OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Republicans are in a Snarl Over Tariff Bill—Senate Committee is Giving Tariff Barons Practically Everything They Demand.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—The republicans in congress are getting themselves into a pretty snarl over their alleged tariff revision. Apparently President Taft and some other members of the party deluded themselves with the belief that "the tariff could be revised by its friends," but the attempt has served only to demonstrate the accuracy of the democratic contention that the republican party is the creature of trusts and special interests, that its members are beholden to them for their election to congress, and that however insistent may be the demands of the voters or the wails of the consumers, they dare not disobey their masters. Were the tariff system what it purports to be, simply a method of encouraging infant industries to a point where they can stand alone, the claim that the tariff law should be revised by its friends would be logical and consistent, but whatever may have been the fundamental theory of the protective system, as administered by the party in power it has become simply a method of enhancing the profits and perpetuating the monopolies of its beneficiaries who in return for the favors conferred upon them send men to congress to carry out their wishes whenever a revision is undertaken. The truth of these assertions is becoming apparent to Mr. Taft and other theoretical advocates of that fundamental policy of the republican party. Already the president is beginning to realize that in the near future he will be confronted with the dilemma of vetoing the Aldrich-Payne bill because it is in no sense a "revision downwards," or of signing a bill which in no essential makes good the pledges of his party, as expressed in the platform on which he was nominated and elected.

Behind the closed doors of the finance committee Senator Aldrich and his colleagues are gradually but surely eliminating from the Payne bill every feature which could, by any stretch of the imagination, be regarded as in the interest of the consumer. Republican senators on the finance committee complain bitterly of the selfishness of the protected interests. They say frankly that these men are so insistent on the maximum of protection that they demand rates which must prove the destruction of kindred industries. The tanners of hides insist upon duties which the makers of boots and shoes declare will prove their ruin. The steel trust insists upon duties on bar steel which make it impossible for the manufacturers of tools to turn out their products at a profit. "But, why do you heed these inordinate demands?" your correspondent asked a republican member of the finance committee. The reply was as illuminating as it was frank: "They are our friends," said the senator, "and we cannot afford to incur their enmity."

Whether the next house of representatives is republican or democratic depends entirely upon whether it is possible to deceive a majority of the people all of the time. The republican candidates for re-election will go on the stump and point to the magnificent reduction of five-one-hundredths of a pound they have made in the duty on raw sugar. Of course they will say nothing of the fact that as long as they left the duty on refined sugar intact the reduction profited only the sugar trust. They will point to the increased duty on gloves and hosiery as evidence of the solicitude of their party for the girls and women working in the knitting factories and numbering several hundred thousand, but they will say nothing of the consumers compelled to pay higher prices or wear thinner gloves and stockings and numbering several millions. If the voters think, instead of permitting the republican politicians to do their thinking for them November, 1910, there will be a democratic majority in the next house of representatives. Attorney General Wickersham has struck a body blow at the Kansas law guaranteeing bank deposits. He has officially decided that National banks cannot avail themselves of this law and therefore, enter into competition with the state banks. It remains a question whether the national banks will be driven out of business in Kansas or their all-powerful influence will prove sufficient to repeal the law. When Mr. Wickersham was asked recently if it were true that he has received a fee of $200,000 from the Chicago traction companies for his work on the reorganization committee, he replied that it was und that he did not deem the fee inordinate, in fact he doubted if he would be willing to undertake life work for the same compensation. There may be no connection between these facts, but there are those who will be prone to believe that the New York corporation lawyer who charged the Chicago traction companies $200,000 for his "services," would naturally feel little consideration for the Kansas bank guarantee act.

DODGED THE WOMEN

Chicago Women Move on Congress and Protest Against Increased
Duty on Stockings and Gloves—
Payne Dodges While "Uncle Joe" is Sarcastic.

Chicago, April 13.—Several senators and congressmen are going to receive letters of commendation for the consideration with which they treated the Chicago delegation of women who have just returned from hearing the tariff protest to Washington, and several are going to receive missives of an entirely different character.

Four displeased women are disseminating word throughout the city today that congress in general is not conversant with the book of Washington etiquette appertaining to the rules of how to treat a woman when she comes to present a petition.

"They ducked when they saw us coming—that described their official movements. They ducked."

So Mrs. E. M. Henderson describes the deportment of the members when the women wandered through the capital in search of whom they might address.

"Chairman Payne, of the ways and means committee, gave orders: 'When those women come here from Chicago, tell them I am out.'"

"That is the way we were to be received by him. But it happened when we were going past the door of the committee room, Congressman Payne himself came running out on his way to the elevator. He saw us coming with Congressman Foss and he tried to take to the tall timber, but he was too late. Mr. Foss called to him that there were some women whom he would be delighted to meet, and he had to stand fire then."

"Speaker Cannon, when he saw us, said something about the price of hats we had on being about $60, and so why not stockings 6 cents a pair higher than the 25 cents we pay now. How can you argue against things like that?"

Suit for Damages.

Frank McIntyre of Toppenish has brought an action against Police Judge William Simons, former Marshal Wellington and City Attorney R. D. Campbell, all of Toppenish, to recover $6,000 as damages for alleged false imprisonment. It is alleged that McIntyre was arrested about a month ago charged with a minor offense. A change of venue was taken from Justice Simons and he was placed under a heavy bond. The other justice let him go on his own recognizance. It is alleged that Campbell had him arrested again and placed in jail. It is for this imprisonment that the action for damages is brought. Lee & Hatfield are attorneys of the plaintiff.

TWO INVENTIONS BY YAKIMA MAN

The McGonigle Vacuum Pump Proves a Success—
Local Genius Also Invents Telephone Repeater
Which will Probably Make Him Rich.

The McGonigle gasoline vacuum pump, which has been on trial at Bremerton, has been working so satisfactorily that the local stockholders in the company feel very much enthused over the possibilities of the wonderful machine. Those familiar with the new pump believe it to be thoroughly adapted to irrigation projects requiring a heavy lift. The master mechanic of the Bremerton navy yard, who is vice president of the company owning the McGonigle patents, is very much pleased with the working of the machine and predicts a bright future for it. Many people have inspected the working model at Bremerton and have left orders for pumps. It is understood that the company is about to enter into a contract with the Washington Iron Works at Seattle for the manufacture of the pump on a large scale.

C. W. McGonigle of this city is the inventor of the vacuum pump and is undoubtedly a man of genius. In addition to the pump he has invented what seems to be the greatest improvement yet made on the telephone which extends the usefulness of that great utility in a wonderful way. This invention of McGonigle, which is protected by two patents, is a telephone repeater to be used for long distance conversation. This is a simple mechanical contrivance of a fulcrum mounted with a sounding board and attached to a long distance wire. In brief, it takes the voice off the wire, enlarges its volume many times and transmits it to the next station. It is believed that it will transmit the human voice in relays of at least 100 miles, thus making it possible to talk clear across the continent. It may revolutionize the telephone business.

James Sharp of this city is a half owner with Mr. McGonigle in the telephone patents.

LAW MAY CURTAIL JUNE WEDDINGS.

The second week of June, the glorious marriage month, a new law restricting weddings will take effect. The law is prosaically scientific and it is strange the law-makers did not provide that it should take effect at some other time than the poetic season of roses. However, it is the law and protest is now unavailing. For those who do not believe in the science of eugenics there will be 11 or 12 days in June to get married according to the old custom. After that a physician must be consulted.

The recent legislature believed the human race could be improved and problems of society solved by forbidding the marriage of certain persons. It believed that insanity and dependency could thus be reduced. In his last message to the legislature Governor Mead recommended the enactment of such a law. He spoke of the increasing insanity and overcrowded hospitals for the insane in this and other states. Evidently the message impressed the legislature.

The law prohibits the marriage of a common drunkard, habitual criminal, epileptic, imbecile, feeble-minded person or person who has heretofore been afflicted with hereditary insanity, or is afflicted with "pulmonary tuberculosis in its advanced stages," or has a loathsome disease. A clergyman or any official who performs a marriage ceremony contrary to law may be fined $1,000 or imprisoned not to exceed three years. The penalty is so severe that a violation of the law is unlikely.

Before a county auditor may issue a marriage license he must require applicants to file an affidavit of at least one licensed physician showing that the contracting parties do not fall within the prohibition of the law. An affidavit of "some disinterested credible person" is required to show that the contracting parties are not habitual criminals and that they are of legal age, which is 21 for men and 18 for women. With the consent of parents or guardians males 18 years of age and females 15 may contract marriage, but no consent shall be given or license issued for a female under 15. Under the law at the present time there is no prohibition against the marriage of a female of any age, providing the parents give consent, and there have been cases where parents consented to the marriage of young girls.

The new law will operate to check runaway marriages, inasmuch as it would not be easy for elopers to consult physicians and produce credible witnesses in a strange city. Cupid, being of a romantic rather than a scientific turn and having little sympathy with eugenic theories, will probably be very busy the first two weeks in June—Tacoma Ledger.

FINISHING TOUCHES

Now Being Put on the A-Y-P
Grounds at Seattle—All Preliminary Work to be Done by May 15

Twenty-one hundred men are hard at work putting the finishing touches on the buildings and grounds of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, says a Seattle report. Of this number 450 are engaged on the group of buildings under construction by the United States government and the remainder upon such of the state buildings as are now finished and upon the elaborate scheme of landscape gardening which is now down to its last details.

Another regiment of workers is busy inside the exposition structures installing exhibits from every country under the sun. The Alaska exhibit will have been fully placed by April 15. The Alaska and Philippines buildings were the first completed by the government and an excellent idea of the marvelous exhibit of the northland is already to be had. The Philippine exhibit is not yet in the city, but is close to the port on two government transports.

The Hawaiian building is complete save some of its ornamentations of plaster staff and May 1 will see the exhibit in place with the exception of the pineapple fields, which will not be planted until the eleventh hour. The government aquarium is another on the completed list, its interior is rapidly being made ready for its exhibit of live food fish.

Nearly all of the staff work remains to be done upon the central government building, but as all of the heavy construction is done and the staff goes on quickly, under skilled hands, everything will have been finished by the middle of April. The exhibits will be ready for installation at that time as they are now en route from the national capital.

The seven and one-half miles of asphalt paving has been completed for a fortnight and the electrical installation was finished with the erection of the thousands of ornamental ground lights.

The director of works announces that, at the present rate of progress, the exposition will be a completed product by May 1 with the possible exception of a few touches on the "pay streak" which will not carry beyond May 15 at the latest.

Great Evangelist Here.

Charles Reign Seoville, the evangelist who is to conduct revival services at the Christian church, arrived Thursday from Des Moines, Iowa, with the remainder of his party, a portion of the party having arrived here Sunday. His series of meetings was begun in the handsome new Christian church here the same evening, the edifice being crowded to its full capacity.

At Des Moines this great revivalist met with wonderful success, bringing 2626 converts to the fold during his vigorous campaign there.

A Miniature Gold Mine.

Bars of gold, tons of rich gold quartz and many sacks of richest concentrates aggregating half a million dollars in value will constitute the exhibit at the A-Y-P. of the Treadwell Gold mines on Douglas island, Alaska. The company will have a small milling plant at which gold ore from the mines will be treated, the same as at the great works on Douglas island.

The Treadwell has been in almost continuous operation for 25 years and has produced during that time an average of $2,000,000 in gold a year, half of which is clear profit. The Treadwell takes its name from its discoverer, James Treadwell. It is now owned by the Rothschilds of England.

WANTS A FRANCHISE

George Donald Will Ask Council for Right-of-Way Over City Streets for Moxee Line at Next Meeting.

George Donald, the well known Yakima railroad builder, will make formal application to the city council at its meeting next Monday evening for a franchise to cross certain streets in the north end of the city for his proposed railway line into the Moxee. The proposed right of way is along the south side of G street, where Mr. Donald has purchased a right of way for six blocks from property owners. In order to utilize this route, however, permission must be obtained from the city to cross Front, First, Second, Third, Fourth, Naches avenue, Sixth and Seventh streets.

Action cannot be taken on the petition next Monday evening, as under a charter provision a franchise application must go over for two weeks. It is deemed most likely, however, that the franchise will be granted by the council, although there is said to be some opposition among certain north end property owners, who think that Mr. Donald could just as well use the spur of the Cascade Lumber company as an entrance to the city. Mr. Donald maintains that such a plan is not feasible from an engineering, nor from an operating standpoint. He says that such a route would make it necessary to cross the mill yards, entailing great expense to his project and much inconvenience to the mill company. Besides, there is no feasible place for a bridge across the Yakima at that point, according to the reports of his engineers.

Apparently most of the business men are in favor of the city council granting the franchise on the theory that the more roads radiating from the city the better. They are also alive to the fact that the expenditure of half a million dollars in the purchase of right of way and construction work so close at hand this summer would be a strong aid to the local business situation. But the main point, they say, is that the Moxee country needs the road and that its building in time to handle the present year's crop will prove a material help to that valley.

MUCH ACTIVITY ON AHTANUM

There has been more activity this spring in Ahtanum valley lands than ever known before. This fact is attributed to two or three different reasons, chief among which is the expectation that a branch of the Donald railroad system will be constructed up that valley before long. The Ahtanum was one of the first settled districts in Yakima county. The land has been held largely in large ranches, but the disposition among many of the holders now is to sell or sub-divide their holdings into 10 and 20 acre farms. A railroad to Tampico, 20 miles up the Ahtanum, would revolutionize conditions in that valley and it seems likely that the railroad is to come now before long.

Recent transfers of Ahtanum lands include the following deals: A. L. Sherman, 60 acres near the academy, to Underwood & Coombs of this city, consideration, $13,500. 80 acres of the Hughes ranch from Crosno brothers to Fred Parker, the sale of the old Traynor ranch by H. E. Crosno to Spokane parties, 160 acre ranch sold by E. B. Marks to H. J. Snively, the transfer of the John Shaw ranch by administrator's sale, the purchase of the 400 acre Patton ranch by J. D. Clemmer and associates and numerous other smaller deals made.

THE AUDITORIUM.

The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle, occupying 250 acres of the campus of the University of Washington, will result in benefits for Washington's seat of learning that the University could not have hoped to secure in many years, had not the great fair of 1909 been planned. So the exposition that will exploit Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines and emphasize the importance of the growing trade with the Orient will leave, after its gates have closed, a large number of permanent structures to constantly remind the people of the Northwest of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition and the place it will occupy in the history of the Pacific as the medium through which one-half of the world was brought in such close touch with the other and a tremendous impetus to commercial intercourse given.

Seven buildings on the exposition grounds will be left for use of the University and the auditorium, one of the finest of this group, cost the State of Washington more than $300,000. While the exposition is in progress this building will be used for conventions, congresses and conferences, and its hundreds of seats were in place and the building turned over to the exposition management three months before the opening date of the fair.

SELF CONTROL.

It is One of the Perfections of the Gentleman.

A gentleman is gentle, slow to surmise evil, slow to take offense and slower still to give it. A gentleman subdues his feelings and controls his speech. It is sometimes said of a man that "he can be a gentleman if he wants to be," but a man who can be a gentleman when he wants never wants to be anything else, says the Pittsburg Press.

In the cultivation of courtesy self respect must play a prominent part. We must never pass for more than the value we place upon ourselves. To respect others we must first respect ourselves. Whittier said, "I felt that I was in the world to do something, and I thought I must."

One of the perfections of the gallant man lies in the supremacy of self control. Herbert Spencer, speaking of this important attitude of man as a moral being, said, "Not to be impulsive, not to be spurred hither and thither by each desire that in turn comes uppermost, but to be self contained, self balanced, governed by the joint decision of the feelings in council assembled, before which every action shall have been fully debated and calmly determined—that it is which education, moral education at least, strives to produce."

Nelson in Wolsey's Tomb.

Lord Nelson's sarcophagus in St. Paul's cathedral has been aptly described as a secondhand national tomb, for it was originally constructed for another great Englishman, Cardinal Wolsey. Wolsey had cherished an ambition to be buried within the precincts of Windsor castle and caused his sarcophagus to be carved by one of the most famous sculptors of his time. But Wolsey died in disgrace, and the sarcophagus remained empty at Windsor until Nelson's death, when it was thriftily employed to hold the remains of the hero of Trafalgar.

Old Time Punishment.

In "Pike's History of Crimes," volume 1, page 226, is found the following copy of the sentence of an old time traitor: "It is the order of the court that for your treason you be drawn and hanged and beheaded and that your heart, bowels and entrails, from whence come your traitorous thoughts, be torn out and burned to ashes and that the ashes be scattered to the four winds and that your body be afterward cut into four quarters."

Garden Lanterns.

The noted Japanese gardens, famous for their beauty, owe much of their charm to the quaint lanterns which are used in great profusion. The best of their garden lanterns are made of bronze after quaint native designs. Some of them are richly carved and are of great intrinsic value. Many of these lanterns are of great antiquity, and the best examples are seen at Nikko, famous for its exquisite bronzes.

Project Meets With Favor Among the Literary People of the Eastern States.

The Henry orchard lands under the Tieton project are nearly all sold. Out of the several hundred acres which Mr. Henry had for sale, there remain only about 50 acres. This is all raw land but will be watered by the government canal. The land has been sold to easterners and largely to literary people who will spend a portion of each year on their holdings after the property is improved. The work of clearing the tracts and setting them out to fruit trees is now in progress and a large crew of men is employed.

Buyers Are Plentiful.

"It is no trouble to dispose of land under the Tieton project," remarked Arthur Henry last evening. "The only thing that is worrying us now is where to get more land to sell. Buyers are plentiful and when they learn of Yakima they usually lose no time making purchases, providing, of course, that they are in the market for property. A good deal of our property has been sold by new purchasers. We succeeded in placing a number of our friends and they in turn interested their friends, with the result that our property has been sold in a brief period of time."

Inn Will Be Built.

The Henry literary colony will be absolutely unique. So far as is known there is no other plan in the west like it. A large inn to be known as the "Sagebrush Inn," is to be erected and apartments provided for literary folk who will spend their summers in the Yakima valley. The Inn will be designed much after the style of Old Faithful Inn in Yellowstone National park. It will be modern and will occupy a site in the center of the big tract of land.

Henry Brothers are caring for the property until such time as the purchasers desire to take over the lands and cultivate them themselves.

WHITE BLUFFS.

L. W. Beldin has sold his 40-acre ranch five miles south of town to W. A. Anglin of Seattle for $6,000. The land fronts on the Columbia river and is irrigated by a private pumping system. Mr. Anglin will set the entire tract out to orchard.

T. A. DeBoer of Zillah has purchased 20 acres of dry land near White Bluffs from F. M. Weil.

C. H. Judkins has disposed of his restaurant business here and will start a new grocery store.

A pumping plant costing over $1,000 has been installed by Charles Cunningham on his ranch across the river. His new bungalow residence is almost completed.

W. E. Cage this week sold his river front tract to A. N. Malthie and with his family has gone to Bremerton, where he has a position with the government.

New irrigation projects are being started in this vicinity so frequently that it is difficult to keep track of them all. The latest project to be established calls for the watering of 300 acres of land on the east bank of the Columbia just below Priest Rapids. G. H. Prichard, who owns the land, is now engaged in installing a 40 horse power gasoline engine and triplex pump. This triplex pump is said to be the first of its kind to be used on the river and its work will be watched with the greatest interest by irrigators. The entire tract will be set out to orchard.

Through boat service from Portland to Columbia river points above Kennewick is being considered by the Open River Transportation company, which has had a special agent here this week procuring data as to the amount of freight shipped into this country. The company plans to commence the service by placing one of its largest steamers on the run between Celilo and White Bluffs and making two round trips a week. The schedule will be arranged so as not to conflict with the present three-a-week schedule of the Columbia Steamboat company, operating the Mountain Gem from Pasco and Kennewick. This will give White Bluffs practically a daily boat service.

The coming of the new line is welcomed by the people here, especially the merchants, as it will mean not only quicker and more frequent service but cheaper freight rates. At present all freight has to be transhipped at Kennewick, causing delay and expense that will be obviated when shipments can be made direct from the coast.

THE APOTHEOSIS OF PROTECTION.

Twelve hours' work a day for seven days in the week, with occasionally a "long-turn" of 24 hours' continuous labor. Wages, "for the great majority of the laborers employed by the mills, so low as to be inadequate to the maintenance of a normal American standard of living." For women, of course, still lower wages. Family life in a somewhat depressed, unfourishing state, owing to a week without a Sunday, containing 84 working hours; owing also to deaths from typhoid and from industrial accidents, which break up the family. We have, for example, six cases of men totally disabled by accidents. Loss of income, based on their previous earnings and their expectation of life, amounted to $123,065; total compensation recovered for the injuries amounted to $520—leaving a deficit quite discouraging to poor families.

The foregoing is a significant view of the under side of Pittsburg, derived from the painstaking "Survey" which the Russell Safe Foundation helped on, and which has been published in part by the Charity Organization society of New York—a valuable enterprise, among whose officers are Otto T. Barnard and J. P. Morgan.

Significant views of the upper side have been furnished with rather wearisome regularity by the daily press. We mean the steel millionaire; the splurges and the scandals which have given melancholy notoriety to a certain phase of Pittsburg life.

Pittsburg, of course is the classic ground of protection. The upper and the under views together give you the perfect flower of the protectionist policy. On the one hand, a horde of over-worked, underpaid Slavs and Italians, to protect whom from the pauper labor of Europe the duties are alleged to be levied. On the other hand, the new-rich multi-millionaires. In Pittsburg, as elsewhere, there is a middle ground; but it owes nothing to protection.—Saturday Evening Post.

TAFT IS A REACTIONARY.

The New York Evening Post, a republican newspaper, says that Taft has broken with Roosevelt, the man who made him president, that Roosevelt's nearest friends and supporters are now without standing at the White House and that Roosevelt, although keeping up a bold and cheerful front, left for Africa a sad-hearted man, by reason of Taft's ingratitude.

Well, the Roosevelt worshippers may as well be disillusionized now as later. It is clear enough from the composition of the Taft cabinet and of the kidney of other men that he is appointing to high stations that President Taft has marked out for his administration a course almost diametrically opposite from that of his mentor and predecessor.

Knox, his secretary of state, was for years the attorney of Carnegie and later of the steel trust. Wickersham, attorney general, was Pierpont Morgan's lawyer. Nagel, of the commerce department, was for years a St. Louis Standard Oil attorney. Dickinson, of Tennessee and Chicago, was a Harriman lawyer connected with the Illinois Central. McVeagh, banker and traction magnate of Chicago, with a shady financial record as a stock manipulator.

The spectacle of this bunch of corporation workers posing as reformers is enough to make the gods weep in anger. Surely, if Mr. Taft was sincere in his oft repeated promises and pledges that he would carry out the Roosevelt policies he would not have gathered such a gang of corporation lovers as this about him. No wonder that Teddy started to Africa with a heavy heart.

New members of congress have been making much fuss over the making of the new tariff law, just as though they have any more to do with it further than to vote the way that they are told too. Doubtless they learned the real situation quick enough, but the fuss was made merely for home consumption. This tariff law, like others that preceded it, has been prepared in all essential details by the representatives of the great trusts acting through certain republican representatives and senators who control both branches of congress and who stand near the throne of King Mammon and obediently carry out his orders. Chief among such servitors are those two able generals of the interests, Aldrich and Cannon, the one in full control of the senate, the other of the house. These men carry out the decrees who gave them their places of great power and maintain them there. What balderdash it is to say that the men who misrepresent us in congress have anything to do with the real work of tariff making. Read Ida Tarbell's article in the American Magazine.

The esteemed Herald advises the city "dads" to refuse George Donald a franchise through the city for his proposed Moxee railroad. This is bad advice, and our daylight contemporary, we think, might use its valuable editorial space to better advantage, at least from the standpoint of the public. The building of every new line of railroad radiating from this city is a gain for the public, inasmuch as more roads are now sadly needed to properly develop the surrounding country. Some people howled themselves hoarse here three years ago when Mr. Donald built the Naches line and the council at that time refused him a franchise. But the construction of that road has been a great public benefit just the same, for it has helped both the city and the district it serves. A freight hauling road the Moxee people sorely need and this is their opportunity to get it. The new road will greatly benefit that district and incidentally the city. Why stand in the way of progress, neighbor?

In many ways the grandfathers and the grandmothers excelled us in getting the boys ready for their parts in life. They of the old time preached and bore witness of the virtues of sweat bringing work, plain living and sober thinking, self denial and royal patriotism. We coddle and tell our children that money is God—if not in word, by that still more potent influence, example. Young men of 20 are thus made big, soft, spiritless infants. Washington could command men at 21—what a host of our present 21ers are pale cheeked, insipid cigarette sucking striplings! Upset the Morris chairs, open gates and urge the fledglings to go out and make a mark in the world.—Ex.

Former Senator Fulton of Oregon has been playing in hard luck. First his constituents turned him down for reelection to the senate. Then Fulton got congress to pass a law authorizing a new federal judge for Oregon, assuming that he would receive the appointment. But so much opposition developed to Fulton in Oregon that the cautious Taft refused the appointment, offering Fulton the Chinese mission instead as a consolation prize. But the "Chinks" are now up in arms and say Fulton is not acceptable at the court of Peking, owing to his pronounced record in the senate in favor of Chinese exclusion. Poor, unhappy, discarded Mr. Fulton!

It has been charged that Gov. Hay assented to the Wenatchee bridge steal, whereby the state has been held up for $180,000, because of his ownership of land in that vicinity. We don't know whether such a statement is true or not. Whether it is or not the governor missed the opportunity of his life by not vetoing the steal. After assenting to it he could not very consistently cut out a lot of other thieving appropriations. And thus he put himself in a hole. But worse than that, he put the state and all its taxpayers in a hole.

Gov. Hay and Warden Reed are certainly assuming a great deal when they take the stand that the public has no right to know or rather that it is better that the public be kept in ignorance in regard to paroles and pardons issued to convicts. This is not only a most unwise stand for any official to take, but it is a most impudent one. If it is not the public's business to know about such matters, then, pray, whose business is it? Such assumption on the part of accidental public servants is enough to make one laugh if it were not such a serious matter.

Business has been pretty dull over at Olympia since the legislators quit drinking oyster cocktails and under a constitutional requirement were obliged to adjourn. The fact therefore that business is bad makes the average Olympian rear up on his hind legs and holler for the state to come to his rescue. "Business is bad here," he declares, "therefore you must build that capitol for us and build it right away." The fact that a new capitol is not a present necessity and that the state, in order to comply must sacrifice a lot of its valuable lands don't alter the case from the Olympia man's standpoint.

The new penal code enacted by the late unlamented legislature is on the whole a pretty coarse piece of work and calculated to give the moral reformers of the state a fit of the blues. There is nothing in the code, for instance, that makes a redlight district in any city within the state illegal. Imagine the horror with which this discovery was made! As a result of the passage of the new code Mayor Armbruster's "stockade" across the track is said to have reopened for business. The wretched work of that legislature is something that the people never will be able to forget.

The Washington correspondents say that Senator Jones is busy these days trying to get a bill through the senate that will give President Taft $25,000 per annum for traveling expenses. The inference is plain enough that if the senator gets his little bill through "Big Bill" will be able to find the time to come out here this summer and take in the A. Y. P. E. And that would help some to advertise the exposition at any rate. And it would help Mr. Jones some, too, at both ends of the line. And that is the important thing.

The Spokane republicans had the temerity to reject the advice of the owner of the Spokesman-Review and the Chronicle in the nomination of a mayoralty candidate. As a result the twins are supporting Pratt, the democratic candidate, tooth and nail. What effect such support will have on that gentleman's chances of election remains to be seen, although there are said to be plenty of men in the Falls City willing to wager that according to precedent it will kill Mr. Pratt off at the polls.

The editor of a snarling, hypocritical negro paper at Seattle, which subsists on the crumbs and offal that drop from the hands of republican politicians who feed or hope to feed at the public crib, is apparently of the opinion that The Democrat has no business to even discuss republican politicians of this state. Well, whether we have or not we will not stop to ask permission of the negro oracle at Seattle.

That eminent authority, the Post-Intelligencer, has been closely investigating the record of the late legislature and confesses itself astounded at its profligacy, manifested by total appropriations of $8,585,518.27. The word picture which that paper prints of what the taxpayers of the state are up against is not a particularly cheerful one, coming as it does from the republican oracle, but it is a true one nevertheless.

Insurance Commissioner Schively will have to explain his rotten official record not only to the legislative committee but to a Spokane grand jury. But we opine that Mr. Schively will be able to do the double stunt in a manner satisfactory to himself, for the man is an expert juggler with facts and figures and is likely to get out of his present scrape with merely a coat of whitewash, and with his hungry lips still fastened to the public teat.

Everyone should take an interest in the Yakima county exhibit at the A. Y. P. E. It will be the finest opportunity to show the world what we have to offer that we have ever had or are likely to have for years to come. Not only that but we must not forget that Yakima has a reputation that must be maintained. We can't afford to permit any rival district to beat us under the wire.

The new criminal code, passed by the legislature, which goes into effect June 12, will compel saloon keepers to remove all screens or other devices that obstruct the public view of their premises. This ought to put the saloon business on a higher plane.

Those Jocannon democrats in congress will have some tall explaining to do when they get home this summer. That most of them will die politically is already written in the stars.

Shows Greatest Gain of Any Second Class Office in the State of Washington.

North Yakima has the banner postoffice among the 18 second class offices of the state of Washington. Excepting Bremerton, the navy yard town where the government sends out great quantities of mail, the local postoffice shows a larger gain than any other office. The receipts of the fiscal year ending March 31 show a gain of 21.7 per cent over the receipts of the year 1907. Mount Vernon comes second with a gain of 21.4 per cent and Port Townsend is third with a gain of 19.6 per cent.

Greater Than Walla Walla. Walla Walla, with a population of 20,000 or better, has gained only 7.5 per cent and its total receipts are only $42,541, while the receipts of this office are a very little less, the total being $41,454. North Yakima is supposed to be just half as large as Walla Walla. North Yakima and Walla Walla are the only two offices that have been advanced in class.

Wenatchee's total receipts were $17,867 and its gain is 16.9 over the preceding year. Aberdeen has a total of $27,158 and a gain of 9.2 per cent.

Proves Merit of City. "This report ought to prove conclusively that this is the best little city in the state," said Postmaster W. L. Lemon today. "Other towns may make a great noise about their resources and wonderful increase in population but when it comes to cold figures, North Yakima is always in the lead."

"I consider the postal receipts to be an excellent manner of judging a community. We have advanced in every possible way. Our population has increased wonderfully as is shown and times have been such in the Yakima valley that we have been able to buy postage stamps now and then."

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

Wheat Market Causes Material Change in Three Grades of Local Bread Material.

Yakima Best, Duten Mill and Whole Wheat Flour jumped 40 cents a barrel yesterday in North Yakima. Other grades remain unchanged. The advance is due to the wheat market, which is just now about as high as it will probably get. All grains have been materially advanced in price.

There are few new features in the markets this week. The potato situation is about as it was last week. Three warehouses are partially filled. A commission man stated this morning that there are now 1,000 tons of potatoes stored along Commission Row. The jobbers who are supplying the retail trade are not buying. The speculation is being carried on by outsiders, principally.

Hay is still in good demand and alfalfa and wheat are selling at top notch prices. As high as $13 per ton is being paid for both varieties and the supply is not plentiful.

PROTECT THE BIRDS OF YAKIMA VALLEY

Movement to Follow Example of Farmers of New York State Is Being Discussed.

Interested in the protection of insect destroying birds, a number of Yakima valley farmers are endeavoring to interest other farmers and fruit growers in an organization, the purpose of which would be to follow the example of the farming forces of New York state who are fighting a desperate battle for a law which will fully protect the wild birds that they know can alone save their crops from insect pests.

There are many species of birds to be found in the Yakima valley and nearly every one of them is of some value to the horticultural industry. It is not known that birds in this valley are killed for their plumage, but it is known that many hundreds are killed each year, apparently for no purpose at all.

Lost $1,000,000,000 Last Year.
According to the statement of William Dutcher, president of the National Association of Audubon societies, more than $1,000,000,000 has been proven by the government to have been lost to the farmers of this land last year through the depredations of insect pests.

The movement in New York has received the support of Gifford Pinchot, head of the national conservation commission, and other prominent men of the east. Commenting on the matter a recent press dispatch says:

Declaring that the valuable bird resources of the whole American people are at stake on the principle of the battle of the New York farmers against the commercial hunters, Gifford Pinchot, head of the national conservation commission, has come out in strong support of the proposed legislation. Letters of warm endorsement of this campaign have also been received at the Audubon headquarters here from C. F. Cox, president of the New York Academy of Science; Madison Grant, chairman of the executive committee of the New York Zoological society; Dr. Raymond A. Pearson, New York state commissioner of agriculture, and E. P. Felt, the state entomologist. F. N. Godfrey, master of the state grange, has already actively enlisted with all his forces in the fight.

Crow Blackbirds Examined.

Half of the daily food of the crow blackbird alone is made up of the insect pests that destroy the crops it has been proven by expert examination of 2250 stomachs of these wild birds, the results of which are being submitted to the legislators here by Dr. T. S. Palmer of the government department of agriculture. With others of the nongame species that it is proposed to protect here, these birds have been shown to be the only effective check to the plague of Brown Tail and Gypsy moths which is sweeping the country from the New England states, where $3,000,000 has already been spent in vain attempts to curb its devastation of the crops and woods. With the insect eating birds it is also planned to shield the snowy owl, which is known to consume hordes of meadow mice, whose depredations have cost the orchardists of the country millions of dollars.

No Plan of Action.

No definite plan of action is outlined in this valley. The matter is simply being discussed. Every man whose attention has been brought to this subject has expressed willingness to assist in any steps that might be taken. Songsters are becoming fewer every year and the beautiful plumaged birds that were found in the valley several years ago do not appear to inhabit this section any more.

No community is complete without its share of wild song birds which perform the dual duty of providing amusement for the rancher in the field and destroying the insects that do great damage to all kinds of fruits and vegetables.

Parker Gets a Good Sendoff.

The opening sale of lots in the new townsite of Parker, held in this city last Saturday, the promoters of a new city say was a great success, some 40 odd lots being sold as a starter. A number of investors were on hand to secure choice locations in the new town, and all present expressed the opinion that Parker has a bright future. Messrs. Rankin, McCready and Poole are the promoters of the new townsite.

TROUBLE WITH BRIDGE

Contractors building the North Coast bridge across the Snake river to connect Walla Walla with the outside world are having great difficulty in driving the piles which flatten out on the solid rock bottom of the river, and refuse to stick, says the Walla Walla Bulletin.

A consulting engineer is now on the ground endeavoring to figure out a remedy for this condition. The water where the bridge is being constructed is 64 feet deep and very swift.

The original site of the bridge has been abandoned and the approaches are now being constructed about 1000 feet farther up the river. On the east side of the river six bents of the approach are about completed and the pile driving is going steadily on on both sides of the river and in the center.

The center piers will be the first ones completed, while the water is at its low stages. About 100 men are now at work, but this number will be quadrupled in a short time.

Mrs. A. C. Robison and daughter, Fay, returned from North Yakima Saturday where they were called to the sick bed of Mrs. Robison's brother.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Everett Brown, on March 20, 1909, a son.

State Land Commissioner Ross was over from Olympia looking after his ranch last week.

J. W. Hayes has been re-elected manager of the Zillah Fruit Growers association for the coming summer.

Rev. Mr. Francis and family moved to Toppenish last week.

Jim McCaslin's young son, Tommie, met with a painful accident one day last week while playing with a cartridge. The cartridge exploded, injuring the child's hand quite badly.

Albert Rayl has a gang of men at work planting trees on the Minnesota Fruit ranch.

E. W. Ross has finished drilling his well on his ranch north of the Sunnyside canal. The well is 630 feet deep and has a large supply of water. Mr. Ross intends to put in a 20 horse power gasoline engine to run the pump. He will irrigate his 60-acre ranch with the water from the well.

Some of the farmers are marketing their potatoes. They are receiving $26 per ton f. o. b. at Toppenish.

Springdale school will close for the summer April 16. A program and basket social will be held in the school house on the evening of the 16th. The money will be spent in buying new books for the library.

Mrs. B. B. Bradley's niece arrived from Wisconsin last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brown spent Sunday at Liberty with Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Colman.

LAND COMMISSIONER ISSUES MORE ORDERS

In no case can commutation proof on homestead or desert entries be accepted when it fails to show that the required residence and cultivation continued to the date on which application for notice of intention to make such proof was filed. These are the instructions just sent out by Fred Dennett, commissioner of the general land office, in order to make clear to entrymen the facts required to be stated in a homestead application (the department intending to be more strict), the following order has been issued:

Ruling Is Strict.

"Registers and Receivers, United States land offices. Gentlemen: A homestead applicant must show that he is over 21 years of age or the head of a family. If he states that he is the head of a family and fails to show that he is over 21 years of age, it is necessary to set forth the facts which constitute him the head of a family, also stating his age.

"A female applicant must show whether she is married or unmarried. If unmarried she must set forth the facts upon which she relies to qualify her to make entry. If she claims the right to make entry by reason of being a deserted wife, she must state the facts relative to the alleged desertion and whether her husband, since the alleged desertion has in any manner contributed to her support.

"Where application papers, executed before other officers than yourselves, are defective in the above particulars, you will suspend them and allow 30 days in which to cure the defect by supplemental affidavit."

Absence Not Excused.

Relative to the absence of officeholders from their homesteads the department has issued the following order:

"In the case of Edward Jenkins, decided by the department on Feb. 3, 1909, it was held that the absence of a person from his homestead entry on account of his duties as a public official can not be excused in the consideration of commutation proof.

"In no case is official employment to be accepted as an excuse for absence from a homestead entry where commutation proof is offered. The making of commutation proof is to be governed by the provisions of instructions issued in October, 1907."

Former Order Emphasized.

The land department repeats and emphasizes its instructions to the effect that persons appointed to office must comply with all the requirements of residence on homestead entries the same as any other persons. Only where one has been elected to office will constructive residence be allowed.

WOULD QUIET TITLE.

Action Brought on 160 Acres of Land West of North Yakima.

John F. McClure has brought an action against Charles W. Malson to quiet title to 160 acres several miles west of North Yakima. All others claiming title or right to this property are also made parties defendant.

It appears from the allegations of the complaint that this tract was sold by the plaintiff to the defendant on April 8, 1880, for $1,000. Three notes were given for this amount and these notes were secured by a mortgage. The defendant failed to pay and in 1881 an action was brought and the mortgage foreclosed. There was no redemption and a deed of foreclosure was given the plaintiff. The plaintiff claims to have been in actual possession ever since. He now asks that the court vest a fee simple title in him.

WHITE BLUFFS.

The baseball season was opened Sunday when White Bluffs defeated the strong Hanford team by a score of 7 to 6. Though errors were frequent and the playing often loose, the game was full of features and excitement.

Division Engineer George N. Rice and Locating Engineer W. S. Gamble of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound railway, were in White Bluffs today. They are driving over the proposed route of the Milwaukee through the valley. The latest survey of the road passes within a mile of White Bluffs.

Active construction is expected to commence at once, as it is known that the company is massing equipment at Beverly, waiting for the exact route the road will follow.

The Checking Account for the Farmer

Many farmers keep a checking account with us regularly because it is a great help and convenience in their every day business.

With a checking account you can tell exactly the total amount of your receipts and expenditures for each month for the entire year. When you sell your farm products, deposit your money in the Bank, subject to check. The obligations you have can be cancelled by check. When you make a purchase, pay by check. We invite you to try this system.

NEW LAW GOVERNS DRAWING OF JURY

Person to Be Eligible for Such Service Must Be an Elector and a Taxpayer.

When the next jury is drawn in the superior court it will be under the new code, which goes into effect on June 11, and provides a number of important changes. One of the important changes is the provision that a juror must be an elector and taxpayer of the state of Washington. Heretofore the provision was "elector or taxpayer," so that a person who was only one or the other could be a juror. Now a juror must be a voter and also the owner of property upon which he pays taxes.

Officers of the United States and of the state, attorneys at law, school teachers, practicing physicians, members of the fire or police department of any municipality, all persons over 60 years of age, shall not be compelled to serve as jurors, and in preparing jury lists the names of such persons shall, if it be known that they are entitled to be excused from jury service, be omitted from the jury list; provided, however, that the right of any such person to be excused from jury service shall not be cause for challenge as to his competency if he desires to serve.

Districts in Court.
Under the new code the judge of the superior court shall divide the county into not less than three nor more than six jury districts, following the lines of voting precincts, and arranging the districts in such manner that the population in each district shall equal, so nearly as may be.

During the month of July in each year the county clerk shall make up a jury list, containing the names of all qualified jurors in the county so far as he may be able to ascertain the same from the latest tax rolls and poll books of the county, or from any other official sources of information, and shall ascertain, so far as possible, the voting precinct and place of residence of each juror, and if these cannot be ascertained, the school district in which he resides.

Box for Each District.
The clerk shall provide boxes sufficient in number to correspond with the number of jury district, and the names of the jurors from each district shall be placed in their respective boxes. The jury list shall be revised from year to year, adding the names of new residents, and omitting therefrom the names of those who have moved from the county or of those who have served as jurors within five years theretofore.

The jury terms shall commence on the first Monday in each month, unless postponed to a later date by order of the court. But the calling of a jury in any month shall be within the discretion of the court, depending upon the amount of business to be submitted to the jury. When a jury is drawn the same number of names shall be drawn from each jury district. As at present the drawing shall depend purely upon chance.

Drawing Grand Jury.
Whenever it is desired to draw a grand jury, such jury shall be drawn in the same manner as a petit jury, but this service does not excuse them from service on the petit jury. Jurors may be excused from service on grounds similar to those under the old code. In no action or proceeding whatsoever, except felony cases, shall the jury be sworn to try the issues therein kept together and in custody of the officers of the court, save during the actual progress of the trial, until the case shall have been finally submitted to them for their decision.

GAS AS AN ILLUMINANT.

China, It Has Been Asserted, Used It Centuries Ago.

It has been asserted, but never proved conclusively, that China used gas for lighting purposes centuries before its use in the western world. If this was so it was doubtless natural gas.

Clayton, at the end of the seventeenth century, stored gas in bladders and played with it at times, and Lord Dundonald in 1787, in working a patent for coal tar, stored up the gas and occasionally used it for lighting up the hall of Culross abbey.

It is to the genius of a Scotsman, W. Murdoch, that we owe our bright illuminant. In 1792 he was living at Redruth, Cornwall, and after experiments in gasmaking he lit up his own house, much to the astonishment of his neighbors.

Called to Birmingham, he erected a large plant for lighting up the Soho works. This drew attention to the whole matter, and in 1803 London began street lighting. The Royal society in 1808 gave Murdoch its Rumford gold medal for his invention.—London Standard.

A Unique Collection.

Among the curious ways by which some persons in England make a living is the sale of castoff garments belonging to distinguished personages, for which the curiosity loving fashionable world affords a sure and profitable market. One English lady has a collection of corsets, including articles from the wardrobes of reigning imperial and royal personages as well as objects of historical interest. Among the latter are a leather corset belonging to Charlotte Corday, the heroine of the French revolution, and a construction of whalebone and steel worn by Marie Antoinette, with an eighteen inch waist.—Toilettes.

Working the Crust.

From my window the other day, writes a New Yorker, I witnessed the ingenuity of a beggar. He evidently had a pocket filled with crusts, and when no one was passing he threw one of them into my yard. Then he waited for a lady or gentleman who carried stick or umbrella and, trembling, appealed for the crust to be brought within his reach. The sympathy he excited was so great that he received a nickel or two from many who heard his plea.

A Mistake Somewhere.

"Is it true, Miss Gertie," he said "that there are just two things a woman will jump at—a conclusion and a mouse?"
"No," she answered; "there is a third, Mr. Philip."
After thinking the matter over a few moments he tremblingly made her an offer, but she didn't jump at it. He was not the right man.

Not Appreciated.

Bjones—It certainly seems to me that a man like Bjackson, who has worked hard all his life and brought up a family of sixteen children, deserves a great deal of credit.

Bjones—No doubt. But he can't have it at the stores.—Somerville Journal.

JURORS ARE DRAWN FOR THE MAY TERM

The jurors for the May term of court, which will open on Tuesday, May 4, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, were drawn this morning by Jury Commissioners A. J. Shaw and Lee Tittle, Mr. Tittle having been appointed in place of Fred Chandler who was out of the city. They were assisted by Clerk of the Court A. W. Barr. The list follows:

List of Those Chosen.

North Yakima, first ward—M. L. Materson, Frank H. Sharkey, W. W. Robertson and A. F. Peck.

North Yakima, second ward—G. M. Boll, W. L. Bryant, James E. Varco, J. P. Crawford and Arthur C. Pease.

North Yakima, third ward—H. Goodlander.

North Yakima, fourth ward—C. W. Bennett and E. Bunce.

North Yakima, sixth ward—J. J. Callahan, J. E. Ryan and J. V. Voss.

Tampico—William Slavin.

Ahtanum—E. J. Hackel.

Hopdale—C. F. Swain.

Upper Naches—W. S. McPhee and A. H. McPhee.

Lower Naches—G. L. Mattoon.

West Sunnyside—C. E. Bissell.

East Sunnyside—D. Campbell and R. G. Page.

Granger—V. V. Hickox and E. M. Douglass.

Parker—E. W. Seveance.

Method of Drawing.

Clerk Barr says that there are many people who are drawn on the jury who are not familiar with the procedure and think that the clerk and the jury commissioners are permitted to exercise their discretion in the selection of the names. Such is not the case. Under the law the jury commissioners meet once in each year and select a list of from 1,500 to 2,000 names of persons that are known to be eligible to serve. These names are printed on slips and placed in the jury box. When it is necessary to select a list of jurors for a term of court the clerk and the jury commissioners meet and the clerk is blindfolded. He then draws the slips from the box until the required number is secured. This morning 55 names were drawn. After a jury is drawn the names are not placed back in the box so that it is impossible for a person to be drawn more than once in the year.

MABTON COUNCIL TAKES TRIP.

Councilmen and Attorney Look Into Water Works and Franchises.

The Mabton town council has just returned from a junketing trip for the investigation of municipal water works systems, electric light franchises, etc. They were accompanied by Attorney

Ward H. Wheeler of North Yakima as their legal adviser. This junketing trip was authorized by the voters of Mabton, who held a mass meeting for that purpose. Mabton is now ready for the adoption of some system for supplying city water and light. The people are anxious that no mistake be made and for that reason ordered the council to make a thorough investigation. Tacoma and a number of other cities were visited, and data of much value was secured.

"THE HOUSE THAT 'SAM' BUILT"

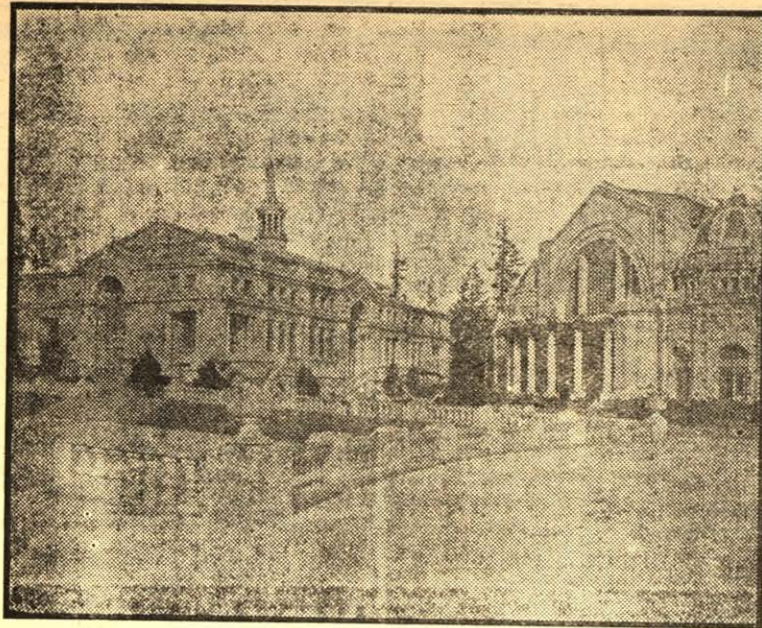

Nineteen years ago Mr. Sam Arendt came to North Yakima to pioneer this city. Not only did he strive in a monetary way, but he tried to make friends with everyone that business and chance threw across his path. How well he succeeded in the latter has been proven by the many kind words anent his sad demise.

His son, Mr. A. H. Arendt, so fully realizes this grand heritage of honor handed down to him, that he has resigned his position with the First National Bank of this city to continue the business, and so far as lies in his power, the honor-policy of this well established institution.

We Have Great Plans For the Future

We desire to close out certain lines in our business, and, possibly, to add others. Then, too, we have the remodeling of our store in view. This will mean rich opportunities to shop here; all of which we will acquaint you with, when the time is ripe, through the medium of this paper.

For the present, at least, we shall occupy our old quarters at No. 10 North Second street, where our many old friends will find the same kind reception as in the past and where we shall make many new acquaintances.

A PORTION OF THE CASCADE COURT.

The Palace of Oriental Exhibits forms one of the twelve mammoth display buildings first completed by the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. Its lines are in pleasing contrast to the Agricultural and Manufacturers buildings, with which they are grouped, and their position overlooks the beautiful formal gardens and water display of the Cascades and Geyser Basin.

The exhibit placed within the walls of the Oriental building constitutes one of the most gorgeous displays of Far Eastern art and manufactured articles ever shipped from the Orient, and is bewildering in beauty and extent. Not a country of Asia is without representation, and treasures of old and modern art, never before permitted to leave the lands in which they were created, will be seen for the first time in the land of the Occident. The matter of arrangement of the Oriental exhibit has been placed in the hands of the most competent and artistic men at command and its display will be worthy of the magnificent collection.

About the Oriental building are gathered the great buildings housing the United States exhibit and the Alaska, Hawaiian and Philippine displays. One of the largest bandstands is within close distance, and from its doors the most noted musical organizations of the world will be heard.

The Commercial club has established the custom of noonday lunches for its members, to be given each Tuesday. The purpose in view is to bring the business men together in a friendly way to talk over local matters of public interest. The first of the series was given in the club's ballroom last Tuesday and was well attended. The luncheon was served by Manager Schroeder of the Yakima.

Dr. C. B. Alexander, of Mabton, was a North Yakima visitor Tuesday.

Albert Arendt has resigned his position as clerk in the First National bank to conduct the store business of his father, the late Sam Arendt, who died in California two weeks ago. The store, located on North Second street, will be enlarged and improved in certain lines by the new manager. The young man grew to manhood in this city, where he has many friends who wish him success. See his announcement in another column.

Geo. Eaton and wife, of Granger, passed through here Sunday en route to Spokane.

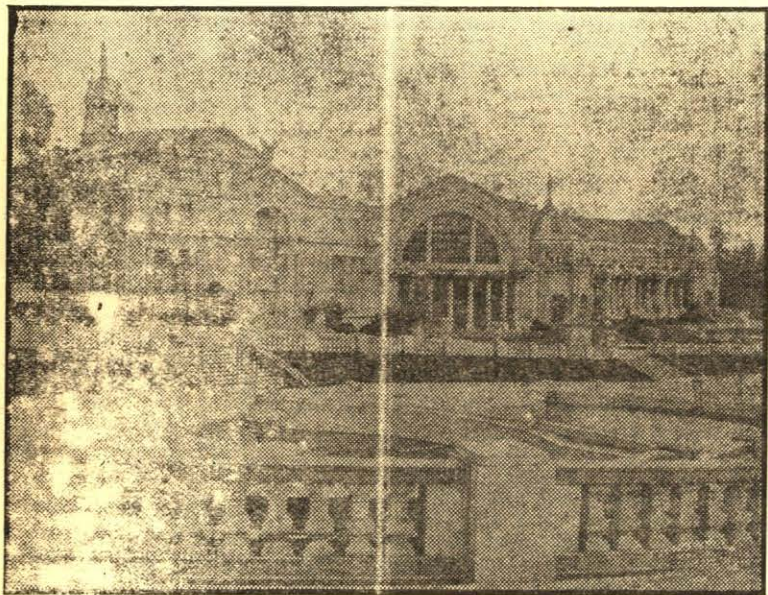

A fine program was rendered at the Indian church Sunday at 11 a. m., conducted by Geo. Waters, and largely attended. Quite a large crowd of white people turned out to hear Rev. Waters deliver his appropriate Easter sermon.

A. C. Turner, of Liberty, was in the place Sunday.

E. J. Holmes, of Ellensburg, was transacting business here Saturday.

Elmer Bardeau of Granger was a pleasant caller here Sunday.

Extreme warm weather prevails for this time of the year all over the valley.

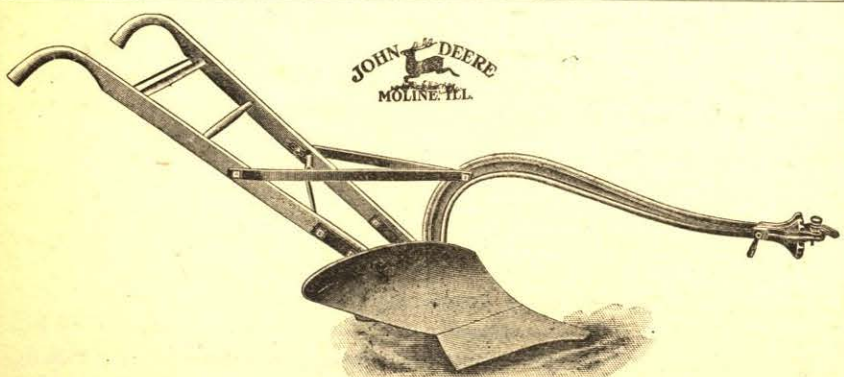

UNIVERSAL PALACE AND MANUFACTURERS BUILDING.

The Palace of Oriental Exhibits and Manufacturers Building have a frontage on Cascade Court and Geyser Basin and look across at Foreign Exhibits and Agricultural Palaces; Yukon Avenue separates these magnificent display buildings, and in the back ground the state buildings of Oregon and California are located.

Construction work on these buildings was completed last year and exhibits are being received and placed in position. The Oriental Palace will house the most valuable collection of Far Eastern art that has ever been sent from the Orient, and will present displays from Japan, China, India, Ceylon, Straits Settlements, French Indo China, Borneo, Java and all the eastern countries of Asia.

The Manufacturers building encloses a vast amount of exhibit space and every foot of this has been engaged for display purposes by domestic and foreign manufacturers. The interest manifested in this department of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition is world-wide and competitive displays will be general and comprehensive. Exhibits are being daily received and the heavy work of installation is rapidly being accomplished.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

Brief Record of Local Happenings for the Week in North Yakima and Vicinity.

The Puyallup Tribune states that expert examination of the Evergreen blackberry fields of that section confirms the fears of growers that many of the canes were killed by the severe weather last January. Only such vines escaped injury as had been permitted to trail on the ground and were protected by the snow. Blackberries are very extensively grown for canning purposes in the Puyallup valley and the almost total loss of the crop is a serious one for growers there.

Attorney Geo. F. McAulay reached home last Sunday from a ten days trip in eastern Oregon, stopping off at Baker City, Vale, Ontario and other places. The big farmhouse on the well known Wiley ranch, nine miles up the Ahtanum, burned to the ground last Saturday, the five it is thought having been caused by a defective flue. James J. Wiley, manager of the ranch, who resided there with his family, was absent from home at the time, being in this city. The farm hands and neighbors saved a portion of the furniture but were unable to stay the flames. Although there was some insurance the loss is quite a heavy one to the Wiley Bros. It is said that they will promptly rebuild.

Mrs. Geo. S. Rankin last Monday received a telegram from St. Cloud, Minn., informing her of the death of her widowed sister, Mrs. Meigs, of that place. Mrs. Rankin, accompanied by her youngest son, left here Monday night to attend the funeral.

The fire is believed to have started from the habit of smoking on the part of an employee. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

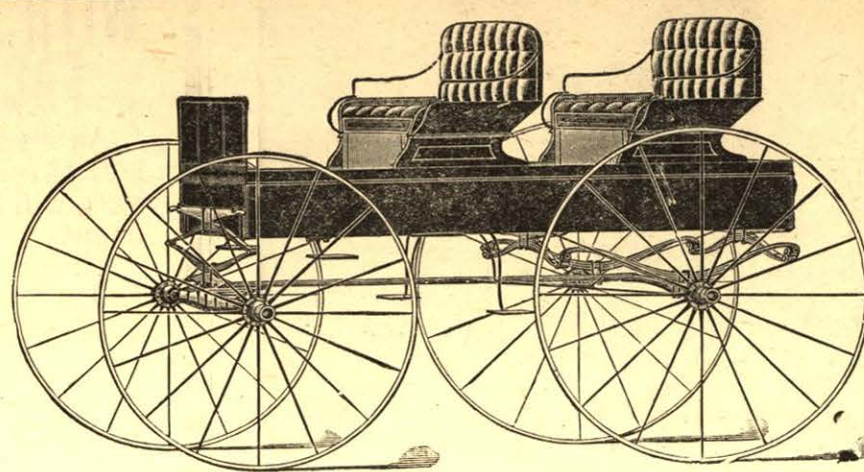

Application has been made by the federal reclamation service to State Land Commissioner Ross asking that the state forbid all private parties and corporations from acquiring water rights in the Yakima river or any of its tributaries for seven years, that the service may have time to complete its reclamation work in Yakima, Kittitas and Benton counties. Notices will be posted by the commissioner along all the streams, that private parties may protest, if they so desire, against the extension.
