OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

THE acute minds of James J. Hill and J. Pierpoint Morgan have devised another mammoth railroad trust. It is intended that the new corporation which was organized recently under the friendly laws of New Jersey with a capital stock of $400,000,000, will control the N. P., G. N. and Burlington roads. This is the initial undertaking. Later, according to some of the financial newspapers of New York, it will be the aim of the promoters to include in this combine all the railroads west of Chicago. As one of the incorporators frankly expressed it—according to the dispatches—"all the territory west of Chicago is to be divided in such a way that competition in a great measure will be avoided on any except wholesome lines and there will be a large increase in the net earnings for all concerned." There you have it in a nutshell. The net earnings will be increased which will make it better for all concerned, that is, of course, for the few who are in on the deal. The farmers and the producing class generally not being able to stand in will doubtless have to pay more freight in order to provide the increased earnings. With the increased earnings the Wall street gamblers will doubtless be able to buy other roads in order to increase their earnings until finally they will own them all and be the whole "push." Without realizing it doubtless, these hightoned gentlemen in New York are hastening the day when the government of this country in order to protect its citizens from legalized robbery, will be compelled to step in and run their railroads for them. And it is likely, too, to come to that and to come before many people expect it.

THE new president keeps right on appointing gold democrats to office in the southern states and ignoring the regular organization men of his own party. From the Roosevelt standpoint this may be a very commendable course to pursue, but such a policy if pursued in is likely to prove disappointing when the time comes that "Teddy" will be looking for delegates. Every so called democrat who has thus far been recognized, lent his aid and support to the republican cause in the last national campaign, but as a rule did so, particularly in the gulf states, without co-operating with the regular republican organization. With a perhaps inherent air of superiority these distinguished bolters refused to mix with the regulars in the black belt and as a result there is little love felt for them among the oldtimers. In fact according to reputable southern papers, the appointment of these men as might be expected, is creating a storm of disapproval among the faithful and if continued in is sure to fill them with bitterness and a desire for revenge. They will never consent to accept the leadership of these bolting democrats at the pie counter, a fact which makes it impossible for such appointees to render any political aid to their chief. Making a virtue of necessity a great many republican papers are loudly applauding the president for the appointment of democrats to office in the southern states, but they fail to mention the fact that the men appointed are invariably democrats with a prefix.

IF the people of the Pacific Northwest are to be denied competition as between the different railroads, through the tendency towards consolidation, there is yet another way left by which they can to some extent at least, help themselves. This way, as may readily be imagined, is through the water route to the sea, i. e., through the Columbia river. The mighty Columbia drains practically all of what is known as the inland empire. It is, to this section, what the majestic Mississippi is to the great valley of the same name. The Columbia is nature's highway to the sea; the only open doorway leading to the mighty Pacific. This fact being first understood, the importance of having this great waterway open to navigation a great part of its length will be better appreciated. Owing to the enormous pressure, political and otherwise, brought to bear in congress by the city of Portland, the lower Columbia has been well taken care of by the national government. Portland, in order to compete at all with the ports of Puget Sound, must needs have free access to the ocean. This she has perhaps secured, at a cost of many millions to the government. Meanwhile the upper Columbia, where much of this money ought to have been spent has been almost entirely neglected. A movement is now on foot having its inception at Lewiston, Idaho, with the object of creating a public sentiment in the Inland Empire that will influence congress at its coming session to do something substantial in aid of navigation of the upper Columbia. Other communities are taking a great interest in this great public improvement and why should not Yakima? It is error to assume that we are not vitally interested in navigation of the Columbia, for we are. This is particularly true in view of the fact that the prospect of our securing additional rail transportation facilities is now more remote than ever.

THE disputed tract question involving title to 160 acres of valuable land in the townsite of North Yakima, is now, happily, in a fair way of settlement. For years it has hung like a pall over numerous residents of the first ward, threatening to deprive them of their titles, which they had procured innocently and after they had paid taxes on their property for a long period. Mr. MacCrimmon, it is reported, has compromised his longstanding suit with the N. P. Railway Co. and has waived his claim to the land. It is now up the city to act in the matter. The city stepped in as intervenor some three years ago and claimed the land under the townsite act. Should the city win and secure patent it must still fight the case in the U. S. courts and it might be ten years yet, ere the matter is settled. Meanwhile the innocent purchasers would have to continue in the sweat-box and the district affected remain at a standstill. The city might in the end secure the coveted land, but in doing so it would annoy and rob its own people. The end for which the claim was instituted has already been secured. It would be better now for all parties to compromise, especially so if say 10 or 20 acres of the vacant land can be secured for park purposes.

THE editor of this paper returns thanks to local contemporaries and a number of fellow citizens for all the nice things they have said in their efforts to "boost" us into the exalted office of mayor of this town. We thank them cordially for their confidence and good will, but we desire to let it go at that. We are not out for the office. We have troubles enough of our own. If we be permitted to make the suggestion, we would say that the modest young man who now reflects credit upon the city as its chief executive, is the proper person to be his own successor. He has made a good mayor, and is thoroughly versed in the city's affairs. He has given up much of his valuable time without receiving a cent in compensation. We confess that we don't like his politics, but this ought not to be a political matter.

SENATOR FAIBANKS spoke in Nebraska during the campaign just closed and in all his speeches he eulogized President McKinley, but he sometimes failed to mention President Roosevelt's name. This omission will be easily understood when it was remembered that Mr. Roosevelt's accession to the presidency is likely to disappoint Senator Fairbanks' ambition to be the republican candidate in 1904. It will naturally take him a little while to readjust his affections so as to feel as kindly toward Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy as he has felt toward his own.—Commoner.

THE spicy journalistic infant across the way is devoting much of its limited but valuable space to free advertising for the benefit of the publisher of this paper. He is so intensely interested in our welfare that he insists not only on being our political mentor, but in marrying us off. This sublime and unselfish devotion on the part of Br'er Drew is really touching, but we're afraid it won't pay. As long as he can get 2½ cents per inch for his "ad" space we would advise him to stick to business and not try to run a matrimonial agency.

Judge Rudkin is holding court in Ellensburg this week.

A meeting of the Humane society was held Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Dam on Natchez avenue.

Marriage licenses were issued on Saturday to Bert C. Bullock and Miss Gertrude A. Druse, also to Carl Frohwerk and Mrs. Hattie Garland.

C. H. Denley & Co.'s department store has put in a new delivery wagon and are now prepared to deliver all orders promptly in any part of the city.

The Ladies Circle of the Woodmen of the World gave an entertainment including a banquet at the lodge room in the Syndicate building Monday night. A most enjoyable evening was spent.

A. D. Eglin of Tampico, on Monday sold 102 bales of hops at 10c. This amount represents about one-half of his crop. He has determined to hold the balance for a possible rise in the market.

The postoffice department is advertising for bids on five year contracts for all the star routes leading out of North Yakima, namely; To Wenas, to Nile, to Cowiche, to Tampico and to Fort Simcoe. Bids must be in by Dec. 2nd.

Mr. Bert C. Bullock and Miss Gertrude A. Druse were married by Rev. W. S. Crockett at the parsonage of the Christian church Sunday. The groom is a young farmer of Nob Hill, while the bride is the accomplished daughter of D. L. Druse.

The North Yakima Mill Co. are building a frame addition to the mill in order to secure more store room. The new addition was made necessary largely on account of the difficulty of procuring cars in which to transport readily the products of the mill.

Hon. T. B. Goodwin of Thorpe, has lately bought several hundred tons of alfalfa in the Sunnyside and will winter a large bunch of cattle there. Mr. Goodwin is the largest grower of timothy hay in the Kittitas valley, his crop this year being worth about $14,000.

The advance man of the famous Schubert company, was in town Wednesday booking advance sale of seats for a musical performance here on Dec. 18th. The guaranty was easily procured. This popular company appeared here five years ago and gave splendid satisfaction among local lovers of good music.

Prof. H. C. Blair of the Blair Business College at Spokane, has been in the city all week in attendance at the teachers' institute. The professor is a genial gentleman to meet and conducts one of the best educational institutions of its kind in the northwest. Read the announcement of the college that appears in this paper.

N. S. Johnson of the Hotel Yakima, having wearied of the luxurious and easy life of a Yakima landlord, has gone back to his first love, by way of occupation, that of hardware drummer, in which line he is a recognized expert. Mrs. Johnson will continue to conduct their well known hostelry as she is well qualified to do.

Fire Chief Hauser according to instructions from the council, is arranging the front rooms in the second story of the city hall for the use of the reorganized fire department. Marshal Boyle, Justice MacCrimmon and Police Judge Lince as a result of the change, are now occupying quarters and dispensing justice in the council chamber.

The Yakima county quota of the state school fund for the quarter ending Nov. 1st, has been received at Treasurer Dudley's office. The amount is $3431.55, which is considerably in excess of what it was for the corresponding period last year. Under the apportionment about $1200 or a little more than one-third will fall to district No. 7, which includes this city.

E. R. Parker of the Natchez, stated that on coming to town Tuesday he discovered a neighbor harvesting a crop of alfalfa hay and good hay at that. This story of making hay on the 19th of November may sound a little fishy to our eastern readers as they huddle around their stoves, but our informant, a well known farmer of this county, vouches for it.

Miss Kittie E. Hayden, daughter of Rev. F. L. Hayden of the Presbyterian church, died Wednesday morning about 4 p. m. after a lingering illness. Deceased was 21 years of age and was much beloved by all who knew her for her many lovable qualities. The funeral services were held at the parsonage on Third street Thursday afternoon. Rev. J. M. Thompson conducted the sad services.

Arthur E. Knight of The Dalles, Or., took out a license Wednesday to wed Miss Addie Murchie of this city.

The Prosser brass band gave a largely attended concert in that burg Saturday night. Prof. Nagler of this city, went down and acted as director for the occasion.

The new Clogg building presents a very handsome appearance from the outside, at least. Unless cold weather prevents it will be ready for occupancy by Jan. 1st.

John Considine on trial at Seattle for the murder of Ex-Chief of Police Meredith was found "not guilty" by the jury Thursday evening. The trial was followed with much interest here.

Police Judge Lince will sell at public auction at the city hall at the hour of 11 a. m. Nov. 29th, nine unredeemed Indian saddles, which were left with him as security for the payment of fines.

Hon. John Kelly late of Wichita, Kan., has bought 18 acres of the Chase place on Nob Hill, which he proposes to highly improve. The deal for the land was consummated by Liggett and Lince.

Adjutant General Drain of the state militia, has issued an order disbanding four companies of infantry. The companies disbanded are located at Walla Walla, Goldendale, Garfield and Davenport.

C. W. Johnson a prominent hardware man of Chehalis, who has been looking for a location in this city, departed for his home Monday. The deal that he had on with the Wallace-Coburn Co. for some reason fell through.

There is to be a match game of football at the Capitol Hill grounds on Thanksgiving day between the High school 11 of this city and that of Walla Walla. The home team is in practice every day and the boys say that they expect to put up a spirited game.

The welcome shower that fell Tuesday night was badly needed and will do a world of good. Farmers say it improved the condition of the roads very materially. Besides it starts the grass on the range, the fall sown wheat and puts the land in condition to plow.

The blue lodge of local Masons has changed its meeting night from Saturday to Friday evenings. The governing board of the Commercial Club has also changed its meeting night from Saturday to Friday. This was done in order to get a better attendance from business men.

Public sentiment seems to be overwhelmingly in favor of a non-partisan city election this year in North Yakima. A citizens caucus will probably be called to meet at the city hall on Wednesday evening of next week. The only appearance of a contest so far is between Messrs. Snyder and Thompson for the office of city attorney.

C. C. Case the Second street druggist, returned home Thursday from Haslett Park, Mich., to which place he was called early in October to the bedside of Mrs. Case's father, who died shortly after he reached there. Mr. case was detained longer than he expected on account of business connected with the estate.

Alex Starrett, who for the past year has been night watchman, was dismissed from the police force Wednesday on the order of the mayor. The officer was charged with brutality in the treatment of a prisoner in the city jail Tuesday night, having it is said, knocked a drunken prisoner down three times in quick succession and without sufficient provocation.

The sweet and pensive school mams of this county have virtually owned the town this week, while in attendance at the Teachers' Institute. The meeting has been a highly successful one in every way with much good work accomplished. Owing to a shortage of help in the mechanical department, we are unable to give a detailed account of the proceedings in this issue.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

But Little Business Transacted— Disputed Tract Question in Process of Settlement.

The city dads met in regular bi-monthly session Monday night, the mayor and all councilmen being present except Weed.

City Clerk Doust owing to illness was unable to be present, Mayor Fechter volunteered to act as clerk pro tem, which he did. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and after some minor corrections were approved.

A petition was read from resident owners along the east side of Front street from C to G, asking for a 6 foot sidewalk to be laid in front of their property. Donald objected to a 6 foot walk on the ground that an 8 foot walk was the uniform width throughout the city and that there should be no departure from the established rule. On motion of Donald the petition was granted on the stipulation that the walk should be 8 feet wide.

An ordinance providing for an increase in the salaries of the city atty, clerk, marshal and night watch was read and was warmly advocated by Attorney Snyder, who claimed that the city could well afford to pay better wages. He said the city for example, was paying its attorney the beggarly pittance of but $25 per month, which amount hardly paid for the services of a typewriter. The ordinance was discussed at some length by the council and finally on motion of Donald was laid on the table.

Alderman Reed, from the third ward then arose and tendered his resignation as a member of the council to take effect Jan. 1st, or at the dissolution of the present council. Every member present demurred and tried to talk the portly alderman into withdrawing his resignation but to no purpose and finally on motion of Donald Mr. Reed's resignation was accepted.

Attorney Krutz then addressed the council in the matter of the settlement of the MacCrimmon tract controversy involving title to 160 acres of the North Yakima townsite. Mr. Krutz stated that he represented both Mr. MacCrimmon and the N. P. Ry. Co. in the matter and urged that the city should relinquish its claim as intervenor. He stated that his client Mr. M. had compromised with the Ry. Co. and insisted that the city should do likewise in the interest of innocent purchasers on the tract and the municipality generally. In support of his contention he presented a resolution from numerous residents of the district praying the city to compromise the matter in order that they might get title to their holdings. Mr. Krutz also presented a written resolution which he asked the council to pass instructing Mayor Fechter as the trustee of the city to effect a compromise and to relinquish back to the government all claim that the city may have to the land.

The mayor in his capacity as trustee, then gave the council a succinct statement as to his connection with the matter. He said that on the advice of Attorney F. H. Rudkin the city had filed on the land under the townsite act some three years ago. The principal object, he said, in doing so was to defeat the claim of MacCrimmon to the land and thus protect the innocent purchasers, many of whom were poor men who could ill afford to lose their holdings. Since MacCrimmon had now compromised that object had been secured and he, Fechter, thought that the city should also release its claim to the land on the best terms possible to secure.

Hall, himself a resident of the disputed tract, made a statement to the council regarding the desires of his constituents in the matter and concluded by moving the adoption of the resolution as read by Mr. Krutz. Donald opposed the motion on the ground that more time should be given to consider the matter. Attorney Snyder suggested that it might be possible in the compromise to secure for the city a block of 13 acres of unsold land in the tract which could be used for park purposes. This idea seemed to meet with favor from most of the council and on a vote Hall's motion to adopt the resolution was defeated by a tie vote, Donald, Shaw and Sinclair voting no, while Reed and Allen supported Hall's motion.

Sinclair called attention to a manifest defect in the ordinance licensing drays and on his motion the attorney was instructed to prepare an amendment of the same to be considered at the next meeting.

Hall then moved that the marshal be instructed to repair before freezing weather begins the damaged head gate of the city ditch—carried.

Allen moved that the sum of $100 be appropriated to enable Chief Hauser to fix up the engine room for the use of the newly purchased fire apparatus and the team of horses soon to be purchased—carried.

County Commissioner Lince addressed the council in the matter of a joint arrangement for the grading of the east and west road that forms the north boundary of the city. He said that the road was in a very bad condition and that if the city was willing to grub out the brush the county would pay for the grading, which he considered was much the greater part of the expense involved. After much discussion the proposition was referred to the city engineer with power to act.

The matter of sufficient water pressure in time of fire was then considered and discussed at great length. Donald moved that the superintendent of the water works be requested to attend the next meeting of the council—carried.

No further business appearing the council then adjourned.

The Home Woman.

No clever, brilliant thinker she,
With college record and degree;
She has not known the paths of fame,
The world has never heard her name,
She walks in old, long trodden ways,
The valleys of the yesterdays.

Home is her kingdom, love her domain—
She seeks no other wand of power
To make home sweet, bring heaven near,
To win a smile and wipe a tear,
And do her duty day by day
In her own quiet place and way.

Around her childish hearts are twined,
As round some reverend saint enshrined,
And following hers the childish feet
Are led to ideals pure and sweet,
And find all purity and good
In her divinest motherhood.

She keeps her faith unshadowed still—
God rules the world in good and ill:
Men in her creed are brave and true,
And women pure as pearls of dew;
And life for her is pure and grand,
By work and grand endeavor spanned.

This sad old earth's a brighter place
All for the sunshine of her face;
Her very smile a blessing throws,
And hearts are happier where she goes,
A gentle, clear-eyed messenger,
To whisper love—thank God for her.

As to Roosevelt's Policy.

President Roosevelt, upon assuming the duties of his high office, declared his purpose to follow in the footsteps of his lamented predecessor and carry out the McKinley policy. This statement secured for him the temporary applause of the republican party, particularly the office holders of that party who thought that carrying out the McKinley policy meant keeping them in office. Upon sober reflection, however, the country is coming to understand that carrying out the McKinley policy means doing whatever Roosevelt desires to do. For who can define the McKinley policy? Who could say what he would do under given circumstances? Above all else William McKinley was an opportunist. He did whatever the hour dictated. His policy was not fixed and far-reaching. It was hesitating, tentative and obscure. He changed his mind frequently. President Roosevelt may do almost anything, and yet no one can prove that in so doing he is not carrying out the McKinley policy.

If President Roosevelt urges high protection he is carrying out the policy of William McKinley when the latter championed in congress the tariff bill which gave him his first great fame. On the contrary, if he declares for free trade, the president may point to McKinley's noble speech at Buffalo for justification. If President Roosevelt wishes to carry out the McKinley policy as to finance he may select from the martyred president's advocacy in congress of free and unlimited coinage of silver, his appointment, as president, of a commission to secure international bimetalism and his message in behalf of the single gold standard. As to a colonial policy, President Roosevelt may choose to hold to "benevolent assimilation" or "forcible annexation;" to the conquest of territory, as in Porto Rico, or its purchase, as in Luzon; to the extension of a territorial form of government, as in Hawaii; to the limiting of the constitution, as in Porto Rico; or its absolute abandonment, as in the Philippines. These are all McKinley policies. President Roosevelt has a wide range of choice while keeping within the strict letter of his spectacular and soothing pledge.—Sumner Herald.

Will They Now Return Taylor?

Caleb Powers has for the second time been convicted of complicity in the murder of Governor Goebel of Kentucky. The foreman of the jury which convicted Powers had been a schoolmate of the defendant. Will the republican governor of Indiana accept this second conviction as a reason for the delivery of Mr. Taylor to the Kentucky authorities, or will the Indiana governor use this second conviction as another reason why he should continue to defend a fugitive from justice? If the republican party is in truth the enemy of assassination, it cannot afford to protect a man charged with complicity in assassination, simply because the fugitive happens to be influential in republican circles.—Commoner.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14, 1901.

It is a well recognized fact that the president's civil service reform record alone would have been quite sufficient to have prevented his receiving the vice presidential nomination, could the party leaders have foreseen that the time would come when he would succeed to the presidency. It is now reported that he proposes to outdo Mr. Cleveland in his promotion of the reform, and that, not only has he signified his desire for resignations from some of the party's favorites, because of their violation of the civil service rules, but he proposes to extend the classified list to include the laborers in the departments and is even thinking of including the entire consular service.

When Mr. Cleveland "covered in" as it was called, the bulk of the department employes, it was represented to him that it would appear ridiculous to require civil service examinations from the laborers and charwomen and accordingly he excluded these grades of labor from his general order. As soon, however, as congressmen discovered that these were the only positions which their influence could secure for their constituents they insisted upon naming all the laborers and then exerted their further influence to have their nominees assigned to clerical work. This custom is now general throughout the government service and accounts for Maclay, of the Schley-Sampson controversy fame, being carried on the roles of the navy department as a laborer. Robbed of the prerogative of securing appointments for their constituents the members of congress will be compelled to suffer the hardship of appealing to their constituents for re-election on the ground of their records in congress.

It is also anticipated that as soon as the required appropriation of $6,000,000 which the postmaster general has asked for, to extend the rural free delivery service, that branch of the service will also be "covered in." The regular attempt which is made every time a census bureau is organized, is now being made to secure the transfer of census clerks to the classified list of the civil service commission. In the past, this effort has usually resulted in the transfer of a few whose influence was particularly powerful. The claim is made this year that clerks were appointed in the Census Bureau only after having taken a competitive examination, which is perfectly true, but nothing is said about the fact that no one who did not present the endorsement of his representative or senator was eligible to take the examination. With Mr. Roosevelt in the White House it is doubtful if any of the census clerks will be placed on the classified lists.

Almost coincident with the unofficial announcement that Secretary Gage and a number of the treasury officials are opposed to the re-enactment of the Geary law, because of its detrimental effect on American commerce with the Orient, comes the report of Governor Taft, recommending the restriction of Chinese immigration into the Philippines. Gen. McArthur, writing on the subject, says of the Chinese, "Such a people, largely endowed as they are with inexhaustible fortitude and determination, if admitted to the archipelago in any considerable numbers during the formative period which is now in process of evolution, would soon have control of pretty nearly every productive interest, to the absolute exclusion alike of Philipinos and Americans." Just what action will be taken in the matter has not been decided.

The situation in New York is still the cause of considerable worry both to the president and to some of the republican leaders. While the president would like to see complete harmony in the state machine, he is so opposed to Platt's methods and is so adverse to a compromise in a case where he believes that he is entirely in the right that it is difficult for anyone to influence him. When Senator Hanna came to Washington he tried to straighten out the tangle and then left for New York to see what he could do at that end. The president is inclined to remove Platt's man Bidwell from the position of collector of the port of New York. Odell is urging him to do so and Platt is begging him not to, as is also Secretary Gage, who, rumor has it, will resign in case Bidwell is removed. That rumor, however is to be taken with a large grain of salt. On the whole, Platt finds his influence in his own state waning as never before. That frank "break" of Jerome, when he publicly charged Platt with duplicity in the New York campaign, has been taken very literally by a good many people and there is a disposition among the New York republicans to say, "We won, but no thanks to Platt."

Mr. Roosevelt Not Rich.

President Roosevelt is not a rich man. He has never been wealthy. His personal income for many years has been $5,000 a year, and the personal income of Mrs. Roosevelt has also been $5,000 a year. So, by joining these incomes the Roosevelt family have lived in fair fashion. There have been no extravagances, but everything has been conducted on practical and careful lines, and anybody who is aware of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt's social standing for the last twenty years can easily see that the joint income of $10,000 a year would be none too much for the demands upon them.

Mr. Roosevelt's salary as an assemblyman was $1,500 a year, and you can bet your last trade dollar that he received no other income as an assemblyman while at Albany. His salary as a U. S. civil service commissioner under President Harrison was $5,000 a year. His salary as police commissioner under Mayor Strong was $5,000 a year.

His salary as assistant secretary of the navy under Secretary Long was $4,500 a year. His salary as a lieutenant colonel and colonel of the United States volunteers in the Cuban service was payayune. His salary as governor of the state of New York was $10,000 a year. His salary as vice president of the United States was $8,000 a year. His present salary as president of the United States is $50,000 a year.

President Roosevelt in all of his ways is practical and thrifty. He told a friend the other night at dinner in the White House that he was very glad that he ordered a new frock coat last spring, for the reason that that coat served in all of the sad ceremonies incident to President McKinley's death. At the time that President Roosevelt made this statement it was pretty hot in Washington and he still wore the thick frock coat.—New York Sun.

Daniel Frawley, Nov. 25th.

Daniel Frawley will appear at this theatre Nov. 25th with the biggest and best organization he has ever had under his direction. The play to be presented on this occasion is the four-act military drama entitled "Secret Service", by William Gillette, which is pronounced by competent critics to be not only the best piece of its kind ever put upon the stage, but also the greatest play of any character ever written by an American author. It is one of the best imagined and cleverly written works in all dramatic literature, and possesses several extraordinary features of construction. It does not contain a single aside or soliloquy. If any character hold the stage alone, and this happens frequently, notably in the famous telegraph scene, his acting is all done in pantomime. The persons of the play never explain things to each other, the story being naturally developed, as the action swiftly proceeds. The time supposed to pass in the drama corresponds to that actually consumed in the representation, and in many other ways the imagination of the spectator is not taxed by devices, which, though permissible under stage license, are nevertheless distinct obstacles to thoroughment at the theatre.

It must be a hardened play-goer indeed, who can follow the adventures of the northern spy in the confederate capital, without feeling a deep thrill inspired by the tense dramatic situations which he is called upon to face. The scene is laid in Richmond, near the close of the Civil war. The city is besieged by the United States army, the confederate forces under Lee stubbornly defending it along lines of intrenchments from five to ten miles outside. Distant thunder of cannonading can be heard in the town almost constantly, and at night the town is aflame with flashes from active artillery and exploding shells. This is the background of a story of absorbing interest, in which a federal secret service officer is the central figure. He is masquerading in Richmond as a southern artillery captain, and, possessing a knowledge of telegraphy, he gains access to the confederate military telegraph office, through which all orders of the southern forces are transmitted. This gives rise to a series of situations, seldom, if ever, surpassed for breathless dramatic interest, and throughout the progress of the play, the tension is hardly relaxed, though it is often relieved by the introduction of comedy of an especially entertaining character. Mr. Frawley will appear as Capt. Thorne, the

A Woman's Ailment.

Headache may be called a woman's ailment. Some men suffer from it. But almost all women have to endure its pain with each recurring month. This fact points at once to the intimate relation between the health of the delicate womanly organs and the general health of the whole body. Every woman ought to know and understand that the standard of general physical health cannot be higher than the standard of the local health of the womanly organs. When there is irregularity, inflammation, ulceration, a debilitating drain or female weakness, the entire nervous system has to share in the suffering resulting from the local derangements. Cure the local disease and you cure the aches which are caused by it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription banishes headache by banishing its cause. It cures the diseases which irritate the delicate womanly organs, fret the nerves and waste the strength. It increases the vitality and builds up the nervous system. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium or other narcotics.

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is no medicine "just as good" for women as this great remedy. Don't let the dealer delude you into buying a substitute.

Women suffering from disease in aggravated form can consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence is strictly private and confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sick Twenty Years.

"I have been sick for twenty years," writes Mrs. Sarah J. Burney, of Crescent City, Putnam Co., Fla., "and have been in bed almost five years, and now I am able to work all day. I have taken eight bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and four of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one vial of 'Pellets.' I praise your medicine to all. I had the headache but it is gone. My throat is well and cough gone, and all my old troubles are better. I tried many other kinds of medicine and four doctors."

Could Get no Help.

"I was taken sick two years ago and tried almost every thing but could get no help," writes Mrs. T. C. Blashfield, of Brimfield, Hampden Co., Mass. "Your 'Favorite Prescription' did me a great deal of good. I was suffering with falling of the womb and could scarcely walk, now I am so much better of that that I can walk quite a distance. It was your medicine that helped me. You have my best wishes."

A Great Gift.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 pages and 700 illustrations is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Spreads Like Wildfire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling" Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years." You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. "The Wrong Mr. Wright," Nov. 28.

The story of the play is briefly told as follows: A multi-millionaire, one Seymour Sites of San Francisco, who in seeking a defaulting clerk, visits a seaside resort to capture him himself. He assumes the name of Wright, and comes across a female detective engaged in his own case. The lady is attracted to him by his name, which is the same as that assumed by the defaulter. He is attracted to her by her good looks, and a delightfully merry game of cross purposes ensues. He becomes a spend-thrift in boquets and other offerings—this cunning woman playing like an angler with a fly. The complications are thickened by his niece, an heiress, who to find a man who is not tempted by her money, changes positions with her maid, and succeeds in attracting the attention of a young officer. When the time comes for the female detective to denounce the supposed defaulter, she finds herself in love with him, and vainly tries to induce him to fly. In the hands of the police Mr. Sites has the greatest difficulty to prove his identity, so closely has he woven the net of deception around him, and it is only when intelligence comes that the real thief has been taken in New York that the lady detective confesses her failure, and the infatuated Sites offers himself as her prisoner for life. Coming to Larson's Nov. 28th, Thanksgiving night.

The Public Fountain.

There is a good deal of dissent among citizens as to the proposed public drinking fountain which it is proposed to erect somewhere on Yakima avenue.

The proposal, especially to make it a common drinking place for both man and beast meets with considerable objection. It is argued that if this is done the result will be that a slophole will be formed which will preclude people on foot from approaching it. The whole matter is now before the committee on public improvements of the city council and a report will probably be made at the next meeting of the city dads which will be Dec. 2nd.

ON THE STAGE.

Miss Marian Macdonald to Appear in "Camille" Nov. 27th.

Miss Marion Macdonald, who is well known in society throughout the state of Washington, and who formerly resided in Yakima, is a member of the Eugenie Blair company and will be seen in this city for the first time since she joined the ranks of the profession. During her residence in this city, Miss Macdonald's services as a reciter and elocutionist were always in demand, so it was not a great surprise when her friends learned that she had decided to adopt the stage as a profession. With talent, youth, grace and beauty in her favor, and enjoying, as she does, the proud distinction of being a protegee of a great actress like Miss Blair, it may be safely predicted that Miss Macdonald will have a most brilliant future on the stage.

"Camille", Nov. 27th.

Eugenie Blair, who is this season supported by the strongest company of players she has ever had, has decided to present "Camille", when she appears at Larson's theatre, Wednesday November 27th.

While the theatre-going public is ever clamoring for novelties in the line of stage productions, it is a fitting tribute to the memory of the older novelists and dramatists when such a standard classic as "Camille," the masterpiece of the younger Dumas, continues to be patronized and admired by such a large clientele, that an actress of the universal reputation enjoyed by Eugenie Blair with such a large number of the later productions at her command, is requested to play it. This request may also be considered a fitting tribute to the prowess of the artistic star, whose great versatility and emotional powers are shown to such an advantage in the play.

As nearly every theatre-goer of the present generation is familiar with the sympathetic and touching story of "Camille," an explanatory note is deemed unnecessary. Suffice it to say that Miss Blair presents the play with the splendor and attention to detail that mark every one of her productions.

Miss Eleanor Montell, who is acknowledged to be one of the most beautiful actresses on the American stage, will be seen as Miss Blair's leading woman, while Mr. Vaughan Glasser, the well known actor who has been so successful in romantic roles in the later modern plays, is at the head of the male division of the support. The entire cast is exceptionally strong and shows that great care was observed in the assignment of the various roles.

The Commoner.

(Mr. Bryan's Paper.)

The Commoner has attained, within six months from date of the first issue, a circulation of 100,000 copies, a record probably never equaled in the history of American periodical literature. The unparalleled growth of this paper demonstrates that there is room in the newspaper field for a national paper devoted to the discussion of political, economic, and social problems. To the columns of the Commoner Mr. Bryan contributes his best efforts; and his review of political events as they arise from time to time cannot fail to interest those who study public questions. The Commoner's regular subscription price is $1.00 per year. We have arranged with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish his paper and the DEMOCRAT together for one year for $1.75. The regular subscription price of the two papers when subscribed for separately is $2.00.

This stove is built on scientific principles. It has the following points of superiority over old fashioned stoves:

FIRST—It can be regulated so as to give entire control over the fire.

SECOND—It is air-tight and therefore the most economical, as the heat is prevented from going up the flue.

THIRD—It will burn any kind of fuel and without a change of fixtures.

FOURTH—It will hold a fire for 36 hours, a fact which every housekeeper knows, saves much work and worry.

FIFTH—It is so constructed as to do away with the smoke nuisance, thereby saving much annoyance.

The Week's Amusements.

Thomas Jefferson, not the father of democracy, but the son of his father, the world famous actor Joe Jefferson, played to a packed house in Larson's theater Friday night. On the whole the audience was well pleased with the great actor and his excellent company, although most of those in attendance who had seen the elder Jefferson in the same character of Rip Van Winkle, protest that the son suffers in comparison with his pater. All concede, however, that the young man acts the part of the drunken, good natured old vagabond most naturally and that he is a master of his art. His support was well nigh perfect, although "Gretchen" his nagging helpmate seemed unnecessarily strident in voice at times. The babies, in the different parts of "Meenie" and "Hendrick", won many compliments for their splendid work. Little "Meenie" at the affecting scene of the parting with her father on being driven from home, brought the unbidden tear to many an eye in the large audience.

Mason and Mason in the three act comedy farce "Rudolph and Adolph" occupied the boards Monday night and were greeted by a good sized audience. It is a much provoking piece and as portrayed by the Masons compels everybody to laugh. Some very good specialties were presented, the most notable of which was the acrobatic and contortion work of the Laurence sisters. Some very catchy solos were well rendered by the Brown sisters.

The Morford House Burned.

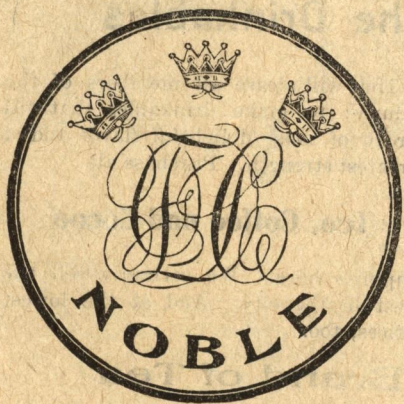

The valuable new house recently erected by Mrs. Pearl Morford on her ranch three miles southeast of town burned to the ground Friday night of last week and with it also went the fine creamery plant which stood near by.

The origin of the fire is a good deal of a mystery as there was nobody in the house at the time, the lady herself being in Seattle when the fire occurred. On leaving she left the place in charge of the hired man, who it is asserted, locked up the house that evening in order to come to this city to attend the theater.

The house was a most substantial one and was only built a few months ago by Mrs. Morford. The creamery adjoining also was quite valuable. The amount of insurance carried on the two buildings is $3500. The furniture was also insured for a few hundred dollars.

Bears In the Yellowstone Park.

In his latest book, Earnest Seton-Thompson makes mention of a fact not generally known, namely that nobody is allowed to carry a gun in the Yellowstone Park. This fact causes nervousness in some visitors who do not know the habits of animals very well, as they see the bears and other supposedly ferocious beasts walking about, scuffling with each other, or coming to poke in the garbage pile outside the kitchen door for tidbits. Mr. Thompson states that the bears actually come to the back door of the hotel for scraps and are rarely disappointed. He also says that during the days that he spent in the park he was repeatedly in close proximity to bears and never heard one of them approach him. Somehow or other, their big velvet-padded feet were set down in such a way as not to produce the slightest rustle of a sound. This would certainly be decomposing to the nerves of a timid person.

But Mr. Thompson sat in the woods among these bears all of one day and was not molested in any way though he confesses to have had some fears of the big grizzly which at one time came charging down apparently at the very place where he was hidden. It turned out, however, that the grizzly merely wanted to see what was in a tomato-can near by. All this goes to prove what the Hindu sages say, that wild animals, even the most ferocious, are not apt to molest man if he does not arouse their animosity and excite their combativeness by continued hostile demonstration. In the long process of evolution wild animals have learned the superiority of man in practical ways and acquired a fear of him which usually results in their giving him a wide berth. It is said, however, that in regions where the larger carnivora are left unmolested by man, they show little if any desire to take the offensive toward him, though they are generally too shy to make friends. The Yellowstone Park experiment seems to indicate this.

Another Lost Mine Found.

Word comes from Guaymas, Mexico, that the lost Tayapa mines, celebrated in Spanish annals as having produced $80,000,000 in silver and gold in the seventeenth century, which are described on Spanish maps as being situated in Northwestern Mexico, about fifty leagues from the sea, near Dos Pilares, have been found.

As far back as 1859 Robert L. D'Aumale, a celebrated French expert, declared the location of the Cieneguita, in the Sahuria district, Sonora, to be identical with the lost Tayapa. The Spanish owners are said to have been murdered by their Indian slaves near the close of the seventeenth century, and it is stated that for 100 years thereafter no one was allowed to enter that region. Explorers who have recently returned from Cieneguita report having discovered the old stone prisons, old smelters and also stupendous work accomplished by the ancients.—Ex.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

The farmers of the Natcheez valley are very desirous of having the county commissioners spend a few hundred dollars in the making of a macadam road along what is known as Nelson lane. This is an abominable piece of road in bad weather and is perhaps as much traveled as any road leading into the city. The farmers up there say that they are all willing to contribute in labor in order to get the necessary work done.

The U. S. land office has booked 16 homestead entries during the past two weeks on land along the Big Klickitat in the extreme southwestern part of this county. A number of the filings have been made by parties who reside in Fairhaven. The land filed on is said to be good not only for stock but agricultural purposes. When the Vancouver & Yakima R. R. is built, if it ever is, it is expected to come through this section with the result naturally, of making these lands quite valuable.

They Want a New Bridge.

The numerous farmers residing in the Selah and Wenas valleys are very desirous of having a new bridge built across the Yakima at a point somewhere above the "Taylor" grade. They say that it is an imposition on them and a serious damage to their property interests to be compelled to travel and haul their produce over the dangerous road through the gap every time they come to town. It is estimated that it would cost $9000 to build the new bridge and to move the present Natcheez bridge to where it would have to go.

Of this amount the farmers to be benefited are willing to stand one half besides contributing a good deal of labor. This proposition was made to the commissioners last spring but was not accepted. The ranchers say, however, that they are willing to make their offer good at any time.

The first world's temperance Sunday of the twentieth century will be observed in North Yakima by a rousing mass meeting on Nov. 24th, at the Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. The ministers have kindly agreed to adjourn their ser-VICES on that evening at the other churches.

The opening services will be conducted by Rev. Wood of the Methodist church. The address will be by Rev. Thompson of the Baptist church. The choirs and singers of the other churches are invited to assist in the music.

ASTOUNDING DISCOVERY.

From Coopersville, Mich., comes word of a wonderful discovery of a pleasant tasting liquid that when used before retiring by any one troubled with a bad cough always ensures a good night's rest. "It will soon cure a cough too," writes Mrs. S. Himelburger, "for three generations of our family have used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and never found its equal for Coughs and Colds." The scenery carried is not only elaborate, but rich and beautiful and a number of new specialties were introduced. A getoff on the Yakima postoffice was greeted with a roar.

Wait Till He Sees You.

A Zulu chief, when you enter his hotel, remains silent for some moments and seems quite unconscious of your presence. At length he says in a tone of grave dignity, "Ge saku bona" (I see you), to which you reply in the same way. The longer he takes to "see you" the greater man you are supposed to be, and until you are thus "seen" you must keep silent and appear as much as possible not to be there at all.

The Yakima Commercial Club has petitioned Frank Horsley chairman of the board of county commissioners to call a special meeting of the board to take action regarding necessary repairs that should be made on various county roads. It seems that Mr. Horsley is unwilling to call a meeting for that purpose, so that the matter of road improvement cannot be considered until the regular meeting in January.
