CUT OFF LEG OF A HORSE

An Inhuman Act Perpetrated on Dr. Richardson of the West Side.

The most outrageous deed or crime against beast or human that has been known in this city for years occurred at the stable of Dr. I. N. Richardson at 102 south Antanan avenue Tuesday night when some one cut off the leg of his driving horse.

The deed was evidently premeditated. The horse had been taken from the stable to the alley passing the back door, and from all indications it appears that the blow had been struck with an ax. The left hind leg was severed a few inches above the hock. The protruding end of the bone showed the clean cut of a sharp instrument for about a half inch and a square break as though made by a severe blow.

The horse was found in the morning by Mr. Richardson standing in its stall and all around it were pools of blood that had flowed from the severed arteries. The horse was very weak from the loss of blood and would have died very shortly had it not been put out of its misery by being shot. There are indications that the work was done by some one who had a grudge against Mr. Richardson. The harness was found lying near the barn door cut into small pieces. The lines, bridle and every part of the harness was put to the knife so completely that not one piece was big enough to tell what it had been used for.

In the alley, where undoubtedly the deed was committed, blood stains covered the snow for several feet around, and there were pools that indicated that the horse had stood there for a short time before re-entering the stable. It cannot be ascertained whether the horse went into the stable itself or was led in by the party who inflicted the injuries upon it. An effort was made to trace the criminal. There were blood spots in the snow leading northward along the alley for over 100 yards. This is as far as they could be followed.

Mr. Richardson cannot give any motive for the crime. He says he does not know of an enemy in the world who would take revenge on him by brutally mutilating his horse. But, he says, there may be some one who does not like him and has taken this method of "getting even."

This crime has caused as much comment among the people as if it had been committed against a human being. There was condemnation on all sides for the brute who would do such an inhuman act. In talking about it men, who are considered cool, thought that no punishment would be too severe to be dealt out against the man who would crawl upon a horse in the night time and deliberately cut off one of its legs.

Robby Bures.

Sunday, January 25, was Robert Burns' birthday, and the event was celebrated in every land where the descendants of the sons of Scotland live. It was not celebrated in Yakima this year for various reasons, but the memory of the poet was kept green nevertheless in the hearts of those who dearly love to own him; as their patron saint. Last year the Caledonian society of this city fittingly celebrated the event and it was decided this year to let every individual Scot honor the name of Burns as he saw fit at his own home.

In Favor of Settler.

The supreme court of the United States has just rendered a decision which affects the title of railroad land that had been settled on prior to the filing of the definite map of selection by the company. Peter and Henry Nelson of Kittitas county were the defendants in the case. They settled on the land before the company had filed a map with the government giving its course but before the selections had been made. The supreme court holds that the settler has prior rights in such cases.

WORK OF IRRIGATIONISTS

Secretary of Interior Endorsed for Withdrawing Lands from Entry—A Bill.

The first meeting of the Washington State Irrigation association since it was organized was held in the Commercial club rooms last Saturday afternoon. President S. J. Harrison of Sunnyside was in the chair. Those present from outside points were E. F. Blaine of Seattle, G. H. Plummer and E. F. Benson of Tacoma, Ralph Kauffman of Ellensburg, S. J. Harrison and P. J. Lichty of Sunnyside, W. N. Granger of Zillah and Ernest McCullough of Lewiston, Idaho. A number of important questions were considered.

A letter from Congressman W. L. Jones to H. B. Scudder was read, in which Mr. Jones stated that it "is up to the people" whether the government extends aid in the building of the irrigation canals in this valley out of the irrigation fund. To have such work done, he said, the people must get together and formulate some kind of a plan that will be satisfactory to all concerned in the land to be watered and submit it to the government for consideration. There are now available in the irrigation fund over eight million dollars. Not a cent of it has yet been expended for building canals or storage reservoirs since the bill was passed. He also said that the government had not yet selected a project in the arid part of the country on which to commence work.

Following the reading of the letter came a discussion of the building of reservoirs. G. H. Plummer of the Northern Pacific railway said that the company had made filings on the land about the lakes at the headwaters of the Yakima but to make the same hold good work had to be commenced within a certain period. This work was not commenced, so the company filed scrip on all the land around the lakes with the exception of a small body now occupied by a settler. He said that if the timber is removed from the headwaters of the river the water supply of the valley is in danger.

Ralph Kauffman of Ellensburg thereupon presented the following resolution which was unanimously adopted by the association:

Resolved, That the action of the secretary of the interior in temporarily withdrawing from entry lands embraced in the watersheds of the Yakima river be and the same is hereby approved by this association and, further,

Resolved, That it is the sense of the association that all the lands in the watersheds of said river and its tributaries should be embraced in a forest reserve or reserves, so that the water originating therein may be conserved and utilized for irrigating the arid lands of central Washington.

Mr. Blaine of Seattle submitted a bill, relating to appropriating water out of the rivers of the state and building reservoirs for the conservation of water for irrigating purposes, to be endorsed by the association. The measure as drafted caused considerable discussion. It provided that any person or corporation could appropriate the water out of the streams of the state and build reservoirs, and the water thus impounded could be diverted, for the use of those so appropriating. This raised the question as to the rights of the people who live along the streams by which said surplus water is carried in the dry season. It was suggested by Mr. Scudder that a company, owning land at Kennewick or other point below here could impound the water at the head of the stream, by this law, and divert it to their own benefit to the exclusion of those living along the stream. Mr. Blaine then made a long speech in behalf of the bill. He said the storage basin is the most important question confronting the people of the state at the present time, and something must be done; the water of the lakes must be stored and laws must be made to protect those who spend the money for that purpose. It was suggested that the government would be too slow in the matter. He said it would cost a private corporation considerably less to construct the reservoirs than it would the government. If the government builds the system the people would have to pay for it anyway. The question was settled by the chair appointing the following committee to redraft the bill: E. F. Blaine, Ira P. Englehart, Ralph Kauffman, E. F. Benson and H. B. Scudder. This has been done to the satisfaction of all interested and the bill will be presented this week in the legislature.

Mr. Blaine said that the Trans-Mississippi Irrigation congress would meet in Seattle next September and he would like to see all parts of the state represented. Mr. Plummer then made a motion that a committee be appointed representing all the irrigated districts of the state to gather products for an exhibit. The following committee was named: G. H. Plummer of Tacoma, chairman; Ellensburg, Ralph Kauffman; Wenatchee, Arthur Gunn; Clarkston, E. H. Libby; Walla Walla, Dr. N. G. Blacklock; Spokane, Mr. Benham; North Yakima, the Commercial club.

The following committee of three was appointed to act with the Seattle Chamber of Commerce with a view of bringing the Trans-Mississippi delegates to the various irrigated districts of the state: P. J. Lichty, Sunnyside; Arthur Gunn, Wenatchee; E. H. Libby, Clarkston.

Ernest McCullough of Lewiston made a few remarks on the irrigation question in his part of the Inland Empire. He said so far irrigation had not reached the point of success it had in the Yakima valley, as the territory now covered is limited in extent.

Mr. Kauffman of Ellensburg made a motion that a change be made in the constitution of the association so as to broaden its scope. The committee named for this purpose follows: Ralph Kauffman, B. F. Barge and H. B. Scudder. They are to report at the next regular meeting, which will be on the second Saturday in April.

THE GOLD HILL ROAD ACT

Provisions of Measure for Appropriating Funds for Inter-Mountain Way.

The following is the act that has been presented to the legislature by Senator Stewart for appropriating $25,000 to complete the Gold Hill road:

Section 1. Section 9 of chapter 116 of the session laws of 1897 is hereby amended to read as follows: "Sec. 9. For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this act for the establishment and construction of a state road there is hereby appropriated from funds in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of twenty-five (25) thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary."

Sec. 2. Section 12 of chapter 116 of the session laws of 1897 is hereby amended to read as follows: "Sec. 12. After the completion of said road, and when the term of office of said state road commission shall have expired, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners, respectively, of the counties in which said road extends, to keep such portions of the road in repair in like manner as though the same were a county road. The said board of state road commission shall expend one-half of said appropriation on a road from the west side section nine (9) township nineteen (19) north, range seven (7) east, W. M., in King county, Washington, to the summit of the Cascade mountains along the line of said survey of said road. The other one-half shall be expended along the line of said road survey from the point where it intersects the county road on Natchez river to the summit of the Cascade mountains."

Sec. 3. An emergency exists; this act shall take effect immediately.

Kate Campbell Missing.

The Seattle Times of Sunday contained an article about the disappearance of Kate Campbell from Monday hospital of that city on the Tuesday morning previous. She formerly lived in this city and clerked for different merchants. The article stated that she had been unfortunate and rather than have her friends know of her condition has made an attempt to conceal herself. Her sister Ellen Campbell and Frank Butler went to Seattle to search for the missing girl.

SHEPHERD WIN GRAZING CASE

Judge of Utah Federal Court Says Congress Has Exceeded its Powers.

Judge Marshall, of the United States district court, sitting at Salt Lake City, Utah, last week sustained the demurrer of the defendant in the case of the United States versus Frank Martinus, who was charged with running a band of 2,000 sheep on the Fish Lake forest reserve in violation of the rules formulated for the protection of the forest reserves by the secretary of the interior.

Judge Marshall stated that congress has exceeded its legislative power in empowering the secretary of the interior to make rules the violation of which would be a criminal act and held that the law was unconstitutional. The decision is regarded as of the greatest importance to Utah sheepmen. A number of similar cases will be thrown out of court.

The effect of Judge Marshall's decision will be to throw open to sheep and cattle interests more than a million acres of the choicest grazing land in the state which for the past few years has been carefully protected by the government. As soon as the situation becomes known it is believed hundreds of thousands of sheep will be brought across the line from other states and the forest reserves will be covered with stock.

OF INTEREST TO DAIRYMEN MILL WILL BE RUNNING SOON

State Acted Wisely in Providing a Pure Food Commission—Need Aid.

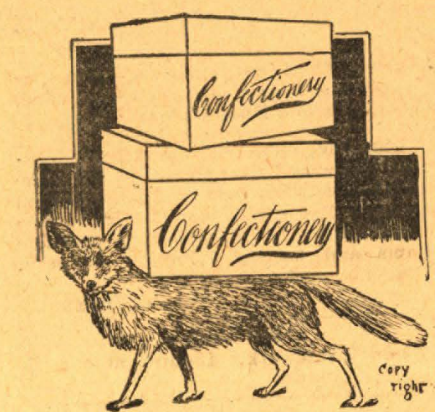

Editor REPUBLIC: The State Dairy association of the state of Washington has just closed its annual convention, which was held at Kent. Many matters of vital importance to the dairy interests of the state were brought up and discussed and for the benefit of all dairymen who desire to be up to date and improve the dairy interests in all its departments these papers and discussions should be published in a pamphlet form as is done in all the eastern dairy states. But so far the association has been unable on account of lack of funds to get this done. It has struggled along trying as best it could to keep alive the interest in dairy matters and it now asks the legislature in session to appropriate a certain sum to assist in this work, and no wiser appropriation could be made. All the eastern states which take the front rank in the dairy industry have done this and why should the great state of Washington, which is kindly favored by nature, not take a front rank with its sister states? Our Canadian neighbors appropriate government aid to their dairy interests and maintain traveling dairy schools and are making advances all along the line in dairy matters much ahead of us.

Our state did wisely and well in providing for a pure food commissioner. Now if the legislators in their wisdom would appropriate a certain yearly sum to publish the reports of the dairy association and to further the cause of dairy education, providing for dairy schools and institutes in different sections of the state each year, they would be doing a grand and good work. Will some grand and able man champion this cause? If so the dairyman of this state will rise up and revere him above all others. The dairy interests are apt to be and are in fact neglected, whereas it is one of the most valuable industries in the state, but in point of advancement, progress, it is in many lines far behind many of our sister states and it is a matter of regret that this great and growing commonwealth has not had the assistance to place it on an equality with sister states. The dairy commission is good as far as it goes but it falls short of the requirements. We, here at the gateway of Alaska and the islands of the sea, should be able to utilize all the advantages nature has bestowed upon us. Let the dairy men of the state petition their members to make some such appropriation as the dairy association asks for and petition at once. The dairying interests are strong enough not to be ignored if they unite at once, but no time must be lost.

MUST PASS THROUGH CORRAL

Sheep Are to be Counted Going In and Coming Out of Reserve.

The department of the interior at Washington has adopted the recommendations of Superintendent D. B. Sheller, and hereafter the sheep to enter the forest reserves for summer grazing will be counted in and out of the corrals especially built for that purpose, similar to the corral pens by means of which the great herders of the plains count and keep track of their herds. The directions from the department arrived in a letter of instructions covering many important points, and which came to hand yesterday.

A point of importance to Western Washington is that section of the letter of instructions opening for grazing that portion of the Rainier reserve, south of the Cowlitz pass and west of the summit of the Cascades. Heretofore it has been impossible to grant this privilege, the inflexibility of the regulations making absolutely no provisions for issuing permits for that side of the mountains. In the same section of this important letter of instructions from the department, the forest officers at this end are authorized to vary from the iron-clad orders heretofore issued where it shall seem wise, of course, within well described lines.

For instance, the earlier instructions as to the number of sheep, horses and cattle to be permitted to range on the east side of the mountains within the reserve is charged so that the supervisor and superintendent, at their discretion, may reduce the area and re-allot the grazing lands within the five districts, while the 6,300 head of cattle and horses permitted to graze there by former orders are declared to be in addition to the cattle and horses of the resident ranchers within the reserve.

The supervisor is also required to notify all sheepmen, cattlemen and owners of herds of horses that if before June first they shall have allowed their herds or any part of their herds to wander onto the reserve they shall be deemed guilty of trespass, and shall not only be denied all privileges in future, but the officers are directed to proceed against them at once according to law. The owners will be instructed in the said letter from the supervisor that it is up to them to furnish sufficient force of herders to prevent this trespass, and "couldn't help it" will not be taken as a good excuse. Permits already granted will be cancelled for this cause.

Section 4 of the instructions says: The adoption of Superintendent Sheller's recommendation that "corrals be built by the rangers where necessary, and all sheep be counted in and out of the said corrals by the rangers, and that no sheep be allowed to enter the reserve except through such corrals, due notice to be given all sheep owners where they must enter the reservation," has been concurred in by the honorable secretary, and it is directed that necessary action be taken to put it into effect.

This means that hereafter the sheepman's own count will not be accepted. The matter of counting has been an endless source of trouble.

Harness of G. T. Aumiller Stolen, and Found in Possession of Thief.

William Hall was arrested Tuesday and had a hearing before Justice J. A. Taggard on the charge of stealing a set of harness from the harness barn of George T. Aumiller. The theft was committed last Saturday evening between 6 and 7 o'clock while Mr. Aumiller was eating his supper. Suspicion rested on Hall and when a search was made the harness was found in his barn. At the hearing he wanted to plead guilty providing the crime came under petty larceny, but as the harness was valued at $40 this could not be allowed, and accordingly Hall was bound over to the superior court for trial in the sum of $500.

On Friday night the residence of William Harsh at the corner of Yakima and Moxee avenues was entered and a few valuable jewels and a child's bank containing a small amount of money taken. A watch chain was found afterwards at a place on Front street where it had been pawned by the thief.

PERRIN GETS BACK AT HIM

Replies to Mr. Goodsell's Letter on the Sunnyside Division Meeting.

Sunnyside, Jan. 20, 1903.
Editor the REPUBLIC—With all the other indications of progress in and about the "saintly" city at the foot of the Snipes mountain, simultaneously with the opening of the new year comes the surprising intelligence that Sunnyside has a historian. It may not be generally known, but Outlook is his home, and it is suggested that Outlook might be his appropriate watchword. Said historian in his maiden effort assumes to chronicle the doings of Sunnyside concerning county division, essaying his new historical role in an elaborate style abounding in figures and prodigal of rhetoric. In the REPUBLIC of the 9th inst., under the guise of history, doubtless with the unconscious intention that this would tend to give it greater acceptance with the people, the honorable gentleman takes occasion to review, in general, the substance of the writer's article of December 26.

This article was prepared by the secretary of both the meetings of December 3 and December 18, at the urgent request of a number of our leading citizens of all shades of political faith, who deemed it but simply justice that the people of Sunnyside should be truthfully represented before the public upon this important question. The article was formulated in a studied spirit of fairness, with no purpose of trenching upon the rights of all, and no thought of offering an affront to any individual, still less to any community. The writer hoped to avoid any acrimonious controversy, as wholly uncalled for, and quite averse to his own tastes. In the event of attack and retort, however, even an ambitious political historian may find, in the final round up, that others will be able to state facts and comparisons as significant and swing the rhetorical cudgel as dexterously as himself. "We commend him to a prudent husbandry of his resources."

A little puncturing may possibly serve to set free at least a portion of the gas from this amateur historian's historical bubble. We are told first of all that we made the "humiliating admission" that county division is inevitable. Sometimes the long eared kicker helps the cause more by his persistent opposition than he would do by wisely letting it alone. We simply admitted the facts that are patent to any close observer. This might seem humiliating from the "Outlook" of the historian. It does not seem so, however, from the standpoint of one of the "common people." Our historian then proceedeth as follows: "A select audience of agitators assembled sometime during the summer of 1902 (the exact date cannot be given as no notice of it was given outside the village of Sunnyside) and constituted themselves self-elected delegates to a meeting relating to county division to be held in the city by the Falls, etc." We assume that this refers to the first meeting held in Sunnyside last summer to consider county division. If the would be historian will take the trouble to examine the files of the Sunnyside Sun he will find for the first item in the supplement to the issue of July 25 the following notice: "There will be a meeting of the citizens of Sunnyside and vicinity at the I. O. O. F. hall on Monday evening, July 28, to discuss county division, and to take action regarding the invitation extended by Prosser to attend the mass meeting to be held in Prosser July 30." If this is not notice "outside the village of Sunnyside," then the circulation of the Sun must be surprisingly restricted. Concerning the meeting of July 28 the Sun reports that "everyone present was called upon for an expression of opinion and after nearly two hours of discussion a committee of ten was named to go to Prosser, instructed to stand for a division line 12 miles west of Sunnyside." Does the public election of delegates after two hours of discussion lay them open to the charge of being agitators, and constituting themselves "self elected delegates etc.?" It is a very easy matter to make assertions but when one assumes the roll of the historian and presumes to speak with authority the public will sooner or later discover the substantial groundwork of his facts or the shallow pretense of his high sounding fiction.

The historian attributes remarkable power to a certain silver tongued orator from Sunnyside "who held the Prosserites entranced by his eloquence for two and a half hours, and completely wore them out." This is indeed a strange paradox. An orator of entrancing power "wearing out" his audience! Another specimen of rhetorical history. In answer to the historian's remonstrance against the location of the new county line the writer would reply, in all candor, that Sunnyside is fighting simply and solely for the future of her own municipal, commercial, political and industrial life, and in a vital issue of this character she assumes the right, without the slightest unfriendly feeling toward any individual or any community, to stand for the measures that give, at least, some promise of a future befitting her location and consequent rapid growth and influence as the center of the richest and most flourishing communities of this portion of the Yakima valley.

It is certain that no line, however discreetly drawn, could be satisfactory to all interests and all parties concerned. With the people of Outlook it is simply a matter of choice and no one questions their right to a division of opinion upon that choice. With Sunnyside it is the vital question of crippled or enlarged life, and Sunnyside will not cease to contend fairly and squarely and mightily against any action that may place her in the former unfavorable condition.

Proceeding with the article in question, the historian proclaims a "vision" of the agitators and enunciates the interpretation thereof. Visions and interpretations! Still more apt themes for the genius of the budding historian. Will the latter arise and quote the authority both for the vision and the interpretation? Then we are told that "another meeting was held at Sunnyside to elect delegates to attend another convention at Prosser to approve of the former scheme of division." A meeting called to "approve" of former proceedings—a lovefeast, we presume, to give the community the much-longed-for privilege of setting the seal of their benignant approval on the efforts and acts of their wise fellow citizens. Will the historian give the date of this second convention at Prosser and report the proceedings?

We come now to a most interesting portion of this historical chapter—the record of recent events connected with the much exploited meeting of December 3. The writer, who was secretary of both this and the subsequent meeting, may possibly be able to add some facts to the profound investigations of our voluble historian. This was another of those meetings without notice (except in the Sunnyside Sun.) The meeting was called at 10:30 a. m. The weather being unfavorable, only about a dozen assembled at that hour. As a general expression and discussion was desired, these adjourned to 1:30 p. m., and a general notice of the meeting, urging everybody to attend, was sent throughout the town and spread to all the outlying districts by telephone. Does this look like foisting upon the people a "fake condition" or conducting this matter "along dishonest lines?" As secretary of the meeting I aver that it was conducted with the utmost fairness, that everybody was accorded ample opportunity for full and free discussion. And here the florid historian makes another abortive attempt to deny the passage of the resolution quoted in my article of December 26. I now put it to the honorable gentleman, not only that the resolution was adopted at that meeting without a dissenting vote, verbatim et literatim et punctuation as quoted in the subsequent call and in my former article, but that Mr. W. Goodsell was present, sat directly in front of the secretary and when the nays were called never even so much as peeped his remonstrance.

Again, he says that "much parliamentary sparring was then indulged in, amendments and resolutions came thick and fast. The audience was fast dispersing, becoming wearied of the 'fake' condition."

We should like the details of this sparring contest, a report of the first three rounds, forsooth, and also copies of a half dozen or so of the "resolutions and amendments" that came so "thick and fast." Doubtless this nimble historian has them all snugly stored away for use in some future historical footnote. At this stage of the meeting our chronicler's intuitive genius enabled him to detect the "fake" condition referred to above. Why did not this volunteer defender of the rights of the people, this historical author of such marvelous insight, arise in the power of his might and expose this "fake condition?" Had he, too, been "entranced and worn out" by the eloquence of the "silver-tongued agitator of Sunnyside?"

Further on we are informed that "to the general surprise of the audience at the adjourned meeting of December 18 the motion had blossomed out, etc." If those present were surprised it was a remarkable paradox, for when the test vote was taken concerning division along the lines referred to in the resolution the result stood 34 for and 6 against it, the latter votes coming, of course, from the east half of Zillah precinct.

The historian takes umbrage at what he calls the "doctor's insinuation that many of our citizens regret signing the remonstrance." These were the words of the writer and he now wishes to add that since they were written some 140 voters of the historian's supposed contingent have signed a petition for division on the aforesaid lines, and it is no reflection on the intelligence of the people of Outlook, either.

We are also informed that "Outlook emphatically protests against being put into a new county," and Mr. G. adds: "Neither do we fear any such calamity." Why then all this oracle-rhetorical historical hue and flourish? Fear there must be somewhere, or why does the historian resort to the warpath? It may or it may not be their choice, but it would be difficult for any unbiased mind to read any serious calamity to the people of Outlook as a result of county division along the lines mapped out by the Prosser convention. Possibly the historian fears the calamity that the new county line might sever the roots and so wither the foliage on some of his promising political shrubbery. At any rate, some silent and undiscovered influence seems to be agitating the agitator. What it may be we are at a loss to determine.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

WHAT A HEAP OF HAPPINESS IT WOULD BRING TO NORTH YAKIMA HOMES.

Hard to do housework with an aching back. Hours of misery at leisure or at work. If women only knew the cause. Backache pains come from sick kidneys. Doan's Pills will cure them.

North Yakima people endorse this. Mrs. I. Van deMeer, I. Van deMeer, stone mason of 615 North Third street, says: "I suffered with backache and kidney complaint for years. It started with a tired feeling across the loins, later on backache now and then, and finally it became a regular thing. I tried to get rid of it at first by using simple household remedies and followed up the work with medicinal preparations said to be cures for such troubles, but I was unsuccessful in my attempts. In some way Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice, and thinking if they did no harm they would not do me any harm, my husband called at Fred L. Janeck's drug store, on Yakima Ave., and got a box. It proved to me a wonderful relief. Doan's Pills are a fine remedy. I gave them a fair trial, using six boxes, so I know what I am talking about. I cheerfully recommend them for backache or kidney trouble of any kind."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF YAKIMA COUNTY
FRIDAY, JANUARY 30, 1903.

THE ELECTION OF ANKENY.

The election of Levi Ankeny as senator from the state of Washington to succeed George Turner was not in accord with the desires of the REPUBLIC, nor those of the people of Yakima county, and therefore we do not rejoice. We have never admired Mr. Ankeny as a candidate for this office. We abhor his political methods. We have not believed that this election would reflect credit upon the republican party of the state, so recently returned to power after a crushing defeat which was the just penalty of its misdeeds. We have not believed that the elevation of Mr. Ankeny to the most honorable office to which a citizen of this state may aspire would tend to strengthen the party responsible for it. We have believed it would discredit and weaken the party.

This paper is an old fashioned believer in the old fashioned idea that public servants should be chosen with reference to their ability and capacity for usefulness, and that positions of great honor and trust should be given only to those who merit them.

The legislature has taken another view of the matter. It has assisted Mr. Ankeny to reach the goal toward which he has struggled by spending his money for the last ten years. It has made him senator. We accept this result as cheerfully as possible under the circumstances, trusting that we will be as well able to meet the consequences as those who in the exercise of a little brief authority at Olympia are responsible for it. We go even farther and extract from it all the consolation possible. If the republican party of this state has allowed a man to purchase a seat in the United States senate, it has done so only after long and vigorous protest, and the price was not disgracefully low. Mr. Ankeny has been a republican all his life. His predecessor changed his political faith to become eligible for election. Mr. Ankeny was ten years consummating his bargain. Mr. Turner closed it in exactly the time necessary for a "reform" legislature to file past his "bar." Mr. Turner bought for $50,000. Mr. Ankeny, it is said, has paid at least a quarter of a million. There is this also to be said: Whatever the shortcomings of Mr. Ankeny, he has no great ability to be used in misrepresenting the people of the state, and the gift of silence which God gave him is a guaranty that he will never rise on the floor of the senate to slander the president of the United States or denounce the men who go to war for the country.

Mr. Ankeny will not make an ideal senator; he will probably be of little more use to the state than the two senators which Delaware has not are to that state; but as a consistent opponent of his election we are pleased to say that we think the state will be benefited by the change when he takes the seat of the Hon. George Turner.

WILL BE NO DIVISION.

It is not likely that the people of North Yakima will make any attempt to prevent the division of the county on fairly equitable lines. We draw this conclusion from the unnecessarily large vote they gave a candidate pledged to county division at the last election, and from the fact that we hear no great amount of discussion of the subject of division. Notwithstanding the apathy of North Yakima, it now seems improbable that a bill to divide the county will pass the legislature.

There has been so much talk of changing county boundaries in all parts of the state that the members of the legislature are a little tired of the subject and are inclined to sit on all such schemes. The Yakima divisionists have the active opposition of the Washington Irrigation company and the Northern Pacific Railroad company, two somewhat powerful corporations which do not want their properties cut in two by another county line. They are also warring against themselves, and they probably will not be able to get together.

The basis of practically all desire for division is, of course, the ambition of some town to make a county seat. Kennewick has petitioned the legislature to make the line of the new county 5 1/2 miles west of Prosser. Sunnyside has erected a platform on which every citizen can stand if he has enough ability to get onto it. It is something like this: "The county will be divided. We don't know whether we favor division or not, but if we do, we want the line far enough west so that Sunnyside can be a county seat. If not there, then we want it far enough east of Sunnyside so that Prosser can't be a county seat. If division, which is inevitable, can't be made on one of these lines, we are unalterably opposed to it, and will protest most solemnly." Prosser took Sunnyside in on the division scheme for the moral effect a united front against the common enemy would have on the legislature. When the line was agreed on at a joint conference, she came to center smilingly, but made a few mental reservations. One was that if it should accidentally happen that the line of the new county passed through the middle of Sunnyside village, Prosser would not be obliged by the terms of the agreement to mourn more than 40 days. Prosser is for division on a line as far west as possible, but not too far; that is, not far enough so that Sunnyside can be the county seat.

Kennewick, Prosser and Sunnyside have representatives at Olympia, each working for division on different lines, and consequently doing no good. There is little chance that the county will be divided. There is none at all unless the weight of North Yakima's influence is thrown into the scale. A good many people hold that it would be well for North Yakima to join with the lower county town and bring about division if possible at once. They argue that division will come anyway in the near future, and that it might better come when this town can draw the line where it chooses than to come when it hasn't much to say about boundaries.

No matter how large the majority of a political party may be, it cannot retain the confidence of the people if its record is one of false pretenses and the violation of pledges. The republican party of this state is bound to pass a commission bill, if it does not keep the promise it made in this matter it will meet with an early and righteous rebuke at the polls.

EX-SENATOR JOHN B. ALLEN died suddenly in Olympia yesterday morning.

THE REPUBLIC is a loyal republican paper, but its loyalty does not require that it express pride in the handiwork of the republican politicians now in control at Olympia.

SOMEbody has sprung another scandal about the state reform school. It is alleged that inmates have been guilty of unmentionable practices. This is thought to be a reflection upon the management of the school. Those who think so apparently think that it is possible to round up 150 of the toughest little devils in the state at the reform school and convert them forthwith into models of decorum and propriety.

ROB Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane—not to mention Ellensburg, North Yakima and a dozen other secondary towns—of railroad favor and they would fall back into mere wrecks of themselves.—Portland Oregonian.

So far as other towns in the state are concerned, this may be true for all the REPUBLIC knows, though it probably is not. It certainly is not true that North Yakima subsists on the favors of a railroad.

THEY MAKE HIM GIVE IT BACK

Two Irate Husbands Meet the Man Who Enlarges Pictures.

Two well known Yakima men, one a city official and the other an ex-county official, Wednesday afternoon hunted up the man who enlarges pictures and by main force and awkwardness made him disgorge several dollars which he had obtained from their wives a few hours earlier. The names of the men, at the request of one of the wives, are withheld. The men would like to have their names printed, as they think they did a brave deed, but the wives object, publication of their husbands' names would assuredly lead to their own identification.

The agent took orders for enlarging two pictures from the two ladies. This was easy, as the pictures were to cost nothing. Then it occurred to him that the pictures ought to be framed, so he sold them frames, one at $3 and the other at $5. It further occurred to him that he needed money, so he collected one-half in advance from each lady.

After he left one lady, who belongs to a well known woman's club for the purpose of improving her mind, suddenly bethought herself that the agent had her money, and might never come back again. So she phoned Banker Cannon and asked him not to pay her check. The banker gave her the merry ha-ha, saying that the agent had just presented the check and taken away the money. Then she thought awhile longer and asked him for goodness sake never to tell her husband about the transaction. He ha-haed again and confessed that it was such a good one that he had already told her husband.

At supper time a council of war of the two wives and two husbands was held, and the men marched off down to the hotel where the agent was stopping, and demanded the return of the money. The agent was game to the last, even when one man laid hands on him, but the arrival of a police officer who had been telephoned for finally induced him to dig up, though he did so with vigorous protests that his business was legitimate and honorable and that he was being unfairly treated.

SUNNYSIDE.

Mr. Hoover is growing stronger and is able to be around in the house.

May Ehmer is visiting in Sunnyside this week and attending the revival meetings.

Mrs. Perrin has the foundation for a nice house completed on Fifth street and will build soon.

Mr. Mannington's new house is to be ready for occupancy by May 1. Mr. G. W. Reese has the contract.

Mrs. Ustick, Mrs. John Sheller's mother, seems much the same. She is helpless with paralysis but does not seem to suffer.

It is rumored that Rev. Johnson and Mr. Stewart are to form a partnership in real estate and will have their office over Cloud's store.

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room" as rendered at the Odd Fellows' hall by Zillah talent was well rendered to a fair audience last week.

Mr. Sapp is building a house for rent on Ninth street which will be occupied by Mr. Cornell and family. Mr. Sapp's son has already built a little house on Ninth street and is occupying it.

There have been between 30 and 40 conversions at the Federated church. Meetings are of great interest. Rev. Rowland will remain until Friday evening and longer if he can possibly arrange his coming evangelistic engagements.

LOWER NACHES.

Mrs. A. McGee has been confined to the house for the past ten days with rheumatism.

Mrs. Meserve, who has been visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Whitmore, has returned home.

Andrew Jacobson was pleasantly surprised Tuesday night by a number of his school friends. It was his fifteenth birthday.

The new church pews will be here about March the first. The committee on purchasing is A. H. Bair, E. N. Friend, Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Whitmore.

FRUITVALE.

W. D. Thompson and wife took dinner at the Nash's on Saturday. Rev. J. J. Tickner and wife were also callers.

Mrs. C. W. Nash since her late relapse seems to be recuperating as rapidly as can be expected and Miss Birdie has returned to Everett again.

Mr. Richards, the new arrival from Nebraska, has moved to his new home on the Pittner place and as soon as the weather will permit will try his skill at ranching—a new occupation for him.

M. L. Walker of Sunnyside was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. W. B. Newcomb has returned from an extended trip among friends in Wisconsin.

Fred Gedosch has purchased five acres from the fruit ranch of H. E. Linse on Nob Hill, the consideration being $3000.

NOTES ABOUT TOWN.

A gentleman who returned the other day from a trip to Zillah, in speaking of the fruit industry in that locality, tells of having seen 4,000 boxes of winter apples stored in the fruit cellar of J. B. Rammerman. They are the product of seven acres of orchard, which produced over 5,000 boxes, the same having been contracted for 70 cents a box, delivered at the railroad, so the crop will yield over $3,500. A year ago last fall, Mr. Rammerman contracted the crop on the trees for $2,800. He was formerly a railway employee, working for about $50 a month, and rents the land for a nominal sum, on which these crops were raised. But he has made enough money in the short time he has been engaged in fruit raising, to purchase a place of his own, having just bought the J. V. Koss farm of 35 acres for $9,000. It consists of 15 acres of winter apples, 15 acres of hay land and six acres for a garden patch, and if the owner makes as much money, in proportion, as he has made off of the seven acres he has been renting, it is easy to calculate that he will soon be independently rich. This circumstance is anything remarkable in the Yakima Valley, either; but for the purpose of showing the farmers "back east," who are wearing their lives out working scrubby land, what a frugal and industrious man, practically without capital, can do in this country. If they fully realized the possibilities here, though, the east would shortly be depopulated of farmers, and as it is the west, which is made up of easterners, of course, gets the cream of that section. It is only the strong, practical, self-reliant farmer, the man who is too ambitious to be satisfied with a mere living, who has the courage to break loose from his eastern home and build a new one "out west." This is the character of men of which the west is composed, all right, and when this is taken into consideration it is no wonder what they accomplish.

"The price of business property in Yakima," remarked a business man the other day, "is almost equal to that in the large cities. Take for instance the recent sale of that business lot to C. P. Wilcox, next to his new building on North Second street, 25 feet for $2,500. That is $100 per front foot on a side street, which I consider a pretty good metropolitan price. Then there was the sale of the McEwen property on Yakima avenue a short time ago, 25 feet for $5,500, over $200 a front foot, and now I hear that the Schott building has been sold for $25,000. But the conditions here, I figure, justify the price paid. Yakima isn't a real city yet, but it is going to be, and the men who are paying the prices mentioned for business property are far-sighted enough to see it. They are making good investments, in my opinion, and the people who think they are plunging will learn, in a short time, that they are only using good business judgment."

One of the leading dry goods merchants of the city informed me the other day that very few of the families of Yakima are now buying their dry goods at Seattle and Tacoma because they think they can be had cheaper in those cities. "There was a time not long ago," he said, "when quite a number of the ladies thought they could do better in dry goods on the Sound than at home. But they are getting over that idea. Only last summer four ladies of my acquaintance, who went over to Tacoma to attend the carnival, informed me when they returned that they had intended to make extensive purchases there, but came home without buying anything. Why was it? Simply because they could do just as well, if not a little better, at home. These special sales that the merchants put on are getting to be a regular thing now, and they give the bargain hunters the opportunity they want, but the regular prices here also justify purchases being made at home and it speaks well for the city that its people are beginning to learn that it is better to patronize the resident merchants and thus keep their money at home."

The weather prophets who were predicting that spring had come, during the thaw of last Saturday and Sunday, haven't had much to say about the weather since. The cold snap of Sunday night and Monday, which still continues at this writing, bids fair to last a few days, at least, and spring can hardly be expected until after the regular February thaw, anyhow. But it is good, wholesome winter weather that we have been having for several weeks past, with the mercury standing only a few degrees below the freezing point, and when we read of the blizzards that have been raging in the middle, western and eastern states, the people here ought to be pretty well satisfied with the weather.

C. E. Bortle, the local agent for the sale of stock of the Phoenix Saving, Building and Loan association, reports that his first efforts resulted in selling 110 shares. The plan of the association is explained in another column in this issue. T. H. Emery is the local agent for the loan department.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whitson went to Seattle yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral of the late Hon. John B. Allen.

TO AMEND THE CONSTITUTION

County Assessors in Convention Want Exceptions Made in Term of Their Office.

Harry Coonse returned from Olympia the first of the week at which place he had been attending the annual meeting of the county assessors of the state. As made this year the meeting was not as important in a general way as that of last year. Nothing but personal property taxation was considered at the meeting and the one important matter considered was the increase of the valuation of the rolling stock of the railway companies where such increase is shown. A committee of five was appointed to gather data on the railway commissions of the different states in the union and present a report for consideration at the next meeting of the assessors in Spokane in 1904.

A bill was endorsed by the association which is to amend section 7, article 11, of the state constitution to read as follows: "No county officer, except the county assessor, shall be eligible to hold his office more than two terms in succession." The words, "except the county assessor," is the change sought so as to give those officials an opportunity to hold office as long as the people want to keep them. The main object to be accomplished is to give better service. It is held that an assessor no sooner becomes familiar with the duties of his office than he is compelled to step down and out and turn the business over to some one unfamiliar with the affairs of assessing property. The bill has been presented to the legislature for the consideration of that body. It provides that the people are to vote on the question at the fall election in 1904. An effort will also be made to knock out the time limit from all the offices so as to give one person a chance to hold office as long as the people will keep him in.

Sale of Business Property.

On Monday the deal was closed for the sale of the H. H. Schott Company building room to A. E. Larson. The consideration was $25,000. The building was owned jointly by H. H. Schott and E. B. Moore of the firm of H. H. Schott Company. The structure was erected two years ago last fall and has been occupied by that firm since that time. It is a two story building built especially for a general store as operated by the firm. It is situated on the north side of Yakima avenue on the second and third lots west from the corner of Second street. It has a frontage of 50 feet and extends back to an alley 130 feet. That part of the store room occupied by the company for storing on Second street does not go in with the deal, as it is a part of the H. H. Allen property.

Stole Shoes and Sold Them.

George Harris was arrested at Topenish Tuesday and on Wednesday had a hearing before Justice Taggard on the charge of stealing a pair of shoes from in front of D. A. Hanna's store. A young man giving the name of C. H. Burroughs was arrested a few days before on the same charge, and at the last hearing it developed that both men were together at the time the theft was committed. It appears that the two were together one evening last week and while passing Hanna's store Harris picked up a pair of rubber shoes valued at $2.25. They were later turned over to Burroughs who was instructed to take them to the Fletcher saloon. The day following Burroughs traded the shoes to L. Blumenthal for another pair, and then gave Harris 25 cents for the shoes. Harris denied that he stole the shoes, but nevertheless he was fined for the same offense, but his sentence was let stand because he received the stolen goods.

The Modern Brotherhood initiated 30 new members last Saturday night. After the exercises a luncheon was served.

A. S. Coons has purchased the job office of Harry Mitchell of south Second street. Mr. Coons recently came from Iowa.

George M. Fox and son arrived here last Friday from Cut Bank, Mont., and are now spending the time looking about the valley for a location.

C. H. Burrows, a lad not past 16, stole a pair of shoes from in front of the store of D. A. Hanna Saturday, and at a hearing Monday before Justice J. A. Taggard was fined $60 and costs.

The extension of the telephone system from the Sunnyside district to this city has been abandoned for the present. The promoters say they have not had the time to devote to the work.

The Northern Pacific has erected a small ice house at the northern end of the freight depot to store the product for the dining cars and also for the work trains. The ice will be brought here from the Pasco store house when needed.

At the Portland poultry show Leonard Schott took prizes on Buff Plymouth Rocks as follows: First on cock, first and second and V. H. C. on cockerel, third and H. C. on pullet and first on pen. H. C. means a most creditable winning.

W. D. Walker, the new plumbing inspector, has filed his bond with the city clerk, and taken up his official duties. His first work was to inspect the plumbing in the Wilcox and Glazer buildings, which he found to be in first class condition.

Mrs. Dr. Owens Adair, who purchased a ten acre tract near the Cascade Lumber plant last week, is making arrangements to erect a store building and meat market near the company's grounds. The store building will be two stories, the upper part fitted up for living rooms.

Elmer Stewart of North Yakima has secured a position with Randall Bros. as city circulator of the daily papers to take Mr. Wright's place, who has resigned and will leave in a few days for California where he expects to settle. Mrs. Kate McGinnis of North Yakima is visiting her mother Mrs. Shields—Cascade Miner.

The lumber dealers of the county met here last Thursday and fixed a rate of uniform prices for the season. It was a mutual gathering and the results will be beneficial alike to all the dealers of the valley. As has been announced in this paper before the price of all building material has been raised by the lumbermen of the coast and in consequence the local dealers must raise the price also. The taking away of half the ten per cent. discount is a point that is bothering the contractors considerably, but the local dealers say 5 per cent. is the best they can do in this matter.

The condition of Volney Taft, who has been confined to his room several weeks, is now more encouraging, though he is still dangerously sick. He was first taken with gastritis, and afterwards, when about recovered, suffered an attack of pneumonia.

One of the new passenger engines of the Northern Pacific pulled the 3 p. m. east bound train last Sunday. It is an odd piece of machinery compared to the great moguls that have been pulling the passengers heretofore and attracted a great deal of attention. The engine is considerably longer than the old pattern and has a much larger tender.

The new night policeman made a mistake one evening last week and arrested a well known young business man of the city while the latter was in the Northern Pacific station. The young man had come in from Seattle on a late train and concluded to stay at the station till morning. He sat down on a seat and fell asleep. This is against the rules of the station. The nightman happened along and after a wordy war with the aroused sleeper took him to the city jail where he lay till friends appeared in the morning to identify him.

C. G. Wands, the new city engineer, has not filed his bond yet with the city clerk as required by law. The delay is occasioned by the absence from the city of Walter J. Reed, who had been given as one of the references as required by the bonding company. Mr. Reed left just after his name had been submitted and he could not be found without some delay. However new references have been given and Mr. Wands expects to have the matter fixed very shortly. As soon as the weather permits he will commence work on making a survey for the grading of Fourth street.

WALLA WALLA MAN ELECTED

Senatorial Contest at Olympia Ended Yesterday After a Caucus.

Levi Ankeny was elected United States senator yesterday to succeed Hon. George Turner. He received 99 votes.

The senatorial contest at Olympia came to an end on Wednesday night when twelve of the King county men deserted Harold Preston and went into a caucus. In the caucus Ferguson of Snohomish county, a Wilson man, and Dunn of Yakima, who had been voting for John B. Allen, went to Ankeny, thus giving him the necessary majority.

Sues for $50,000 Damages.

The Henry H. Schott company of this city has brought an action against the firm of Stone, Fisher & Lane of Seattle for $50,000 damages for breach of agreement. After going to a great expense to conduct a closing out sale and advertising it far and wide the Seattle firm failed to keep its agreement to purchase the store, thus putting the H. H. Schott company in an embarrassing situation with the public. Mr. Schott and Mr. Moore say they will continue the business as heretofore and are now making purchases of a spring stock of goods.

To Dig British Columbia Coal.

The Western Coal & Iron Co., of Tacoma, Wash., has been incorporated to operate some large and valuable coal and iron measures in Nicola valley, B. C.

Mr. S. Andrew Hartman, a director of the company, visited the city this week and called at our office, showing samples of the coal, reports, prospects, maps, etc. The coal is a high grade bituminous, and is pronounced by coal experts to be superior in quality to either the Crow's Nest or any Vancouver Island coal, or any other coal known on the coast. It is a first-class coking coal, and for steam and domestic purposes there is no better coal in the country.

The Western Coal and Iron company has secured a very large tract of this very valuable land, 250 acres, or four full sections, claiming that the land contains over 100,000,000 acres of coal, such a vast quantity that it will take 200 years by mining at the rate of 2000 tons per day, to exhaust it. The coal lies in blanket form. There are five seams known to exist, and underlying the land, ranging in thickness from five to eleven feet.

Mr. Nelson Bennett of Tacoma, widely and favorably known all through the state, is the president of the company, and is one of the leading spirits of the enterprise. Judge William P. Reynolds, F. W. Gaston, prominent among insurance men, Leroy Pratt, general manager of the People's store company, Virgil Hayden, paying teller of the Pacific National bank, Judge Ira H. Case, Ben Olson, a member of the city, council and S. Andrew Hartman, all well known business men, are members of the board of directors.

The company has appointed our townsmen, MacCrimmon & Needham, as agents for their company. The first block of the company's treasury stock is now being offered to the public at the low rate of ten cents per share (par value of the stock $1, fully paid and non-assessable).

We think this a splendid opportunity for people of this town and vicinity to participate in one of the safest and biggest money making enterprises in the northwest, as the shares are sure to advance to par, $1, and the VV. & E. Ry., are now about to build into the coal field.

The Crow's Nest Coal shares sold in 1896 as low as 7 cents per share. A thousand shares were bought for an even $100, which today will bring $125,000.

The Crow's Nest shares went up from 10 cents in 1896 to $36 in two years. The same chances offered by the Crow's Nest company eight years ago are now being held out to the people of this county. It is not a speculation, but an investment pure and simple, with a certainty of multiplying the sum invested many hundred per cent in a short time.

Those who invested in the Crow's Nest and in the Great Falls coal mines all became wealthy on a small investment. Coal mining is different from any other mining. There are no "ifs," no "wild-catting," about it.

Coal is one of the great commodities of the world, and always in great demand, a necessity, and with the enormous increase in commerce on the Pacific with the Orient, the rapid development of all industries, the consumption of coal is enormous, and the demand will steadily increase. The United States congress has now put coal on the free list. This will be of the same benefit to British Columbia coal, which always was recognized to be of superior quality to any coal in the United States.

For further particulars call and see MacCrimmon & Needham, who will cheerfully show prospectuses, maps, reports, samples of coal, etc.

THE YAKIMA BANK TO BUILD

Yakima Hardware Company Sold Corner to That Institution—A Fine Structure.

The Yakima National bank has closed a deal with the Yakima Hardware Company whereby it comes into possession of the corner occupied by that firm. The consideration is private. This gives the bank a 75 foot front on Yakima avenue, or 100 feet including the 25 feet owned by George Donald, president of the bank. This deal is the result of considerable negotiating between parties. At first the hardware company had about completed plans and all arrangements for the erection of a new building on the corner, but the sale changes the situation.

The bank will now do the building. It is its intention to erect one of the finest business blocks in the city during the coming summer with the object of occupying the corner room itself. The whole front of the brick building, occupied by D. N. Keene and the bank, will be remodeled to correspond with the frontage of the new structure and an addition will be built on the rear to extend back to the alley.

The bank will occupy the 25 feet on the corner and the Yakima Hardware company will take the 50 foot store room between that and Keene's place of business. There will be a first street front, which will be used by the hardware people besides a part of the upper story. It has not been decided yet whether to make it a two or three story building.

George Donald, president of the Yakima National bank, is in Tacoma to look up plans for the new bank building. He will also visit Portland and will be absent about a week. He was accompanied by his son George.

REPORT OF YAKIMA MARKETS

Weekly Summary of Conditions in Principal Agricultural Lines.

POTATOES.
George Herlin, who represents Wolf & Sons, shipping and commission merchants of San Francisco, has shipped out of this place since coming here last fall 50 car loads of potatoes. He has sent the greater part of them to the Sound market, but he has found a very good sale of the Yakima product in California this winter. He has also shipped 16 car loads of hay from this place during the time.

In speaking of the Yakima potato he said to a reporter of the REPUBLIC the other day: "I find the Yakima potato not so good this year as in former years. This is wholly on account of the way the raisers handle them. Too many of your farmers will allow the tuber to lie in the sun too long before sacking and placing in the shade. This causes them to turn green and decay. I have found thousands of dollars worth of potatoes here that were spoiled for the market just on account of the manner of handling them by the grower."

"If Yakima expects to keep up its prestige in the potato markets of the country the farmers must take more pains in preparing them for market. They must be dried and stored away before the sun gets a chance to spoil them; and they must be sorted and graded if the grower expects the top price. I am now willing to pay $10 a ton for a good potato, but $9 is the best I can pay for what I get, and a great many of the potatoes brought in are worth only from $7 to $8."

"Now, I want to say that there is a great future for this valley if the farmers will grow their crops properly and prepare them in some kind of shape for the market. This is the only way to get and keep a good market. I have been shipping Yakima potatoes to the Philippines, Honolulu, Mexico and some of the southern states and I find that there will be good markets in those countries in the future if the farmers do their part."

SHEEP.
Harvey Bros. & Johnson of this city last week purchased the 3000 head of sheep of J. A. Halstead, who has been feeding at Prosser during the winter. The price paid is not given, but it is said to be on a basis whereby the purchasers can feed at a profit and sell out in the spring. Mr. Halstead is a well known sheepman of the Rattlesnake country. He has gone to Seattle to look after some property he owns in that city.

APPLES.
Good apples are now in demand at prices ranging from $1.25 to $1.75 a box. These are the figures offered on the Sound and represent a good condition of the market for this time of the year. There is not a very large number of apples stored away in Yakima this year, most of the growers selling early in the fall and winter to save storing them. It is predicted that apples will be very much higher this spring than for several years past.

HOPS.
The Portland Oregonian of the 22nd has the following to say on the hop situation as it appears in Oregon: "Brewers have entered the hop market in earnest, and nearly all dealers have orders from the east. Prices have moved upward until 27c has been reached, a few sales having been made at that figure. The natural result of this condition of things has been to strengthen the views of such growers as are fortunate enough to have any hops left, and purchases are not readily made, even at the top mark. It is difficult to ascertain the exact quantity of hops left in first hands, but estimates run from 9000 to 12,000 bales."

The New York Journal of Commerce of the 16th said: "Attention was called to the fact that for the last three or four weeks the net receipts of hops at New York have been small, as most of the supplies received have been for export or forward shipment. The indications are that the total receipts of hops at New York during January will be the smallest in many years for the same period. It was stated that importers who had contracts to deliver German hops to brewers were buying in the contracts at a considerable advance over the prices at which they were made. Decidedly strong advices were received from the coast, the reports stating that every sound hop in Oregon had been taken; that 26c was freely bid, and that there were rumors that as high as 26½ was paid."

There is a liveliness in the hop situation at the present time that bids fair to create considerable interest among the growers and buyers. Three sales were made the first of the week, as follows: Mrs. L. Rowe, 52 bales, to Charles Carpenter, 27 cents a pound; John McPhee, 50 bales, to S. Huntington & Co., 27 cents; F. H. Spon, 52 bales, to A. E. Poole, 26½ cents. There are several deals under way, but owing to the strong upward tendency of the market the holders may delay dealing for a short time yet. One buyer in the city said a few days ago he had orders to buy at 27 cents when the market was 26 cents, and he carried out his instructions. He also had orders, he says, to buy at a higher price if necessary. The larger holders of hops are of the opinion that 30 cents will be paid before a very great while.

Was Misunderstood.

Editor of the REPUBLIC: Please allow me to correct one or two unintentional mistakes in your report of my remarks before the council last week. I did not say that the income of the library had dwindled, but that the expenses had increased. I did not say that I had raised the money for the library for a term of years, but that I had raised the money by contributions from the business men of the city to maintain the reading room. The library and the reading room are two different things.

H. M. BARTLETT.

MONEY AWAITS HIS RETURN

Lewis Morher Wanted at Glenn Falls, N. Y., by a Brother.

Postmaster Lemon this week received the following letter inquiring as to the whereabouts of one Lewis Morher, who is wanted at Glenn Falls, N. Y., where some money awaits his return.

GLENN FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 18 1903. To the postmaster of North Yakima, DRAX SPRING. Will you be kind enough to send me the address of some news paper of your place, as I want to advertise for a brother of mine. The last I heard of him he was in your city. I have a picture of him taken by Haines the photographer. His name is Lewis Morher, I enclose postage stamp for answer. Please answer immediately as there is money here in waiting for him if I can find any trace of him.

16 School Street, Glenn Falls, N. Y.

HEAR HIM TALK!

"The Old man that Bought Harris Out." Some merchants advertise on the theory "that a sucker is here every minute." You watch! They advertise prices on two or three articles (that's "sucker" bait), then they get off that old chestnut, "come early and avoid the rush," "first come first served," or rather "first come first swindled." Then they get behind the door and wait for a while.

When I see people rush to a store that does that kind of a business, may I exclaim in the language of Puck "what fool these mortals be." Just cut out any prices you find in the papers and bring them to my store and you will find they are my regular prices; every child, every Indian, can get my goods that cheap. Try it and you are in no danger of getting swindled. If you should want to purchase anything else, don't "come early to avoid the rush," you can get these prices any day or night in the year (Sunday excepted). You need not come first to be served, we wait on you "any old time." We are leaders, we never follow. Yours for business, jan 30-tf W. S. EARLS.

A Good Recommendation.
"I have noticed that the sale of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and Tablets is almost invariably to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Webber, a prominent druggist of Cascade, Iowa. What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when again in need of such a remedy? Try them when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or are troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. For sale at Fred L. Janek's drug store.

Notice to Taxpayers.
The tax rolls of Yakima county covering the assessments for the year 1902 on both personal property and real property have been turned over to me for collection. These taxes are payable on and after the second day of February 1903. Personal property taxes are delinquent after March 4th. Real estate taxes are delinquent May 31st. 3 per cent reduction on real estate taxes if paid in full by March 15th. E. G. PRICK, County Treasurer. jan 26-30.

F. J. Tickner & Co has purchased, cleaned, renovated and papered the James Photo Studio which greatly adds to its appearance. The new firm are now prepared to do first class work in all styles and guarantee satisfaction. IT

REMARKABLE CURE OF CROUP.

A Little Boy's Life Saved.
I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I can not praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere of Goodwin, S. D., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the phlegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today.—JOEL DEMONT, Inwood, Iowa. For sale by all druggists.

IDENTIFIED THE PRISONERS

Box Car Thieves Taken Back to Portland—New Capture Made Monday Night.

Two of the men who were captured here last week and held on the charge of robbing box cars were taken to Portland on Tuesday to be sentenced for breaking out of the jail of that city. The two other men arrested as accomplices are in the hands of the Yakima authorities and it may be that they will be tried here on various charges.

Frank Ward and Frank Miller are the correct names of the men who were taken back to Oregon. They had been passing under the aliases of Tom Kelly and Carl Brown. Detectives Frank Snow and John Kerigan arrived here Monday afternoon for the prisoners and identified them as two of a gang of four who broke jail in that city on last Christmas day.

The man who gave his name as Frank Charles (which is not his name) was held here and will be tried for selling whisky to Indians. He is the party who revealed the whereabouts of the stolen goods found by the officers cached in a bunch of willows near Yakima City. He is not one of the gang that broke out of the Portland jail, but has been operating by himself in the Yakima valley, stealing whatever chanced his way and occasionally selling whisky to Indians.

A man by the name of Murphy alias "Curley" was arrested Monday night as an accomplice of Ward and Miller. The Portland officials gave him a bad name. They say that he was serving a term in the county jail last November and became what is known as a "trusty" by means of his pleasant ways. He took advantage of the confidence placed in him and skipped out. He will be taken back to Portland as soon as the proper papers can be made out.

All these arrests were made by the combined efforts of the Northern Pacific detectives, Cummings and McFetridge, the city officers, George Hunter and Marshal Mull, and Sheriff Grant. The Portland officials gave them great praise for rounding up the prisoners, who they said are the toughest kind of criminals and in their capture a great feat was accomplished.

The stolen goods recovered are in the possession of Sheriff Grant. There are 71 pairs of shoes in the outfit, all new. The officers now have a clue that may lead to more arrests. Some men have been seen selling shoes at some of the ranches in the southern part of the valley, and a close search is being made for them.

Baptist Church Officials.

At the regular annual business meeting of the Baptist church Thursday, January 22, the following officers were elected:

Trustees, J. H. Needham, L. M. Lane, L. B. Kenyon, G. S. Ellis and B. A. Wylie; deacons, J. L. Stackhouse, A. F. Snelling, O. F. Dean, Prof. B. F. Barge, William I. Huxtable; clerk, Wilbur Crocker; treasurer, B. A. Wylie; chorister, Mrs. Jennie Linn.

Sunday school officers: Superintendent, W. I. Huxtable; assistant superintendent, W. E. Zediker; secretary and treasurer, Earl Greene; librarian, Harland Ellis.

At this meeting it was unanimously voted that the church is able to become self supporting and that no more aid will be asked of the Home Missionary board after February 1, 1903.

William Sawyer was up from Parker the first of the week.

Angus McPherson was a visitor from Sunnyside on Monday.

Pat Jordan returned last week from a two weeks' visit at Walla Walla.

Miss Grace Bunnell is now clerking in the music store of D. S. Johnson.

A. Ruppert came up from Sunnyside Monday morning to attend court.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. George Mathis, Thursday, January 22, 1903, a boy.

H. A. Smith came up from Pasco the first of the week to attend court.

Mrs. N. J. Durgan of Ellensburg visited her son Lot Durgan over Sunday.

Charles McClain of Bickleton, was a county seat visitor the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wright have moved to Prosser to make their future home.

J. G. Logsdon died at his late home in Zillah, January 22, 1903, of pneumonia, aged 78 years.

Fred Fromme left here last Tuesday for Anselma, N. D., after visiting friends for two weeks.

Dr. N. A. Nismith arrived here a week ago from Butte, Mont., and has about decided to locate in the city.

Miss Rhoda Burlingame went to Los Angeles last Saturday to remain several months for the benefit of her health.

L. R. Freeman of the Farm and Home left here Monday for the Sound to be gone for some time on a business trip.

Henry Stanley of Ballard returned home Tuesday after spending a few days with his brother-in-law, A. C. Bollenbach.

The local lodge of Forrester's has been abandoned. This was thought to be inevitable after the organization of the order of Eagles.

M. S. Tuggle, who has been working in Prosser since last summer, has returned home to this place to work at his trade of carpenter.

Hereafter the Order of Eagles will meet on Friday nights in Woodmen hall over postoffice. The lodge has leased the room for that evening in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Badger returned to their home in Waterville last Tuesday after spending a few days here with his brother, W. M. Badger, and friends.

The new cases filed this week are Norah Degan vs. John Degan, divorce; Barney Horowitz and Lewis Horowitz, doing business as partners, vs. D. A. Hanna, debt.

The ladies of the M. E. church will serve a chicken and veal pie dinner in the Wilcox building today, Friday, January 30, from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. Everybody is invited.

J. A. Smith of Blalock, Ore., one of the largest farmers in that section of the country, is in the city visiting his brother-in-law R. H. Armsworth, J. H. Fraser and other friends.

C. M. Darr and W. J. Marble have bought the three acre tract of J. W. Walters near the Union ditch for $1050. They put up a building a few weeks ago on it and have now completed another which Mr. Darr will occupy.

The remains of Abner Nooner were brought from Tappanish, Tuesday, and interred in Tahoma cemetery. Services were held by Rev. J. U. G. Stiverson in the Brethren church on Ahtanum avenue.

Mr. Nooner died Monday, January 26, 1903, at 12 o'clock noon, aged 82 years. He leaves a wife and children.

George E. Wise last week purchased the two lots of William E. Palmer at the corner of A and Moxee streets, the consideration being $755. Mr. Wise will erect a two story frame on the lots this spring as a residence for himself.

Mr. Palmer has purchased the ten acre tract known as "Phidaphia" in the northwest part of the city.

J. B. Early of the Mabton hotel and manager of the Christian Co-operative Colony branch office at that place has been in the city for a few days looking up matters pertaining to the colony. He came from Salem, Oregon, last fall and will make this his future home. He says the people here have more push than those in any other part of the northwest.

Rev. J. U. G. Stiverson is making arrangements for a journey to the Eastern states. He expects to leave here about March 1st and will be absent till June. He will be a delegate to the general conference of the Brethren church which meets at Beaufontaine, Ohio, in May. He will visit friends in Ohio and his old home place in Nebraska. His family will accompany him.

Chas. Davis and family came over from Expansion Tuesday to meet Mrs. Davis' mother, Mrs. Reeder, who arrived from North Yakima the same day. They returned to Expansion Wednesday morning.

Milton Hanson, brother of E. C. Hanson of this place, was in town the latter part of last week, from his home in Oregon. Mr. Hanson went from here to North Yakima, leaving here Sunday afternoon.—Prosser Record.

COMMISSION MEN TAX BILL HE KILLED ELEVEN BOLOMEN

Approved by Some, Condemned by Others — Opinion of One Dealer.

A number of representatives of the fruit growers' union have been circulating a petition for signatures approving the proposed bill originated by the union to compel the commission men to deposit $5,000 with the state auditor as a guarantee of good faith before they are permitted to do business in the state. All kinds of comment has been heard on this proposed measure. Some people who are not commission men condemn it as unjust and unconstitutional, while the commission men say they do not care one whit whether the bill is passed and the idea of attempting to restrict people in business.

"We are thinking also of getting up a bill!" exclaimed one commission man the first of the week. "We have rights! Our bill will make it a misdemeanor for the farmer to put little potatoes in the bottom of a sack and a few big ones on top; ditto apples; and many other things. We want to prohibit the farmer from putting all his bad hay in the center of a bale; and we also want to protect the vines and children of such unscrupulous tillers of the soil. When anything like this occurs they invariably blame it on the wife or children."

"However, coming down to the common sense of the thing the bill will have a beneficial effect no doubt in one way, but I am like a great many people in believing that a person who is caught by a rascally commission man ought to suffer. They have no business to deal with them. The farmer knows as well as I do who the legitimate commission men are, but he is always ready to bite, and does bite hard some times."

"Now, for instance, the legitimate commission man offers the best possible price for potatoes, or hay, or fruit. The farmer thinks he can do better and along comes a smooth-tongued individual representing some big house in the east, or Portland, or San Francisco, and promises to pay two or three dollars more than the local man. What is the result? The new man gets the products, the farmer gets nothing but experience. If the farmer would transact his affairs in a business like way and not think every time a local commission man wants his produce that he is attempting to beat him he would fare better in the end."

"The bill will not effect me, nor many other commission men of the state. When it is passed we will say we are dealers, and then what can be done? It is preposterous to think that I will put up $5,000 to do a little business in this city. When the bill passes there will be but a few commission men in the state, if any; and I know you cannot prevent me from being a dealer. I would rather be a dealer, any way, than a commission man."

Resolved, That as a Camp we extend our fraternal sympathy to her who so deeply mourns his loss, and commend her to the care of an all wise Father, who doeth all things well; and be it further

Resolved, That as a tribute of respect a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved wife, and also to the city papers.

SOME CIVIL COURT CASES

T. A. Davis Wins Suit Against B. E. Parton—Case of Interest to Merchants.

Court was held intermittently this week on account of the way some of the cases were disposed of. Owing to a change in the calendar of cases by reason of dismissals and agreements there was no court till Tuesday morning.

The first case tried was that of T. A. Davis vs. B. E. Parton. The plaintiff alleged that he sold a monument to the defendant for $500, with $100 added for other work done. He erected the monument in the Zillah cemetery for the defendant, who paid him $300 on the contract. The balance was not paid. The defendant put up the defense that the monument was not according to the plans, that it was not worth the amount charged and that it had been damaged easily by the weather. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $300.

The case of Wile Bros vs. D. A. Hanna was taken up Tuesday but it did not come to trial at the time and arrangements were being made for a settlement.

There was no session on Wednesday, but on Thursday the case of the Pacific Butchers' Supply company of San Francisco vs. H. J. Rand was called. This case involves a question that merchants in all parts of the country, no doubt, will be interested in. Mr. Rand had purchased from the plaintiffs a consignment of lard cans and while in transit to this place on the steamer Walla Walla the cans were lost when the ship was destroyed on the California coast last spring. The point at issue is who did the property belong to while in transit. If it belonged to the plaintiffs they would have to stand the loss, if to Mr. Rand he would then be held responsible.

The case of the state vs. Charles Hodges was taken up today. He is on trial on the charge of embezzling money belonging to the Yakima Tea Co.

Indian Released.

An order was issued by Judge Radkin on Wednesday discharging Jim Ike, the Indian, from the custody of the sheriff. After the court had decided in his favor last week the prisoner was held awaiting the action of the federal officers, but they did not make a charge against him. When Jim was turned out he remarked that the law of the white man works mysteriously some times. He did not understand just how he was let go without a trial, although he understood that it was by some magic trick of a lawyer.

Rev. Arthur C. Vail of the Christian church closed his revival services last Sunday night. He has had very good success, 40 new members being added. The church was crowded at all the meetings. His subject for next Sunday morning will be "A Better Leadership." In the evening he will begin a series of sermons on other religions, the first subject to be "Confucius and the Chinese Gods."

The Peacock farm on the Ahtanum has been subdivided into three parts and sold to the following parties: Charles Eglin, 80 acres; J. E. Morrison, 40 acres; William Davis, 40 acres. The price paid was $50 an acre.

"PHOENIX SAVINGS"

Well Known Institution Enters Central Washington Field—Seven Millions of Capital—A Branch is Being Established Here—Some New Features.

The remarkably rapid growth of North Yakima is attracting a great amount of attention from moneyed institutions of other cities. This is particularly noticeable from the fact that the Phoenix Savings, Building and Loan Association of San Francisco, Cal., have established an office here for the purpose of making loans on city property and disposing of the corporation stock to the investing public. Mr. T. H. Emery has been appointed their agent in the interest of their loan department and Mr. C. E. Bortle acts as their special agent for the sale of stock, their offices are rooms 5 and 6, Dudley block.

The "Phoenix" today occupies a leading position among the financial institutions of the west having a subscribed capital of nearly $7,000,000 and an accumulative reserve fund of over $100,000, which absolutely protects its shareholders from losses of every kind whatsoever. It has upon its board of directors such men as Charles E. Ladd, of Ladd & Tilton, bankers of Portland, Ore.; Charles R. Bishop, vice president of the Bank of California, one of the largest commercial banks in the west; George C. Boardman, general western agent of the Aetna Fire Insurance company and one of the directors of the San Francisco Savings Union; A. A. Watkins, who holds the honored position of president of the board of trade of San Francisco and vice president and active manager of the large wholesale firm of W. W. Montague & Co.; Hon. Clarence Grange, who is considered one of the most practical and successful financiers of the Pacific northwest; S. Prentiss Smith, director of the National bank of D. O. Mills, Sacramento. This management alone should insure its continued unprecedented prosperity.

The ideal institution for the depository and accumulating of savings should possess particularly three features: First, absolute safety; second, a definite guarantee; and third, a flexible plan to suit the varying conditions of its shareholders. There has been and is now in the Pacific northwest an urgent demand for an institution possessing all these features and the want seems to be about to be supplied by the "Phoenix." Its plan is new and radically different from that of any other institution of this kind, embracing as it does guarantees of safety and profit while extending options to its shareholders such as must commend themselves to every conservative man and woman.

The "Phoenix" was incorporated under the stringent laws of California in 1889 and reorganized in 1900, when the reserve fund and other up-to-date features were added. Since January 1, 1902, no less than $5,000,000 of the capital stock of this association has been sold among the discriminating and conservative money savers throughout the west. Its earnings have never been less than 9 per cent per annum net. The concern will make loans in North Yakima, as well as place a limited amount of its capital stock among interested investors.

It might be added that Charles Ladd, one of the directors of this company is the president of the First National Bank of this city.
