LYNCH STRIKES A RICH VEIN

Veteran Prospector After Many Years of Hard Work at Last Finds Long Looked for Lode in Aurora Tunnel.

John Lynch, the veteran prospector of the Cascades, blew into town last Saturday in a happy frame of mind—and he had reason to feel that way for he felt that he had at last attained the object for which he had struggled hard for a period covering over 20 years. As may be imagined, the news brought out was most welcome to the Aurora company's stockholders, nearly all of whom live in or about this city. The stockholders in this property have always had a wonderful faith in it and while they were delighted with the news of the strike, they were not surprised, as it was what they had anticipated for a long time.

The rich strike was made in the face of the long tunnel, which is now in a distance of 1734 feet. The precious lode is carried in a ledge of porphyry about 20 feet in width, the vein being about five feet wide and carrying ore of an average value of about $100 per ton.

However, Mr. Lynch maintains that the entire ledge of porphyry carries values sufficient to justify working it.

It is undoubtedly the most important strike ever made in the Cle Elum district and will probably do more to advertise that locality among mining investors than anything else that has ever occurred there. The tunnel strikes the lode at a depth of nearly 800 feet, thus proving conclusively that the values go down in that locality, a fact that many mining men have apparently been loth to believe in the past.

Mr. Lynch was the recipient of many congratulations from old time friends for sticking to his job so long and so well, and that he well deserves his reward.

It is understood that the directors of the company are planning to do extensive development work for this season.

JUDGE PREBLE CALLS SPECIAL VENIRE

Prominent Business Men and Farmers from All Parts of the County Subpoenaed as Jurors.

Judge Preble instructed the jury commissioners Thursday morning to draw a special venire of 100 men presumably for the re-trial of Joseph Flannery, half breed Indian, charged with the murder of his wife. It will be remembered that Flannery was tried and convicted in January. However, the prisoner's attorneys, Messrs. Snively and Thompson, succeeded in securing for their client a new trial on the ground that one of the jurors got drunk during the consideration of the case.

Owing to the publicity in the case it is expected that it will be hard to secure another jury to try the prisoner. Meanwhile the cost bills in the case is mounting to fearful proportions and is making tax payers feel pretty sick.

Following is the list of talesmen summoned:

It is reported that Joseph Ralph Burton, formerly United States senator from Kansas, and a life-long republican, is about to renounce his allegiance to the old party and join the democratic camp. The report has been strengthened by the fact that Mr. Burton attended the recent democratic state convention at Hutchinson and was also present at the Bryan banquet in Topeka.

Rev. Kennedy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who left here last week for Stillwater, Minn., arrived home Friday afternoon. He was accompanied by his family. They have moved into the Presbyterian Manse on North Third street.

ARTESIAN WELL IN HEART OF THE CITY

J. H. Rose and Associates Make Phenomenal Strike—May Change Local Water Situation.

J. H. Rose and associates, after a year of hard work, at last struck water in their experimental artesian well which they started near West Walnut street in this city last May. The hole is said to be down about 1800 feet and is now sending forth a good sized stream of water at a temperature of 77 degrees, which is about the same as that of the water from the deepest wells in the Moxee.

The water started to flow Sunday night and was not discovered until the workmen were returning to their labors Monday morning. Two later flows are said to have been struck since in the well which materially increases the output of water and the work of sinking still continues.

The promoters of the enterprise, who have been given a franchise to furnish the city with water, now feel very much encouraged over their success in getting a fine flow of artesian water and are now figuring on putting down a number of additional wells and piping the city. The strike is highly important as it seems to guarantee the people of the city a supply of pure water for all time to come.

JUDGE H. B. DOUST ROASTS SOCIALISTS

Well Known Citizens Found Not Guilty of Throwing Rotten Eggs at Street Corner Denunciators.

As a result of an attempt to break up a socialist meeting on a street corner in the city last Saturday night, at which rotten eggs were thrown at the speakers, several well known Yakima men were placed under arrest Monday by local officers who had been served with warrants.

The warrants called for the arrest of Frank Sinclair, Patrolman Charles A. Niles, Clifford Barber, and Ray Forney.

It was alleged in the complaint that these men had thrown eggs at the socialist speakers, while said speakers were denouncing the United States government and as a matter of fact speaking along non-patriotic lines. The trial came off before Justice of the Peace H. B. Doust. The prisoners, who, of course, had merely been notified of their arrest, appeared for the hearing with fear and trembling (?) They naturally pleaded not guilty, and after a few preliminaries were promptly dismissed by the court.

Judge Doust then proceeded to roast the socialists in a manner calculated to discourage any further demonstrations on their part in this city. He said, among other things, that he thought socialists of the M. J. Kennedy type and his friends and followers are very undesirable citizens of the United States, that they were not wanted in the state of Washington, and were despised in the city of North Yakima.

The trial was held in the court room at the county court house and a large crowd attended the hearing. The sympathies of the curious spectators were plainly with the men being tried, and although Judge Doust heard the trial very impartially, he was somewhat irritated at the flimsy testimony presented by the state on behalf of the plaintiffs.

The verdict of the court was popularly received all over the city.

A good strong zephyr was in evidence Monday and Tuesday which, by the way, distributed considerable valuable real estate, causing discomfort and inconvenience to the pedestrians. A common remark heard on the streets frequently was "that it must be going some up at Ellensburg."

JOHNSON MAY RUN FOR CONGRESS

Preacher-Politician of the Sunnyside District, it is Said Would Like to Succeed W. L. Jones.

As the time draws near for another election rumor has it that the Rev. Lee A. Johnson, representative from the Sunnyside district at the present time, is desirous of going to congress. He would like to succeed Congressman W. L. Jones, the latter being a candidate for the place of United States senator to succeed Levi Ankeny.

While Mr. Johnson has neither denied nor confirmed this rumor, some of his most intimate friends affirm that there is foundation for the story. The genial preacher-politician from the lower valley was in the city the last week shaking hands with acquaintances, and talking of republican prosperity, and of the wise measures enacted by the last Washington legislature, of which he was a member, among other subjects that seemed to be on his mind; Mr. Johnson was very careful not to make any positive statement, however, concerning his probable candidacy for the congressional seat in the Third district.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Johnson will meet with very strong opposition in this particular neck of the woods, if he does choose to make the race against the advice and support of the local republican leaders.

While Mr. Johnson has made for himself an enviable reputation as a pulpit orator, he is apparently ambitious to gain popularity in other fields, and while there is obviously no intention on the part of local republicans to put a damper on the ambitions of Brother Johnson, yet they feel at this time that such a move would have the effect of indicating a sign of encroachment on the field of Congressman Wesley L. Jones, as it is not probable that both a United States senator and a congressman will be chosen from Yakima valley.

Col. Robertson of the Republic has suggested that Mr. Johnson announce himself a candidate for governor and start right in now to win it. But then Mr. Johnson must not forget the fact that Col. Rob is looking for all the republican candidates he can find to enter them in the race against Gov. Mead, in the hope of being able to pick a dark horse winner. Therefore the motives of the colonel's suggestion may not be of the purest dye.

In any event the candidacy of Bro. Johnson for some office is apparently a foregone conclusion. He seems to like politics. He is a big, handsome, commanding man with a strong voice and eloquent flow of language. In other words, he is a typical politician, and there is no reason why he should not gratify his office seeking ambitions.

FOUND LOST WATCH.

Timepiece Lies in the Sagebrush Eight Years, but is Good Still.

After lying in the sagebrush for 8 years and alternately experiencing the rough elements of winter and the scorching summer suns, a fine gold watch that was presented to her husband by Mrs. P. A. Bounds of North Second street was found this week by a lady in the Selah valley, who immediately advertised in a newspaper for the owner.

Eight years ago Pleas Bounds and his sons were driving a herd of cattle to the railroad for shipment, when Mr. Bounds in cavorting through the sagebrush on a high strung horse, lost the watch from his pocket. He decided it was useless to attempt to look for it, and as a matter of fact soon forgot about his valuable timepiece. The remarkable feature connected with the recovery of the watch lies in the fact that as soon as the watch was wound up it began to run and has been keeping accurate time ever since.

Work on Great Trans-Continental System Progresses Rapidly.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company started this week to lay rails on its road bed through the state. The laying of steel commenced at Lind, Wash., and is progressing rapidly.

Great efforts are being put forth by the company to complete the line through to Seattle by 1909 in time for the rush to the big A. Y. P. exposition. The rails that are now being laid are the first in the state.

MESS HOUSE AT TIETON LOOKS GOOD TO FLINT

North Yakima Man Tells About the Kind of Food the Workmen Complain of.

A. L. Flint, of North Yakima, of the Flint-Shaw company, is one of the men who return from the Tieton who did not have a kick at the character of the food served there. The government mess house is a frequent source of complaint to the Democrat on the part of workmen who have quit their jobs.

"Did I have anything to eat?" asked Mr. Flint when questioned as to his fare. "Well", he said, "I was at Camp No. 1 at noon Tuesday and this is what I had a chance at: Soup, boiled beef, Mulligan stew, potatoes, boiled Lima beans, macaroni, sliced onions, pie, cake, pudding, canned fruit, bread and butter, crackers, tea, coffee and milk. I guess there were some other things also but as I found I had to pass up a whole lot I decided not to investigate further. And I want to say that your Uncle Samuel appears to be pretty shrewd when it comes to selecting cooks. I would call the man who prepared that meal a chef; cook is too mild a word. "There is something more that I am going to tell you and that is when I went to bed I slept between fresh, white sheets. But you need not put that in the paper. I was in three or four of the tunnels there and there is certainly a great work going on. They are knocking out about four feet of dirt at every shot."

Mr. Flint had not seen the airship as the shed in which it is kept during the day was locked.

Old Settlers to Meet.

All old settlers in the Yakima valley are requested to be present at the courthouse April 4. The matter of effecting a permanent organization among the pioneers of this valley will then be discussed and probably decided upon. The settlers held a meeting some time back and effected only a temporary organization, electing John Cleman president and Dan Lesh secretary. It is now the desire of the members to meet and organize that they may be drawn together and effect an organization that will be of social benefit. Reminiscences of early days in Yakima valley will be discussed and a general good time is assured.

GRANGER.

A crew of surveyors from Seattle arrived here last evening to make surveys for the re-plating of that section of the townsites north of the Northern Pacific tracks. The plat will be surveyed so that the streets will lie parallel with the new survey of the North Coast railroad, running northwest and southeast. Main street will connect with both depots.

The opening ball game of the season for the Granger team was played on the home grounds Sunday with Sunnyside, the score resulting 5 to 0 in favor of Sunnyside. This was practically the first time the local team had been together and the good showing made with the Sunnyside team was gratifying to the supporters of the home boys. A game will be played next Sunday with the Outlook team.

Bert Quackenbush, with his family, has moved here from Kiona, and will take charge of the Townsite company's ranch north of town.

Mrs. J. R. Thomas was a business visitor in North Yakima last Thursday. Charles Mentzer has improved the hotel property with a neat coat of paint.

TO BRING TRADE HERE.

Electric Line and North Coast Will Greatly Benefit This City.

Few people in North Yakima realize what the opening up of the new country in the Sunnyside vicinity will mean to North Yakima provided electric or other means of direct communication between North Yakima and the lower valley is established. The issue which seems to be paramount at present, is how to bring the lower valley trade to North Yakima instead of allowing it to go to Prosser or any other point in close proximity.

The wisdom of the cementing the interests of the lower valley with those of North Yakima by an easy transportation line before it finds an outlet through some new central point is commented upon by Will T. Ewell of Calhoun, Denny & Ewing, of Seattle. Mr. Ewell is in North Yakima looking over the country and he is much impressed with what he has seen thus far. He says:

Will Bring Trade Here.

"The forward movement recently inaugurated by the North Coast railway, together with active operations on the proposed electric line between North Yakima and Granger, will throw the great Sunnyside country into direct touch with this city. The trade relations and general development which will naturally follow can hardly be overestimated, so far as its importance to the entire valley is concerned.

"The engineers of the North Coast are now in the lower field engaged in some right-of-way changes. The work will soon be under full swing, if there is anything at all in the reports from reliable sources. Land owners in the Sunnyside district, formerly known as the 'Granger Basin' country, make the statement that the first sprinkling of a new immigration has begun to make itself manifest. They also say that town lots in both Granger and Grandview, together with the surrounding acreage are getting under good momentum in the way of sales.

To Build Hotel Without Money.

"At Granger a movement has been started by the Commercial club to build a brick hotel without money. One party has given the ground, another has donated the brick, while still another will give the lumber. The labor is practically all subscribed. Stock is issued in return for these subscriptions. The townspeople are enthusiastically supporting the idea. They believe that a good place to entertain strangers is the best initial advertisement a town can have.

"The lower country is not without industries. Two large concerns, the Cascade Lumber company of North Yakima and the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber company have recently established permanent yards at Grandview. There is much new building to be seen, and from all present outlook, there will be much more to follow.

"Granger is to have something that North Yakima has not. That is a public park. It certainly will be a paradox in Eastern Washington where such things are the exception.

"I can see great things for North Yakima and this whole great country. Development work has only begun. People on the Sound do not know what you have over in this country. They loon on it as a barren plain of sagebrush. If they only knew!"

SAYS NORTH YAKIMA WILL EQUAL SPOKANE

Captain I. M. Howell of Tacoma Has Abiding Faith in This City.

"Although I am not much of a prophet, I predict that within the course of 10 years North Yakima will be as large a city as Spokane is today. Why? Because North Yakima is so situated that the town is bound to grow. The only way a man can judge the future growth of any city or town is from the experience of other cities. There is enough land around this city and valley to make it the richest community on earth."

So says Captain I. M. Howell, of Tacoma, county auditor of Pierce county. Captain Howell says he is not accustomed to meeting newspaper men and has no story framed up for every man he meets. He says his assertion or prediction rather, is based on facts, optimism and a knowledge of the conditions existing. The captain goes further and says he is in the market for some Yakima real property and will invest here.

A Prominent Booster.

Captain Howell is a prominent booster of Tacoma. He is also a big Bill among the Tacoma Elks. This afternoon he leaves for his home in the City of Destiny where he will tell his friends about the famous Yakima valley. He says this country raises everything but lemons. He is loud in his praise of the manner in which he has been entertained while in North Yakima and adds that he never met a better bunch of fellows than he has found in this city.

THIEVES CARRY AWAY 500 YOUNG FRUIT TREES

Enter Orchard of Bivins' Brothers During the Night and Help Themselves.

Thieves entered the orchard of Bivins' Bros. Friday night and carried away 500 peach and apple trees of choice variety. The trees were heeled in Friday. W. D. Gilmore prepared the ground, preparatory to setting the trees out and placed them there during the day. When he returned to work this morning he found his trees gone and discovered tracks leading out of the field. About a third of the number of trees on the place had been taken. The trees stolen are valued at $100. The sheriff's office has been notified. Every effort will be made to apprehend the thieves.

Other Orchards Suffer.

This outrage is about the third or fourth one of its kind during the last month. Last week the orchard of W. D. Holt in the vicinity of Wapato was deliberately uprooted. Malice, it is presumed caused this offense. Mr. Holt had hired oriental help and it is thought that white hoodlums took this recourse to avenge Mr. Holt for not having hired them.

Will Make Hot Chase.

No efforts will be spared in apprehending the thieves. It is true that all trees look alike, but from the tracks left by the looters last evening, a posse will have some means of following them. Several fruit growers have offered their aid in running down the offenders. If they are apprehended it is certain that fruit growers generally will unite in an effort to prosecute them to the full extent of the law.

Bivins Bros. have 25 acres immediately north of the fair grounds. They are planning to set the entire tract to orchard.

MERCHANTS FIGURE

ON APPLE SUPPLIES

Total Holdings of Eastern Washington Are Placed at About 50 Carloads.

Merchants at Seattle are of the opinion that there are not more than 50 cars of apples in Washington. They say that there are 12 cars at Cashmere, 5 at Ellensburg, and an unknown number, say eight or 10, at North Yakima. Scattering lots elsewhere in the state will make up the difference. They have been making an effort to determine just how many cars are in sight. With the advance of spring and the nearer approach of the time when the early small fruits will be on the market they are advising that the poorer quality of apples be cleaned up as speedily as possible that the more fancy stock may be held for the late trade. It is now declared that there are so many poor apples on the market that there is not much hope of better conditions. However, with the optimism which characterizes the true trader they anticipate better things in a few weeks. It is prophesied that fancy apples for the Alaska trade will be at the $3 mark. There is also an impression that Seattle itself can take care of the Eastern Washington apple supply. This idea is laughed at here and the fact is that apples are now being shipped east and south from North Yakima.

Alaska and the Potato Trade.

In potatoes, another commodity in which this section is deeply interested, Seattle has information to offer. In the first place, potatoes are very weak there and the extreme price for absolutely the extra fancy Yakima stock is $18. Few, if any, large contracts for spuds to be taken in over the trail to up-river points in Alaska have as yet been made. It is reported that because of the large stocks on hand taken in last fall, there is not much expectation of an early potato movement to Alaska this season.

There are strong hopes of considerable activity in the Sound market for seed potatoes and from $22 to $28 per ton are asked for potatoes for that use.

There has been a recent sharp advance in the onion market and Australian stuff is selling in Seattle at four and a half the grocery trade here Monday when sugar refiners announced an advance of 30 cents a hundred on all grades. This is one of the most decisive changes ever made in this market but it follows on a very long period of inactivity so far as that article is concerned. The last previous change was in November.

Oranges have also begun an upward tendency and an advance of 25 cents is announced from California.

Some Declines Are Due.

Declines are due in eggs, butter, asparagus and the seasonable articles of that kind, but they have not been announced.

Meat prices remain unchanged. The announcements from the centers which do the heaviest buying is that they are supplied now with all that will be required until after the grass cattle come in.

DISTRICT TO BUILD

ITS OWN HIGH SCHOOL

Board Rejects All Bids and Will Engage Foreman and Do the Work Itself.

North Yakima's new high school building will be the work of the board of school directors and not that of a contractor. The directors Friday night rejected all bids and determined to employ a competent foreman and proceed with the work themselves. The reasons for this appear to be the belief that the work can be carried on more cheaply and the district can save to itself the contractor's profits and get as good a job. Who the foreman will be has not been determined but it is understood that an experienced man, now in Tacoma, is to be written to to ascertain if he will undertake the work of the position. Bids submitted were in general, as follows:

Bids Appear to Be High.

John T. Gamble—To complete the building as per plans and specifications, material on ground to be his and bills paid to date $68,000. By using black stone and pressed brick, $63,000. Black stone, sawed, and concrete inside, $62,000. Brick, and stone trimmings, inside walls of cement, $60,000. Mr. Gamble made no reference to heating and ventilating.

John H. Nickel—To complete building with black stone and cast cement trimmings, as per plans, etc., $86,363. Pressed brick and cement trimmings, $81,506. Concrete and cement plaster $74,743.

Louis M. Lang—Spokane Cream pressed brick, backed with common brick, interior walls of common brick, $68,543.43. Same with details as to heating, ventilating and electric wiring, $74,857.63.

A. F. Switzer—According to plans and specifications, but without heating and ventilating apparatus, $77,790. With pressed brick, equal to that in Miller building, and black rock trimmings, $71,449.

C. H. Bruenn—Brick for exterior and without heating and ventilation, $73,000.

Board Expects to Save.

The bid of Captain Lang undertook to have the work completed by September. Time was not mentioned by the other bidders. The board, which had the bidders before it last night, invited them to retire and in their absence decided to reject all the bids and to carry out the work itself. The contractors were so informed. By constructing the exterior walls of brick, with stone trimmings, the board believes that it can procure as good a building as under the original plans, and as pretty, and save some $5000 in the cost.

The 10 months school term, as at present, is to be continued by the directors. There was considerable discussion of this question and some of the directors were decidedly in favor of a nine months term. The prevailing opinion, however, was that the 10 months system has not been given a proper test and it was decided to continue it for another year.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

As the most of our subscribers are doubtless aware a ruling has been made by the postoffice department which is of much concern to the publishers of weekly newspapers. This ruling in effect is that papers addressed to any and all subscribers who are in arrears for more than one year will not after April 1 next, be permitted passage through the mails as second class matter. This means that every publisher, in self-protection, must necessarily purge his mailing list of all subscribers who are delinquent for over one year. It is not a matter of choice, but of necessity. The Democrat has sent a communication to each of its delinquent subscribers setting forth the facts as well as the amount of arrearage. To this many have already responded promptly, but a goodly number of others have not. We hope that they will all do so, or as many as who can. There are always a number of people who are never ready or willing to pay for their newspapers under any circumstances. Such as these will be stricken from our list in due time and a more effective method adopted to collect from them.

Meanwhile those of our subscribers who pay in advance or with reasonable promptness, need, of course, to feel no concern, for to such friends and patrons of this paper these lines are not intended.

A FEAST OF CROW

Editor Robertson, of the Republic, can eat crow with as good grace as the next man. The colonel has demonstrated the truth of this statement in the matter of the Taft candidacy. Today he is a supporter of Roosevelt's political legatee. Up to a few days ago he was earnestly, almost viciously opposed even to the suggestion of elevating the big fat secretary to the presidency.

But what a change has come over the spirit of the colonel's dreams that it has given his such clearer vision! The only explanation at hand seems to be found in the fact that the editor of our twilight contemporary last week attended a conclave of the wise men of his party under the belief that it was to be a deliberative assemblage called to consider the welfare of the g. o. p. in this state. What was his surprise to find that the meeting was loaded with Taft fireworks and that it shortly resolved itself into a mere love feast in praise of the big Ohioan.

Colonel Robertson, it is said, had gone to the meeting of the committee at Seattle loaded with a thrilling speech in which he proposed to formally uncork the Hughes boom in this state. But he did nothing of the kind after discovering the fact that he was the only supporter of the New York governor in the entire aggregation. The speech died a bornin', just as did the incipient Hughes boom in this state. The committee, being composed of band wagon patriots, promptly indorsed the Taft candidacy and there was therefore nothing left for Little Willie to do but to gracefully eat his dish of crow, as he saw it was of no use to kick against the pricks.

A count of noses at the committee meeting, it is said, likewise demonstrated the fact that a majority favored the renomination of Mr. Mead for governor. This probably was the reality that the colonel found in his soup. It is possible, of course, to swallow Taft, but Mead, oh horrors, how could he do that? That is asking too much of a man with a sensitive stomach.

But the Wilson-Mead-Jones clan were in the saddle and the colonel, it is declared, was told to take his medicine and swear that he liked it. And doubtless he will, for what else can the poor man do?

WHO PUTS UP THE MONEY?

The New York World says that the Taft campaign up to March 15 has cost somebody not less than $750,000, an enormous amount of money, considering that the presidential campaign has yet hardly begun. The same paper says that Mark Hanna spent but $500,000 to bring about the nomination of McKinley in 1896 and concludes that after all Mark was but a poor spender compared with Hitchcock, who is manipulating the Taft campaign for delegates. But the point that the public is interested in is who is putting up this money and what are the interests that expect to reap a benefit from the nomination and election of Taft. The claim of the Taft managers that the candidate's brother, Charles P. Taft, a newspaper publisher of Cincinnati, is putting up this fabulous sum of money, is very probably mere moonshine. Charles P. Taft is himself barely a millionaire and it is a heavy tax on credulity to ask the public to believe that Charles P. Taft would be willing to spend his entire fortune to see his half-brother merely secure the coveted honor of a presidential nomination and with the real fight still ahead of him. Indeed, if Charles P. Taft is willing to thus sacrifice himself for the sake of family pride he is just the sort of a brother we would all like to have. But it is very much more likely that Brother Charles, while himself a liberal contributor, is acting more in the capacity of a collection agency, just as Mark Hanna did for his friend, McKinley, a decade ago. But the question remains, who is putting up the money?

UNION LABOR BALKS

The republican state convention, in session at Omaha recently, formally indorsed the Taft candidacy and instructed the delegates of the prairie flower state to vote for the big secretary at Chicago. While the instruction resolutions were under debate a brawny delegate of union labor proclivities arose and said: "Mr. Chairman, I protest against the passage of this resolution. William Howard Taft is an avowed enemy of union labor and the great bulk of the membership of trade unions will refuse to support him as the republican nominee for president. I tell you sir it is a grave mistake to nominate such a man. When I speak thus I represent the sentiments of 9000 members of labor unions of the cities of Omaha and South Omaha and I have reason to believe that all feel just as I do about this matter. I repeat sir, that it is a serious mistake to nominate such a man."

The speech was received in silence, no delegate attempting to defend the Taft record in the matter of granting injunctions issued to crush union labor while the present war secretary sat as a judge in Ohio. As a matter of fact from the standpoint of union labor there is and can be no successful defense of the Taft judicial record in the matter of government by injunction.

WORK FOR THE JONES CLUB

To add to the gaiety of the present situation and to further his own vaunting ambition the Hon. Lee A. Johnson, the preacher-statesman, of Sunnyside, will, it is said, shortly announce his candidacy for congress to succeed W. L. Jones. Well, of course. Why not? Yakima county is fairly entitled to both representative and senator and the Hon. Lee needs a bigger and more resplendent field in which to shine than the murky, foggy atmosphere of Olympia. Now, here is some real work in the vineyard for the local Jones club to do. A meeting of Sam Cameron's steering committee should be held at once to sit down bodily on the ill-timed political aspirations of the Sunnyside statesman. They must fix things up with him, or there will be something doing. But undoubtedly it is in the power of the Jones managers to fix things up. This they can do by making the Hon. Lee a safe and sure tender of the state senatorial nomination and in no other way. The Democrat does not care to see any blood on the face of the moon and it will charge the Jones club nothing for this advice. We would be willing to wager a year's subscription against a lemon that the Hon. Lee A. Johnson, ex-preacher and ex-democrat, will be the next republican nominee from this district for state senator.

SCRAMBLE FOR THE BANDWAGON

The present "parsimonious" congress seems to be about the worst stumbling block that the Seattle spirit has gone up against. It is by no means so easy to shake down that $750,000 appropriation as the Seattle boys thought as Uncle Sam, after all these wasteful years of republican misrule is now really hard up. Besides he is tired of the show business anyway, especially since the Jamestown failure. In view of the great difficulties that the lobbying committee is meeting with at Washington in the effort to secure suitable support for the A.-Y.-P.- it seems like a piece of gross political stupidity for the republican state committee to go out of its way at this time to indorse the candidacy of Taft, especially as Fairbanks, president of the senate, and Cannon, speaker of the house, are both active candidates for the presidency. These men are powerful in legislative matters and to thus slap them in the face at a time when the state is begging them for aid seems like mighty poor politics. But the Taft bandwagon was waiting and the politicians of this state were clamorous to climb on. Doubtless each of them was thinking only of himself and of guarding his own future rather than feeling any concern for the interests of the state of Washington.

BRYAN, THE GREAT

statesman and undisputed authority on finance. His great force of character and the soundness of his opinions on proper government and more especially those on the regulation of trusts, corporations and other private enterprises that come directly into business relations with the masses is accepted by those who once scoffed, as good authority. This is especially so in finance and he is able to meet the great financiers of the nation, as he did in New York before the Economic club where he addressed by invitation at a banquet 700 persons consisting of the most prominent financiers and manufacturers of the nation. His expose of the present banking system and the political methods back of it was grand in theory, fact and logic. It should be in every voter's home and carefully studied from a standpoint of political economy. The opposition may boast of their Roosevelt and Taft, but neither of those gentlemen are capable of handling the financial question as broadly and deeply as did W. J. Bryan on that occasion.—Davenport Tribune.

Marse Henry Watterson from his winter quarters at Havana has just issued a fresh prophecy on the presidential situation. He says that Bryan and Taft will be the opposing candidates this year, that the battle will be a fierce one and that Bryan will ultimately prevail. The interests, says Marse Henry, will ultimately, from their own standpoint, make a choice of two evils and support Bryan as against Taft. Not that they have any use for Bryan, continues the great Kentucky prophet, but because the interests feel that they would be held safe from harm by the republican senate, which naturally would defy Bryan, but be more or less responsive to executive influence in the event of Taft's election. Time may prove that Marse Henry has the situation sized up about right.

It is reported from the east that Wm. R. Hearst and Tom Watson of Georgia have contracted an alliance that spells fusion, or confusion, this year between Hearst's Independence League and the remains of the old populist party, which Watson regularly exhumes from the political graveyard every four years to exhibit as his stock in trade. Thus the ticket will be Hearst and Watson. As neither man has left any following to speak of the deal is much like boys swapping old jackknives.

The young democrats of North Yakima and vicinity should get together and organize a Young Men's Democratic club for service in the coming campaign. This has already been done at Spokane, Colfax and other towns in the Third congressional district. The young men would thus have an opportunity of getting together for the study of important public questions. Let some of the young democrats start the ball to rolling.

William James Bryan, the young senator from Florida, died in a Washington hospital last Sunday from typhoid fever, after a service of but two months in the senate. He was but 31 years of age and was probably the youngest man ever elected to the senate. The democrats of that body have suffered serious loss by death during the past few months, that of the Florida senator being the sixth.

Former Governor William L. Douglas, the great shoe manufacturer of Massachusetts, is now being freely talked of as the logical running mate for W. J. Bryan this year. The nomination of Gov. Douglas would be a lucky choice. He is a self made man who in the fullest measure has made a success in life. He is probably the best equipped tariff reformer in the country.

The New York World says that Secretary Taft's brother, Henry W. Taft of New York, is engaged daily in doing his share of missionary work in aid of the big man's candidacy. It seems to be the business of Henry W. Taft to try to reconcile the business men of Wall st. to the Taft support by giving out the assurance cautiously that "William H. is all right."

That great man, Richard Croker, interviewed at Cairo, Egypt, sends back word to the effect that Bryan will be nominated and elected this year and furthermore that he is the biggest man in the country. And Croker, whatever else he may be, is a good judge of men as well as a good guesser.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., March 24.—Two extraordinary speeches have been delivered in the senate during the past week, one by Senator Tillman and the other by Senator La Follette. The speech of the South Carolinian was, as usual, picturesque, being a wholesale denunciation of the president, of whom he said, "He is now planning a truce with rich malefactors and is ready to grant amnesty to all past offenders. The price of negro delegates in the south rises each day through improper use of federal patronage. The lavish use of bank resources and credit for years has borne fruit by enabling Napoleons of finance through the medium of the New York Stock exchange to market billions of dollars of almost worthless stocks and to place these in the hands of helpless investors who have exchanged hard earned money for them which has been diverted from the channels of legitimate business." Mr. Tillman was greeted with the usual crowded galleries and at times his remarkable statements and unique delivery elicited applause, until finally the vice president was obliged to threaten to clear the galleries unless it ceased.

Senator La Follette denounced in unmeasured terms and tones the Aldrich bill, which, he declared, was being enacted in the interest of the railways and the Standard Oil company. He charged that the recent financial panic and the entire financial stringency had been produced by Morgan, Rockefeller, et al., for the sole purpose of adding to their pecuniary profit. Mr. La Follette always excites a certain amount of interest not only by what he says, but by the extraordinary manner in which he says it. He alternately shouts and whispers, crouches, throws up his arms, bends double and pounds his desk or else stamps his foot. At times his voice rises to a perfect scream, and a listener who could not see him might imagine murder were being done. He is a star actor in the senate.

The present indications are that before my next letter is written the Aldrich bill will have been passed by the senate with every republican vote, save La Follette's, and about eight democratic votes. The senate committee on finance has stricken out the railway bond provision of the bill, had done so, in fact, before Mr. La Follette made his speech, and this, it is believed, will serve to disarm most of the opposition in the house, while the president is seeking to secure its passage and urging members of both houses who call upon him to vote for it.

The president has recently greatly shocked a great many people in Washington by urging the district attorney to demand a jail sentence for the president of the American National bank and the Washington Chamber of Commerce. This man, who is wealthy and influential, has been making and selling, as a side issue, a headache remedy and a "brain food," both of which he guaranteed "free from injurious drugs." Analysis has shown, however, that both contain injurious drugs which will almost certainly affect the heart, and which are likely to result in the drug habit. This is the first conviction under the pure food and drug act and the president takes the ground that if a wealthy bank president is made to serve a jail sentence at the beginning it will have a most beneficial effect in promoting the observance of the law.

There has been a great deal of Johnson talk in Washington this week and some of the democratic leaders are beginning to believe that the Minnesota governor may stand a chance of nomination at Denver. It appears at this distance as if the Minnesotian was in absolute earnest in his effort to capture the nomination and as he is practically the only opponent to Mr. Bryan thus far it seems altogether likely that the opposition to Bryan will center on Johnson. That this will amount to enough to result in giving Johnson the nomination few men will predict at this time, the majority believing that Mr. Bryan will have things all his own way when the nominating convention meets next July.

The democratic leaders regard with considerable complacency the situation in the republican ranks where the discomfited and defeated conservatives are growing daily more bitter as Secretary Taft's strength grows daily more obvious. Taft delegates are being elected in all parts of the country and the old time, conservative republicans regard the probability of Taft's election with no greater complacency than they would anticipate four years more of Roosevelt. They are fighting tooth and nail to prevent an end that seems inevitable and the more they feel their own impotence the more determined they are to have their own way and nominate a conservative or else pull the walls of the party edifice down about them.

Captain Hobson continues to send cold shivers down the back of Speaker Cannon by insisting that a representative of the Electric Boat Company did assure him that he had sufficient influence with Mr. Cannon to secure Hobson's appointment on the naval affairs committee. The Boat company's agent denied that he said it and then Hobson came forward and demanded that his secretary be placed on the stand as he had heard the offer. The committee refused to hear the secretary but now Representative Hobson has made the demand in writing and the committee can hardly afford to ignore it.

IMMENSE ACREAGE TO BE RECLAIMED

A development plan in an irrigation way which will place under water a very large acreage in the Moxee valley and in the country below the gap is said to be under way so far as the preliminaries are concerned, the money coming from the Denny-Blaine company of Seattle and Yakima county people who are interested with them. This is the accepted story as told by ranchers below the gap. The plan embraces a union of the Selah-Moxee and the Lombard & Horsley ditch interests and the tunneling of Selah hill and the hill at Union Gap, thus procuring an elevation for the water which will bring it above hundreds of acres which now lie above the Sunnyside canal the rumor says.

Tunnel Through the Hills.

The talk of a tunnel through the Selah hill, such tunnel to be a mile and a half in length, thus giving a greater elevation and cutting off some four miles of flume, has already been made public. The water can be carried further back in the Moxee and also higher up on the hill at the gap. The plan of a tunnel through the hill there, at the exit from this valley, it is said, calls for a hole some 1200 feet long which will come out above the Capt. Dunn ranch at Parker, where the Lombard & Horsley ditch will be entered and increased in size, if necessary, or maybe another ditch made at a higher elevation.

Large Acreage Is Purchased.

It is reported that parties who have been working in the valley for some time have picked up a very large acreage in this section, all above the present water but all of which it will be possible to irrigate by the proposed plan, or extensions to it. Such water is as needed above that which the ditches will carry, it is claimed, can be purchased from the government. Reports handed in to the Republic office declare that many sections have been bought up by the interests involved and that the entire Union Gap canal and the acreage under it will be included.

Ranchers below the gap say that the representatives of the promoters have been all through the country and back and forth for some time and that the plan is well developed and a very elaborate one, involving the expenditure of immense sums of money and bringing within the possibilities of cultivation a greatly increased acreage in this immediate vicinity.

URGES PEOPLE TO SPRAY.

Inspector Brown Says Work Should Be Done in Next Few Days.

Editor Yakima Democrat: I wish to state through the columns of your paper that I have been informed that a great many people that have small orchards say that they do not propose to spray as they have not been personally notified to do so. Seemingly they are taking the advantage of my inability to serve notice on them to spray. I wish to state to those that are neglecting to spray that I hope that for their own good and the good of the community they will proceed to spray as speedily as possible, including everyone in town that has fruit trees, as the buds are developing so rapidly that they will not have many days in which to do their spraying before it is too late to do their work thoroughly. When the leaves are out a thorough job of spraying can not be done. I wish to say that they must not think that they will get out of spraying altogether this year for they will not. Some pretend to excuse themselves for not spraying on the ground that they did not know that they had scale, but that kind of an excuse will not go as everybody knows the San Jose scale. Besides the orchards are infested with red spider, green, black and woolly aphids. So get in and spray before the leaves come out as it will not cost more than half as much to spray now as it will after the leaves are out. Besides you can do a much better job now than you can after the leaves are out.

"Sometimes I sit and think, and sometimes I just sit."

"Why don't you become a candidate for the legislature?" Asked a Yakima woman of her husband, who was suffering from an attack of the gout.

"Why should I, my dear?" Replied her husband. "I think you should," resumed his wife, "your language and actions are truly political. When bills are presented, you either order them to be laid on the table or make a motion to rise; though out of order you are supported by the chair, and often poke your nose into measures which are calculated to destroy the constitution."

I regard all those who profess to tell your future life with an eye of strong suspicion. I mean both men and women—these unpleasant and uncomfortable folk who pretend to know all about "what is to come" and make nervous folk lie awake at night in shivering fear of things that usually never happen. These sort of seers or prophets rather get on my nerves—to use a colloquialism which is, perhaps, pardonable in this connection—and for this reason I carefully avoid having anything to do with clairvoyants, astrologists, and seers of all sorts and kinds.

Giddy girls are filled with glee
When the north wind skips,
For it brings the chaps, you see
To their ruby lips.

Somebody asked Confucius, the Chinese sage, about another world, and his reply was: "How should I, who know so little about this, know anything about another?" We have a great many men now, not as wise as Confucius, but who think they know more.

In an Illinois town two young dudes, with their girls, drove a span of fine livery horses to death. They were arrested and passed the night in jail. Their parents tried to buy them off from appearing in court, but it did not work. Each was fined $25 and cost, $50. When the judge got through with them he read them a certain lecture, which they will remember the balance of their lives. The same kind of justice ought to be given to any one who abuses horses by fast driving. What a pity it is horses are not gifted with a little common sense and retaliate on the human brutes. Show me a man or woman who will drive a horse to death and I will show you persons that have not one particle of decency or humanity in their whole make up. The livery keepers ought to make it hot for all such brutes.

Did You Ever Notice It?

Now and then a "Cheap John" skinflint will creep into a hunting party. It cannot be helped at times. The personal qualities of a woods companion will make or mar the pleasure of an outing. A selfish man is to be shunned. By selfish, I mean a man who wants the grub bill cut down and will haggle over incidental expenses. This fellow in camp is usually an auto-crut. He always wants the choice bits from all the game killed. The softest bed, and the cook dreads him. When meal time arrives he is always first at the table and distinguishes himself by a brilliancy of onset and a sustained vigor and duration of attack. In the city he is usually temperate, but in camp he will hold longer to the whiskey bottle than anyone else.

When the hunt is ended and the spoils of the chase divided, it is he who will want the best and largest share of the killed. As a general thing he never pays his way, and sometimes never pays anything at all. Such a man goes into the woods but once with the same companions. Avoid him. In the development of his nature sensitiveness and manliness have no place. There is no situation in life where human nature crops out more vividly than in the woods.

Another J. I. Case Great Crop Producer

Like all J. I. Case implements, the J. I. Case Disc Harrow embodies many features that make it not only the most durable, lightest draft, and most economical, but the most efficient in the field—hence the greatest crop producing Disc Harrow made. Here are some of its advantages. A slight movement of the foot operates the scrapers and cleans the discs completely and thoroughly. The scrapers, when at rest, tend to prevent dirt from collecting. And the inside discs always stay in the ground, no matter how hard it is. Again, when one end of a section raises over an obstacle, the other remains at work and the companion section is not disturbed.

J. I. Case Disc Harrow

is fitted with the most practical, durable and economical bearings made. They were designed especially for this purpose only after the most exhaustive tests.

And remember, nothing has been omitted in this harrow to make room for its many improvements. It is a right-made, right-working implement that has few rivals and no real competitors—an implement you ought to know more about. Our FREE catalog describes it fully, also the entire J. I. S. J. Cameron was an Ellensburg visitor Tuesday.

John Russell, the well known sage of the Tieton country, was in the city on Wednesday.

The Knights of Columbus held a very pleasant smoker at Odd Fellows hall Thursday evening.

Rev. M. L. Rose of this city is at present conducting a series of evangelical meetings at Moscow, Ida.

John McPhee, a well known rancher of the Naches, who has been seriously ill, is now reported to be improving.

Webster Roberts, a brother of the well known attorney, Logan H. Roberts, arrived in the city this week from Lincoln, Neb., and expects to make this city his future home.

Mrs. George T. Baker, who has been ill at St. Elizabeth's hospital for some time, is reported improving. She will, it is expected, be home in a couple of weeks.

Ed Cowen, one of the brightest newspaper men who ever worked in this state, will spend the summer in North Yakima. He expects to be here about the first of April.

The Democrat office is in receipt of its annual allowance of garden seeds, sent out from the agricultural department at Washington, D. C. The patrons of this paper who call will be presented with a package upon request.

George Gervais, a well known pioneer of Yakima City, who was operated on for bladder trouble at St. Elizabeth's hospital last week is not recovering nicely and will, it is hoped, soon be in a condition to be taken home.

It is a very handy little reference book for business use, containing valuable maps and is a credit to the publisher. It is to be issued quarterly. Mrs. W. T. The Ellensburg Capital of this week denounces the story sent out from that city last week of a flow of oil being struck in a well near that city as "a rank fake." The story was published in many state papers and has provoked a flood of inquiry. The Capital, invariably truthful and conservative in everything but its politics, may be relied upon in this matter.

H. E. Smith, one of the proprietors of the Farmers' Barn, was kicked on the right hand by a horse this week which resulted in a painful injury to this particular part of his anatomy. The hand was carefully bound up with cotton and saturated with turpentine. A short time afterwards, while Mr. Smith was attempting to light a cigar, the match in his left hand set fire to the turpentine and cotton, and before the flame could be extinguished had severely burned the injured member.
