LIST OF TEACHERS SELECTED

Local School Board Re-organizes and Selects Teachers for Ensuing Year-- Census Shows Large Increase in Number of School Children.

The board of directors of school district No. 7 met in regular session Monday night and organized for the ensuing year. Miles Cannon was elected chairman of the board and R. K. Nichols clerk, to succeed Geo. S. Hough. Under the conditions of the new law one of the directors must act as clerk. Mr. Nichols, however, will not assume the duties of clerk until the first Monday in August.

Director Barge then introduced a resolution setting forth the necessity of procuring additional room for school purposes and calling a public meeting to convene at the Central school, Saturday June 20 at 8 p. m. The mass meeting is called in order to procure an expression of opinion from citizens to guide the board in the matter.

Clerk Hough reported that he had completed the census of the district which showed 1920 children of school age.

The board then proceeded to consider the applications of teachers for the ensuing year. It was decided to retain Prof. Jolley, city superintendent and Mrs. Ella Stair, principal of the High School. Mr. Scroggs, the assistant teacher in the High School for the past year, was not an applicant.

The board after transacting some routine business then adjourned until Wednesday evening, at which time the following list of teachers was selected for the ensuing year:

Eva May, Grace Shannon, Elizabeth Prior, Albertine Rodman, Mrs. Bessie Needham, Ella Howland, Birdie Moore, Maude Patterson, Carrie Young, Charlotte Lum, Minnie Larson, Lula Meeds, Edna Miller, Jennie Sherwood, A. Gano, Bessie Ballinger, Florence McWain, Ethel Burns, Nellie Rodgers, Gertrude Harmeling, Emma Grant, Della Wiley and Edie Jones.

The above are all residents of this city. The following is the list of new teachers employed:

Minnie Scott and Anna Koontz, Ellensburg, Daisy Owens, Everett, Ada Sharpless, Seattle, Allie Miller, Buckley, Lula Craig, Eugene, Or., Mary Odell, Puyallup, Emily Spalenka, Stevens Point, Wis., Carl Vantrees, Cedar Mountain, and W. L. McClure Ellensburg.

The above list comprises 34 in all.

Found a Dead Man.

The Ellensburg paper tells of the finding of the remains of a dead man on Wilson creek in Kittitas county last week. From the appearance of the body it was assumed that the man had been dead for perhaps a year as but little remained but the skeleton although the clothes worn by the dead man were in fairly good order. That the man had taken his own life was plainly evident as the mark of a pistol bullet was in the skull and a 38 caliber revolver was clutched in the fingers of the right hand. The coroner on repairing to the spot and searching the pockets of the suicide found a note written in lead pencil containing the following: "Henry Thomson, Canterbury, England. No relatives. Bury me here and forget it. Sorry to trouble you."

The man is believed to have been about 30 years of age and probably a sheepherder by occupation, although no one appears to have known him. The remains were buried on the lonely mountain side by the coroner and his assistants.

Needed Road Work.

The high water of the first of the week overflowed the north approach to the approach to the Nelson bridge across the Natches river, a condition that could have been remedied by a few hours work with a man, team and scraper. There are two low places along the bank of the river a short distance above the bridge that should be filled, which would do away with much uneasiness on the part of the people who are compelled to travel over that road during high water.

Superior Court Notes.

Judge Rudkin held court for several hours Wednesday and disposed of a considerable amount of business. Eleven prisoners were arraigned before his honor and given an opportunity to plead. Of this number, three, Ross Chapin, John Deuble and Jacob Kline charged with horse stealing on the reservation, plead guilty. All the others either withheld their pleas or plead not guilty. The cases against these men will be tried at the jury term the beginning of which was postponed until Monday June 22 by the court.

The Mitchell wagon runs easier and wears longer than any other. Sold only by Wyman & Fraser.

BLACK DITCH SCHEME DEAD.

The Colorado Capitalist "Passes Up" Ellensburg's Big Ditch Scheme.

The Ellensburg papers of last week all expressed a good deal of disappointment over the collapse of the Black irrigation proposition.

Mr. Black, a Colorado capitalist, it seems, had given out that if contracts could be secured for a sufficient quantity of land to use the water that he would build the much talked of high line canal. So accordingly a committee was appointed which worked most industriously for a month, finally securing the needed signatures. A public meeting was held at Ellensburg one day last week at which the people congratulated each other on the splendid prospect of getting the big ditch. Their surprise can therefore be imagined when Mr. Black got up in the meeting and stated that he had made a thorough examination of the question of water rights and had found that the water of the Yakima river is practically all appropriated and to go ahead with such a big scheme would only be to invite wasteful litigation. The other alternative, is to construct expensive reservoirs in the mountains a project in which he and his friends did not care to embark. He therefore "passed up" the whole proposition.

Mr. Black's statement is said to have met with ridicule on the part of certain individuals with the result that a great deal of bad blood was engendered at the meeting.

The trouble with certain Ellensburg people is that they don't seem to understand that they are from 10 to 15 years to late in their attempt to float so large an undertaking with the limited amount of waters that is left unappropriated in the Yakima river, if indeed there be any left at all.

Presbyterian Church Dedication.

Sunday was a red letter day in the history of the First Presbyterian church of this city and a day that will always be remembered by the pastor and congregation as well as a large number of others who attended the dedicatory services.

The handsome new church was most beautifully and tastefully decorated for the occasion, the day was an ideal one and the attendance so large at both morning and evening services that the ushers were at their wits end to find room in the commodious parlors of the new church for the congregation.

Rev. F. L. Haydon, the popular pastor to whom much credit is due for the splendid new house of worship, preached a masterful sermon taking the following scriptural lesson as his text:

Ps. 90:17 "Establish thou the work of thy hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it."

The evening services were also very interesting and largely attended, the most of the other pastors in the city taking part.

Passed the Examination.

The pupils who stood the examination on April 13 and 19 from the eighth grade and successfully passed were as follows:

Will Double Its Capacity.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Cascade Lumber company was held in this city recently. The capital stock was increased from $100,000 to $200,000 to raise funds to double the capacity of the mill.

A number of extensive improvements will be made. The first and most important is the construction of a large reservoir at Kichelos lake at the head of the Yakima river. This is to store water to be used in the summer period for floating logs down the river. This improvement has already been begun and will be completed this summer. The river channel will also be put in shape for successfully running logs. The officers elected are: President and treasurer, H. P. Svendsen of Hudson, Wis.; vice president, Mr. Carson of Davenport, Ia.; secretary, A. E. McCartney of St. Paul.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

The Sunyside Sun still keeps kicking because the board of county commissioners saw fit to appropriate the sum of $250 of public money to help in defraying the expense of President Roosevelt's reception here. It thinks that the people of North Yakima should have footed the entire bill.

This paper is regarded as something of a kicker too, but in this case we fail to see the justice in the Sun's complaint. Mr. Roosevelt is the president of the whole people. He did not stop here especially to see the people of North Yakima but because this is the most central and convenient point for the people of this valley to come to see him. Whether his mission was political, as the Sun charges, or not, is immaterial. The fact remains that he is president of the United States, holding an office for which all good citizens have due respect. Since he came here as a public guest it was the duty of the public to entertain him and foot the bills. If the public had not paid the bills a few individuals would have had to dog up the money and that would certainly not be fair. Distributed as it was the burden will not be felt by any taxpayer and we don't know of anyone that's kicking except the editor of the Sun.

As a matter of fact the editor of the Sun probably doesn't care a baubee about the $250, but merely wished to improve the opportunity to stir up strife in his neighborhood against the people of this city.

The scandals that are gradually being unearthed in the post office department certainly indicate a very rotten condition of affairs. Officials are charged with standing in with supply companies the result of which has compelled the government to pay for mail pouches and other necessities most exorbitant prices. Other malefactors are accused of selling department information to large mail order houses desirous of using the rural delivery system and so on.

It should be noted that the most of these rascals were in the civil service and felt that they were fully protected. Indeed, from the attitude assumed by Postmaster General Payne, who very reluctantly ordered an investigation, these thieves were perhaps fully warranted in assuming that they would be safe from prosecution. Some of the strenuousness of the present administration might well be exercised in placing Machen and his fellow rogues behind the bars, where they ought to be.

A NUMBER of dear women are about to launch a daily newspaper in Chicago to be known as the Bulletin. There are to be women editors, women reporters, women "ad" hustlers and so on down the line. In fact, it is given out that men are not wanted around the establishment. The experiment will be watched with interest by the general public. The chances are that it won't be a success. The poor deluded dears will soon get sick of each other and begin to sigh for a man, if for no other reason than to have the pleasure of bossing him around.

The powers that rule the republican party in this state, namely; B. S. Groscup and Geo. Stevenson, are said to be beating the bush carefully in order to scare up just the right sort of a man to run for governor next year. There is a host of candidates in sight not among the least of whom is Doc Hare of this city, speaker of the house. The big mugs are believed to look upon Doc's aspirations with a kindly eye and it need not surprise anybody if they decide to slate the local statesman to be the successor of Gov. McBride.

THE Prison Mirror, published in the Minnesota penitentiary, says: "Why is it that from the first inception of our paper until the present time we have never had an editor to sojourn in our midst? Other professions have been well represented. Of preachers we have had enough to furnish subsistence to an African chief for a year; doctors in sufficient numbers to depopulate a state, and enough lawyers to establish a good sized colony in hades. But editors—not one."

THE P. I. ends by calling on the voters of Missouri to stand up at the polls, regardless of party, and clean out these "cheap grafters." That is good advice, but why not give this advice right here at home? Why go to Missouri when that "cheap graft" legislature of last winter is alive in the state somewhere? Will the P. I. join with the voters, two years from now to clean out these "cheap grafters?"—Waterville Press.

The city council of North Yakima has passed a resolution in which it states its intention and practically binds the municipality to contribute the sum of $1000 per annum for the maintenance of a free public library to be established in this city. This is in consideration of the fact that a site will be donated by the citizens and that Andrew Carnegie, the great library builder will contribute the sum of $10,000 with which to construct the needed building. The Democrat is in sympathy with the plan and trusts that it will succeed. Perhaps it is not the most desirable way of securing a public library but it is the only way that now seems available. We will either secure a library in this way or we probably will not secure one at all. The $1000 per year which the city agrees to pay for its support ought not to increase the tax levy more than one-half a mill so that the great majority of property owners will scarcely feel it.

The town is sadly in need of a public library and by all means let us have it. The public is familiar with the advantages of a free library so there is no need to recite them here. We merely wish to add that Mr. Carnegie is not going to live forever and that when the old man dies there is apt to be a lull in the library building business.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S endorsement by the republican convention of Ohio, dominated as it was by Senator Hanna, lacks the air of sincerity. That the convention would not have endorsed the president except for the effect that such an omission would have had upon the Hanna campaign for re-election is a self-evident fact. Hanna has no use for the present occupant of the White House whom he regards as an interloper and a political adventurer. It will be observed too that Hanna even under the great pressure brought to bear upon him by his own friends uttered not one word publicly that can be fairly construed as meaning that he intends to support the president for re-nomination. Mark wisely concluded, however, to first catch his own hare before he attempts to put a spoke in the Roosevelt wheel. Hanna, as a defeated aspirant for the senate would cut but a pitiable figure even with trust millions behind him in a fight against the federal brigade.

The bright young man who illuminates the front page of the Tacoma Ledger with cartoons has been making sport of Col. Blethen and the Blethen "mansion." The colonel retaliates by holding Col. Sam Perkins' plug hat and hirsute adornment up to public scorn. All of this follows as a sequence of the president's visit to Seattle, when the chief magistrate accompanied by Col. Perkins attempted to make a Sunday afternoon call at the Blethen residence but was disappointed at not finding the editor of the Times at home.

"POLITICIAN" says in the Spokesman-Review that the Washingtonian of this city is the personal organ of Congressman Jones and may be expected to whoop it up for that gentleman.

We are not in the confidence of Mr. Jones or the editor of the Washingtonian, but judging from surface indications there would seem to be more truth than poetry in what the "politician" says, although what particular use Mr. Jones can have for a personal organ passes our understanding.

HUMAN nature is pretty much the same wherever you find it, says the Public. Here are Russian officials explaining the necessity for mobbing Jews in Russia, with the same kind of arguments that white men use to justify the mobbing of Negroes, and which American patriots bring forth to excuse water torture in the Philippines. "Give a dog a bad name and kill him," the old adage has it; a new version might run, "Call a race inferior and torture it."

ONE of the scurviest tricks on record is that charged up to striking grave diggers at San Francisco. The strikers refusing to work unless their demands were complied with the superintendent himself dug a grave in order to keep an engagement with the undertaker. Finishing his task he went out to meet the funeral party. During his absence the strikers by manipulating the garden hose filled the non-union grave with water.

THE editor of the West Lafayette, O., Indicator has announced that he wants 500 new subscribers, all of whom must be marriageable ladies. To each of these, when paid in advance, a ticket will be given. When the 500 subscribers shall have been secured a public drawing is to take place under the direction of the mayor of the town and the lady drawing the lucky number is to receive the editor, himself, as a prize.

GROVER Cleveland's third term presidential boom seems to have been picked before it got ripe by the goldbug papers of the east. The poor thing had already withered away and died before a great many anxious people had been given a chance to stick a pin in it.

THE Ellensburg Dawn prophesies the nomination and election of Grover Cleveland in 1904. This is seeing the republican papers and going them one better. It would seem as though the wish was father to the thought in the Dawn's case.

GOVERNOR McBride has appointed C. S. Reed, for the past three years a member of the state board of audit and control, to succeed T. P. Westendorf as superintendent of the reform school at Chehalis. The governor has also announced the appointment of Sheriff Jesse T. Mills of Thurston county as the successor of Mr. Reed on the board of control. These changes take place July 1.

A SOUTH DAKOTA editor says he has two subscribers who frequently get full, and every time they are in that condition they come in and pay a year in advance on subscription. One of them is already credited to 1941, and the fraternity throughout the United States is crazy to find out what brand of whiskey he drinks.

MORMON missionaries have been given notice to shake the soil of Germany from their feet within a specific number of days. That "the prophet is not without honor save in his own country," does not seem to hold good with mormon missionaries. At home the missionaries are some times elected to congress.

WHAT is the use of democrats nominating Cleveland for President? If the republicans want two presidential candidates let them do their own nominating—Olympia Capital.

Washington Letter.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington D. C. June 21, 1903.

So great is popular interest in Washington in the post office investigation that it is difficult to find anyone willing or prepared to talk on any other subject. While no remarkably sensational developments have occurred since the arrest of Machen, many minor incidents have happened which go to make up convincing evidence of the reluctance of Postmaster General Payne to make a clean breast of the rottenness which has permeated the republican administration of one of the most important departments of the government. Just at present, Payne is severely criticizing First Assistant Postmaster General Wynne, to whom belongs the credit of exposing Machen, Miller, et al., getting rid of Beavers, Tyner, Christianity and others. The purging of the department of these officials has occurred only as a result of the power of the press and doubtless Wynne has availed himself of that power to accomplish what he regarded as a most laudable end. Because, however, the press has also placed ex-Postmaster General Smith, ex-Assistant Postmaster General Perry Heath and others in a most enviable light before the public and is on the high road to showing that Hanna was not above the most practical of "practical politics." Payne considers that Wynne has been guilty of grave partisan disloyalty and will urge the president to get rid of him.

Postmaster General Payne, after characterizing the charges of Cashier Seymour Tulloch as "hot air," "wind," a "stump speech," etc., has hastened to publish the replies of Smith, Heath and other officials who deal in generalities and who fail in every particular to "make good," as Mr. Payne expresses it. In fact, the chief motive of all their letters is animosity towards Tulloch. The one reply to the Tulloch charges in which the public is interested, Payne keeps on his desk and refuses to make public. It is a report made by Fourth Assistant General Bristow, going very thoroughly into the conditions which have existed in the Washington post-office and supporting, it is understood, Tulloch in many details.

With Hanna out of the way, the nomination of Roosevelt by the republicans is regarded as certain, and the fight of the democrats is all cut out. They must nominate a man who can beat the president. That such a man must be conservative is admitted by all. He must command the respect of that large element in the east which regards Roosevelt as erratic and unsafe. He must command the support of the independent voters, that large and constantly increasing number which refuses to accept bravado for bravery, shouting about Americanism for loyalty, militarism for patriotism. The most astute democratic politicians do not regard it as at all essential that their nominee be named at this early date. He would only become the butt of republican ridicule and invective. So the policy will be to keep the republicans guessing for a while longer and then nominate a strong man, conduct a whirlwind campaign and land the proper man in the white house.

Representative Richardson, of Alabama talked interestingly of the situation this week. He said, "I do not believe Mr. Cleveland will be a candidate and I feel sure that he will so declare himself in due time. On the other hand I believe the wave of popular sentiment in favor of Mr. Cleveland should be regarded as an indication of the kind of man who could win and that this wave of popularity can be turned to good purpose in making stronger the actual nominee. There are plenty of good men in the party who could command the respect and support of all factions and would serve to unite the members of the party in every section. Such a man should be selected and then, if we all put our shoulders to the wheel we shall win. Undoubtedly the conduct of affairs in some of the executive departments will never be satisfied with half way investigations designed primarily to protect the republican party and its leading politicians.

There are indications that the army is gradually purged of the unfit officers who, through political influence, obtained commissions during the war with Spain. Several second lieutenants have already gone out because they failed in their examinations for promotion and within the past week three have been dismissed because they had incurred debts which they could not meet, tampered with company funds and been guilty of intoxication while on duty. There was great pressure exerted during the Spanish war for commissions and the man with sufficient political influence had no difficulty in being made a second lieutenant. As is invariably the case where officers are appointed because of their "pull," there are many who were totally unfit for positions of responsibility and it is encouraging to note that they are being weeded out.

The state department has been notified that Baron von Sternberg is to be made ambassador to the United States. This breaks an unwritten law of Germany, for heretofore no diplomat has been permitted to serve in the country of which his wife was a native. Von Sternberg's success in the Venezuelan negotiations has, however, won for him the particular esteem of the Kaiser.

It Does Not Matter Much

The N. Y. World very properly cautions Mr. Roosevelt not to place too much confidence in the "ovations" extended him on his prolonged "swing around the circle." If there is any one trait of human character which seems to be abnormally developed in the land of the free, it is sycophancy. The people are ready, at any time, to applaud anything out of the common, whether it be a mascot in shape of a goat, a baseball game or an autocratic President, out on display. This has never been better shown than by the enormous crowds which gathered to hear Blaine speak in 1884, when the pivotal States they represented gave majorities for his less magnetic opponent, Grover Cleveland. Equally noted instances were the ovations to Bryan in Boston and New York, when the historic Common could not hold the surging, enthusiastic crowd, and Madison Square and five miles of streets were overflowed with a shouting crowd of mad-caps who for the time seemed to represent an irresistible tide of public opinion. The returns from the Bay State, with a majority for his opponent of 173,000, and of 268,000 from the Empire State, removed the delusion that enthusiasm indicates support of, or apparent numbers success of, any earthly endeavor.

A man of the positive nature of Roosevelt will draw a crowd at any time, but as our contemporary remarks, hurrahs are not delegates and yells are not votes, and the central figure of passing events may at the close learn that the glare of the calcium light is subject to a switch-board control.—Olympia Standard.

HOP OUTLOOK FAVORABLE

Oregonian Reports that Growers of that State Have Been Offered 23 Cents.
Growers Pool Still Intact.

There is little or no change in the local hop situation. No deals for 1902 hops are reported this week, the growers all "standing pat" for 25 cents.

Regarding the market outlook J. R.
Greenfield, one of the directors of the Oregon and Washington hop pool has the following to say in Thursdays Oregonian.

"In fact," said Mr. Greenfield, "we have already accomplished much more than we anticipated in the two or three weeks we have been working on the proposition. But of course, everything has been in our favor. The available supply in the hands of growers on this coast, aggregating 18,450 bales, which comprises practically all the unsold hops in the world, is less than it has been at this date for the past ten years, and the stocks carried by brewers in this country is only sufficient to last through the present month, while in England they are lower than they have been before for 100 years, so that the inevitable law of supply and demand was entirely in our favor. But withstanding this fact, certain dealers who were obliged to have hops to fill orders at less than the prevailing prices a month or two ago, succeeded through a series of manipulations in getting control of the market and forced the price down from 27 cents to 17 cents. These were the causes which led to the formation of the hop pool, and the growers who were still holding welcomed the move with such universal and enthusiastic support that we now control more than half the hops remaining in the growers hands on this coast, and have not only stopped the inordinate slaughter of prices but have succeeded in bracing up the market again and restoring to a large degree the former prices.
At the meeting of the board of directors in this city last Saturday we refused a bonafide offer of 22 cents, and today
Mr. McKinley Mitchell, of our board, reports an offer to him of 23 cents, so that notwithstanding the predictions of certain bears and short sellers it is only a question of a few days until the market will be fully restored to its former status, and we are confident that 30 cents will be reached before the new crop is marketed.

June Weddings

The marriage of Miss Daisy Boyle to David F. Hunt of Tacoma is announced to take place at the Episcopal church next Wednesday morning, June 17, at 9.30 a. m. in the presence of relatives and a few invited friends.

Another wedding scheduled for next Wednesday is that of Miss Isabelle Bivens, a popular young lady of this city to Jonas Hillier the well known dairyman. The ceremony will take place at the Bivens residence on North First street.

Mrs. H. L. Tucker, Mrs. John Cleman and Miss Lucy Nichols are at Seattle this week in attendance at the grand lodge of the Eastern Star.

Reuby Poole and family are now occupying their handsome new residence on South Natches avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Poole expect to leave here some time next week for their new home at Los Angeles. Mr. Poole has sold the Whitson residence on North First street to Postmaster Lemon, the consideration being $2000.

Card of Thanks.

The members of the G. A. R. and W.
R. C. wish to extend their sincere thanks to all those friends who so kindly and ably assisted in the program of Memorial Sunday and Decoration Day.
The ladies regret very much that through a misunderstanding of arrangements, only a part of the little folks who assisted in decorating the graves were invited to partake of the banquet. The omission was by no means intentional.

The Seattle Spirit

A preacher in Seattle made this announcement in beginning his sermon
"I shall not choose any particular text this morning, but shall preach from where I open the book. It is now open and—" Here the parson was interrupted by a deacon who had been dozing, forgot himself and cried out: "It's yours; what did you open it on?" The surprise of the good man in the pulpit was great, but the deacon collapsed when the reply came: "It's opened on Kings."—Connell Statesman.

Wanted for Grand Larceny.

noon arrested Al Dickinson, a piano player of the "tenderloin" on telegraphic information from the Sheriff of King county, Dickinson being wanted at Seattle on a charge of grand larceny.
Deputy Sheriff Williams arrived from Seattle Thursday morning to take the prisoner back.

nesday from Kentucky. He expects to locate permanently in this state.

Important Ruling.

Assistant Attorney General Ross has handed down an opinion relative to the disposition of money received by the counties from sales of property to satisfy delinquent taxes. The opinion was in response to a request from F. Campbell, prosecuting attorney of Pierce county, and clears up several doubtful questions in reference to the state revenue law.

In reference to the distribution of funds Mr. Ross holds that the state is not entitled to any portion of the proceeds of the sale of property purchased by the various counties at tax sales, and construes the words "to the various funds existing" as a reference to municipalities, school districts, road and other taxing districts. It is held that it is the duty of each county treasurer to distribute these tax sale funds without deducting any sum for penalties, interest or costs of any kind entering into the decree for foreclosure, or leading up to the final sale of the property by the county.—Colfax Commoner.

A Letter of Thanks.

W. L. Wright Saturday received the following letter of thanks from Secretary Loeb relative to the three boxes of fine apples which the Horticultural Union presented to President Roosevelt while here:

WASHINGTON, June 1, 1903.
My Dear Sir—Your favor of the 23rd inst has been received and in the president's behalf I beg to thank you cordially for the courtesy which you have been good enough to extend to him on behalf of the Yakima County Horticultural Union. Very truly yours,
Wm. Loeb,
Secretary to the President.

Mr. W. L. Wright,
President, North Yakima, Wash.

Origin of Masons

A little girl tells what she knows about King Solomon in the following essay: "King Solomon was a man who lived so many years ago, and in the country which he governed he was the whole push. King Solomon built Solomon's temple, and was the father of all the Masons. He had 700 wives and 200 lady friends, and that is why there are so many Masons in the world.—Pierce County Journal.

THE FASHIONS.

White wool hats are very prominent among the fall and winter millinery. Among tailor made costumes all the handsome weaves in satin faced cloth are popular.

This is the season for velvets, velours, corduroys, veloutines and similar fabrics of every sort.

The use of white satin, fur, gold braid, laces and Russian guipure medallions is again a feature of cloth and velvet gowns and handsome coats.

Tailor made costumes of military blue zibeline have the blouse bodices trimmed with rows of flat bullion and expensive buttons of gold and blue enamel.

Fancy waists have lost none of their popularity. The surprising feature of this particular form of dress is that there seems no limit whatever to its possibilities.

Novel and pretty black passementeries are used just now by dressmakers not only for trimming frocks for semi-dress wear, but also for walking and traveling costumes.

QUAINT SUPERSTITIONS.

To kill a toad brings trouble.

Cats indicate bad luck, except black ones.

Bats and ravens denote ill will, death and disgrace.

A bird flying into the house foretells misfortune.

A bee buzzing about the room denotes visitors.

The crowing of a cock near the house is a sign that visitors are coming.

A cow seen with her head over the fence means some misfortune to you.

Swallows and martins should be allowed to build near the house, as they bring good luck.

Should the first butterfly you see in the spring be a yellow one you will have money before the year is passed.

A Laugh Saved a Life.

The Rev. George Harvest, rector of Thames Ditton, England, was very absentminded, so that on one occasion he went into a friend's house, and, seeing no servant, he rambled over it, finally entering the room of an old lady ill of a quincy. He stumbled over a clothes-horse, and his awkwardness made the patient burst into such a fit of laughter that the quincy broke, and she lived many years to thank him.

Tax on Babies.

Extreme hot weather is a great tax upon the digestive power of babies; when puny and feeble they should be given a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the children's tonic. It will stimulate and facilitate the digestion of their food, so that they soon become strong, healthy and active.

25c, at Fred L. Janec's.

It is a Bitter Dose.

So far the Ankeny Foster newspapers have made no attempt to deny that President Roosevelt at a banquet in Tacoma emphatically endorsed Governor McBride for a second term, declaring that the governor's courageous course in opposing the Northern Securities merger and in demanding the just regulation and taxation of corporations entitled him to this honor. Probably the reason that no denial is made is because the two railroad senators and their henchmen know that by ignoring it the people may be led to forget it.

President Roosevelt and Governor McBride are in thorough sympathy on the question of controlling corporations. As governor of New York Theodore Roosevelt was the author of the law taxing corporation franchises which brought down upon him the enmity of the corporation magnates of New York. This tax law brings several million dollars to the state treasury and practically relieves real property of the state from direct taxation for state purposes. Roosevelt knows by personal experience what it is to fight the corporation tax dodgers and he is, therefore, fully aware of the difficulties with which Governor McBride had to contend in his campaign for the just regulation and equitable taxation of the railroads and other corporations of this state. That explains why he insisted, despite the protests of Ankeny, Foster and Humphrey, on giving the governor his endorsement in a way that the voters of this state cannot fail to understand.

It is gall and wormwood to the Ankeny - Grosscup - Foster - Stevenson crowd to know that the president favors Governor McBride, but there is nothing for them to do but grin and bear it. They ignored the governor in all their programs for the reception of the president, but Roosevelt took the matter into his own hands and insisted that the governor accompany him on his tour throughout the state and ride in the same carriage with him wherever he appeared. It went against the grain for Senator Ankeny to invite his political enemy McBride to dine with the president at the senator's home in this city, but there was no graceful way out of it. If any objection had been made to the governor's being one of the guests, the president would have refused the senator's hospitality and there was nothing to do but to accept the lesser of the two evils. So McBride had to be swallowed with other things that were much more palatable. - Walla Walla Statesman.

It penetrates to the nerves and bone, and being absorbed into the blood its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body and effect some wonderful cures. Mr. F. D. Moore, Agent Illinois Central Railway, Milan, Tenn., states: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism, backache, etc., in my family. It is a splendid remedy. We could not do without it." 25c, 50c and $1.00 at Fred L. Janec's.

SELECTIONS

CONCERNING COATS.

Sensible Hints in Regard to the Wear and Care of Garments.

"Now that the overcoat season is on again," said an uptown tailor in the course of a conversation on the care of clothes, "one sees the utter inability of the average man to properly wear and care for his garments. Jackets may be worn anyhow without much detracting from their owners' appearance, but overcoats, like frock coats, require care in handling and in wearing. Not one man in a thousand knows how to put on his coat correctly. Ignorance and carelessness in disposing of the garment when not in use make the wearers of even the best coats 'look like 30 cents' beside the man with a cheaper article, but who knows how to wear and care for it."

"Men curse their tailors when after a few days' wear they find their coats out of shape at the shoulders and hanging badly. The art of the tailor has of course a great deal to do with the appearance of a coat, but on the customer himself much more depends."

"Most men when they are being measured and fitted assume all sorts of unnatural postures. They forget that what they really want is a garment to fit their ordinary shape and not the forced figure which they present to the tailor."

"Then, again, when the new coat comes home the owner tugs it on any how and wears it flapping open. Every new coat should be carefully molded by the wearer into the shape of his everyday figure. He should get his shoulders well into it, and in order to arrive at that result he should have assistance on at least the first six occasions on which he wears the garment. The coat should be carefully buttoned downward, not the reverse, as is so often the case. For at least one hour on each of the first six days of use the coat should be kept buttoned. It will then have adjusted itself to the peculiarities of the figure." - New York Times.

Tarantula Bites.

George H. Hillyer of West Superior, Minn., one of the best known gold mining experts in the country, has exploded the theory that tarantula bites must be either fatal or seriously inconvenient. He was bitten more than a dozen times on a recent tour of inspection in southern Arizona. Nearly every mine shaft in that part of the country is infested with tarantulas. The white miners wear gloves to protect themselves from the venomous spiders. Mr. Hillyer knew nothing of all this and went into the Big Hill mine unprotected. Before he came out he had seen thousands of the tarantulas and captured a dozen of the largest. He was bitten repeatedly and yet not even inconvenienced. The secret of Mr. Hillyer's immunity, according to his own theory, is the fact that he had taken more than thirty grains of quinine within the twenty-four hours preceding the visit to the mine.

A Costly Duel.

As a result of a duel fought in Milan Italy, a few weeks ago between two captains of the Sixtieth regiment the Italian authorities seem to be determined to stamp out dueling. The challenger of the duel in question has been expelled from the army, and his antagonist has been sent to a fortress, but the most striking features of the affair are the other punitive measures taken in connection with it. The colonel of the Sixtieth regiment has been suspended, the lieutenant colonel has been sentenced to imprisonment for fifteen days, and two majors have been given ten days' imprisonment. Four captains who acted as seconds in the duel have been sent to a fortress for six months. These severe measures have created a favorable impression.

All Bow to Great Britain.

Few people are aware that Britain's mistress-ship of the seas is more than an assertion and that it is acknowledged by every nation. On entering a foreign port marine etiquette requires a man-of-war to salute the national flag by dipping its own, and in return the host lowers its flag. But no British ship dips the union jack until the foreigner has first dipped his colors. In all seas, both home and foreign, Britain claims to be saluted first, and this honor is rendered by every nation at the tribute of her sovereignty of the waves. - Pearson's Weekly.

The Franking Privilege.

It was disclosed by examinations made in the Washington city postoffice covering a period of about two and a half months that 979,820 pieces of paid matter and 5,900,000 pieces of unpaid or "franked" matter of all classes went through the unpaid matter on some days running as high as 135,000, 127,000, 126,000, 125,000 and 122,000 copies, while the percentage per day would often go to about 90, crawling up as high as 93 per cent on a single day and averaging 85 per cent every day.

Would Stop Novel Reading.

A curious proposition has been advanced by M. Leon Daudet to the effect that all novel reading should be stopped by law. He would have this done by forbidding the sale of fiction to women and children, the implication being that men do not read it anyway. Coming from the son of a distinguished novelist, this is strange doctrine, but perhaps it represents only a natural reaction from the undue emphasis of the novel in modern literature. - Providence Journal.

The English Are Unmilitary.

Partly from historical and partly perhaps from racial causes the English are essentially unmilitary. They resent the control of soldiers. They distrust military ideals. No government that ever existed in this country was more unpopular than that of Oliver Cromwell and his major generals. Its unpopularity laid an indelible mark on English institutions. For many years it made it impossible to have a standing army. Even when the course of events made it necessary to concede that much to the military necessities of the time it still remained a maxim for centuries with all politicians that as little power as possible must be granted to the soldiers; that their business was to fight our wars, and this being done, that there was little or no place for them in the body politic.

We do not think it necessary to defend this attitude of mind. Like most popular feelings, it is largely unjust, but also, like many popular feelings, it is based to some extent on a true conception. Politically, using the word in its largest sense, the domination of the military idea in a state is calamitous. It tends, we believe, to destroy individuality and is a serious menace to individual liberty. - English Monthly Review.

The Third Handle.

The best account of the origin of the loving cup comes from the late Lord Lyons, British ambassador at Paris. Henry IV of France while hunting became separated from his companions, and, feeling thirsty, called at a wayside inn for a cup of wine. The serving maid on handing it to him as he sat on horseback neglected to present the handle. Some wine was spilled, and his majesty's white gauntlets were soiled. While riding home he bethought him that a two handled cup would prevent a recurrence of this, so his majesty had a two handled cup made at the royal potteries and sent it to the inn. On his next visit he called again for wine, when, to his astonishment, the maid, having received instructions from his mistress to be very careful of the king's cup, presented it to him by holding it herself by each of its handles. At once the happy idea struck the king of a cup with three handles, which was promptly acted upon, as his majesty quaintly said, "Surely, out of three handles I shall be able to get one!" Hence the loving cup.

Spirits Above and Below.

"Many years ago," writes a New Hampshire clergyman in the Boston Journal, "it was the custom to store liquors in church cellars in Boston; not all of them, but many of them. As late as 1850, and probably later, the cellar of the stone church on Bowdoin square was used by the Trull distillery near by (Pitts street, if I am right) for the ripening in hogsheads of New England rum. Some one found a book in the cellar in a pew and copied in there the following verse:

"There are spirits above and spirits below,
The spirits of love and the spirits of woe.
The spirits above are the spirits of love;
The spirits below are the spirits of woe.
The spirit above is the spirit divine;
The spirits below are the spirits of wine."

Four Perfect Women.

The prophet Mohammed is reported to have said that "among men there had been many perfect, but not more than four of the other sex have attained perfection - to wit, Asiah, Mary, Khadijah and Fatima." Asiah was the wife of the pharaoh of the Exodus. She forsook the faith of her fathers, on account of which her husband subjected her to many cruelties. The Virgin Mary was the second perfect woman, Mohammed stating that "she had been exalted above all the women of the world." Khadijah was the first wife of the prophet, "a princess among women." Fatima, according to Mohammed, was the fourth perfect woman, she being his beloved daughter.

The Bill Would Grow.

"I've brought you a little brother," said the doctor.
"No," said the impossible child; "the stork brought my little brother."
"Well, I'm the stork," said the doctor.
"But where is your bill?" said the impossible child.
It is claimed by those who should know that an impossible child is occasionally never wittier than upon the occasion of somebody being born into the family. - Detroit Journal.

Old Church Lotteries.

A citizen of Wilkinsburg, Pa., owns an old lottery ticket which reads as follows: "No. 257. Presbyterian church lottery. Authorized by law. This ticket will entitle the possessor to such prize as shall be drawn to its number, if demanded within 12 months after the drawing, subject to 20 per cent deduction. M. Wilkins, president of the board of managers, Pittsburg, June 3, 1807."

Maid Worth Having.

The Mistress (entering the kitchen) - Jane, didn't I hear a dish break a minute ago?
The Maid. - I hope you did, mem. It made noise enough. If you hadn't heard it, I should have thought you were getting deaf, and that, you know, would be awful. - Boston Transcript.

Unpleasant to Have Around.

"Are you still engaged to Mr. Briggs?"
"No; I broke it off last week. I was afraid to marry him. He knows too much. I gave him some ribbon to match. He found it in the first store he went to, and he bought it for 2 cents below the regular price."
