

Mrs. Florence D. Reed,

W 2316 1st Avenue,

Spokane, Wash.

Dear Mrs. Reed:

It was very nice to meet someone I had heard so much about, as I did Friday evening. And it was also disappointing that I was tied down to my job Saturday and was unable to be at Fort Sill and see how things went there.

I hope your trip to the fort was enjoyable and that it came up to your expectations. You can well imagine the tremendous amount of history that is being uncovered in connection with the research.

Under separate cover and to the same address I am mailing you a copy of the Yakima Treaty publication that the Yakimas asked me to edit etc.

I am also enclosing one of the advance circulars concerning Drummers and Dreamers, as I mentioned the other night.

I do feel it might have considerable material of value to your area in it. And while not due until spring publication, I'm coming up against a situation soon where I will hardly have time to write promotional letters etc.

I would be most happy to send in an advance order for you to Saxtons. It should be noted on the margin that it is for "library" and it will be discounted. Books for dealer sales have a slightly higher discount I understand, so if you do develop your counter sales, you might remember that.

Again, I trust our trails may pass more frequently now in our historical work.

Most sincerely
