"DUDE" MINNER STABBED.

Unhappy Ending of Fourth of July Celebration for Well Known Yakima Man.

"Dude" Minner, the well known drayman and bus driver of this city, was stabbed the night of July 4th by Wesley Beeks, an employee of H. J. Rand, a local butcher. So many conflicting stories of the affair have been in circulation during the past week that the truth of the matter has been hard to get. The wounded man himself has consistently refused to talk about the matter from the first.

The story told by Mrs. Beeks to Prosecuting Attorney Guthrie on Saturday is substantially as follows:

The night of the Fourth she attended the ball given by the Woodmen of the World at the armory. She went in company with Mrs. Bert Fletcher and sister. At the dance she noticed that her husband, Beeks, with whom she had not been living for the past year, was present and kept his eye on her continually, much to her discomfort. She finally concluded to go home, the ladies referred to starting with her. At the corner of the Hotel Yakima she met Mr. Minner with his bus, just arrived from the train. She spoke to him and he volunteered to take her to her home across the track. She accepted the invitation, and confided to Minner on the way over that her husband appeared angry and that she was afraid of him. On arrival at the house, Minner volunteered to go in while she lit a lamp and looked about to see that everything was all right. He did so and sat down on the sofa while she took the lamp and looked about the house.

At this moment Beeks, she says, forced an entrance through an outer door leading to the dining room and confronted her, with an oath. Minner was standing in the parlor doorway at the time, and Beeks, she thinks, hurled a rock at him. Minner then advanced upon Beeks and the two men engaged in a struggle. She thinks it was then Beeks stabbed Minner, but is not certain. She endeavored to hold Beeks while Minner was untying his team and driving away, for fear that one or both might be killed. As soon as Beeks left the house the woman says she came up town and notified the police of the affair.

Minner returned the team to the Fashion stable and retired to his room at the hotel, apparently without mentioning the matter to any one. Finally he began to suffer from his wound and asked that a physician be sent for. After the wound had been dressed, Minner was sent to the hospital, where he still is.

The first reports about his condition were very much exaggerated. While his wound is painful, it is not believed that any serious result is likely to follow from it, although the unfortunate man is likely to be laid up for some time.

It is understood that Beeks intended to give himself up, but after consulting with some of his friends concluded not to do so. He was arrested Saturday on a warrant sworn out by Prosecutor Guthrie and taken before Justice Taggard. He was bound over in the sum of $1000. On giving bail in that amount he was released.

Beeks is said to have told his version of the story to intimate friends, which is materially different from the above, but he has refused to say a word for publication.

Laying the Corner Stone.

The corner stone of the new Presbyterian church was laid Friday afternoon, the ceremony beginning at 2 o'clock. The exercises consisted of addresses by Rev. J. M. Thompson and John P. Hartman of Seattle, and appropriate musical selections.

In the box was placed the confession of faith, the shorter catechism, the names of the present pastor, Dr. Hayden, and the members of the church, together with copies of local papers and church publications. A large number of people outside the church membership were present to witness the ceremonies.

Child Killed in Moxee.

Albert, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Krystal, members of the Holland colony in the Moxee, was accidentally shot and instantly killed by his 8-year-old brother Jacob, last Monday.

Krystal and his wife were at work in the field, having left their three children, aged 8, 6 and 4, at the house. Left to themselves, the boys sought to amuse themselves, and finally took their father's gun down off the wall. As usual, the oldest boy didn't know the gun was loaded and playfully pointed it at his little brother, pulling the trigger to show the little lad how the thing worked. The gun was loaded with buckshot, and on being discharged tore an ugly hole through the child's vitals. He lingered a few hours in great agony, till death came to his relief.

Justice Taggard, in the absence of Coroner Rosser, went out Tuesday and investigated the cause of death, finding the facts as above. An inquest was deemed unnecessary.

Good Fellows, But Couldn't Play Ball.

The west end ball team of Tacoma went home Monday after playing a series of four games here with the Hop-pickers, every game of which they lost by a big score. In the first game, Thursday, the Tacomas were beaten 16 to 3. Local fans, after it was seen that the two teams were so unevenly matched, lost interest thereafter, which cut down the attendance in the following games. The boys on leaving expressed themselves as pleased with the splendid treatment they received here.

A RAINY FOURTH.

Yakima Celebrates Natal Day Under Difficulties.

All that Geo. S. Vance needed to have made his Fourth of July celebration in Yakima a huge success was good weather, but unfortunately he didn't get it. A large, good natured crowd was in evidence all day long looking for amusement, but the character of the weather seemed to have had a depressing effect on everybody.

The parade in the morning, though gotten up on short notice, was a very creditable one. In the procession, led by the band, were Co. C, of the National Guard, the local fire department and one or more floats representing business concerns. The procession was not a long one, but was very creditable in appearance. The first downpour of rain about 11 a. m., had the effect of spoiling the eloquent oration of Col. Cannon. That gentleman was engaged in making the eagle scream in the most approved manner when the weather clerk began to interfere with his plans and soon the veritable speaker was left without an audience. Previously, all present had been invited to sing the "Star Spangled Banner," which was rendered with a will under the leadership of Geo. S. Vance.

Much interest was taken in the unveiling of the memorial fountain, recently erected at the intersection of Yakima avenue and Third street, under the auspices of the Red Cross society. Rev. H. M. Bartlett delivered an eloquent address. At the conclusion of the services at the monument the militia company fired a volley in honor of the occasion and as a mark of respect to the dead of Co. E. Nearly all the surviving members of old Co. E, who still reside in this section, were present and took part in the ceremonies, as were also a number of other Spanish war veterans, who chanced or who had made it a point to be here for the occasion.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a large crowd assembled at the fair grounds in the afternoon to witness the field day of sports given by the state fair commission. The following is the result of the different races:

Pacing race, 2 best in 3, purse $100—Francesco first, Miladi second, Adamont third.

1/4 mile dash, one heat, purse $100—Beaver Tom first, Funny second, Slop and Jim Crow tie for third.

Fifty-yard foot race, purse $5—Verny Bonds first, George Donald second, Darwin Redfield third.

1/2-mile dash, purse $100—Glen D first, Jim Corbett second, Salmo third, Nebraska Pride fourth.

One mile bicycle race, purse $15—Shaw first, Spencer second, Hatfield third.

100 yard foot race, purse $10—Redfield first, Irwin second, I. Bonds third.

1/2-mile dash for 2 year-olds, special—Lady Myrtle first, Yakima Girl second.

There was also an Indian two mile race and a squaw race, one mile, for which handsome prizes were given.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

W. W. Beck Killed by an Unruly Cayuse—Several Runaways on the Fourth.

W. W. Beck, of Santa Barbara, Cal., who arrived here some weeks ago on a visit to F. W. Beck, the first street photographer, was fatally injured the morning of July 4th, while riding a wild cayuse, the fearful injuries sustained resulting in death early Sunday morning.

The unfortunate man was riding down First street, near Yakima avenue, when the animal began to get unruly. The horse reared, threw himself backward and fell with all his weight on the rider. When he was freed from the struggling horse by the bystanders, it was discovered that the horn of the saddle had penetrated the bowels making a cruel and ugly wound. The stricken man exhibited wonderful nerve, and when picked up directed that he be carried to his brother's residence, which was only a few steps away. Medical aid was promptly summoned and everything possible done to alleviate the pain. The case was a hopeless one, however, death coming to the relief of the sufferer about 1 a. m. Sunday morning.

The deceased was born at Ashland, Wapello county, Iowa, Oct. 5, 1865. He removed to California with his parents in 1885, in which state he has continued to reside, being engaged in the photograph business at Santa Barbara.

The funeral was held at 9 a. m. Monday, under the auspices of the local lodge of Masons, of which order the unfortunate man was a member.

Two young men, brothers, whose name is Hinds, residing at Parker, had a narrow escape from death on the afternoon of the Fourth. The fiery team they were driving down the avenue were scared by exploding fireworks and started to run. To make matters worse, the pole of the vehicle dropped from the neck-yoke and in striking the mound of rough gravel in front of the Hotel Yakima, upended the back, turning it over with a bang on top of the two passengers. The horses becoming detached, ran pell-mell down the street. The crowd of on-lookers, thinking the young fellows were surely killed, rushed up and soon extricated them from the wreck. Both were bruised and scratched to some extent, but, strange to say, were not seriously hurt.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

THE ever strenuous "Teddy" is determined to take an active part in the approaching congressional campaign, whether the republican leaders like it or not. Some weeks ago, says the N. Y. World, the president sent for leading members of the campaign committee and confided to them his desire to make a speech-making tour this fall that would cover all the territory from Maine to Texas. The president's suggestion, it seems, was not received with any degree of enthusiasm by the committee, and he was informed politely by the chairman of that body that it would never do for him to take off his coat and participate in a purely congressional campaign. Such a course, he said, was without precedent, and might be resented by the people.

The president, however, was not to be dissuaded or overruled by any committee. He said nothing more, but no sooner had his visitors left him than he issued instructions to his secretary to prepare an itinerary for the greatest swing around the circle that any president has ever made during his term of office.

The president proposes to participate in the campaign as much as he pleases, and without regard as to whether the committee likes it or not. It is undoubtedly the president's purpose, says the World, to invade the districts of the best snar congressmen and stir up the people to such an extent that those congressmen will either be made to change their minds or take great chances for defeat at the polls. Another thing, too, that "Teddy" doubtless has in mind is that by making this trip he can greatly increase his personal popularity among the people. He already understands that his nomination for the presidency two years hence will be opposed, either openly or secretly, by a large and powerful element among the leaders of his party. But the wave of enthusiasm which he hopes to create from the rear end of a special train will, he thinks, convince the bosses of the futility of further opposing his ambition.

As the distinguished Col. Watterson remarked on Teddy's accession to the presidency, "There's a bronco buster now in the White House." The animal that he now is astride is the republican party. The unwilling steed is furnishing plenty of evidence, by the way, that it doesn't like such a strenuous rider and is bound to buck him off at the first opportunity. "Teddy," however, thanks to his cowboy experience, knows how to handle a tricky cayuse, and he is determined to ride this lusty animal or break its neck. He is most likely to succeed in accomplishing the latter alternative. The situation is nuts for the democrats. They can afford to sit back and laugh at the circus as long as "Teddy" is ringmaster, wielding as he does a most vigorous whip.

The president has signed the Panama canal bill and by virtue of this act the bill becomes a law, providing that the French company which assumes to own the unfinished ditch at the isthmus is able to convey a clear title. In case of failure to do so to the satisfaction of the president, that official may, according to the provisions of the law, call the whole deal off and open up anew negotiations for the building of the canal by way of the Nicaragua route.

Whatever may be said as to the necessity for this canal from a national or a military standpoint even a superficial observer ought to be able to perceive that its building bodes no good to the commercial interests of this coast insofar as competition for the Asiatic trade is concerned. The canal, when constructed, will give New York and other Atlantic ports a route to the Philippines and China at least 8000 miles shorter than they now have. This fact, taken in connection with other advantages which the east has, will be very likely to give that section a practical monopoly of American trade in the Orient. Politicians and commercial men on this coast, who have been hollering themselves hoarse for the canal are beginning to realize now that they don't want it.

The results of the Whitman county republican convention last week seems to contain some surprises for the politicians. The Ankeny crowd controlled it and punched the head of every Wilson man that bobbed up. Yet, strange to relate, the convention declared in strong language its sympathy with Gov. McBride and pledged its legislative candidates to the support of a commission bill, notwithstanding the existing alliance between Ankeny and the railroads.

Pickrel, the Colfax lawyer, who is after Jones' seat in congress, manipulated the convention. According to all reports Pickrel is a very shrewd politician who usually gets what he goes after. With the big delegation from Whitman as a basis to trade upon, Pickrel is now in condition to make some good alliances and his backers are confident that he will go into the convention with the support of most of eastern Washington. On the whole, it would seem that the political fences of Mr. Jones of Yakima are in a very bad state of repair just now. If the Hon. Wesley L. Jones wants a renomination he "will have to hurry."

A BITTER factional fight is on in Spokane between the Wilson and anti-Wilson cohorts for the control of the republican county convention. Well posted and disinterested observers on the ground are of the opinion that the Wilson crowd will win. Wilson is making the fight of his life and has the valuable assistance of his brother Henry, the minister to Chile, who is a most successful organizer. If Wilson loses this fight it will mean that his political star has set and that he will cut but little figure hereafter in the politics of this state.

A POWERFUL new explosive called Hathamite has been discovered by Prof. H. M. Hathaway of Wellsboro, Pa. The new agent is said to be of many times greater power than dynamite. Tests recently made demonstrate that it was impossible to explode the new force by any other means than through the use of the percussion cap. On account of its superior power and the assured safety in handling it, it is thought the new product will soon supersede the use of dynamite.

As THE Tacoma Ledger says, there are a good many people who are fond of asserting that they would do if they were to come in contact with the fleeing outlaw, Tracy. Now as a matter of fact, they would do in such an event, just what others have done, by making a virtue of necessity, submit with as good a grace as possible. In dealing with that kind of a man, especially when he has the drop on one, there is nothing else to do unless the victim should be really wishing for a speedy passage to the shores of the great beyond.

THE local correspondent of the Seattle Times contributes a column or more of racy political news from this neck of the woods to the Sunday issue of that paper. The Hon. Joel in this interesting letter lays bare the political hopes and aspirations of a number of local statesmen. It remains to be said, however, that he did not name them all. There are others. It is to be hoped that those not receiving favorable mention will not feel slighted.

THE Spokane Review, let it be known, is putting some pretty hot shot into John L. Wilson these days. The "little giant" is said to be exceedingly wrath by reason of such treatment and has threatened to buy the paper and run it himself. John L., by the way, ought to buy a paper in Yakima and defend himself against the attacks of the Washingtonian.

"WEARY WILLIE" ROBERTSON, it is said, is quietly grooming himself for a legislative nomination. If he succeeds in securing it, he will certainly put this paper to the expense of publishing his photo. The representation of a spare and hungry looking gentleman walking in opposite directions ought to fill the bill.

Who is going to be senator, is a question which the faithful, hereabouts frequently ask of each other. Well, we dunno. Who ever he may be, he ought to be a man with whiskers, in order that he may look dignified. How would Jack Spawldo?

ANDERSON, the big Swede who unwillingly followed the fortunes of Tracy for a couple of days, says that the outlaw is no doubt a gentleman, as he claims, but that he, Anderson, got mighty tired of acting in the capacity of a gentleman's valet.

DOC HARE says the day after the report went forth in a local paper that he was carrying the Ankeny sack in this county, he received three duns by mail. Funny, isn't it? But it shows what advertising will do.

DOC HARE says that the day after the report went forth in a local paper that he was carrying the Ankeny sack in this county, he received three duns by mail. Funny, isn't it? But it shows what advertising will do.

TRACY, dead, might be worth several thousands to the man lucky enough to get him, but he is worth a good deal more alive to the daily newspapers.

THAT one cut that the Republic office has of a good looking man is being used to represent a good many different kinds of people.

OLD Sol is acting now as though he were a little ashamed of himself and wishes to make up for lost time.

TRACY, the outlaw and man-killer, seems to have, at any rate, a very lively sense of humor. The newspaper boys have kept hot on his trail when they found it. At the Jerrell house Tracy told the ladies that it kept him busy dodging the correspondents, as he did not want to be interviewed. As he sat talking gaily, he chanced to look out of a window, and seeing a man walking by at a distance, exclaimed: "There goes that red-headed reporter now. I guess I'll have to go. The sheriff and his posse must be coming."

Peries and the Issues.

It is scarcely accurate to say that the caucus of the house democrats "decided the issues for the coming congressional campaign." Political issues are not created by resolution. They grow out of political conditions. The action and non-action of the republican president and congress have formed the issues upon which this year's elections will turn.

The democratic caucus, did however, formulate and present these issues in a clear and effective manner. The refusal of reciprocity to Cuba, the neglect to pass more stringent laws against monopolies, and the blindly obstinate rejection of efforts even from their own side to abate in the slightest degree the tariff exactions which enable trusts to extort monopoly prices from our own consumers, while selling their products more cheaply abroad, certainly creates issues upon which democrats can consistently and hopefully appeal to the country.—N. Y. World.

Royal Arch Masons Banquet.

At the session of Yakima Chapter, No. 21, R. A. M., Tuesday night, Rev. H. M. Bartlett, Alex Miller and E. B. Moore were exalted to the Royal Arch degree. After the chapter adjourned, the whole company repaired to the dining room of the Hotel Bartholet, where an elegantly prepared supper was in waiting. A. B. Weed acted as toast-master. Responses were made by J. D. Cornett, E. F. Barge, H. M. Bartlett, J. B. Burns, E. B. Moore and R. K. Nichols.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was yellow jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Quigg & Ayres, druggists.

E. G. PECK,
school clerk.
Dated at North Yakima, Wash., July 5, 1902.

Watterson on Cleveland.

If any reader of the Commoner thinks this paper has been severe in its criticism of Grover Cleveland let him read what Henry Watterson, a gold-standard-Palmer-and-Buckner-reorganizer, says in the Courier-Journal: "Mr. Watterson has but two ends in view, to scotch a movement wholly dangerous in character and to vindicate the truth of history. He has never had the slightest private quarrel with Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Watterson is the last man in the world to make an individual grievance the basis of a public attack. He would despise himself if he were capable of it."

"His opposition to Mr. Cleveland rests upon the specific statements he has made; that Mr. Cleveland is an ill tempered, self-willed man, having neither the intellectual training nor the moral and political inspiration for democratic fellowship or leadership; that he knows little and cares less about tariff reform; that such sympathies as he has are not on the side of the plain, common people and still less with the lowly and poor, but on the side of the strong, the mighty and the great; that he is personally an ingrate and a glutton; that because of his selfishness and brutishness he alienated every democrat of consequence in congress who would not serve him blindly; that, in short, he found the party a noble unit and left it a wreck. Where he is best known he is most detested."

"Seeing these things, sometimes at long range and sometimes at short range, Mr. Watterson stood aghast and appalled."

And this is the man whom Mr. Hill eulogized and whose sentiments he endorsed! Now that Mr. Watterson has given us his opinion of Mr. Cleveland, he ought to give us his opinion of David Bennett Hill.—Commoner.

Is This Treason?

The following extracts are from an article published last week in the Ballard News, a "strenuous" republican paper: "The actions of the soldiers at Fort Lawton and their pernicious influence over the young girls have been a source of alarm to Ballard parents for some months past."

"School girls hardly in their teens have been corrupted by men sworn to protect their country, until now the mere sight of a uniform causes mothers to keep close guard."

If the foregoing had appeared in a democratic paper, there are narrow-minded bigots in this country who would have called it a "traitorous assault upon the honor of the army," "the defenders of the flag," etc., etc., and if in a country where the military spirit holds full sway, the editor could consider himself lucky if they didn't "do things to him" worse than give him a vacation in jail.—Mt. ## TRACY BOBS UP SERENELY.

Slippery as an Eel—He Keeps Everybody Guessing.

Harry Tracy, the Oregon ex convict and outlaw, with a price of $6000 on his head, is still eluding the peace officers of King county. Time and again, Sheriff Cudihee and his posse had thought they had him surrounded, but in every case Tracy seems to have easily made his escape.

Wednesday morning Tracy appeared at the farm house of E. M. Johnson, near Kent, and held up the farmer and his family. He compelled Johnson to go to Tacoma and buy him two revolvers, informing the terror stricken man that if he "peached," or did not return by 6 o'clock, he, Tracy, would murder his entire family and set fire to the house. Johnson went to Tacoma, purchased the guns with his own money, and arrived home at 5:40 p. m. Tracy thanked him, took the revolvers, hung about until 9 o'clock and then took his departure. Johnson was so badly scared that he did not give the alarm until the next morning.

Bulletins posted about on Thursday evening to the effect that Tracy had killed three more men that day, was declared a fake by Agent Spencer, of the W. U. Telegraph Co., who says that no such a dispatch was received.

The Seattle Times of Thursday says that Tracy left a message for Sheriff Cudihee pinned to a log near Kent, which congratulated that official on being able to keep out of his way.

Here, as elsewhere, Tracy continues to be the all absorbing topic of interest.

Unknown Man Killed.

Deputy Coroner Taggard was called to Kiona Saturday to inquire into the cause of death of a man found dead along the railroad track near that place.

It was evident that the man had been killed during the preceding night by a passing train. There was nothing in the pockets of the clothes that gave any clue to the identity of the deceased. The man being unknown to anybody in the vicinity, the acting coroner deemed it unnecessary to hold an inquest. The unfortunate looked in appearance to be about 50 years of age. He was buried at the expense of the county, under the name of John Doe.

Traveled in Foreign Countries.

Prof. Jefferson Elmore and wife stopped off Friday while enroute home from a year's travel in Europe, to visit relatives here, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Hough.

Prof. Elmore, who is a member of the faculty of Stanford University at Palo Alto, is a most interesting gentleman to meet. He gave the DEMOCRAT a very extended account of his travels in the old world. He visited England and most of the Continental countries during his stay abroad, passing most of the winter in Berlin, which, he says, is probably the cleanest and best governed city in the world. To the student, however, Rome is a much more interesting city, on account of its ancient history, although there are now comparatively few of the grand old buildings left standing. The Pantheon, he says, is an exception, which stands almost intact, a great object of interest to thousands of sightseers. The Coliseum, or a portion of it, still remains, though in places the walls have been torn away, the stone being used in the construction of the great cathedral of St. Peter's.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

E. O. Keck and A. L. Aikins Elected to Fill Vacancies—Street Commissioner

Hauser Resigns.

A regular meeting of the city council was held Monday evening, Mayor Fechter and Councilmen Liggett, Moran, Wyman, Shaw and Reed present. Clerk Doudst read the minutes of the preceding meeting, which were duly approved. The application of T. Mellette for a saloon license on lot 32, block 10, Front street, was read. On motion of Liggett license was granted conditional with compliance with the provisions of the ordinance. A resolution was then read providing for the laying of a McAdam sidewalk on the east side of Second street between B and E. The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for the construction of the same.

S. Schreiner and P. Ditter as a committee from the Catholic church, addressed the council, stating that they were authorized to open negotiations with the city for the purchase of 10 acres of the forty recently purchased by the city, from W. I. Lince, for cemetery purposes.

On the suggestion of Liggett of the cemetery committee, it was arranged that the council as a committee of the whole, should accompany the committee from the church to look over the ground and report at the next meeting.

W. M. Thompson then addressed the council in behalf of J. E. Mulligan, who sustained severe injuries on the occasion of the fire at Reid's laundry several months ago. The speaker stated that Mr. Mulligan by reason of such injuries had been put to much expense as well as incapacitated for labor for several months. The city, he said, was not legally liable but was under moral obligation in the matter. City Attorney Snyder when questioned, stated that the council had no authority to make a direct appropriation for the relief of Mr. Mulligan. The matter went over to the next meeting.

A. D. Sloan then addressed the council. Mr. Sloan complained that the street ditch in front of his premises on First street was constantly discharging water into his cellar, with the result that he was being materially damaged thereby. Chairman Liggett of the street and ditch committee and Street Commissioner Hauser rather controverted this statement, which led to a rather acrimonious discussion, the city officials claiming that the water in the Sloan cellar was the result of seepage, the same as in other cellars, a fact demonstrated by measurements taken. The matter was compromised by the council, instructing the street and ditch committee to build a flume alongside Mr. Sloan's property.

Reports of city officers were then read. Police Judge Nichols showed $214, collected in fines for June. That of Marshal Grant showed that a large number of vagrants had been run out of town, two maques convicted and six arrests made for selling whiskey to Indians. The street commissioner's report showed the various repair work performed and the sum of $100 collected in poll tax receipts prior to July 1. The sexton's report showed six burials for the month and $22 collected. After reading the reports, such monthly bills as had been approved by the finance committee were ordered paid.

The Indian whiskey cases were then considered, several of the councilmen stating their objections to city officers further prosecuting such cases on account of the expense involved. The attorney was instructed to correspond with the U. S. marshal relative to the matter.

The mayor then stated that there were now two vacancies on the council to be filled by appointment, caused by the resignation of H. K. Sinclair and the removal from the city of W. E. Ayers. E. O. Keck was nominated and unanimously elected as the successor of Mr. Sinclair as councilman from the first ward. The names of A. L. Aikins and J. J. Rankin were presented for councilman-at-large to succeed Ayers. On the first ballot Aikins received three votes to one for Rankin and was declared elected. The resignation of C. M. Hauser as street commissioner was then read and after some discussion was accepted. The election of his successor, however, was deferred until the next meeting. In the meantime the committee on streets and ditches was authorized to make such arrangements as it deemed best. The mayor was also authorized to appoint some one to collect poll taxes. Adjourned.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

C. H. Denley is sojourning at Hot Springs.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Rankin; Friday, July 11, a son.

Miss Virginia Coburn, of Tacoma, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Miles, of the Bartholet.

The board of county commissioners have been in session this week, but little business outside the routine order was transacted.

The new telephone directory just issued from San Francisco is not very satisfactory to most of the company's patrons here.

G. W. Walker, of Cameron, Idaho, an old California friend of Deputy Sheriff Leach, is here on a visit. He may conclude to locate here.

Mrs. G. M. Richards and Mrs. E. B. Moore gave a party at the home of the former lady Thursday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. Prosser and Mrs. Richardson of San Francisco.

The ladies of the Degree of Honor last evening entertained a delegation from the lodge at Ellensburg, and a good social time was had at their lodge room on First street.

A temperance meeting will be held at the Christian church next Wednesday evening the 16th, at 8 p. m. Addresses will be made by local ministers. The music will be furnished by Prof. Dow.

The Cascade Lumber Company has a large force of men and teams at work this week in making the big dyke around the proposed log pond. Carpenters are also at work on the office and headquarters building.

The Rebekah lodge gave a lawn social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Clemmer, last Tuesday evening, which was a social and financial success. They will give a grand ball in the storeroom of their new temple when the floor is down.

The W. O. W. Wednesday evening installed the following officers: C. C. H. J. Rand; P. C. C., D. L. Thacker; A. L. A. Smith; escort, H. T. Murchie; sentry, A. Henri; watchman, W. O. Makmann; banker, E. J. Patton; Clerk, P. D. Clemmer.

The county commissioners this week voted to grant the free scholarship for one year, accredited to the county by the state agricultural college, to Arthur Young of Sunnyside, who is now a student at that school. This free scholarship saves the recipient about $50 per year. Harvey Young of this city had the benefit of it last year.

Articles of incorporation of the Yakima Reduction company were filed with the county auditor Wednesday. The articles are signed by Fred Parker and E. E. Parton of this city and A. F. Catron of Seattle as trustees. The incorporation paper recites that the company will engage in the business of smelting and refining ores. The principal office of the company will be at North Yakima.

The people of the Wenas are reported to have had a very successful celebration on the Fourth, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. The sporting program consisted of a ball game between the Wenas and Natchez teams, resulting in a victory for the former by score of 26 to 14. A "rubber" game will be played on the Wenas grounds tomorrow with the team from Yakima City.

The appointment of W. L. Lemon as postmaster of this city having been confirmed by the senate, that gentleman is engaged in preparing his official bond in the sum of $12,000. The sureties being required to qualify in double that sum. Mr. Lemon does not expect to enter upon his duties, however, much before Sept. 1. At any rate, he does not care to until after he has enjoyed his August vacation.

George Wilson, a former resident of Wide Hollow, has purchased the two lots on the corner east of the Hotel Yakima from the non-resident owner and will, it is understood, erect thereon a large two-story brick business house. Work on the new building will probably be begun about August 1st. The band stand now occupies the site of the proposed new block.

The cause of such a general derangement of the train schedule the first days of this week was on account of heavy wash-outs at Clark's Fork, Mont., and near Hope, Ida. Five overland trains were sidetracked up at the two places mentioned and the hundreds of passengers found it hard work to kill time during the long delay. On Monday afternoon six overland trains passed through here between 2 and 7 o'clock p. m.

The closing-out sale at Keck's clothing store is continued daily. 100 blankets are placed in the window this week, at a marked down price. This is an opportunity to buy these goods at a saving of 25 per cent. 43-1t

V. W. L. & P. Co. Improvements.

The Yakima Water, Light & Power company expect to begin work at once on some extensive improvements on its canal from the Natches. The present capacity of the ditch is not large enough to meet the demands on the system, and it will therefore have to be considerably enlarged.

A new right of way will be condemned above the present flume, nearer the base of the hill. The ditch, of course, will be enlarged for its entire length above the power house.
