OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

UNLESS the Tacoma socialists are but anarchists in disguise there is no justifiable excuse for the action of the so-called Loyal League of Tacoma in the breaking up of a public meeting in that city recently. There seems to be a good deal of ignorance prevailing in the public mind as to the real distinction between socialism and anarchy. The confession of faith of the two organizations as a matter of fact places them as far apart as the poles. The true socialist must necessarily be a great believer in the virtue of law and that the proper administration of it will cure the most of ills that human flesh is heir to. He must necessarily believe too that the fraternity among men required to make his happy ideas of government work out in practice can be secured only through peaceful means. The socialist in short wants all the law he can get, not that he needs it so much for his own guidance, but rather to prevent his neighbor from cheating him. On the other hand the anarchists avows that he wants no law over him at all. He wants to have the privilege guaranteed him of wearing nothing but a figleaf if he thinks proper and of wooing other men's wives if he wants to. He affects to believe that the world is organized on an entirely wrong basis and that the only feasible plan of setting it right is to commence at once to create business for the undertakers. Unlike the socialist, he thinks life is too short to attempt to upset a representative or monarchical form of government by the force of argument. He asserts—and with some truth—that thousands of fools are born every minute, and admits the impossibility of winning a majority of the people to his way of thinking. The anarchist is a reactionist instead of a progressionist, although, of course, the creature won't acknowledge the corn. His theories, put in practice and carried to a logical conclusion, could not fail to put the world back into the darkness of savagery from which it has cost thousands of years of hard and und unremitting effort to escape. The world may be a mass of imperfections as at present organized, but anarchy, if in vogue, could only have the effect of making it very much worse. In fact, it can safely be asserted that an anarchist is either an ignoramus, a demagogue or a fool. The socialist, on the contrary, while his theory of government may be utopian and impracticable, has nevertheless in mind a plan which he believes is calculated, if tried, to advance the world and purify and ennoble humanity. There is at least merit enough in his proposition, when honestly presented, to entitle him to a fair hearing. If this was the object at Tacoma, the gang that broke up their meeting are guilty of a gross violation of the right of free speech, and accordingly owe the public an apology.

MARK HANNA expresses himself as being completely "broke up" over the tragic death of his great and good friend, the late president. Hanna's grief is unquestionably most sincere and the people generally, regardless of political affiliations respect it. Nevertheless the fact is almost universally recognized that the sudden passing of Mr. McKinley has a very great bearing on the finite plans of Marcus Aurelius, the mighty chieftain. Mark in fact has lost his good angel, his talisman. He is like a ship without a sail, a mariner without a compass. No longer can he conjure with the name of his illustrious friend and thereby lift himself to heights of fame. He is no longer to be regarded as a presidential quantity, that much is certain. The anarchist bullet that snuffed out the brilliant light of the lamented McKinley also withered in death the growing and carefully nurtured presidential boomlet of the Ohio senator.

GENERAL LORD KITCHENER "regrets to announce" to the home government that the despised Boers have recently captured a company of his men and two guns. The situation is very embarrassing, especially from the standpoint of the captured soldiers on account of the savage proclamation issued by Kitchener a few weeks ago. In his fiery manifesto the British commander declared that the war would be over by September 15th and that all armed Boers captured after that date would be disposed of as outlaws. This summary manner of ending hostilities merely had the effect of causing the stolid Dutch to laugh and to set them to work again with renewed vigor. Now that the shoe is on the other foot it is to be hoped that they will not act on the inhuman threat of Lord Kitchener and treat their captured prisoners of war as outlaws, fit only for a felon's death.

IT OUGHT not to surprise anybody if Admiral Schley gets the worst of it in the investigation that is now being made of his record by the navy department. That is, he is apt to get the worst of it from a technical standpoint. Schley's enemies, it must be remembered, are in control of the department, and judging from the quality of the evidence being offered, they are using this advantage for all it is worth. No matter what the decision of the court may be, however, it is not likely that a majority of the people can be convinced that the hero of Santiago is a "liar, a coward and a poltroon," as the miserable Maclay, the tool of Sampson, asserted in his infamous history.

A NUMBER of stock gamblers of Wall street are said to be anxious to introduce another English custom into this country. The proposed innovation is nothing less than that they 'the gamblers' should be accorded the privilege of taking out insurance policies on the lives of our presidents in order that they may feel fully protected in case of a sudden slump in the market prices of their securities occasioned by the unlooked-for death of the head of the nation. It's a very pretty scheme indeed and ought to work; besides, it has the merit of being quite English, you know. But how will the American people like it?

TO UNDERSTAND the world one must often stand apart from the throng, and contemplate the turmoil of strife and passion from some sheltered spot. Thus when we sit amid graves we perceive more clearly the folly of greed and ambition; when we look up to the patient stars the madness of all the hurry and worry comes home to us; when we lie on the bosom of the earth, beneath a calm sky, we feel how ridiculous is the noisy turmoil of the crowd. —Current Literature.

IF IT is not possible to give the Indians a day at the Fair, arrangements ought to be made to give them a festival some day soon after. This is a feature that the Indians never fail to appreciate, and its influence is likely to bring them back again next year when they are wanted. No one can fail to observe that the natives are not coming to the hopfields in the numbers that they once did, which fact is liable to develop into a serious problem for our hop-growers to solve.

THERE is plenty of evidence to warrant the belief that there will be a larger attendance at the State Fair next week than ever before in the history of the institution. It is now up to the people of this city to provide suitable entertainment for the visitors. Every person having rooms to rent should report promptly to the committee having that matter in charge.

ONE of the leading attractions of the Spokane fair last week was the marriage of a happy couple, the ceremony being performed in a cage of lions in consideration of $300, paid by the management. Here is a pointer that the managers of the State Fair might do well to consider. Its adoption here might not only prove a drawing card for the Fair, but revive interest in a lagging institution.

CZOLGOSZ, the assassin of President McKinley, was indicted, tried and convicted at Buffalo within three days this week, and under the New York statutes, and sentence of electrocution passed by the judge has doubtless ere this been put into execution, as the edict provided that he should suffer the death penalty some time during the week elapsing September 28.

WORK ought to be commenced at once to put the road from the city to the Fair grounds in better condition. The work, in fact, ought not to have been left to this late date.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

A. J. Handly has purchased the Wenas stable and feed yard on South First street.

Numbering the houses of the city for the purpose of free mail delivery is now completed.

The band boys blossomed out in splendid new uniforms at their last Friday evening concert.

The N. P. yards in the city have this week been undergoing a general cleaning up, resulting in a very much improved condition.

Justice MacCrimmon, at his office last Tuesday afternoon pronounced the words which made one Issac F. Tappan and Mrs. Christina Ross. The parties reside near Zillah.

Children in district No. 28, known as the Nob Hill section, have been granted the privilege of attending the city schools. This change was made as a matter of convenience.

The millinery section of H. H. Schott & Co.'s store was burglarized last Friday night, the marauders getting away with about $200 worth of furs and other articles. Entrance was effected through a rear window.

The drug store of Carl A. Jenson, at Prosser, was burned last Friday morning, together with a shack adjoining, entailing a loss of $2000. Mr. Jenson had $600 insurance, and will rebuild and restock immediately.

Justice of the peace transcripts have been filed in the superior court against Charles Monroe and Thomas Lavery for larceny, and John McLean, an Indian, for assault with a deadly weapon. The parties are all in jail.

This office returns thanks to C. J. Akers, of Fruitvale ranch, for a box of delicious Flemish Beauty pears left with us Monday. Eighteen of these pears tipped the scales at eighteen lbs, thus averaging a pound each.

The newly established Presbytery of Central Washington meets in North Yakima today (Saturday) and tomorrow. Revs. J. K. Buchanan, of Golden-drie, J. C. Templeton, of Cleveland, and Day, of Centerville, are in attendance.

The Quaker doctors were before Judge MacCrimmon last Saturday on a charge of giving a show without first having procured a city license. The total of their fines amounted to $120, with costs, from which judgment they took an appeal to the superior court.

Fred Brooker returned home from the Everett races Saturday, having sold his interest in the pacer, Diodene, to D. M. Shanks, who takes her to the Salem races. The other Yakima race horses over there will follow the course either through Oregon or Montana.

G. S. Hough this week received the appointment as U. S. court commissioner under Judge Hanford. This appointment does not in anyway conflict with that of Col L. S. Howlett, but is made in order to expedite the rapidly growing business in Yakima county.

The west-bound passenger trains have all been several hours late this week, owing to one of the biggest slides in railroad history, which occurred in Montana last Sunday. The slide covers a distance of a mile and a half, and it has been necessary to transfer passengers and baggage clear around.

The State Barbers' commission, composed of F. C. Brown, of Seattle, W. B. Jackman, of Spokane, and Barney Shering, of Tacoma, will be in Yakima about October 5 for the purpose of examining barbers who have come into the state since last June and have no certificate under the new barber registration law.

Cornelius Kehoe, of Prosser, was here on Tuesday to make a final presentation or his claims against the government for Indian depredations. W. G. Palmer, U. S. attorney, of Washington, D. C., was here to take the testimony, which he declared to be satisfactory. The amount claimed now aggregates about $6000.

A wreck of a freight on the N. P. near Selah station on Tuesday night brought in the east-bound overland and the short run train from Spokane together at North Yakima at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. The multiplicity of trains may force the N. P. to double its track from Spokane west, so officials think.

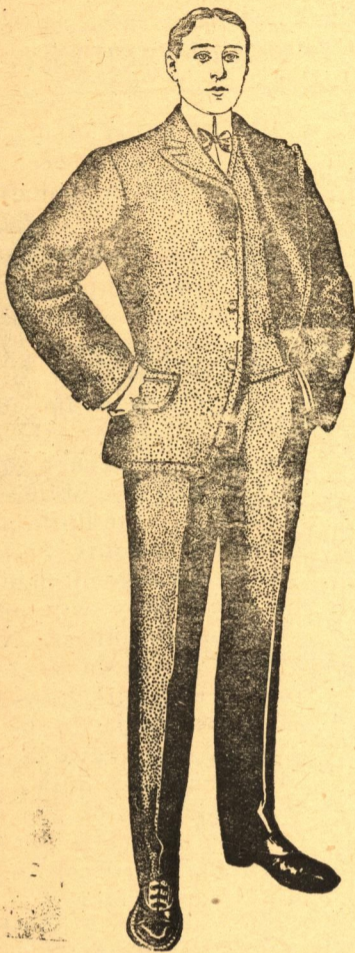

A new school district, to be classified as No. 56, has been organized under the new ditch on the Moxee. Bonds will be voted to build a five-room school house. County Superintendent Dickey says the large influx of new residents into that section has rendered the formation of the new district imperative, as the number of children will make a big school.

A party giving his name as George Douglas was bound over to the superior court by Justice MacCrimmon on Tuesday on a charge of stealing some clothing and surveyor's note books from Geo. H. Wilson at the N. P. saloon on Front street. In default of $500 bail the defendant is in the county bastille. Some of the articles were found in his possession.

The city council will receive bids and will probably let the contracts for the paving of Front and First streets at its next meeting Oct. 7th. The protests that have been circulated and signed by interested property owners on First and Second streets in neither case represented a majority or all the property affected and were therefore not seriously considered by the city fathers.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Only 25 hunters' licenses have been issued by the county auditor to date.

Nine persons have been held this week by U. S. Commissioner Howlett for selling liquor to Indians.

J. P. McCafferty and family arrived home on Thursday from an extended visit to their old Ohio home.

Three lions, the advance guard of the menagerie feature of the State Fair, were unloaded at the depot Friday morning.

The attendance in the city schools is yet far below the anticipated enrollment, but will probably be largely increased after the fair.

C. E. Cline and family arrived in Yakima Thursday, and will make their home here. Mr. Cline is a brother of A. B. Cline, of the First National Bank.

The announcement was received here this week of the death at Walla Walla last Friday of the two-year-old son of Casper Schott, from membranous croup.

Mrs. Brooke, of Seattle, and Mrs. Samuel Storow and little daughter left for the Sound on Thursday, after a pleasant visit with H. H. Allen, father of the ladies.

The number of Indian hop-pickers in town last Sunday was not as large by half as usual, but the deficiency was largely made up by camera and kodak "fiends."

Laurence Harper, brother of Mrs. G. A. Bailey, arrived from Dawson yesterday afternoon, and will spend a couple of weeks before returning to his home in the Palouse country.

The county treasurer is in receipt of the quarterly school apportionment for Yakima county, amounting to $6,624.68. Of this amount school district No. 7 is entitled to $2,799.41.

Mrs. Fred Thompson is again at home in Parker, having returned last Sunday from Billings, Mont., where she was handling the fruit from Mr. Thompson's large fruit farm in Parker.

Prof. F. Bouley, of San Francisco, was here this week looking up the proposition of starting a juvenile dancing school. He had to go on to Spokane, but will return in a few days.

The elegant new fixtures of the First National bank arrived this week and have been put in place. The interior of the bank is so changed and improved that old patrons hardly recognize it.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Roaf and J. F. Roaf have taken a large assortment of photos during their vacation, representing scenes on the seacoast and in the Cascades. Many of the pictures show a very high degree of art from the standpoint of the amateur.

Albert Mechtl, well known in North Yakima, returned home Friday morning after a two years' stay at Dawson City. Mr. Mechtl says several Yakima people at the Klondike capital think of coming out this fall. He will make his permanent resident here, having become fully satisfied with his northern experience.

John Woodsey, a negro, claiming to hail from Roslyn, is in the toils of the U. S. officials, charged with "uttering" a $50 counterfeit bill. Secret service officers will be here today to attend the hearing before Court Commissioner Howlett. The prisoner is recognized by the officials as a desperate and dangerous character.

An error occurred in these columns last week when it was stated that the Japanese cook employed in the Hotel Bartholet had been pronounced insane and sent to Medical Lake. It was a dishwasher instead of the cook who was pronounced insane. Frank, the popular cook at that hostelry, objects to being regarded as "bug-house" and therefore this correction is made.

The mortuary record since our last report shows the death at the hospital last Friday of Annie Ritchey, aged 6½ years; William W. Cripps, an infant, on the Altatum, September 22; Maud Alexander, at Parker, on Saturday; B. Dolbear, aged 70, at the hospital, on Sunday, and Robert Carthness, at the residence of Mrs. G. M. McKinney, on South Fourth street. The last named was aged 64 years. The body was embalmed and shipped to Tacoma for interment.

Fruit For The Buffalo Exposition.

Hon. H. D. Meredith of Spokane, was in the city Friday in the interest of the Washington exhibit at the Pan-American exposition.

Acting under the instructions of the commission, Mr. Meredith is getting together a carload of fruit to be picked up in the different sections of the state and to be shipped next week from Spokane to Buffalo, where it will be given away to visitors. Each sample of fruit will be wrapped in a printed piece of paper which will impart some valuable information regarding the particular section where the fruit is grown. It is believed that this is the best possible kind of advertising that the state can receive.

The county commissioners have authorized Orlando Beck to collect the exhibit from the growers and forward it by next Thursday to Spokane. 3000 lbs of fruit are wanted from this county and growers are asked to co-operate promptly with Mr. Beck.

Clairvoyance Palmistry.

Prof. Harriden, the King of Palmists and Clairvoyants.

Known throughout the world as the Great Oriental Prophet, has arrived in North Yakima, and is now located at 113½ Yakima Avenue, in the Weed block, where he can be consulted on all the affairs of life.

The professor has been here almost two weeks and has been unable to wait on the large crowds that have called to consult him. All this week he has had to turn away large numbers of callers, and he has decided to extend the time of his reduced prices one week longer, to give everyone a chance to consult him at the small fee he has been charging.

Professor Harriden is now on his second tour of America. While on his first tour he visited only the large cities. He is too well known in this country to need much introduction, but for the benefit of the few, who may not have heard of him, he will state that he is a graduate of the Occult Colleges of India and France, has edited palmistry departments and is still connected in this work with some of the most prominent newspapers of America.

He guarantees to reveal every incident of your life; tells you who, where and when you will marry; gives your own full name without asking you a question; tells you just what you are best fitted for and how to obtain the money you are in need of, etc.

Prof. Harriden makes a specialty of getting people out of financial trouble, and he has a standing offer of $1000 in any case where he fails to do so, provided of course, the advice is taken. He also claims that every person is adapted to some certain kind of business or profession, and that no one can be successful until they find out what they are fitted for. In your reading you are told every incident of your life, your own full name is given, also the name of the one you will marry, with a full description, and where and when you will meet, etc. You are told how to succeed and how to better your condition in all ways.

No matter what your trouble is, he can and will help you, and if you are not helped after a visit he will positively refuse to accept a fee. Every one is invited to call on this gifted medium and test for themselves. His fee is reasonable and within reach of all.

Palmistry and hypnotism taught. Mediumistic persons developed. Call early to avoid the crowds. All business strictly confidential. Parlors so arranged that you meet no strangers. Lady in attendance. Perfect satisfaction by mail. Send $1 and date of birth for reading.

Professor Harriden's parlors are at 113½ Yakima avenue, and are secured with that view of privacy so frequently desired by those who have not consulted a medium before. 113½ Yakima avenue, Weed Block; same entrance as James' Studio, North Yakima, Wash.

Office hours: 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.; Sundays, 1 p. m. to 7 p. m. Remember the address:

Largest Canal In America.

C. R. Rockwood who was chief engineer of the Sunnyside canal during the formative period of that enterprise was a visitor in this city during the first part of the week. Mr. Rockwood had not been here since 1893 and naturally enough expressed some surprise at the evidences of improvement that he noticed on every hand.

Mr. Rockwood is now a resident of the state of California with headquarters in Los Angeles. He is at the present time engaged in the most stupendous piece of irrigation work that has ever been attempted in America. The work that he is now engaged in putting through is the construction of a monster canal for the California Development Co. This canal has its intake from the Colorado river in San Diego county, California and continues down for some considerable distance into Mexican territory. When completed it will be 150 miles long, 200 feet in width and will carry 10 feet of water. It is designed to irrigate in all about one and one-half million acres of land, about one-third of which is situated on this side of the international boundary line. This big ditch when complete will be exceeded in size by only two others in the world, one of which is the great Indus canal built in India by the British government, and the other in Egypt.

Mr. Rockwood renewed a number of old friendships formed during his residence here about 10 years ago. He left Wednesday night on his return to California.

THE BIG MOXEE RANCH.

The Reporter Makes a Trip Over it and Takes Some Notes.

The DEMOCRAT scribe on Tuesday accepted an invitation from Senator Lesh and took a drive with that gentleman on his daily tour of inspection over the Moxee company's big ranch.

The first stop was made at the new hop house, located on the company's land, recently built by the Seattle Brewing & Malting Co. Here Senator Hemrich of that corporation was found in person, busily superintending the drying of hops on the Bohemian plan. That gentleman feels sanguine that he is producing a finished product that will compare favorably with the celebrated Bohemian hop. The Brewing Co. grow hops, but have made a contract with the Moxee Co. to supply them with the amount they desire to cure, a contract having been made for a period of five years.

The Moxee company have this year grown 110 acres of hops and the yield for this year is estimated at but little less than 100 tons, the yield being about 20 per cent less than it was last year. The hops, however, are believed to be of a better quality than those of last year.

The Moxee corporation is by long odds the largest producer of alfalfa hay in this valley, about 800 acres of this great feeding crop is grown on the big ranch, a conservative estimate of this year's crop being 4000 tons. The company also produce a considerable quantity of other hay.

The Moxee ranch will this year make a good showing in the production of fruit. A trip through the orchard where toothsome apples and pears on every hand were taxing to the utmost the capacity of the trees convinced the scribe of this. Particularly fine samples of Wolf River, King, Baldwin and other apples were secured. Mr. Lesh will reserve some of his best specimens for exhibition at the fair next week.

The reporter was highly delighted with the trip, but he came to the conclusion on his return home that there must be a whole lot of responsibility and a good deal of vexation connected with the superintending of a big ranch like the Moxee, and although he himself is but a poor devil of a newspaper man, he still would be unwilling to exchange jobs with Senator Lesh.

We have no time to write large "ads," but we do wish to call your attention to the fact that our fall opening of millinery lasts only a few more days.

THE YAKIMA DEMOCRAT

NORTH YAKIMA, SEPTEMBER 28, 1901

State Fair Notes.

The State Fair opens next Monday and will continue throughout the week. Several exhibits and attractions are now on the grounds and a host of workmen are laboring to get things in shape for the opening. Among the interesting displays will be those of several counties for the capital prize of $600. Those competing are Chelan, Pierce, Clarke, Columbia, Yakima and Whitman, with Walla Walla probably coming. The pavilion has been decorated in a rich and appropriate manner and numerous improvements have been made in different places.

The office of the secretary is besieged with people making entries in the various departments and hackmen desiring licenses for carrying people to and from the grounds. Every applicant is given a hack license for $2.00. The conditions are that they carry banners announcing 15 cents to the grounds and 10 cents from the grounds. Those hauling passengers every day throughout the week will have their money refunded on Saturday night. Hacks having a license will be entitled to admission to the grounds and can haul people to the grand stand.

Governor John R. Rogers and several state officials have accepted invitations to attend the fair and will be among the many distinguished guests during the week. The Yakima band will furnish music. Many attractions aside from those furnished by the commission will be on the grounds. The celebrated war balloonist Prof. John E. Baldwin will give three days ascensions in front of the grand stand. The merry-go-round man will arrive the last of the week. Several horses have come in this week. A special train from Salem, Oregon will arrive Monday with horses, cattle, sheep and other stock exhibits.

The proposition of caring for the people is being handled by E. F. Benson and assistants. It is important that every house be opened to entertain the visitors. A special excursion train will reach here on Wednesday with several hundred people from Seattle, Tacoma and other western Washington points. Those having friends coming should be ready to meet them and find suitable lodgings, as every place in the city will be filled. No one should be permitted to go away and tell that he could not get a place to sleep. The people of Yakima are the hosts and the visitors their guests. Let them rise to the emergency.

The commission has selected a list of competent superintendents and assistants. Hon. A. J. Splawn is superintendent of the stock department; Prof. W. J. Spillman superintendent of the agricultural department; Orlando Beck of the horticultural department; Hon. E. A. McDonald, the dairy department; H. H. Collier, the poultry department; Hon. A. B. Weed, superintendent of the pavilion has an army of able assistants. W. W. Browning, of Ogden, Utah will judge the poultry; Prof. J. A. Balmer is judge in the fruits and all departments will be in the hands of experienced men. Matt Bartholet, of Ellensburg, will have the position of clerk of the race course. Hon. Robert Leighton of Vancouver, B. C., will be the judge in the races.

Popular Fallacies.

Cayenne pepper doesn't come from a pepper plant, nor Burgundy pitch from Burgundy. Jerusalem artichokes do not come from Jerusalem, nor turkeys from Turkey. Camels hair brushes are made from the tail of a squirrel. German silver is not silver, and it is invented in China. Cork legs are not made of cork; neither do they come from Cork, Ireland. Prussian blue does not come from Prussia. Irish stew is not an Irish but an English dish. Cleopatra's Needle was set up 1000 years before that lady was born. Shamoy leather is not the hide of a chamois, but the flesh side of sheepskin.

Rough On William.

The following dramatic criticism appeared recently in a Norwegian paper: "The traveling theatrical company at present visiting this town gave one night a representation of a play styled 'The Merry Wives of Windsor,' by a person called Shakesphere. The play is said to be a comedy, but is terribly monotonous in its effect, especially the first two acts. An uncouth and besotted cavalier, who flirts and spoons with a bevy of demimondaines, but who becomes a victim to their absurd intrigues—such is the sum total of the plot. We can only say that such a play is poor fare to invite an educated public to. It was a relief when the curtain dropped, and we had an opportunity of listening to a selection of humorous songs."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19, 1901.

The body of President McKinley has been borne away to his home at Canton, but an atmosphere of funeral solemnity still envelopes the city. Even the skies seem reflecting the mood of the people, for every day since Monday has been wet and windy, with an autumn chill in the air. The two days of mourning, Tuesday and Thursday, have checked and interrupted business, and little save what is necessary to daily life has been done.

The informal funeral cortege which passed up Pennsylvania avenue on Monday night was in its way the most impressive that historic thoroughfare has ever seen. As the casket went by its way to the White House, the street was lined with people, and instead of turning away and going to their homes they silently fell into line behind it, and followed it, unbidden and unheralded, to the White House gates. There was no music, whether by accident or design, and the long procession moved almost in absolute silence. Now and then some one would begin to sing "The President's hymn", and those nearest would join in the singing till the pathetic melody of "Nearer, my God, to Thee" filled the air.

There were some unhappy incidents at the public ceremonies in spite of the efforts of the police to repress all that was not in harmony with the occasion. The photograph fiend was among those present, and one of these gentry had the impudence to squeeze his way through the crowd and try to get a snap-shot of President Roosevelt just as the casket was lifted out of the hearse. The flash of light startled the horses attached to the hearse, and they reared and were only checked by prompt action on the part of the attendants.

A much more serious accident, however, was the crush which occurred on the steps of the capitol. Somebody was certainly to blame for this, but just who it was seems impossible to be ascertained. At one o'clock there was an immense concourse in front of the capitol, covering the steps and the walks, all the way down to the Peace Monument and for several blocks beyond. There must have been several thousands in the thickest of the crowd alone. When the doors were opened—some say before they were opened—there was a rush. It is claimed that somebody said the way was clear to the rotunda, and that that started the pushing. Then some mounted policemen lost their heads and spurred their horses into the mass of humanity, and got caught in it, so that the plunging, frightened animals added to the peril. It seems as if a police department as well used to handling large crowds as is that of Washington, ought to have known better than to allow such an occurrence. In a few minutes nearly a hundred persons were injured, many of them seriously; and the room beneath that in which the president lay had to be turned into a hospital filled with groaning, shrieking patients. Some of them had been knocked down and trampled upon.

There was of course, much work for the detectives in catching and hunting pickpockets, who are always on hand for an occasion like this. Among those who were robbed, was General Longstreet, who lost his pocket book and money while standing on the steps of capitol, but did not let that interfere with his attending the services, after which he reported the loss to the police.

Foreign nations have expressed their sympathy to an even greater degree than at the time of Garfield's death, which by the way, occurred on Sept. 20, 1881, just twenty years ago. The London Times suggested that it would be becoming in King Edward to request the Duke of Cornwall and York, who is now in Montreal, to attend the funeral. It was impossible for him to do so, but he has sent one of his aids, who will represent him at Canton.

President Roosevelt has done nothing thus far, except to express his determination to carry out, in a general way, the policy of President McKinley. In fact, the chances are that he has not had time to think of much else. He is a man who usually thinks of but one thing at a time, and all the indications are that he is very deeply moved by the recent tragedy, and that his plans for the immediate future have not yet been formed. There are some predictions, however, which are even now made, based on promises and intentions ascribed to him in the past. For example, it has been stated that a long time ago there was an understanding between him and Senator Lodge that the latter should have the position of secretary of state in the event of Roosevelt's becoming president. On the strength of this it was positively asserted that Hay would resign. But it now appears that Lodge does not want the state portfolio, or at least, that he would rather have the chairmanship of the committee on foreign relations. This, to one who knows that most of the work in the senate is done in the committee rooms, appears quite intelligible. The cabinet minister works in the arc light of publicity; the chairman of a committee pulls strings which move other people to come out in the electric light and talk and dance. He has the responsibility and the power of a secretary, minus some of the annoyances. So the fact that Senator Lodge wants the place which Davis, of Minnesota, once honored, shows his sagacity. But there is an interesting little story in this connection.

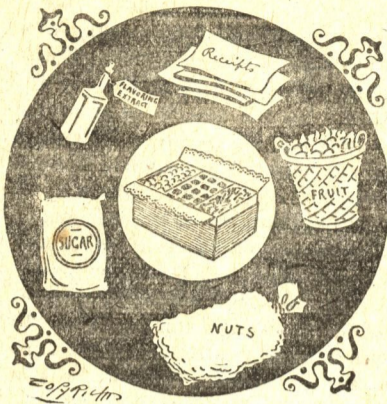

Senator Cullom is the lion in the way of the Massachusetts senator—a mild-appearing and white-whiskered lion, but not to be despised for all that. Senator Frye of Maine would be the natural successor of Davis, but he is well satisfied with his present chairmanship of the committee on commerce, and Shelby M. Cullom is next in succession. A considerable number of republican senators object to him partly because they believe Lodge to be the better man for the place. He is backed, however, by several influential men of his own party, and most especially by Senator Hanna. Now, the question is, can Lodge, with Roosevelt backing him, make Senator Cullom budge from his firm position on senatorial-etiquette and under the wing of Senator Hanna? It is a political problem for the future to solve. Meanwhile, it is said that Root will be moved over into the place of Secretary Hay should the latter choose to resign. It is also said that Roosevelt will not be a candidate for the presidency in 1904, but it is too soon to speculate on that matter.

A La Carrie Nation.

An Associated Press dispatch from Walla Walla says: "Word has reached here of a Carrie Nation episode across in Franklin county that is apt to result seriously. The accident, occurred a few days ago at Connell. That little town is reported very much wrought up over the affair.

"A short time ago when Connell was young, a physician named Hall, who claimed to be an ex-English army surgeon having drifted to the Pacific slope from Cuba, located at Connell and established a combination office and drug store. There is no saloon in Connell and Dr. Hall is said to have put in a liquor business behind the drug store. Here bottles of beer and whisky were on sale.

"A few weeks ago a wealthy farmer named Janosky, living a few miles out of town, came in with $700 in $20 gold pieces. He got drunk and instead of going home proceeded to put up the gold pieces on the gaming table in the rear of Hall's drug store. Late in the evening Mrs. Janosky grew tired of waiting at home and appeared in Connell.

"Mrs. Janosky broke into the back of the saloon without notice. She wielded an axe with which she proceeded to demolish the interior. Fixtures, a showcase and everything improper in sight is said to have gone at one fell swoop. Then Mrs. Janosky raked in all of the jackpot lying on the table, took her husband and went home. Next day she went to Pasco and had Hall arraigned for conducting a gambling house. He was convicted and fined.

"The latest development is the arrest of Mrs. Janosky, who, at Hall's instigation, was arrested by the Franklin county sheriff on the charge of taking money from the gambling table. Janosky has 1400 acres of fine land in one of the best parts of Franklin county."

Mr. and Mrs. Janosky are quite well known in Lind, as they spent some time here last spring when they arrived from Nebraska. Two of their sons have homesteads a few miles west of town.

Young women of Japan have adopted many of the ideas of their sisters in the Occident. Among others, they have gathered in the idea of advertising for husbands, and as a rule, their advertisements make interesting reading. Here is one from a late issue of the Aonagawa-Shembum Journal, published in Tokio:

"I am a handsome girl with hair that is abundant and wavy as the clouds; my face has the brilliancy and satin-like gloss of flowers, and my figure is as flexible as a willow tree. I have enough money to support me during life, but I desire to pass my years in the company of some loved one, whose hand will ever be clasped in mine. If I can meet a gentleman who is polite, intelligent, educated and a man of good taste, I will join myself to him for life, and I will share with him the pleasure of being after some years buried in a tomb of rose-colored marble."

It is said that advertisements of this nature are proving to be winners—several desirable marriages having already been contracted by this means.

Having bought the news business of C. W. Liece I am now prepared to deliver to patrons the Seattle Daily Times, Tacoma Ledger and Tacoma News. Office, on Yakima avenue.

"If I were sick and wanted to get well, I'd find out how some one else got well who had the same sort of sickness as mine."

That is the language of a philosopher. Every human being, black or white, bond or free, is constructed on the same plan. The organs of a rich man differ in no degree from those of a poor man. Even "the king is served from the field." The processes of nature by which life is originated and preserved are the same in the beggar as in the prince. What cures the "weak lungs" of the poorest will cure the weak lungs of the richest. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured thousands of men and women, who "had bad cough, spit blood, and were short of breath." It has cured ninety-eight of every hundred persons who have given the medicine a fair and faithful trial.

If your sickness is like hers, Mrs. Jacobs' story will interest you:

"I was very sick indeed," writes Mrs. Mollie Jacobs, of Felton, Kent Co., Delaware, "and our family doctor said I had consumption. I thought I must die soon for I felt so awful bad. Had a bad cough, spit blood, was very short of breath, had pains in my chest and right lung, and also had dyspepsia. Before I took your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' I was so weak I could not sweep a room, and now I can do a small washing, and I feel like a new person. I believe that the Lord and your medicine have saved my life. I was sick over two years. I took 13 bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets."

Are you sick? Are your lungs "weak?" Have you obstinate lingering cough, with bleeding lungs, weakness and emaciation? Thousands in just your case have been cured by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY. It always helps. It almost always cures. Sick persons are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter absolutely without fee or charge. All correspondence is strictly private. Write and get a specialist's opinion on your case, free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves and heals weak lungs.

A Simile.

"And you are sure you never really loved any one before?" said she, solemnly.

"Well," answered the conscientious young man who tries to be accurate, "of course that may be only an impression of mine. It is, I have an idea, with love as it is with the climate. We have hot waves every year, but we invariably labor under the belief that the one on hand is about the only genuine, out-and-out summer weather we ever experienced."—Washington Star.

The American Fraternal Club.

"The American Fraternal Club will institute its first branch in this city after the fair is over and people have more time to attend the meetings," says Joel Shomaker, the superior secretary. "We have a good list of charter members and as soon as the fair is over will put additional solicitors in the field. We are looking for a score or more of good men and women to act as our solicitors in various districts. If any of the Yakima people are seeking employment it would be well for them to see our superior organizer, Hon Vestal Snyder.

"The club is destined to become a great society and Yakima will reap all the benefits from such an organization. The Modern Woodmen started in a smaller town than Yakima and now has headquarters in Rock Island, Illinois, where $10,000,000 goes every year to help build up that city. The chief clerk has eighty assistants getting from $75, to $125 per month. They spend their money in that city and every business man is benefitted by the trade. Such can be done in Yakima if we are encouraged by the people.

"We have had offers from printers to put in up to date plants to do our work, but have preferred to give our local newspaper men everything in the printing line. Other cities are seeking to get us to remove headquarters to more metropolitan centers, as they see we have a good thing that will benefit the city where the headquarters are maintained. We are all Yakima men and pay taxes in this city and county and want to build up our own country. Our efforts are appreciated, as every enterprising business man of the place is with us either as a member or assisting in talking up the society."

A Shocking Calamity.

"Lately befell a railroad laborer," writes Dr. A. Kellett, of Williford, Ark. "His foot was badly crushed, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly cured him. It's simply wonderful for Burns, Boils, Piles and all skin eruptions. It's the world's champion healer. Cure guaranteed. 25c. Sold by W. E. Ayres.

NUGGETS AND POTATOES.

If You Possess One You May Get the Other.

Says the Tacoma News: It is not long since commission men were saying that there would be no scarcity of potatoes; that there were plenty of potatoes in the Yakima county and that the crop in this section of the state was a phenomenally large one. The commission men still look wise when potatoes are mentioned, but they are forced to reluctantly admit that there is not a Yakima spud in the market and that the raisers of potatoes in this section of the country have come to realize that, for the time being at least, they have the "dead immortal" on the consumer. Based on this state of affairs prices have continued to climb upwards and there is really no telling where the thing is going to stop.

Notwithstanding the published reports of a big crop of potatoes in the Yakima valley the farmers there are holding on. Offers have been made to local commission men to supply them with a few cars at a price of $24 per ton f. o. b. at North Yakima. To that price would have to be added the cost of freight to the Sound and the handling at this end of the line. This would bring the price up to a high figure and dealers profess to be afraid to take chances on such a proposition, as local prices are expected to fall off as soon as hop picking is over.

Whether the expectations of the commission men will be realized remains to be seen. It is a fact, however, that all potatoes now offered are quickly snapped up and that when a farmer comes to the city with a load of spuds he does not have to implore any one to take them off his hands. And the farmers are wise enough to see how the market stands and they hold on for top notch figures. The commission man may have his innings latter in the season, but just now the farmer is master of the situation and is not overlooking his advantage.

An exchange tells of a lady who decided to scare her husband, who was a hard drinker, so that he would reform. To do this she procured the costume of a devil she saw at a masquerade. The next time the erring spouse came home feeling happy, she donned the costume. As he opened the door she stepped forward and said in a sepulchral tone; "Come with me, I am the devil." The reply to her greeting was: "Zat so? Shake, old boy; I'm yer brother-in-law; I married yer sister."

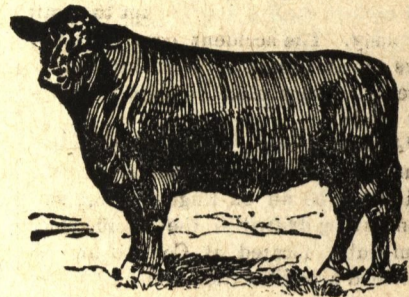

Increase in Electoral Votes.

It will take 15 more votes to elect the next president than were required at the last election of McKinley. Under the re-apportionment act, which goes into operation on March 4, 1903, the membership of the house of representatives and the electoral college is increased to the extent of 29. There were 447 members in the electoral college which chose President McKinley. There will be 476 in the body which will choose his successor in 1904, and this number will be further increased if any of the territories should be admitted to statehood in the interval. The states of the north Atlantic seaboard gain nine votes in the electoral college by this new allotment (three of which go to New York). The sixteen ex-slave states gain 10 and the middle west and far west also gain 10.

State Fair Commences Monday.

Prospect for a Large Attendance the Best in the History of the Fair.
The Commission Have Spared No Pains. Low Rates
Prevail. A Great Race Meeting.

The Washington State Fair was created and organized by the legislature of 1892, with headquarters at Yakima, $10,000 having been appropriated for the construction of the track and necessary buildings.

Yakima county, in consideration of resultant benefits, with donations from public spirited citizens, had purchased 120 acres of land, with water rights and appurtenances within a short distance of the southeastern environs of the city, donating the same to the commonwealth to be used in perpetuity for State Fair purposes.

As has been the history of all such institutions, for several years after its establishment its set-backs and vicissitudes were many, due largely to the sparseness of settlement in its vicinity and lack of general patronage and recognition from abroad.

But things have changed. Not only has the population wonderfully increased in our own county, but public sentiment among our neighboring counties, and even neighboring states, has brought about a condition that is bound to eventuate in a successful meeting, not only this fall but many recurring seasons.

This year, more than any other in its history, the Washington State Fair promises to be a great exposition of the agricultural and horticultural resources of the state. Everything points to this. Times were never better, even in this particularly favored section; the management has spared no pains; there has been no blight on any of the state's agricultural interests, in which respect it is more fortunate than many sister states; and we enjoy a location in which the weather is perfect.

It can no longer be feared that our annual attractions are unknown, as they were in the earlier years of the fair. We have what is considered among horsemen to be the best track in the northwest, as well as the most healthful climate for horses. The buildings are ample, and the speed record all that is possible for a track to show. Given the fastest horses in the northwest, along with the track, climate and weather, and we may look for some events considerably out of the ordinary. At any rate, there will be no greater fair anywhere on the coast this fall, nor more attractions to incite interest and a large attendance.

If the home enthusiasm hold up to what promises from abroad, it will be an occasion to set the pace of our great annual State Fair for all time.

The amount invested by the state, coupled with that donated by the county, in lands, buildings and other improvements, aggregates about $75,000, and the grounds are perfectly equipped as a result of this outlay. Every year additions have been made in the way of beauty, convenience and utility. And now that the fair of 1901 is upon us, it is due to the state, the county and the efforts of the management that we all manifest a proper interest, especially since no pains have been spared to make the occasion one of profit, instruction and entertainment. Displays, races, music, and above all, people—thronging of happy people—make all there is of a great autumnal festival, and ours is the State Fair.

From the standpoint of an agricultural exhibition, there has never been a more flattering outlook; the blood-stock show promises to be better and more varied than on any previous occasion, and the race features have met with such favor that entries were long ago closed in three $1000 special class events, horses from California, Oregon, Utah, Montana, Idaho, British Columbia and various sections of this state being entered.

The management, recognizing the demand for new features, has this season added specialties in the way of balloon ascensions, midway shows and other entertaining performances hitherto unattempted here.

In addition, the expense usually attendant upon patrons in the matter of entrance fees and transportation, has been reduced by half.

Preparing for a much larger attendance from abroad than we have ever enjoyed, ample arrangements have been made for the accommodation of visitors, without the usual advance in the price of entertainment.

Whatever success the fair attains will be mainly due to the untiring zeal and efforts of the secretary, Dr. T. B. Gunn, and President Baxter, whose efforts have been heartily seconded by the other commissioners, Messrs. Splawn, Weed and Benson.

"Sporting Life."

"Sporting Life" is the significant title of a pretentious English melodrama to be produced at Larson's next Wednesday evening. The piece enjoyed a prosperous run of five months in New York, at the Academy of Music, and a record breaking engagement of four months at McVictor's theater, Chicago, last season, and comes here heralded as the most elaborate production of melodrama ever given in America. This claim would appear to be borne out by the marvelous description of the scenery provided, there being no less than 12 distinct scenes, several of them in astonishing magnitude. A genuine training stable occupied by several genuine race horses, is one of the attractive features. A massive production of the ancestral home of the Earl of Woodstock from the famous painting, "The Day of Reckoning," is regarded as a masterpiece of the scene painter's art. Then there is a very elaborate view of the Earl's Court exhibition grounds, showing the numerous booths, buildings and amusement devices, all brilliantly illuminated; the interior of the National Sporting Club, London, the boxes and stalls occupied by scores of patrons of the manly art, all in evening dress; and lastly, a splendid view of Epsom Downs race course on Derby Day. There are numerous other scenes of lesser magnitude, but all admirably designed and executed. In preparing this gigantic production the management found it necessary to make requisition upon all the leading studios of New York, entailing an enormous outlay, but securing the benefit of the artistic genius of these distinguished masters: Joseph Physioc, Ernest Albert, Homer Emens, John Young, Gates & Morango, Hart & Becker, and F. Platzer. To crowd so much diversity of scenery into five acts necessitates some of the most rapid changes of scene ever witnessed and the amazing celerity with which these changes are made is one of the wonderful features of the production. There is no delay in the action of the piece, and the lightning-like transportation of the spectator from one picture to another is said to be positively startling.

The Hop Outlook.

All the larger yards of hops have completed gathering and the resultant turn-loose of pickers will make short work of the smaller fields.

Considerable feeling is manifested by the growers against buyers, it being claimed that the market is being "beared" in the interest of purchasers.

No sales of any importance are to be chronicled this week. The product of the Hiscock ranch and a large portion of the Moxee Company's product is being shipped. Max Jackson, of the first-named yard, says that the entire crop has been sold to eastern breweries at 15 cents, f. o. b.

This fact necessarily strengthens other growers in the belief that better prices will prevail than are at present offered. The argument is also adduced by growers that the apparent shortage in the crop generally would warrant higher figures than buyers are willing to concede.

Deputy U. S. marshals and the police force were busy Wednesday evening rounding up a lot of hobos near the stock yards. The camps in that neighborhood are headquarters for "boot-legging," and drunken Indians abound there at this season of the year. On the day in question a drunken Indian, who calls himself Sam, was severely cut about the head, face and hands with a pocket knife, and being conveyed to the city hall, Dr. Frank was summoned and found it necessary to sew up five gaping wounds, one on the forehead being particularly severe, having penetrated the skull. On Thursday morning a rather spectacular scene occurred in Judge Lince's court when William Mack, Tom Cronin and Jim Mulligan were arraigned and fined $5 each for disturbing the peace. Just as the prisoners were leaving the room Deputy Sheriff Sindall served a warrant on Mack upon the charge of assaulting the Indian with a knife, and U. S. Deputy Marshal Davidson arrested the trio for selling liquor to Indians.

City Marshal Boyle yesterday arrested Chas. S. Staats, of Monmouth, Ore., on telegraphic instructions, on a charge of selling sheep which were the property of another. The prisoner was turned over to the county authorities. He claims that he had entire right to dispose of the property, which was under an unrecorded mortgage, and says that he will make it tropical for the parties responsible for the arrest.

Ordinance No. 316.

An ordinance in relation to the sale and disposal of drugs, medicines and nostrums and giving shows and exhibitions in connection therewith, where an admission is charged, or where the same are free, and providing a penalty for the violation thereof within the city limits of the City of North Yakima.

The City Council of the City of North Yakima do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person, persons, corporation, company or aggregation of people within the city limits of the City of North Yakima for the purpose of advertising, selling or giving away any drugs, medicines, nostrums or any other substance for the cure or pretended cure of any disease or ailment, to give any public exhibition in any hall or building, or tent, upon any of the streets or alleys, or vacant lots or in the open or elsewhere or in any place within the limits of the City of North Yakima, whether admission to such performance or exhibitions be free or not; or for any person, persons, company or corporation or aggregation of people by proclamation, public outcry, auction or theatrical performance or show of any kind in any hall or building or tent, or upon any of the streets or alleys or vacant lots in the open, or elsewhere at any place within said city of North Yakima, to sell, barter or give away or offer to sell, barter or give away any drug, medicine, nostrum or any other substance for the cure or pretended cure of any disease or ailment until such person, persons, company, corporation or aggregation of people shall have first procured a city license therefor in manner provided by the ordinances of said city, for which license there shall be paid the sum of Twenty-Five Dollars for each day or part of a day or Four Hundred Dollars for Three Months.

Section 2. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed; provided, that such repeal shall not affect any suit, action or prosecution pending for the violation of any existing ordinance, or any suit, action or prosecution to be hereafter commenced for the violation of any existing ordinance prior to the time this ordinance takes effect, but such existing ordinance shall remain in full force and effect for the purpose of commencing and prosecuting to final judgment any suit, action or prosecution for a violation of any such existing ordinance, committed prior to the time this ordinance takes effect.

Section 3. Each and every person violating the foregoing ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than Fifty nor more than One Hundred Dollars; and each and every violation thereof by sale or otherwise shall be deemed a separate offense.

Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage, approval and publication.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE State of Washington for Yakima county, in the matter of the estate of William Rowe, deceased.

Whereas, said court has made its order in said matter of the following tenor (omitting title):

"B. L. Baker, administrator, with the will annexed of said estate having filed with the clerk of said court his final account as such administrator and his petition for distribution of the residue of said estate, it is now here ordered that October 14th, 1901, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon at the court room in the court house in North Yakima in said county be and they hereby are appointed the day and place for the hearing and settlement of said account and petition and that notice of such hearing and settlement be given by posting the same in three of the most public places in said county for the period of four successive weeks before said day and by the publication of said notice for four successive weeks before said day in the YAKIMA DEMOCRAT, a weekly newspaper of general circulation in said state and county, and printed and published in said county. Done by the court in open session this 6th day of September, 1901.
FRANK H. RUDKIN, Superior Judge."

Now therefore in pursuance of said order notice is hereby given that said B. L. Baker as such administrator will at the court room in the court house in said county on October 14th, 1901, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon, the day appointed for the hearing and settlement of his final account and petition for distribution as such administrator of said estate, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, call up for hearing and settlement by said court his said final account and petition for distribution of the residue of said estate filed with the clerk of said court on the 6th day of September, 1901.

Dr. Hayden returned from Waterville today to attend the Presbytery, his daughter's condition having materially improved.

Mrs. Matt Bartholet and little son, who have been visiting relatives in this city, returned to their home at Ellensburg last Monday.

E. M. Reed, formerly a Yakima newspaper man, but now a successful farmer of Spokane county, arrived in North Yakima Wednesday.

There will follow the course either through Oregon or Montana.

S. Hough this week received the appointment as U. S. court commissioner under Judge Hanford. This appointment does not in anyway conflict with that of Col. L. S. Howlett, but is in order to expedite the rapidly increasing business in Yakima county.

The west-bound passenger trains have been several hours late this morning at Kane, where she will take advantage of a scholarship in the Episcopal college of that place.

D. W. Soper and Albert Dalton, relatives of D. E. Mackinnon, who have been visiting here for a short time, left Monday for Dawson, where they have valuable mining interests.

Mrs. L. B. Rinehart, of the Wonder, returned Thursday morning from Roslyn. She took a large supply of fall millinery to that point, as she is accustomed to do during opening season.

S. W. Wall, formerly a wellknown newspaper man of Tacoma, was in the city Saturday to see his old friend, J. G. Boyle. Mr. Wall will be associated with R. F. Radabough in the new daily shortly to be established in Tacoma.

C. M. Gilman and family arrived last week from Fort Spokane and will locate permanently. Mr. Gilman formerly held a position at Fort Simcoe in the Indian service, and while he already has property interests here, he has so much confidence in Yakima that he will increase his holdings.

Rev. H. M. Bartlett will leave tomorrow for San Francisco to attend the general assembly of the Episcopal church which meets in that city. The reverend gentleman will then proceed east, where he will spend the next three months in an effort to secure financial aid for the mission work being done in this state. Mrs. Bartlett will leave here next Wednesday and will join her husband in New York.

J. L. Foster, who resides on the Ahtanun, near the academy, had the misfortune to have his dwelling and all household effects, together with nearly all the clothing of the family destroyed by fire last Tuesday. It is thought some one had looted the premises while the family were all in the hop field, and then set fire to the house to destroy any evidence of robbery. The house was newly built, and had an insurance of $1,000.
