

CONSERVATION CONGRESS

To Begin at Seattle August 26--Interesting and Instructive Program--James J. Hill Will Speak.

Seattle, Wash., July 2.—The first National Conservation Congress of the United States will be held in the auditorium of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, Seattle, Wash., August 26, 27, 28, 1909. Arrangements for the convention are being perfected by the executive board of the Washington Conservation association, comprising some of the most representative citizens of the state. It is planned to make of that meeting the most interesting gathering of conservationists since the convention of governors at the national capital, when former President Theodore Roosevelt launched the campaign for concerted action of states and nations in conserving natural resources.

An elaborate program is being prepared and will be distributed to those intending to participate in the several sessions. In addition to President Taft speeches are expected from the following well known gentlemen: Hon. R. A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior; Hon. James Wilson, secretary of agriculture; Gifford Pinchot, chairman joint conservation committee; F. H. Newell, chief reclamation service; Dr. W. J. McGee, secretary of the White House conservation conference of governors; John A. Ransdell, president National Rivers and Harbors Congress; Dr. Chas. W. Elliott, of Harvard; Prof. Irving Fisher, of Yale; John Mitchell, vice president American Federation of Labor; Seth Low, president National Civic Federation, and governors of states and members of state commissions.

James J. Hill, the great railroad builder and pioneer in western transportation on land and sea, will be invited to give the congress the benefit of his long years of practical experience in conserving of numerous resources. J. E. Chilberg, president of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, will welcome the visitors and discuss the many features of conservation displayed in the numerous exhibits of that western wonderland. Frank H. Lamb, of the Washington state commission, will introduce the delegates to the great possibilities of forestry on the Pacific coast. The subjects of irrigation dry farming, soils, minerals and grasses are to receive proper attention and special sessions of the congress are to be devoted to consideration of protective measures for birds, fishes and wild animals of nature. The topics of pure food and public morals and the relations of capital to labor in conservation problems will be given ample time for meritorious discussion.

The famous Mormon Tabernacle Choir of 600 voices promises to be one of the interesting features of the conservation congress. The celebration of Utah week at the exposition occurs simultaneously with the congress and entertainments may be merged in order to give visitors an opportunity to hear the choir render the famous Irrigation Ode, prepared expressly for singing in national conventions. Hon. John Henry Smith will be requested to deliver an address on "Pioneer Life in Utah," which will cover the many problems of conservation practiced by those pioneers who have transformed the great American desert into a paradise of homes, surrounded by gardens and orchards of plenty. Other church dignitaries, representing prominent religious organizations of the world have been invited to participate in the deliberations of the congress.

Conservation is the watchword of the day throughout the state of Washington. The natural resources comprise almost everything required to build an independent commercial community of prosperous citizens. There are possibilities in soil and climate, in water and forests and in minerals and the depths of the sea. But the spirit of modern commercialism threatens to destroy the sources of wealth if not properly restrained by public sentiment and the enforcement of conservation laws. It is the purpose of the people to take immediate steps to conserve that which supplies the necessities and comforts of life before it is too late to close the wasteways of destruction. The first national convention of conservationists will be an educational festival.

JOEL SHUMAKER.

The board of education of district No. 7 held a business meeting Tuesday and cleaned up all outstanding business. The resignations of Messrs. Cull and Haasze, filed with Clerk Kumlir 10 days ago, were accepted. At the next meeting of the board their successors will be appointed to serve until the next school election in December next.

The concrete piers for the new Larson building on South Second street are being laid this week, the concrete material being mixed on the ground.

Robert Rundstrom, of the Coffin-Rundstrom Furniture company, left this week for a visit to his old home in Illinois.

THE WIRELESS TELEPHONE

New System Soon to be Introduced in North Yakima—Long Distance Steel Tower to be Erected.

Seattle, Wash., July 5.—North Yakima soon will have a radio wireless telephone system for commercial use. Grant Sherer and D. R. Dewey left the Seattle office of the radio concern this morning for North Yakima to begin the installation of wireless telephones in that city.

North Yakima has been selected as one of the Pacific northwest cities to have this latest invention in everyday use. It is planned to have the phones installed in business offices and private residences. Besides a steel tower will be erected for long distance work with Seattle, Tacoma, Walla Walla, Spokane and Portland.

The concern recently opened offices in this city and has installed an exhibit at the A-Y-P exposition where thousands of visitors daily talk without the use of wires between the points of communication. The device has been proved practical and is in use in the big cities throughout the east.

The radio machines have been established in Chicago and Milwaukee and over this distance of 100 miles, daily conversations are carried on and newspaper reports transmitted. On the Great Lakes many of the big passenger steamships have been equipped and are in constant telephonic communication with shore while on their voyages.

TROUBLE OVER SEWER

City Authorities and Trolley Line People Clash Over Fourth Street Extension—Interfere With Sewer.

Trouble appeared to be looming Thursday between the city officials and the Yakima Valley Transportation company over the location of the trolley line extension up North Fourth street to the Cascade mill. The track has been laid by the company through the middle of the street, directly over the sewer laid in that street, the company, it is alleged, going ahead and even filling up the manholes in the sewer with earth and rocks. Councilman Meigs, while here this week, and noticing what was being done, made complaint to Mayor Armbruster about the matter, and the latter lost no time in demanding an explanation from the trolley line officials, asserting that they had no right or authority to interfere with the sewer and that they should construct their track on one side of the street and not over the sewer. Members of the council also expressed indignation over what they allege as the arbitrary action taken by the street car company in interfering with the sewers. They went ahead, the councilmen say, without ever consulting the street and ditch committee in regard to the work. City officials say that the company will be forced to move its tracks from the center of the street and must clean out the manholes and leave them as they were.

Engineer Kenely of the trolley company, it seems, was out of the city when the work was done and is represented by a substitute, Engineer Forman, who asserts that the center of the street is no place for the sewer and that the city remove it to the alley nearby, or lay a new sewer. This apparent arrogance does not sit very well on the municipal stomach, according to certain city officials, and if the transportation company officials attempt to uphold their engineer's position trouble is likely to develop as the result.

Allen Building Sold.

H. H. Allen on Wednesday sold to H. Cahalan the valuable property known as the Pioneer building at the corner of Yakima avenue and Second street, the consideration being $45,000. The property consists of one lot 25x140 feet and is regarded as one of the very best business locations in the city.

It is said to be the intention of Mr. Cahalan, the new owner, to remodel the building by changing the front, putting in a front stairway, steam heat and remodeling the second floor for office purposes after the present leases expire.

Mr. Allen had owned the site for a period of about 25 years, having purchased the lot in the early history of the town for $200. That fine old pioneer has realized handsomely on his investment, as he deserved to do.

A number of the Tampico people repaired to Soda Springs for a quiet little celebration and a big dinner on Sunday, the fourth, and report having had a most pleasant time.

FRANK CUSHMAN DEAD

Tacoma Congressman Succumbs to Pneumonia in New York—Bitter Fight in Prospect to Succeed Him.

Francis W. Cushman of Tacoma, representative in congress from the second district of this state, died in Roosevelt hospital, New York, Tuesday, July 6, at 5 a. m., after a brief illness of pneumonia. Senator Piles of this state and Andrew F. Burleigh, formerly of Seattle, but now of New York, were the only intimate friends of the congressman who were with him at the time of his death.

The congressman had gone to the hospital about two weeks before his death in order to have an operation performed on his neck, which was successfully done. Before his recovery, however, he was taken with pneumonia. His system apparently being in no condition to withstand the disease, owing to his habitual poor health, he sank rapidly until death intervened. The remains were shipped to Tacoma in the charge of the assistant sergeant-at-arms of the house. Much sorrow has been expressed at the death of Mr. Cushman, as the popular congressman had many warm friends both in this state and in Washington, D. C.

Speculation is already rife as to who will succeed Mr. Cushman as congressman from the second district.

The daily papers of the state assert that there will be many candidates, and that fact may be taken for granted. The only possible candidates thus far mentioned on the Democratic side are Morris Langhorn, a popular attorney of Tacoma, and Hon. T. M. Vance of Olympia, formerly of this city.

TO EXTEND THE CITY

50,000 Club Wants to Gather in the Suburbs Before Census Time Next Year—About 6,000 in Outskirts.

North Yakima's 50,000 club proposes to work industriously to extend the limits of the city, and with the purpose of having several of the suburbs included within the city before the taking of the next national census in June, 1910. Instead of showing up at that time with a population of 12,000 or 13,000, the leading members say, the city can just as well show 18,000 to 20,000 people, providing the suburbanites will exhibit enough civic pride to come in.

It is possible to extend the city's boundaries on all four sides. If this were to be done to include most of the suburban residents, who live in additions and small acreage tracts, it would doubtless increase the city's population by from 6,000 to 7,000, which would probably bring the city's population up to 20,000 by next year if the outsiders would consent to come in. That all would consent to being annexed within the coming year, however, is deemed most unlikely.

Modern addition alone is said to be the home of over 2000 people, while there is fully that many or more in Cottage addition, lower Nob Hill and south and west of Capitol Hill. To the south of the city's boundary, a large settlement, mostly working men's houses, has sprung up, containing at least 1500 people. Not many new residents would be secured by extending the city's east boundary, but on the north and northwest a number of populous communities exist, numbering at least 2000 people.

But will the suburbanites come in, willing to pay more taxes for city improvements and conveniences? Members of the 50,000 club think they will if the matter is put up to them right and the right sort of an annexation campaign carried on, which they propose to make.

Marriage licenses were issued by the county auditor Tuesday to Frank T. Shaler, aged 24 years, and Miss Mabel Brumbaugh, aged 16 years, both of North Yakima, and to George N. Angle, aged 35 years, and Miss Florence E. McDougall, aged 26 years, both of Yakima county.

The annual stockholders' meeting of the Cascade Lumber company was held in this city July 2, with a good attendance of the eastern stockholders. The most of the stock of the company is owned at Stillwater, Minn., and Burlington, Iowa.

The trolley line people are extending the system up Fourth street to a connection with the Cascade lumber mill. It is the apparent purpose to haul lumber out for distribution along the electric line.

CITY SECURES ROCK CRUSHER

State of Washington Will Operate a Machine in the Selah Gap with Convict Labor if Yakima County Comes Through

North Yakima has finally won out in the contest with Walla Walla to secure the location of one of the three new rock crushing plants to be installed by the state. The decision was in the hands of Gov. Hay and for a time it seemed as though Walla Walla would beat North Yakima to it, as strong pressure was brought to bear from that city. The credit for securing the location of the plant here is largely due to the strong recommendation made of the Selah site by State Geologist Henry Landes and also the personal efforts of Speaker Meigs and Secretary James of the Commercial club. However, there are conditions attached to the location of the state quarry here that must be complied with before the state will come through in its part of the agreement; namely, the donation to the state of 160 acres of stone land, the lease of a suitable location for a convict camp and a contract to be signed by the county commissioners that Yakima county will purchase from the state road-making material to the extent of 50,000 tons per year. The proposed plant, will, of course, be operated by convict labor.

"My Dear Mr. Meigs: I beg to hand you herewith Mr. James' letter of June 23rd, and in reply would say that I understand your people have 160 acres of rock which they are willing to turn over to the state, if we will establish a crushing plant at that point. Kindly have your people close up their option for this land and get us a suitable site upon which to establish a stockade or camp, and have the land deeded to the state and send abstract of title to our attorney general to pass upon.

"Also have your county commissioners write me stating they will agree to use at least 200,000 cubic yards of crushed rock within the next 48 months. I will immediately have one member of the board of control go over and try to close your electric power plant, and if that cannot be done we will put in a steam plant, and just as soon as we come to an understanding as to the power and the title is in the state, the machinery will be ordered shipped. I am, very respectfully yours, M. E. HAY, Governor."

At the request of Gov. Hay, "Deep Creek" Jones and H. E. Gillham, members of the state board of control, arrived here Tuesday. On the following day, accompanied by the three county commissioners, the state officials inspected the proposed site for the quarry in Selah gap. Both officials expressed themselves as well pleased with the location and its splendid shipping advantages.

There are 18 acres of land in the tract, on which the county has an option at $10 per acre, and which it will deed the state to be used solely as a quarry. The stockade site, for the location of the convict camp, will necessarily have to be in the near vicinity. The commissioners have two such sites in view and one of them will doubtless be purchased by the county.

The N. P. railway company is building a hall of recreation for its employees at Pasco. The building will be 35x70 in size, two stories, containing billiard and recreation rooms, library, bath, etc. The idea of the company is to make life in a small town as congenial as possible for its men and to keep them, if possible, out of the saloons. If the plan works out successfully at Pasco it will doubtless be put in effect at other division points.

The 50,000 club, it is understood, will take the matter in charge of seeing that Yakima is well represented at the National Irrigation congress that meets at Spokane during August.

SENATOR CAMERON'S ATTITUDE

The Republic, in replying to a criticism of Senator Cameron for lining up with the Ross-Ruth-Schively faction in the legislature, says that we do not understand the situation as it exists at Olympia. That the senator's purpose in lining up with the reactionary element to frustrate the plans of Gov. Hay is to secure the passage of laws repealing certain unwise and vicious appropriations such as the purchase of the Wenatchee bridge and others, and that Senator Cameron will show up right at the right time, etc., etc.

Editor Robertson wrote this screed for his paper immediately after returning from a trip to Olympia, where he presumably had a conference with Senator Cameron, so, without doubt, he faithfully reflects that statesman's views. In this connection we might add that an explanation of the senator's attitude was due, even past due, for his constituents have been waiting to hear from him. And as he has been in the habit of stating his views through the Republic, that paper's explanation, or rather apology, for his course may be regarded as official.

But the explanation is weak and unsatisfactory and leaves a bad taste in the mouth of the average citizen of Yakima county. A great many openly condemn Senator Cameron's course in allying himself with the worst element of his party in the legislature, and most of these are of his own party, at that; men who supported him loyally at the polls. We assume, of course, no authority to speak for the Republicans of Yakima county, but from what we know of the sentiment that exists, we venture the opinion that if a referendum vote were to be taken tomorrow on Senator Cameron's course not one out of five of his constituents would approve it. Of the 14 newspapers published within the senator's district, but one, the Yakima Republic, commends his course. For the most part the others have strongly condemned it. So much for public opinion.

The Ross-Ruth crowd in the legislature is bitterly opposed to any radical action in the effort being made by the Hay faction, aided by the Democrats, to clean out the nest of official grafters at Olympia; in fact, that element seems to be bitterly opposed to any action being taken at all. The excuses they make for taking such a stand are numerous and somewhat amusing, but wholly illogical. The principal one is that Gov. Hay is unduly officious and meddling, that he is endeavoring to make political capital on which to make the race for the senate. That he is a new man, wholly inexperienced in public affairs and that he has set himself up as a dictator, etc. Another argument is that the investigation of Schively was unfairly conducted, and that the committee itself needs investigation. Yet another is that a wholesale investigation of state officials will hurt the party.

PRESSURE ON SCHIVELY.

There is now said to be a move on foot among Republican leaders of this state to force Schively to resign. Heretofore that official has stubbornly refused to do anything of the kind; but now he may change his mind. The Oregonian says that representations have been made to Schively that if he will resign that he will be released from the criminal charges pending against him at Spokane, and that his daughter will be given a permanent position in one of the state offices.

These overtures have been made, it is said, to get a troublesome matter settled, since Schively has threatened that if he be prosecuted further he proposes to make public some mighty interesting revelations involving others in scandal. So it is likely that all the G. O. P. leaders will get together before August 11 and hush up the scandal for the sake of the party; the grand old party!

TOO BAD, OF COURSE

Yes, it is too bad to have the Democrats divided over the tariff rate on lumber and the rates on iron ore, but the Republican newspapers must not become so absorbed in the discussion of this division as to forget the division between Republicans over the same schedules. The Republican papers cannot consistently criticize a few Democrats for voting against free lumber and free iron ore without criticising the Republicans who did the same thing, but they may not worry about inconsistency.—Commenter.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

The woman's rights convention at Seattle last week somewhat resembled the old-time political conventions in this state, composed of mere men. The ladies had an exciting time, sure enough. There was fiery oratory and threats and counter threats. The insurgent Spokane delegation was unseated and left the hall in a huff.

But the unseated delegates carried the contest up to the national body, which met at Seattle two days later, and the national convention gently chastised the fighting factions by denying both the right to vote in that body. So there was much ill-feeling all around. But the dear women were a unit on one question: That they should all vote if they want to.

CERTAINLY, WHY NOT?

If the Republican party wishes to retain the allegiance of the decent men of the state of Washington it will be necessary too for its representatives at Olympia to show what manner of men they are. We don't care a cuss for the Republican party when the welfare of the state of Washington is in the balance. On most of the matters of governmental policy the writer agrees with the principles enunciated by the Republican platform of recent date, but in matters of party practice—especially official practice—he is of the opinion that the society for the prevention of vice would find ample material to occupy an extended session. There is altogether too much of the old spirit of party loyalty—a tendency to hush it up and excuse it “for the good of the party.” We permit things in the public service that a private business man or corporation would not tolerate 24 hours. Why should the state get less for its money than an individual in the way of honest and conscientious service for the salary paid? and why—oh, why—may not the state “fire” a dishonest and incompetent servant the minute his dishonesty and incompetency are proven? And again why—WHY—must a considerable number of the representatives of the people of the state consider it their duty to join the painters' union and wield the whitewash brush?—Topenish Review.

KEEP THIS FOR REFERENCE

“I marvel at your blindness,” says Cummins, of Iowa, to Aldrich, of Rhode Island. “You are subjecting our party to unmeasured ridicule, unlimited criticism and eventually to inevitable defeat and destruction.”

“The senator from Rhode Island will not discredit us,” says LaFollette to the senate. “Instead, he has only discredited his own leadership before the senate and before the country.”

“We will have much more trouble explaining somebody else's vote to the people than our own,” is what Clapp, of Minnesota, says in reply to some of the Rhode Islander's taunts.

The copy of the Congressional Record reporting the debate in which these ardentities occurred is worth filing for reference after the congressional election of next year.

If Mr. Aldrich is not riding the Republican party for a fall there is no truth in prophecy. The direction in which he is trying to lead the Republican party is one in which it has already said it does not wish to go. And marching close at his heels are the Republican bolters of the senate who for some inscrutable reason, would rather follow him into the ditch than obey a party mandate.—St. Louis Republic.

After the legislature had appointed a committee to investigate his office, Land Commissioner Ross, making a virtue of necessity, came out in the newspapers welcoming the investigation. Shifty, thrifty, Mr. Ross! Since Ross really wants an investigation why didn't he say so long ago and avoid all this heart-breaking waste of time and money? Since an investigation is just what he wants, why should this big bluffer, with a loud voice, have kept an organized lobby at the capital during the past three sessions to wheedle and intimidate the legislators when they talked of investigating anybody. If Ross' conduct of his office has been as coarse and corrupt as his legislative program he certainly needs an investigation.

The average taxpaying citizen of this state doesn't care a cuss whether the investigation hurts the party or not. This is not a matter to be decided on factional or party grounds. It is the people's business and it was the people's money that has been stolen. The people simply demand an accounting at the hands of the men whom they have entrusted to do the public business. Rendering an account of his stewardship should be and is no hardship on any honest public official. As a rule honest officials welcome investigation, while dishonest ones invariably discourage it. From this fact the public has a right to draw its own conclusions. It is a notorious fact that a certain bunch of Republican officials at Olympia have successfully resisted a public investigation of the state officers for years. They have argued, pleaded and threatened at each session of the legislature and they have postponed the evil day. They have worked night and day, under the leadership of Land Commissioner Ross, to prevent the present legislature from interfering with their grafts.

Why should Senator Sam Cameron, a man whose personal honesty goes unquestioned in this community, where he has lived for 20 years, line himself up in defense of such men and methods? Does the senator think that his course in the senate meets with the approval of his constituents, or any considerable part of them? If he does think so he must have a very poor opinion of the people of the two counties whom he assumes to represent in the senate.

Col. Robertson is fond of referring to the fact editorially that Hamilton, the absconding adjutant general, is a Democrat and that he is in jail. True enough, and when he gets out of jail it should be only to go to the “pen.” But the Democratic party is not responsible for Hamilton. He was appointed to office by a Republican governor, who, if he had taken the trouble to look up the man's antecedents over at Colfax, probably wouldn't have done so. Even at that, Hamilton might not have gone wrong only that he discovered that the Republican state officials had no system whatever of keeping check on his office, which to a man of Hamilton's cast of mind was an invitation to steal. In a sense, Mead and Claussen are as guilty as he. Yes, Hamilton, the Democrat, is in jail and he ought to have plenty of Republican company. But will he?

Congressman Frank W. Cushman, of the second district of this state, who died in New York last Monday from a sudden attack of pneumonia, was a remarkable public character. Cushman was a quick-witted, brainy man and possessed a subtle, though rather charming sense of humor. In congress he was called a humorist and a jolly good fellow. A statesman in the true sense, he was not. However, he was a clever politician and quick to take advantage of an opportunity. Now that Cushman has passed on, leaving a vacancy in congress from the Tacoma district, the fight to succeed him in that body promises to be a bitter and contentious one, as there are many who want the job. Owing to the intense dissatisfaction that now exists in this state with Republican administration, both state and national, a Democrat may be elected to succeed Cushman.

Schively is but a mere pawn in the game being played at Olympia. The only reason that he has any backing in the legislature is due to the fact that a certain element in that body, for reasons of their own, do not want the investigation to go any farther. When these men have decided that Schively must go, they will throw him overboard and endeavor to save their own faces.

There appears to have been less than the usual number of Fourth of July accidents this season, yet all too many. The most of the lives lost were those of children, and more's the pity.

Charges Against Supreme Court.

A Tacoma lawyer has filed charges against the supreme court, except Judge Emmet N. Parker. His name is Herbert N. De Wolfe, and his charge is that the high court has decided no less than four cases against him, in which he declares that they have “directly violated the oath of office and that each and every member, with one exception, is unfit to sit as judge or practice law in our courts.” This charge has been filed with the legislature with the request that they be investigated. It is probable that De Wolfe had no memory of the punishment doled out to Judge Robinson of suspension from the bar for a definite period for simply doubting the wisdom of that body on passing judgment in matters in the Sullivan estate.—Olympia Standard.

No Chinamen Converted.

Referring to the recent murder of Elsie Sigel in New York by a Chinaman she was trying to convert, one is tempted to ask whether the Chinese is worth while, since the history of the movement shows that the Chinaman is more likely to convert the mission worker to opium than the mission worker is to convert the Chinaman to Christianity.

Sir Robert Hart, for many years in charge of the Chinese customs, on behalf of the British government, and probably better acquainted with China and the Chinese than any other white man, has made the frank statement that, no matter what missionaries may believe and say, not one Chinaman has ever been really converted to Christianity.

He contends that the sole object of attending English-speaking schools is to learn English and to pick up foreign methods and that John Chinaman's pretense of conversion is pretense and nothing more.

There are more white heathens in New York than all the Chinamen mission will ever convert, here or in China. And such girls as Elsie Sigel can find better employment for their energies among the children of the American poor than among the almond-eyed devils of the Chinese hells, infested by the very worst of the underworld.—Chicago Blade.

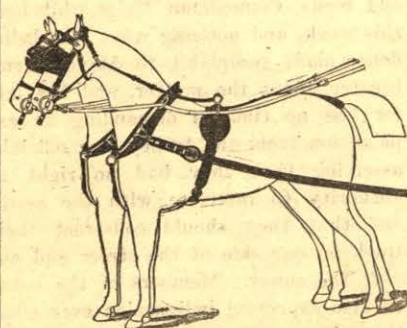

Rattlers Take Ship.

Six big rattlesnakes worked out of their heavy wooden cages on board the Southern Pacific steamship El Alba, when the vessel was 100 miles off Galveston bound for New York. An aerogram stated that the half a dozen reptiles had driven the crew to the rigging, and they refused to assist the officers in recapturing and capturing them. The consignment consisted of about a score of monster rattlers, caught in the lower Rio Grande valley. The officers were afraid to kill the snakes unless absolutely necessary, and at last accounts the reptiles were circled around the rails on deck, in complete possession of the heavy laden freight vessel, with officers and crew prisoners on their own ship.—Washington Standard.

Secretary of Agriculture Devotes Space to Irrigation on Projects in Yakima Valley.

The irrigation projects of the Yakima valley occupy considerable space in the report of Secretary James Wilson of the department of agriculture, which has just been received here. The report refers at length to the available water powers of the state and then continues as follows, regarding irrigation in the Yakima valley.

Much Water Stored

"Since much of the water now used and much of the stored water later to be used in the Yakima valley will be distributed to lands pretty well down the valley, it will be possible to develop a considerable amount of power from the water before it reaches the agricultural lands upon which it is to be used finally, and there is great need for such power for use in domestic industries and to be distributed over the densely populated irrigated districts for light and power.

"At present there are more than 450,000 acres under ditch, of which something over 200,000 acres are under cultivation and are using water. This estimate of lands now irrigated is likely to be too low, owing to the very many small farms taking water from small creeks, springs and wells; the acreage so served can be estimated only roughly.

390,000 Acres More

"In addition to the above there are about 390,000 acres the plans for the watering of which are pretty well worked out or upon which work has been done already. Federal projects cover 327,000 acres of the latter, either as extensions to existing systems or new work in contemplation and reported on, the water for all of which is to be provided from storage reservoirs.

Besides this there are other lands in the Big Bend country—about 100,000 acres near Pasco—that could be watered from the Palouse river if suitable and economical storage could be secured. There is quite a tract along the east bank of the Columbia river upon which water could be stored, power being developed at the rapids above. Even now a company has been formed to divert the waters of the Klickitat for the purpose of irrigating a fine, rich body of land lying between lower Yakima river and the Columbia. The air is full of projects and no doubt future developments in irrigation will be very rapid."

For Sale.

Notice of Sheriff's Sale

In the Superior Court of the State of Washington, in and for Yakima county.

State of Washington, county of Yakima—ss:

The Emporium Company, a corporation, plaintiff, vs. F. S. Cooper and Pearl S. Cooper, defendants.

Under and by virtue of an execution issued out of the superior court of the state of Washington, in and for Yakima county, upon a judgment rendered in said court, on the 14th day of April, 1909, in favor of the Emporium company, a corporation, and against F. S. Cooper and Pearl S. Cooper, and each of them, for the sum of Fifty-two Dollars ($52.00), with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from said 14th day of April, 1909, until paid, and to me as sheriff of Yakima county, state of Washington, duly directed and delivered on the 29th day of May, 1909, I have on this 1st day of June, 1909, duly levied upon the following described property to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the west line of lot nine (9), Leaming's Addition to North Yakima, one hundred twenty-nine (129) feet north of the southwest corner thereof, thence north on said west line a distance of two hundred seventy-one (271) feet to the northwest corner of said lot nine (9); thence east on the north line of said lot nine (9) two hundred twenty-five and five-tenths (225.5) feet to the northeast corner thereof; thence in a southeasterly direction on the east line of said lot nine (9), one hundred eighty-five and five-tenths (185.5) feet; thence west parallel with the south line of said lot nine (9), one hundred ninety and five-tenths (190.5) feet; thence in a southeasterly direction parallel with the east line of said lot nine (9) one hundred feet; thence west parallel with the south line of said lot nine (9), one hundred twenty-six and seven-tenths (126.7) feet more or less to the point of beginning, containing one and 28-100 (1.28) acres more or less, situated in Yakima county, state of Washington, as the property of the defendant, F. S. Cooper, by filing with the county auditor of Yakima county, state of Washington, a full, true and correct copy of said writ of execution, duly certified to by me to be a true copy, together with a description of the property levied upon as aforesaid.

Notice is hereby given that I will, on Saturday, the 3rd day of July, 1909, at the hour of two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the front door of the court house, in the city of North Yakima, Yakima county, state of Washington, sell all the right, title and interest of the said defendant, F. S. Cooper, in and to the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary, at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash in hand, to satisfy the amount of said judgment together with interest, costs and increased costs.

Dated this 1st day of June, 1909.

Senator Newlands Thinks Only Thing to Be Done Is to Plant Seed for New System.

Washington, July 7.—Speaking on the evolution of the tariff schedule today Senator Newlands said:

"No material changes can now be made in the bill and the only question before us is whether we may not by some general provision plant the seed of a rational tariff system under which excessive tariff duties may be gradually reduced and the tariff taken out of politics.

Not Original Legislation.

"The tariff is not a piece of original legislation, but a measure intended to correct abuses of an existing law.

"It would be difficult for the president to accomplish what he desires by veto unless he wishes to record his condemnation of the party's breach of faith, and the only alternative will be to accept the bill and press on later for the ameliorative legislation."

Shaping Philippine Government.

Senator Newlands, speaking of the tariff affecting the Philippine products, spoke in favor of shaping "the government of these islands so as to prepare the Filipinos for self-government and ultimately yield the islands to the government of their people."

Increase of $6050 in Receipts for Year Ending With Last of June.

Postoffice receipts for the year closing June 30, 1909, were $6050 greater than the receipts for the year ending June 30, 1908, an increase of 17 per cent. Postmaster W. L. Lemon has been making out his report for the past quarter and finds that the receipts were $10,515, as opposed to $11,097 for the previous quarter. Postoffice business is likely to be light at this time of the year, so that the slight drop is not unexpected. Receipts for the past quarter were $1,405 greater than for the corresponding quarter of last year.

It is on the increase in the amount of receipts that the change in the classification of postoffices depends, North Yakima becoming a first class office because the receipts in the quarter closing March 31 brought the total for the year over $40,000.

The receipts for the past two years have been as follows, the dates indicating the close of the quarter for which the figures are given:

	1908-9.	1907-8.
June 30	$10,515	$ 9,110
March 31	11,097	9,510
December 31	11,860	10,372
September 30	8,378	6,808
	$41,850	$35,800

NELSON WINS IN A HARD FOUGHT BATTLE

Tigers Score Three in the First of Tenth, the Only Runs Made.

Even though it was the Fourth of July there was no hurrahing or exploding of fireworks at Ellensburg after the game between the Colts and the Tigers.
It was such a defeat for the up-valley gang that they celebrated the occasion in quiet meditation and reluctantly swallowed 10 goose eggs while the Tigers claimed the laurels with three runs.

Not a score was made in the first nine innings. The ball started to roll with Freeman's error, on which Chisholm succeeded in getting to second.
Nelson made a pretty sacrifice and Maguire pumped at three. Grovers hit, scored Chisholm and Minor followed with a single on which Grovers went to third. Kohls landed on one into left field and Steel for Ellensburg keeled over backward when he was about to get in under the sphere. Grovers and Minor crossed the plate and Strubble struck out.

Sore on Steel.

The Ellensburg bunch failed to give consideration to Steele's tumble and some even went so far as to say that he keeled over purposely to gain sympathy and avoid the possibility of making an error. Steele, it is understood, was hired for two games and more than one has declared that the first game was all that he should be allowed to play.

When the Colts came to bat in the tenth they struggled desperately to even matters up. Every rooter had his "bazoo" in operation. Goldie put a hot one between third and short but Steele was easy meat for Nelson. Paige burnt up the gravel with a stinger through the center of the diamond and with one gone Nelson mowed down two more.

A Pitchers' Battle.

Nelson was pitching some ball and on not a single occasion was he up in the air. It is said to be the best game that he has pitched this season and the coolness with which he occupied the box testified to the fact that he was in good condition and using head work.

Metcalf also pitched a good game and the contest was more or less of a pitchers' battle. Errors at critical points were responsible for the loss of the game on the part of the Colts. Not one of the runs were earned.

VISITORS ARE PLEASED.

Chicago Association of Commerce Thanks North Yakima Commercial Club.

That the members of the Chicago Association of Commerce who visited North Yakima recently on the trade extension excursion were highly pleased with their entertainment here is shown by a letter just received by Sec. H. P.
James of the Commercial club. The letter follows:

"The Chicago Association of Commerce wishes to thank you for your courtesy in entertaining the delegation which recently visited your city.

"The party was particularly impressed by the richness and resources of your valley. They had long heard of your orchards, and it was a pleasure to see the source of so much of the best fruit which comes to Chicago.
North Yakima certainly deserves its high reputation.

"We trust that the members of your club may find it convenient to visit our association in Chicago, and again thanking you for your kindness, we hope that the friendships thus formed may be permanent."

The letter is signed on behalf of the Chicago Association of Commerce by Edward M. Skinner, president, H. A.
Wheeler, chairman of the Trade Extension delegation, Edward Clifford, vice chairman, and Hugo Hartmann,
secretary.

SHOULDER DISLOCATED IN FIGHT ON STREET

Seven Vagrants Taken to the County Jail to Be Put on Chain Gang.

A sheep herder, W. C. Miller, had his shoulder thrown out of joint in a fight Tuesday evening on Front street. The injury caused him considerable pain, and the arm was put back into place with some difficulty. Miller is often in town and appears to have a faculty of stirring up resentment against himself on the part of people with whom he talks. He spent the night in the city jail and was sent on his way rejoicing Wednesday.

Seven other fellows did not fare so fortunately when the jail clearing took place. When they came out of the city prison, they found Sheriff Lancaster and a deputy awaiting them and they were escorted over to the county jail to accept positions on the chain gang. They had been arrested for vagrancy.

There were also five men fined $5 each for drunkenness. Jack Dolan and George Henry forfeited $10 bail each for non-appearance.

Many Machines in North Yak- ima on Which Licenses Have Not Been Taken.

There are about 6000 automobiles owned in the state of Washington, and at least 2000 of this total are being operated without licenses. There are upwards of 200 in North Yakima and many of these are without licenses. The license fee is the nominal sum of $2.
The law was enacted in order that state, county and city officials may keep tab on the various machines in the enforcement of speed laws and other safety regulations. The law provides that any owner who does not take out a license for his car may be fined $100.

Prosecutions May Follow

Unless there is improvement prosecutions will follow, according to the statement of the secretary of state, M. Howell. Mr. Howell's attention has been directed to the fact that there are many machines in the state that are being operated without licenses, and he intends to turn the matter over to the prosecuting attorneys in the various counties.

Mr. Howell says:
"A large number of owners do not understand requirements and even some who have taken out licenses are not fully aware of the requirements. All motor car licenses expire with the fiscal year ending May 30, and must be renewed on June 1 or the owner is liable.
Some owners think that because their license was issued in April or May that it is good for a year from the date of issuance. Such is not the case. The license expires on the 30th of May, no matter when issued.

New Licenses Required

"There is another provision of the law which is not generally understood. Many automobile owners sell their cars and purchase new ones and they, as well as the purchasers, go on the theory that the license and number of the machine go with it. This also is not the case.
The license applies to the owner and not to the machine, and if one buys a car from another, the new owner must take out a new license and in his own name.
"Some time ago this state ranked fourth in the number of motor cars owned and operated, and I think it likely that the rank still holds good. I am preparing lists of owners to be forwarded to the prosecuting attorneys of the various counties, by whom the matter will be taken up."

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts direct-

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Democratic Senators Vote for Corporation Tax Being Best They Can Get—Senior Army Officers Are Excused From Strenuous Riding Stunt.

Washington, D. C., July 3.—Senator Aldrich with more frankness perhaps than is characteristic announced his belief, when the corporation tax proposition came up in the senate, that it would be repealed within two years. He explained that in his estimation the tariff bill would yield ample revenue after that time, and that the continuation of the corporation tax would prove prejudicial to the protective system. In the estimation of many able judges, including no less capable a statesman than President Taft, the senator from Rhode Island is wholly mistaken in his prediction. It is the belief of Mr. Taft and of a number of able judges in both houses of congress that once the corporation tax is grafted upon the statutes it will remain there, that the force of public opinion will be too strong ever to permit of its repeal. As to whether or not it will prove a menace to the protective system is a question determined by each man's conception of that system. To men of the old school of republicans, like Aldrich, Hale and a host of others, it certainly will, for from their standpoint anything which must tend to the lowering of the protective duties constitutes a menace to protection. To men of the more modern school of republicans, like Taft and many members of his cabinet, the salvation of the protective system rests on the gradual lowering of the duties. They argue that the continued maintenance of the existing high rates must inevitably result in turning the great volume of consumers against the tariff and that if this is to be avoided the duties must be gradually lowered. President Taft and those who espouse his view will not, however, quarrel with Mr. Aldrich's prediction. They are sufficiently thankful to secure the services of the able republican leader at this time to get the corporation tax on the statute books and are entirely content to deal with any effort he may make to repeal it, when that time comes.

A majority of the democratic senators will vote for the corporation tax for the very reason that Mr. Aldrich dislikes it. They share the view of President Taft that once enacted the tax can never be repealed and that it will soon yield so ample a revenue as to make a reduction of the protective duties imperative. They believe sincerely that Mr. Aldrich and others of his school have failed to keep pace with the popular sentiment of the country, that they do not realize the extent of the demand for lower duties, that they attach far too little importance to the popular sentiment that corporations, most of which are directly or indirectly beneficiaries of the tariff, should contribute their share to the expenses of the government. Even now a number of corporations are protesting violently against the enactment of the Taft tax and the democrats seem to realize far more keenly than the republican leaders that one corporation with ample funds to pay telegraph tolls can make ten times more noisy protest than one hundred consumers whose enforced contributions to the protected manufacturers have left them with hardly sufficient ready cash to pay for a ten word telegram between them. Nothing but Hobson's choice between the corporation tax and the income tax would induce the republican leaders to vote for the corporation tax at this time. To the democrats, on the other hand, the corporation tax amounts to half a loaf, for practically all its provisions are contained in the income tax amendment fathered by Senators Bailey and Cummins.

Army officers are greatly rejoiced over the first modification of the 90-mile ride prescribed by President Roosevelt as a physical test for all field officers. The secretary of war has determined to make exceptions in the case of certain senior officers of the ordnance department and the engineer corps, and of all officers who have reached the age of 62. These will be required to take the ride but surgeons making the subsequent physical examinations will be instructed to be far more lenient with them than with the younger men and officers of the line. Another change which is confidently expected is an equal division of the 21-hour period during which the 90 miles must be covered, into three parts instead of, as at present, requiring that one lap of 30 miles be made in six hours. Of course these changes are not particularly radical, but they are taken by army officers to indicate that President Taft is disposed to be more reasonable in his demands for physical prowess on the part of army officers than was his predecessor.

Killed on the Track.

The horribly mutilated body of Levi R. LeDuc, an old soldier, and well known member of the French colony of this section, was found on the railroad tracks a short distance south of the Rex spraying plant Thursday morning. The body was in a badly mangled condition, having been run over perhaps several times by passing trains during the preceding night. The discovery of the body was made by L. K. Williams, of Sunnyside, who happened to be passing that way.

Coroner Rosser on being called regarded an inquest as unnecessary, as the manner of death appeared to be convincing enough. The old man had been drinking hard, it is said, during the last three or four days and it is presumed that on stumbling across the tracks on his way home Wednesday night overcame with drink the unfortunate man laid down across the track and went to sleep. Still, there were some persons who thought that he might have been first murdered and robbed and his body left on the track to divert suspicion.

LeDuc leaves a widow and several grown children. The family reside on the west side of the railroad track, a short distance south of town.

Hoboes Must Work.

Justice Karr on Wednesday began enforcing the new vagrancy law and handed 30 day sentences on the county rock pile to nine hoboes, following up on Thursday with 13 more. The prisoners were put to work cleaning up the rocks and otherwise improving the pest house farm. All had been arrested in a drunken or semi-drunken condition. The county authorities say that they will find work for all the hoboes arrested.

A Rather Slow Fourth

There was no general celebration of the Fourth in North Yakima this year, the business men having decided early in the season to give away this year in the matter of a celebration to other towns in the valley and to hold a carnival for a week during the month of September.

There were a number of private picnic parties held during the day, most of town people looking for recreation going to places along the rivers, with a large turnout in the evening at Sumach park to see the fireworks.

The Moxee people had the nearest thing to an old-time celebration. A jolly crowd, including a number from this city, gathered near the store in a convenient grove, and there was something doing all day, and far into the succeeding night with a dance in progress most of the time. All present had a good time.

Louis La Vigne of Grant county, who owns a ranch near the Columbia river, came over to Yakima to spend the Fourth. Mr. Lavigne is irrigating 40 acres of his ranch by pumping water from a well that never fails. He says that the Columbia river valley is now developing very rapidly, new people coming in every week.

City and County News

Brief Record of Local Happenings for the Week in North Yakima and Vicinity.

A. E. Larson and other members of the family returned the first of the week from the Sound after attending the Larson-Robertson nuptials at Olympia.

The splendid rains of Monday night and 24 hours following were most welcome in this part of the county. It settled the dust, purified the atmosphere and started the grass to growing again. It was a delightful change from the previous hot spell.

J. P. McCafferty, accompanied by his son, James, who has been attending Notre Dame University, returned from the east July 2. His daughter, Miss Grace, is still in the east.

Postmaster Will Lemon and H. H. Wende with their wives spent the first of the week on a fishing trip to Lake Keechelus and brought home the fish to prove it.

J. M. Brown, president of the Union Ditch company, on behalf of that corporation, threatens to sue the city for damages in case the water is again turned off from Union ditch to facilitate sewer construction. The last time the water was turned off by Theodore Weisberger, the sewer contractor, and farmers under the Union ditch were much annoyed thereat and threatened trouble should it occur again at the height of the irrigation season.

The Baptist Young People's Union held a picnic social last evening at Sumach park. A supper was given and an interesting program put through.

The Yakima Commercial club has received assurances from the Seattle commercial club to the effect that the latter organization desires to cooperate with the local club in procuring needed national or state legislation. Secretary James has replied asking Seattle aid in hurrying reclamation work, particularly on the Tieton and Sunnyside projects.

Mrs. A. A. Nicol, who left North Yakima some six weeks ago, is visiting in England. She will return here in the fall.

J. M. Brown's son, Ben, who has been attending Pullman college, has been appointed superintendent of the Northern Pacific company's model fruit farm three miles north of Prosser. A large acreage of fruit is now growing on the ranch.

A marriage license was granted on Wednesday to James Roy Miller, aged 29, of Creswell, Ore., and Miss Lila Dora Alexander, aged 23, of Sunnyside. Mr. Warren H. Roberts, representing a large coal mine supply house of Chicago, was the guest of J. L. Hughes the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Larson, who were married at Olympia June 30, returned home Thursday morning from their honeymoon trip. The groom had previously arranged a nice home on South Naches avenue.

Miss Lucile Russell has left for New York on a purchasing trip for Ditter Bros.

Federal Judge Whitson has appointed E. B. Cresap, a local attorney, as U. S. referee in bankruptcy to succeed Keith W. Dunlop, who resigned.

Dr. P. Frank, county health officer, is stirring up people in the suburbs of this city to the necessity of cleaning up. The doctor suddenly descended on Modern addition a few days ago and finding filth in abundance, served notices on a number of residents to clean up, the limit being 10 days. Other sections surrounding this city will next receive vigorous attention.

George Donald, the well known banker and railroad builder, has set a new pace for local automobilists. While in Seattle recently he purchased a new 1910 model Packard machine which cost nearly $5,000.

Justice Heman D. Hunt is spending his vacation on a trip to his old home at Shellrock, Iowa. During his absence Justice Karr of Nob iHll will distribute justice for him.

H. C. Lucas, vice president of the Yakima Trust company, left a few days ago for New York. He will remain in the east about 30 days.

Mrs. B. W. Pickett left this week for New York and other eastern cities to spend the summer visiting relatives.

The fees collected by the county clerk's office for June amounted to $577.60 as against $472.85 for the same month in 1908.

Attorney Logan H. Roberts is in receipt of information from his father at Lincoln, Neb., that he has sold out his holdings in that city and will locate with his family in North Yakima this fall.

W. A. Bell, manager of the Yakima Hardware company, left this week for New York. He will meet Mrs. Bell, who is now in the east, there.

E. L. Blaine, wife and son, of Seattle, were guests of the Hotel Yakima over the Fourth. Mr. Blaine was formerly with the management of the Sunnyside canal.

The funeral of the late L. G. Butler, a well known old soldier of this city, was held from Shaw & Sons' parlors Sunday afternoon, July 4, the services being under the auspices of the G. A. R. Deceased leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. J. W. Garrison.

Nagler's Juvenile band furnished the music for the Ellensburg celebration Monday. The boys' playing is generally admired and their services appear to be in demand.

A match game of baseball was played at Toppenish Monday by match teams from the North Yakima and Toppenish Eagles. Toppenish won, as Toppenish usually does, by the score of 7 to 3.

Captain Frank T. Liggett, superintendent of rifle practice in the state militia, spent Sunday with friends in this city.

Company E of the National Guard is now quite homeless, being without an armory. Temporary quarters for the use of the company have been secured in a frame building on South Second street, formerly used by the U. S. laundry. The boys are entitled to have more suitable quarters.

The Democrat is now at home in its new quarters, 108 South Second street, two doors south of the postoffice, where old friends and new friends of the paper are invited to call.

James A. Loudon of the First National bank is taking his vacation and accompanied by Mrs. Loudon is spending it on the Sound.

A marriage license was issued Saturday to Harvey William Heath and Miss Viola Mae Fisher, both of North Yakima.

Not less than 75 local members of the Knights of Pythias have been at Seattle this week attending the grand lodge and taking in the exposition.

O. A. Fechter, president of the Valley bank, was a Kennewick visitor Wednesday.

W. H. Moon returned this week from the east, where he went some time ago in the interest of the Cascade Lumber company.

The Moxee people got together in good shape and held out the nearest approach to a Fourth of July celebration locally. An old time picnic dinner was given in a grove near the store

Monday. There was a full afternoon of sports with dancing in the evening. The people participating had a good time.

This is the vacation season, at least it is for many town people. Some go one place, some go another. But the majority, we observe, go to the Sound this year, the Seattle fair being the chief drawing card.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott are making a visit on the Sound.

Judge Preble on Wednesday granted a decree of divorce to Alfred Parker from Emma L. Parker, on the ground of desertion.

DR. SCOTT DIES

Local Dentist Stricken by Death While in Bath Tub—Remains Shipped to Billings, Mont.

Dr. Benjamin S. Scott, a dentist well known throughout the Northwest, died at his home last Sunday afternoon. He returned from his office in the Miller block to his home at 315 North Second street, about 2 o'clock and proceeded soon after to take a bath, seemingly in the best of health.

While in the bath he called his wife to come to his assistance. She found him gasping for breath, virtually smothering to death as a result of over-circulation of the blood. He realized that he was dying and remarked that the end had come. Mrs. Scott summoned a physician at once, but nothing could be done, and Dr. Scott died a few minutes later.

The remains were taken to Billings, Mont., Tuesday for interment there beside those of his mother and sisters.

Rattlers Take Ship.

Six big rattlesnakes worked out of their heavy wooden cages on board the Southern Pacific steamship El Alba, when the vessel was 100 miles off Galveston bound for New York. An aerogram stated that the half a dozen reptiles had driven the crew to the rigging, and they refused to assist the officers in recapturing and capturing them. The consignment consisted of about a score of monster rattlers, caught in the lower Rio Grande valley. The officers were afraid to kill the snakes unless absolutely necessary, and at last accounts the reptiles were circled around the rails on deck, in complete possession of the heavy laden freight vessel, with officers and crew prisoners on their own ship.—Washington Standard.

HOBOS MUST WORK

New Law Against Vagrancy to be Strictly Enforced Here—County to Work Pilgrims on Roads.

Under the provisions of a new law passed by the present legislature a very liberal definition is applied to the word "vagrant." The new law defines a vagrant as a person who does not work, or who is without visible means of support and places much latitude in the hands of police officers in the interpretation of the statute. The law further provides that vagrants, when convicted as such, shall be turned over to the sheriff in the jurisdiction of the county, and at the discretion of that official and the board of county commissioners, worked on the public highways until such fines as levied have been paid. On the whole, the new law is pretty severe on the "Weary Willies," and if the law is rigidly enforced, the gentry that won't work will find North Yakima anything but a pleasant abiding place, as it has been in the past. The city police department, with the co-operation of Sheriff Lancaster, will, it is said, hereafter enforce the new law. As soon as the prisoners are turned over, the county, of course, must feed them and become responsible for them.

The numerous saloons on Front street have been for a long time the headquarters of the hobo element, although there are doubtless many honest working men among them. The wish has frequently been expressed by citizens that this nuisance could be abated in some way, and now the new vagrancy law seems to offer the opportunity.

TWO GIRLS DROWN

Little Daughters of Will Shenck of Cowiche Lose Lives in Power Ditch on Tieton, Monday.

The two daughters of Will Shenck, aged 10 and 5 years, were drowned last Saturday near Camp No. 1 of the reclamation service. The reclamation people had a display of fireworks and picnic at a little meadow on the Tieton river close to the ditch which furnishes power to the electric light plant.

When it came time for the shooting of the fireworks those at the picnic grounds decided to go to a small hill near by to get a better view. The little Shenck girls forgot their hats and after reaching the hill decided to return alone and get them. Getting their hats, in the hurry to join their parents, they decided to take a short cut by a foot plank over the power ditch. In some manner not known they fell from the plank and were drowned.

The body of the elder girl was found lodged against the screen at the lower end of the ditch. The lighter body of the smaller girl is thought to have been washed over a spillway of the ditch into the Tieton. Hundreds of men from the reclamation service have been dragging the river for the body, but so far have not been able to find it.

Will Shenck, the father of the little girls, has lived in the Cowiche for several years and has lately opened a store at the North Fork.

"Make your cigarette of wrapping paper," is the advice of Oliver Crews, who was found "not guilty" of violating the cigarette law in Justice Hunt's court last Saturday, because his cigarettes were shown to be made of wrapping instead of the regulation paper. The justice was unable to find anything in the law covering tobacco smoked in this manner.

Fred Dennett, commissioner of the general land office, who is making an inspection trip to visit different U. S. land offices throughout the country, is expected to be in North Yakima within the next 10 days.

W. N. Granger, general manager of the Sunnyside canal, and family spent Sunday and Monday as the guests of the Yakima.
