THE POLITICAL POT

Begins to Simmer. G. O. P. Candidates
For Public Place Continue to Bob Up
Serenely—Like Barkis, They Are All Willing.

Now that the new year is here and the present year of our Lord 1902 is destined to work many changes on the political map, local politicians of the g. o. p. are beginning to bestir themselves. The unexpected and accidental return of the republican party to power in the state through the accession of Mr. McBride to the gubernatorial office and the fact that nearly all the present incumbents in county offices are barred by the constitution from being their own successors makes the situation interesting. Naturally as a result of such conditions the local statesmen who are out of jobs or are looking for something better than they now have, are crowding anxiously about the pie counter. Then too, the redistribution of prizes and gold bricks that is going on at the federal counter helps to keep up the interest at a fever heat among the local pap hunters.

To begin with, Congressman W. L. Jones, who is the local sun around whom all the lesser lights have had to revolve, seems to be in a peck of trouble just now, and it is trouble that is by no means confined to Yakima county alone. Patronage has been the rock on which the political craft of many a politician has been hopelessly wrecked and this is what is liable to happen to Mr. Jones unless he shows himself to be a very skillful mariner. The Yakima post-office has only been one of many of the congressman's troubles, although it has probably caused him more annoyance than any other. Here he was obliged to choose a postmaster from a large list of candidates all of whom had been his close personal and political friends and friends too that had helped to make him all that he is. It may be that the disappointed ones will still remain loyal to his cause, but it goes without saying that their loyalty is being put to a very severe test. Messrs. Scott, Hall, Hough, Paul and others who drew blanks are of course not saying much, but they all have the aspect of men who are doing some hard thinking.

Then too over at Spokane the congressman's fences are badly in need of repair, the result of another postoffice fight. Postmaster Temple, who was turned down by Mr. Jones, now poses as a martyr and is rallying all of his friends for the purpose of defeating the Yakima man for a renomination. They have brought Col. Ridpath, who is one of the Leroy group of statesmen, into the field as a candidate for congress and they promise to make it interesting for Mr. Jones. Another thing that is also probably worrying the latter gentleman is the discovery that his land sale bill is proving very unpopular with the most of his constituents. The feeling now seems to be quite general that the bill was designed in the interest of the railway company and the richest class of stockmen. The average farmer therefore wants none of it and besides he feels like resenting Mr. Jones advocacy of such a measure. Many of the farmers, a number of whom were formerly Mr. Jones' strongest supporters, have been heard to laugh when told that Mr. Jones had framed his bill in their interest.

His honor, Judge Rudkin, it seems, desires to mount still higher on the judicial ladder. At any rate with or without his consent the local organ of the g. o. p. has taken it upon itself to announce the judge's candidacy for the supreme court for the place soon to be made vacant by the retirement of Chief Justice Reavis. In speaking of the article endorsing Judge Rudkin for that place in last week's Republic, a prominent republican politician of Kittitas county, said that it must be a scheme to sidetrack Congressman Jones, as any body with an ounce of political sense would know that a small county like Yakima would never be permitted to take two of the leading places on the state ticket.

For the nomination for the important office of state senator there promises to be a pretty fight among ambitious local politicians. A. B. Weed is said to have his lightning rod up and would like to round out his legislative career with a seat in the senate. Ira P. Englehart, Fred Parker and Frank Horsley are also credited with being candidates, at least in a receptive sense. The lower valley will doubtless also have a candidate in the person of S. J. Harrison, the preacher politician. Other candidates too are quite likely to bob up.

For every place on the county ticket there are going to be plenty of applicants, that much is certain, although it is most too early yet for the situation to be well defined. The recent raise in the salaries of county officials makes these jobs worth going after, to use the language of one who hopes to secure a job from the county. There promises to be a greater contest for the office of sheriff than any other. The venerable Captain Simmons has announced his candidacy for that place and says that he is going in to win. J. W. Sindall, the present chief deputy, is also expected to go after the nomination. Among others who have been mentioned for the shrievalty are Captain Scudder, Nels Short, Robt. Scott and J. M. Brown. It has been hinted in a certain quarter that in order to relieve the tension the friends of Mr. Jones in case they succeed in controlling the convention, will give the nomination to Mr. Scott. They may not, however be able to deliver the goods. F. C. Hall, also it is said, will be placated for the loss of the postoffice by the Jones men by being given the nomination for county auditor. A. S. Paul will likewise be taken care of by being handed a job in the sheriff's office in case of Mr. Sco's selection.

Regarding national and state appointments there is but little that is new. A. L. Dilley, who has been quite successful during the greater part of his lifetime in securing and holding down good positions, is said to have a weather eye out in both directions. If Marshal Ide succeeds himself, Dilley may if he chooses, continue to draw a salary of $1500 a year as his deputy. In case Hopkins is made marshal, Dilley's official head would probably drop quickly into the basket. The smooth Mr. Dilley, however, is reported to have yet another string to his bow that may land him as warden of the state penitentiary in case that Hopkins shall triumph over Ide.

Doc Hare feels quite confident that when the robins sing again in the springtime he will as In lian agent out at Ft. Simcoe be monarch of all he surveys. Agent Lynch's time will be up in March and nobody seems to know of any good reason why he should have it again. Senator Foster is said to have a reason, which at least is satisfactory to himself, why Mr. Lynch should not have it and thereby hangs a tale. Some of the knowing ones wink meaningly in discussing the matter and intimate that a change at Ft. Simcoe would naturally necessitate one at Toppenish also. In this connection the name of "Klickitat" Baker is frequently used as that of a man who would make a good Siwash trader.

The county central committee of the g. o. p. it is understood, will meet soon to recommend some unwilling souls to the acting governor for appointment as members of the State Fair commission. Editor Robertson is said to be willing to take one of the jobs, but there seems to be some opposition to his appointment. One observer facetiously remarked that "Rob" didn't need the job in order to get the Fair printing as he had always managed to get practically all of that even when a majority of the board presumably were democrats.

A BAD MAN FROM MISSOURI.

Fife Goes Back to Stand Trial For Murder.

Plattsburg and St. Joseph, Mo., papers that have been received here this week, contain accounts of the capture of Stewart Fife at this place and stories of the crime of murder of which he stands accused of having committed in the little town of Savanna in that state Dec. 24th, 1900.

The assumption is that Fife shot and killed Frank W. Richardson, a prominent merchant of that place on the date named. Fife is believed to have maintained illicit relations with the wife of the murdered man and as the tragedy occurred in the woman's bedroom the particulars of the case that led up to the crime may be easily imagined. Fife disappeared and left the woman to face the music. She was arrested for the murder and is to be tried on the 30th of this month. The woman is believed to have made a confession that fastens the crime upon Fife. The sheriff of that county has left for this place with the necessary requisition papers to take Fife back.

The accused having been a clerk in the store of D. Hanna for several months, is of course well known here. He is a man who makes a fairly good appearance, and has evidently seen better days. He is a man of nervous temperament and his reckless career here may account possibly for the fact that his mind was worried over events of the past. Later—Sheriff Holcomb of Savanna, Andrew county, Missouri, arrived here Thursday morning from Olympia where his requisition papers were duly honored by Gov. McBride. The Missouri official is a genial gentleman to meet and volunteered to give the Democrat information about the case that he could properly divulge. He stated that the prisoner's family is respectable and widely known in that part of Missouri. The family now reside at St. Joseph. The sheriff was reticent, however, in speaking of Fife and evaded several pointed questions put to him by the reporter.

He and Deputy Sindall went through the personal effects of Fife Thursday morning, the Missouri official appropriating everything found in the way of letters or memoranda for use as evidence. That the prisoner is quite a "ladies man" was evident from the large collection of photos found in his trunk which represented almost every conceivable type of feminine beauty. As the sheriff proceeded in examining the pictures he would frequently exclaim, "I know that young lady, all right."

Sheriff Holcomb started with his prisoner Thursday afternoon. Fife, who is said to be only 23 years old, seemed unconcerned and talked and laughed freely with people whom he knew. Quite a crowd of people were at the depot to see him depart.

Farmers Will Organize Permanently.

At the meeting of farmers today at the court house it is the intention of the leaders of the movement to perfect a permanent organization with the object of looking more carefully in the future to the interests of the farmers, especially in regard to the public range and the preservation of the watershed. The plan likely to be adopted will be the selection of a permanent standing committee to consist of one member from each precinct of the county. Out of this general committee will be selected an executive committee to consist of either seven or nine members which will meet at frequent intervals and take what steps are necessary from time to time to guard the interests of the farmers. A large proportion of the petitions that have been circulated throughout the county are now in after being most numerous signed. The committee in charge will send them in immediately to Washington.

County Solons Meet.
At the January meeting of the board of county commissioners which convened on the 6th and remained in session all of last week, but little business outside of a routine nature was transacted. A large gist of bills was considered and allowed. The extra pay demanded by county officials owing to the advance in the classification of the county, was granted, the amount aggregating something over $1100.

A good deal of the board's time was occupied with petitions for new roads and matters pertaining to the different road districts. The matter of constructing a macadamized road from N. Yakima to Zillah was only incidentally considered, the county attorney taking the position that under the present law the commissioners were practically without authority to authorize such work.

The board ratified the decision for the establishment of two new school districts, 57 and 58, the former is located in the east Selah and the latter in the Moxee.

The sum of $15 per month for the period of five months was voted to P. A. Bonndstaid in maintaining a ferry across the Yakima in the Selah. Harry R. King of Wallula, was also granted a ferry license at Kennewick.

The jury list of 300 names for 1900 was selected.

THE YAKIMA DEMOCRAT,

BY J. D. MEDILL.

Entered at the North Yakima Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

One Dollar Per Year—In Advance.

Published every Saturday morning at the Democrat Printing House on First Street, North Yakima, Washington.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

CONGRESSMAN Jones seems to have stirred up considerable of a hornet's nest in Spokane relative to the appointment of a postmaster for that city. It seems that Mr. Jones recommended and secured the appointment of a personal and political friend in the person of one Hartson, who it appears was also the man selected by John L. Wilson. The present incumbent Postmaster Temple, whose term had expired was also a candidate with the backing of a majority of the business men and patrons of the office. The Spokesman Review says, in its criticism of Mr. Jones' position, that he failed to present to the postoffice department the petitions addressed to him for that purpose in favor of Mr. Temple. The result of Mr. Temple's being turned down will mean for Mr. Jones a fight to secure a re-nomination. Col. Ridpath who was one of Temple's supporters, has announced his candidacy for the seat now held by the Yakima man, and that he will make a determined effort to secure it. That he has money to spend goes without saying as he is one of the Le Roi group of statesmen. The handicap to Ridpath's candidacy will doubtless be the fact that his party record is not without a kink since he bolted the g. o. p. platform in 1896 on the silver question.

"SUNRISE" Cushman, the freak congressman from this state, is credited with having a new hobby. What Cushman wants now is for all the world to use the same language. With this object in view he has introduced in congress a bill which directs the president to invite the nations of the earth to send delegates to a general conference for the purpose of formulating an alphabet for the use of the entire world. Now talk about statesmanship. Isn't this bill of our own Cushman the very acme of it? When his ideas have become international law Cushman will be as big a man even as old Atlas himself, who is pictured as supporting the planet. His name will go thundering down the aisles of time and myriads yet unborn will rise up and call him blessed. His fame once confined to the banks of the muddy Puyallup, will now burst like a meteor over a many tongued world carrying with it joy and good tidings. He may be hailed even as the chosen one of the Lord, whose mission is to undo the terrible mistake at Babel. Great is Cushman. Happy Washington, the prolific mother of genius in statesmanship.

ACTING GOVERNOR McBride is not a man of putty by any means. It is evident that he intends to pursue a conservative policy regarding appointments. He first has to familiarize himself with the workings of the executive machinery of the state. He would be a bold man, considering the responsibility of his position, were he to inaugurate a policy that would mean the speedy discharge of tried men from their positions under the state to make room for a lot of "pap" hunters who assume that these positions are spoils that belong to them. Some of these worthies rushed to Olympia to demand places as soon as they heard that poor old Governor Rogers was dead. It will do them good to let them cool their heels for awhile on the outside, and that is doubtless just what the acting governor proposes to do.

THE Hepburn Nicaraguan canal bill was railroaded through the house of representatives, passing by a vote of 308 to 2. The measure will not find such easy sledding in the senate, however, where the Pacific railways are strongly entrenched and are making a desperate fight against it. Notwithstanding the powerful interests arrayed against it the bill will likely go through, as public sentiment throughout the country is almost unanimous in demanding its passage. While the canal when built will doubtless be a great benefit to the country at large and the world in general, we still believe that its effect cannot be otherwise than detrimental to the commercial and shipping interests of the Pacific coast.

McKINLEY, the peacemaker and diplomat, had hardly had time to get cold in his grave before Hanna and Foraker the two senators from his beloved Ohio, were at each other, hammer and tongs. And it is a fight to the death too, that will continue until one or the other goes down and out. Foraker unquestionably has the sympathy of Teddy Roosevelt, otherwise he would never have measured his strength against that of Hanna. The president is credited with an instinctive dislike of Hanna and it is believed that he will bring to bear all the power of his position when the time comes to keep the great Marcus Aurelius from going back to the senate.

THE building of a big irrigation system in the lower Yakima valley means the division of that county as certainly as anything can be foretold.—Ellensburg Capital.

It doesn't necessarily mean anything of the kind, neighbor. Clearly, the wish is father to the thought in this case. The Capital man is a croaker; a bird of ill omen. He takes particular delight in prophesying evil for Yakima—evil that never comes to pass. Poor man! his must be a most unhappy soul, assuming that he has one.

EVERYTHING indicates that the year 1902 is going to be a notable one in the development of North Yakima and the Yakima valley. With the certain rehabilitation of ditch building projects in the "lower end," the probability of the reservation and Burlingame canals being constructed, as well as the enlargement of the Congdon and Selah systems, makes the outlook for this section very bright. Oh yes, Yakima is all right, thank you.

NONE of the local politicians who have been given free advertising in this issue have paid a cent for it, nor are they expected to. It is free gratis, gentlemen. In doing this, however, we wish it understood that we are not attempting to "knock" the business of our republican contemporary, which has been in the habit of collecting the modest sum of ten dollars in each case for this class of advertising.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY is going to put the president on record by appealing his case to him. The fact that "Teddy" is already on record on both sides of the question don't seem to have deterred the fighting admiral in his determination to have justice done him.

Our citizens have eagerly read your comments on the R. K. and sheep bill now before congress to sell the people's lands and I think I express the sentiments of all when I thank you for the same.

Stole a Barrel of Whiskey.

One of the boldest cases of theft that have ever been perpetrated in this city occurred Wednesday night or rather early Thursday morning, Saloonkeeper Bert Fletcher being the victim. The day previously he had received a barrel of whiskey and two cases of beer, which on being delivered by the drayman, was left just inside the back door in the hallway. During the night the door was opened and the goods quietly removed, the barrel of whiskey being rolled out and away.

The owner having his suspicions as to where his property had went, swore out a search warrant Thursday morning to inspect the premises of Thos. Maroney, who conducts a restaurant on Front street. The goods are said to have been found in Maroney's cellar. The goods were seized by Constable Nels Short and turned over to Justice Taggard. The owner of the goods swore out a warrant for the following parties: Thos. Maroney, Wm Brown, C. E. James, John Ecar, Wm Kidd, C. H. Hamilton, G. J. Allen and Geo. Williams. The preliminary examination of the men was going on in Justice Taggard's court as the DEMOCRAT was being put to press. R. A. Grant is entitled to credit for having located the goods and the parties wanted.

A Business Change.

Lombard & Horsley on Thursday closed the deal whereby they become the owners of the Wallace-Coburn Co. stock of hardware, the latter firm having concluded to retire from business. The stock will invoice about $12,000. The purchasers do not intend to engage in the hardware line permanently and will probably either sell the stock to other dealers or will close it out themselves. Their main purpose in buying the stock was to get possession of the premises, which they recently bought and which was under a long lease to the Wallace-Coburn Co.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9, 1902.

"That country is an ideal country in which the least injury to the meanest citizen is an injury to all," said Representative Chas. R. Schirm of Maryland, yesterday, in explanation of what is known as his "tablet bill." Appreciating that every bill which Speaker Henderson could refer to the committee on naval affairs and which was in any way favorable to Admiral Schley would be permitted to "die in committee," Mr. Schirm has introduced a bill providing for the erection, in conspicuous places in the Capitol, of six bronze tablets four by four feet. These tablets are to commemorate the naval victories of the United States over foreign foes and each is to bear the name of but one officer and that the name of the officer in command. The last tablet is to commemorate the battle of Santiago and bear the inscription "Windfield Scott Schley, commander." This bill the speaker was obliged to refer to the Library committee, from which Mr. Schirm hopes to secure its favorable report.

Mr. William Sulzer, democratic representative from New York City, introduced a bill in the House yesterday which he believes will attract wide attention. By it the secretary of the treasury is instructed to deposit the surplus funds of the treasury in national banks having a capital stock of $500,000 and a surplus of $500,000 on condition that such banks apply for the deposits and that they pay to the United States interest at the rate of two per cent on such deposits, the deposit of the United States in no case to exceed the aggregate of the capital and surplus of the bank and to constitute a first lien on the assets of the bank.

Speaking on this subject yesterday Mr. Sulzer said, "At the present time a few favored banks, perhaps fourteen in number, are made the depositaries of the surplus funds in the treasury. This gives to them an unfair and a prejudicial advantage in the control of the money market. By the provisions of my bill all of the banks will have an opportunity to profit by the treasury surplus, the government will receive interest on its deposits and in the event of a stringent money market such deposits will afford immediate relief. Moreover, there will be nothing to fear from the possession by the government of a surplus of any magnitude as this measure will serve to keep the money in circulation, for, wherever there is a demand for money great enough to raise the rate of interest to three per cent or more there will be the treasury surplus flow."

I am credibly advised that the democrats in the senate are preparing to force the majority to make a definite statement of their policy in regard to Cuba. So far the republicans have attempted to escape any frank statement of their policy and so be prepared to retreat from whatever position they may have determined upon in the light of any new developments which may take place. They have not taken their democratic colleagues into their confidence and the latter believe they have a right to know what the administration and the republican majority are contemplating. Senator Lodge, on behalf of the president, is actively prosecuting his campaign for reciprocity on the broadest plan but he is being opposed by the high protectionists.

It is now believed that the senate committee on Relations with the Philippines will report the Philippine tariff bill with but few changes and the democrats in the senate are preparing to make a vigorous onslaught on the measure. They appreciate, of course, that they are in too great minority to effect any material change but they regard it as a matter of duty to make as vigorous a protest as possible.

The house of representatives devoted itself Tuesday, Wednesday and today to the consideration of the Hepburn Nicaraguan canal bill and after an address which was made by Mr. Hepburn a spirited and interesting discussion followed in which the speaker was plying with questions. The discussion developed that the state department was expecting to pay to Nicaragua and Costa Rica the sums of $5,000,000 and $1,000,000 respectively for the rights in their territory. It also developed that the Panama route had many friends in congress. It is predicted by some that no definite legislation will be enacted during this session of congress but the active interest displayed yesterday, and which was evident by the conversation in the senate committee rooms after that body had adjourned, would discredit the report.

There is no lack of political or of social lions in Washington but when a man comes from France with an inter-oceanic canal in his pocket and involving a forty million dollar deal, he is worth seeing. Your correspondent therefore, armed with an introduction from the French Embassy, called upon Mr. Lampre at his rooms in the new Willard. The Panama canal representative is a typical Frenchman about forty years old, of slight build, with a waxed mustache a la Napoleon III. He was sufficiently acquainted with the English language to be able to say with a pronounced accent, "You American journalists are surely early birds," and he was sufficiently diplomatic and reticent to avoid saying anything much about the canal. By a system of indirect questioning, certain information was elicited and there is no doubt that he is duly accredited both by the company and his government to sell the canal. Mr. Lampre has made no effort to see anyone on the subject except Admiral Walker. This appears to be on the account of Admiral Walker's known fairness and impartiality with reference to the selection of a canal route and also on account of his great courtesy to his predecessor, M. Hutin, who is alleged to have offered the same property for the sum of one hundred nine million dollars.

It Girdles The Globe.

Superior Court Grist.

Judge Rudkin convened court again Monday morning and set the mill of justice again to grinding. The first case to be called was that of H. J. Hasbrook, an Idaho attorney, vs. W. H. Whipple, suit being brought to collect an alleged debt incurred in that state several years ago. The case was sharply contested between Whitson & Parker for plaintiff and Snively & Thompson for defendant. The jury found for defendant.

The W. B. Allen Co. vs. Yakima Dray Co. and G. C. Mitchell was next tried. The jury returned a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $550.

J. P. Linklater vs. Donald Cresswell, a suit to recover personal property. This is known as the Horse Heaven wheat case. The jury returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff.

The suit of B. S. Weed and R. B. Wilson vs. Albert Wright known locally as the "sheep scab" case, was bitterly contested. The jury after wrestling with the problem for about 20 hours finally agreed to disagree, the last ballot standing six to six. This is a Kittitas county case that was brought here on a change of venue.

The case of Guy M. Ross vs. Thomas McKay, an action for $10,000 damages for personal injuries received while plaintiff was in employ of defendant, was next tried. It was long drawn out and bitterly contested, the attorneys being Snyder & Preble for plaintiff and Graves & Englehart for defendant. Nearly two days were consumed in taking the evidence in this case and when finally it was all in the court took the matter out of the hands of the jury, granting a motion for non-suit.

The last case tried by the jury was that of the state vs. James Dodson, accused of larceny from the person. The prosecuting witness was H. R. Miller, who accused Dodson of having "swiped" a valuable diamond from him. The jury after being out about an hour Wednesday afternoon brought in a verdict of "not guilty." The jury were all discharged Wednesday. Judge Rudkin will hold a session of court again today to hear motions and etc.

The A. D. T. Service.

The A. D. T. service which is now being established here in connection with the W. U. office, includes some features which to most people here are quite novel. The registering machine for instance, which sits on the table in the operator's room and announces with unerring accuracy the number of the call box that wants a messenger boy. The city has been divided into two districts. No. 1 embraces the territory lying east of First street and south of Yakima avenue to the R. R. track. No. 2 consists of everything west of First street and west of the track. In short, wards No. 1 and 2 comprise the first district and ward No. 3 the second. 110 boxes will be put in right away. Two messenger boys are now on duty, one of whom is Agent Spencer's son who arrived this week from Minneapolis.

Her sons are Zachary, Elbert and Willis, while her daughters are Mrs. A. J. Shaw, Mrs. A. E. Larson, Mrs. Ada Wilson and Mrs. Jas. G. Bogle of Ellensburg. The funeral was held from the M. Eugene S. Bennett of Tacoma, stopped off Sunday between trains to visit J. D. Medill, an old friend. Mr. Bennett for the past year has spent most of his time on Green river in eastern Utah, where he has located several thousand acres of land for an oil syndicate with which he is connected. He believes that that locality will become one of the best oil producing sections in the country. Both oil and gas, he says, seeps up in numerous places in the desert.
