

CITY IS VICTIM OF A POLITICAL CONSPIRACY

NORTH YAKIMA HAS RING OF KNOCKERS

In Order to Injure Northwest Light & Power Co.,
Stories of Impure Water and Typhoid Fever are Circulated.

All this talk about typhoid fever in North Yakima, about the impurity of the water used by the inhabitants here, and all this rushing into print with inferences tending to reflect discredit upon the water system, endeavoring to produce a suspicion in the minds of the people here that typhoid germs exist in the ice cold water flowing from the glaciers of Tieton basin and the snow-capped peaks of the Cascades, if given proper investigation and thoughtful consideration, will prove to be nothing more nor less than a political conspiracy aimed at the Northwest Light & Power company of this city.

The Democrat has been making an effort to get at the bottom of the facts and it has been rewarded with results that cause the above bold statement. There has been some typhoid fever in North Yakima this year. No one denies this. There is not a city in the United States of the population of North Yakima that has not as many typhoid fever cases and possibly more than can be found here today.

And there is another significant feature connected with nearly every case of reported typhoid fever in this city which is, that the physicians called in to diagnose the case will invariably disagree on the question as to whether the case is really typhoid fever or some form of malaria. Some of the best physicians practicing in the city today claim that one-half of the cases reported as typhoid fever are a matter of fact is not typhoid, but a mild form of malaria.

Granted, however, that North Yakima reported 20 cases of typhoid for the month of October, and that in every instance the patient was really suffering from typhoid fever and not malaria, as many of the best physicians claim, such a state of affairs should cause no more alarm or uneasiness or agitation than the fact that L. O. Janeck was defeated for the mayoralty by Phil Armbruster. Of course 416 people in the city lamented the fact that Mr. Janeck was beaten by the West Side banker, but on the other hand there were over 1000 people who rejoiced at the result of the election.

A city of 12,000 or 15,000 people, as North Yakima undoubtedly has now, should not grow alarmed because in the month of October there were 20 cases of typhoid fever reported. September and October are the fever months all over the country.

North Yakima is not so easily alarmed and no attention would be paid to this condition were it not for the fact that a certain clique of people in the city, for political reasons, have for the past two months been engaged in the occupation of spreading ridiculously absurd, unfounded and malicious stories about the unsanitary conditions of North Yakima, about the impurity of the water, and the negligence of the Northwest Light & Power company in not taking steps to improve conditions. This has been done for the purpose of arousing public sentiment against the Strahorn interests here.

Now the Democrat does not desire to be misunderstood in its position on the question of typhoid fever and pure water. It is not attempting to defend the Northwest Light & Power company. As a matter of fact the Democrat believes the people of North Yakima pay too much money for their water and light. It believes that Mr. Strahorn could furnish cheaper water and light and then make a reasonable profit out of the business.

The Democrat has every reason to believe, however, that the people fighting for cheaper water and light are making a grave mistake in pursuing the course which they have apparently mapped out to follow. The statements that have been made repeatedly to the effect that the city is drinking impure water cannot be verified with facts. Statements like this uttered on the street corners or published in the local papers hurt the city. It causes prospective investors to look elsewhere for a place to put their money. But aside from this feature the statement is wholly without fact. North Yakima is blessed with the purest water supply that can be found in the United States. There is not a patient in this city today suffering from typhoid fever contracted by drinking the water that flows through the pipes and water mains in the city. Nineteen-tenths of the typhoid fever cases are patients who live on the outskirts of the city, and who use water drawn from wells.

The Democrat is in favor of the city government making a strenuous fight for better sanitary conditions; it would like to see the Northwest Light & Power company make a special effort to give the people cheaper water and cheaper light; it is opposed, however, to the wide publicity of unfounded facts concerning the water supply of this city, and the publication of typhoid fever conditions when there is nothing unusual to publish or nothing out of the ordinary existing.

CITY SECOND CLASS

Leading Citizens Want it for the Greater Powers Conferred.

A movement was started in this city last Monday evening to make North Yakima a city of the second class under the state law instead of a city of the third class, as it has been for the past 18 years. The meeting was started by a representative meeting of business men who gathered at the Commercial club rooms, President George Donald presiding. However, before the city's class can be changed a census must be taken in order to prove the fact that the city contains a population of over 10,000. But nobody doubts but that the city has at least 11,000, and some people set the figures as high as 13,000.

The main reason for desiring a second class city government at this time is to put the city on a better sanitary basis, that is to give the city greater authority in enforcing sanitary measures. As it is now the city has no power to enforce its own ordinances in compelling residents to clean up and observe the sanitary ordinances. The city health officer may request a citizen to clean up his premises, but under the present conditions there is no way to force him to do so, other than to cause his arrest for maintaining a public nuisance. It is also argued in behalf of the move that such a step is necessary anyway as the town has outgrown the restrictions that govern cities of under 10,000.

In case the movement succeeds it would mean that another city election would have to be held next July and that the city officials practically chosen at last Tuesday's primary will continue in office only to that time.

Clearing House Election.

At the annual election of the Yakima Clearing House association last Wednesday W. L. Steinweg was elected to succeed George Donald as president and O. A. Fechter was chosen to succeed Mr. Steinweg as vice president, while E. E. Streitz, of the Valley bank, succeeds H. C. Lucas as manager. An executive committee consisting of Messrs. Donald, Steinweg, Fechter and Rankin, the presidents of the four banks in the association, were elected for the ensuing year.

The clearing house was organized last April and the local bankers are much pleased with the showing thus far made.

COSGROVE CALLED GOV. MEAD TO HIS BEDSIDE

Governor-Elect Desired to Consult With His Predecessor Concerning
Matters of Importance—The True Situation.

Gov. Mead was in Pomeroy last Sunday and Monday to visit Governor-elect Cosgrove, who is said to be a very sick man, suffering from Bright's disease. Chairman Davis of the state board of control, who was in this city Tuesday, stated to a Democrat representative that Gov. Mead made the journey to Pomeroy at the express request of Mr. Cosgrove, who wished to consult with the present governor over certain matters pertaining to the office of governor.

It is generally understood that Gov. Mead Cosgrove wishes to spend the winter in Southern California in the hope that the balmy air of that country will restore his failing health. It is believed that he wishes to first arrive at an understanding with Gov. Mead to the end that that official should continue to hold the office of governor until such a time as Mr. Cosgrove should be able to go to Olympia and take the oath of office. This, it seems, Gov. Mead is entirely willing to do, even though he may have to inconvenience himself to do so.

Should Gov. Mead die before Jan. 10 next, the date set for his inauguration, Gov. Mead, by virtue of a clause in the state constitution, would undoubtedly have the legal right to hold over until his successor should be elected and qualify. Lawyers differ as to whether this would mean for a period of two years or four years, whether the new governor should be elected in 1910 or not until 1912, as the constitution provides that a governor shall be elected every four years.

In the event that Mr. Cosgrove should take the oath of office and die during his term he would be succeeded, of course, by Lieut.-Gov. Hay. But it is the belief of many of the friends of the governor-elect that owing to his enfeebled condition, he cannot survive until Jan. 10.

SUNNYSIDE VS. YAKIMA.

High School Football Squads Will Contest on Gridiron.

The Sunnyside and North Yakima high school football elevens will battle here on the gridiron today for the championship of the Yakima valley. Much interest is being taken in the game because the two teams are so evenly matched in size and weight.

The local boys succeeded in winning from Sunnyside two weeks ago by the narrow score of 9 to 5. The visitors claim that they have a greatly strengthened team, and fully expect to carry off the honors this afternoon at the ball park.

Condemnation Suit.

The jury in the condemnation case of the North Coast R. R. Co. vs. Julia Hess and A. N. Miller and wife, to fix the value of a lot in block 210, which the plaintiff company desires for depot purposes, arrived at a verdict Monday evening giving Mrs. Hess judgment for $16,452 and the Millers $574 for their interest in the property. This fixes a value of $341 per front foot for the property, inclusive of the buildings. The case was called in the superior court Nov. 5 and a great deal of testimony was taken to arrive at the value of the property, which includes the West Side Hotel and the wall of a brick building which was started on the lot.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION NEXT IN IMPORTANCE

Active Preparations Being Made to Entertain Delegates Who Expect to Visit This City on December
11, 12 and 13.

An event of unusual interest to the young men of the immediate vicinity of North Yakima, especially the members of the local Y. M. C. A., is planned to occur here within a very short time. The event in question is to be known as the Ninth Annual convention of Washington Young Men's Christian Association. The date is set about the middle of December, a three days' session, December 11, 12 and 13.

Representatives of all the associations of the Evergreen state and others interested in men and boys, are welcome to attend this convention and according to Secretary Turner, of the local Y. M. C. A. there is every indication that the first convention of this character to be held in North Yakima will be marked by success in every feature undertaken.

The speakers who will lend their inspiration and instruction on this occasion, are men who rank high in connection with Y. M. C. A. work. William E. Sweet, a prominent business man of Denver; Gale Seamon, Pacific Coast student secretary of the International committee; H. W. Stone, general secretary of the Portland association, and others of equal prominence will adorn the rostrum.

While the program has not been completed in every detail, enough is known to insure all visitors a jolly good time. There will be music under the direction of E. W. Peck, state secretary of Minnesota, and a member of the great American quartet that has sung at the great conventions for the past ten years.

In the language of State Secretary Charles W. Wilcox, the aim of the convention is to "inspire for service, to inform each other, to plan still greater things among the young men and boys of Washington."

Delegates to the convention will pay their own hotel bills. If as many as 100 or more attend from any single point a fare and one-third will be charged by the railroad company.

The people of this city should certainly take an interest in the Young Men's Christian Association work here, and thereby lend their encouragement to whatever is undertaken by the oncoming generation of the city's future business men.

WEST SIDE HOLD-UP

Masked Men Enter Findley Saloon and Make a Haul.

One of the boldest robberies that has ever occurred in this city took place in the West Side saloon last Wednesday night just at closing time.

Two masked men entered the saloon of C. S. Findley a few minutes before 12 o'clock and commanded that everybody throw up their hands and face the wall. There were only three men present at the time, including Findley, the proprietor, who was on duty, Louis Armbruster, and a stranger. Both Findley and the stranger promptly complied with the command of the bandits, but Louis concluded to argue the point. One of the men promptly handed Louis a bunch on the head and he keeled over on the floor. He immediately got to his feet and went north with his hands.

The cash register was robbed of its contents, amounting to $59.

The stranger, who was engaged in conversation with Findley and Armbruster at the time the bandits entered the saloon, has completely dropped out of sight. It is the opinion of the police that he was an accomplice. No trace of the robbers has been found.

ARMBRUSTER WINS NOTABLE VICTORY

West Side Banker Completely Overwhelms L. O.
Janeck in His Third Race for the Mayoralty of North Yakima.

The municipal primary for the nomination of city officers was held in the six wards of this city last Tuesday and resulted in the nomination of Philip Armbruster for mayor over Louis O. Janeck and Dr. T. E. Webb, his opponents, by an overwhelming majority, Armbruster carrying every ward in the city. The vote on the three candidates for mayor stood as follows: Armbruster 1034, Janeck 416, Webb 59, the total vote cast being 1509 out of a registration of over 2200.

The Armbruster pluralities in the different wards were as follows: First ward 59, Second 73, Third 157, Fourth 137, Fifth 111, Sixth 81.

For councilman at large, Michael Schorn won out over Dr. W. H. Carver by a plurality of 29, the vote standing 670 and 641.

In the Third ward Nelson Smith, present councilman, won out over John H. Freeland, by a vote of 127 to 114.

Fred Shaw, nominee for the council in the First ward, Dr. Howard E. Wight in the Second, and Harry W. Mull in the Fifth, had no opposition. Shaw and Mull are members of the present council, while Dr. Wight was named to fill the unexpired term of L. O. Janeck, who resigned to become a candidate for mayor.

Next to the mayoralty public interest centered in the race for city attorney, in which Frank J. Allen, John H. Lynch and C. E. Udell were entered. This was a pretty contest and resulted in a victory for Allen, the vote standing 643 for Allen, 485 for Lynch and 335 for Udell.

J. C. Brooker for clerk, and Chas. R. Donovan for treasurer, present incumbents, were renominated without opposition.

The contest for the mayoralty resulted, as may be seen, in a veritable landslide for Armbruster, the strenuous Fourth ward statesman. This result was due to several causes, the chief of which is the general demand that exists in the city for better and stricter sanitary regulations, as well as a sentiment in favor of stricter economy in city expenditures.

The action, too, of the committee of business men last Friday afternoon in pulling Messrs Heckman and Schott out of the race for mayor and endorsing the candidacy of L. O. Janeck is believed to have had a most potent effect in increasing the size of Armbruster's majority, although, of course, it was not meant to.

The friends of the two deposed candidates bitterly resented this action and thereafter made no secret of their support of Armbruster.

It is due the committee of business men, however, to state that from their standpoint there was no disposition to be arbitrary or unfair. The meeting was called on short notice Friday by Chairman Winsor at the request of certain members of the executive committee of the Business Men's association. Four of the five candidates for mayor, Messrs. Janeck, Schott, Heckman and Webb, were asked to meet with the committee. Each of the candidates were asked to explain the policy he would pursue if elected mayor, which they did. The candidates were then asked if they would abide by the will of the committee as expressed by a majority vote, the defeated candidates to withdraw from the race. To this Messrs. Janeck, Heckman and Schott all assented, and a vote of the committee was taken which resulted as follows: Janeck 8, Heckman 4, Schott 3; a total of 15 votes being cast.

Messrs. Schott and Heckman proved as good as their word and immediately withdrew their filings at the clerk's office. But quite naturally their friends did not take kindly to the arrangement made and proceeded to demonstrate that fact by transferring their support to Mr. Armbruster.

Mr. Armbruster received many congratulations on the result of the primaries Wednesday and acknowledged the same in a modest way. He said that if elected mayor he would endeavor to give all the people of the city a square deal. He declined to discuss future appointments further than to say that he would name his loyal supporter, Dr. Nywenning, as city health officer.

Sheriff-Elect Lancaster has announced that J. W. Day, of Zillah, ex-county clerk, has accepted a position under him as office deputy and that Hal A. Webber, of Sunnyside, will be one of the outside deputies. Other appointments will be announced later.

TAFT WILL APPOINT NEW SUPREME JUDGES

Present Administration Will Have to Provide for Many Justices to Retire.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—Associate Justice Rufus W. Peckham reached his 70th year today and consequently adds another to the list of members of the supreme court who are eligible to retirement. It is a pretty general rule among the members of the court to take advantage of the law which permits them to retire with full pay when they have reached the age of 70, though in the case of a few members who have been blessed with robust health they have waived the rule and have continued to grace the woolsack for several years after they have reached the age of earned retirement. At other times the exigencies of politics have caused them to hold on or retire, as the case may be, in the hope that their places may be filled with men of their own party.

Changes in Supreme Court.
Now that the complexion of the national administration has been settled for four years to come it would not be surprising if there should be some changes in the personnel of the supreme tribunal before many months have elapsed. With Justice Peckham there are four members of the court who have passed the retiring age. These are Melville W. Fuller, chief justice, who is 75; John M. Harlan, associate justice, who is only three months the junior of the chief justice; David J. Brewer, associate justice, who will be 71 next June, and Justice Peckham, who was 70 years old today.

Taft to Name Justices.
President Roosevelt is not likely to have an opportunity to name a member of the supreme court, but his successor, who will take office March 4 next, will in all probability have the naming of at least four members of the court to take the place of those now eligible to retire. Chief Justice Fuller has already given nearly six years more to the arduous task of weighing every matter coming before the court than he would have had to give. He is a hale and hearty, well-preserved old man and bears his three score and 15 years with grace. Though for the time he is chief justice Mr. Fuller is compelled by precedent and good taste to keep out of politics he is a staunch democrat and among his friends it is an open secret that he has held on to his high position during the past few years in the hope that President Roosevelt might be succeeded by a democrat and that as a consequence his own successor on the woolsack might be a man of like political faith. Now that the next president is known there is nothing to prevent the chief justice from retiring whenever he so desires.

Harlan Has Had Active Life.
Next to Chief Justice Fuller in point of years comes Justice Harlan. He is a man of large physique, and seemingly as full of health as the best of men. But he has reached an age where most men seek rest from active affairs and his retirement before long is expected. His has been an exceedingly active career. He comes from Virginia via Kentucky, that is, his ancestors were Virginians. He is a republican and in 1875 he was the republican candidate for governor of Kentucky. He has been an associate justice of the supreme court since 1877.

Associate Justice David J. Brewer became eligible to retirement last year, having been born in Asia Minor in 1837, his father having been a missionary to Turkey. Whether he intends to avail himself of the privilege to retire in the near future is not known. He appears to be a man of excellent health. In politics he is a republican.

Peckham in Ill Health.
It is believed that Justice Peckham will probably avail himself of the opportunity to retire. During the past few years his health has not been of the best and more than a year ago it was rumored that he was likely to quit the bench. He took his seat in 1905, succeeding the late Howell E. Jackson, of Tennessee. He is a democrat, but was never very active in politics. At the time of his appointment by President Cleveland he was a justice of the supreme court of appeals of New York. He is a native of Albany and had served as district attorney and corporation counsel of that city before he became a judge. He is highly esteemed by his associates on the supreme bench as well as by all others who know him.

PROGRESS AT GRANGER

Site for New Schoolhouse Has Been Selected and Work Is Soon to Be Begun.

Granger, Nov. 11.—The last of a series of three elections for the purpose of selecting a site for the new schoolhouse was held Monday. By a vote of 88 to 24 the voters and property owners won the site for the south side of the Northern Pacific tracks. Considerable interest was taken in the election as the Non-Forfeiture Land company had offered a free site north of the tracks, while the residents of the town, with the exception of two families, live south of the tracks. In today's election the citizens voted in favor of a $1400 site south of the tracks and near the location of the buildings now used for the school house. The new school building will be a four room brick building and will cost in the neighborhood of $6000. The building will be modern and is to be ready for occupancy shortly after the first of the year. The contract will be let in a few days.

Dr. C. W. Chamberlin will commence the construction of two 25-foot buildings on South First street tomorrow. It is to be occupied by M. M. Monckton as a barber shop, who will furnish the building in the latest improvements. The other building will be used as a meat market.

Henry DeKraay has purchased the Darling building on Main street, now occupied by J. N. Dooley. The consideration was $2000. Mr. De Kraay will remodel the building, making a fine store room below and a good hall above.

Charles W. Mentzer, an extensive property owner on West A street, has commenced the construction of a sidewalk in front of his property. The sidewalk will be continued from the Granger hotel on South Main street to West A street and along that street to the new Episcopal church. A sidewalk will also be built from the Barker building down South Second street to West A street.

Rev. Walter F. Haines is building an addition to his dwelling on West A street, adding two large rooms. The old building was moved back to the center of the lots and the property now presents a big improvement.

The property surrounding the new Episcopal church has been graded and seeded. The triangle south of the church has also been improved and will be planted with trees and flowers in the spring with the intention of making it a city park. The property has been deeded by the Non-Forfeiture Land company to the Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal church, the ladies of that organization doing the improving.

Chas. F. Bailey, manager of the Non-Forfeiture Land Company, returned Sunday morning from a business trip to Seattle.

Miss Hazel Henderson, after several months' visit in North Yakima and Seattle, has returned to Granger to resume her duties as stenographer for the Non-Forfeiture Land company.

R. I. McLaughlin and Oliver Dean were business visitors in Sunnyside today.

Elza Dean, treasurer of the Non-Forfeiture Land company, is in the city today looking after his business interests. Mr. Dean will remain in Granger and vicinity for several days.

Mrs. Robert Borden left for Seattle last week where Mr. Borden has accepted a position. The young couple will make their home in that city.

NEW FULTON MARKET

The Fulton Market, corner of Chestnut and South First street, will open for business next Monday morning in their new quarters, the Elliott building, recently completed. Ed Weining, proprietor, announces that he will carry a complete line of groceries as well as maintain the classiest meat and fish market in the city.

STATE AID ROADS FOR YAKIMA COUNTY

Approximately $12,000 Are to Be Expended in This County on the Highways.

There will be expended in the county of Yakima in the year 1909 in state aid road work, the sum of $11,301. One half of this amount is appropriated by the state and the other half by the county. While this amount will not build a very long stretch of road it will assist in the construction of the permanent roads of the county, and will result ultimately in having all the leading roads of the county constructed in a permanent manner.

The county auditor this morning received a letter from the state highway commissioner, giving notice of the amount appropriated by the state board of equalization for Yakima county from the taxes of the year 1908, to be paid in 1909.

Preliminary Work Early.

The commissioner suggests, in order that the entire season of 1909 may be utilized in the work, that all the preliminary work be completed early in the coming winter. It is desired that all the contracts be let not later than March 30, 1909.

The complete text of the letter received this morning from Joseph M. Snow, the state highway commissioner, follows:

"Under the levy fixed by the state board of equalization for the year 1908, taxes payable in 1909, there is due your county for state aid road purposes the sum of $5650.50. To avail yourself of this amount of the public highway fund under the provisions of Chapter 150, laws of 1907, it will be necessary for you to appropriate an equal sum.

Must Work This Winter.

"In order that all the working season of the year 1909 be utilized it is necessary that all the preliminary work be done during the coming winter; that is to say, that all necessary surveys, maps, profiles, estimates of cost of construction be made and preliminary and final resolutions be passed and the work advertised so that contracts be let not later than March 30, 1909.

"This office will do all possible to expedite matters upon the receipt of preliminary resolutions from your honorable board."

The board will give the matter consideration in the near future. It is probable that some of this money will be expended in the continuation of work now under construction, while some of it may be used in new sections. The greatest good to the greatest number will be the idea.

Burial of Ray Henry.

The body of Ray Henry, who was killed nearly three weeks ago at Bumping river, where he was working for the reclamation service, is to be given a county burial here. The man, it will be remembered, was killed by a falling tree, which struck him on the head. He was young, of splendid physique, and an excellent worker. There was a belief that he was a Knight of Pythias and the owner of property at Seattle. It was also thought that he had relatives in Ohio and that his mail would give a trace of his friends. An earnest search in Seattle, by the chief of police there, has failed to reveal any property owned by a person of the name given by the dead man nor can a membership in any lodge of the K. of P. be discovered. The body has been held since it was brought to North Yakima at the undertaking parlors of A. J. Shaw & Sons, but it is now felt that there is no reason why it should be longer held and accordingly a burial will be arranged for.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Quite naturally all true blue Democrats feel keenly disappointed by the third defeat of Mr. Bryan for the presidency, for in their minds the Nebraska statesman represents not only their political ideals, but the highest type of American statesmanship and they have long cherished the hope that he might be chosen to wield the gavel of authority as the nation's chief executive in order that he might, through the initiation of certain much needed reforms, steer the ship of government back to its old moorings, in fact, to bring it back to the people, to whom it rightfully belongs.

But this hope, long cherished, has now vanished forever. Mr. Bryan, all democrats realize now, can never occupy the office of president. He is too great a man; too far in advance of his time.

This is a strictly commercial age in which we live; made so largely by reason of 40 years of government under pernicious republican policies. The dollar has been put above the man. The will and selfish wish of the powerful rich have been incorporated into law. Great vested interests have become entrenched in power in every branch of government. Gigantic corporations, commonly known as trusts, control the great industries and transportation systems of the country and indirectly the wage slaves who operate them.

The shallow-minded and unthinking without realizing the almost impregnable defenses built up behind the republican lines, may jeer at Bryan for his third failure to carry them, but that is due to their own ignorance of the real situation. When we come to consider the terrible odds against him it is really cause for wonder that this courageous leader fared as well as he did in the recent battle. That he would have won it, even against such odds, had it not been for the bold and sagacious leadership of Theodore Roosevelt is generally conceded.

Not many really great men have ever attained the presidency. In fact but three are properly in such a class. Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln. Nearly all the others were but mediocre men, as judged by the statesmanship of their time. Burr, Calhoun, Webster and Clay were giants mentally and all were brilliant orators, extremely active and influential in public life. But the presidency was out of the reach of all of them and in the cases of the latter three was given to lesser men. History has only repeated itself in Mr. Bryan's case.

The democratic party will not die as the result of this last defeat, as a lot of idiotic newspaper writers assume that it will, for it has survived worse defeats and in the following campaign came up stronger than ever. In 1912 it will go forth to battle under a new leader. He will not be so brilliant a man as Bryan, but he will be a better vote getter.

Nebraska should send her favorite son to the senate where the country would get the benefit of his splendid ability. And it is not unlikely that that is what Nebraska will do for Mr. Bryan.

WATTERSON'S VIEW

"The idiosyncrasy of the time is commercial. As in the last century it was liberty reaching out after institutional freedom—and measurably attaining it—it is now materialism reaching out after markets. The average voter of better education and intelligence takes no thought of the hereafter and is even more indifferent to the heretofore. He is completely engrossed by the present. That which Bacon calls 'The wisdom of our ancestors' makes as little appeal to his reverence or reason as that which Burns calls 'Light from Heaven' makes to his imagination. He would not exchange the current crop reports with a rising price list for all the books that were ever written upon political economy. He either carries the fool of the vicinage with him or else raises rough dust to blind his eyes and disarm his suffrage.

"The result shows that we over-sized the spiritual and under-sized the material in the hearts and the minds of the people. They were deaf alike to precedents, to reason and to eloquence; for nothing could surpass, as nothing has ever equalled, the personal canvass of Mr. Bryan; its wondrous lucidity and power of statement; its splendid intellectual and physical endurance; its unanswerable argument. Nor did Ignatius of Loyola sweep through a world of incarnate evil bearing the cross of Jesus to triumph with greater force of inspiration and truth than did the heroic son of Nebraska traverse a land gaping with curiosity, but too busy over its work and play to consider any danger to the immortal soul of its constitutional fabric.

"There is something yet better than being president of the United States and that is the real sense of duty done. Tilden will live in history when Hayes is forgotten or execrated. History will say of Bryan that in three great popular movements, clouded sometimes by errors of judgment and obstructed always by corruption—as we now know, by insurmountable corruption—he led sublimely; that he set before his countrymen the standards alike of God and truth; and that he went down beaten with clean hands and high repute, carrying with him the homage of patriotic men."—Courier-Journal.

CHARGES JUDICIAL CORRUPTION.

A committee of the state bar association has been appointed at the instance of the supreme court to investigate the charge of corruption laid at the door of Supreme Judge Milo A. Root, this action being taken by the court at the request of Judge Root himself.

M. J. Gordon, a former member of the supreme court, but for the past four years western attorney of the Great Northern railway company, has confessed to the embezzlement of $50,000 from his late client, that sum having been entrusted to him with which to settle certain judgments against the railway company. In response to a demand as to what use he had made of the money Judge Gordon is said to have claimed that he had paid a portion of it over to Judge Root in order to influence the latter in the decision of certain cases in which the railway company was interested and that were then pending before the supreme court. Attorney Gordon is also claimed to have stated that he had also paid over a sum to two different superior court judges, whose names, however, he does not divulge.

This story, if it be true, makes a pretty state of affairs. As a result of it the legal fraternity is very much stirred up over it and the people of the state will watch the result of the pending investigation closely. They want and will demand that all the facts be set forth and that there be no attempt to whitewash anybody no matter what position the guilty man may occupy.

The charge is the most damaging ever brought against a member of the judiciary in this state. Judge Root may be perfectly innocent, but the charges of corruption coming from such a source, a former member of the supreme court, a chief justice in fact, makes it a most serious one and it must be fully answered.

UNCLE SAM MUST BE SHOWN

The postoffice department is evidently of the opinion that Yakima county roads are not in good condition and that our highways are in urgent need of improvement. Moreover the hint has been given most unmistakably that if the roads over which rural mail carriers are forced to travel daily are not put in better shape at least a portion of the mail routes out from this city may be discontinued.

This is the most forcible argument in favor of good roads that we have heard yet and it is to be hoped that it will not be lost on the people of this valley. We simply can not afford to take a chance on losing any part of our rural mail service and this is a matter that ought to vitally interest the people of the city as well as the people of the country.

But the postoffice people should be reasonable and take into consideration the fact that it requires time as well as money to build roads and the department ought not to be too exacting in dealing with the people of a newly settled country. And this demand is made too, at a time of year when winter is about to set in and but little time is left in which to improve the roads this season.

However, it must be admitted that the point is well taken and the people of this section would do well to act on the suggestion as soon as possible. As The Democrat has frequently pointed out good roads are the one thing that we need more than anything else right now in Yakima county. We would even do well to suspend our ambitions and our operations in other directions until we have at least made a start in the building of good roads.

Let the Yakima Good Roads association wake up if it is not dead already.

VICTORY AT LAST

The nomination of Philip Armbruster for mayor at the city primary last Tuesday by an overwhelming majority is deeply significant of public sentiment in North Yakima at the present time.

It shows plain enough that the people demand and will insist on a new deal in municipal affairs. It shows that they are tired of being dominated by a public service corporation that merely seeks the accomplishment of its own ends. It is high time for a change, for the future welfare of the city imperatively demand it. If the city is to continue to grow and prosper, as it should, we must give it a chance to grow. Our water service, like Caesar's wife, must be above suspicion. The city must be cleaned up and kept in a sanitary condition, otherwise it will be unreasonable to expect new people to come here to establish homes.

Twice before Mr. Armbruster has tasted the bitterness of defeat while fighting bravely for the people's cause. That he has had the courage to continue the struggle until victory finally crowned his efforts is a matter for public congratulation.

The old Oregonian down at Portland is using all its efforts since election in the endeavor to induce certain republican legislators to break their pledges and defeat Governor Chamberlain for the United States senate. It is a despicable piece of business, but that is nothing new for Editor Harvey Scott. The old man has been mixed up in so many shady political deals in Oregon that respectable people down in "Webfoot" merely regard his ravings with pity. For it is known of all men that Scott has failed in his lifelong ambition to win a toga for himself.

The defeat of Governor Folk in the Missouri senatorial fight by Senator Stone is one of the surprises of the recent election. Unquestionably Folk is the better man and it was hoped generally throughout the country that he might win, as such men as he are sorely needed in the U. S. senate. But many democrats in Missouri were sore at Folk for the bitter warfare that he has stirred up and kept going within the party ranks, the gradual effect of which has been to make the "show me" state almost if not quite republican territory.

If Gov. Elect Cosgrove should die before the date in January next set for his inauguration Gov. Mead would hold over for four years, according to the state constitution. If Cosgrove should die in office he would then be succeeded by Lieutenant Governor Hay. No wonder that the politicians all take a breathless interest in the health of the governor-elect. Let all who will pray that the sick man may cling to life long enough to take the oath of office, for any change would be for the better.

Yakima county on November 3 cast 6353 votes, standing seventh among the counties of the state in voting strength. By using the common multiple 5 on which to base an estimate the vote thrown would indicate a population in this county of 31,765. The real population, we think, is more rather than less than that figure, as it is a well known fact that among the newcomers there are hundreds of men who were unable to vote at the recent election, not having acquired a legal residence.

Mr. Bryan at any rate was able to take some satisfaction from the election returns of his own state of Nebraska. Not only did Nebraska back her leading son by a popular majority of 14,000, but she elected the entire democratic state ticket from governor down, a legislature four-fifths democratic, and five democratic congressmen, a republican loss of four. Mr. Bryan carried not only his own precinct, but the strongly republican city of Lincoln.

A number of politicians anxious and ready to serve the state, have already made pilgrimages over to the little town of Pomeroy to see the new governor and congratulate him on his election. To be sure the governor is a very sick man and probably wishes that the politicians would not bother him. But he brought the trouble on himself by making the statement in the campaign, before election, mind you, that he proposed to fill all the state offices with his friends.

At any rate Mr. Taft as president will probably preserve the dignity of his high office. Unlike his predecessor he will not be constantly scolding or insulting somebody and he will not feel it his public duty to be always offering unwelcome advice or lecturing men and women for not producing more of their kind. He will have no Ananias club and will not constantly be seeking interviews in the newspapers. It will be a welcome change at least.

When Marshall, the newly elected democratic governor of Indiana, takes his seat he will be asked to surrender Taylor, the fugitive Kentucky governor, who has been living in Indiana for the past eight years, and is wanted in Kentucky to stand trial for alleged complicity in the murder of Gov. Goebel. Arthur Goebel, brother of the murdered man, has been tireless in his efforts to bring Taylor to justice.

From the election returns available it seems that Hearst's candidate, Hisgen, cut but a sorry figure in the result. Hearst, who was actuated by malice and envy of Bryan, is now left a political outlaw. His own little party, which it cost him a fortune to establish, will now rapidly fade away, and having made himself so generally obnoxious he will doubtless discover that he is not wanted in any other party.

Now that the election is over the republican papers are forced to admit that

Gov. Elect Cosgrove is a very sick man. He is so ill in fact that he is unable to leave his bed, much less take the trip to southern California, as he planned. It is to be hoped, of course, that the afflicted man will recover and occupy the high position to which his party elected him, but that seems very doubtful.

There is a movement on foot in this state to push Judge Ballinger, of Seattle, reputed Standard Oil attorney, for a position in the Taft cabinet, that of secretary of the interior. That would be only a fitting reward for the judge's valuable services as a calamity howler during the late campaign, besides his usefulness in raising a slush fund of $25,000 to send to the national committee.

Judge Miles Poinaexter, republican congressman-elect from this district, although victorious in his recent campaign, is nevertheless up a stump. That pledge not to support Joe Cannon for re-election as speaker is apt to make trouble for him as old Joe has a good memory. The indications are that Poinaexter will be a "one-term" and that he will cut no ice in Washington, D. C.

I. B. Turnell, veteran railroad man and faithful member of the local G. O. P., wants a job as state railroad commissioner from the newly elected governor. But he is not likely to get it, as good jobs of that kind in this state are reserved for railroad lawyers. No doubt Mr. Turnell's qualifications are all right, but what he lacks is the proper pull at headquarters.

The socialists appear to feel disappointed at the size of their vote cast at the recent election. The party slogan of "a million votes for Debs" has not been realized, a fact that Mr. Debs admits himself. Still the socialist vote will show a healthy increase over that of four years ago and every unit of it represents a vigorous protest against present conditions.

Sheriff-Elect Lancaster made his campaign on the charge of extravagance laid against the present sheriff. Yet, the first public expression that the newly-elected sheriff made was the suggestion of an increase of salary for his office deputy in order that he might employ a certain man that he wanted. Now wouldn't that jar you Mr. Taxpayer?

William Goodyear, though unsuccessful in his race for congress, deserves the thanks and good will of every democrat in the third district for the splendid manly fight that he made against heavy odds. He made a rattling good campaign and proved himself equal to every emergency. We think his chance is good of being a congressman yet.

Mr. Hemmenway, republican, of Indiana, must leave the senate, and his place will be occupied by a democrat. Democrats all over the country will hope that John W. Kern will be the man selected. He has proved himself to be an able and conscientious statesman and he would make a most efficient senator.

John Rodman, a well known pioneer, now residing near Wapato, who suffered the misfortune of losing his left hand due to an accident while working on a hay baler, was on the streets again last Saturday. Mr. Rodman has had the sympathy of a large circle of friends in his affliction.

Col. Rob—has gone on a vacation and left his old friend, Lou Janek to paddle his own canoe. It is really hard to say therefore whether the Colonel wanted Mr. Janek to win or lose. The chances are that the tall Colonel did not want to be held responsible for the result in either event.

Charles W. Morse, late Napoleon of finance and trust builder of New York, has at last been convicted of bank wrecking and bids fair to do time at Sing Sing. Still, that will not be compensation for those who lost their money in the bank failure.

Mr. Roosevelt appears to be undecided whether to himself seize the New York senatorship or to make Elihu Root take the seat soon to be vacated by Platt. The chances are that Teddy will grab it himself.

An Ancient Traveler's Outfit.

A small "Traveler's Guide," dated 1780, contains a good deal of advice as to the luggage which should be carried. "Take," says the book, "two suits of clothes, one coffee colored and one blue; a chest flannel, a pair of leather breeches, a sleeping suit, three pairs of stockings, two pairs of gloves, two wigs, one hair bag (?), two caps, two hats, two pairs of shoes, one pair of slippers, six 'undershirts,' four 'overshirts,' six neckties, six collars, six handkerchiefs, four pairs of cuffs, three cravats, two pairs of cotton hose, two pairs of socks." But this is not all, as is shown by the following items: "Take a Bible, a book of sermons, a 'Traveler's Guide,' two albums, a diary, a quire of white paper, quills and ink, an almanac, a mirror, a silver watch, a silver snuff-box, a silver spoon, a pair of silver shoe buckles, a silver tie pin, three silver studs, a gold seal ring, a knife and fork with silver handles, a sewing case, an opera glass, a compass, a wax light and a tinder box, a toothbrush, a silver toothpick, a sword, a silver mounted cane, a padlock with which to fasten your door at night inside, a clothes brush, a box of medicine."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Fishes That Cannot Swim.

More than one species of fish is met with which cannot swim, the most singular of which perhaps is the maltha, a Brazilian fish, whose organs of locomotion only enable it to crawl or walk or hop after the manner of a toad, to which animal this fish to some extent bears a resemblance, and it is provided with a long upturned snout. The anterior (pectoral) fins of the maltha, which are quite small, are not capable of acting on the water, but can only move backward and forward, having truly the form of thin paws. Both these and the ventral and anal fins are very different from the similar fins in other fishes and could not serve for swimming at all. Other examples of non-swimming fishes include the sea horse, another most peculiarly shaped inhabitant of the sea, which resembles the knight in a set of chessmen, and the starfish, of which there are many specimens, which mostly walk and crawl on the shore or rocks, both being unable to swim.

The African Ostrich.

The African ostrich, from which the best white feathers are obtained, stands six or seven feet high and weighs from 80 to 100 pounds. Its egg is equal to about two dozen hens' eggs. Its feathers sell in Africa for about $200 a pound at wholesale. While walking quietly its step is about twenty-six inches, but when frightened the stride increases to about twelve feet, and at this gait it can run something like twenty-five miles an hour. When pursued it sometimes turns and deals the pursuer a blow with the foot that makes him think of the kick of a mule. The African ostrich is the largest bird now existing on earth. The American ostrich is only about half the size of the African and has three toes, while the African bird has only two. The plumage of the American ostrich is gray.

One of the Wonders of Physics.

An experienced mechanic who was asked what he regarded as the most wonderful thing for general utility replied: "The tracking of a car wheel is the most wonderful thing to me in the whole range of science and invention. Here are two rails, uphill and downhill, round the sharp curves and along false tangents, and upon them fly at more than a mile a minute, without jar or jolt, a dozen heavy cars drawn by an engine weighing sixty tons. Passengers realize no danger, yet there is only the little flange of a wheel between them and eternity. An inch and a half of steel turned up on the inner side of the wheel holds up the whole train as securely to the rails as if it were bolted there in grooves."

Hide Your Fruit Trees.

As lawn specimens fruit trees are nearly always disappointing. They have more insect enemies and fungous diseases than first class ornamental trees and shrubs. If you spray them they are unsightly; if you do not your lawn is covered with wormy fruits, which look bad and smell worse. The peach is a short lived, delicate tree which is particularly subject to San Jose scale. Plums and cherries are sure to yield wormy fruit unless you jar the curculios out of them long before breakfast or unless you let the chickens run beneath the trees. Both are violent suppositions for a home lawn.—Country Life in America.

A Natural Inference.

For no other reason than that his poultry book told him to feed lime he slavishly fed lime and asked himself no questions.

The hens were variously affected. The Leghorns found difficulty in keeping their hot Italian blood from open revolt. The Cochins, with true oriental apathy, said it was fate anyway. But the old Plymouth Rock had the American sense of humor.

"He thinks we're going to lay bricks," she cackled.—Puck.

No Back Action.

Mr. Gladstone knew how to admit that he was in the wrong. On one occasion he did so candidly and handsomely, as becomes a gentleman. But he preferred to keep clear of the necessity for apologies and had scant belief in their efficacy. "You can't unpull a man's nose," he once said to his private secretary, Sir Algernon West.

Knew How It Was.

"I presume you spend all you make?"
"No; I don't spend a tenth of it."
"Then you must have a nice little balance in the bank?"
"Nope, not a cent."
"Shake, old chap. I'm married myself."—Houston Post.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

There has been but little slackening off in the number of cars of fruit shipped out from North Yakima each week. The Northern Pacific railroad announces a slight but by no means a marked decrease in the number of cars sought at this station. The weekly total is now about 40 cars. The various local warehouses where fruit is handled are as nearly filled as they have been at any time since the apple movement began. While the larger growers are, for the most part, through with their hauling the smaller horticulturalists are maintaining the supply and the teams on the highways are as numerous as ever and the fruit enters in the rear of the warehouses as fast as it goes out the front. While there is no marked improvement in prices it is easy to sell fruit and the eastern demand appears to be satisfactorily maintaining the western prices.

Statements About Quality.

Local fruit men say that while the offerings of high grade fruit this year are greater than ever before, because of the increased yields of the orchards, they are not proportionately greater, and the fault is generally ascribed to the early spring winds which did considerable damage as has since been proved. There has been more attention to grading and packing this season than ever before but this has been by no means general. The statement is made that growers, as a matter of fact, have been to some extent sufferers because of the liberal promises made to them by outside dealers. At least it is declared that outside buyers have been less particular as to grade and pack than the home men, especially on consignment stuff, and the declaration is made that what they have lost in that way they must make up otherwise to the detriment of the home man.

Potatoes Continue Low.

Potatoes are down, and while there is no question that there will be a revival the feeling is that it will be sufficiently far off to wear out the present speculator. Seattle, during October, received 76,730 sacks, which is a total of 280 cars for the month, or an average of 10 cars a day. This will indicate some reason why there was such a sharp falling off in prices there and consequently here. Seattle's apple receipts for October were 105,326 boxes, or 176 carloads, and during the same time it received 65,548 packages of grapes or 55 carloads. Hay prices are bound to be better. The San Francisco Hay association has published a statement that horses and cattle in that state will need to go on short rations because of the shortage there. Nevada and Utah, which usually help out California, have nothing to offer and Oregon and Washington are looked to to supply the shortage. As transportation is high and cars are short it is certain that little will be shipped to California until prices there rise to the occasion. As careful estimates indicate that there is less available hay by 100,000 tons, than was the case a year ago in California, this rise is not far off. Figuring a consumption of 20,000 tons a month at San Francisco and as much more outside that city, California is facing a situation which must react in the way of advanced prices throughout the rest of the state.

Turkeys in Good Supply.

High prices of feed are sending the turkeys to market early and indications are that nearly every producer will seek to reach the market at Thanksgiving. The field of consumption of turkeys is constantly growing but the state appears to be keeping pace with the demand and there are lots of turkeys in evidence. Present indications are that the price will not change much for the better.

Oranges have made their appearance and nuts will follow in a few days. It is expected that the walnuts, Brazils and the various other nuts will be in in a few days. The present retail quotation is about 20 cents a pound, but all the indications are of an advance in price.

WAPATO.

Bob McComb and Mr. Watkins were hunting Monday and report good success, having bagged 12 ducks.

Mrs. A. M. Welch entertained the Woman's club of Wapato at her home Thursday afternoon. The regular meeting of the club was followed by a delicious dinner, at which the husbands of the ladies were present. The evening was given to cribbage and whist.

In honor of their son, Ray, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Jones entertained a merry party of young people at their home near Wapato. After dinner was served, the evening was spent in a nut hunt and other games. Miss Wenonah Lake won the prize for finding the most nuts. Miss Mildred Kauffman the booby prize.

Election was not very exciting. Beyond a few saloon scraps, the town was quite peaceful. Little betting was done.

HUNTERS KILL HORSE

R. N. Harrison Will Allow No More Shooting on His Selah Ranch, He Says.

When R. N. Harrison, of the Selah valley, went out in his field to look for a 2-year-old colt which he thought a great deal of, he found the animal dead with a bullet hole through its neck. Coyotes had gnawed away a part of the flesh on the neck and other appearances pointed to the fact that the colt had been dead some two or three days. Mr. Harrison is firmly convinced that the animal was killed by some careless hunter. The colt was worth $100 at least, it having come from thoroughbred stock.

"I am certain no one killed that animal on purpose," said Mr. Harrison today. "In all probability some one saw a duck in that vicinity and shot at it. The colt was in the vicinity of the hunter and all or part of the discharge hit it in the neck. It was not killed instantly as I found blood-stained tracks, showing it had wandered about some time before lying down to die."

"Hereafter I will not allow hunting on my ranch. I have the place posted now and if I run across any man hunting in the field I will see that he is arrested and prosecuted. I intend to make an example that other hunters may profit by. A man's stock is too valuable to be killed off by careless men who, when after game, think of nothing but their own gratification."

Want Better Roads.

Postal Inspector C. Riddiford was in North Yakima Saturday being shown the roads over which rural mail carriers have to travel to perform their services. The official is reported to have been sent here by his superiors to become personally acquainted with road conditions here and so be able to report to the department at Washington as to the advisability of discontinuing the service here.

The department has threatened to take the latter stand if the roads in this valley are not improved. If the inspector recommends that this action be taken, it will be one of the severest blows that ever befell the ranchers of the Yakima valley. The inspector said that the department surely means business and that there will be no concessions made if the roads are not bettered. The service in this valley was established 15 years ago and is the second rural mail delivery service established in the United States.

KISSING WAS PASTORAL DUTY

Minister Admits Caressing Young Women, but With a Clean Heart.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—The disappearance of Edna Clark, the Berkeley art student who dropped from sight two weeks ago, has culminated in a request for an investigation of his conduct by Rev. Payson Young, pastor of the Anglican church of St. Mary the Virgin, in this city. Bishop Nichols has announced his intention of appointing a committee of parishioners to conduct the investigation.

Rev. Mr. Young has again become the central figure through statements made by Miss Edna Reynolds, friend and confidant of Edna Clark. The girl has informed the searchers that the Rev. Mr. Young received Miss Clark in his study, and that she had been informed that he was in the habit of kissing and caressing her. This the Rev. Mr. Young has admitted, explaining that he deemed it part of his pastoral duty, but he denied that any engagement existed between himself and the missing girl, as Miss Reynolds had stated.

GRAPES AT WHITE BLUFFS

Rancher of New Town Tells of Fertility of the Soil.

The C. L. McGlothen ranch is south of White Bluffs about three miles, and he has only a small patch of grapes—not quite one-sixth of an acre, but it has always been a little giant in growing White Muscat and Black Malvoise grapes.

From 129 vines in this vineyard the owner picked 1650 pounds of fruit, or 12 3-4 pounds to the vine. The quality of the grapes is evidenced by the price they brought, 4 cents a pound, being 1/4 more than the price the Yakima fruit sold for.

Asked about his grape crop Mr. McGlothen said:

"Well, to be truthful about it, I do not count it a crop at all; it is just about half a crop—something very unusual at my ranch. I always expect and nearly always secure about twice the amount of grapes my vines produced this year."—White Bluffs Spokesman.

BRYAN VERY SANGUINE.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5.—Mr. Bryan issued a statement today in which he said that he felt "That the publicity which we have asked for will yet commend itself to the American people; that the election of senators by the people will yet be secured; that the inequities of trusts will arouse such opposition as will result in the elimination of private monopoly; that necessary labor legislation will be secured, together with a reduction in the tariff, and that effective regulation of railroads and independence for the Philippines will be brought about."

Bryan expressed himself as entirely satisfied with the work of the national committee and Mr. Mack, its chairman.

Rake-Purviance.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rake when their daughter, Miss Blanche Rake, was united in marriage to Roy Purviance of the Ahtanum. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. F. Perry in the presence of the immediate families and friends of the bride and groom. In the parlor where the ceremony was performed a canopy had been erected of greens and vines under which the bridal party stood. The rooms were prettily decorated with a profusion of evergreens and vines. The bride wore a dainty gown of white cashmere and carried white chrysanthemums. She was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Rake, who also wore white and carried white chrysanthemums. John Smith attended the groom as best man. Covers were laid for about 25 guests at the dining room table, where a delicious wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Purviance will make their future home on the ranch of the groom in the Ahtanum.

REVOLUTION IN CHINA IS DUE SAYS MINISTER

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—Declaring that the youth of China and the progressive element in the nation would in a great revolution overthrow the present dynasty, Rev. ## A PESSIMIST'S QUESTIONS.

Why is it that a cleaning of windows is the signal for a rainstorm?

Why is John always late the night the cook is out and visitors are expected in the evening?

And why, oh, why, do visitors always come the one afternoon in the week when one is not dressed to receive them?

Why does a woman think she has so much better taste than her richer neighbor if she but had as much money to gratify it?

Why is it that a leak in the pipe is always discovered Saturday afternoon, when a plumber cannot be found until Monday morning?

Why is it that when one has made a purchase one sees ten minutes later something else which would have been better or cheaper or more becoming?

Philadelphia Ledger.

The English Police.

In the conduct of the police department in an English city we find a striking comparison with our American notion of police work. In Manchester, as in London, the policeman is always the servant of the public.

As in London, he carries neither club nor revolver. His duties are very nearly the same as those of a New York officer. It is in his method of doing his work that the striking difference lies. He is always quiet, always neat, always respectful, even deferential. In his treatment of the public. Such overbearing manners as we sometimes see in New York policemen would not be tolerated in Manchester—or in London, for that matter.—Success.

Origin of "Chauffeur."

There were chauffeurs long before automobiles. History tells us that about the year 1795 men strangely accoutered, their faces covered with soot and their eyes carefully disguised, entered by night farms and lonely habitations and committed all sorts of depredations. They garroted their victims, dragged them before a great fire, where they burned the soles of their feet and demanded information as to the whereabouts of their money and jewels; hence they were called "chauffeurs," a name which frightened so much our good grandmothers.—Paris Figaro.

Child Love.

Welcome to the parents the puny struggler, strong in his weakness, his little arms more irresistible than the soldier's, his lips touched with persuasion which Chatham and Pericles in manhood had not. His unaffected lamentations when he lifts up his voice on high, or, more beautiful, the sobbing child, the face all liquid grief, as he tries to swallow his vexation, soften all hearts to pity and to fruitful and clamorous compassion.—Emerson.

Getse From Shellfish.

Everybody in the whole civilized world between the eleventh and the seventeenth centuries believed that the "barnacle goose" hatched from that species of shellfish called the barnacle. The story was first told by Cambrensis and was devoutly believed by all Christians for more than half a thousand years. A well known scientific writer, reviewing the opinions of Cambrensis, says: "According to our venerable authority, the barnacle goose is generated from logs of wood allowed to decompose in the water. When decomposition has fairly begun, small bumps on the log may be observed. Little by little these increase in size, and finally assume the form and shape of a mass of barnacles, which is well known as a kind of shellfish. Soon after the shell, or husk, bursts open and a full grown goose may be seen in the water clinging to the log only by its bill. A few days longer it continues to draw its nourishment from the log, then breaks away in the form of a perfect goose, exercising all the functions of its kind."

Getting Quick Action.

"The gambling instinct, once aroused, will make the victim gamble with anything," said a Detroit. "I saw two gamblers meet the other day and indulge in a quick gamble with 50 cent pieces. 'Odd or even?' asked the first. 'Odd,' said the second. And the man with the odd date on the coin won. His half dollar was dated 1879. The other was dated 1880. Another game is played with dollar bills. It is 'greenback poker,' and was hatched in Washington. Each bill bears a series number—say, 99667634 or the like. In the number cited are two nines and three sixes—a 'full house.' The next man may have a bill numbered 72243899. He has, you observe, two pairs.

"High wins," the players say on meeting, each holding his bill out of sight. Then they compare and settle up. 'Greenback poker' is a good quick way to lose a whole lot of money."—Detroit News.

Model Sickness.

The pretty girl had told the artist that she had posed before, and on the strength of that statement she got a job. She hadn't held the pose ten minutes before she turned deadly white and sank to the floor.

"Model sickness," said the experienced artist after she had gone. "I knew she was lying, for the first times always get it. It is as well defined a complaint as seasickness and has to be treated the same way. It is a form of nausea and is caused as much by the nervous strain the new model is always under as by the unusual experience of standing in one position. I have had big, strong men, even negroes, go the same way. It is something every artist has to make allowances for, and only practice can cure it, although I know old models who still suffer from it, especially if they are in an awkward pose."—Exchange.

Some Words Beginning With H.

Most persons aspirate the initial letter of "humble" nowadays and write "a humble" just as they write "a humbug" or "a humming bird." But there are very many who would not naturally sound an h in "humble," or in "herb," "hospital," "homage," or even "humor." Before the nineteenth century nobody did, though it is clear that the aspirate had become regular by "David Copperfield's" time, from the fact that Dickens harps on Uriah Heep's "umble." The insistence on the h is comparatively modern; medieval men not only said "abit" for "habit," but wrote it so and the Bible has "an Hebrew."

Literally Translated.

On visiting Ireland the great traveler Livingstone was much feted. In Dublin at a dinner party he happened to be placed next to a literary lady who was a very stout woman. She worried him greatly about the language of the savage cannibals among whom he had managed to live and wanted to know the sound of their language. He spoke a sentence of it to satisfy her, and she answered, "Being translated, what does that mean?" "It means," he replied, "there is great cutting on you."

Tobacco Penalties.

The shah of Persia, in the seventeenth century, proclaimed that every soldier in whose possession tobacco was found should have his lips cut; while in the same century Massachusetts ordered that "no person shall take tobacco publicly, and any one shall pay one penny for every time he is convicted of taking tobacco in any place."

Trouble in the Studio.

The walling infant had upset the photographer's chair, kicked a hole in the paper rocks and made faces at the little bird which is supposed to bring a smile to all youngsters when they are having their pictures taken.

"Isn't he too cute for anything?" chirped the proud mother. "And just to think I call him Tootsie."

"Tootsie," grunted the impatient photographer. "I'm! I'd call him Cod Liver Oil."

"Why so, sir?"

"Because he is so hard to take."—Chicago News.

The Calm Spirit.

The people in all lines of duty who do the most work are the calmest, most unharmed people in the community. Duties never wildly chase each other in their lives. One task never turns another out nor ever compels hurried, and therefore imperfect, doing. The calm spirit works methodically, doing one thing at a time and doing it well, and it therefore works swiftly, though never appearing to be in haste.

gram from Harris & Co., Chicago, Wednesday, announcing their final acceptance of the $80,000 municipal bond issue purchased from this city. This was good news to the city officials, who had been much annoyed by the aggravating delay over the matter.

Daniel Barbee, a rancher of the Zillah district, dropped dead of heart failure at his home Wednesday morning. The remains were shipped from this city to Iowa for interment Friday. Deceased was 67 years of age and leaves a widow and 10 children. The family settled at Zillah four years ago.

Probably not to exceed three or four hundred dollars were wagered in North Yakima on the result of the mayoralty nomination Tuesday. In fact Janek money was pretty scarce and odds of 2 to 1 on Armbruster failed to bring much out. There were a few wagers made, however, at the above odds.

A women's convention, held at the Commercial club rooms Monday afternoon, nominated Mrs. F. W. Nagler, wife of Dr. Nagler, to fill the place on the board of education soon to be vacated by Director Norman Compton, whose term will expire. Mrs. Nagler is a graduate of Ann Arbor and has had much experience as a teacher.

It is understood that as a result of the completion of the North Bank road into Portland that the overland North Coast Limited trains, Nos. 1 and 2, will be switched to the new road at an early date. To offset this, it is said, the Northern Pacific will put a new fast train on to connect with the North Coast Limited at Portland and Pasco and to run over this division.

The Pacific hotel contents was sold by the sheriff November 6. It was purchased on behalf of the Yakima Trust company and Lombard & Horsley by Attorney Frank A. Luse for $8363, of which the Trust company pays $4378 and Lombard & Horsley $3985. These are the amounts of judgments secured by them against the property. The hotel is still being operated with I. B. Turnell in charge.

The Moses Coulee Fruit Land Company has awarded a contract to M. W. Russell of North Yakima, to set 30, 000 trees. Standard varieties of apples and peaches are to be planted on 300 acres of its holdings during 1909 and a similar number of acres to potatoes. The seeding of the potato land will require four carloads of seed, which Mr. Russell is endeavoring to procure in North Yakima. The company owns 5000 acres in the coulee and will irrigate 1400 of it.

The Sunnyside Water Users' association has increased its capital stock from $750,000 to $1,950,000, making it the largest corporation in the county and among the greatest in the state. The certificate was filed by the president, S. J. Harrison. The number of shares is increased from 15,000 to 39,000 with a par value of $50 a share. The association has the handling of all lands in excess of the acreage that is allowed by the government for each property holder.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube be restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give $100 for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
