MAKE A FUSS OVER "UNCLE JOE"

Mention of His Name in Connection With the Presidency Calls Forth Loud Applause From Democrats and Republicans.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—The house, during the past week, was the scene of a notable demonstration when Representative Boutwell, of Illinois, nominated Speaker Cannon for the presidency and democrats as well as republicans cheered to the echo. Just why the democrats should have joined in is not quite clear and there are indications that they now feel that they yielded somewhat to hysteria, for Representative Henry has since demanded in public debate to know why, if "Uncle Joe" is such a "good fellow" he does not permit the president's policies to become laws, as, for instance, the employers' liability law, the anti-injunction bill, and similar measures which are in the interest of the plain people; why he has killed the Appalachian Forest Reserve bill, by referring it to the judiciary committee for a report on its constitutionality, when there is no genuine question on that score and the purpose is only to kill the bill by indirect methods, etc. Every once in a while the members of the house demonstrate the truth of the old adage that "men are but children of a larger growth," by permitting themselves to get hysterical and cheer and applaud things which, on sober second thought, they do not approve at all. This applies quite as much to the republicans as to the democrats, for a recent poll of the republicans showed the members of the house to be for Secretary Taft, two to one.

There are indications that the Aldrich financial bill will not get through the senate without the stamp of democratic statesmanship. Senator Johnston, the new senator from Alabama, has offered an amendment affecting the bank reserves which he supported with such a clever application of Mr. Aldrich's own logic, quoting ever his very words, that it now looks as if the Johnston amendment would be adopted without opposition. There seems to be no doubt that the Aldrich bill amended will pass the senate and Speaker Cannon has promised to jam it through the house, regardless of the fact that there is great opposition to it there.

The senate committee on foreign relations held a secret meeting one day this week in which it seriously criticized the extravagant expenditures of Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador to Great Britain, who is spending money so lavishly that it will be almost impossible for an American of moderate means to follow him in this important post. One member of the committee recited the case of an American who was invited to visit Mr. Reid. He spent several days with the ambassador and when he came to leave he felt he must follow the English custom of tipping all the servants. When they lined up to receive his gratuities there were 135 of them and the poor man was obliged to give away so much money that he had to go to a friend in London and borrow the money to pay his way back to this country. This was at Ambassador Reid's town house, but he maintains also a country home the size of which may be gauged by the fact that he employs 35 gardeners alone. After the discussion of Mr. Reid's extravagant method it was decided to report favorably the bill providing for the purchase of embassies and legations in most of the foreign capitals and a provision was added compelling the foreign representatives of this country to live in the houses so provided. The bill does not, however, provide an embassy in London.

The opponents of war will be glad to learn that the senate has ratified the arbitration treaty with France without a dissenting vote. This means, of course, that the other six treaties which are in process of negotiation will also be approved as soon as they are sent to the senate. The treaty does not do much, but it shows the proper disposition on the part of this country and proves to the world, in a measure at least, that the United States is sincere in its advocacy of arbitration in preference to war in the settlement of international disputes. Probably no foreign people have doubted the sincerity of the present administration, but they may have doubted the disposition of the people as a whole because of the senate's former refusal to ratify the seven arbitration treaties without so amending them that the president would not complete them by exchanging ratifications.

There has been little doing in the way of democratic politics of late. The situation in the democratic party is strikingly similar to that which existed in the republican party four years ago. Then it was assured that President Roosevelt would be renominated and the only lively politics followed the convention and attended the effort to defeat Judge Parker. This year the democrats seem certain to renominate William J. Bryan and it is the republicans who are at sea. If some of the other candidates do not make progress outside of their own states soon, it will be all one way in the republican party. Secretary Taft goes steadily on acquiring delegates in every state in the union while no favorite son has succeeded in securing any delegates to the national convention outside of his own state. It is expected that Delaware will give her six votes to Knox but aside from that no favorite son has secured a single delegate, and even the Delaware delegates are still to get. Senator Foraker is trying to secure some contesting negro delegations but that is looked upon as merely spite work on his part for he stands no possible show of the nomination and besides there are indications that the republicans themselves are getting pretty tired of the negro faction in their party.

ANNUITY FOR EVELYN

Girl Wife Is Said to Have Agreed to Terms Made by Mrs. Wm. Thaw.
New York.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw is to receive an income of $20,000 a year from the Thaw estate for life, according to the plans of Mrs. William Thaw, in consideration of her agreement to an annulment of her marriage to Harry K. Thaw.
The sum is fixed upon by Thaw's mother and it is understood that young Mrs. Thaw has agreed to accept these terms when the time comes to bring about the legal action. Meanwhile, Harry Thaw, in Matteawan, is vigorously opposed to any separation, and is fighting with all his power.

BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION BUSY

Adopt Regulations Looking to the Improvement of the Local Credit System.

The North Yakima Business Men's association held a meeting in the Commercial club rooms last Monday evening for the purpose of talking over a few matters to come before the body. It was in fact the first regular meeting of the new organization. There was a good attendance.

The secretary reported an addition of nine new names to the membership roll bringing the total membership up to 93. A committee of five was appointed to wait upon the business houses which had not yet joined the association.

The matter of endorsing the scheme for advertising in the state fair premium list was discussed at some length with the result that the members unanimously agreed to give the proposition their support.

A committee of five was appointed to formulate a plan for employing a rate clerk, whose duty it will be to look after the collection of over charges on freight, and the verifying of freight weights.

A resolution was adopted showing it to be the sense of the association that employees of the members should be prompt in paying their accounts. Following is the resolution:

"Whereas, one of the objects of the association is the assistance of its members in their credit relations, and

"Whereas, it is the belief of this association that its members should render to each other in those relations all assistance possible, now therefore,

"Be it resolved, that it is the sense of this association that each member thereof inform his employees that they are expected and required to settle all just debts owing by them to any member of this association, and that upon their failure to do so, or to make reasonable arrangements looking toward that end, they shall be dropped from the service of the member by whom they are employed, and

"Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be furnished to each member of this association, who shall post the same in his place of business in a position conspicuous to his employees."

AN ENJOYABLE MUSICAL

Home of Mrs. E. B. Moore Scene of Notable Gathering.

By the invitation of Mrs. E. B. Moore about 150 guests assembled at her home on North Second street Thursday evening to hear one of the most entertaining programs of the kind ever rendered in the city. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. Hartshorn, a new arrival in the city, whose acquisition to the musical and society circles has already caused a flurry of an unusual nature.

Every number on the meritorious program was enjoyed. Especially did Mrs. Hartshorn's selections appeal to the audience. She possesses a pleasing, powerful and highly cultivated contralto voice. The following program was given:

Part I.

Piano solo Mrs. Boyle
Baritone-Tenor Mr. Erwin
Soprano solo Miss Wallace
Contralto solo Mrs. Wiggins
Bass solo Mr. Meigs
Soprano solo Mrs. Van Brundt

Part II.

Piano solo Miss Day
Baritone solo Dr. Keeler
Soprano solo Mrs. Alexander Miller
Contralto solo Mrs. Hartshorn
Male Quartette
Dr. Keeler, Leo. O. Meigs, James O. Loudon, Warren A. Erwin.

SHERIFF EDWARDS MAKES NICE HAUL

Takes into Custody Unlicensed Saloon Vendor—Deputy Metzger Has Fun on Trip.

Sheriff John Edwards and Deputy Sheriff Joe Metzger went over to Priest Rapids on the Columbia river last Saturday and arrested a man named Ernest Schneider. The latter is accused of conducting a saloon at Priest Rapids without a license. When the sheriff called on Mr. Schneider he found him at his liquor dispensary, but evidently Schneider had sold out, as he had nothing to offer the sheriff, but he apologized for his negligence stating that on the following day a fresh consignment of liquor would be up on the boat.

Sheriff Edwards then introduced himself to Mr. Schneider, telling him that he held a warrant for his arrest and one for his bartender, a man named Bolton.

The surprise was complete and Schneider gave up without a word. He seemed to realize that he was strictly up against it, and wanted to know what kind of bail the sheriff would accept. Mr. Edwards took him into custody without further discussion. He himself brought Schneider here overland, while Deputy Sheriff Metzger came around by way of Kennewick with his prisoner, Bolton. The reason Sheriff Edwards sent Metzger around by boat and railroad was due to the fact that Deputy Metzger had spied a large slot machine in one corner of the saloon. He quietly walked over to the machine, and finding it full of nickels, placed it under arrest.

"Take good care of that machine and bring it around with you," admonished Sheriff Edwards to Deputy Metzger.

Accordingly Metzger started out with his prisoner and the machine bound for North Yakima. When the party arrived here an examination of the machine resulted in the discovery that there were no nickels in the strong box. Upon inquiry it was ascertained that Deputy Metzger had been playing the machine with slugs and had practically succeeded in breaking it. Prisoner Bolton told Sheriff Edwards that Metzger played the machine all the way from Priest Rapids to Kennewick and that if he had wanted to jump into the Columbia and escape Metzger would not have been any the wiser. The machine contained about $10, so it is said, and of course an investigation will have to be made. Now, it is just possible that the story on Metzger has been exaggerated, but Sheriff Edwards insists on a thorough investigation of the affair.

Metzger's friends say the story is a fabrication; that he never did play a slot machine. Deputy Sheriff Grant says that Prosecuting Attorney Wende is the only official in Yakima county who ever made a pretense of bucking machines, and "I know for a fact, that he has quit it," said Mr. Grant.

Well, to return to Schneider and Bolton, they were both placed under heavy bonds and cited to appear for a hearing at an early date. The matter of the slot machine will be taken up later. The machine and Deputy Metzger may both be seen at the Sheriff's office in the courthouse.

WILL NOT POSTPONE MARCH JURY TERM

After giving the proposal to postpone the jury term from next month until May, Judge Preble has decided that he will not make the change. There are quite a number of cases ready for trial and most of the jurors drawn on the March panel have been summoned, so that a postponement of the jury term would cause considerable inconvenience. Moreover, there are 11 criminal causes to be heard and six or seven of the defendants are in jail and some of them already have been there for a considerable time.

If necessary another jury term will be held later in the year before fall, but Judge Preble will endeavor to avoid summoning a jury during the busy season of the farmers.

TILTON PROJECT LOOKS GOOD

Chief Engineer A. P. Davis Visits Head Works of the Big Canal and Talks Encouragingly of the Outlook.

"I am thoroughly pleased with the progress that has been made on the Tilton project," said Chief Engineer A. P. Davis, of the United States reclamation service, upon his return last Monday night from an inspection tour along the head works of the big canal. "The engineers in charge of the undertaking are to be commended for their close attention to the duties incumbent upon them and I am convinced the canal will be a success, and when completed the estimated cost will not have been exceeded," said Mr. Davis among other things.

Accompanied by the engineers of the reclamation service in charge of the local project Mr. Davis visited the camps at the head of the canal last Saturday and Sunday, returning Monday night. It was his first trip over the ground of the Tilton canal. He, of course, has been familiar with the plans, but had never before made a personal supervision of the work.

That Mr. Davis is pleased with the entire situation, including the much-talked-of concrete forms controversy with which Contractor Weisberger was connected until relieved by the reclamation department, is an omen of the gratifying condition of affairs. Referring to the system of lining the canal Mr. Davis said:

Shapes Are Satisfactory.
"I am satisfied that the system of lining the canal with concrete shapes will prove entirely satisfactory. These shapes, when once placed in the canal, fit into it and are supported by the filling and once in position there is no question that they have sufficient strength. It is true that the transporting of the shapes from the plant to the canal is a delicate operation but it is being carried on with entire success and there is no reason whatever for anxiety on the part of the water users regarding this phase of the canal construction."

Cost of Canal.
"Notwithstanding the fact that last year, owing to the scarcity of labor, the engineers here had to employ inefficient men and pay much higher wages than was anticipated when the estimates for the Tilton project were prepared, I believe that the work will not exceed the estimates. For a while last year, for the reason stated, the cost of the work went beyond expectations, but that will be equalized, I think, by reason of the more favorable conditions now prevailing."

"I am quite satisfied with the work on the project. We have a very efficient force of engineers and workmen on the Tilton now and the force is well organized."

Date of Completion.
"We shall push the construction work ahead now and complete the canal as soon as we can, but we shall not endeavor to rush the work by the adoption of any expensive expedients. It is of the first importance to the people who will use the Tilton water that the cost of the work should be kept as low as possible and therefore I consider that economy and efficiency are of more ultimate importance than the actual date of the completion of the work. I think it is doubtful whether the canal will be completed in time for the irrigation season of 1909."

Sunnyside Canal Improvements
The plans for the extensions and betterments proposed on the Sunnyside project are now being considered by the reclamation service, says Mr. Davis, and a considerable amount of work will be done this year. There are many proposals before the officers of the service and these require examination before the program for the year is finally decided upon.

Mr. Davis will leave the city this afternoon for Boise, Ida., and he expects to spend the next two or three months inspecting the projects of the service in various parts of the west. He hopes to visit North Yakima again before returning to the capital.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

Flour prices per sack are reduced all along the line in the market quotations today, the cut being not less than 5 cents per sack in every instance and in some cases running as high as 30 cents on previous quotations. This is the case with whole wheat flour, the price on which today is $1.25. Bluebell is down 10 cents. Graham flour is $1.25.

Hay, feed and produce prices remain unchanged but there is little farther to be said. Quotations given above are those of local houses dealing in the articles named. One heavy producer of hay in the Naches said as a matter of fact that he could load alfalfa on board cars and hold it ready for shipment and then have great difficulty in getting $7 for it. Another said he was selling his at $8 but was having hard sledding at that.

Sound Reports Conflicting.

Seattle papers say that there is no market for hay while Tacoma papers declare the market is firm and that a ready sale offers for such had as is supplied. The same uncertainty as to conditions applies to potatoes. In both hay and potatoes there is a certainty that there will be three months more of consumption. One expert thinks there will be hay enough for all the demand those three months can make while another says the intervening consumption will eat up what is held. The prevailing opinion, locally, among those who know what is held and who are also posted on the general demand in the markets, is that both hay and potatoes will be held over. One of the largest local dealers in seed potatoes is asking $50 a ton for early rose and says they are scarce. A prospective buyer yesterday turned away from him and purchased the same article from a farmer for $25 and was told they were plentiful. Getting down to a proper basis of advice is therefore hard.

With regard to fruits the general opinion is that conditions are looking up. Shipments are being made east and west and the hold-over stock is being about cleared up.

Local Green Unions Offered.

Retail market conditions remain unchanged. Local green onions are now on sale and the general onion market has improved over the slump of a short time ago. The last Sound quotation was $3.25 per 100. Sound markets are expecting tomatoes and cabbages from California but none have come this far as yet. Butter holds its own and eggs are according to the dealer. They are quoted today at 25 cents per dozen. The difference is whether the grocer makes a profit from them or handles them as an accommodation. Chicken fanciers are selling their eggs from thoroughbred stock at this time at fancy prices for hatching. The eggs marketed are from the scrub stock and do not always represent a profit to the producer.

In meats there is no great activity though there are large quantities of stock moving west through here for Sound packers. Hogs can be purchased in Nebraska at 2 cents a pound less than local dealers can buy them here and there are big shipments being made from that state. There are also large quantities of cattle passing through. The meat problem is an increasing one so far as the large packers are concerned. Seattle and Tacoma being large distributing centers.

PLENTY OF RACE MONEY FOR CIRCUIT HORSES

Spokane, North Yakima and Salem Will Divide $34,000 Among Racers.

Spokane at its annual fall fair will help along the harness horse game by distributing $9000 among the harness horsemen for the races during the fair, which will be October 5-10, which is the week immediately following the North Yakima fair. It appears to be a good year on the circuit. Salem, which precedes the fair here, will distribute some $15,000; North Yakima will dispose of some $10,000 and Spokane will follow with $9,000, which will make a total of $34,000 to be distributed within three weeks. Following is the program of the Spokane fair races as sent here to the state fair board:

Monday, October 5, 2:25 trot, stake $1000; 2:18 pace, $600.
Tuesday, 2:05 pace, stake $1000; 2:14 trot, $600.
Wednesday, 2:25 pace, stake $1000; 3 year old trot, stake $400.
Thursday, 2:10 trot, stake $1000; 3-year-old pace, stake $400.
Friday, 2:12 pace, stake $1000; 2:40 trot, $400.
Saturday, 2:18 trot, stake $1000; 2:35 pace, stake $500.

ABUNDANCE OF WATER STORED IN THE HILLS

Wealth for the Farmer and Rancher Is Said to Be Satisfactorily Placed.

Reports from the divide are to the effect that there is plenty of snow for the water which will be needed by the fields and trees this summer. And the supply is continuing to increase. Well to the north of Roslyn there is reported a depth of 10 feet of snow by incoming miners who have made trip on their skis. There is 10 feet at Galena and almost seven feet at the head of Lake Cle Elum, and this is all packed so firm as to be really of the consistency of ice, said the depth of the snow is much greater and on the south slope there is declared to be a regular ice formation which will yield only to the warming rays of summer and not vanish before the assaults of any passing chinook. The early winter snows, it is said, were followed by rains which hardened the earth's covering to such a consistency as to make it slow in giving up its stored waters and thus of the greatest benefit to the ranchers.

APPLE MARKET GOOD BUT POTATOES WEAK

Horticultural Union Has Disposed of Its Surplus Cars of Fruit in the East.

Apples are finding an improving market but the outlook for potatoes is black. Such are the reports which reach North Yakima and they come from reliable sources. With regard to the apples, Fred Thompson, of the Thompson Fruit company, and who has just returned to North Yakima after an absence of some weeks on the Sound, says there is a distinct revival in the apple trade and conditions much more favorable than had been anticipated are likely to result for those holding fruit. A similar report comes from the Horticultural union. That organization has disposed, in the east and south, of all the apples it had for market and holds now only vineapples, and Arkansas Blacks, which there is no desire to get rid of at this time. E. E. Samson, manager of the union, when last heard from, was at San Antonio, Texas. That was several days ago. Since then there have been several storms and wire communication appears to have been interfered with as no word has come through from him. However, a wire has gone through from here telling him not to make any further apple sales.

Over-Supply of Spuds.

Commission men on the Sound believe that there will be a holdover of 2000 cars of potatoes unless something unforeseen occurs to change the present outlook. There is said to be an excess of 4000 cars of potatoes in Oregon and 2000 in Washington. The Palouse and White river districts of Washington are reported to be filled with potatoes and it is known that a great many are held in this valley. The trouble is that last year every district was a potato producer. The crop in general was enormous and the consumption has not been as large as was expected. Washington could probably eat up its own production without any particular loss, if at all, but there is no way of keeping Oregon out of the Washington market. San Francisco is overstocked and so are the other markets of California which leaves Washington and the prospective Alaskan trade as loop holes.

Hope Is a Forlorn One.

As it stands now, then, commission men do not expect to see much in the potato field in the way of better prices while they do not hesitate to say that the appearances are that the bottom is out from under the situation. With the aggregate of sacks running well up into the millions and another growing season approaching the sky does not look too cheerful. Alaska shipments may be greater than counted on and the seed buying may make a heavier total than is thought. These two outlets are not sufficient, however, to relieve the situation.

Norris & Rowe Coming.

Much has been said and printed relative to the combine which was made the past year in which the big circuses of this country were amalgamated. Before Norris & Rowe entered into the agreement they gave the subject great thought. It has been their aim always to give the public a clean, moral, refined performance, and that they succeeded in this is best illustrated by their past success. Wishing to give the public more for its money each year has been a constant problem that they have worked on incessantly. When the powers that be of the big combine approached Norris & Rowe and invited them to participate in the benefits to be derived from the union, they gave the matter further consideration. After so doing they saw a way clear in the saving of vast sums of money that had been wasted in useless warfare for territory, and in divers other ways to increase in size and in the general excellence of their entertainment. By agreement entered into, the Barnum & Bailey circus will make the New England states; the Sells-Forepaugh circus has been retired from service entirely; the Ringling Bros. will make the middle west and southern states, and the Greater Norris & Rowe circus has been given the territory west of the Rockies. There will be but one of the big circuses in the trust to visit any section of the country any given year. This applies only to the big circuses, any of the little one horse affairs may go where they please. The trust has a special representative in each of the big cities of Europe booking the big sensational acts; securing the strongest freaks, and the most expensive and rare animals. These acts and novelties are equally distributed among the three big circuses to the agreement, an advantage that heretofore has not been possible. The Greater Norris & Rowe circus has been enlarged to such an extent this year that it is now on a par with the other big shows in the combine, and will hereafter be one of the "big three." Their engagement in San Francisco this winter which extended over a month, was the most successful ever played by a tented exhibition in the history of the west. The entire press of the city was unanimous in proclaiming it to be the best circus ever seen in the city.

AHTANUM WATER USERS CALLED TO MEET HERE

A meeting of all persons interested in the waters of Ahtanum creek for irrigation purposes, outside of persons interested in Indian lands, is called for February 29 at the court house in this city for the purpose of appointing a committee to confer with Hon. James R. Garfield, secretary of the interior, with a view to settling the question of rights between the white farmers and the Indians as to the use and the division of the waters of that stream. The importance of this meeting may be seen at a glance by those interested.

By the federal treaty of 1855-6 Ahtanum creek was made the boundary between the reservation and the outside territory on the north. It conceded to the Indians the exclusive fisheries right in the waters of that stream, the only stream on which such exclusive rights were reserved for the Indians in the northwest.

Indians Held Lands Jointly.

At that time the Indians held the reservation lands jointly. The supreme court of this state has since decided that riparian rights must be recognized in law. The state has since recognized appropriations also. These have been made by the white claimants. The Indians have made none.

The Ahtanum water users among the whites profess high regard for Secretary Garfield's purpose to deal with the matter in an impartial manner. They would much prefer to have the secretary determine the matter than to take it into the courts, for the secretary would be much less likely to be influenced by technicalities, thus settling the controversy without loss of time unnecessarily.

An Old Dispute.

It is an old dispute among the white water users and the Indians on the Ahtanum. Much loss has already been entailed because it has not been definitely determined. As early as the water becomes low in the stream the quarrel rises to high tide among those interested. The Indians are very jealous of their fisheries rights. The question as to whether the dividing line between the disputants is the center of the creek or the lower bank of the stream is involved. The white claimants have confidence that Secretary Garfield will determine the matter in March for all time.

WANT STATUE REMOVED

The city council will present a petition to the county commissioners next Monday asking that the statue erected to the memory of North Yakima volunteers who fell in the war with Spain, and which now stands on Yakima avenue, opposite the Yakima hotel, be removed and erected in front of the county courthouse on the grounds which are to be parked.

The statue is considered to be placed inconveniently where it now stands and it is thought that a site in the courthouse grounds would be more suitable and better in every respect.

The work of leveling the grounds is proceeding rapidly. The ground will be raised to the level of the roads and a terrace built along the walls of the courthouse, sloping to the park.

PROPOSED HOP UNION IS NOT A FAILURE

The proposed union of hop growers of the Pacific coast is not a failure, according to a letter received by H. B. Seidler, the North Yakima member of the board of governors, from W. E. Lovdal, secretary of the union.

"We have no intention of giving up the fight," says Mr. Lovdal, and adds that Washington has 70 per cent of its acreage signed up, California has signed up 80 per cent of the acreage in the Sacramento district and 55 per cent of the balance in the rest of the state. As to Oregon it is declared that of the 26,000 acres under cultivation to hops 9000 have already been signed and the movement is going forward. This showing of 20,000 acres of hops within 60 days' work, Mr. Lovdal declares to be too good to be allowed to drop. The percentage of the acreage to be signed up is small and the work will not now be allowed to drop. Half of the coast acreage is pledged, Mr. Lovdal says, and but 68 per cent is needed. He concluded a long letter with reasons why the movement should be supported.

BUYS AN INTEREST

Horace W. Green, of Seattle, a Member of Garrow Clothing Co.

The Garrow Clothing house was enlarged this week into a corporation. Horace W. Green, of Seattle, bought an interest in the business and in the future the business will be conducted under the name of the Garrow Clothing company.

Mr. Green is an experienced clothing man and while on a visit to this city was so impressed with the prospects for a bright future and the rapid growth of the city and valley, concluded to make an investment with the result as stated above. He has rented the M. W. Phillips home on North Seventh street, and expects to bring his family over immediately to take up a permanent residence here.

Donald Home Burns.

The residence of George Donald, president of the Yakima National Bank, caught fire Sunday evening about 9:40 o'clock and before the flames were extinguished by the gallant work of the local fire department a loss of $2,500 had been sustained, fully covered by insurance. The fire caused considerable excitement owing to the fact that the residence is situated in a district of the city surrounded by some very fine homes. The fire was caused by a red hot flue which ignited the woodwork.

SUIT IS DISMISSED

Judge Preble Takes Summary Action in Most Unusual Suit.

Unexpected action was taken by Judge Preble last Tuesday morning in the case of Sallie Galler against James McMahon and wife. This was a suit brought to recover $3000 stolen money and of which Mrs. Galler accused the defendants of being guilty. The circumstances of the suit are peculiar. In the first instance McMahon was prosecuted for stealing the money, but the jury acquitted him. Soon after the trial, however, he deposited a large sum of money in one of the local banks. This money was immediately attached by the prosecution and a civil action instituted to recover the money. It was this civil action that Judge Preble presided over, and took out of the hands of the jury after the plaintiff had introduced all her testimony. The judge decided there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a verdict by the jury.

Dr. J. S. Kloeber, of the Green River Hot Springs, is being sued by Mrs. L. M. Preston for $15,000 damages. The plaintiff claims that while under the care of Dr. Kloeber at the springs, and in the care of one of the doctor's servants, she was personally injured to the extent of the figures given above. She alleges that while being hauled around in an invalid chair the servant permitted it to fall with her, the result being that she sustained a broken hip.

Most Anything

By LOU VERNON

By Lou F. Vernon.
A Yakima woman says she considers her husband the greatest inventor of the times—the excuses he gives for coming home late from the office.

Most young political orators make the same mistake of putting thoughts into their speeches instead of telling the audience stories.

North Yakima has the original absent-minded man. He stopped his auto at a water trough the other day.

A North Yakima woman married a man to reform him, and she now wishes she had reformed him to marry him.

Being asked by his teacher the other day what two things were necessary for baptism, a North Yakima small boy replied: "Water and a baby."

"Some of these self-made men deserve much praise,"—Exchange.

Yes, indeed, some of them, I have observed, act truly christian parts in being willing to take all the blame themselves.

The man that speaks lightly of a good woman's character is an unclean beast, and a dose of smallpox is much preferable.

Her beauty isn't advertised.
She much dislikes such capers,
Yet very often it occurs
Her curls are in the papers.

The difference between illusion and delusion is this, illusion is the lovely fancies we have about ourselves; delusion the foolish fancies other people have about themselves.

Women haven't a bit more curiosity than men, but it's manifested in different lines. For instance, a woman might own a sewing machine without finding out how it is made, but she wouldn't have a seamstress in the house a day without knowing all about her.

Three different waiters in a Yakima hotel asked a prim, precise little man, from Seattle, at dinner, the other day if he would have soup. A little annoyed, he said to the last waiter who asked the question:

"Is it compulsory?"
"No," said the waiter, "I think it is mock oyster."

About the most helpless man in the world is he who wants to mail a letter and has no postage stamp. He turns all letters he has in his pocket inside out, shakes the leaves, even of his fish-hook book, swears, swears, swears, and then—goes to the postoffice and buys a 24-cent book of stamps, as he should have done in the beginning.

It is really wonderful how some men succeed, no matter which way they turn. Dame Fortune seems to reserve for them her sweetest smiles and richest favors. Their affairs—whether social, financial, or matrimonial—invariably prosper. Often of mushroom growth, they yet build large and substantial fortunes, and the earnest, toil-worn plodder the while gazes with undisguised admiration and envy at the man who by leaps and bounds has risen out of poverty and obscurity into affluence and honor.

It would be idle to attempt any systematic and organized inquiry into the cause, or causes, which lead up to such happy results. All we can do is to acknowledge the fact, and leave it there. It is all very well for moralists and social reformers to preach about honesty, unflinching purpose, and the like, not that there are absolutely valueless even in the world's base currency, but there are scores of honest, hard-working fellows, who have never risen, and seem destined never to rise, beyond a bare weekly wage, whilst, on the other hand, men in most senses their inferiors have pushed their way upward into fame and fortune. I suppose all this could be reduced into a series of exact and invariable laws, but to the ordinary and unphilosophic mind it must remain one of the many mysteries that surround and enter into moral life.

PURCHASE SELAH LAND.

Three Prominent Capitalists Invest Many Thousands in Fine Farm Tracts.

John Roman, president of the Alaska Mining association and one of the most prominent and extensive operators in the Tanana district, yesterday purchased through the Highland Real Estate company 40 acres of fine fruit land in the Selah valley for $15,000. Mr. Roman will immediately prepare to make the tract his future home. He will engage in intensive fruit culture, setting out the entire farm to such choice varieties of apples as the Winesaps, Yellow Newtown pippins and Spitzenbergs. William McGonagle, accompanied by Mrs. McGonagle, of Seattle, briefly inspected the Selah district yesterday, the result being that he purchased 20½ acres, adjoining the Upper Selah school grounds, for $5300. This tract was purchased for Mr. McGonagle's brother in Boston.

J. Hadhorn, of Chicago, where he conducts an extensive engraving business, purchased yesterday through the Highland company 20 acres of Selah fruit lands for $10,000. He will immediately prepare to improve the tract by planting it to orchard, setting out the choicest varieties of fruits, largely of the apple kind. Mr. Hadhorn is greatly pleased with the business situation in this district and the possibility of development in the rural districts.

Orchardvale.

F. G. Dix took the midnight train for Portland Saturday night in response to a telegram informing him of the death of his father.

Mr. Smith is putting up a new house on his ten acre ranch recently purchased of I. W. Saunders.

George Hams, who was employed by the government last year, has moved from the intake on the Sunnyside canal to his ranch three miles southeast of Zillah.

Frank Nichols has rented the 20-acre ranch belonging to Mr. Edwards, of Seattle, for the coming season.

I. W. Saunders finished packing his apples Tuesday.

Mrs. Calvin Leincker gave a party to the young people of Orchardvale on the 18th inst in honor of her daughter's birthday. Refreshments were served at 7 o'clock p. m. A very pleasant time was had by all.

An entertainment and basket social was held at the schoolhouse Friday evening. A goodly number were present.

Joe Lucas was among the passengers to the county seat Tuesday.

George Butler has sold his 17-acre ranch to parties from Kentucky.

Peter Kielsmeier has rented his orchard to August Leincker and will move to Sunnyside in the near future.

Taken From Jury.

The suit of Roy Lichty, of Sunnyside, vs. Manley Padelford, for $450 commission on a real estate transaction which he put through while doing business as the Christian Co-operative Land company, was lost yesterday. Judge Preble deciding that the testimony in support of the plaintiff's claim was insufficient to go to the jury.

GOOD PRICE REALIZED FOR FINE BEEF STEERS

First Big Shipment Nets Owners Many Thousand Dollars.

B. N. Stanfield and Fred Andrews, of the Butter Creek district across the Columbia in Oregon, have just realized $20,000 on a shipment of 324 fat steers. The steers brought something over $62 a head. Another shipment of 250 head was sent out from the Echo district a day or two later, showing the same general average in price and weight.

It is expected that five cents will be realized on all shipments made after March 1. There are now about 5000 steers being fed in the Butter Creek country. These will soon be sent out to the different markets of the northwest.

A CANDIDATE FROM THE SOUTH.

Hoke Smith, governor of Georgia, a fearless southerner of wonderful capabilities, appears to be the choice of all democrats south of Mason & Dixon's line, of the candidates so far mentioned, to head the democratic ticket for president. Governor Smith was secretary of the interior during the last administration of President Cleveland, and he it is said to his credit that he made an enviable record in this office. Those of his many friends who are urging his nomination at this time believe that the warring elements in the party would be able to unite upon this man, and in unity they believe a democratic victory certain.

There is one objection to Hoke Smith. There is only one, because he is unquestionably a great man, and possesses the qualifications of a statesman; but this one objection is sufficient to defeat the aspirations of any southern man to head a national ticket for the highest honor in the gift of the people of the country. This objection lies in the fact that he comes from too far down south. He is a typical southern man. That a prejudice of this kind should exist in the mind of any fair and broad-minded American would at first glance seem ridiculous; but while it is ridiculous, it is nevertheless true. Not that the South has failed to produce men of that calibre of statesmanship not big enough to guide the helm of the ship of state, because such is not the case. In fact some of the greatest men of our country were and are southerners today. It might be said of the South that she made this union. While she also tried to disrupt it, because of certain rights that she held sacred, it was the brains of the Southern men in the first place that fashioned our form of government; that gave us the original thirteen colonies.

What did the South do to make this union?

She gave Washington to the sword; Jefferson to the pen; Patrick Henry to the tongue, and Marshall to the bench. If our democratic statesmen of the North, or those who control the balance of power in the democratic party north of Mason and Dixon's line, would stop to consider the fact that it has been 43 years since the civil war, and cast about them for presidential timber in the South, it might be possible to strike a man who could lead the party to victory. At this time, however, it is unwise to attempt to play with the prejudices that most certainly exist. This evil condition will have to be eradicated by degrees. The South is big enough to realize this fact, and it will rally to the support of William Jennings Bryan, because the leaders of the South believe that today he is the greatest man in the United States who aspires to be president, while they point with pride to the record of Hoke Smith, and would gladly acquiesce in his nomination, because he is a native son.

FORAKER MAKES STATEMENT.

The republican primaries in Ohio were carried by the Taft forces. Following the primaries, Senator Foraker gave out this statement: "Nobody should be either surprised or misled by the result of the primaries held in Ohio. It has been common knowledge for weeks that the call for those primaries was of such character that my friends throughout the state refused to participate. Consequently there was no opposition to the selection of Taft delegates. Under such circumstances he would, of course, carry everything. That the result of the primaries does not indicate anything conclusive should be manifest in the fact that the total vote polled will not represent more than 10 per cent. of the republicans of Ohio. There were only two districts in which there was any approach to a contest, and these contests were due to the fact that there were opposing candidates in each district for the nomination to congress. In the Sixth district the Taft candidate was defeated by 1025, while in the Fifteenth district Mr. Dawes, the Taft leader and candidate for re-nomination, is probably beaten, according to advices I have received. If there had been a primary in which we could have participated similar results would have been possible, if not probable, all over the state. Recurring to the state convention, it should be borne in mind that it will be composed of representatives of only one faction of the party. Not because the people have so decided but because the course of the Taft managers was such as to bar everybody else out from participation."

"PITCHFORK BEN" ROASTS.

Senator Tillman has presented to the senate a protest against the passage of the Aldrich bill. The protest was written by Alfred O. Crozier, a manufacturer of Wilmington, Del. The Washington correspondent for the Chicago Record-Herald says: "The petition strongly objects to that feature of the bill which removes the restrictions of existing law against the retirement of the present bank note and the contemplated emergency currency. 'Such a law,' says Mr. Crozier, 'would start agitation that might take from national banks the right under which they now profitably issue and loan to the people nearly $700,000,000 of bank note currency and perhaps jeopardize the gold standard itself. The biggest 'joker' in the Aldrich bill is the fact that the restriction upon contraction of bank note issues is wiped out entirely. It makes it possible suddenly to contract and destroy in one day the entire $700,000,000 bank note currency and also the $500,000,000 emergency currency of a total of $1,200,000,000 of currency used by the people as money. Sudden contraction of but $50,000,000 available money by bank depositors recently caused a fearful panic and alarmed the whole country. What would happen to the country when the strangling contraction of more than a billion dollars, about half the available supply of the United States, the most active and convenient half, was begun?"

MR. BRYAN ANSWERS.

In response to a question asked by a representative of the Philadelphia Telegraph Mr. Bryan said: "If the voters of the democratic party want another man myself nominated at Denver they ought to instruct their delegates to that effect. If they want me nominated they ought to instruct their delegates for me. It is not a matter to be decided by me or by any small faction of the democratic voters. It is for the majority of democratic voters to determine. In November last, to stop the misrepresentation that were going about as to what I might or might not do, and as to the conditions under which I would or would not be a candidate, I stated that I would not ask for a nomination, but that I would be a candidate if it was the desire of the party that I should be so. Believing that in parties, as in popular government, authority comes up to the official from the people, I believe that voters as they gather in their communities should express themselves on party principles and candidates and then select delegates in harmony with their ideas. Instructions are democratic because the delegate has no authority except as he receives instructions from the voters, and the delegate ought to say that which the voters want said."

HERE'S TROUBLE.

As though our republican friends were not having trouble enough, J. B. Tridle of Spaulding, Neb., writing to the Omaha World-Herald, gives them this nut to crack: "I would like to ask one question of my republican friends: 'If Grover Cleveland was buried in the political grave of oblivion for issuing fifty millions of interest bearing debt when he had but one hundred and sixty-four millions of gold in the treasury, where shall we bury Theodore Roosevelt, when he issued seventy-five millions with nine hundred and thirty-three millions of gold in the treasury? My republican friends, please tell me where, oh, where.'"

LET IT SPEAK FOR ITS OWN.

The New York World says: "The World is willing that Mr. Bryan should be the republican candidate for president. It is as the democratic candidate that we object to him."

But, according to the World's political record, it ought to have considerable to say concerning the republican nomination. It will learn in due time, what it now seems unable to perceive, that it has no influence whatever with the democratic party freed from the special interests which the World seems to serve so faithfully.—Commoner.

The proclamation prosperity edition of the Yakima Morning Herald, which was issued last Sunday morning contains many stories about this city and the Yakima valley. The issue is bright and newsy. It reflects credit on the management of the Herald and will unquestionably be a fine advertising medium for the Yakima country.

The last issue of The Ranch, a farm journal published in Seattle, contained an interesting article on the Sunnyside country. The illustrations accompanying the story were of a nature calculated to arouse the keenest interest in the contents of the article.

COMMONER CRITICISMS.

Probably the foreigner pays the tax by "absent treatment."

Experts count on the completion of the canal in 1915—if Uncle Sam's money holds out.

There is a growing feeling that congressmen are not earning that 50 per cent. increase in salaries.

By the way, what has become of the old fashioned tariff advocate who insisted that "the foreigner pays the tax?"

It would seem that some of Mark Twain's good Wall street friends might have given him a tip when to get his money out.

Our sailors worked up a little riot at Rio, probably just to show the powers that be at home that they are not the whole naval works.

Administration organs loudly claim that President Roosevelt did not cause the panic. Perhaps not. But the protective tariff failed to prevent it.

The Paragraphers' Union is sure to go broke, now that a New Jersey man has married his mother-in-law and put a crimp in one of the union's best rules.

The report that one of our best battleships had been blown up at Rio may have been founded on one of Admiral Evans' vocal explosions during a twinge of his rheumatism.

Secretary Taft is talking about our "generous altruistic spirit," referring to our Philippine policy. This is calculated to make the sugar, tobacco and cordage trusts smile gleefully.

Mr. Carnegie says there is no universal panacea for financial panics. Perhaps not, but if Mr. Carnegie would let go of his tariff graft for a while it might help the rest of us some.

The judge who presides at a scandalous murder trial in New York has excluded all the women who are not reporters. The exclusion of all the men who are not reporters would have helped some.

The St. Louis Times says: "The more one hears of Oklahoma's new scheme for government, the surer one is that the old reliable brand is good enough." The St. Louis Times' declaration will have the hearty support of a number of eminent Pennsylvanians.

Michigan beet growers complain that the tariff-fed sugar trust is not paying a living price for beets. This merely shows that there are still some people who believe that the protective tariff is not wholly for the benefit of the trusts.

"Pennsylvania will surely go for Knox," exclaims an enthusiastic Pennsylvanian who is helping the Knox boom along. The country will also go for Knox if it ever gets an opportunity, but not in the way meant by the Pennsylvanian.

Representative Fordney's district delegates may not nominate Speaker Cannon for the presidency, but it seems that they accomplished the desired effect when their election made a place for Mr. Fordney on the ways and means committee.

The Elgin National Watch company is about to discharge a thousand or two employees who are so nicely protected by the tariff which enables the Elgin Watch company to charge American dealers $10.15 for the watch which is sold to English dealers for $7.41.

"What does 1908 mean to you?" asks the Chicago Tribune. "Well, for one thing, it means 52 paydays," gleefully replies the Columbia State. Our South Carolina contemporary should wake up. There will be 53 paydays in 1908—and five of them in February.

Of course it was reprehensible on the part of Admiral Brownson to put his pitiful experience of 46 years against the wisdom and knowledge of naval affairs that Theodore Roosevelt acquired in a lifelong experience of about two years as assistant secretary of the navy.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

Brief Record of Local Happenings for the Week in North Yakima and Vicinity.

Hay and potatoes for shipment were brought into North Yakima in large quantities today from the Moxee. This morning over a dozen double and four-horse teams made the trip in.

W. B. Clark of Belleville, Wis., has written to the Highland Real Estate company that he will be in Yakima about the first of March with several families who will locate in this valley.

In the damage suit of James Anderson vs. Jeremiah B. George, arising from the famous Nicolai controversy in Sunnyside, a motion has been filed to have the complaint, which alleges libelous statements by Mr. George, made more definite and certain. It will be heard on the next motion day.

Letters of administration have been granted to George E. Wise in the estate of Alice E. Poynter, deceased, at the written request of K. S. Poynter, the widow. The estate includes two lots in the Capitol Hill addition. Mr. Wise also has been appointed guardian of the six children.

E. J. Smith, a hop buyer well known in the Yakima district, is operating in Oregon and is said to have procured approximately 2000 bales of hops on consignment. Mr. Smith got a number of North Yakima hops on consignment a year or two ago but since then no deals have been made with him here, so far as is known. The following dispatch from Eugene, Ore., will interest many Yakima hop growers:

"E. J. Smith, a hop buyer from New York, has been in this section for some days taking in a good many hops on consignment. It is reported that he got about 300 bales, both at Eugene and Goshen, without paying out a cent on the bargain."

E. J. Haasze and W. N. Irish, of North Yakima, will leave Los Angeles Monday on their return to their homes here. They expect to arrive in this city on or about March 1.

Walter J. Reed and Mrs. Reed are en route to North Yakima from Redlands, Cal., and have got as far as Santa Barbara. They have not determined upon a date for their return here but will come north slowly. Mr. Reed is greatly improved in health.

Walla Walla has broken loose from the Northwestern Fair circuit but has decided that its opposition in dates will not be to North Yakima but to Lewiston, having selected October 12 to 18 as the dates of its fall show. Secretary Graham, of the local fair board, is a member of the committee of the northwestern fair secretaries which will revise the constitution so as to provide a penalty for members who drop their membership without the consent of the association.

RICH SISK RETURNS

Says California is Good, But Yakima Is Better.

Rich Sisk, one of the best known and most successful farmers in the Yakima valley and whose home is in the Wenatchee district, has returned from a six weeks' visit in California, bringing back with him his niece, Miss Welch, who will visit in this valley for six or eight weeks. Miss Welch's father, Frank Welch, engaged in the harness business with Mr. York in Yakima City about 20 years ago.

Mr. Sisk says that, while he notes much progress in California in a general way, he found no section of that state that promises as well as this district in the matter of thorough development and big returns for money and labor invested. He is more firmly convinced than ever that this is one of the most remarkable regions in the west.

PREPARING LAWN AT THE COURTHOUSE

The county commissioners will soon begin the work of preparing the yard of the court house for seeding to lawn grass and planting to ornamental shrubbery. The broken bricks and other debris left from the removal of the old court house will be hauled away in a few days and the ground filled in and levelled for the lawn work.

It is understood that in addition to the lawn grass ornamental shrubbery befitting such a place will be planted and properly cultivated. A few clumps of rose bushes will be used and probably other flowers will be planted. A man will have to be employed to care for the grounds and it is the desire to obtain the services of one who understands such work.

Contest Notice.

Department of the Interior, United States Land Office. North Yakima, Wash., Jan. 27, 1908. A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Charles Devine, contestant, against homestead entry No. 3347, made May 22, 1902, for lots 3 and 4, s½ of nw¼ section 4, township 13 N., range 21 E., by Charles Johnson, contestee, in which it is alleged that said Charles Johnson has failed to cultivate, or make any improvements necessary to show his good faith, or his intention to make said land his home. The said Johnson has failed to establish his residence upon said land, and has abandoned the same. Said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a. m. on March 5, 1908, before the register and receiver at the United States land office in North Yakima, Wash.

The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed January 27, 1908, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice can not be made, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.

The Week End Society Events

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Lesh celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage Friday evening. About 45 guests were present, and one of the features of the entertainment was 500. Each guest was provided with a tin docket. A large number of tin gifts were presented. The most elaborate gift, however, was a silver platter from a number of the guests. On this was engraved 1898-1908. Among those who assisted were the Mesdames Ed Van Brunt, John McClure and Charles Underwood.

Woodmen of the World are preparing for a big banquet on the evening of May 15, when it is expected a class of 100 will be initiated into the local lodge. A membership campaign is now on and much interest is being expressed by the various members in the boosting of the lodge. The order is in a most satisfactory condition in every way, and there seems to be small doubt but the coveted class of 100 will be secured by the evening of the banquet.

Miss Myrtle Calavan was the guest of honor at a surprise shower given Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr.

and Mrs. R. B. Hawks, 114 North Sixth street. Miss Lulu Meeds, present principal of the Barge school, and Mrs. Hawks, principal of the school last year, were hostesses. Miss Calavan was married Wednesday night to Dr. Gill, a well known physician of Echo, Ore. The bride and groom left on the 10:05 train Wednesday evening for their future home in Oregon. She was one of the most popular and attractive young women of the city.

Mrs. C. S. Huff and Mrs. R. E. DeKay delightfully entertained about 40 guests at the handsome home of Mrs. Huff on Nob Hill last Monday afternoon. The house was tastefully decorated with flags and yellow daffodils. Grand was one of the features of the entertainment. The first prize was awarded to Mrs. Wallis Williams, who received a handsome hand-painted bonbon dish. Mrs. Nottingham captured the second prize, a candlestick, and the consolation went to Mrs. Goldberg. She received a hand-painted violet vase. Each guest received as souvenirs napkin rings and dainty paper caps. During the afternoon Miss Day delightfully furnished a piano solo.

Amateur Bridge club was entertained Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Martin, 102 North Naches avenue.

Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Phillips entertained five tables of bridge Monday afternoon for Mrs. Porter. The rooms were beautifully decorated with yellow daffodils and hyacinths. The hostesses were assisted by the Mesdames Thomas and Cannon. The first prize was won by Mrs. John Rudkin.

Elijah Rehearsals.

In the matter of numbers, the sopranos led in attendance at the first rehearsal of the chorus in "Elijah" Tuesday evening at the business college, 19 of them being on hand, 1 alto, 11 basses and nine tenors, 53 in all. The first part of the rehearsal was taken up with a description of the scenes, costumes and action of the grand oratorio, after which three numbers were sung and a start made on further parts of the score. The next rehearsal will be held Tuesday evening, March 3, at 7:30, at the business college and it is believed the entire chorus will be filled.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

Brief Record of Local Happenings for the Week in North Yakima and Vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. George Boomer, of Prosser, visited in the city this week. Mr. Boomer is the editor and proprietor of the Prosser Record.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Bartholet, of Ellensburg, were visiting friends and relatives in the city several days this week. They formerly resided here and have a great many friends.

E. L. Boardman, former owner of the Prosser Bulletin, and prior to that venture, a well known North Yakima man, being associated with Col. Robertson, of the Republic, was in the city the first of the week shaking hands with old friends. Mr. Boardman is looking well. He has just returned from Lewistown, Mont., where for several months he had the management of the leading paper in that county.

Miss Marjorie Moran and Miss Betty Gamble returned from Seattle this week where they attended several social functions at the state university and visited some of their girl acquaintances.

D. Burgess, of Tacoma, national state committeeman, of the socialists of Washington, will give street meetings at 1:30 p. m. March 5, 6, 7, 8 and 11 and in the hall at 8 p. m. of each evening on above dates. He will also address the citizens of Naches and Moxee the 9th and 10th.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Evans, of 10th and Maple streets, had the misfortune on Sunday to lose their little girl, who died of spinal meningitis after a lingering illness. The deceased was in her fifth year. The funeral was held Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Evans have the sympathy of the entire community.

THE NEW ACME.

Hi Chung, Celebrated Mongolian, Buys Out the Hurts.

C. B. Hurt and wife this week sold their restaurant, The Acme, at No. 12 South Second street, to Hi Chung, a Chinaman, who will hereafter conduct the business, keeping the restaurant open day and night.

The Hurts sold out for $4000. They have been quite successful, and aside from the profits realized by the restaurant, have concluded a deal in the sale of their place which is practically all profit.

Hi Chung expects to conduct The Acme along the lines of his predecessors. He goes still farther, however, and will accommodate the public by keeping open all night. The Acme has always done the biggest business in the city since it opened here last summer.

Speaks Well of Marshall.

George Marshall, the stocky little boxer who represented the Seattle Athletic club in a number of bouts, and who was suspended by Secretary Inglis of the P. N. A. for slugging Dr. Callahan of Spokane, after the latter had rendered a joke decision, is now in Yakima and is boxing instructor of the new athletic club there. In addition to being a boxer, George is something of a ball player, and he is after the job of coach for the Yakima high school team. George writes the sporting editor that he has an offer to play in Santa Cruz, Cal., his home, but he would rather stay in Yakima if he can get things shaped up right. George was in Alaska last summer and caught Paddy Welch up there.—Seattle Times.
