OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

WHAT purported to be a news item went the rounds of the associated press newspapers recently which conveyed the interesting information that Charles A. Towne, the renowned orator and silver advocate, in an interview had made some astounding statements regarding democratic party policy. The ex-senator from Minnesota was credited with making the startling assertion that in his judgment the silver question was dead throughout the west and that the democratic party was preparing to throw it overboard as a dead issue. Furthermore Mr. Towne was charged with saying that in his judgment ex-Senator Hill of New York would be the next presidential nominee of the party. The Seattle Times is authority for the statement that but a few hours subsequent to the sending out of the above dispatch a second dispatch was received by all the newspapers in the association, which stated plainly that the first had been discovered to be a pure fabrication and unworthy of credence. Notwithstanding the fact that the second dispatch was filed in ample time to prevent the publication of the first, the lying statement attributed to Mr. Towne appeared in numerous morning papers of republican proclivities, accompanied by much flatulent editorial comment of the "I told you so" order. In order to definitely clinch the matter the Seattle evening paper took the pains to wire Mr. Towne, setting forth the damaging falsehood ascribed to him and asking him to set the matter right, which the distinguished gentleman accordingly did. In his reply he stated that the alleged interview was a pure and malicious fake and that he had given out no political interview for a period of three months. The above incident and its outcome is only one of many such that have preceded it and is merely cited here to illustrate the pernicious influence that is constantly at work on the part of the republican press to sow discord and dissension in the ranks of the democracy. In this case what was known in advance to be a prejudicial and mischievous lie was sent out broadcast in order to produce a false and wrongful impression in the public mind with the hope of thereby producing a spirit of antagonism in the ranks of the opposition. The boasted liberty of the press has in this instance been grossly abused, for which no reasonable or satisfactory apology can be rendered.

THE McKinley democrats who talk so glibly and so much about the re-organization of the democratic party are reckoning without their host. The reform element is in control of the party machinery in nearly every state and if the eminent gentlemen of New York, Ohio and elsewhere who have lately been in revolt think that they will be able to regain control without first winning it in a titanic struggle, they are simply hugging a delusion. The great mass of commoners that make up the bulk of the democratic party, believe sincerely in the principles enunciated in the Kansas City platform and they are not going to consent to any pruning process that would destroy the usefulness of the party in the future. And what is there to be gained by such costly sacrifice of principle? Nothing; for any unprejudiced man well versed in politics knows that such a policy could have no other effect than to alienate from the party perhaps treble the number of voters that it would attract. The object sought by the "re-organizers" is to regain control of the party and make it a pure negative quantity in its relation to government. It is already clear that the movement received its inspiration from a number of great financiers of New York, whose ambition it is to again have both the great parties of the nation subservient to their will. The idea is a very pretty one from their standpoint, but it cannot be made to work unless the people can first be lulled to sleep and their leaders betray them. This they cannot do if the masses shall receive a warning in time.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY, no longer able to overlook the taunts and petty persecutions to which he has been constantly subjected by Admiral Sampson and his satellites in the navy department, has at last demanded a court of inquiry which has been accorded by Secretary Long. The court, which will convene September 12, will be presided over by Admiral Dewey, a fact, by the way, which gives the people some hope of a fair and impartial verdict. This official investigation will, it is said, be a most thorough and exhaustive one and it is to be hoped that the decision arrived at, whatever it may be, will be a final one, as the American public has already become nauseated by the unfortunate and long drawn out quarrel between the two admirals. It seems too bad that the great glory won in the battle off Santiago should be dimmed by this undignified controversy between commanders as to whom should receive the credit for the victory. It is a fact worthy of note that Schley appears to have the sympathy of an overwhelming majority of both the press and the people, while Sampson on the other hand seems to have the support of most of the navy officials including Secretary Long. Apropos of the quarrel, a son of Admiral Schley volunteers the pertinent suggestion, which seems to have been largely overlooked, that if the result at Santiago had been different and his father instead of pounding out a great victory had received a most inglorious licking, the martinets of the navy would not have been at all slow in placing upon his shoulders the entire responsibility for the disaster.

WALLA WALLA has adopted a tight Sunday closing movement. But it seems the officials are at a loss what to do with the Adventists, who observe Saturday as the Sabbath, and it is claimed that under the constitution they cannot be convicted.

THE long-suffering, drouth-stricken middle west has received at least temporary alleviation from the longest and most disastrous hot spell ever experienced there. The loss in dollars is almost incalculable; the loss of life from the same cause is unprecedented.

THE trotting record was again broken at Cleveland, Ohio, last week. Cresceus, the new champion, amid an enthusiastic concourse of people, trotted a flat mile in 2:02½, taking the honors from Abbott, whose record of 2:03½ heretofore set the pattern for the world.

THE great prize drawing of Uncle Sam for 13,000 homes in the newly opened Indian reservations "passed off pleasantly", no trouble of a serious nature resulting. There were more than ten applicants for every farm to be given out, showing a big percentage of people who want homes, but have them not.

NEELEY, the looter of Cuba's postal funds, is likely to go scot free. His arrest occurred over a year ago, and he has been in Cuba for six months awaiting trial. It is now claimed that the threats of Neeley and Rathbone that if they were punished others in positions over them would be exposed, has had a strong influence in preventing the charge from being pushed.

THE launching of the new battle ship Maine occurred at Cramp's navy yard in Philadelphia last Saturday. While the ship will not receive the finishing touches for probably eighteen months, great interest has been manifested in her since the first stick was laid, on account of the mournful and dramatic destruction of her ill-starred namesake in Havana harbor.

IT is thought the recent orders of the postal department eliminating a large number of publications from second class mailing privileges is the first step toward one cent postage. This change, in conjunction with others of a character likely to result in an enormous increase of revenues for the postal service, it is claimed, will enable the department to inaugurate the one-cent postage system without entailing loss to the government.

"BRAG is a good dog, but Holdfast is better." Whenever a paper begins to tell of its "superior facilities," and enlarges upon the fact that none of its competitors are able to scour the local field to the same advantage as its own "special corps of efficient reporters," the public knows enough to be aware that it will bear watching. For it simply exemplifies the old saying, "If a man bloweth not his own horn, by whom shall it be blown."

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Regular monthly meeting of the city council next Monday.

The cutting of the second crop of alfalfa is now going on generally.

W. H. Vessey shipped a train load of fat lambs to Chicago last Friday.

A. J. Splawn is down in Oregon this week hustling in the interest of the State Fair.

Frank Jackson this week placed an elegant $600 soda fountain in his Monogram cigar store.

The 20th Century club members held a picnic in the Moxee and report a most enjoyable occasion.

Henry Lombard has been confined to his home for several days with a badly swollen leg, injured in a recent fishing trip.

Fred Brooker contemplates taking his trotting horses to the Everett fair in September and will probably follow the circuit.

County Superintendent Plumb went to Prosser this week to make arrangements for the division of the school district there.

A. Schindler is having a stone foundation placed under his Natchez avenue home, besides making other needed improvements.

The German Evangelists Lutheran, will hold service next Sunday at the Presbyterian church at 1:30 p. m. All are welcome.

Married, at North Yakima, July 29, by Justice J. C. MacCrimmon, J. B. Tyler, of Toppenish, to Miss Emma Fintel of this city.

A marriage license was issued last Saturday to Daniel Griffey and Mrs. N. J. Holloway. The parties live in the Sunnyside section.

On Monday morning a train passed through for the Sound, conveying about 130 of Uncle Sam's troops for service at Nome. The company had been formerly stationed at Columbus, Ohio.

The name of Winona Lee of Yakima City was omitted from the list printed last week of those who were granted eighth grade diplomas. The omission was through an oversight in copying the list.

Athenias Brown, aged about 39 years, died in the larger Cadwell block on Second street, last Sunday of consumption. The diseased was a native of Canada, and came to Yakima a few weeks ago for the benefit of his health.

The county commissioners will convene on Monday next as a board of equalization. Tax payers who feel dissatisfied with their assessments are presumed on this occasion to appear and make their kick or forever hold their peace.

The 75 foot addition to the N. P. freight depot completed this week now makes that building 300 feet in length. Even now the local officials are fearful of being cramped for room in handling the big volume of traffic that they know will come soon.

A fire at Cliff Cleman's place last Sunday, started by a careless boy in an out-house, would have caused the loss of several thousand dollars had not a large crew of hay-balers been on the ground to fight the flames in their incipency. As it was, the damage was small.

A tremendous amount of brilliant paper was posted in North Yakima and the surrounding country last Monday by the regiment of advertising men with Sells & Gray's United Shows' advance car, and it is quite certain that the city will be crowded with visitors on Friday, July 9.

Today is the last of County School Superintendent Plumb, the term of his office expiring. Mr. S. A. Dickey, the superintendent elect, will assume charge on Monday. Mr. Plumb has made a most efficient and popular officer, and the people of Yakima want to get another "whack" at him.

An aggregation comprising eight cars of animals, performers and paraphernalia styling itself the Great Oriental circus, passed through Yakima west bound Tuesday. The manager stated that he expected to return to North Yakima and give several performances during the State Fair this fall.

A match race for $200 a side has been arranged between Harry Griffin and Fred Brooker for their horses Chester Abbott and Diodene next Sunday at the State Fair grounds. The race will be in heats, best three in five, and considerable interest is manifested by horsemen, as both animals are known to be fast.

John Johnson, whose residence and antecedents are unknown, was run over by a train at Kiona Wednesday and so badly injured that he died the same evening. He was in the act of boarding the train, when he was thrown under the wheels and fatally injured. On instructions from Coroner Rosser, the remains were shipped to North Yakima Thursday for interment.

W. C. Meyers and several others who went to Sherman county, Ore., a couple of weeks ago to participate in the wheat harvest, returned Wednesday, very much dissatisfied with the wages paid. They state that a walk out was organized and over three hundred men quit work, leaving the crops to rot on the ground. Only $1.50 per day was paid for from 14 to 16 hours work.

The Yakima bar-tenders, in company with a large crowd of people and the brass band, went to Ellensburg last Sunday to play a game of ball with their compeers of Ellensburg. The number going up for a day's amusement is estimated at 150 persons, and a very enjoyable day was spent. The Yakima nine won the honors by a score of 13 to 3, and this fact so stimulated the Ellensburgers that they propose a return game at North Yakima, Sunday afternoon, August 11. They say they will bring a big crowd down.

Their Secret Is Out.

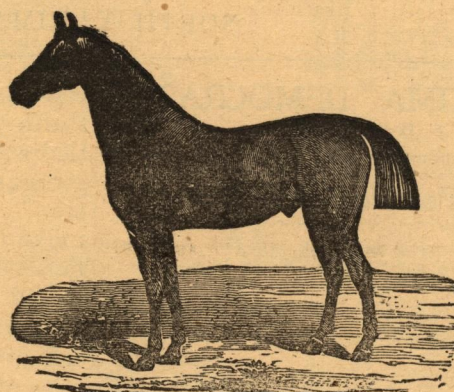

All Sadieville, Ky., was curious to learn the cause of the vast improvement in the health of Mrs. S. P. Whittaker, who had for a long time, endured untold suffering from a chronic bronchial trouble. "It's all due to Dr. King's New Discovery," writes her husband. "It completely cured her and also cured our little grand-daughter of a severe attack of Whooping Cough." It positively cures Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Bronchitis, all throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Quiett & Ayres drug store.

Prof. Geo. Stephenson and his former assistant Miss Anna Gibson of the Moxee, have again been engaged to teach the Parker schools.

A letter received from A. D. Sloan, at North Baltimore, Ohio, this week, states that he had been confined to bed for several days with a threatened attack of fever.

H. A. Marble and crew last week surveyed out a new ditch on the upper Nat-cheez for Messrs. Johncox and Foster. The ditch is calculated to reclaim about 250 acres of fine land.

Wm. Kruse, charged with stealing a bicycle, was tried by a jury before Justice Taggard last Monday, and although the jury found him guilty they only gave him ten days in the county jail.

The Odd Fellows this week refused an offer of $3,000 for their two lots, corner Yakima avenue and Third street. They expect to build a fine brick or stone structure on the lots next spring.

A. F. Switzer is building a large two-roomed school house at Toppenish. The county school superintendent says there are now a hundred pupils at that point, and the number is rapidly increasing.

The elocutionary recital of Miss Lillian Burns at the Congregational church Monday evening is highly spoken of by those in attendance. The lady's talent in character portrayal is said to be of a very high order.

John Rodman, of Moxee, with two other men and a boy, claim the championship belt as hay cutters. In a day and a half this week they cut sixty acres of alfalfa, and now they wish to hear of any other four persons who can beat the record.

A special train consisting of seven cars, loaded with Germans from the east returning home from the Saengerfest at Frisco, passed through Sunday. A baggage car loaded with kegs of beer testified to the fact that they were enjoying themselves.

As predicted by the DEMOCRAT several weeks ago, E. F. Benson has been appointed a member of the State Fair commission, vice W. L. McDonald, of Tacoma, resigned. Mr. Benson is still at Buffalo, but will be home in time to take an active interest in the fair this fall.

A few days ago, while driving home, John Shearer's horse became frightened at a large piece of paper blown by a sudden gust of wind, and jumping suddenly to one side, threw Mr. Shearer to the ground with such force as to break two ribs and severely bruise his right hand and arm.

Eight B. P. O. E. candidates from Pasco, comprising most of the officers of Franklin county, came up on Thursday morning to be initiated in the local lodge of Elks. They were accompanied by several other residents of Pasco, who had previously passed the stage of "baby" Elkhood.

Capt. R. B. Johnston, who for the past two years has resided west of town, sold out his property and left this week accompanied by Mrs. Johnston for the Sound. They contemplate establishing their future home at Port Orchard, after which the captain expects to travel around considerably.

At camp on Fish Lake last Saturday,

Mrs. Fred Parker and her little daughter Harriet had nearly all their clothes and a big portion of their tent burned through the carelessness of one of the boys playing with a candle. It was necessary to make a requisition on North Yakima to supply the necessary articles.

The steamship Charles D. Lane plying between Seattle and Cape Nome was wrecked recently on Nupivak island while on its downward passage. Fortunately no lives were lost. The ship's purser, Mr. Chas. F. Baily, formerly of this city but now a resident of Seattle, gives a very graphic account of the mishap in Thursday's P. I.

The refusal of a large number of residents to pay for having their homes numbered is standing in the way of free delivery of mail in this city. The carrier system cannot be inaugurated until the postmaster certifies that all necessary work of placing names on street corners and numbers on houses has been completed. It is thought steps compelling people to number their houses will have to be taken by the city council.

The dwelling house on the farm of Mrs. Wildie Carpenter, near the southeast corner of the School section, was destroyed by fire last Tuesday evening. The building was occupied by H. A. Murchie and family and their household goods were entirely consumed. This is the second time Mr. Murchie has been burned out within a few months, having lost all his furniture in a recent fire on the Fish place on the Cowychee. The house and contents were partially insured.

The American Fraternal club will be incorporated next week. The articles of incorporation have been signed and the first official meeting will be held on Tuesday. Joel Shomaker and Vestal Snyder have been at work all week on the constitution and by-laws to have them ready for adoption at the first meeting. As soon as the certificate of incorporation is received the new order will be ready for business. The officers are besieged every day with many applications for work as organizers and publishers of the official paper. One enterprising printer has offered to furnish the club with a plant and remove to this city if he is designated as the official printer. It is the plan of the directory to have all the printing done by the different offices in this city. The treasurer will also be instructed to make deposits with the banking concerns as provided by the laws of the state. The home club will start out with a big membership. The application for articles of incorporation has been signed by the following: D. E. Lesh, Vestal Snyder, A. S. Dam, W. E. Ayres, Dr. P. Frank, Joel Shomaker, J. P. McCafferty, G. A. Graham and G. L. Allen.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Canteloupes made their appearance on the local market Thursday.

Mrs. G. B. Palmer is quite ill at her home on South Third street.

The present warm weather is very satisfactory to the farmers, especially the hop growers.

Tom Harvey is up in the hills above Cle Elum this week looking after his band of sheep.

Judge Rudkin returned Thursday from Ellensburg, where he has been holding court for some time.

Miss Madie Thomas, who has spent the past year in North Yakima, left Friday afternoon to join her mother in California.

The family of Hugo Sigmund returned home last Sunday from Fresno, Cal., where they have been visiting since November last.

The new bridge at Alfalfa will be completed and opened for travel the latter part of next week. It is pronounced one of the most substantial bridges across the Yakima.

A large number of lots in the town-site of Zillah will be sold by the county auditor, September 7. Zillah is built in a section of school land, and the lots will be sold to the highest bidder.

Judge Rudkin on Thursday granted a divorce to Mrs. M. E. Hale from her husband, C. S. Hale, on the ground of incompatibility. The custody of the two minor children, with $700 alimony, was awarded the plaintiff.

Wallis Williams, accompanied by his wife and child, returned home Monday from a three weeks' visit in Oregon City where Mr. Williams was called by the serious illness of his father, caused from a severe attack of blood poisoning. The sick man is now on the road to recovery.

A Sunnyside constable on Wednesday brought to town the ten-year-old son of Wm. Hennig, charged with incorrigibility and sent up to the superior court for sentence to the state reform school. The papers and conduct of the case were irregular, and the youngster was returned to the parental roof.

Some of Yakima's local journals have awakened to the fact that there is a strong probability of building a cut-off railroad to Portland. The scales have fallen from their eyes because an engineering party is now at work out from Mabton, while the DEMOCRAT announced two weeks ago that a contract had been let for an additional twenty-five miles to connect with that part of the road built several years ago.

A. E. Church, a former resident of Tacoma, but recently living at Sunnyside, was brought in from the neighborhood of Hot Springs last Wednesday morning suffering from neuralgia of the heart. He was taken to the hospital for treatment. About 7 o'clock in the evening of the same day he died, and the body was shipped Thursday to Sunnyside for interment. The deceased was a band master by profession, and had been subject to attacks similar to that from which he died. He had no relatives in this section, and little is known of his antecedents.

Death of A. Richmond.

A. Richmond, who was shot at Yakima City last Thursday by Mrs. Scholes, died at the hospital Tuesday morning, from the effects of his wound.

An anti-mortem statement was made by him the evening previous to his death, and it is claimed that other evidence brought out since the shooting puts a rather different phase upon the matter.

Mrs. Scholes is out under a $5000 bond, and the examining trial will be deferred until the arrival of Prosecuting Attorney Guthrie, who is expected home from Illinois today.

The bondsmen of Mrs. Scholes are C. H. Wilfong, E. W. Dooley, S. E. Farris, T. H. Wheeler, G. A. Graham, S. Lauber and A. S. Hayley.

H. J. Snively has been retained to assist in the prosecution of the case.

The funeral of Mr. Richmond occurred from the residence of his son in Yakima City Thursday morning, and was largely attended.

Big Show Coming.

A sudden fit of economy has seized the small boy. He clings to every cent and buys no more candy. A tender desire enthalls him. He wants to see the show, the big show with its vast expanse of white tents, fluttering flags, gilded cages, gorgeous band wagons, be-spangled performers, comical clowns, prancing horses, wild beasts, and all the fascinating features of Sells and Gray's United Shows, which are to give two performances in this city, Friday, Aug. 9. So the small boy is saving his money because he wants to see that big show and he knows full well that only one boy can get in free by carrying water for the elephant.

But grown-up people are also awaiting the coming of the show with interest and looking forward to its coming in anticipations of a big time. The marvelous acrobatic feats of the six Eddys will make any of them open their eyes, as will the acts introduced in the long program of startling novelties by Miss Edna, the Tybells, the Earl Sisters and the other famous artists of the ring who are especially engaged with Sells & Gray's Shows.

How Three Were Made One.

A cannibal maid and her Hottentot Blade—

They met in a rocky defile;
A gay eagle plume was his only costume,
The lady was wrapt in a—smile.

Together they strolled, and his passion ne told

In pleading and tremulous tone,
While softly they trod on the blossom-strewn sod,

And spooned in the twilight alone.

Then sweetly she sighed as she shyly replied,

With tender and fairy like mien;
She murmured the word, when a war
whoop was heard

A rival had burst on the scene.

A savage Zulu to the trysting place drew,
Demanding his cannibal bride;
But the Hottentot said, with a toss of his head,

"I'll have thy degenerate hide!"

The Hottentot flew at the savage Zulu,
The Zulu he went for the blade,
And fiercely they vied in their struggle and pride,

And fought for the cannibal maid.

She perched on a stone, with a shaply shin bone

Clasped tight in her tapering arms,
And watched the blood fly with a love laden eye

While the warriors fought for her charms.

When fiercer they fought and the ringing blows caught

With thrust and with parry and punch,
She said, with a smile, "In a very short while

I will have those two fellows for lunch."

The purple blood flows from the Hotten-tot's nose

The Zulu is struck by the blade;
Then each of them sighed, a gasping—
he died,

And look on the cannibal maid.

She made a nice stew of the savage Zulu,
And scrambled the Hottentot's brains—
'Twas a dainty menu when the cooking was through,

And she dined on her lovers' remains.

The savage Zulu and the Hottentot, too,
Both sleep in a cannibal tomb;

The three were made one, and the story is done—

The maiden strolled off in the gloom.

Inventor Refuses To Give Out Details of His Invention.

Rabbi Sigmund Frey, of Wabash, Ind., who has proposed to the postmaster general to transmit postal matter to Europe in two days, was invited to explain his invention today, but beyond a few hints declined to go into details until he received advice from Washington.

"I have," he said, "made the offer, but supposed that my attorney alone knew of it. It would interfere with my plans were I to state just how I propose to achieve the results, but my scheme is feasible.

"I have been in conference with a celebrated electrician, working out my ideas, and have progressed to a point where I may put it to a practical test.
Electricity will be a car, which with safety, may travel over sea and land at a speed of from 200 to 300 miles an hour.

"If the government sees fit to make a conditional contract with me I expect to demonstrate the success of my invention at an early date.

"I am irritated that the matter has gotten into the newspapers, but I hope to take the work up in earnest with the postoffice department. Until the con-

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, July 26, 1901.

Rear Admiral Schley fooled the naval clique, which has done such dirty work to try to discredit him in the eyes of the American people, when he called Secretary Long's bluff and demanded a court of inquiry into his conduct during the hunt in Cuban waters for the Spanish fleet. Admiral Schley would have made this demand long ago had his friend, who knew of the intention on the part of the clique which has controlled the navy department since the beginning of the McKinley administration to pack the court against him if he asked for it, not advised him to wait for a more propitious time. That time arrived when the clerk in the Brooklyn navy yard wrote under order from the clique language concerning Schley that would have disgraced the lowest gutter-snipe publication in the country, and shamelessly labeled it "history" and sought to have it made a text book at the naval academy. The clique overshot the mark. Instead of injuring Schley, the publication aroused the country's sense of fairplay, and today the demand for an inquiry that shall be conducted by men of honor, not puppets of a clique, is ringing from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It is now up to Secretary Long. He can easily name a court of inquiry that will command the respect of the country and that will not base its inquiries on the charge that Schley is a democrat, but on an effort to get at the truth, the whole truth, of what was done in the West Indian naval campaign, regardless of who is hurt or helped. That much the country demands, and it will take no less. Secretary Long has promised that such a court shall be named, and if Mr. McKinley is as wise a politician as he is credited with being he will see that the promise is kept. No political question is involved in this inquiry, but any failure to give Schley the justice which every brave officer under accusation is entitled to at the hands of the powers that be will make it a political question of the most dangerous sort.

Most persons have heard the story of the lawyer who told his client that it was impossible to imprison him on the charge against him, through the bars of the jail cell in which he was locked up. Although there is abundant knowledge, from those on the ground, that the land grabbers are speculating by wholesale in the certificates or numbers of those who have been registered as applicants for homesteads in the Oklahoma Indian reservations about to be opened to settlement, Secretary Hitchcock still insists that speculation in these certificates is impossible.

Mr. McKinley never neglects an opportunity to turn a financial trick at public expense, for a friend. By postponing the acceptance of the resignation of Gov. Allen, of Porto Rico, and the appointment of Secretary Hunt as his successor, which has been definitely determined upon, until September, he enables his friend Allen to enjoy an extended vacation and continue to draw a big salary. Two presidential proclamations were issued this week—one announcing that Porto Rico had a civil government, which might have been made many months ago, but was held back in order to prevent the Porto Rican legislature having the disposal of the revenue collected under the Foraker act, and the other proclaiming free trade with Porto Rico.

New York business men are again after Wilber F. Wakeman, the appraiser of merchandise at that port. The object to Wakeman's using his official patronage to provide for inexperienced hangers-on of the American protective tariff League, of which he is president, and which he successfully utilized to pull himself out of his last difficulty with the big merchants who have business with his office. A deligation from the New York board of trade and transportation this week called on Secretary Gage and filed charges against Wakeman for having lessened the efficiency of his office by putting men without experience in the places of those thoroughly familiar with their work. Among the instances cited as proof of the charges was the case of Examiner Levy, an expert of thirty years service in the examination of mirrors, glass, leather, gloves, etc., who was transferred to the docks to examine personal baggage, in order that his place might be given to a Mr. McDonald, a clerk in the office of the American protective tariff League, who had no experience whatever in the work he was given to do. The committee called Mr. Gage's attention to the law governing the appointment of examiners, which says: "No person shall be appointed such examiner who is not at the time of his appointment practically and thoroughly acquainted with the character, quality and value of the articles in the examination and appraisal of which he is to be employed." Secretary Gage promised the committee that he would give his immediate attention to the charges, and Mr. Wakeman may have to turn his attention from trying to scare republican congressmen who have declared for tariff revision to trying to hold on to his job.

Bicycle Versus a Cow.

An Irish farmer went into an ironmonger's shop to buy a scythe. After serving him the shopman asked him if he would buy a bicycle.

"What is that?" queried the Irishman. "It's a machine to ride about the town on."

"And shure, what might the price of it be?"

"Fifteen pounds."

"I'd rather see fifteen pounds in a cow."

"But what a fool you would look riding round the town on the back of a cow!"

"Shure, now," replied the Irishman, "not half such a fool as I'd look trying to milk a bicycle!"—[Tit Bits.]

A Very Hot Fishing Trip.

Not long ago two gentlemen came up from Yakima to join a like number from here in a fishing trip up the Taenum. The took provisions, etc., to last them three days and got to the fishing grounds, meeting with excellent success. The last day of their stay came and they worked hard, as they wanted to bring down full baskets to their friends, and it was late when they left the stream. Three of them hung their wet tronsers on a dead tree near the camp fire to dry and the other swang his over the tent.

After a refreshing night's sleep they got up in the morning and were terror stricken on seeing that the tree and its contents had been burned during the night and they were trouserless. They

YOU CAN'T

Make sweet butter in a sour churn. The stomach is a churn. A foul stomach fouls the food put into it. When the food is fouled the blood made from it is fouled also. Foul blood means disease. Cleanse the churn and you have sweet butter. Cleanse the stomach and you have pure blood. The far reaching action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is due to its effect on the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases which begin in the stomach are cured through the stomach. Because the stomach is the centre of physical nourishment, every part of the body suffers when that organ is diseased. When the stomach is "weak" it cannot extract from the food it receives, the nourishment necessary to sustain the body in vigorous health. Sometimes the whole body suffers and is enfeebled. Sometimes the weakness of some particular organ attracts disease.

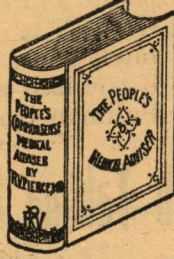

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of heart, lungs, liver, nerves, etc., which seem remote from the stomach, by curing the diseased stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition in which these ailments have their origin. It eliminates the waste and poisonous substances which corrupt the blood. It increases the blood supply by increasing the activity of the blood-making glands. It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves and heals the lungs.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," neither does it contain opium, cocaine, or any other narcotic.

There is nothing "just as good" as the "Discovery." Do not be imposed upon by dealers who sell unreliable medicines for the sake of an excessive profit.

"Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has proved a great blessing to me," writes Mrs. Ellen E. Bacon, of Shutesbury, Franklin Co., Mass. "Prior to September, 1897, I had doctored for my stomach trouble for several years, going through a course of treatment without any real benefit. In September, 1896, I had very sick spells and grew worse; could eat but little. I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's medicine, and in a short time I could eat and work. I have gained twenty pounds in two months."

were in a plight but nothing could be done but remain indoors. The one who escaped did the parading and other necessary work, and as the sun sank low on the hills he called out "all aboard," and three figures wrapped in blankets sneaked out of the tent, got in the hack and were driven home, and long after the calm July night had thrown a mantle of darkness over the town, three blanketed figures were deposited by the obliging "lucky man" where they belonged.

The understanding was that the story was not to get out, but the driver was overheard to say to the others as they passed Palmer's barn: "I'd like to see you fellows in a republican state convention in this fix; you'd cut a figure, wouldn't you?" This led to inquiries and the story "escaped."—Ellensburg Capital.

Astounded the Editor.

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. W. C. T. U. DEPARTMENT.

L. H. GALE, Press Supt.

Tuesday, July 30th, the Union met at the Christian church, at 2:30 p. m. After devotions led by the president, and roll call by recording secretary the superintendents of the different departments of the work gave in their reports of the year.

It being the last meeting of the year we looked over the field and have reason to be encouraged by many things. True, we have not made rapid strides in our work, but education is very slow, unless it is teaching evil by precept and example. The law is also very slow, if you do not think so, ask some of our temperance and purity workers who have been in the work for thirty years. But we hope to do good work in the near future.

As this week ends my very pleasant relations with the printing offices, I want to thank them one and all, but more especially the editors and their foremen, for their uniform courtesy. They were never too busy to wait on us, so I thank them, and ask that the same patience and kindness be extended to my successor.

The yearly election of officers and superintendents of the W. C. T. U. will be held Tuesday, August 6th at 3 p. m. at the Christian church, a full attendance is desired, as every member is or ought to be interested.

Spanish-American War Story.

(Baltimore Sun.)

When the news of the destruction of Cervera's fleet at Santiago reached Berlin on that famous Fourth of July 1898, a load was lifted from many a heart in the large American colony in that city and many a bumper was drunk to the speedy termination of the war. The German feeling at that time was decidedly anti-American. In fact, few and far between were the encouraging words, and it was in ridicule and derision that the tactics of both our army and navy were criticised. The newspapers were filled with erroneous accounts of the bravery of the Spaniards and the cruelty of the Americans. In order to keep one's temper and not allow his feelings to become ruffled it was necessary to pretend not to read or understand German.

On the evening of that Fourth of July after a joyous dinner, celebrating the two great American events, a select few of Uncle Sam's sons were putting on the finishing touches to the day by sipping coffee at the famous Cafe Bauer. At an adjoining table a number of Germans were deliberating the topics of the day when, one suddenly becoming aware of the proximity of the Americans, set up a tirade of abuse not only against the American system and method of conducting the war, but made decidedly abject remarks concerning Americans in general. It was very evident he was "looking for fight." His words waxed warmer and louder until he finally reached the climax by boldly declaring all Americans cowards. A lull in his harangue at this time gave Dr. S., of Baltimore, the desired opportunity. In elegant and forcible German he addressed his American friends, giving his opinion in unmistakable words as to the arrogance and impudence of the Germans. It was just a bit more than our Teutonic friend could stand. Bounding from his seat he came to our table, addressing himself to Dr. S., handed him a visiting card and demanded one in return. Dr.

S., in his usual cool and collected manner, rose from his chair, drew himself to his full six feet, looking down at the infuriated German, simply asked: "Is this your card?"

"Yes," replied the German.

"Ah, so you are Rudolph von Walderstein?"

"Yes, sir, and I demand satisfaction." "Ridiculous," replied Dr. S.; "it would be beneath my dignity to cross swords with you. You are only Von Walderstein. I, sir, am the Crown Prince of America."

A hearty laugh convulsed all except the now thoroughly infuriated German, and rushing for his hat and cane he made a hasty exit, exclaiming: "We will meet again, sir."

When Horace Greeley Lost His Hat.

A very distinguished assemblage honored Grant's ball, which was held in the newly completed north wing of the treasury building. Elaborate preparations were made for dancing, the manager, by telegraphic communications, keeping the dance moving simultaneously on three floors. But the man who preferred eating to dancing and could not get even within the sight of food was not well pleased. Refreshments were served in the basement, in a room too small to accommodate the 6,000 guests, but large enough to contain the provisions, which were scarce indeed. In the cloakrooms the committee in charge lost their heads, visitors lost their hats, and it is stated on good authority that the sulphurous vapors which rose in the vicinity of the place where Horace Greeley searched for his hat during two hours were stifling.

It is recorded that one gentleman walked to Capitol hill, two miles distant, in dancing pumps and bareheaded and that many frightened women still covered in the corners of the dressing rooms at dawn the next morning. So, in preparing Grant's second ball, the committee made elaborate arrangements in order that these unpleasantnesses should not again occur.—National Magazine.

Quick Enters.

"Have you any idea," remarked the cashier of one of the largest lunch restaurants in New York, "how many minutes the average down town business man devotes to his midday meal?" "At a venture," answered the reporter, watching the hurried play of knives and forks about him, "I should say 15 minutes."

"You set about the time usually estimated," returned the cashier, "but in reality half that time would be nearer right. The average time consumed for lunch by the patrons of this establishment is just eight minutes. The fact is," continued the cashier after the reporter had ventured a foreboding for New York digestion, "people find it such a trifling and unobtrusive matter just to get 'a bite of lunch' that few realize what a gigantic business it is merely to supply hungry people down town at noon, because few bring their lunches with them, and from the formation of the city none can go home."

"This establishment feeds 3,000 people a day, and the amount of food required to care for that patronage is enormous. For example, when we put hash on the 'specials' enough is made up actually to fill a wagon. We are not the largest lunchroom, however."

George Washington's Lottery.

It is not generally known that the great Father of His Country was on at least one occasion the originator of a lottery, the like of which at the present day would be forbidden to send its tickets through the mails. That George Washington was interested in such a scheme is proved by a number of tickets still in existence which bear his august name. It was the Mountain Road lottery of which George was the promoter, and it is, of course, unnecessary to state that Washington himself did not financially profit from it. All the funds raised by the lottery were spent in building the road through Cumberland gap, near Fredericksburg, Va. Originally the lottery tickets which Washington signed were worth $1 each. Now, because they bear his signature, they are easily sold for $50 apiece, though it is certain that not one of them will ever draw a prize.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO MOVE.

New Quarters Secured in the Clogg Block.

A special meeting of the Commercial club was held Tuesday evening to consider the proposition of removal of the club's quarters from the Lewis-Engle block to the new building to be erected by C. H. Clogg at the corner of Yakima avenue and Third street.

President Geo. Donald presided at the meeting, about 40 being present. No time was lost in getting at the business in hand which was the consideration of the offer of Clogg to furnish the club with quarters 50x130 feet in size finished in good shape for a consideration of $50 per month on a five years lease.

The proposition was argued pro and con by a number of members, the consensus of opinion seeming to be that the club should secure more commodious and convenient quarters, the only difference of opinion seeming to be on whether it was advisable in the interest of the club to accept the proposition of Mr. Clogg or to build a new club house through the medium of a local company.

After a thorough discussion in which everybody had a chance to be heard, a vote was finally taken on a motion to accept Mr. Clogg's offer which was carried on a vote of 30 to 6.

The new quarters according to the plans submitted will be quite elegant and well adapted to the requirements of the organization. The space will be cut up into a reading and card room, an assembly room, a billiard room and reception rooms.

The Log-Rollers' Picnic.

The Log-Rollers' picnic last Friday was a grand success. The management reports having paid all expenses and have a balance of $3.50 in the treasury. When the camps are all notified of the results and other incidental expenses are paid the finances will break about even. The cash income from all sources was $407 and the expenditures will equal that or possibly a little more. The expenses cover $105 for the band; $100 for sports; $50.25 for printing and advertising; and the remainder for badges, express, postage, telegrams, logs, decorations, transportation, solicitors, employees and other incidentals. The committee has prepared a full statement to be sent to all camps interested.

The executive committee of the Central Washington Log-Rolling association was appointed in this city in May and began work without a postage stamp. They have had hard work to make the picnic come out even, but have succeeded. Over 300 letters have been written and more than 100 bundles of advertising matter sent out. One new feature about the picnic is the fact that no business man was begged to give anything for the payment of expenses. The only solicitation was a business proposition for advertising in the Log-Roller and all were given full value for the money expended in that paper.

A nice parade was given in the morning and a good picnic at the fair grounds in the afternoon. The affair closed with a dance in the armory. Prizes awarded at the fair grounds were as follows:—One mile bicycle race, Louie Hulse, first and J. Wimer second; five mile race, W. E. Hankey, first and Le Roy Shaw, second; one mile novelty horse race, W. L. Pickard, first and A. B. Simmons, second; Foresters' drill, Zillah, first, Yakima, second; girls race, Florence Redfield, first and Mable Oplstil, second; boys race, Thomas Chambers, first and William Pyles, second; professional race, Vernie Bounds, first and Darwin Redfield, second; Log-rolling, Thorp, first and Yakima, second; pole vault, Clyde Holliday; tug of war, Thorp, first and Zillah second.

LUSCIOUS YAKIMA FRUITS

Big Crops and Good Prices in Prospect.

Local fruit and produce men are extremely busy at this time in making preparations to handle the unusually large crop of fruit and melons, which the valley is producing this season. F. E. Thompson who made this office a pleasant call on Monday stated that his fruit crop this year was almost an ideal one, both in quantity and quality. Mr. Thompson is employing a large number of packers and expects to market his entire crop in the east, principally Montana. In addition to the product of his own fine orchard, consisting of sixty odd acres, he will also pack the fruit of some neighboring orchards which he has purchased.

P. J. Flint states that he will begin in a few days to ship the luscious Crawford peach, which will be followed in quick succession by the later varieties. Mr. Flint has an orchard of 180 acres and will require a small army of pickers and packers this year.

The melon men are equally as active as their busy season begins about the same time. H. M. Gilbert, the well known Toppenish rancher, who with his 300 acres of melons is the largest grower in the northwest, stated on Monday that he would begin shipping cantaloupes next week and that while the entire crop was somewhat late owing to the backward season, the yield would be simply immense of both "cants" and watermelons. The present warm weather he says is very satisfactory to the melon men. Mr. Gilbert is entitled to much credit for the enterprise he has shown in opening up a market for the products of Yakima as he has succeeded in working up a brisk demand for his melons in many localities where the luscious fruit of our vines had never been seen before. It will require several hundred cars to transfer Mr. Gilbert's crop this year. The growers are all feeling contented at the present outlook for prices.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

State Fair Notes.

Harry H. Collier, superintendent of the poultry department of the State Fair, has succeeded in getting a half fare rate from the Northern Pacific express company for poultry shipped here for exhibition purposes. He has the promise of the largest show of poultry and pet stock ever made in the state.

The State Fair commission has contracted with A. F. Switzer for additions to the grand stand and several improvements on the fair grounds. The seats will be extended in front of the new stand and a wire fence put in front of the stand.

Hon. A. J. Splawn, of the State Fair commission has gone to western Washington and Oregon to interview the prominent stockmen and get them to make exhibits at the fair this fall.

New Market Report.

A Spokane editor who prepared the annexed market report had a happy conception of life and a good tab on things as they are:

Young men, unsteady; girls, lively and in good demand; coffee, considerably mixed; fresh fish, active and slippery; eggs, quiet but will probably open in a few days; whisky, steadily going down; onions, strong and rising, boots and shoes, all soled and steadily going up and down; hats and caps, not so high as last fall; money, close enough to get hold of; feathers, light; butter, growing stronger every day; advice, good but not in demand.—Paha Hub.

Jimmy's Oversight

(Chicago News.)

It was five-year-old Jimmy's custom when he said his prayers each night to remember each member of the family and ask for his or her individual blessing. He had finished with a heartily piped "Amen!" in a high treble and his mother had turned down the light preparatory to leaving. As she reached the threshold she saw Jimmy again on his knees at the bedside, and stopping to listen she caught the words, uttered with great earnestness:

"Say, God, wouldn't that kill you? I forgot grandma."

Reason Enough.

(Washington Star.)

"Behead the brass band!" shouted the Chinese emperor.

The court favorite looked questioning-ly at the empress dowager.

"Certainly," said she. "If it will amuse him, behead the entire band."

"But what reason shall I give?"

"Simply call attention to its lack of delicacy. As we were entering the Forbidden City it played 'The Old Home Ain't What It Used to Be.'"

To Save Her Child

From frightful disfigurement, Mrs. Nannie Galleger, of La Grange, Ga., applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in Sores, Bruises, Skin Eruptions, Cuts, Burns, Scalds and Piles. 25c. Cure guaranteed by Quiett & Ayres druggists.

Inasmuch as the heat and drouth of the past few weeks seem to have been broken, the farmers of Kansas are now engaged in planting and replanting, apparently having abundant confidence in the remainder of the season. The seed houses are working overtime to supply the demand.—Toocom News.

A Chiropodist's Advice.

A chiropodist advises that foot comfort is much enhanced if all callous places on the feet are made perfectly smooth. This can be done easily and the feet kept in excellent condition by using a fine pumice stone every morning after the bath. The pumice stone should, of course, be wet, and if rubbed daily over the points on the feet that have hardened or shown a tendency to harden the places can be made and kept smooth. After a corn has been removed, too, a light rubbing daily of the place where it has been will often prevent its return.

When Lot's wife was turned to salt, he probably started to look for a fresh one.—Kansas City Star.

POWER OF IMAGINATION.

A Druggist's Story of How It Worked In One Case.

"The power of imagination," said a New York druggist, "is past comprehension. Not long since a domestic in the employ of a prominent family came into the store in great haste with a prescription which called for two grains of morphine in two ounces of aqua pura—that is, distilled water—the accompanying direction reading, 'A teaspoonful every hour until the pain is allayed.' The patient for whom it was intended was the head of the family, who was suffering from a severe attack of nervous neuralgia.

"Now, it so happened that the family physician who had written the prescription was behind the counter when the messenger arrived, having dropped in, as was his wont, on the way to his office. While I was putting up the prescription we chatted and laughed and joked and passed the time of day as only professional men are capable of doing. I filled the bottle, corked it carefully and labeled it properly, and when the retreating form of the domestic had disappeared out of the store door returned to my companionable physician visitor. As I did so I saw to my amazement the two grains of morphine reposing upon the prescription scales.

"'Doctor,' I ejaculated, 'I've given that girl nothing but distilled water. The morphine is here; look at it. What shall I do?'

"'Do?' he replied, with admirable sang froid. 'Do? Why, nothing at all. I'll wager you that the aqua pura will work as well without the opiate as with it.'

"'Agreed,' said I. And do you know," concluded the pharmacist, "the doctor was right, and the patient with the nervous neuralgia—an exceptionally intelligent and college bred man—was sleeping as peacefully as a babe after the second dose of the 'mixture.' Faith is everything where medicine is concerned."—Exchange.

STALKED BY VULTURES.

While a Man Was Trailing a Buck the Birds Followed the Man.

I met with a curious and not altogether pleasant experience, writes an Anglo-Indian correspondent who has done a good deal of large and small game shooting in India, when I was one day stalking a black buck. Between me and my quarry lay a large flat field of black cotton soil bordered by a very low, straggling and thinly growing hedge of small babul trees. My only way to get a shot was to cross this, keeping the bushiest tree between me and the buck, who had not much to browse on and was therefore seldom motionless. I proceeded to do the hundred yards on the flat of my stomach. This on loose, hard baked black cotton soil was no joke. I pushed my rifle on ahead; then, wriggling past it until the muzzle was near my knee, I would pass it on in front again, and so on.

Progress was slow, and I was so absorbed that I failed to observe shadows crossing and recrossing my path and circling round until I had gone some 50 yards. Then the whirring of wings attracted my ears, and almost at the same moment a vulture landed on the ground not 20 yards away. I looked up. The air was alive with these repulsive looking birds. Then it flashed across me that I was being stalked! Doubtless these birds were attracted by my extraordinary method of procedure and mistook me for a wounded or dying man making a final effort to reach some shady spot. This was especially possible, as the experience occurred in a famine district where deaths by the wayside were not infrequent. By looking up I had evidently shown myself to the buck, for he was now off at full tilt. I therefore took pot shot at the vulture at 20 yards, but did not allow for the sighting sufficiently and missed him. The thought of being waited for by a flock of vultures while very much alive and well was, to say the least, uncanny.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Burden Bearers of the East.

In the east the camel today, as in the days of Solomon, is the principal beast of burden in peace and in war. Across the pitiless desert he strides, his great pack nodding as he swings along. Down the old, old trail that winds through the hills of Lebanon, blinking, they come in pairs, bringing cedars to the sea. But the most remarkable of all freighters is the eastern hamal, the human burden bearer. All or nearly all the freight of Constantinople is handled by the hamal. He wears on his back a regular pack saddle, thin at the top, where it rests on his shoulders, and thick at the bottom, where it ends at his hips. A broad band circles his forehead, and when he leans forward the saddle presents a flat, level surface.—Munsey's Magazine.

Impossible at the Price.

A certain parvenu of great wealth has hanging in his drawing room a large and hideous daub in oils which some dealer in Paris induced him to buy. He is very fond of taking a caller by the arm, leading him before the canvas and saying:

"Great picture that. By Macaroni di Vermicelli, you know. Paid £2,000 for it in Paris and got a great bargain. F." (naming an eminent artist) "says it is worth £10,000."

A few days since this gentleman was lunching at the Artists' club when the cat came out of the bag. Some one said:

"F., old Centpercent says that you have appraised that frightful nightmare of his at £10,000. Is it true?"

The artist answered smilingly:

"I will tell you how that happened. He asked me to dinner one day and after we left the table took me to see the picture and told the usual story. Then, turning abruptly, he asked:

"'How much is that painting worth?'

"'Why, Mr. Centpercent,' said I, 'I really would not like to place a value upon it.'

"'Well, I'll put it differently,' said he. 'How much would you charge for such a picture?'

"'I don't mind saying,' I answered, 'that I would not paint such a picture for £10,000.' I had to be civil, you know."—London Answers.
