CHELAN, WASHINGTON

Several hundred mountain goats scale the mountains on the upper reaches of Lake Chelan. The best time of year for spotting them and taking their pictures is when the winter snow drives them to the shoreline for feed.

Boating, sightseeing and trolling can be delightfully combined at Lake Chelan where you can sail, row canoe or cruise in the shadow of the glacial Cascades. For visitors who do not wish to run their own boats, special trips are easily arranged on resort launches or on the "Lady of the Lake" passenger boat which makes a daily round-trip up the lake.

TRANSPORTATION to Lake Chelan

Highway—Lake Chelan is located 35 miles from Wenatchee, and accessible by U. S. Highway 97 from Wenatchee directly to the southern tip of the lake. Chelan is equidistant from Spokane and Seattle—180 miles from each. From Spokane on a direct route by Coulee and Chief Joseph Dams.

Motor Coach—Greyhound Bus Lines into Chelan run three times a day each way on U. S. 97.

Airways—Through Chelan Airways at Chelan, passenger seaplane flights may be arranged or planes chartered for any point on the lake. Wenatchee is served by scheduled airlines.

Lake Transport—The "Lady of the Lake" passenger boat makes regular stops on its daily trips to the head of the lake from the City of Chelan so that visitors may arrange cruises or reach any of the resorts along the lake. Leave Chelan for Stehekin, 8:30—June 15 to October 1. Leave Chelan 9:10—October 1 to June 15.

Good roads extend about 22 miles up both the South and North shores of Lake Chelan. On the South shore many fine resorts are located along with the Lake Chelan State Park. The Manson apple growing community is beautifully situated eight miles from Chelan on the North shore drive.

RESORTS

Vacationists at Lake Chelan may choose among 24 modern resorts, according to their pocketbooks and recreational tastes. Circling the lake are hotels, lodges and auto courts where guests swim, boat fish, hike, ride horseback and dance. Five are beautifully situated "up lake" and accessible only by boat or airplane. In hunting and fishing seasons, sportsmen can find accommodations at any one of ten lodges or motels which remain open all year. Pack trips are available to those who wish to take horseback trips through the Cascade wilderness.
