BACK SALARY IS LIVE ISSUE

AMONG OFFICIALS OF COUNTY

Question of Whether Yakima Men are Entitled to Pay Under Higher Classification Is Up.

Back salaries for county officers of Yakima county because of the raise in classification of the county is still mooted. Whether the officers are entitled to back pay appears to remain an open question. The recent decision of the supreme court on the matter, it is declared, did not touch on the points which control in Yakima and therefore that decision does not apply as against the claims of the officeholders here. The question appears to be altogether whether Yakima had the population sufficient for a higher classification at the time the officers now in power were elected, and it is claimed that both the school and directory census figures will show that it had. Attorneys of Yakima county believe that the county officers are justly entitled to the money and have never altered their opinion, because they claim there has been no decision to the contrary.

May Ask Court Decision.
It will be remembered that sometime ago back salaries aggregating approximately $3000 were voted to officers of this county. Immediately thereafter a decision which appeared to be against the local claims was rendered by the state supreme court. At that time a number of the officials turned back the money which had been paid over to them. Some, however, did not do so. The interests necessarily, have to be united in some way as discrimination, either by the county or by some of its officials, is not possible. The matter is under discussion both by the people financially interested and by the county commissioners. It is altogether likely that the solution will be a request for a judicial decision on the matter.

CRIMINAL CASES SET.

Jury Calendar for the November Term of Superior Court Was Fixed This Week.

There will be 21 criminal cases tried by jury at the November term of the superior court. The docket was called by Judge Preble Tuesday and these cases were set. ### MORE ROADS BETTERED.

County Commissioners Decide to Grade and Gravel Two More Stretches.

Two more Yakima county roads are to be repaired, graded and gravelled, according to a decision of the county commissioners Thursday afternoon. A stretch from the Selah bridge to the Northern Pacific railroad, approximately a quarter mile, will be improved, and another stretch of one mile on the main Outlook-Sunnyside road is also to be bettered.

October Wedding.

A simple home wedding took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the marriage of Miss Hattie Hern, of Tacoma, and Mr. Frank Bowen, formerly of this city, which was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Squire, 309 Sixth avenue north. Rev. Charles E. Gibson, of the First Methodist church, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Bowen left that evening to make their future home at Toppenish, Wash., at which place Mr. Bowen is connected with the Tyrrell & Sons' store.

For the next month Secretary of State I. M. Howell, of Tacoma, will serve as acting governor of Washington. Gov. M. E. Hay is going to be out of the state for 30 days, having gone to St. Louis to join the Taft party and accompany it down the Mississippi river. During his incumbency, Howell will not only perform the executive duties, but will also certify thereto as secretary of State. This is in accordance with the state constitution.

UNIQUE GOOD ROADS MOVE.

Rural Carrier in Brenham, Tex., Forms an Association.

William Burnes, carrier for rural route No. 9, from Brenham, Tex., to Independence, is a strong good roads advocate and has some original ideas about the best way to improve the roads.

Some time ago he started an independent movement to get people along his route to help him keep the road in good condition and asked them to form an organization, to be known as the Good Roads association of R. F. D. No. 9, and to contribute monthly dues to such an organization to maintain a team to work on this road, dragging it with a split log drag or doing such other work on it as could be done by this team, he agreeing, without compensation, to superintend the work.

He sent out circulars to all the people along his route, setting forth his plans, and asked them to join the association.

NEARLY FOUR MILLION.

Total Attendance at A.-Y.-P. Exposition Was Very Large.

The total attendance at the A.-Y.-P. exposition, which closed on Saturday night was 3,740,561. The exposition was open 138 days. The total attendance was about 10 per cent below the estimate made by President Chilberg before the gates were opened but was much above what was expected by the majority of the Seattle people. The exposition closes practically out of debt, and with a surplus which will be used in clearing the grounds. When the fair opened it had a debt of approximately $700,000.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD.

There will be a Halloween social and smoker at the hall Wednesday evening, Oct. 27. Plenty to eat, drink and smoke, and fun galore. A large attendance is earnestly desired. It

WILL INSPECT GRANGER BOOKS

EXPERT ACCOUNTANT IS HERE

Secretary Ballinger Keeps Promise Given to Sunnyside Water Users' Association.

Acting under the direction of Secretary Ballinger, Louis L. Sharp, an expert accountant, is in North Yakima to go over the books of the Sunnyside project. With him in the city are George E. Rodman, president, and A. W. Swigart, secretary of the Sunnyside Water Users' association, which was responsible for the investigation.

This is the first score for the water users in a long fight which they have made on the management of the Sunnyside canal under Walter N. Granger. During the visit of the senate committee on irrigation and Secretary Ballinger last summer, the water users laid their grievances before the officials. Secretary Ballinger granted their request for an auditing of the books, and he has sent Mr. Sharp here for that purpose.

Books Kept Here.
It was not known by the Sunnyside people, not even by the officers of the Water Users' association, that the books of the project are kept in this city instead of at Zillah, where Manager Granger has his office. President Rodman and Secretary Swigart have come to North Yakima to be present at the auditing. They have not yet determined how much of an examination they will ask for.

The Water Users' association have charged Manager Granger with mismanagement and extravagance, and the present investigation is to lay the records before the members of the association.

Action has been instituted by the First National bank of Sunnyside, against the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber company and Sheriff Lancaster to prevent a sheriff's sale of property at Sunnyside. The bank in July brought suit to recover $1019.40 from A. C. Jenks and wife and at that time a writ of garnishment issued against property of Jenks held by Lee A. Johnson of Sunnyside. Later, it is alleged, Jenks gave a chattel mortgage to the lumber company and the bank declares that if an advertised sale for October 27 of the property held by Johnson takes place to prevent the transfer of property.

Title to transferred property extends to the middle of the street. This was the decision of Judge Preble in the superior court Monday in the case of Campbell vs. Glazier. The action was to reform a deed to property on Capitol Hill the vacation of a street making it a question who would own the land between the center of the street and the street line.

T. J. Chambers, of Toppenish, was at the Washington Thursday.

Wright Lorimer as "King David" in "The Sheppard King"

Wright Lorimer, who will appear at the Yakima theatre in his mammoth scenic production of "The Sheppard King," on Oct. 22-23, is a magnetic young actor well known throughout the country.

"The Sheppard King" was written by Mr. Lorimer and he will appear personally at every performance in his original character of David, the shepherd boy, who afterwards becomes the King of Israel.

The love of David and Jonathan the friendship of David and Jonathan the mad vagaries of King Saul, and the incantations of the witch of Endor are some of the principal features that go to form the nucleus of the play.

The story begins where David is serving as a shepherd boy tending his father's sheep. It takes him to the camp of Saul where, when all feared to go out to meet the mighty giant, Goliath of Gath, stripping as he was, and armed only with his sling he slew Goliath. Although he had charmed the evil spirit away from the mad king and had delivered him from the taunts of the Philistines, Saul's jealousy soon endangered his life. After the pastoral first act there is a succession of events throughout the drama of the most absorbing interest until the curtain finally falls on the great triumph of David, when Mical is restored to his arms and he is crowned King of Israel.

FARMERS FLOCK TO CORNELL.

Remarkable Popularity of Courses on Agriculture.

The remarkable popularity of courses in agriculture is shown in the following news dispatch from Ithaca, N. Y.: "The State College of Agriculture at Cornell university is so overcrowded that its officers do not know where they will put the hundreds of 'short course' students who are expected in the winter. When the young farmers of the state who flock here in ever increasing numbers to take the twelve weeks' course in winter arrive there will be a total registration of from 1200 to 1400, far beyond the seating capacity of the lecture rooms and laboratories of the college."

"The new college buildings were constructed several years ago, the state appropriating $230,000 for them after a long fight in the legislature, in which representatives of other universities and colleges in the state bitterly opposed the appropriation. 'Our buildings and equipment,' says Dr. Rector Webber, 'are $500,000 in value. Our income is $300,000. To successfully carry on our work at the present state of registration increase this equipment should be doubled and the income raised to $500,000.'"

Oiling a Kansas Road.

Some time ago a mile of country road south of Sedan, Kan., was oiled under the direction of the Sedan Commercial club. Fifty dollars was paid for this, and it was all raised by public subscription. The oil had to be hauled so far that the cost of hauling was almost equal to the price of the oil. Nevertheless, the total cost of dragging the road and soaking it in oil was only $50.

The road was oiled in May and is yet in almost as good condition as it was when finished. It is well rounded up, with good drainage, and the oil has made it solid, something like asphalt pavement. The road is the talk of the farmers. They will go a mile or two out of their way just to use it in driving into Sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Conklin, of Leach, Neb., who have been visiting in the Yakima valley for six months, left Thursday evening for their home. They took with them a number of specimens of Yakima products, including three huge potatoes, taken from a field planted on July 25. The spuds weighed about five pounds, each being eight inches in length.

EXPERIMENT PAID.

Test Showed Superiority of Newspaper Over Billboard Advertising.

The Sandusky (O.) Register, of which John T. Mack is editor, gives prominence in its editorial columns to a test which demonstrated strikingly the superiority of newspaper over billboard advertising in the case of state fairs. The Register says:

"Secretary Sanders of the state board of agriculture made a practical test of the superiority of newspaper advertising over billboard posting in his publicity campaign for the last state fair. He relied almost entirely upon the newspapers of the state to advertise the fair. He used newspaper space to the exclusion of the street billing. In a letter to the Register the secretary says: 'The state fair of 1909 surpassed all Ohio fairs not only in exhibits, but paid admissions. The newspapers carried our message into the home, where it was read to the family circle grouped around the hearthstone. Such advertising as that always rings the bell and increases business, and the Ohio state board of agriculture desires to especially thank the press of Ohio for the splendid service rendered.' The state board used a larger number of newspapers this year than ever before to advertise the fair and paid out for such advertising twice the amount paid in former years. The result more than justified the increased outlay."

English Highway Policy.

Two points in the recently proposed British bill to provide for the economic development of the United Kingdom and the improvement of the roads therein are worthy of notice in the United States. The program of the bill provides for special motor roads to be exclusively or chiefly for the use of motor cars, the road board having authority to improve existing roads or to construct new roads for that purpose. The board may acquire land for this purpose by right of eminent domain and may also acquire land adjacent thereto for a width of 220 yards distant from the middle of the road, which land they may sell, lease or control, the increment therefrom being used for the maintenance or construction of this class of highways.

H. Stanley Coffin has shipped to Kennewick for winter feeding his herd of Holstein cattle.

CANAL LIBEL CASES.

United States Judge at Indianapolis Throws Them Out of Court.

Judge A. B. Anderson of the United States court on Oct. 12 at Indianapolis dismissed the proceedings against Delavan Smith and Charles R. Williams, proprietors of the Indianapolis News, who were resisting removal to the District of Columbia for trial under a grand jury indictment charging them with having committed criminal libel in publishing articles alleging that there was a corrupt profit of $28,000,000 in the sale of the Panama canal to the United States.

"That man has read the history of our institutions to little purpose," said Judge Anderson in concluding his decision, "who does not view with apprehension the success of such a proceeding as this to the end that citizens could be dragged from their homes to the District of Columbia, the seat of government, for trial under the circumstances of this case. The defendants are discharged."

To aid them in their canvass for the suffrage, the women constituting the Washington State Equal Suffrage association have authorized the publication of a monthly periodical which will be known as "Votes for Women." The editor is Mrs. M. T. B. Hanna of Edmunds, who is actively engaged in newspaper work. She will be assisted by Adella M. Parker, Mary G. O'Meara and Rose Glass. The first issue asks the attention of the public to the general question of woman's political enfranchisement and to the special consideration of the amendment granting suffrage to women, which is to be voted on in this state in November, 1910. While intended largely for local propaganda, the scope of "Votes for Women" is to be made national, in time.

GREAT CANAL SEEMS SURE

Klickitat Officials Here

Chief Engineer Rice, Vice President Kelso and Financiers Will Visit Horse Heaven.

Leading officials of the Klickitat Irrigation & Power Co., which plans the irrigation of Horse Heaven by diversion of the waters of the Klickitat river and construction of an immense canal, were North Yakima visitors Thursday and will be in Prosser today to make a trip over the Horse Heaven lands. That there is a certainty that the canal will be built, and that construction work will be started in the near future, was the statement of one of the officials.

About 100,000 acres of land are included in the holdings of those signed for water rights, and the company is anxious to secure the signatures of approximately that much more. This will be sufficient to guarantee the financial backing needed, amounting to millions of dollars.

In the party that visited North Yakima were Chief Engineer Rice and several Seattle financiers. They went to Prosser in an automobile, which will be used for their trip over the Horse Heaven lands, and E. E. Kelso, vice president of the company, left last evening to join them in Benton county.

As the Klickitat irrigation project is the largest ever undertaken in the northwest, for it is proposed to irrigate over 500,000 acres of high land that is many miles away from the source of the water supply, the financing of the project has been difficult. However, the Seattle men who have been directing the work have progressed so far that the success now seems certain.

The girls of the northwest are world beaters, like everything else produced in this part of the country. Miss Lizzie Arnold, of Bellingham, sixteen years old, recently threw a regulation base ball 209 feet, 5 1-8 inches, thereby establishing a new record and winning the championship of the world which was formerly held by Miss Marjorie Bell, of Chicago, who heaved the sphere 204 feet, 2 inches. Miss Arnold made her throw in a contest arranged by the Post-Intelligencer, of Seattle, in which thirty-three girls and young women participated for honors. At the same time, thirteen-year-old Mayme McDonald, of Seattle, won the state base running contest and the Dugdale medal, covering the distance in 18 1-2 seconds.

Frank R. Clymer, night clerk at the Hotel Yakima has gone to White Bluffs to look after property interests there.

SEEK 1,000 SIGNERS NOW

FOR ANTI-SALOON ELECTION CALL

Number of Petitions Has Been Increased and Interest is Being Aroused.

Signatures of at least 1000 voters to the call for a special anti-saloon election are desired by the committee of the North Yakima Civic Federation, and present indications are that the desire will be fulfilled before the lists are filed with City Clerk Brooker.

With a view of accomplishing this result, the number of petitions being circulated was increased on Thursday, and there are now about twenty papers in circulation. Each of these has a considerable list of signers. Not only are voters of the city taking an interest but leading ranchers are visiting the municipal voters and urging them to put the anti-saloon question to a vote.

Few of those circulating the petitions expect that all of the signers will vote against the saloons. In fact, there are names of men on the list who are known to advocate the continuance of the saloons in the city. One of the committee reports that he has asked 87 men to sign the paper and that 83 have affixed their names. Others have made nearly as good records.

TACOMA ADOPTS THE COMMISSION PLAN.

New Charter Adopted By a Majority of 5 to 1 in Election of 18th.

By five to one Tacoma voters adopted the new charter at the election just held, which means the commission form of government for that city.

When the new commission is elected the administrative and legislative duties of the city government will be centralized in the hands of six men; a mayor, city controller and four councilmen. Ward boundaries have been eliminated and instead of 16 councilmen the city will have but four, who will also be heads of departments.

The charter creates five departments of government:
First—Department of public affairs, health and sanitation.
Second—Department of public safety.
Third—Department of public works, streets, improvements and property.
Fourth—Department of light and water.

The charter makes the mayor commissioner of the first department. The question of who shall be commissioners of each of the other departments will be settled by a majority vote when the council of five meets. The controller will not participate in any legislative affairs. Each of the four councilmen will be elected commissioner of a department.

The charter intends that the five shall have enough work to take up all their time, so good salaries are to be paid. The mayor, $4000 a year. Each of the four councilmen, $3600 a year. The salary of the controller is fixed at $2400 a year. Salaries of appointive officers are to be prescribed by the council.

The city council must meet in legislative session at least once a week, may meet oftener in accordance with a resolution or an ordinance.

The members of the council also have administrative duties as shown in the five departments of government. Daily the council will meet in administrative sessions, but at such sessions it cannot legislate. The possibility of getting things mixed was foreseen by the men who drew the charter, for they have provided that legislative and administrative sessions shall be separate and distinct. All meetings of the council, whether legislative or administrative session, shall be public.

The head of each department recommends persons for appointive positions and a majority of the council is required for confirmation. To fix a salary four of the five votes of the council must be in the affirmative.

The election provisions are different from those to which Tacoma has been accustomed. An election will be held on the first Tuesday of April, 1910, and every second year thereafter, though official terms are for four years. Three of the six elective officers will be chosen every two years. This will keep in the council always some men with experience in office.

The purchase of the Alaska Central railway by the J. P. Morgan interests, at the receivership sale recently, insures the completion of what will probably become the trunk railroad of the northern territory. About sixty miles have been built out of Seward and the ultimate terminal is Fairbanks in the Tanana district. This road will help to hasten the development of the interior of Alaska. As the right of way runs through rich coal lands, its completion is of great importance to the whole Pacific Coast. The Morgans bought in six millions worth of property for $600,000. They held most of the paper on the road.

INDIANS MEET AT FT. SIMCOE

TO DISCUSS WAPATO PROJECT

No Definite Action Is Taken on the Suggestion That Delegation of Chiefs go to Washington.

Headmen of the Indians of the Yakima reservation were in session at Fort Simcoe Monday afternoon to discuss matters connected with the proposed Wapato irrigation undertaking. On a number of matters the Indians are not quite clear and they assembled at Wapato to get from Indian Agent Young such explanations
as they needed. Mr. Young representing, in his official capacity, the Indian bureau and through it the federal government. Messrs. H. M. Gilbert and L. V. McWhorter were also present at the meeting and explained some matters which arose during the discussions.

Want Appeal to Washington.
Some of the chiefs suggested during the discussion that a delegation be sent to Washington to ask that the matter of signing up the Indian lands
for water be attended to between the government, acting in behalf of the Indians and the reclamation service.
The contention in this respect is that heretofore Indians have never been asked to sign up individually for any treaty between the tribes and the government but that the headmen have signed for the entire tribe. The Indians want such a plan followed now
and as all treaties must be made at Washington the idea of sending a delegation to the national capital for the purpose was suggested. No definite action was taken on the suggestion. Indians say that it will be impossible to get the required signatures to the Wapato plan from the Indians and that if successful at all it will be through some agreement made by a few binding all.

Mrs. Asa Parshall and Mrs. Geo.
Siegel returned Monday from Puyall-
up where they accompanied the remains of their father, the late Mr.

DEVELOPMENT CO. ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Is Cultivating Big Tract in Parker
Heights—Part Is Already Sold.

The Yakima Orchard Development
company held its first annual stockholders meeting on the fourth inst.,
and elected the following Board of Trustees: Walter Arnold, H. H. Gulstine, C. N. Hunt, A. C. Schmidt, and J. A. White.

Following the general routine of business transactions the stockholders voted to increase the capital stock of the company to $200,000, creating a treasury fund of $50,000 added to the original $150,000 capitalization.

A considerable portion of this $50-000 increase has been purchased at par value by a prominent retired Minnesota banker.

The trustee meeting following that of the stockholders meeting elected
the following officers for the ensuing year: Walter Arnold, president and general manager; John A. White, vice president and supt. of lands; H. H.
Gulstine, secretary and treasurer;
Aaron A. Schmidt, assistant secretary and treasurer; W. F. F. Selleck, supt.
of sales department.

This company has now under development on Parker Heights, Yakima valley, approximately 900 acres of land, 300 of which is now being planted to orchard. The remaining 600 acres will be planted to trees
early in the spring.

Upwards of 300 acres of this land
has already been sold in 5 and 10
acre tracts at $600 an acre.

The company was organized last March and considering the short time, it has shown remarkable financial strength, together with great energy and perseverance which stands
as a guarantee to the patrons of the company that the best possibilities in orchard growing will be attained.

ANOTHER NEW TRAIN NOW A CERTAINTY

Northern Pacific Finds Itself Compelled to Provide for Greater Passenger Accommodation.

From official sources, but not officially, word has reached North Yakima that the Northern Pacific railroad will inaugurate a new train
on Oct. 24 the service being from Seattle to Duluth. The train will be known as No. 7 and No. 8 and will replace Nos. 19 and 20 which are now merely local trains running between Spokane and Seattle and known here
as the Pasco train. The new train
will be a first class transcontinental,
with a smaller equipment than that of the North Coast limited yet designed to accommodate to the highest degree the increased eastern travel
of the railroad. The train will leave Seattle at midnight, east bound,
which will bring it into North Yakima
about 7 o'clock in the morning.

Travel Is Increasing.
Establishment of this train will be a great surprise to people in this section, coming as it does at the close of a year of unprecedented travel and at the beginning of winter. It means that there is a steady and constant
increase in the transcontinental travel of the railroad. The lay mind would naturally expect that with the close of the summer travel and of the A-Y-P. exposition the road would be able to dispense with a train rather than be compelled to inaugurate a new one. The greater accommodation, however, is an essential and the company is preparing to provide for it.

With the inauguration of the new service there will be considerable
change in the time table to meet winter conditions of travel.

PREPARE TO CELEBRATE

QUARTER CENTURY ANNIVERSARY

Commercial Club Names Committee of Pioneers to Take Up Question of Observance.

The governing board of the Commercial club met last night and President Miller appointed A. B. Weed, Phil Ditter and Thomas Redfield a committee to take charge of the observance of the approaching quarter century anniversary of the founding of the city. All three men are pioneers, were on the ground when the first stakes were driven, and have been here ever since. The committee will call a meeting of the pioneers, of whom there are about 200 now in the city, and at this meeting plans for the celebration will be made.

There is some difference of opinion
as to the exact date to be observed.
The last Thursday in November, 1884,
the first stakes of the new town were driven. The town, however, would have died, or would never have been much more than a stake, had not the Northern Pacific announced the site of its depot, January 15, 1885. This latter date, some (among them Mr.
Ditter) are inclined to think is the real first day in the history of North Yakima. This would postpone the anniversary observance to January of 1910. It is one of the things the pioneers will decide.

The board appointed Eugene Zirkel
to collect plate and box exhibits of apples for the Spokane Apple show,
and it gave its endorsement to W. M.
Nelson as a man well fitted to go east
with the carloads of fruit which will be placed on exhibition there.

Three new members were admitted to the club. They are W. J. Dawson,
S. C. Henton and W. E. Zuppann.

SENATOR JONES HAS GONE FOR A YEAR

Promises to Fight for Bond Issue for Irrigation and Will Raise the President's Ante.

Senator and Mrs. Wesley L. Jones started east from North Yakima Friday for Ann Arbor, Mich., where they will visit with their son, who is at the University of Michigan. Mrs.
Jones will remain there until the end of November. Senator Jones will go from Michigan to Denver to join the senate irrigation committee on its tour of inspection of federal reclamation projects. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will spend the winter at Washington and are not expected to return to North Yakima until the middle of next summer.

Senator Jones has pledged himself
to work for a bond issue for the completion of reclamation projects. He thinks the president's suggestion of $10,000,000 for the purpose, is too small and will himself suggest $25-000,000 or more. Mr. Jones thinks also that the state will procure an appropriation of $3,000,000 for the completion of work on the Columbia river
at The Dalles and of $175,000 for the improvement of the river near Kettle Falls.

New Stand on Patronage.
A new stand, it is understood, is to be taken by Senator Jones with regard to federal patronage in this state. There are to be appointed a marshal and a district attorney for the federal courts of the eastern and western districts of Washington.
Hitherto it has been the custom for
the senator of each side of the state to dictate the appointments in his district. Mr. Jones is to take the stand that he is senator of the entire state and to insist that he be consulted with regard to the west side appointments. This is because of his hostility to the Ankeny interests to which he thinks Senator Piles is pledged.

GROWERS WITNESS ORCHARD HEATER TEST

Demonstration of Oil Pots Arouse Much Discussion Among Local Fruit Men.

Two dozen fruit men gathered at the horticultural union Saturday afternoon to witness a test of several makes of orchard heaters, and the demonstration brought out a good deal of valuable discussion on the value of orchard burners in general.
The verdict of those who watched the test was that orchard heaters are a mighty useful article when cold
weather threatens the fruit crop.

The heaters used in the demonstration yesterday were the National and Troutman and that of the Frost Prevention company.

The National heater burned the longest of all while the Troutman
and California heaters gave the greatest flame and smudge. An empty lard
can was also tried out in competition with the manufactured articles and made a good showing. The same amount of crude oil, one half a gallon,
was put into each of the four receptacles at 1:15 p. m., the test being to determine which heater would burn
the longest. The result follows:

The National burned three hours
and 45 minutes; the Troutman three hours, and the Fresno two hours and 40 minutes.

W. R. DeWolf and C. V. Sigmund, of Fresno, California, also exhibited
an electrical thermometer used as frost signals.

J. A. Bent, of Selah, died Sunday evening after an illness which began in July when his son was drowned in the swimming tank at the Y. M. C. A.
He had suffered since with heart trouble. The family are comparatively newcomers to this section from Idaho.

LOWER VALLEY OUT OF LINE

Prosser Man Intimates He Was Misled and Threatens to Disrupt Plans for Eastern Exhibits.

The appointment of W. W. Nelson to have charge of the Yakima valley exhibit at Minneapolis and Chicago next month may disrupt the well laid plans that have been made for those events by the valley committee which has been working on them for several weeks. Dr. Angus, of Prosser, whose name at the meeting of the valley committee Tuesday night was responsible for the appointment of Mr. Nelson, hurled a special delivery letter to W. N. Irish Wednesday, intimating that he had been misled regarding Mr. Nelson, and threatening to oppose any financial support from Prosser if the appointment stands.

Angus Attitude a Surprise.
The attitude of Dr. Angus came as a complete surprise to Mr. Irish. The latter was responsible for the naming of Mr. Nelson from a field of four candidates, two from the lower valley. Dr. Angus attended a meeting here Tuesday night and proposed the name, of Maj. Stamm of Prosser, as the representative from the valley, but he finally gave way in favor of Mr. Nelson on the strength of Mr. Irish arguments. The committee disbanded after the meeting here thinking that the matter had been settled. Dr. Angus, however, evidently heard something which changed his mind regarding Mr. Nelson, and the special delivery letter to Mr. Irish was the outcome.

Will Oppose Prosser Support.
Dr. Angus declared that he would use his influence at the next meeting of the Prosser commercial club to have Prosser's contribution of $100 toward the expense of the eastern exhibits withdrawn. At the meeting here Tuesday, however, Dr. Angus signed contracts sent on from Chicago covering a part of the expenses.

It is not likely that any change will be made in the representative at this late hour. It will be necessary for Mr. Nelson to leave here the end of this week, and there will not be time for another meeting of the committee. If Prosser backs out North Yakima probably will have to meet the additional expense.

Hallowe'en Party.
Thursday evening, October 28, the Young Ladies' sodality of St. Joseph's parish will entertain with a novel Hallowe'en party at the attractive new Marquette hall on North Fourth street. The evening's program will include a number of surprises and promises to be most entertaining. No invitations will be issued, but a cordial welcome is extended all friends of the society.

North Yakima has been chosen as the meeting place of the next convention of the state W. C. T. U. and Mrs. Roberts of this city has been elected corresponding secretary of the state organization.

GRANGER GETS GOOD CITIZEN

AND PROGRESSIVE BREEDER

H. C. Davis Is to Plant Pure Bred Holsteins on a Ranch He Has Purchased Near Railroad Town.

This section of the Yakima valley is to lose and Granger is to acquire a good citizen. H. C. Davis, who recently sold his tract in the Moxee, two and a half miles from North Yakima, has purchased, for $15,000, through the Universal Sales & Exchange company, a tract a mile east of Granger. He will there locate his herd of registered Holstein cattle and in future will advertise himself as a Granger producer. Messrs. Peacock and Davidson, who purchased the Davis ranch, will plant it to fruit. The J. V. Moore ranch at Granger, which Mr. Davis has purchased, he will plant to pure bred Holsteins. He has handled those cattle so long, and has seen so much of the fruit that he is convinced that his crop will be excellent, no matter what kind of a comparison is instituted.

Will Build Large Barn.
While it will be the first of the year before Mr. Davis removes his cattle from the Moxee his work on the Granger property has practically begun. He is to start in at once on the construction of a barn the plans for which are sent to him from the federal department of agriculture at Washington, D. C. At Seattle, at the A.-Y.-P. exposition, in the agricultural department of the federal building, Mr. Davis saw plans of a stock barn which pleased him and it is such a barn that he will build. It is an intensely practical building without gingerbread work of any sort about it, sanitation, comfort and adaptability being the chief considerations.

Mr. Davis is one of the progressive breeders of the Yakima valley. It seemed altogether likely for a time that he would remove from Washington and make his home at Twin Falls, Idaho. The fact that he is to remain in this valley is a great source of pleasure to his brother breeders here, who admire both his progressiveness and his judgment in stock. Through him Granger will procure some excellent advertising in years to come.

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE

MABTON.

Cordelia O'Brien has been granted permission by the village council to move the postoffice building from its present location to some lot outside the city fire limits. A force of men are already at work, and the building will be moved upon the reservation. A brick building will be put up on the corner, until now occupied by the postoffice.

J. A. Humphrey, who is extensively interested in real estate in the village, has applied to the council for a franchise for a street railway in Mabton. The petition asks for a 50-year franchise and has already passed to the third reading.

The Northern Pacific wrecking outfit were here one day this week to put back on the rails a passenger car recently derailed. The car was left by number 5 on Sunday afternoon as it pulled in on a sidetrack to meet number 2. No one was injured and no great amount of damage was done. The passengers were accommodated in the other coaches.

The liquor question is an issue here at present. A vote, under the local option law, will soon be taken. The usual arguments pro and con are heard with a strong probability that the village will go dry.

INSPECTORS ARE BUSY.

Health, Dairy and Hotel Officials Make Round of City.

State Dairy Inspector Bethel and City Health Inspector J. E. Fitch made an examination of the dairies within the city Monday and found them in fair condition. Not a one was scored below 60 per cent, while it takes 49 per cent to be "poor." They will continue the inspection today.

Hotel Inspector Nevins was also in the city Monday completing the work which he began last week.

G. E. Rodman and A. W. Swigart, of the Sunnyside Water Users' association, are at the Tieton for a few days.

SCRAMBLE FOR WATER POWER

Millionaire Lumberman Is Said to Have Gained Control of Water-power and Irrigation Company.

Not Robert E. Strahorn and his company, the North Coast railroad, but Michael Earles, president of the Hanford Irrigation company, has gained control of the stock of that company, according to a Seattle publication which says that he has thereby blocked the attempt of Robert E. Strahorn, president of the North Coast railroad, to purchase the big land and power holdings of the corporation on the Columbia River. The value of these holdings is placed at $3,000,000.

The fact that Mr. Earles is in control of the stock of the corporation is confirmed by other officers and stockholders of the company. Earles has been in Chicago and Milwaukee for several weeks past and it is known that he wired to several large Seattle stockholders in the Hanford company, obtaining options on their holdings.

E. S. McCord, a trustee of the corporation and attorney for Mr. Earles, said:

"It is true that Mr. Earles has obtained control of the stock of the Hanford company."

Mr. McCord would not give out a further statement nor submit to an interview.

Mr. Earles is now on his way back to Seattle and was due to arrive at Hanford Wednesday. Many heavy improvements are planned and a bond issue of $500,000 has been arranged for to permit the enlargement of the company's power plant at Priest Rapids and the construction of additional canals and pumping plants.

It is reported that there was a lively tussle for the control of the stock of the Hanford company when Strahorn went in to secure options, and that some of the owners of stock obtained a fancy premium for their holdings.

FIVE STORY STRUCTURE

LARSON CONTEMPLATES CHANGE

Capitalist May Add More Floors to New Building Being Erected on Second Street.

Plans to erect a five story building on South Second street by adding two more floors to the new building now under way are being considered by A. E. Larson, and if carried through will make the Larson building the largest in North Yakima, the floor space being even larger than that of the Miller building.

When asked Thursday evening as to his plans, Mr. Larson acknowledged that he had such a step in view, but said that nothing definite could be stated for a few days, as he was not certain that he would change his plans at present. Work has been started on the third story of the Larson building, and if the arrangements are not made for enlarging the structure, it will be under roof very soon. Indications, however, are that the builder will erect the two additional stories, according to the statements of intimate friends.

Business has been increasing so rapidly in North Yakima and there has been such a general demand for office room that there is a certainty of tenants for every suite in the new building, admirably located near the center of the business district.

MILLER'S POSITION ON LIQUOR QUESTION

Candidate for Mayoralty Makes Reply to Delegation Which Asks How Radical He Will Be.

City Councilman John J. Miller, who is a candidate for the mayoralty, expressed himself Thursday on the position he would take, as mayor, on the liquor question. This was in response to the request of a delegation of citizens which waited upon him. Apparently the liquor question is becoming the main issue before the people at this time. Just why this is not apparent the fact remains, however, that the local option element is active and is asking questions about the future while other matters of civic interest are being passed by. To the delegation which asked his views Mr. Miller said:

Views of Mr. Miller.
"I know that the saloon question is coming in for its share of discussion nowadays, and I have been told that a good many people are wondering how radical a stand I may take if elected mayor. I am perfectly willing to answer this question. I think that cities, being congested communities, have a right to say what they will and will not have. Therefore they have a perfect right to vote upon the question of whether they will or will not have saloons. If that question is voted upon and the people vote "dry" I will exercise all my power and personal effort to see that the law is strictly enforced. But should they vote "wet" then the people could ask no more than that the saloons be run in accordance with the law and the ordinances of the city."

City and County News

The price of milk in North Yakima has advanced. Dairymen, who have been selling 16 quarts for a dollar, are now asking a dollar for 14 quarts.

A license to wed has been issued by the county auditor to Frank W. Bowen, aged 32, of Toppenish, and Miss Katie L. Horne, aged 20, of Tacoma.

Officers of the Fifty Thousand club will meet at luncheon today at the Yakima hotel to discuss several projects which the organization has in hand.

G. W. Wilkinson took out a building permit Wednesday for the construction of a $1400 cottage on lot 7, block 117, which is on South Sixth street, near Race.

F. M. Tilford of Windon, Minn., has come to North Yakima to become a druggist in the Sloan Drug store. Mr. Tilford is an old friend of Dr. J. T. Scott.

Since his recent activity in enforcing the building ordinance against those who had lathed and plastered the wiring in new buildings, Building Inspector Wise has found a more general observance of the law.

A carload of apples was loaded out from the Horticultural Union warehouse Wednesday in 25 minutes. The union is shipping apples east in carload lots and has sent five in the past two days.

Two carloads of sheep were shipped out from North Yakima Wednesday by Ellis Ragan for the Frye-Bruhn company. Tuesday he shipped four carloads out from Ellensburg. A number of cattle were shipped out from Toppenish Wednesday for the same company.

Contractor McKivor, who is constructing a mile of railroad into a mine at Lake Cle Elum for the Consolidated Fuel company is in North Yakima having inaugurated his work in railroad construction. Mr. McKivor had some little difficulty with Roslyn miners, who, misunderstanding his object, entered protests against the regulations governing the work, as to wages, etc. The matter was adjusted.

The Yakima Poultry association will meet at 2 o'clock Friday, October 22, at the court house and will consider plans for the poultry show which will be held in December. It is the intention of the poultry fanciers of North Yakima and vicinity to give the finest show this fall that eastern Washington has ever seen and there is every reason to believe that they have the birds for the purpose. D. A. Gillette is the secretary of the county association.

Frank E. Cook, painter, who had a bad fall a week ago Sunday, was on the streets Monday for the first time. His head is still bandaged and his hips lame but he is gradually recovering. As Mr. Cook weighs in the vicinity of 200 pounds the marvel is that he fell 16 feet on to a bed of stones and got off as lightly as proved to be the case.

For $47,000 Messrs. Lombard & Horsley have sold to the Yakima Orchard Development company 266 acres in the Parker Heights section. The land is sage brush and will be placed under cultivation. A third of it to be watered by gravity from the Union Gap Irrigation Co's canal and the balance by water lifted by power from the canal.

Frank G. Fox was discharged from custody from the county jail, Monday, on an application which alleges that he had been held, contrary to law on a charge of bootlegging. The contention was that more than 30 days had elapsed and that no evidence had been presented against him. Immediately after his release he was re-arrested on two charges of selling to Indians.

A new church edifice is to be constructed by the Evangelical association of Nob Hill. The building will occupy the site of the present church of the association on the Summit View road and will cost about $4,400. It will have a seating capacity of nearly 400 and the cornerstone will be laid Sunday, November 7.

MANY REGISTERING

City Clerk Brooker Will Open His Books So as to Accommodate Those Who Apply at Night

City Clerk Brooker, in order to accommodate those citizens of North Yakima who are unable to get to his office during working hours to register as voters, has decided to open the registration books at the following times: The evenings of October 23 and 30 and of November 6 and 8, from 6:30 until 9 o'clock p. m. and also during noon hours on those days.

Registration is growing rapidly and is now climbing up towards the 12,000 mark with 20 days to go before the primaries and sometime after that before being closed prior to the city election. Interest in the election is arising. Hitherto there have been but one or two men at work registering voters, the bulk of those already on the books being citizens who registered themselves. Within the past two days or so, however, there has been a change and now a number of men are at work canvassing. It is evident that some of the interests involved have begun to get uneasy.

Licenses to hunt have been issued by the county auditor as follows: Charles J. Post, Toppenish; W. R. Williams, Sunnyside; Jay Lynch, Frank Bryant and Gus Collins, North Yakima.

C. H. Swigart, project engineer of the reclamation service in this state, has returned from Okanogan where a reclamation project is under construction and where a new unit has been devised and which it is expected will be undertaken in a year or so. Mr. Swigart says that the Okanogan is developing rapidly.

WET OR DRY.

In those good old golden rule days
when we were all kids there was very little at stake when we spit on a chip
and tossed it in the air to decide some school-boy question.

The Civic Federation of North Yakima
is going to toss the chip up for the city December 30th, and it will mean a great deal to young Yakima, now about ready to celebrate her 25th birthday.

Wet or dry? Shall many of our business places be forced to close up,
or shall conditions remain as at present?
Will we have to go to Ellensburg or Toppenish for a drink of beer or spend our money with home people?

The Civic Federation says "dry," and elsewhere in these columns will be found a clear enunciation of their views from the able pen of Dr. Lowther.

The Democrat will be frank about this matter. It is the wrong time to take up the local option fight. Business conditions at present are normal and improving steadily. Nowhere in Washington are the people more prosperous
or more in harmony than in North Yakima.

This local option question is a fad
that has swept over the west the past two years. It will be but a matter of time when the pendulum will swing
in the opposite direction and people
will follow the leaders on the opposite side just as they are now "baaing"
after the bell wethers of prohibition.

It would have been the sensible thing for Yakima to wait till the tide
came back, and then if local option proved all that is claimed for it by its advocates, we could take it up as a matter of business.

The past has shown that any matter
that would injure one business man would affect all business men. We believe that will still hold good in this or any other town.

Pendleton and La Grande are two Oregon towns that were both swept
by the wave of local option a year ago.
Already the pendulum has swung the other way in both towns. In La Grande
the saloons have been allowed to open up again and the sheriff has refused to take notice of the matter. In Pendleton
the people who were largely instrumental in getting local option
have announced themselves as seeing their mistake; many business places
being empty and adjoining towns
raining a host of their former country customers.

In both of these towns factions have arisen as a result of the local option

fight, and where there was formerly harmony there is now discord. Five years ago Pendleton was proclaimed
by all who knew it as the best town in eastern Oregon. Now it goes under the name of a "dead town."

It is up to us now—up to all loyal citizens and progressive business men.
Shall we follow in the footsteps of Pendleton and be overcome by this fad, or shall we rather refuse to be led into such a costly experiment? Shall we let business remain in its present
prosperous and harmonious condition,
or shall we have discord and slow
business? Wet or dry?

SPAIN FEARS DEMOCRACY.

It is realized by the men who control
the policies of the Spanish government that a great mistake was made in hurrying Professor Francisco Ferrer
out of the world. It is not exactly clear whether the sentence and execution
were hastened by bloodthirsty officials and bitter clerics for fear that the king or the pope might intervene,
or by the king himself, who now seeks
to dodge responsibility in the matter.

Ferrer's trial was denounced as a tragedy by the French bar association,
and European newspapers which are moderate in tone expressed the hope that Kink Alfonso would interfere to prevent the execution, referring to Ferrer as a "revolutionary idealist."

He was also called a philosophical "anarchist." In another country he might have flourished without causing any anxiety to the government, though it is just such a person who may fire
the brain of a Czolgosz. Ferrer was a man of high intellectual attainments
and general character, who devoted his means to a school for teaching ideas of government and religion that are under the ban in Spain.

The fact is that he was shot not because he was an anarchist, but because he was considered even more dangerous than the anarchists. Alfonso may fear
the bomb-throwers, but the Spanish government is still more afraid of the rapidly growing sentiment in favor of a republic. It was officially announced in Madrid that Ferrer
had been executed because he preached republicanism and endangered
the stability of the reigning dynasty.

The possibility of an imitation of the French commune is the nightmare of Spanish officialdom just at present.
The Barcelona riots showed all the characteristic features of the French revolution, including the sacking of churches and religious houses.

In France both before the commune of 1792 and that of 1871 much of the agitation was due to high-minded theorists
and visionaries who let loose
forces which they could not control.
Ferrer was of this type.

PROMISE TO OBEY LAW.

Three editors of the Japanese newspapers
who recently were indicted by the federal grand jury at Honolulu on a charge of sending objectionable matter
through the mails, sent a joint open letter recently to United States District Attorney Breckens promising to exercise
a strict censorship of their columns in future. The editors pleaded ignorance of the law and said that after studying the statute and reading their publications in the light of the law
they were compelled to acknowledge their error. Because of this

frank avowal and evident intention to obey the law hereafter it is expected that they will be punished by fines and that the imprisonment clause in the statute will not be invoked against them when the cases come up for trial.

It was very different in the case of the editor of the socialist paper in Girard, Kansas, who was recently given a large fine and a long prison sentence
for saying only half as much as the Japanese editors of Honolulu printed.
The Japs have a strong government
to back them, but an American editor
of a party not in power must beware
how he uses the freedom of the press.

AIDING THE PEOPLE.

"Mr. Aldrich is the leader of the senate and certainly one of the ablest
statesmen in financial matters in either house. I believe it to be his earnest desire to aid the people."—President Taft in his speech to Boston business men Tuesday, September 14.

Oh, yes. He is aiding the people, all right. Even as far as Yakima is from the imperial headquarters we can begin to notice the effect of the financial leader's legislation. Hardly an article of necessity but what is 15 or 20 per cent higher and money is much scarcer than this time a year ago. The people who seem satisfied are the big trusts and the railroad magnates.

PAPERS COMPLAINING.

Under the Dingley law the rate on print paper was $6 per ton. A Washington dispatch says that under the new law and as a result of recent treasury regulations the rate on paper
coming from the province of Ontario
will be $5.75 per ton and on print paper
from Quebec something more than $6 per ton. In one case the reduction is merely nominal while in the other an actual increase has been brought about. The dispatch adds that if, as it is likely, the maximum rate be applied
against Ontario the duty on print paper from that province would run up to $8.50, a marked increase over the Dingley rate.

As a result of these disclosures republican papers are making vigorous complaints. Will republicans never learn that it is not possible for the consumers
to obtain relief at the hands of a political party that is financed by the consumer's oppressors?

GOOD BANKING LAW.

The Oklahoma law guaranteeing
bank deposits has been found to work
satisfactorily in the instance of the Columbia Bank & Trust company, which failed for more than $3,000,000, according to A. M. Young, the Oklahoma bank commissioner.

In speaking of the matter recently
Mr. Young is reported to have said that "the Oklahoma banking law is a complete success, even after persistent opposition of a strong element of the other class of bankers. We adjust the affairs of an embarrassed state bank
with perfect ease in a few days and with no public clamor whatever. Everybody is in good humor and conditions are normal. Other state banks are quiet and gaining in deposits."

Too Strenuous.

Joaquin Miller, the poet of the Sierras,
in a talk to the convicts in the California
state prison recently said that Theodore Roosevelt's theory of the strenuous life
was criminal in its effects.

"There is something wrong with the way the people of the country live,"
said the white-haired poet. "They are too strenuous, too active, too vigorous.
Roosevelt, at the head of this great nation, rushed the people into all sorts of crime."

"His strenuous theory of life is criminal. He has infected us with a sort of insane activity. The American is energetic. It is a mania peculiar to us and Roosevelt is responsible for much of it. We are in too great a hurry. We should put off some things until tomorrow."

THE STEADY SUBSCRIBER.

How dear to my heart is the steady subscriber,
Who pays in advance at the end of each year,
Who lays down a dollar and offers it gladly
And casts 'round the office a halo of cheer.
Who never says "stop it, I can not afford it."
Or, "I'm getting more papers now
than I can read."
But always says "send it, the whole family like it—"
In fact, we regard it a household
need.
How welcome is he when he steps in
to the sanctum;
How he makes our hearts throb, how
he makes our eyes dance;
We outwardly thank him, we inwardly
bless him.

Massachusetts Platform

The first seven planks in the platform
adopted last week by the democrats in Massachusetts relate to national concerns. Here they are:

1. An immediate reduction of tariff duties on the necessities of life.
2. A rebuke to the republican party
for its shameless tariff-revision humbug.
3. A comprehensive reciprocal trade treaty with Canada, not confined to noncompetitive products.
4. The income tax and the election of only those candidates for the legislature
pledged to the ratification of the constitutional amendment.
5. Anti-imperialism.
6. The election of United States senators by direct popular vote.

Millions of Trees.

More than one million fruit trees
will be planted in Yakima valley for the next season. Some of these trees will be planted this fall, but the great majority will go in next spring. The estimate is made by J. M. Brown, F. E.

Thompson and N. J. Damon, who are considered the best experts in the valley.
There were upwards of one million trees planted last season, and
these men believe a greater number will go in this year. Three big orders already have been reported, totaling 150,000 trees. Fruit men here look for new trees to come in bearing next year that will yield 1,000 carloads of fruit, and for an equal number of new trees to come in yearly thereafter for ten or fifteen years, until the total yield is almost beyond present computation.

Transcontinental railways penetrating
the northwest are now issuing new literature, drawing attention to the opportunities to be found here in all lines of activity. These booklets and folders are intended for the perusal of persons who made their first acquaintance with the northwest through the medium
of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, and in that way they will serve as a sort of follow-up medium of publicity. It is expected that large numbers of people will emigrate from
the east and middle west next year,
and to satisfy their demands for information
new and up-to-date printed matter has been prepared. The Great Northern has issued special pamphlets
on the dry farming congress at Billings, Montana, and the national apple
show at Spokane. Another booklet deals with Montana and the panhandle.

TREE GROWING WAS HIS TOPIC

Commissioner of Horticulture Gave Interesting Paper Before Tree
Growers.

The paper of F. A. Huntley, horticultural commissioner of Washington, before the Pacific Coast Association of Nurserymen, is published in full by the Northwest Horticulturist, and is an interesting review of the situation of tree growing for the northwest. The commissioner said in part:

The commercial nursery for the propagation and the dissemination of fruit-bearing trees and plants, is an institution which has had its general development almost entirely within the past century. Every horticulturist practice was originally designated as "gardening." The garden includes fruits as well as vegetables, ornamentals and flowers. Those of earlier times who could afford gardens enjoyed every luxury in the plant creation their means would allow. The less fortunate either suffered by limitations or were deprived of such products altogether. Orchards were the outgrowth of commercial ideas, extending the more general use of fruit products. Traffic in fruits caused the enlargement of orchard areas, and along with such progress was developed the commercial nursery. The fruit grower would now, as a rule, be his own nurseryman if he possessed sufficient time, skill, lands and financial means to handle such a multiplicity of affairs.

It became necessary, however, to recognize a division of these labors into separate lines of industry in order to satisfy commercial tendencies. The attention of the orchardist had to be concentrated within the operations of planting his trees, cultivating, pruning, spraying, and, finally, harvesting and marketing his crops. How well he has been able to accomplish all this is measured by the quality of his products and the productiveness of his trees.

The nursery business in this country has developed into a great industry, employing thousands of people and millions of dollars of capital. It has advanced along upright business lines. Honorable organization, such as is represented by the Pacific Coast Association of Nurserymen, has largely mitigated the evils of former irresponsible "tree peddlers" whose unrestricted operations at one time disgraced the profession of the grower in the mind of the public.

The center of horticultural activity was at one time in the eastern states. Western New York, in the vicinity of Rochester, was early recognized as the greatest nursery center in America. For a time it seemed that the Mississippi valley, in and adjoining the states of Missouri, would claim the distinction of horticultural supremacy. Now we have the best of reasons to believe that the Pacific northwest will, in time, out-rank any other section of the earth in the extent of its horticultural resources, and we have abundant proofs that our products are far superior in quality.

During the past four years the department which I represent has worked strenuously to collect accurate figures to set forth these resources in the state of Washington. Thousands of letters have been solicited from individuals having knowledge of facts in this relation. Horticultural inspectors have canvassed their respective districts; transportation companies have willingly cooperated in furnishing information, and nurserymen have given their support most readily and in a business-like manner.

Referring to the Sixth Biennial Report of the Commissioner of Horticulture for the State of Washington, it is shown that there were produced within the borders of this state in the year 1908, 5,185,289 packages of fruit for the general traffic, having a wholesale market valuation of $6,208,934. In addition to this, there were 3,869,239 cans of fruit put up by the canneries, with a valuation of $38,000. The value of the apple crop alone was $3,379,965 for 2,414,261 boxes.

The nursery traffic, to and within the state, comprised 2,067,853 trees, not including ornamentals, grapes nor small fruit plants. Eight-five per cent of this stock was raised in the nurseries of the Pacific Northwest and forty-two per cent within the state of Washington. It may be stated conservatively that the value of home grown nursery stock planted in this state during the year 1908 had a valuation to exceed $150,000. Taking a summary valuation of the horticultural products of this state for the year 1908, we have a total of $6,396,934.

This wonderful northwest is yet in its infancy in the development of its horticultural resources. Far more vast in extent are the areas less easy of access for irrigation than those already reclaimed, and, too, possessing most superior advantages in every particular, excepting that of cost of improvement. We already have and will maintain the greatest diversity of choicest products of any country under the sun.

City Building Inspector Wise, who was at Sunnyside Sunday says that he found a movement on foot there for a $15,000 hotel, which will be altogether a Sunnyside enterprise. At Wapato, he says, a very fine school building is under construction.

DISCUSS NEEDS OF NORTHWEST

Region's Congressional Delegation Will Seek Appropriations for Extensive Work.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 20.—Oregon's congressional delegation is pledged to work for the opening of the Columbia river at the next session. At a conference held during the past week between Senators Bourne and Chamberlain and prominent Portland business men, needs of the northwest were discussed fully. Both Senators agreed that an open river to the sea of such depth as to accommodate the largest vessels is the first great object to be accomplished.

At the conference the value of such improvement to the whole northwest was pointed out. Deepening of the channel from Portland to the sea and the Cello canal were included in the projects fathered by the meeting. It was estimated that $15,000,000 will be required to complete the former improvement and $3,700,000 for the completion of the Cello canal.

Oregon apple growers are assembling exhibits for the National Apple Show at Spokane, November 15-20. The state will participate to a greater extent than ever before and some magnificent displays will be sent. Hood River, the Rogue River valley and the Willamette valley apply growing districts will make strong bids for many of the prizes. Carload lots will be sent by some of the exhibitors and in all departments Oregon's showing will be a strong one. Growers are scanning the prize lists with interest and are making all arrangements to get their fruit entered before the entries close on November 13.

James J. Hill's announcement during the week that he will not extend the Oregon Trunk beyond the state line into California, as predicted recently, has caused some gratification here, for it will mean that the ports of the northwest will handle the traffic from the interior of the state instead of San Francisco, as was feared. Mr. Hill declared he would not go below the southern boundary of the state with the new road, for he said he found plenty of territory in the Pacific northwest needing development and which he would supply with lines to his present transcontinental system.

According to A. D. Charlton, assistant passenger agent for the Northern Pacific railway, travel to the Pacific northwest this winter from the east will be heavier than during any similar period. Mr. Charlton has just returned from the east, and he says there is every indication that the winter travel will break all records. He says people in the east are showing much interest in Washington and Oregon and that the travel this way will be unprecedented during the next few months.

BOSTON ON YAKIMA VALLEY.

Transcript Tells Its Readers of Orchards Here.

So much interest was manifested in the international apple show at Spokane, last fall, that arrangements are in progress for holding even a larger one beginning the 15th of next month. Among the food products that have risen in price apples occupy a conspicuous place. Fewer apples it is said are raised in this country than there were fifteen years ago, though more are exported. In 1902 we exported 2,800,000 barrels, while the figures for 1907 reached 7,800,000. The facts seem to be that in the older states the industry is decadent, and in the great apple sections of the northwest it has not become fully developed, though stories of phenomenal production on small areas, come from there. The value of the crop in those portions of Oregon, Washington and Idaho known as the "Inland Empire," last year was fourteen million dollars. A rancher in the Yakima valley, Wash., has cleared nearly fifty thousand dollars on thirty-two acres of fruit land in four years. Another has refused four thousand dollars an acre for his apple orchard. Boston is also to have an apple show this fall, on a smaller scale than the northwestern perhaps; but we trust it will exhibit the potential benefits from a revival in New England of this industry.—Boston Transcript.

TIETON LATERALS.

Interior Department Rejects All Bids
and Will Do The Work.

Sub laterals under the first unit of the Tieton will be constructed by the federal government itself instead of by contract as was at first proposed. The secretary of the interior has declined to accept the bids of contractors claiming that the price asked is altogether too high. The lowest bid for the work, which comprises some 60 miles of laterals, was $23,750 while the government engineers figured that a fair price would be $11,344. It was partly in order to save the time needed if bids were re-advertised for that the department determined to do the work itself. Operations have already been set in motion.

BROOKER'S NEW OFFICE.

The Council Accepts Offer of Farmers'
Room for City Clerk.

City Clerk Brooker will move from the second floor of the court house to the farmers' room in the basement. The council accepted the offer of the county commissioners made to it last night, the farmers' room to be given to the city at the same rent as the present office on the second floor. It was necessary for the city to vacate the latter office because of the fact that it is needed by Judge Preble.

The afternoon was spent in an automobile tour of the Yuma valley and in the evening a banquet was given Ballinger. Ballinger left for the east tonight.

PLAN ANOTHER BIG PROJECT

North Yakima Men Are Quietly at Work Reclaiming Property Near Fort Simcoe

Another irrigation project, for the reclamation of 8000 acres of well located land, has been launched by North Yakima men and is now well underway. Few have any knowledge regarding the proposed irrigation system, as the men backing the project have not been giving details to the general public.

Lands held by A. A. Nicol, the civil engineer; by M. R. Galloway, and by the Yakima Land Co. are to be watered by the irrigation ditch, and the work has already been started on the system. The property is located near Fort Simcoe, on high bench land, and well adapted to fruit growing when watered. The section is now used to some extent for dry farming and there are numerous trees in the vicinity, grown without any irrigation.

According to information that has been made public regarding the project, the water will be taken from the upper part of the Klickitat river, and will be taken over the hills through a gap or pass that has been found. The water from the river naturally flows south to the Columbia, but the engineers have found a way of diverting the flow so that it will be to the north instead. Transportation facilities will probably be given that section before the canal is completed, as it will take two years to build the canal, and there is now a proposal to build a railroad line west from Tonpenish to Fort Simcoe.

DES MOINES PLAN FOR NORTH YAKIMA

Fifty Thousand Club Believes Commission Government Would Increase Population.

Establish the commission form of government in North Yakima, thereby lessening expenses and inducing outlying districts to come in. This sentiment was informally endorsed at the meeting of the officers of the Fifty Thousand club at the Yakima hotel Thursday. The commission form of government, recently adopted by the people of Tacoma, has met with much favor in North Yakima, and it is believed if it is established here that city expenses will be cut enough to make it an inducement for people on the outskirts to become a part of the city.

Good Roads Needed. Good roads leading into the city also were discussed at some length, the belief being that North Yakima must do some quick work along this line if she is to gain a hold on the business of the surrounding country. The belief was expressed that the city is the loser by hundreds of thousands a year because of poor roads, which keep the farmers from coming here to trade.

It was voted to start a campaign for membership in the Fifty Thousand club so that the organization can be put on a sound working basis during the winter. A smoker will be held within the next two weeks, when several matters of public interest will be discussed.

LIBRARY FOR HIGH SCHOOL. Literary Societies Take a Hand to Their Benefit.

Upon the refusal of the school board to make any appropriation this year for the purchase of current magazines for the high school library, the three literary societies of the school decided to take a hand in the matter. A meeting was held yesterday in the assembly room in which the officers of these societies discussed the need for magazines and decided to issue library tickets at ten cents apiece, the proceeds to go to a magazine fund. Every member of the school is expected to become a subscriber to this limited extent.

City Clerk Brooker is having prepared a number of sample ballots for the primary election next month. These are required by law.

JAP CAPTAIN SEES YAKIMA

COMMANDER OF OCEAN LINER

Entertain by Local Japanese and Praises Central Washington and Valley.

Captain K. Kawahara, commander of the Japanese liner Shinano Maru, was a North Yakima visitor on Thursday, while touring through Washington, and before he left the city was entertained by a number of the leading Japanese of the city. He praised central Washington, and the Yakima valley and North Yakima in particular, and it is anticipated that on his next visit to America, he will again be a guest of North Yakima friends.

The sea captain arrived in North Yakima Thursday morning and was shown much of the city and some of the surrounding country. He was entertained at dinner at 115 South First street, among those meeting him being K. Sakai, president of the Yakima Japanese society, N. Masonaga and Henry K. Kamai, the Japanese press representative in North Yakima. He left on the North Coast Liner for Seattle, where he will again board his steamer for the trip to the Orient. Captain Kawahara was accompanied by Mr. Hegashiya of the Oriental Trading company of Spokane.

WILL FILE FOR RICH LAND ENTRY

Squatter Will Remain in Line at Walla Walla for Homestead in Lower Valley.

WALLA WALLA, Oct. 20.—Beginning a vigil of 10 days, A. Nevlow, of Kennewick, Wash., at 1:30 this morning posted himself beside the land office door to secure first place for the filing of land near Richland, Benton county, which opens November 4. Mr. Nevlow is but one of four locators who squatted on the choice quarter sections when the land was opened for entry 10 days ago, but he conceived the idea of beating the others out in filing, and yesterday secretly arranged to leave his wife there and come with two companions to take his post. His companions are Philip Biers and J. M. McCormick, and they will divide the day with him in three eight-hour shifts. When seen today Mr. Nevlow was wearing an overcoat and sitting on a camp stool at the door. Tomorrow he will have a cot brought up and will sleep at night.

The land desired is two and one-half miles from Richland and is under the ditch of the Lower Yakima Irrigation company, which is to water 15,000 acres. Mr. Nevlow expects other squatters to arrive as soon as they have heard of his coming. He stated today that there are 14 squatters on the newly-opened tract of 1600 acres, two of whom are contending for one 40-acre tract. Mr. Nevlow says the 160 acres he desires will be worth $15,000.

APPLE CROP DISAPPOINTING. Yields in Kansas and Missouri About Fifty Per Cent of Normal.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 21.—Apple buyers are scouring the Missouri and Kansas orchards now trying to get enough of the fruit to fill orders, but their reports are discouraging. They say that the big Kansas orchards are producing less than half an ordinary crop and that Missouri's yield, outside the Ozark district, will hardly be 45 per cent.

The Ozark crop, according to the estimate of Frisco railroad officials, will be about 2500 carloads. About 30,000 barrels will be in storage at Springfield and probably 100,000 barrels will be stored in Kansas City. Commission men, anticipating a certain rise, are storing all the fruit they can get. Selected Jonathans are worth $3.50 and $4 a barrel; choice stock $2.50 a barrel and common eating or cooking stock $2 a barrel.

VALUABLE HORSE DEAD

J. W. Clise Loses Morgan Stallion Which Was Known by Many Yakima People.

Yakima county people, who were at the exposition at Seattle during the stock fair there, especially those interested in the American driving horse will hear with deep regret that J. W. Clise of Willowmoor farm has lost his prize Morgan stallion Troubador. The animal died of pneumonia contracted at the fair grounds. The horse won in both the American carriage horse and saddle classes.

Pronounced by expert judges the best individual type of the famous Morgan blood in the United States, Troubador was one of the few living horses that preserved in its purity the blood of the celebrated strain that has almost disappeared in the last few years. He traced in unbroken line his descent from the great Godolphin Arabian, through the Messenger-Mambrino stock, whence came the parentage of the famous Vermont Black Hawk family.

The United States department of agriculture has recently undertaken the establishment of a typical "American carriage horse" and has provided competition for such a class at the great livestock shows. In the two opportunities Troubador had to face this classification he won hands down.

SALVATION LEADER COMING.

Commissioner Estill Will Address a Public Meeting in This City.

North Yakima is to be visited by Commissioner Thomas Estill, commander of the department of the west of the Salvation Army. He will be here November 1 at which time a public meeting will be held in order that citizens of North Yakima may hear him. In addition to being an executive officer of great force, Commissioner Estill is considerable of an orator. Capt. Jenkins, of the Salvation Army here, who has been in Seattle since Saturday in attendance at the sessions of the Interstate Officers congress, returned last night. It was because of his efforts the Commissioner Estill consented to make a call at this city. Details of the visit will be given out later.

Amazed by Changes.

S. C. Henton for many years a resident of North Yakima, returned from Alaska on Monday. Mr. Henton left here about eight years ago for the frozen north at the time of the gold excitement and has not been out in that time. He is amazed at the wonderful changes that have been wrought by nature and by man in the little city he left behind and says he sees but few of the old land marks and many strange faces. Mr. Henton has been U. S. Commissioner at Teller for several years and has come out to spend the winter at least among relatives and friends.

HENNY REPORTS NO CHANGE ON TIETON

Will Start This Morning for Bumping Lake and the Tieton Having Inspected Sunnyside.

D. C. Henny, consulting engineer of the reclamation work of the federal government in this section of the United States, and who is a guest at the Hotel Yakima, says there is no prospect, so far as he knows at this time, of any change in the Tieton plans. The work on Unit 1, he says, will progress as has been planned. On the Sunnyside project the work now under way will be pushed and a third dredge will soon be placed in operation to add to the aggregate of the two now in service.

Mr. Henny came through to North Yakima Wednesday from the Sunnyside project where he has been on a tour of inspection and will leave this morning for Bumping lake where he will inspect the work done there on the storage dam and reservoir site. He will cover in his inspection, also, the Tieton work so that the likelihood is that he will be in this section for the next week. To the Herald Mr. Henny said that there was no announcement to make at this time which would be of any public interest.

Labor Situation Bad.

The federal government reclamation service, according to Mr. Henny, is finding the labor situation a severe one at this time and must make the most of the crews it has in service. To this end every effort will be made to hold together until the last possible moment the men now at work at Bumping lake and in the Tieton. It will be possible, Mr. Henny hopes, to carry on the Tieton work until well towards December 1. This however is altogether a matter which the climatic conditions will govern.

The trip of the consulting engineer is at this time a trip of inspection to finish up the fall work and start out the winter undertakings. Mr. Henny is accompanied by E. B. Durfee, of Marion, Ohio.

PLAINTIFF TO BLAME

Judge Hunt Decides for Zillah Union in Spud Case.

Judge Hunt decided for the defendants in a case brought Thursday by Mr. Van Bergen against the Zillah Fruit Growers association. The plaintiff stored six tons of potatoes with the association a year ago. Contrary to the wishes of the union, Van Bergen refused to have the spuds in the basement of the warehouse where they were safe from frost. As a result they were frozen, and he sued the association for the loss.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Steward have moved into their new bungalow, South Eighth and Spruce streets, recently constructed by Contractor J. W. Stusey.

ADMITS HIS ERROR

Silas Wilson Replies to Letter of Exceptions by Secretary H. P. James.

Silas Wilson, who recently published an article in a Chicago financial paper which referred to Yakima apples as being inferior in quality, and to which article H. P. James took vigorous exception, has come back with a reply to Secretary James, somewhat modifying his original statements.

Mr. Wilson in his article in the Chicago paper, compared the apples of various parts of the country and decided that those grown in the Nampa, Idaho, district are the best. He characterized the Yakima fruit as "especially large and of fine color, but that they get their large size at the expense of quality." He said the same trouble is encountered in all low elevations.

Mr. Wilson admits that he received his impressions of Yakima apples at the St. Louis World's fair in 1903 when Yakima people were just beginning to produce high class apples. His articles do not infer that he has seen any fruit from this section since that time.

Professor Georgeson, in Charge of Investigations, Tells of Success of Work in Far North Country.

Professor C. C. Georgeson, in charge of agricultural and horticultural investigations for the United States in Alaska, was in North Yakima for a few hours Monday, visiting friends. Professor Georgeson came up from Prosser where he owns a ranch and where he is now spending a few weeks vacation. He expects to return to Alaska in a week or 10 days. Speaking of his work in that territory, Professor Georgeson said:

"I have been in Alaska for the department of agriculture 11 years, and there is advancement made in our work every year. We have succeeded in developing a very good specimen of strawberry along the coast. In many respects it is the equal of the fruit grown here, but is not so productive. We are also having success with the raspberry. In fact, we are growing seedlings of all the hardy fruits common to this section."

Thinks Taft Is Right.

Professor Georgeson believes that President Taft is right in opposing local government for Alaska.

"I am not a politician in any sense," said Professor Georgeson, "but my judgement is that the president is right."

Regarding markets for Washington fruit, Professor Georgeson said, that they are good. Apples sell for 10 cents a pound on the coast and for a higher price further inland. He makes his headquarters at Sitka and has several assistants in the work.

Frank H. Russell and wife have been made defendants in a suit begun by the Yakima Adjustment company in which $362 and attorney fees are claimed and alleged to be due on a promissory note.

WILL USE HEATERS

More Than 5000 Orders Have Been Placed Within Ten Days by Morgan & McKaig.

Fruit growers around North Yakima are taking no chances on late frosts next spring, for within the last ten days orders have been placed for more than 5000 orchard heaters. Most of them have been placed with Morgan & McKaig, and this firm expects to sell between two and three carloads of the heaters in the next few weeks.

"Keen interest is shown by the growers in heaters," said F. A. Morgan, Monday. "They are alive to the situation. The heaters have been tried out and their merits are known. We are taking orders for delivery after January 1 up until early spring when they will be needed. Most of the growers are figuring on 50 pots to the acre."

Regarding the oil for use in the pots, Mr. Morgan said that this has not been fully worked out yet, but it probably will be handled through the Rex Spray company.

A license to marry was issued Thursday by the county auditor to Harry G. Petro, aged 24 years and Miss Bertha E. Fuller, aged 16 years, both of North Yakima.

Burns Soft Coal

Without Smoke or Soot. A strong statement to make for any stove, but one that is easily proven with The 20th CENTURY LAUREL HEATER—the pioneer soft coal burning stove.

The Great Objection against the burning of soft coal has been the black sooty smoke. This heater does not produce black sooty smoke and as soft coal gives as much heat as hard coal, it is the equal of a base burner in heat comfort and cleanliness.

Think of What You Save on coal bills by using soft coal, lignite or slack.

Come in and Let Us Explain how the coal is consumed without giving off smoke. Let us show you the patented device adding new fuel to the fire, that prevents soot or dirt from escaping into the room; how the mica in the door is kept clean and bright.

The Illustration Gives You some impression of the beauty of this wonderful heater. Wearing or heating qualities and strength have not been omitted at the expense of beauty in this heater.

NORTHWEST NURSERY READY FOR BUSINESS

Local Men Incorporate New Company to Operate in Valley—Expert in Charge of Plant.

The Northwest Nursery company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000 to do business in this city and vicinity. The officers of the new company are John H. Royer, president; C. E. Hummer, vice president and superintendent; and W. W. Ewing, secretary. The general offices will be located with Calhoun, Denny & Ewing, at 18 East Yakima avenue.

Mr. Royer, the president of the new company, was until recently manager of the Yakima Valley nursery. C. E. Hummer, the superintendent comes from a family of nurserymen and he himself has had 20 years' experience. The trees which the new company will put on the market were raised this year under the direction of Mr. Hummer in a favored spot between Mabton and Sunnyside. The company has also purchased a large quantity of seedling stocks for grafting and seedling purposes the coming year.

DILLS IS NURSERYMAN.

Chosen President of Yakima & Columbia River Nursery Company.

Officers of the recently incorporated Yakima & Columbia River Nursery company were elected Saturday, I. H. Dills being chosen as president of the company. H. E. Brown is vice president and sales manager and E. F. Perry was chosen as secretary and treasurer. The company which is incorporated with capital stock of $12,000 has nurseries at Parker Heights, Nob Hill and Selah. Offices have been established at 2 North Second street. Manager Brown announces that the company will plant large nurseries next season, handling upwards of 500,000 trees and will be in a position to handle business in all the northwestern states, including Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana.

DENOUNCE EACH OTHER.

Hearst, Gaynor and Bannard, Mayoralty Candidates Campaign.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—W. R. Hearst, independent nominee for mayor, and Otto T. Bannard, republican nominee, both of whom are supporting the fusion ticket although rivals for mayoralty, dashed through Harlem tonight and delivered a series of rapid fire speeches in support of their candidacy. Hearst made four addresses and Bannard three. Bannard confined himself to business of the city while Hearst continued his denunciation of Gaynor, democratic candidate. Gaynor spoke today with "Personal Liberty," Hearst and police misrule as principal topics.

Spent Fortune for Votes.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Lady Francis Cook, who arrived here today, said if need be she is ready to spend her fortune of $1,000,000 to win votes for women. She says she is going directly to President Taft and call his attention to the 14th amendment which says only idiots, insane and convicts may not vote. She is going to ask if that bars women. She says King Edward and his mother before him sympathized with suffragists.

THREE SALOON FIGHTS.

Men Arrested Are Given Freedom on Bail Which They Forfeit.

More exercise was given the police of North Yakima Saturday night by the saloon frequenters than has been the case for many months. There were three fights, each one involving a number of fighters and as a consequence several arrests followed. The offenders, however, did not show up in the police court Monday morning. They had purchased their freedom, or the saloons involved had purchased it for them, by bailing the men out and then forfeiting the bail. The fights were of the common or garden variety but the fact that three saloons, widely separated, were involved rather attracted attention to the police activity.

Attorneys from the section of Yakima county which lies east of Union gap will hereafter make their motions in the superior court on Mondays, after 1:30 o'clock. This is the result of Judge Preble's interest in the claims presented to him Monday in behalf of the lower valley lawyers. The train service from Sunnyside is such that attorneys to be here Monday morning for the regular call of the docket are required to leave home on Saturday.

20 TREES ENOUGH IN YAKIMA VALLEY

Nob Hill Rancher Has Orchard Full of Heavy Bearers and Counts a Few Average Yields.

T. W. Clark, of the lower Nob Hill road is an orchardist, who has no special complaint to make of the yield this year. He has stripped four trees and found 42 boxes of fruit on each of three of them and 40 on the fourth. The apples are York Imperial, sell at about $1.40 per box and therefore net a sum close to $55 a tree. These are not the only four trees in the orchard that contain fruit but are the only ones on which Mr. Clark has taken a count at the time The Herald talked with him.

Many street car passengers have had their attention attracted to the Clark orchard as the trees on the front overhanging the tracks and the fruit is within reach of car passengers. W. P. Romans, photographer, had his attention attracted to the Clark trees and made some photographs in color of one or two of them. These photos make just about the finest piece of advertising the Yakima valley can have.

Yakimans who attended the exposition at Seattle will be interested in knowing that when the gates closed Saturday night the total registration was 3,740,561. The exposition was open 138 days. It began with a debt of $700,000 and closed with a small surplus.

GIVEN OFFICES AND CONVENTION

North Yakima W. C. T. U. Delegation Takes Honors at the Spokane Gathering.

North Yakima's W. C. T. U. delegation at the 1909 convention in Spokane took the principal honors of that gathering, securing five of the elective offices and also the state convention for 1910. The following is a report of the gathering, as announced by one of the delegates:

"The Twenty-Sixth Annual convention of the East Washington W. C. T. U. was held in Spokane last week and a good delegation from North Yakima was in attendance. Spokane found out before this delegation left that not only the 'Boosters' club boosted North Yakima, but that the ladies of the W. C. T. U. of both unions had caught the spirit of 'Boost Yakima' and got what was wanted.

"Mrs. M. W. Roberts was elected state corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. L. Miller elected vice president at large; Mrs. Ada Whitney elected superintendent peace and mercy; Mrs. Meribah Mull elected superintendent of prison work and Mrs. Mary Yeager elected superintendent of equal suffrage.

"Each day of the convention was given over to routine work such as executive meetings, workers' conference, reports of department work, in which very many helpful suggestions were gathered by delegates present. As East Washington W. C. T. U. is now on the best working basis of its history much work will be done this coming year.

"The evenings of the convention were given over to entertainment. Tuesday evening an address of welcome was given by Mayor Pratt, of Spokane. The president, Mrs. E. C. Bodwell, on introducing the mayor stated that he was 'neither sick nor in a meeting of the council.' An address of welcome on the part of the churches was given by Rev. Kramer, of the First Baptist church; on the part of the W. C. T. U. of Spokane, by Mrs. Jessie E. Atkinson. After these hearty addresses of welcome we felt that the city for the time was ours.

"On Wednesday evening a silver gray medal contest was held.

"On Thursday evening an address was given by Rev. Edith H. Booker, of Emporia, Kansas, her subject being: 'Old Glory,' showing very plainly where the stains are made on the emblem of our country.

"On Friday evening the different departments were demonstrated. The department of equal suffrage was demonstrated by Mrs. Mary Yeager assisted by Mrs. M. D. Roberts, both of North Yakima. This demonstration was decidedly the best of the convention taking the form of a pantomime in which an election was held, which was true to life, there being the ballot box with votes cast by gentlemen, foreigners, inebriates and one of them so drunk he was helped to the polls by the candidate of questionable character; also the illegal vote, all there followed by the woman with her hands tied behind her wanting to get the ballot to strike a blow to the enemy of the home but was unable to do so.

"Then how breathlessly the audience waited to hear the result of the election which of course was in favor of the mayor of questionable character. This result being announced by Mrs. Mary Yeager, superintendent of equal suffrage, who gave an earnest appeal to the women of the convention to arouse themselves and educate and agitate as never before as this question comes before the people in 1910. This appeal was followed by an address by Mrs. Myrtle D. Roberts telling some of the reasons why women should have the ballot. This address was greeted with great applause.

"An invitation was extended and accepted with cheers, to hold the convention in North Yakima in 1910. The convention in 1910 will be one of the biggest temperance rallies ever held in the northwest.

"The address given by Mrs. Roberts at the convention will be given at the next regular meeting of the North Yakima W. C. T. U. which will be held November 2 at the home of Mrs. J. W. Dean, South Fourth street. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested."

MAJORITY SHOULD RULE IN POPULAR GOVERNMENT

Granville Lowther Places the Question of Local Option in the Light—Who Favor and Who Oppose Such Measure.

The local option campaign is upon us. Committees have been appointed to canvass the city to obtain the requisite number of petitioners. In a popular government like ours it makes little difference what a man believes personally, he must believe that the majority should rule. If a majority should not rule, then the question is, who should rule. If minorities should rule, what minorities. Shall it be the saloon minority or the anti-saloon minority? It seems only reasonable to submit to the will of the majority.

The only misgiving we have about this local option law is that the unit is the city, instead of the county. People outside the city are almost as much interested as those in the city. This interest is as much to the taxpayer in the county as to the taxpayer in the city, provided his property interests are the same.

It is known to all intelligent persons of every class that the saloon causes much of the crime that is committed and that the consequences are long terms of court, heavy bills for the keeping of criminals and the piling up of taxes upon the taxpayer. People in the country are as much interested in the amount of taxes levied against them as any others. Therefore it seems to us the legislature should have established the county, rather than the city unit plan. But since they did not, the next best thing is to meet the question squarely, and if we are defeated, submit like good citizens who honor and respect the law under which we live.

There are many viewpoints from which people incline to argue the question, depending largely upon the experiences through which they pass. For instance, a man from the country, who is indifferent to the habits of others, who wants to be let alone and prefers to let others alone, will consider it mainly from the standpoint of taxes. He would let it alone if it let him alone, but it increases the rate of taxation and he objects. The merchant naturally wants the money which the drinker will spend in the saloon, and which he cannot get if the saloon is his competitor. The contractor and builder wants his men to be sober and reliable, so he will generally be in favor of closing the saloons. The large employer will want the most efficient help, and will favor the abolition of the saloon. The wife whose husband is spending his earnings in the saloon and depriving his family of the necessities of life will favor closing, but since she cannot vote, will have but little influence. The father who is anxious about the character of his boy will prefer that the saloon and its temptations be removed. The teacher who is watching with anxiety the development of the young people and their future prospects will prefer that the saloon as an institution in society be abolished. The preacher whose thoughts are for the moral uplift of society is the natural enemy of the saloon.

On the other side will be arrayed those whose appetites seem to demand intoxicants and who feel that their rights are being invaded if they are not permitted to patronize the saloon as a place of social resort. There will be in this class also those who make their money by the sale of drinks and who have been educated to believe that their business is as legitimate as any other. They generally consider that the business is bad in its effects, but they follow it because they can make money out of it. Then, too, there is political power in the saloon, and there is a class of politicians who do not drink habitually, who know the evil effects of drink, who will agree to all the temperance people claim against the saloon, but who will favor it as a means of getting into office and indirectly making money out of the business.

It is in some sense regrettable that issues arise in which the people find themselves stirred over any business that divides them in sentiment and feeling, but there is no help for this. Such questions must be threshed out; they must be settled by information and education. There should nothing personal enter into the discussion. They are questions of principle and the greatest good to the greatest number. Sooner or later they will be settled, and settled right. The sooner they are settled the better for all. We will push the canvass vigorously while we are at it, and when the election is over return to our work with the same calm and equanimity as before.

SILVER TROPHY FOR BEST PACKED APPLES

International Apple Shippers' Association Takes Much Interest in Spokane Apple Show.

SPOKANE, Oct. 22.—Among the numerous prizes offered for competition at the second national apple show in Spokane November 15 to 20, when premiums to the amount of $25,000 will be distributed in twenty classes, is a magnificent silver trophy presented by the International Apple Shippers' association. The cup, received by Ren H. Rice, secretary-manager, bears the following inscription:

"Presented to ——— by the International Apple Shippers' association for the best commercial packing and grading of apples exhibited at the national apple show, Spokane, Wash., November, 1909."

Accompanying the trophy is a letter from N. G. Gilson of Chicago, chairman of a special committee appointed by William L. Wagner, president of the association at Buffalo last summer, who says among other things regarding its disposition by the management of the apple show:

"The International Apple Shippers' association is representative of all parts of the continent, and as our officers and members are always working to secure better packing and grading in all sections of the country, our committee thought it advisable to have this cup awarded the way we have decided. It is for the best packing and grading of apples exhibited at the show. It is not so much for its intrinsic value that the winner will prize it, but more as coming from the source it does."

Mr. Rice has received assurances from the foremost growers in the Inland Empire and the Pacific northwest that every commercial orchard district west of the Rocky mountains will be represented, and in addition there will be exhibits from other parts of the United States and Canada. Preparations have been made for exhibiting 2,000,000 apples.
