima avenue and leased the buildings and ground to J. M. Marchie who took possession immediately. The Brookers have been in the livery business for several years in this city and have built up an excellent business. Their friends are loath to see them leave the old stand but believe that it has fallen into good hands.

A Three Story Brick.

Dr. George Sloan of Roslyn made a contract with Thomas Redfield Wednesday to purchase his lot on the avenue. This gives Dr. Sloan three lots on the corner of Yakima avenue and First street, running back to the alley. It is said to be his intention to put up a three story stone building on his property in the spring.

Frank Dudley and wife of Niagara Falls were in the city Wednesday and registered at the Yakima hotel. They went to the sound yesterday morning. Mr. Dudley is a capitalist who has large holdings in the Niagara power company. He is a brother of L. W. Dudley, who lived for many years at Kennewick. Mr. Dudley's visit here was on business connected with the affairs of the Kiona ditch. The persistent rumors that the company is to be re-organized and the ditch opened give rise to the belief that Mr. Dudley's visit here had some especial significance. L. W. Dudley is in Skagway.

Reports from the headquarters of the Naches river indicate that bear and other wild game are plentiful in that locality. T. R. Fisher and W. A. Bell were hunting for grouse in that locality the other day when they met a mother bear and two cubs. They had nothing but shotguns, one of which was 16 gauge, but they killed two of the three and said they could have gotten the other. Sheep herders say that they frequently see bear but it is difficult to shoot them as they are extremely wild. A member of a camping party at the Simcoe springs killed one and the party had bear meat for several days.

Miss Maude Eby and Miss Tucker came from Sunnyside for a day's visit in Yakima Wednesday. Miss Tucker is from Iowa.

Twenty-five million dollars will be spent for the big exposition at St. Louis. Twelve millions will go for buildings. There will be 14 main buildings.

Diplomatic relations between Turkey and France were broken off Wednesday. The cause of the rupture is said to be the failure of the Sultan to keep his promise to settle certain French claims.

Former Secretary of State James Price is an applicant for collector of customs at Port Townsend to succeed Heustis. This makes about 16 candidates for the place, which pays $3500 a year. Heustis is very anxious for the appointment of his successor. His administration has been free from scandals of any kind, in which respect it differs from those of most of his predecessors.

An exposition of Velox paper will be given in Robert E. Smith's stationery store from 3 to 5 this afternoon and from 7 to 9 this evening. Bring a negative and have a print made.

A pleasant lawn party was given Wednesday evening by Miss Anita Lesh at her home west of town. The guests were entertained with dancing, games, cards and other amusements and delicious sherbet, punch and cake were the refreshments served by the hostess. The guests were, Misses Bunnell, McKinney, Sinclair, Turnell, Young, Jennie Young, Preble, Mattie Preble, Suively, Whitson, Pearl Whitson, Waugh, Pratt, Osborn, Coyle, Bessie Boyle, and J. T. Stewart. Fred Alter, Ed McCoy, Harvey Young, John Lynch, Fred McCoy, Howard Wright, Roy Ferris, Dr. Hoffman, Will Freeman, Zeke Thompson, James Thomas, Ed Gunn, F. W. Are Delaying Free Delivery.

The matter of numbering the houses again came before the city council last Monday evening. There is a number of persons in different parts of the town who obstinately refuse to put a number on their houses, thus standing in their own light and preventing the people of the city from enjoying the benefits of the free delivery of mail.

The council found that the only way people could be forced to tack up numbers is by having the work done at the expense of the city and making a lien on the house for the 25 or 35 cents which the number costs. This would be rather expensive so it was decided to wait a short time to see if the property owners will not attend to the matter themselves. The examinations for carriers will be held as soon as the postal officials are assured that all houses are properly numbered.

SUNNYSIDE.

Mrs. Randolph, son and daughter have returned from their mountain outing.

Rev. Ullery preached last Sunday morning and Rev. Bartlett in the evening.

Mrs. J. E. Laird entertained a number of her old Illinois acquaintances Friday of last week.

Reports are that Mrs. Stephens is improving; also Mrs. S. J. Harrison and Mrs. Templein.

Mr. Cornell is going to move his family as soon as he can get a suitable house for a home.

A pleasant surprise occurred Thursday at Mrs. Woodin's home, it being her birthday. Her daughter Mary got up the surprise.

The German Baptists have invited the other denominations to worship with them for two Sabbaths until the Federal church is ready for occupancy.

Some of our eastern visitors have already returned for their home in the east. Mr. Rowland and family and Mrs. Searle and daughter return next week in time for the young people to be on deck for school.

Mr. Joseph Linnin has the pleasure of having his son with him. The son has purchased the 10 unimproved acres and part of the orchard of his father and expects to send for his family in Michigan at once and get a house built as soon as possible.

A Sunday school convention is to be held in the Dunkard church, Sunday, August 25th, under the management of Rev. Thompson of North Yakima. An all day program has been prepared and a grand and helpful time is expected in Sunnyside.

J. P. Raines on Sunday after doing his morning work, went away and during his absence about 2 p. m. his house caught fire and was entirely consumed. One of the city lumber yards had a lien on the building for $60.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Thompson, of the Upper Naches spent Sunday here visiting friends.

Mrs. B. L. Baker is rapidly improving in health and will be able to return to Yakima from Walla Walla in about two weeks. She and her son and daughter will remain here for about six weeks and will then go to Everett, their new home. Dr. Baker had expected to leave Yakima about September 1st but he finds that business matters will detain him longer.

REPORT OF YAKIMA MARKETS

HOPS.

Reports from Oregon indicate a shortage of at least 20 per cent. in the hop crop. Last year the amount produced in that state was 82,000 bales. The Gervais Star says now, "We are not surprised to see this crop amount to 65,000 or 70,000 bales." In the Oregon yards the arms of the vines have dried up very largely, and will not produce. The hops will grow mostly on the tops of the vines. Unfavorable weather in the Willamette valley at picking time would probably reduce the Oregon crop a great many bales below the present estimates.

The Ranch says, "The hop crop in the White and Green river valleys will be lighter than last year by about 400 bales. Last year about 2,000 bales were grown in the valleys and this year it is conservatively estimated that 1,600 bales will be the output. Spraying is now practically finished. The growers here spray twice, which practically rids the field of vermin. Picking will begin September 9 this year and will continue from four to five weeks. One dollar a box will be paid for picking."

A Yakima hop dealer said yesterday, "The crop in this valley I believe will show a marked increase over that of last year. I have been through almost all of the yards. They are looking well and I think that between 14,000 and 15,000 bales is not a high estimate of this year's crop. It is true that the crop on the sound will be light but I think that California will more than make up for any shortage. Reports of good crops from almost all over the world are coming in but it is not too late for a failure which is likely to occur in any quarter. Of course 10 cents is not a high price for hops but even at that there is no other product the Yakima farmers grow which is as profitable. In another month we will all know more about it."

SHEEP AND WOOL.

Vessey & McRae shipped 22 cars containing 6000 lambs to Chicago Tuesday morning. The same firm bought 3200 lambs of John Clemon this week and will ship them in a few days. The terms of the sale are private. Coffin Brothers shipped 12 car loads of lambs east Sunday. The prices the shippers have been receiving lately are entirely satisfactory as an excellent margin of profit has been left. There is but one clip of wool left in the Yakima warehouses, and that belongs to Mr. Cleveland. It is a heavy lot and has been for sale for more than a year.

HAY AND POTATOES.

Hay and potatoes are shipped out of this station at the rate of about 12 cars a day now. There is a little difficulty in securing all the cars necessary but the car famine is not nearly as great as at this time last year when so much hay was taken by the government for use in the Philippines. The shipments of potatoes east are beginning and it is thought that the eastern market for the Yakima product will be greater this year than ever before. Potatoes in Ohio and its vicinity are selling at from $4.00 to $5.00 a ton. The price here falls a little each week, but continues to be good. The average price is considered $16. W. S. Offner of Walla Walla has made arrangements to buy 50 carloads of potatoes from F. Groschen at $10 a ton. No change is reported in the price of hay.

FRUIT.

The express shipments of fruit in small lots to the sound are numerous and fill two cars each morning. Wednesday morning one car was so heavily loaded the body of the car rested directly upon the trucks and great difficulty was met in coupling it to the train. The large fruit shipments are made principally from Simcoe station the shipping point for a large fruit raising district. Plums today are worth about 1 cent a pound, and pears about 1 1/2 cents. Apples are 65 cents a box. Melons are now plentiful in the market and many cantaloupes are shipped. The first carload of watermelons was shipped from Prosser.
