CITY OF YAKIMA STATE OF WASHINGTON

August 19, 1941

*Members of the Washington
State Firemen's Association:*

On behalf of the City and for myself personally, it is a real pleasure to welcome you to Yakima. On an occasion such as this, your Eleventh Annual Fire School, you have perhaps the greatest opportunity since your group was organized to serve the public and safeguard its institutions. In this day of world war your group is one of the keystones of national defense and may prove as important or even more so than front line military organizations in protecting the lives and property of our citizens. I am sure that the matter of national defense will be uppermost in your minds during this convention and that you will be formulating plans which will prove of great benefit to us in the years to come.

I hope you will have a very successful and pleasant meeting together and that if there is anything City officials can do to add to the success of this meeting or to the comfort of those in attendance you will not hesitate to call upon us. With best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

E. B. RILEY,
Mayor.

Wapato Business Men Extend Greetings ..TO THE.. FIRE COLLEGE

Residents of Wapato appreciate the value of an efficient fire department. It has paid dividends in our city through decreased insurance rates and lower fire losses.

The annual fire college, designed to improve the efficiency of the firemen of the state, is a laudable institution.

Wapato business men extend best wishes to the firemen of the state and express the hope that this year's fire college will be mighty successful.

Community Guardians

No other community service requires more certain preparedness for instant action than that of our fire departments.

Every hour and every minute of the year they must be ready. Every day they save for us—not only in little fires put out but in lower insurance rates, and by educational and inspection work which foresees fires and PREVENTS them!

Citizens of Yakima should be proud of their fire department. First in the west to adopt motorized equipment, in 1911, it has steadily increased its efficiency. Considering its moderate cost and widespread territory Yakima's fire department has exceptional rating.

Now better equipment and better roads have extended fire protection to rural areas as well as cities. Truly, our fire departments are community guardians.

Cascade extends grateful appreciation to the Yakima department for prompt help on numerous occasions when promptness meant saving hundreds of jobs as well as valuable property.

Wherever you live, give your fire department thoughtful and liberal support. It is one of your best investments.
