STATE COLLEGE COSTS

Joe Smith Figures Comparative Charges of That and State University—Favorable Showing for Pullman.

State College, Pullman, Wash., April 28.—The relative cost of several state institutions to the state of Washington is revealed in an investigation recently undertaken and made public by Joe Smith, who is well known in Washington as a newspaper writer and investigator of political problems of the state. Referring specifically to the state college and University of Washington, he says:

"Taking advantage of the protest that is being made in many parts of the state against the unprecedentedly large appropriation budget of the 1909 legislature certain newspapers and political leaders are endeavoring to create a popular opposition to the increasing appropriations for the maintenance of the state institutions of higher education. Chiefly singled out for attack is the state college at Pullman, and a leading newspaper of Seattle has recently undertaken to exploit the cost of maintaining that institution so as to show it in an unfavorable light when compared with the expense of maintaining the state university.

"Financial statistics show the college to be the far more efficient institution of the two when it comes to getting results from the money expended.

"From the time the college was opened, 18 years ago, records of the state auditor show that there has been expended on plant and equipment at the college a total of $731,642, and at the university, $953,421.

"A comparison of the reports of the two institutions indicates that the plant of the college is fully equal, if not actually superior, to that of the university, both in size of its buildings and the thoroughness with which they are constructed, while the scientific character of many of the courses taught at Pullman has involved a much wider range of expenditures for scientific equipment.

"In addition to this the site of the college, together with its large experimental farm, is fully paid for, while the site of the university is a section of state school land, purchased from the state in 1890 for $28,313, no part of which has yet been paid, and even the interest of which is in arrears since 1900.

"For neither of these institutions does this sum appear exorbitant in consideration of the value which has been received for the money and the lofty purpose to which the property is being devoted, especially when one compares it with the wastefully extravagant expenditure of state money in certain other directions.

"For instance, the total cost of the plants of both of these institutions during a period of 18 years has not quite equalled the appropriations of the 1909 legislature for state road construction, most of which will be extravagantly expended and the greater portion of which, if expended as directed by the legislature, will be practically wasted.

"The entire cost of maintaining the state college for the 18 years has been but $542,839, only about $150,000 more than the cost to date of the state capitol building, $30,000 less than the appropriations this year for the state penitentiary, and less than one-third the sum which is now proposed to expend on the erection of a new capitol building."

Scudder-Moran Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Moran have issued invitations to the wedding of their daughter, Marjorie, to Mr. Randolph Scudder, of the United States navy. The wedding day has been set for May 12, and the ceremony will be performed in the evening at the First Congregational church. The contracting parties are well known in local society circles.

FIRST TOWN ON THE N. Y. & V. EXTENSION

Ditter Bros. Have Acquired a Large Amount of Acreage for Big Townsite.

Ditter Brothers will establish the first town on the extension of the Yakima & Valley railroad in the Moxee valley. Phil A. Ditter announced today that he and his brother, Joe E. Ditter, have acquired 220 acres of land in the very heart of the tilled lands of the Moxee valley on the surveyed line of the North Yakima & Valley road. Sixty acres of this land will be platted into town lots within a very short time and placed on the market. The balance of the land will be divided and subdivided into small acre tracts suitable for fruit growing on a small scale.

The name of the new town will be Moxee City until it has gained sufficient proportions to drop the word "city." Special inducements will be offered to persons desiring to establish business houses in the new town.

"We studied on this matter for some time before we decided to start a town," said Mr. Ditter today. "After visiting the place nearly every day for about a week we finally decided that we could do nothing better than acquire a quantity of acreage and be on hand with the town when the railroad got there.

"The townsite is situated in a very central portion of the valley. It is nine miles from North Yakima and one mile from the Catholic church of that district. We believe we will have no difficulty in disposing of the property as soon as it is ready for the market."

There will doubtless be several other new villages established in the Yakima valley as time goes on. New railroads whether they be steam or electric tend to establish settlements in the surrounding valleys. All of these communities will be directly tributary to North Yakima. The new retail establishments will undoubtedly be supplied by North Yakima wholesale houses.

The Ditter brothers have no doubt that the new road will be built. For that matter few other people have. James Barnes, right of way agent for the road's extension, stated today that the last piece of right of way has been purchased. Construction work will be begun as soon as the council takes formal action on the franchise.

LOCAL SPUD DEALERS STAND TO LOSE MUCH

They Must Realize $40 a Ton on Holdings to Clear a Profit.

Local men who are watching the potato market, on which Yakima men are said to have a corner, declare that the latter stand to lose on the big deal unless prices advance soon. According to one firm which is storing a large part of the local supply of spuds, the dealers cannot afford to sell at much less than $40 per ton and come out better than even. While most of the potatoes now in storage here awaiting a higher price were bought considerably below the present market price, the storage and shrinkage have added at least $5 a ton to the cost. The Sound quotations on potatoes yesterday were $30@ $33 for Yakimas. New California potatoes are coming in, though as yet this fact has not affected the price of the old spuds in storage.

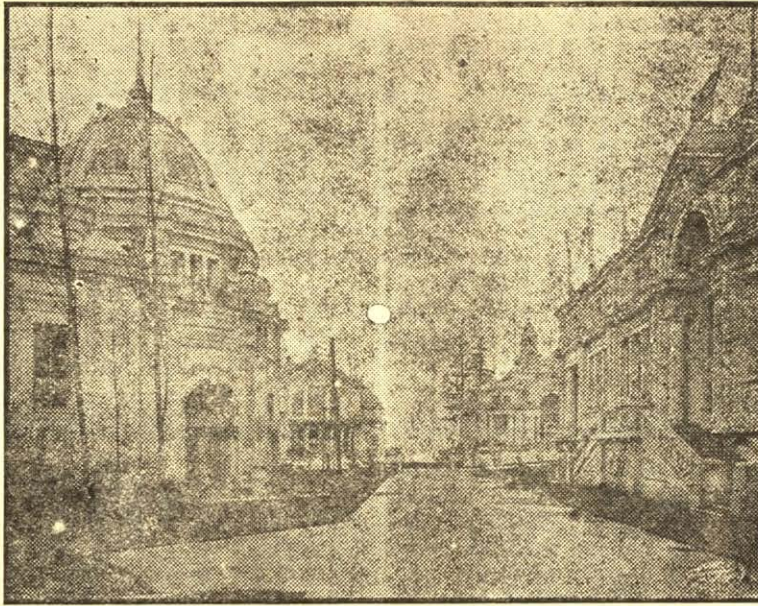

It is estimated by one warehouseman that there are 1500 tons of potatoes in the Yakima valley, all in the hands of the dealers. These were bought from the farmers at prices ranging around $30. This is the bulk of the supply in this part of the state.

TIGERS WIN FAST GAME.

Defeat the Prosser Red Coats in Last Half of Ninth.

Ben Kohls, captain of the Yakima Tigers, made a hero of himself last Sunday afternoon when he came to the bat in the last half of the ninth inning and with two down, two men on bases and the score tied, knocked a home run and won the game for the locals.

A large crowd was in attendance. Prosser had been making an uphill fight all through the game. They tied the score in the seventh and it looked as though the Tigers were beaten. In the last inning, however, Captain Kohls came to the rescue and broke up the game with his timely hit. The final score stood 6 to 5.

LOOKING DOWN YUKON AVENUE.

One of the most traveled highways of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition will be the street to which has been given the name of Yukon Avenue. Yukon Avenue makes its way across the exposition grounds from west to east, and the ends are represented by Klondike Circle near the entrance, and Nome Circle on which fronts the classic Forestry building. It crosses the roaring Cascades on oriental bridges of handsome design, and from its central part the buildings of Hawaii and Alaska, backed by the enormous federal structure, are directly to the north.

Just to the west of Klondike Circle the Pay Streak winds in a general direction from north to south, and at the eastern end the land gives way precipitously to the shores of Lake Washington. It is on this beautiful shore of the lake the natural amphitheatre is located, and nature has so quaintly formed this delightful spot, that small effort has been required of man to transform it into as perfect an exhibition place as is possible. Its curving, sloping sides complete a semi-circle, and from its tiers of towering seats 30,000 spectators may witness the entertainments with no possibilities of occupying a single undesirable seat.

A wonderful variety of architectural display is shown by the many buildings through which Yukon Avenue passes, and during its course the visitor passes from man-made monuments through parts of magnificent forests whose grandeur has never been marred by the destructive craft of Mammon's disciples. From every side the line of horizon is defined by mountains whose lines are delineated in perpetual snow, and stretching away as far as the eye can travel rest the waters of Puget Sound.

Hanford Project Progressing.

Six miles of the cement-lined canal for the Hanford Irrigation & Power company have been completed and is ready for use, according to a report of H. K. Owens of Seattle, consulting engineer for the big canal system. The present canal of the company will irrigate 16,000 acres and water can be secured for 2,000 acres this spring.

The Hanford Irrigation & Power company plant has a capacity of 128 cubic feet of water per second, delivered from the Columbia river to the irrigation canals. This is four times as much as the entire city of Seattle consumes in a day for domestic purposes.

Engineer Owens is very optimistic regarding the development of the Hanford section. He was one of the organizers of the Priest Rapids railroad company, which has sold its line from Beverly south to Hanford and its surveys into North Yakima. This company is now controlled by the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound railroad and will operate as a branch of that system.

What Irrigation Will Do.

Reclaims arid wastes.
Produces perfect fruit.
Causes the desert to bloom.
Makes a prosperous country.
Lessens the dangers of floods.
Insures full crops every season.

Yields large returns to investors.
Makes the farmer independent of rainfall.

Multiplies the productive capacity of the soil.
Adds constantly to the security of investments.

Creates wealth from water, sunshine and soil.
Utilizes the virgin soil of the mountain regions.

Affords a sure foundation for the creation of wealth.
Makes farming profitable in waste places and forever forestalls the ghost of drought.

Improves the quality and increases fully one-eighth and often times one-fourth the size of fruits, vegetables and grains.

Makes the production of the choicest fruit possible and prolongs the harvest periods of various crops if so desired.

E. J. HAASZE CHOSEN AS SUPERINTENDENT

A.-Y.-P. Committee Names Officers for Yakima Exhibit at the Exposition.

The Yakima county A.-Y.-P. committee this afternoon named the superintendent and assistant superintendents for the county building at the exposition. They are as follows:

Superintendent of the exhibit, E. J. Haasze of North Yakima; assistant superintendent in charge of booths, R. K. Tiffany of Sunnyside; assistant superintendent in county booths, E. G. Peck of North Yakima; assistant superintendent of county building, Dr. C. W. Chamberlain of Granger; head janitor and fruit packer, C. E. Zirkle of North Yakima.

The special committee, composed of the three county commissioners, Dr. C. B. Alexander of Mabton; H. M. Gilbert of Toppenish and W. N. Irish, empowered to make the selections, had no little difficulty in naming the officers. There were about a dozen applicants for general superintendent and several for each of the other places. Each applicant was backed by his friends and represented a different section of the county. The committee recognized the ability of all the applicants, they were all considered competent and representative men, and it had to make harmony the paramount issue in making the selections. The committee was in session at 10:30 this morning, adjourned at noon and had another meeting this afternoon before it was prepared to report to the general committee, which met at 12:30. The report was agreeable to the general committee.

At the general meeting much of the detail of the exhibit was considered. The meeting was somewhat disturbed when E. G. Peck, who has been acting as assistant secretary, and whose real capacity has been that of working secretary of the committee, handed in his resignation.

H. M. Gilbert urged Mr. Peck to reconsider the resignation. On a motion of a member of the committee Mr. Peck was asked to withhold his resignation until the next meeting.

CURRENT MOTOR POWER

Norman Smith Solves Problem of Getting Water on Columbia River Lands—A Useful Invention.

Manager Norman Smith of the American Water & Power company, operating on the Columbia between Hanford and Pasco, has invented a new current power wheel which the Pasco Express says works most satisfactorily. The object of the inventor, of course, is to generate power for the purpose of pumping water from the river to the dry lands above. The trials of the machine have been watched with much interest by adjacent land owners and others interested and all appear to be enthusiastic over it.

The model motor simply consists of a large number of 10-inch paddles placed eight feet apart, the wheel shaft being connected with an endless chain 500 feet in length. The machine is simply placed in the water and force of the current does the rest. It is said by men familiar with water motors, that there is practically no doubt as to the machine's success, the only question remaining being the extent of power produced. Mr. Smith plans to place a number of these machines in the river adjoining the property of the company.

MUST GET BUSY

That Is What Yakima People Must Do If They Would Have Creditable Exhibit at the A.-Y.-P.

Architect Pohl, who has charge of the construction of the Yakima county A.-Y.-P. building and who will remain in the employ of the committee throughout the exposition, was in the city a few days ago to confer with the committee and incidentally to arouse enthusiasm in the matter of arranging a suitable exhibit. Speaking of the necessity for quick and united action on the part of Yakima people Mr. Pohl said:

"Yakima will have the very best county building on the grounds and one of the most attractive buildings within the limits of the exposition grounds. It will surely be to the discredit of the valley if only a few poorly arranged displays are made in the spaces designed for that purpose. Because of the location, the attractiveness of the exterior and the advertising that will be done thousands of people will be attracted to the Yakima county building. What will their impressions be if they enter and find that the people of this county have failed to take advantage of the opportunity that has been offered? They will think that this country has nothing to show except along one side.

"Something along the line I have suggested must be done at once, for there remain only five weeks in which to prepare the exhibit and have it placed in position. If the interest can once be aroused there will be little difficulty with the remainder."

SHOWS BAD MANAGEMENT

Report of Receivers of North Yakima Selah Co. Indicates Bad Management of High Finance.

The report filed recently by the Seattle Trust & Title company, receivers of the North Yakima & East Selah Irrigation company, the corporation with Clark O'Bryan at its head, which undertook to place water on Pomona Heights, is not a very flattering showing for the old management of that concern and shows its affairs to be in a very badly tangled condition. All work on the project is now suspended pending a decision from Secretary Ballinger of the interior department as to what attitude the government will assume towards the project in the matter of conceding water for the land from the Yakima river.

A statement of the receiver taken from the books of the company, which has been sent to B. O. Thrall, president of the Pomona Water Users association, in addition to the report filed with the court, gives the receipts at $44,781.01, and disbursements at $44,637.32. In the statement of disbursements is an item of $6,657 for attorney's fees, to which Mr. Thrall says objection will be made along with other items, as H. J. Snively, who was attorney for the company and represents the Pomona Water Users association, has a claim filed with the receiver for $1100 for attorney's fees.

The report of the receiver shows that the amount paid to the company for land contracts amounted to $29,532.32 and for water contracts $20,303.75. There is yet due $153,112.68 on land and water contracts, $17,283.25 on water contracts, $3,049.60 on notes and mortgages and $71.62 credit on taxes, making a total of $173,517.15 due the company. Of the total amount of indebtedness against the company $29,932.55 represents accounts, $2,164.42 taxes, $7,489.22 liens, $38,781.47 mortgages, $6,000 notes and $976.34 in judgments.

LARGE OFFICE BUILDING

A. E. Larson stated today that work on his new building on South Second street will be commenced within a very brief time. Present plans call for a building to cost $75,000. It will be the largest business structure in the city. It will have a frontage of over 100 feet and will be 132 feet deep. A full basement and three stories are to be built now and the structure will be so arranged that two more floors may be added when business demands it. Concrete will be used for the basement and brick for the walls.

"The building will be so arranged that I can either make the lower floor one large room or six store rooms," said Mr. Larson today. "The upper floors will be devoted to offices. I have not leased any portion of the structure but I am confident that I will have no difficulty in leasing the store and office rooms when the building is completed."

Mr. Larson stated he had temporarily abandoned his plan to build on Chestnut street in the rear of the Cadwell building.

CHARLES HEWITT INSANE.

This is Charge Made Against Man Who Tried to Commit Suicide.

Charles Hewitt, who attempted to take his own life last Saturday night, by taking two kinds of poison, but who recovered because one kind of poison acted as an antidote for the other, is now confronted by a charge of insanity filed by his son on Wednesday. Immediately after Hewitt recovered from the effects of the poison he was taken to his home in the Cowiche. There, it is alleged, he has been continually threatening to repeat the effort to take his life, and says that the next time he will be successful. When the sheriff went out to get him last evening he was in such a condition that it was not deemed safe to bring him down to town. As soon as his physical condition improves sufficiently he will be brought before the court and examined as to his sanity.

OPENS NEW HOTEL.

W. B. Ross, proprietor of the new Tieton Hotel, on the corner of First and Chestnut streets, has arrived from Seattle and began installing his furniture today. The new hotel will be opened for business soon after the first of May. It will contain 46 rooms and will be conducted as a first class hotel. Mr. Ross, the proprietor, was for several years engaged in the hotel business in Alaska and while there was well acquainted with Murray B. Miles, who was connected with railroad work there.

ENGINEER'S FACE BADLY BURNED

W. H. Patterson Injured by Exploding Gas at Plant of U. S. Laundry.

W. H. Patterson, engineer for the U. S. Laundry company, sustained a number of burns about the head and face this morning when he opened a draft in the fire box of one of the engines at the laundry. Patterson was not satisfied with the way the fire was burning and opened the draft in hopes of living it up a little. As he opened the door, a quantity of gas exploded, the flames shooting into his face. A portion of the man's mustache, his eyelashes and his eyebrows were burned off and his face badly scorched. A surgeon dressed the burns and he will be at work again tomorrow.

Divorce Granted.

HUNTING BEARS.

If You Meet a Wounded Grizzly Give Him a Wide Berth.

A wounded grizzly is a mean thing to fight, and if there is a tree handy it is a pretty good thing to climb if anything gets wrong with your shooting irons. I do not think a grizzly will climb a tree, though brown and black bears will. Any bear is pretty sure to fight if crippled, but I know there is this difference between a black or brown bear and a grizzly: If you meet a black bear face to face unexpectedly give him five seconds and he will be out of sight, but meet a grizzly the same way and give him five seconds and you will be out of business.

About the most fascinating way to hunt bear, which is even better than night work, is to trail him right to his home and meet him in broad daylight on his own doorstep, as it were. It can be done, but everything must be just right. The ground might be covered with a light fall of snow, and the snow ought to be melting. Then the twigs won't break. One has to be very careful, and when bruin is found, which is generally at the foot of a large tree, one must never forget that instead of one there may be two, and, in that case, one must be able to shoot fast and straight, and implicit confidence in the gun he carries is about the best stock in trade a man can possess. About the surest place to shoot a bear to stop him quickly, to my way of thinking, is directly in the brain. It is really not a hard shot, usually at short range, and it puts him out mighty quick.—Field and Stream.

Gastric and Nervous Vertigo.

The most common forms of vertigo are the gastric and the nervous. Gastric vertigo is sometimes induced by a very slight disorder of the stomach. The patient may feel a sudden swimming at the head; objects may seem to revolve; he totters and perhaps falls. There may be nausea, faintness, headache, visual hallucinations and buzzing in the ears, but there is no deafness nor any danger of a loss of consciousness. Gastric vertigo is cured by treatment directed to the cause.

Nervous vertigo may come from nervous exhaustion resulting from various causes—intellectual strain or an immoderate use of tobacco, alcohol or tea. The symptoms are much the same as in gastric vertigo. They are felt strongly in an elevated position—by the preacher in the pulpit or the speaker on the platform. As in gastric vertigo, the treatment must be directed to the cause. But patients need not fear an attack of paralysis or of apoplexy.

MAKES BIG PROFIT

John Roman Sells His Selah Orchard to Theodore Steenberger of Seattle.

One of the biggest deals that has been made in real estate close in for some time was closed today when the John Roman fruit ranch in the Selah valley passed into the hands of Theodore Steenberger and his two brothers, J. V. and William, of Seattle. The sale was made by the Highland company.

The ranch is a 40 acre tract that has all been set to fruit trees and a good part of it is in bearing orchard. It is a mile and a quarter from Selah station, and is all above the frost line. The place is highly improved and is one of the finest of its kind in the valley. The consideration is said to have been $25,000.

Mr. Steenberger is an Alaskan. He is only one of many who have made fortunes in the north and have been attracted to the Yakima country to make investments. He will leave his brothers in charge of the farm.

THE CLIMBING PERCH.

An East Indian Fish That Travels Over the Land.

As a rule, fish come out of the water only at the end of a line or by other involuntary process, but the climbing perch of the East Indies thinks nothing of leaving a pool with which it is not satisfied and starting overland in search of one more to its taste.

This usually happens as a result of the evaporation of a pool in the extremely dry season. When the fish decide that the water in the particular pool formed during the rainy season is incapable of drying out completely they make all preparations for moving and late at night or early in the morning deliberately climb the banks and start off in search of some more commodious pool or stream not in danger of going dry. When the journey is made at the hour it usually is the fish are favored by the heavy dew which lies on the grass, but if an emergency arises they will boldly strike out at noontime along the dusty road.

They travel by means of the strong bony fins which are full of sharp spines, like those of the common perch. They have a receptacle in which they carry water with them to moisten their gills. It is said that they will live several days out of water, and with the assistance of the dew laden grass the fish that starts in search of a satisfactory pool or stream is practically sure of living until it finds it. —Brooklyn Times.

Origin of "Jesuits."

The members of the Society of Jesus appear first to have been given their familiar short name "Jesuits," by none other than Calvin. Pope Sixtus V. attempted to change their name from "Society of Jesus" to "Society of Ignatius," after their founder, Ignatius Loyola, but the attempt miscarried, and the Jesuits have never become "Ignatians," after the model of the Franciscans, Dominicans and Benedictines, although their enemies in Spain used to call them "Inquisitors" (Inigo being the Spanish original of Loyola's Christian name). In France after their expulsion in 1765 those who ventured to remain temporarily called themselves "Fathers of the Faith," or "Clerks of the Sacred Heart."—London Chronicle.

The Daytime Nap.

Prolonged "forty winks" during the day are severely condemned by many doctors on the ground that they affect one's regular sleep. Scientists have found that in the ordinary course in the human being there is the greatest vitality between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. and the least between 2 o'clock and 6 o'clock in the morning. Long sleeps during the day interfere with this order of nature, sometimes causing headache. The nap of forty winks, but only forty, proves refreshing to many because it is too short to have any injurious consequences.

How He Got the Moon.

John Henry Maedler, the astronomer whose favorite study was the moon, having learned that Frau Witte, the wife of the state councillor, owned a wonderful model of his pet luminary spent years trying to gain possession of it. As her husband was living, he could not marry the owner of the model, so he married her daughter, and at the death of his mother-in-law the coveted moon became his.

WERE ARRESTED HERE

Olga Nelson and Paul Ledridge Nabbed on Day Set Aside for Their Marriage.

Instead of being married this afternoon as they had planned, Olga Nelson, aged 17, and Paul Ledridge, aged 23, are locked in the city jail. The girl is charged with having stolen $440 in cash from her mother in Tacoma. Arrested with the girl and her sweetheart, is Arthur Ansler, who is alleged to have run away with the pair from Tacoma. The arrest of the trio follows a description sent to Chief of Police Story from Tacoma by Chief J. M. Duly of that city.

The girl and the two young men left Tacoma Monday shortly after the theft is alleged to have been committed by the girl. Patrolman Niles found the young folks out for a walk this afternoon and promptly locked them in the city jail. The girl will probably be taken to the county jail and put in the women's department.

Ledridge, who is the young woman's gentleman friend, claims he did not know that she stole the money from her mother. He says he and Ansler made up their minds Sunday to come to North Yakima to work. He met the Nelson girl Sunday evening and told her he intended to go to North Yakima, he says. The girl said she would go too but he says he told her that she must stay in Tacoma.

When Nelson and Ansler got to the train Monday evening they found the Nelson girl there too. They went in the smoking car and she stayed in the day coach.

When arrested the girl had something over $300 on her person. The young men claim not to know what she did with the rest of it or where she obtained any of her money.

The girl cursed her luck when locked in the city jail. "I hate to swear," she said, "but this is a hell of a hole to put a girl in." She was game, however, and said she was willing to be locked up if her sweetheart, Ledridge, and his companion were to be imprisoned.

The girl is pretty. The young fellows are well dressed and display considerable jewelry. They say they have a friend here but refuse to give his name. The trio will be held until word is received from the Tacoma authorities. All three are anxious to know their fate.

A COLOSSAL GORGE.

The Sublime Beauties of the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

This terrific gash is more than 200 miles long and more than a mile deep, and its area exceeds 2,000 square miles. From the El Tovar rim, on which I stand, to the gleaming, snow veined crags on the opposite side of this stupendous cleft the distance is thirteen miles. Human vision cannot take in the full extent of this wide pageant of terror and glory nor is it within the capacity of words to set forth its overwhelming splendor. The plain on which I stand is nearly 8,000 feet above sea level, and here, in a prodigious fissure—gaunt, abrupt, frightful and wonderful—are assembled mountains, valleys, enormous rocks, precipitous crags, ravines of mystery and forests of gloom, through which the black waters of the Colorado rush onward in their restless flow and over which the dauntless eagle wings its upward flight to meet the sun. All the forms are here that imagination could construct, and all the colors are here that glow in sunset skies. Far down in the subterranean vista the forests show like green lawns. Not less than seven geologic periods in the physical history of the planet are displayed in the layers of tinted rock—black, green, gray, red, brown, blue, pink, orange and alabaster, with many other mingled hues—that constitute the walls of this colossal gorge; walls that seem continuous and unbroken, yet everywhere are rifted with lateral fissures, the beds of mountain streams that swell the flood of the great Colorado river. The American continent has nowhere else a spectacle to show commensurate with this in beauty, grandeur and awe.—William Winter in Pacific Monthly.

SYSTEMS OF WRITING.

The Famous Method Known as the Boustrophedon.

About the year 450 B. C. the Ionians first introduced the system of writing from left to right. Previous to that time all scribes and penmen in general had been in the habit of beginning the line on the right hand side of the page and running it toward the left. The introduction of the left to right mode of writing caused considerable confusion for a time, and from the mixed systems which prevailed during the following century sprang the famed method known as the boustrophedon. Those who used the system last mentioned would begin a line at the left margin of their parchments and run it through to the opposite margin and then drop a space below and run back to the opposite edge of the sheet again. In other words, the boustrophedon mode of writing was a system in which the lines ran alternately from left to right and from right to left. This system did not entirely disappear until about the time of Christ. The ancient Hebrew and Greek languages were written from right to left, but at about the time the Ionians were reforming writing methods the Greek letters were changed in form from the uncial to the cursive, and the system of writing was changed in both cases so as to run from left to right. The following quotation from Franklin illustrates the mixed, or boustrophedon, system of writing:

"When I see a merchant overpolite to a ekat of meht gniggeb, sremotsuc sh little brandy and throwing his goods on na sah nam takt I skulht, retnuoc eht ax to grnd."—St. Louis Republic.

Fighting Seasickness.

There is one place in a ship where the voyager may be at rest. This writer discovered it during a mid-Atlantic storm, when he went down to the bathroom, tumbled into a warm sea bath and floated. The vessel was performing the most amazing antics, but the water in the bath kept its usual gravity, and the bather floated with a smile upon its bosom.—London Chronicle.

WHAT ABOUT PROSPERITY?

Henry Clews, the New York banker, was one of the strongest supporters of the republican ticket during the recent campaign. Mr. Clews wanted the American people to elect Taft and Sherman in order that prosperity might be maintained. He was anxious for the defeat of the democratic ticket in order that hard times for the people generally and low wages for the laboring man particularly might be avoided. Commoner readers may, therefore, be interested in a statement made over the signature of this same Henry Clews and printed in the Weekly Financial Review, issued by the banking house of Henry Clews & Co. In this letter, which is dated March 13, Mr. Clews says that the only dark cloud upon the horizon at present is the labor situation. He adds:

"A number of reductions in wages have already taken place in the steel trade and more are expected. In the copper industry lower wages are also in force. The coal trade dispute with labor will begin on April 1, the outcome of which will be awaited with intense interest. Since both sides are ready and even anxious for a struggle, it is quite likely that a month or six weeks will elapse before a settlement is reached. How far-reaching the lower wages movement will become it is impossible to determine, but all rational beings are convinced that labor can not expect to entirely escape its share in the general depression in the inevitable readjustment."

But what about the great prosperity which was promised to the people in the event of republican victory?—The Commoner.

WASTE OF PUBLIC FUNDS.

Why should we now have deficits everywhere and continuous clamor for increased taxation? says the Lewiston Tribune. The country is at peace, and is prosperous; there has been an enormous increase in taxable values; we have had no famine or plague. Why should the people be belabored and pursued for more and more money to meet deficits, to pay the price of government when there is really no good reason why the popular burden should not be reduced rather than increased? In these times of shortages in the public funds of towns, cities and states much is said about increasing taxation or finding more property which can be taxed. What does it all spell?

A contemporary propounds some timely suggestions as follows: "Is it not singular that the only remedy suggested for empty public treasuries is the levying of more taxes? Has it occurred to any one in authority to learn whether or not the money collected under laws now in force is expended to the best advantage? Is it not possible, in many instances, to avoid increasing the tax rate by judicious economy? Has any taxpayer ever endeavored to learn how much money, if any, is wasted every year?" The fact is that the waste is so conspicuous, so general, that no body has deemed it worth while to even refer to it. It is a notorious fact, for illustration, that it costs at least three times as much to keep up a state institution as it costs to maintain a private institution of the same kind. When it comes to some lines of service money is poured out like water. Economy is considered a term of insult.

Death has at last claimed the venerable William M. Stewart, for many years U. S. senator from Nevada, he having died at Washington, D. C., a week ago as the result of a surgical operation. The present generation knew the senator as a very vigorous and masterful old man. Stewart was serving his first term in the senate when Abraham Lincoln was assassinated. For many years he and his colleague, Jones, were the leaders of the silver party and both were very able men. Three different times the mines of Nevada made Stewart a millionaire, but the old statesman simply couldn't stand prosperity and died comparatively poor. Four years ago he lost his seat in the senate to a Goldfield millionaire, who in his younger days was an employee of Stewart. Broke both financially and politically, and nearly 80 years of age, but with the heart and courage of youth, the old man journeyed back to Nevada, which had usually been most kind to him, and hung out his shingle as a lawyer in the new camp of Bullfrog. Fortune had begun to smile on him again when the grim reaper claimed him. Although not esteemed as a statesman of high principle he left his mark on history. He was a man of striking appearance and a born leader, who was true to his friends.

It would appear that Senator Piles, in his capacity of attorney, has had pretty rich pickings from the John Sullivan estate at Seattle. A one-half interest in a million dollar estate from the standpoint of an impecunious lawyer must have seemed like a Godsend. Of course, nobody in Seattle, except possible competitors for the toga, cares a hang how "Slippery Sam" came by the money, the all important question being, did he get it? Yes, apparently, he did, but at the expense of the rightful heirs. One of these, an old man who had come all the way from Ireland, stated his case briefly in court the other day when he said: "Years ago I signed away to Mr. Piles a half interest in this estate, but now it appears he wants it all." Well, of course.

Shively has not only made a bad witness for himself but he has clearly shown the yellow streak in his make-up by squealing. He testified that he had "divided" up all illegal insurance fees with his chief and benefactor, Sam Nichols, secretary of state. Evidently those rascals have robbed the state and the insurance companies systematically for years, and yet they had the temerity to pose before the legislature as honest men and to declare that they needed no investigation. There are probably better men in the penitentiary, having committed lesser offenses. Yet both of these men were re-elected to office last fall when the people knew, or at least had every opportunity to know that they were conscienceless grafters.

The Yakima Republic represents this paper as having stated that Mr. J. H. Rose is endeavoring to sell to the city his artesian well for a consideration of $25,000 "when it had cost him but $5,000 to dig it." The Democrat made no such statement, nor any reference at all as to what amount Mr. Rose had expended in sinking his well, for it had no means of knowing whether the well had cost Mr. Rose $5,000 or $50,000. In its usual flippant way the Republic assured its readers The Democrat was knocking Mr. Rose, or the value of his property. The only fair inference that could be placed on our article was that the city does not want the Rose well at any price, for the reason that it does not want that sort of a water system.

When Patten got what he was after out of the wheat pit and had made his millions he stepped out, of course, like any other practiced gambler and let the market go hang. But the suckers trying to imitate him didn't know that and kept right along trying to bull the market when wheat had long before reached an unnatural price and was ready to drop to its natural level. And it did drop with the result that the suckers were hard hit and most of them were left broke. But they got what was coming to them.

Shively has been indicted by the Spokane grand jury for perjury in addition to being a general grafter. And now the Post-Intelligencer calls loudly for Shively's resignation. But the latter is no worse man now perhaps than he was before the primaries, when the lordly P.-I. denounced him as a "petty grafter," which it lacked the courage to do after Shively had received the party nomination.

The Asiatic problem is already a perplexing one in Hawaii. Already the Japanese and Chinese, mostly of the cool class, number over four-sevenths of the total population of the islands, with a steady stream pouring in from the Orient. It would seem to be a part of the Japanese plan to gradually and quietly colonize Hawaii. In the meantime apparently the U. S. government is doing nothing to checkmate Japan's greedy ambition.

Secretary of the Interior Ballinger is believed to be the man behind the scenery in Washington who is really dictating federal appointments in this state, and the discovery of that fact has made the members of the delegation from this state feel rather sore. Piles, in particular, it is said. Of course, but it all goes to show that Judge Ballinger is building a political fence or two himself in the state of Washington.

Editor Lorton of Walla Walla at last accounts hadn't succeeded in breaking into office yet. A month ago he was getting ready to succeed "Boss" Crocker as collector of internal revenue. Failing in that he was ready two weeks later to succeed Kingsbury as surveyor general, but Kingsbury was reappointed. Lorton appears to be as effectually out of the game now as is his old benefactor, Levi Ankeny, whom he finally turned against.

Senator Bourne of Oregon, a very noted fourflusher, is attempting to have the duty on hops increased from 12 to 20 cents per pound. Now when that has been accomplished the Oregon hopgrowers, who have been selling the product for eight cents or less, ought to get in the future at least 16 cents per pound. "What fools these mortals be!" Why waste time hereafter in looking up the London hop market, since Bourne will fix the price?

Congressman Cushman has landed a federal judgeship in Alaska for his brother. A few years ago the Cushman was punching cattle back in Wyoming. Now they appear to be among the great of the earth—that is from the Cushman point of view.

The Turkish reform party has deposed the sultan and turned him adrift with his 40 wives. The poor man is sure up against it now.

WILL EITHER SPRAY OR DESTROY TREES

Fruit Inspector Morrison Issues Manifesto Regarding Orchards in the City.

"There is a clause in the new horticultural law which says people must disinfect their fruit trees or stand ready to pay for disinfection of their orchards done by the county," said District Fruit Inspector Thomas O. Morrison today. "When a man refuses to spray his trees the county inspector may order it done at the owner's expense or he may have them destroyed. He is empowered to do either thing he chooses in a case of this kind."

"Deputy Inspector Starcher informs me today that there are a number of persons owning trees in the city who refuse to care for them. They have been asked to see that their orchards were sprayed but have repeatedly refused to do so. This is a bad state of affairs. We do not propose to have dirty trees in the city any more than in the country."

"I will say right here that those trees are either going to be sprayed or destroyed. It is not right for the whole valley to become contaminated because of one man's carelessness or of several men's carelessness."

"Those people who have refused to spray their orchards may expect to have them either sprayed or destroyed by the county. Action will be taken immediately. I know who the people are and where their orchards are. We have been lenient with the people but there is a possibility of being so lenient with a man that a great many others will have to suffer for it."

OPEN NEW FRUIT LANDS

For the purpose of opening up a large territory on the Columbia river, 12 miles above White Bluffs, six North Yakima business men have formed a corporation with a capital stock of $50,000. Articles of incorporation have been filed with the county auditors of Yakima and Benton counties and with the secretary of state at Olympia. The company is composed of J. O. Jeffery, J. Van Payton, E. C. Jeffery, Henry H. Clapp, James F. Zediker and B. F. Ritz. It is to be known as the Columbia River Fruit Lands company. The principal place of business will be in North Yakima.

The land lies near the point where the Hanford irrigation canal is taken from the Columbia river and comprises all of section 32. A large pumping plant is to be installed in the Columbia river and water will be furnished not only for purposes of irrigation but also for domestic use. The company owns land with a mile of water frontage. Docks are to be constructed and a town established.

The Hanford irrigation canal passes through the section but no water will be taken from that source. The company will be independent of any other company operating in that locality. The articles filed yesterday indicate that the company owns land with deposits of building stone and that it will do an extensive business in that line. The articles provide that the company shall have a right to build and operate railways, either by steam, electric or other motive power to and from, around and across its own lands.

John O. Jeffery, the principal stockholder, said this morning that his company has a most ideal tract of fruit land, high and slightly and well protected from frost. A plain view of Douglas county with its rolling wheat fields is obtained from any portion of the tract. The Columbia river makes a big bend near the property and one may see for miles up and down the magnificent stream.

WATER FROM KLIKITAT

Appropriations Made to Water Lands in Yakima, Klickitat and Benton Counties.

Another move looking toward the reclamation of the dry lands on the bench in Yakima, Klickitat and Benton counties was made this morning when M. Conlan filed with the county auditor his notices of appropriation of 3,000 cubic feet of water per second from the Klickitat river and its branches.

One of these notices shows an appropriation of 2,000 cubic feet from the Klickitat river above the mouth of Pearl creek. This water is to be taken from the west side of the river and is to be carried in a southeasterly direction to the lands to be irrigated in Yakima, Klickitat and Benton counties.

The second notice calls for the appropriation of 500 cubic feet of water from the west fork of the Klickitat river, and the third notice calls for an appropriation of 500 cubic feet from Big Muddy creek, which is a branch of the Klickitat river. All of these appropriations are made in Yakima county.

TOWNSHIP IS OPENED.

Farmer Settlers Near Cle Elum Lake Given Opportunity to Re-Enter.

Persons who have settlement rights in township 22, range 14, which is a short distance north of Lake Cle Elum, and which was withdrawn from entry on December 22, 1902, will have an opportunity to get back upon their lands, according to an announcement made today by the register and receiver of the North Yakima land office.

This township had not been surveyed prior to its withdrawal for the national forest reserve. It has now been surveyed and the plat of this survey will be placed on file in the land office on June 1. Persons who settled upon these lands prior to December 27, 1902, are advised that they will be allowed 90 days after June 1, 1909, within which to file applications for the lands claimed by them under settlement rights.

This land was temporarily withdrawn from entry in December, 1902, and on July 1, 1908, it came within the limits of the Wenatchee forest reserve as established by the president's proclamation. The land lies in Kittitas county. This notice is to only those who claim prior rights and does not mean that the land is to be opened to general entry.

"SQUAW" BILL ARRESTED.

Bill McMorris, commonly known as "Squaw" Bill, is in the county jail. He was brought back from Prosser last night by Deputy Sheriff Webber because a horse belonging to William Bell of Toppenish was found in his possession. This animal was found with a number of others in the possession of "Squaw" Bill at Grandview on Wednesday. There was no definite charge against him at that time, but one was filed that evening and the following morning he was taken into custody by the sheriff at Prosser. He says he purchased the horse from a man who was packing for a sheep camp.

PECK REFUSED TO PLAY SECOND FIDDLE

Assistant Secretary of A.-Y.-P. Committee Tenders Resignation for Good.

"I am not going to play second fiddle for anyone," said E. G. Peck, who resigned as assistant secretary of the Yakima county A.-Y.-P. committee, the position to which he had been appointed as an assistant superintendent at the building and even as a member of the committee. "Two weeks before I was appointed assistant secretary President McDonald himself kept at me to accept the position. Finally I consented and arranged all of my affairs so that I could devote my time exclusively to the A.-Y.-P. committee. Some time after I accepted the position I told John Lynch and Mr. McDonald that I thought of making application for general superintendent of the building, as I had given up my personal affairs and made arrangements to devote my time to the A.-Y.-P. committee. Members of the committee advised me to make application for the position of general superintendent. Before the meeting yesterday I was informed that those who told me to make application for the place had also asked Mr. Haasze, who never thought of the position or cared for it, to file an application. I saw through the whole matter and had my resignation prepared and in my pocket ready to tender it to the committee as soon as the matter was brought up. I am now out of the whole business. I am free and glad of it."

The special committee appointed to select a superintendent and assistants had much difficulty in harmonizing the opposing factions back of each applicant for places. It was pointed out that while Mr. Haasze resides in North Yakima, practically all his interests are below the gap and he would be acceptable to the delegations from the southern part of the county. Sunnyside, in particular, was making a strong effort to land R. K. Tiffany as general superintendent, but North Yakima opposed him on the ground that this city will raise the bulk of the funds for the exhibit and it should have more direct representation at the head of the exhibit. The vacancies caused by the resignation of Mr. Peck have not been filled. Deputy County Auditor Newcomb, who is secretary of the committee, will take charge of the office work, and the position of assistant secretary will be abolished. Mr. Haasze taking active management of the raising of funds and supervising all work connected with the exhibition.

MOXEE.

The basket social Friday night was enjoyed by a large crowd. It was also a success financially.

The Green family of North Yakima will appear next Friday night at the Holland school house in a musical recital.

The North Yakima & Valley railroad engineers have established a camp by the Moxee bridge and are engaged in surveying the proposed road into the valley.

Mr. Peck is out assessing again, getting those that he missed the first time.

Mr. Smith, a photographer from town, was out Monday taking pictures of the different school houses for use in the county educational exhibit that will be sent to the A.-Y.-P. fair.

Willie Ekleman met with quite a painful accident last week, being kicked by a horse below the knee. The bone was splintered badly enough to necessitate the use of crutches for a few days.

The Moxee company have their ditching machine in full operation and are getting along with the work in good shape.

Albert Robie has purchased 10 acres from the Moxee company for $300 per acre.

Mrs. Cheney has sold her 80 acres. The consideration is not known.

LOWER NACHES.

Mr. Jarvis and Miss Grafton and Mr. Chas. Weiser were Sunday guests at the Newman ranch.

The topic for the C. E. meeting next Sunday evening will be "Heroes of African Missions." The leader will be J. W. Patterson.

Miss Sadie Jacobson and Mr. Casper McCormick were entertained at dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McCormick.

Miss Frances Day of town has been visiting at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Newman the past week.

The North Coast railroad will parallel the N. Y. & V. railroad tracks through the lower valley, so report says. Why don't all of the ranchers whom this will affect get together and talk over the matter of right of way? It has been suggested that it might be a good thing for the ranchers.

The many friends in the valley of Mrs. James Jacobson will be sorry to learn of her severe illness.

Will R. Smith has moved into his barn to live until he builds his house.

Harry White has a gang of men digging the cellar for his house, which will be put up immediately.

Gus Larsen is getting his house along in good shape and altogether they of the Willhargus ranch are making a good showing in this work.

Mr. Ben Kohls spent Monday evening at the Newman ranch. Ben is an old friend and always welcomed.

How about the rural route and also the good roads committees of the Brotherhood? Probably they are keeping at it and at the next meeting they will report that there will be "something doing." Chairman Chapman had his gang worked on the road last week and made some necessary repairs.

Miss Bessie Simmons of North Yakima was a week end visitor at the Geirrip ranch last week.

Fred Moore has bought the old Morford house and will move it on to a lot he owns in town.

Mr. Stump has sold a part of his ranch to a Mr. Wimer, a newcomer from Minnesota.

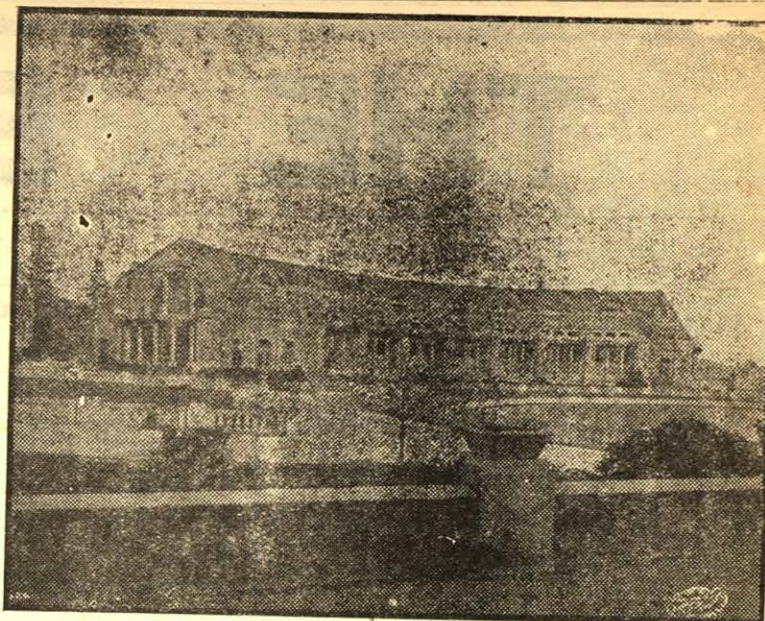

Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Patterson entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Gerry at dinner Sunday.

WILL HOLD NO INQUEST.

Authorities Believe Death of George Forester Was Accidental or Suicide.

There will be no inquest into the drowning of George Forester, whose dead body was found in Bumping Lake last Friday. The authorities are satisfied that the death was either accidental or a suicide. The presence of several bruises on the dead man's body led to the belief that he might have met with foul play.

Forester was demented and he had previously made an attempt at suicide by cutting his throat. He was just recovering from that when he made away with himself by drowning. Forester

MANUFACTURERS BUILDING.

On the eastern side of Geyser Basin, at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, the handsome Manufacturers Building looks across the restless waters of the Cascades and the flashing foam of "Old Faithful," the reproduction of its namesake in Yellowstone National Park.

Its location is the most central of any of the exposition buildings, and its architectural design is especially fitting for the position it has been given. It was one of the first great exhibition palaces to be completed, and before the end of last year was ready for the reception of its vast collection of exhibits. It will house a magnificent assortment of the highest examples of man's ingenuity and invention, and within its walls will be gathered specimens of manufactured articles from the workshops of every nation of importance in the world.

It overlooks the finest of the formal gardens of the exposition, and its splendid line of pergolas, with their vine-covered columns and blossoming flowers, complete a restful and pleasing view. At no part of the grounds can be seen a more beautiful illuminating effect than is presented from the open pergolas during the late evening and early night. A million sparkling electric bulbs flash their white lights through the waters and, scattered throughout the greenery, hundreds of electrolights mingle their many hues with the riot of colors. Looking down the gentle slope of Rainier Avenue the floating craft of two lakes is brought into vision and adds the delights of a broad, light-sprinkled stretch of forest-enclosed waters to the whole effect.

The Checking Account for the Farmer

Many farmers keep a checking account with us regularly because it is a great help and convenience in their every day business.

With a checking account you can tell exactly the total amount of your receipts and expenditures for each month for the entire year. When you sell your farm products, deposit your money in the Bank, subject to check. The obligations you have can be cancelled by check. When you make a purchase, pay by check.

We invite you to try this system.

WE NEVER SLEEP

A PORTION OF THE CASCADE COURT.

The Palace of Oriental Exhibits forms one of the twelve mammoth display buildings first completed by the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. Its lines are in pleasing contrast to the Agricultural and Manufacturers buildings, with which they are grouped, and their position overlooks the beautiful formal gardens and water display of the Cascades and Geyser Basin.

The exhibit placed within the walls of the Oriental building constitutes one of the most gorgeous displays of Far Eastern art and manufactured articles ever shipped from the Orient, and is bewildering in beauty and extent. Not a country of Asia is without representation, and treasures of old and modern art, never before permitted to leave the lands in which they were created, will be seen for the first time in the land of the Occident. The matter of arrangement of the Oriental exhibit has been placed in the hands of the most competent and artistic men at command and its display will be worthy of the magnificent collection.

About the Oriental building are gathered the great buildings housing the United States exhibit and the Alaska, Hawaiian and Philippine displays. One of the largest bandstands is within close distance, and from its doors the most noted musical organizations of the world will be heard daily.

Won His Bet.

A hotel proprietor in Baltimore tells an amusing story, in which the main figure is an old gentleman well known to the waiters in the hotels of the Monumental City for his aversion to the tipping system.

One evening the old gentleman, having finished his dinner, was preparing to leave the hotel when the darky who had served him bowed and said, "Thank you very much, sah."

"What the deuce are you thanking me for?" angrily demanded the old fellow. "I haven't given you anything."

"Dat's jest it, boss," responded the waiter. "I bet No. 10 50 cents dat you wouldn't tip me."—Harper's Weekly.

Rembrandt and Murillo.

Through the eighteenth century Dutch painters, like those of other countries, turned to Italy for inspiration. Rembrandt's marvels of light were forgotten or condemned by ignorant critics, his portraits, that search into the souls of his subjects, despised for their "laborious, ignorant diligence." He was neglected, while Murillo continued to be abundantly admired. Now, however, Murillo is esteemed less highly, and Rembrandt has been restored to his place among the giants.—St. Nicholas.

Falling Hair.

Hair nearly always begins to fall in one of two places—at the temples and where it is parted. If a new parting be given, the old one will be afforded a chance of recovering itself, provided, of course, that proper measures be employed. The chief reason for hair falling out where it is parted seems to be the strain that is brought to bear by comb and brush.

A FEW DON'TS.

Don't be reckless, especially in your lying.

Don't give to the Lord and then go out and rob a widow.

Don't acquire the borrowing habit, or the day will come when you will run out of friends.

Don't marry an insolent man expecting him to brace up, or you may have to take in washing to pay for the brace.

Don't be so mean minded that you can see no good in a man. He may be the first to loan you money in time of need.

Don't lay up everything for a rainy day and go hungry all through life. Besides, where you are going it may never rain.

Don't spread butter on both sides of your bread just because you have $3 in your pockets. An earthquake may come along and shake the chance out of them.—Denver News.

Development of a Chick.

The development of a chick within the egg is one of the most wonderful things in nature. At the end of the fifty-eighth hour of incubation the heart begins to beat, two vesicles are seen and a few hours later the auricles also appear. On the fourth day the outlines of the wings may be perceived and sometimes of the head also; on the fifth day the liver is visible; on the sixth other internal organs appear. In 190 hours the beak is fully formed; in 200 hours the ribs are clearly developed; in 240 hours the feathers are visible; in 268 hours the eyes appear; in 288 the ribs are completed and the feathers on the breast; in 330 the lungs, stomach and breast have assumed a natural appearance. On the eighteenth day the first faint piping of the chick is sometimes audible.

Geese From Shellfish.

Everybody in the whole civilized world between the eleventh and the seventeenth centuries believed that the "barnacle goose" hatched from that species of shellfish called the barnacle. The story was first told by Cambrensis and was devoutly believed by all Christians for more than half a thousand years. A well known scientific writer, reviewing the opinions of Cambrensis, says: "According to our venerable authority, the barnacle goose is generated from logs of wood allowed to decompose in the water. When decomposition has fairly begun, small bumps on the log may be observed. Little by little these increase in size, and finally assume the form and shape of a mass of barnacles, which is well known as a kind of shellfish. Soon after the shell, or husk, bursts open and a full grown goose may be seen in the water clinging to the log only by its bill. A few days longer it continues to draw its nourishment from the log, then breaks away in the form of a perfect goose, exercising all the functions of its kind."

Getting Quick Action.

"The gambling instinct, once aroused, will make the victim gamble with anything," said a Detroit. "I saw two gamblers meet the other day and indulge in a quick gamble with 50 cent pieces. 'Odd or even?' asked the first. 'Odd,' said the second. And the man with the odd date on the coin won. His half dollar was dated 1879. The other was dated 1880. Another game is played with dollar bills. It is 'greenback poker,' and was hatched in Washington. Each bill bears a series number—say, 90667634 or the like. In the number cited are two nines and three sixes—a 'full house.' The next man may have a bill numbered 72243880. He has, you observe, two pairs.

"High wins," the players say on meeting, each holding his bill out of sight. Then they compare and settle up. 'Greenback poker' is a good quick way to lose a whole lot of money."—Detroit News.

Model Sickness.

The pretty girl had told the artist that she had posed before, and on the strength of that statement she got a job. She hadn't held the pose ten minutes before she turned deadly white and sank to the floor.

"Model sickness," said the experienced artist after she had gone. "I knew she was lying, for the first timers always get it. It is as well defined a complaint as seasickness and has to be treated the same way. It is a form of nausea and is caused as much by the nervous strain the new model is always under as by the unusual experience of standing in one position. I have had big, strong men, even negroes, go the same way. It is something every artist has to make allowances for, and only practice can cure it, although I know old models who still suffer from it, especially if they are in an awkward pose."—Exchange.

Some Words Beginning With H.

Most persons ascribe the initial letter of "humble" nowadays and write "a humble" just as they write "a humbug" or "a hummingbird." But there are very many who would not naturally sound an h in "humble," or in "herb," "hospital," "homage," or even "humor." Before the nineteenth century nobody did, though it is clear that the aspirate had become regular by "David Copperfield's" time, from the fact that Dickens harps on Uriah Heep's "umble." The insistence on the h is comparatively modern; mediaeval men not only said "abit" for "habit," but wrote it so and the Bible has "an Hebrew."

Articles of incorporation of the Reclamation Livestock & Investment company were filed with the county auditor this morning. The purpose of the corporation is to acquire lands and livestock, etc., and conduct a general livestock and investment business. The capital stock of the new concern is placed at $50,000 and the incorporators and trustees are Lucinda Sargent of

CUTTING OF TIMBER ON MINERAL LANDS

Important Regulations Have Just Been Issued By the Interior Department.

A ruling governing the taking of timber on mineral claims has just been received in the local land office. There is much of this land within the North Yakima district and the register and receiver here receive many inquiries as to the law governing the taking of timber. For this reason the regulations just promulgated by the department of the interior will be of special interest.

The law provides that all citizens in any mineral district may fell and remove for building, agricultural, mining or other domestic purposes any timber or trees growing or being upon the public land, such lands being mineral, and not subject to entry except for mineral entry. The provisions of this act do not extend to railroad corporations.

Qualified persons within any such district desiring to take timber for the purposes authorized by law must make application for permit to cut timber, such application to be presented to any register or receiver, or chief of field division having jurisdiction over the land.

Such application shall set forth the names and legal residences of persons applying to fell or remove, and the names and residence of the persons who are to use the timber; also the amount of timber required by each person, the use to be made thereof, and the time it is desired to begin the cutting. The lands to be cut over must be described so that they may be identified from the description. The application must be verified.

Upon the receipt of the application the chief of the field division shall cause an investigation to be made. If satisfactory he may authorize the cutting to proceed at once, under such restrictions as the protection of the timber and the undergrowth may require.

Permits granted shall specify: The persons authorized to fell and remove, and those authorized to use, with the amount and use stated as to each person; identify the lands to be cut over; that only matured timber may be taken, and the percentage of the total stand, acre by acre, to be cut; the method of disposing of the tops and other debris; that the cutting authorized shall be completed within 12 months of the date of the permit or application for renewal must be made.

No timber may be cut in advance of a determined lawful use.

No timber not matured may be cut. Each matured tree taken shall be worked up and utilized for some beneficial domestic purpose. Persons taking timber for specific purposes will be required to take only such matured trees as will work up for such purpose without unreasonable waste.

Brush, tops, lops and other forest debris made in felling and removing timber shall be disposed of in the manner best adapted to protecting the remaining growth, and as stated in the permit granted.

No timber cut or removed under the provisions of this act may be transported from or used out of the state or territory where cut.

Where permits are secured by fraud, or immature trees are taken, or timber is not taken or used by persons in accordance with the terms of the law, the government will enforce the same civil and criminal liabilities as in other cases of timber trespass upon public lands.

Registers and receivers are required to ascertain from time to time whether any timber is being cut from mineral lands, except as provided by this act. These rules will be in force from and after May 1, 1909.

DESERT LAND DECISION.

Ruling in Favor of Anthony Kaunas Received Here Today.

Ira M. Krutz was notified today by the general land office at Washington that the case of Anthony Kaunas, of Walla Walla, whose claim was contested, has been decided in favor of Kaunas. Mr. Krutz represented Kaunas in the case and was much surprised to have the ruling in his favor, having expected an adverse decision.

Kaunas filed on a desert claim in the Walla Walla district and employed men to do the necessary work on the claim each year to meet the requirements of the desert claim act. The claim was contested on the ground that not enough improvements had been made. The testimony showed that while Kaunas had expended enough money on the claim each year to meet the requirements, it had been injudiciously spent, with the result that at the end of three years only 13 acres of the land had been cleared of sage brush.

The commissioner ruled that while the improvements were hardly sufficient, the testimony showed that Kaunas had expended the required amount of money on the claim and ruled in his favor.

SIX NEGROES TO DIE.

Half Dozen Colored Men to Pay Penalty for Crime in Virginia.

Richmond, Va., April 29.—During the week beginning tomorrow six negroes are to be put to death in the electric chair at the state penitentiary here. Five of them were sentenced to be executed tomorrow, but three were granted a respite of a few days because the superintendent of the prison was afraid that some mishap might occur if he attempted to put five men to death in the same chair in one day.

Five of the six condemned negroes are the men who instigated and carried out the crime in Powhatan county the night of February 12, when Mrs. Mary E. Skipworth and Walter G. Johnson, her farm manager, were robbed, murdered and their bodies burned in the home they occupied. More than a dozen negroes were involved in the crime. Five have been convicted and the others are in jail awaiting trial.

John and William Brown, father and son, are to go to the chair tomorrow morning. Joe and Isham Taylor will follow next Wednesday, and two days later Lewis Jenkins will be put to death, as will also Howard Toler, a negro who assaulted a small negro girl in Pulaski.

PARKER.

Mrs. Herbert French and children are visiting for a few days with Mrs. J. F. McCurdy.

The people of Parker met at the church recently and fenced the grounds. It is quite an improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Pratt of Outlook visited friends in this vicinity last week.

Mrs. A. G. Dickson visited friends at Outlook last week.

Ben Hoffman and family have moved on the Ditter farm. Mr. Hoffman has charge of the farm for the year.

E. A. Goodwin has a crew of men cleaning the Union Gap ditch.

Mrs. Benjamin is suffering from an attack of the grip.

Miss Anna Kuntz has returned home after an extended visit with relatives in Yakima City and Mabton.

Messrs. George and Ed. Simonds are occupying their new home. It is one of the finest homes in the valley.

W. P. Sawyer is building a fine colonial home on his Elmwood farm.

Messrs. Sawyer and Wise, who recently purchased the Joseph Forman place, are among our new people. Gladly do we extend to them the right hand of fellowship.

Joseph Forman contemplates the erection of a new home on the Ed. Cobeen place.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hovis were Yakima visitors Saturday and Sunday, and while there went to hear the Evangelist Scoville.

W. L. Thompson and A. D. Dunn are caring for their hop yards. A. G. Dickson has taken his out and seeded to alfalfa. D. A. McDonald has taken one field out and planted potatoes, while A. E. Kuntz will not work his yard this year.

Notwithstanding the cold snap of the past week the fruit crop of Parker is all right with the exception of peaches. One 2-year-old Dwarf Bartlett pear tree has 104 blossoms on it.

INJUNCTION IS GRANTED.

Andrew McCracken Restrained from Running Water Over Yaakey Ranch.

By an order issued on Wednesday morning by Judge Preble in the superior court, Andrew McCracken and others are temporarily restrained from permitting the waste water from their irrigating ditches from overflowing the lands of Albert L. Yaakey. The lands in question are near Sunnyside.

Since the application was filed a couple of weeks ago a ditch has been constructed across the Yaakey land by some men under the direction of Walter N. Granger, manager of the Sunnyside canal. The right to do this was claimed under the provisions of a deed from the Washington Irrigation company. The court held that it had not been shown that there was a right to construct this ditch or that the defendants had the right to run waste water through it after it was constructed.

Contest Notice.

Department of the Interior, United States Land Office.

North Yakima, Washington, April 8, 1909.

A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Collin W. Henderson, contestant, against Homestead Entry No. 5912, made February 10, 1908, for Lot 1 and S½NW¼ and NE¼SW¼, section 2, township 14 N. Range 17 E. W. M., by William Kelly, contestee, in which it is alleged that said William Kelly has wholly failed since making the said entry to establish his residence upon said land or at any time at all; that he has failed to erect any kind of a dwelling house thereon or any buildings thereon since making said entry, or at any time at all, and has wholly failed to maintain his residence thereon and has abandoned said land; that since the date of said entry and prior to the time of filing this affidavit of contest, the said William Kelly presented to the United States land office at North Yakima, Wash., his application supported by affidavit, asking for a leave of absence from said land, and the same was granted by the Register and Receiver; that at the time of asking for said leave of absence the said William Kelly had wholly failed to establish his residence upon said land and had not maintained his residence thereon from the time of making said entry to the time of receiving said leave of absence; that the said leave of absence was fraudulently obtained in that the statements contained in his said affidavit were false and untrue and said leave of absence was secured by reason of the facts, among others, that he alleged that he had established his residence upon said land, when in truth and in fact, he had not and had wholly failed to comply with the law entitling him to a leave of absence, said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond, and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a. m. on May 17, 1909, before the Register and Receiver at the United States land office in North Yakima, Washington.

The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed March 26, 1909, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice can not be made, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.

In the Superior Court of the State of Washington for the County of Yakima. Dollie Condry, plaintiff, vs. Joseph J. Condry, defendant. The State of Washington to the said Joseph J. Condry, defendant: You are hereby summoned to appear within sixty days after the date of the first publication of this summons, to-wit, within sixty days after the 6th day of March, A. D. 1909, and defend the above entitled action in the above entitled Court, and answer the complaint of the plaintiff, and serve a copy of your answer upon the undersigned attorneys for plaintiff at their office below stated; and in case of your failure to do so, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint, which has been filed with the clerk of said court. The object of the said action, set forth in the complaint, is as follows: The plaintiff prays that she be granted an absolute decree of divorce from the said defendant, upon the following grounds: That the defendant has failed to support the plaintiff or furnish her with the necessities of life, or to contribute anything whatever to her support during said marriage, and for a decree decreeing that there is no community property of the said plaintiff and defendant; that there are no children as the issue of said marriage; that the plaintiff be restored to her former name, "Dollie Scott," and that the plaintiff have such other and further relief as to the court may seem equitable, meet and just in the premises.

H. J. SNIVELY,
Attorney for Plaintiff.
P. O. Address: North Yakima, County of Yakima, Washington.

Practical Farm Building Plans

Have you seen it—the 64-page book, written by an expert, containing practical up-to-date ideas for building and repairing everything from a hen house to a stable. Every point is explained. It is more than interesting—it is invaluable. Write for it—write now—ask for a free copy of "Practical Farm Building Plans." Incidentally it gives you information on the ready roofing question which anyone who believes in getting his money's worth will be mighty glad to have. Tell us when you write if you're interested in roofing. Many new roofings look good outside, but soon show what they are under actual test. PAROID READY ROOFING not only LOOKS good but is good clear through—the finest felt put into a roofing—made in our mills, NOT BOUGHT IN THE MARKET. But this is one reason only—you will learn the others and a great deal more when you get the book. DON'T miss the book—send for it—send NOW.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

Brief Record of Local Happenings for the Week in North Yakima and Vicinity.

The city council at its meeting Monday evening will probably pass an ordinance condemning the old shacks that still stand in what was formerly the old redlight district between South Front and First. The police force has found it extremely difficult to keep dissolute women from occupying the old houses and plying their trade under different guises. So the order goes forth that the old shacks must be condemned and torn down.

State Horticultural Commissioner Huntley, who by reason of a law passed by the last legislature is compelled to move his office headquarters from Tacoma to Kennewick, has been unable to thus far find an empty building in that bustling burg to move his office into. It is thought that the problem will be solved by leading citizens of Kennewick erecting a building for the use of the commissioners.

H. H. Glover, one of the head men in the Tieton field work, was set upon Wednesday by Robert Bowland and another laborer at camp No. 1 and badly beaten up, the row starting over some camp regulation. Glover was roughly handled. He was brought to the city the same day. Sheriff Lancaster has placed Bowland under arrest.

Roy Shaw, who is playing ball this season with the Providence, R. I., team, is making a wonderful record thus far, according to reports. His batting average is .545, which is remarkably good. Messrs. Holden and Harris, prominent attorneys of Saginaw, Mich., have been looking over the city this week with the view of locating and opening law offices here.

Deputy Fruit Inspector George Davenport states that he has made the discovery that 25 per cent of the earliest varieties of strawberries have been killed by the late frosts. In speaking of the peaches he says that this year's crop is a total failure, but that there will be a short crop of apricots. The apple trees are in fine condition and Mr. Davenport predicts that the chances for a bumper apple crop this fall are very good.—Mabton Chronicle.

The Cascade Lumber company has taken one of the large spaces in the Yakima county building at the exposition and will make a splendid display of the products of the mill and factory. The space selected is one corner and is 15 by 15 feet in size.

The officers of the Yakima-Moxee Land company for the year are as follows: President, J. H. Rose; vice president, M. B. Rose; secretary, R. J. Logan; treasurer, Andrew Sandager; trustees, P. M. Joice and W. L. Joice. The officers of the Yakima Roslyn Coal company are: President, J. H. Rose; vice president, Andrew Sandager; secretary and manager, J. R. Marshall; treasurer, R. J. Logan.

Under the will of Louis L. Blumenthal, filed with the superior court Saturday, $200 goes to the son Godfrey; $1000 to the son Sydney and $500 to the son Edwin. The balance of the estate is left to the widow, Rosa Blumenthal, who is sole executrix.

The Ellensburg Localizer states that the United Trustee company of Seattle intends to build a five-story hotel in that city to cost $125,000.

Work on the installation of the new municipal water system was begun at Mabton this week. The Northwest Bridge & Dredging company have the contract to install the water system. The people of Mabton have wisely concluded to own and control the water works.

The cost of living has come to be almost appalling owing to the prevailing high prices of not only flour and bread but all sorts of foodstuffs. What there is in the situation to justify such high prices is what the average householder wants to know, but no one appears to be able to answer the question satisfactorily.

About 80 members of the local lodge of Knights of Columbus, many of them accompanied by their ladies, went to Ellensburg Sunday where the knights aided in the initiation of the new lodge in that city, the ladies in the meantime arranging a fine spread. The boys report having had a good time and that the Ellensburg lodge was started off in good shape.

Ray Felton, a well known Yakima boy, who has been doing reportorial work on the Republic for the past year, has resigned his position and will go to Tacoma, having accepted the offer of a situation on the Ledger's staff.

C. F. Lott, who was in the city from Kennewick this week, is setting out 80 acres of orchard this spring near that city and is also sinking an artesian well in the hope of getting water for further irrigation.

The offices of the Central Washington Investment company, being fitted up in the Livesley building, will be the finest appointed in the city. The furnishings will cost when installed about $6,000. The handsome furniture was manufactured to order by the Cascade Lumber company.

The Yakima river has been rising perceptibly during the past week. The Cascade Lumber company had been taking advantage of that fact to get its logs down the river. A small army of drivers are at work getting the logs down the stream.

Mrs. I. M. Krutz is visiting her daughter at Bellingham.

Mrs. Mary Cannon has purchased the Rains 10-acre tract in Fruitvale for a home and will place her Capitol Hill property on the market.

W. L. Splawn has sold a 20-acre tract of his ranch beyond the fair grounds to Jacob Stein of Duluth, Minn., who will make his home on the land.

A. B. Pearson & Co. have cut out the grocery end of their business and are putting in a new line of goods.

W. N. Granger, manager of the Sunnyside canal, visited here the first of the week. Mr. Granger states that he will attend both the conservation congress and irrigation congress at Walla Walla and Spokane, respectively, next August. He is on the program at these gatherings.

I. H. Dills, of the tSar Clothing company, made a trip into the Simcoe valley on the Yakima reservation the first of the week.

L. W. Northcott, Singer sewing machine agent, was seriously injured Tuesday near Yakima City by reason of his team getting scared and running away, throwing him out of the vehicle. The man was unconscious for some time and suffered much pain, but it is not thought that he is seriously injured.

Fred Parker expects to get work started next week on his new office building at the rear of the First National bank building. It will be a three story building.

The county auditor will sell the following state land at public auction Saturday, June 5: NE 1/4 of section 16, township 10 north, range 23 east W. M., containing 160 acres, appraised at $20 an acre, or $3,200. This is agricultural land located about four miles northeast of Sunnyside.

LOWER NACHES.

Gus Larsen is getting his house along in good shape and altogether they of the Willhargus ranch are making a good showing in this work.

Mr. Ben Kohls spent Monday evening at the Newman ranch. Ben is an old friend and always welcomed.

How about the rural route and also the good roads committees of the Brotherhood? Probably they are keeping at it and at the next meeting they will report that there will be "something doing." Chairman Chapman had his gang worked on the road last week and made some necessary repairs.

Mr. Jarvis and Miss Grafton and Mr. Chas. Weiser were Sunday guests at the Newman ranch.

The topic for the C. E. meeting next Sunday evening will be "Heroes of African Missions." The leader will be J. W. Patterson.

The many friends in the valley of Mrs. James Jacobson will be sorry to learn of her severe illness.

Will R. Smith has moved into his barn to live until he builds his house.

Harry White has a gang of men digging the cellar for his house, which will be put up immediately.

Miss Sadie Jacobson and Mr. Casper McCormick were entertained at dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McCormick.

Miss Frances Day of town has been visiting at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Newman the past week.

The North Coast railroad will parallel the N. Y. & V. railroad tracks through the lower valley, so report says. Why don't all of the ranchers whom this will affect get together and talk over the matter of right of way? It has been suggested that it might be a good thing for the ranchers.

Miss Bessie Simmons of North Yakima was a week end visitor at the Geirrip ranch last week.

REPUBLIC vs. HEARLD

The annual baseball game between the Republic and Herald staffs is scheduled to take place at the ball park this afternoon. Much local interest is being taken in the probable result. Both teams are confident and it is understood that considerable money is likely to change hands.

The Yakima Republic is picked, however, by those most familiar with conditions, as the favorite in the betting. The Republic's team has been made considerably stronger due to the fact that several of its players hail from the office of the Yakima Democrat.

The morning paper, however, declares that it has not been buffeted by the rumor that the Republic has joined forces with the Democrat, and points with pride to a well earned victory one year ago under similar conditions.

In any event the game promises to be interesting and since no admission fee will be charged it is expected that a large crowd will attend.

BRING IN WHOLE HIDE.

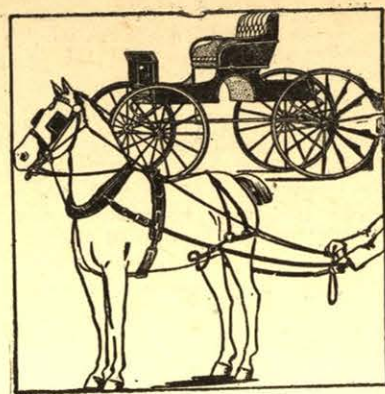

After June 30 when you want to collect a bounty for coyotes, lynx or other animals on which the county pays a bounty, you must bring in the whole hide with the bone in the right front leg up to the knee. The county auditor must remove the bone and burn it in the presence of another county official and make a certified statement of the fact.

Just what the meaning of the law is we are unable to say, but it is thought by doing this the hide is not injured for mounting into rugs and other such uses. Heretofore the hide was made practically useless for such purposes when the scalp was removed. Under this law the value of the hide is practically doubled.—Davenport Tribune.

Will Build Heating Plant.

The Yakima Central Heating company filed articles of incorporation recently, the incorporators being Alex Miller, A. E. Larson, H. B. Scudder, O. A. Fechter and J. L. Hughes. The capital stock of the new company is $100,000, divided into 1,000 shares of $100 each. Most of the stock, it is said, has already been subscribed.

As its name indicates, the purpose of the new corporation is to furnish heat and hot water to consumers within the city. It is said that the company will begin construction work as soon as it can get a franchise from the council. The promoters plan to have the plant in operation next winter.

The Palace of Oriental Exhibits forms one of the twelve mammoth display buildings first completed by the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. Its lines are in pleasing contrast to the Agricultural and Manufacturers buildings, with which they are grouped, and their position overlooks the beautiful formal gardens and water display of the Cascades and Geyser Basin.

The exhibit placed within the walls of the Oriental building constitutes one of the most gorgeous displays of Far Eastern art and manufactures ever shipped from the Orient, and is bewildering in beauty and extent. Not a country of Asia is without representation, and the treasures of old and modern art, never before permitted to leave the lands in which they were created, will be seen for the first time in the land of the Occident. The matter of arrangement of the Oriental exhibit has been placed in the hands of the most competent and artistic men at command and its display will be worthy of the magnificent collection.

About the Oriental building are gathered the great buildings housing the United States exhibit and the Alaska, Hawaiian and Philippine displays. One of the largest bandstands in the world will be heard daily.

Native Polander Meets Horrible Death in Tieton Canyon.

Mike Simonovitch, a Pole, came to an untimely death last Saturday afternoon as the result of a dynamite explosion in an open ditch near Camp No. 1 in the Tieton canyon. He was employed as a day laborer by the United States reclamation service.

According to a report current here Mike disobeyed orders and drove his pick into a pile of powder which all the men had been warned to leave alone. Coroner Rosser and Deputy Sheriff Hal Webber went to the scene of the accident Monday and after an investigation reported that the death of Simonovitch was due to an accidental explosion of dynamite.

We Get 'Em for Nothing.

James H. Collins, writing for the Saturday Evening Post, in an exceedingly interesting article on Canada, among many other bright things says:

"Our laws exclude Chinese laborers. Canada admits them on payment of $500 apiece, and collects three-quarters of a million of dollars yearly in that way. But it is said that her statistics show no trace of the Chinese who came in."

It is assumed that they cross the border. Canada considers that Uncle Sam is big enough to take care of himself in the matter. She gets $500 and we get the Chinamen."

Hints for Nursing.

A pale patient—except in some hemorrhage cases—should always be lying flat; blood needed at the head.

A red-faced patient should not be lying flat; too much blood at the head. Never give stimulants in any case of hemorrhage; the heart will beat faster, and so send more blood from the arteries or veins by so doing.

When in real doubt about what to do, do nothing.

In giving a cool bath, remember to have warmer water for the vital parts, for the spine and the chest. Increase the coolness of the water for the extremities.

During the height of pneumonia, if your physician approves, bathe the body every morning in warm oil; this may prevent the dreaded chill, and bridge over the time of climax.

Remember that in typhoid fever the seat of the disease is in the bowels. In measles the lungs are the sensitive parts, consequently the bowels and lungs should be kept warm. In diphtheria the heart will be treacherous, so beware of quick movements and of any position in bed except the recumbent.—Health.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give $100 for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

ENGINEER'S FACE BADLY BURNED

W. H. Patterson Injured by Exploding Gas at Plant of U. S. Laundry.

W. H. Patterson, engineer for the U. S. Laundry company, sustained a number of burns about the head and face this morning when he opened a draft in the fire box of one of the engines at the laundry. Patterson was not satisfied with the way the fire was burning and opened the draft in hopes of living it up a little. As he opened the door, a quantity of gas exploded, the flames shooting into his face. A portion of the man's mustache, his eyelashes and his eyebrows were burned off and his face badly scorched.
