SEARCH FOR LOST TREASURE

How A Cascade Prospector Lost a Fortune and Hopes to Find it Again.

Oscar Brown a well known mountaineer and trapper of the Cascades was in town Saturday from his camp on the head waters of the Natchez. He felt obliged to make the trip, he said, in order to procure a pair of rubber boots as the slush snow and slippery trails made that kind of footwear a necessity to him. He brought down with him the pelts of two silver gray foxes and reported that he was having moderate success this winter at trapping. He left town again Monday for his camp with a fresh stock of supplies. Brown puts in most of his time through the summer season at prospecting in the Cascades. A few years ago while scouring the higher altitudes in search of gold Brown is said to have come upon a slide where, it is said, he discovered the yellow metal plentifully sprinkled in the quartzite. It was late in the fall and as the weather was threatening Brown found it necessary to reach the lower levels. He procured first a quantity of average samples of the broken rock on which he subsequently got assays that showed gold values running into the thousands per ton.

The following spring as soon as the season would permit, Brown made haste to reach the solitary spot so rich in gold. He reached it or thought he did, he never was quite sure. During his absence he thinks an immense section of glacier slid down from the mountain side and obscured his great discovery from human sight. He believes that that is what has happened although he cannot be absolutely sure that he has found the right spot. At any rate the result has been the same so far as the effect on the trapper's mind is concerned. To find that charmed place again has become the grand passion and aim of his life. He thinks of it by day and dreams by night of the great wealth that awaits him when he rediscovers his lost treasure. He is willing to undergo indescribable hardships in order to realize his ambition. When the Klondike rush commenced he joined in it with the hope of casting off the spell and finding a fortune in the frozen fields of the far north. But it was of no use, the Klondike as with many others, yielded him nothing and he was constantly haunted with the thought that some other mortal more luckier than he would find the hidden treasure. So back he came to make his home in the solitary Cascades and renew with more zeal than ever the search for his lost mine. He feels pretty sanguine that the glacier is hiding his treasure spot, and feels encouraged by observing that the ice cap, under the benign influence of old Sol's rays, is gradually disintegrating and melting away. He lives in hope therefore that when it has gone he will come into his own again and that fickle dame fortune will again smile upon him and yield up to him lavish riches.

County School Matters.

A new school district to be known as No 59 is being organized in the Sunnyside. It is composed of territory taken both from the Sunnyside and Outlook districts, where the attendance of pupils was larger than desirable.

County Supt. Dickey has refused the petition of a number of people living in the Bluelight settlement south of Mabton for the creation of a new joint district out of territory situated both in that and Kluckitak county.

The eighth grade examining board which consists of J. M. Richardson, C. N. Stoll, F. E. McGinnis, E. Bowlin and Supt. Dickey, will meet in the office of the county superintendent next Saturday, February 8th.

A meeting of the county board of education will be held at the superintendent's office today beginning at 10 o'clock. The board consists of Supt. Dickey, B. F. Barge, O. A. Fechter, A. W. Schwartz of Nob Hill and E. M. Douglas of Sunnyside.

Free Mail Delivery.

Beginning today February 1st the free mail delivery system will be put in operation in this city. Carrier McWain will have as his territory all that portion of the city north of Yakima avenue while Carrier Lanterman will distribute mail in that section lying south of the avenue. It will doubtless take some little time before the system gets to working smoothly, as the carriers must first familiarize themselves with the streets and numbers as well as the people living along these routes. The work can be facilitated much if all the people expecting to be served will furnish promptly the information desired by the post-office people. All who have not filled out the blanks that have been distributed around should lose no further time in doing so.

Eighth Grade Examination.

Notice is hereby given that a mid-winter eighth grade examination will be held at the court house of North Yakima on Friday and Saturday, January 30th and February 1st. Each day's session will open at 9:30 a. m. Paper, pens and ink will be furnished free. No other examination will be held until May. S. A. Dickey, Supt. Com. Schools.

THE FRUITFUL SUNNYSIDE.

What Some Farmers Have Accomplished
There This Year.

Last season Geo. P. Eaton of Tacoma, cut 800 tons of alfalfa from 130 acres. This he sold in stack for $3.75 per ton. Forty-five acres were seeded to timothy and clover. The orchard comprises fifteen acres and was bought by Mr. Eaton nine years ago.

This valley is destined to become one of the leading fruit sections of the United States. The sums realized from the apple crop of last season were simply phenomenal.

Apples from fifteen acres on the W. J. Jordan place brought $3,000. William Smith sold his crop on the trees for $2,800. He had 7½ acres. Mr. Sisk sold his crop on trees from five acres for $1,125. J. P. Douglas received $1,125 from eight acres, and Mr. Barnes realized over $1,300 from eight acres on the trees.

F. Walden had 12,000 boxes. He sells all his apples on the Sound. He has a model orchard. He made a persistent fight against the codling moth last season and says not over 5 per cent of his immense crop of apples are wormy. This gentleman is regarded as one of the best informed men on horticulture in the county.

Over 100 carloads of apples of last season's product will be shipped from Toppenish.

Codling moth is the arch enemy of the apple in this valley. Persistent spraying is the remedy. Fruitmen are glad to know that the county inspector proposes to enforce the law this year without fear or favor.

Ben Wees, of Michigan, buyer for M.

Baker & Co., of Chicago, bought over 20,000 boxes of apples in this vicinity. He has bought all over the United States for years and says he found as good apples in this valley as he ever bought. The leading varieties are Winesap, Ben Davis, Jonathan, Missouri Pippin, Spitzenberg, etc.

Fred E. Thompson, formerly of Sumner, has 160 acres in fruit and hops in Parker bottom, a few miles west from here. He says he has the figures to demonstrate that he cleared above expenses, from his ranch last year $8,000 cash. He also buys large quantities of fruit and is the most extensively combined grower and-handler of fruit in the county.—Zillah Cor. Tacoma Ledger.

How Apples Pay.

As an illustration of how apple growing pays in this valley the orchard of Jacob Raimor of the Moxee can be cited as an example. This orchard or rather that portion of it that is in bearing, was planted in 1893 and consists of about 500 trees principally of the Ben Davis and Gano varieties. This year Mr. Raimor harvested from his orchard 2250 boxes of choice commercial apples. Of this number he has already sold 850 boxes at an average price of $1 per box delivered in this city. The balance of his crop he is still holding for an advanced price. Mr. Raimor owns only 10 acres of land in all which he asserts could be sold for $4000 or $400 per acre.

Notice.

Those who have not already received their house numbers should bring the number of their lot and block to Merwin & Hazel's shop and they will receive their number free of charge.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

IF Congressman Jones has no able or more logical defender than his home organ, the Yakima Republic, his cause must indeed be in a bad way. In a brainless scree the editor of that time-serving organ this week attempts to defend Mr. Jones from the righteous wrath of a large and powerful element of his constituency—the farmers. The influence that prompted him to do this is well understood by those

THE national house of representatives operated as it is under the imperious and brutal Reed rules has ceased to be a deliberative body. Under those rules the speaker is an autocrat and under the crack of his whip almost any legislation that he desires can be passed, the majority as well as the minority being helpless. Of course this is all wrong and is sadly out of

It will be amusing as well as interesting now to watch the course of the local republican organ to see whether it will attempt to line up with Gov. McBride or the railroads in the fight now on for the control of the party. Its a five to one bet that it will attempt to dodge the issue.

The Woodmen of the World gave their annual ball at the armory Tuesday night. A large crowd attended and all had a good time.

Mrs. Minnie Thompson expects soon to retire as stamp clerk at the post office and will be succeeded by Fred Thompson, now carrier on the Moxee route.

A number of Marshal Grant's friends feel much incensed at what they deem an uncalled for slur upon him which appeared this week in a very local paper.

Sheriff Brown was down from Kittitas Tuesday looking for a party who is wanted very much at Ellensburg. The man is supposed to be hiding in this city.

J. W. Hillis and family left Thursday for Moscow, Idaho, where they expect to make their future home. A number of friends and neighbors were at the depot to see them off.

The friends of Samuel Fisk of the Ahtanum, will regret to hear of his serious illness. His brother T. P. Fisk, a well known state politician came over from Shelton Thursday to visit him.

The frame building owned by Dr. Sloan at the corner of Yakima avenue and First street will be moved soon to the corner of First and Walnut to make room for the handsome new stone building which Dr. Sloan will erect this spring on his property.

The public should remember that beginning with today drop letters bearing a one cent stamp "want go any more." It is also well to remember that city mail carriers can't stop and talk to people on the streets without running the risk of losing their jobs.

A fellow who has been employed at Hanna's dry goods store for the past month and who was known here under the names of both Smith and Powell, jumped his board bill at the Hotel Yakima this week and skipped out. He is believed to have gone to Oregon.

Mrs. E. Carmichael of Yakima City, contemplates building a creamery in that town this spring. A frame building 24x38 ft will be erected which will be fitted up with the most modern butter making appliances. A cold storage warehouse will be built and operated in connection with the creamery.

The Prosser Record reports that some Ritzville gentlemen have decided to open a bank in that thriving burg. They have bought a lot from C. A. Jensen and will erect a two story brick in the spring. It has been known for some time that a bank was soon to be started in that town but it was understood here that it was to be established by other parties.

H. F. Martin, formerly Supt. of bridges and buildings on this division, but now Gen'l. Mgr. for the O. I. Co. at Seattle, has sent word that he will be here Sunday to visit Chris Scow and a number of other friends.

The thermometer stood 5 below on First street Friday at 6 a. m. The big standpipe near the depot was found frozen up and had to be thawed out. Water pipes in private houses were found quite generally frozen up.

D. M. Shanks returned Thursday from the east whither he went some weeks ago to deliver his last mare Diodene to her new owner at Chicago. Mr. Shanks brought back with him a promising trotter which he purchased while east.

Councilman Harry Moran sold a steer this week that beat the record for fattening on a purely alfalfa diet. Now, 1st, the animal when turned into the feed yard weighed 1100 lbs. This week it weighed just 1500. Mr. Moran thinks that this is a record that is hard to beat.

Lombard & Horsley expect to remove their business to the Lewis-Engle block recently purchased by them, March 1st. All tenants on the second floor have received notice to vacate as the firm expect to utilize all of that space with the furniture business. The partitions will all be torn out and the stairway removed from the front to the rear of the building where it was originally.

The Modern Woodmen having made a lease of the present quarters occupied by the Commercial Club will as soon as they take possession make a number of changes in the place to make it more suitable for lodge purposes. The camp expects to purchase a new piano and will establish a reading room for the use of the membership and visiting neighbors. A number of other orders including The Royal Tribe of Joseph, The Modern Brotherhood, Foresters and possibly the American Fraternal Club will become tenants of the Woodmen.

Mrs. Richardson Acquitted.
The jury in the case of Mrs. Addie Richardson charged with the murder of her husband Frank W. Richardson, brought in a verdict of "not guilty" at Plattsburg, Mo., last Saturday. Stewart Fife formerly of this city, is now in jail at Plattsburg also charged with the murder of Richardson. The result in the woman's case it would seem would militate in Fife's favor as it is hardly to be expected that he can be convicted except on Mrs. Richardson's testimony. In testifying in her own behalf the woman vigorously denied having maintained improper relations with young Fife. The story she told in court regarding her husband's murder is considered rather "fishy" by people in Yakima who read the account of the trial in the daily papers. A good deal of interest was manifested in the trial here in Yakima.

Rattlesnake Items.

On the morning of the 23rd inst began the severest storm of the season. Some of our old prognosticators say the hardest ever known. The wind blew from the northwest at the rate of 60 miles per hour, laden with hard sleet and snow and continued until 12 o'clock at night. It was a regular Dakota blizzard on a small scale. The stock were mostly under cover and there were no losses.

Wild land in this vicinity has advanced at least 200 per cent in the last six months, but our farmers realize that the price of wheat land is fixed by the number of bushels it will produce per acre, and as a rule in the northwest the price has advanced $1 per acre for every bushel it will produce per acre. So if our next crop should yield from 25 to 35 bushels per acre, as everybody expects, the price of land will shoot up like a rocket and those that have sold for five or six dollars per acre will feel like they had lost a bird.

Our citizens realize that the little school house and church on the plain are the forerunner of civilization and the bulwarks of our free institutions. So our school house will be used for a church until one can be built and the prattle and song of the many school children and the sound of the gospel may be heard from the summit of the Rattlesnake mountain where a few months ago only the howl of the wild coyotes could be heard.

Will Build a New Church.
The Presbyterian church people have decided on building during the coming season a handsome new church edifice on their site at the corner of Second and A streets. The present church building will be moved around on the back part of the lots facing A street and will be used for Sunday school and society purposes. The finance committee is now securing the means to cover the cost of the new building and are meeting with much success. Messrs. Donald, Cornett, Dudley and other pillars of the church headed the subscription list with handsome amounts.
