OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

THAT the late President McKinley at the time of his death was gravitating toward the principle of free trade, is manifested by the last speech that he made, which was delivered at Buffalo the day previous to his assassination. It seems a little strange to read the following excerpts from the last speech that fell from the lips of the great apostle of high tariff: "By sensible trade arrangements which will not interrupt our home production we shall extend the outlets of our increasing surplus. A system which provides a mutual exchange of commodities is manifestly essential to the continued healthful growth of our export trade. We must not repose in fancied security that we can forever sell everything and buy little or nothing. If such a thing were possible it would not be best for us or those with whom we deal. We should take from our customers such of their products as we can use without harm to our industries and labor. * * * The period of exclusiveness is past. The expansion of our trade and commerce is the pressing problem. Commercial wars are unprofitable. A policy of good will and friendly trade relations will prevent reprisals." The above reads almost like good democratic doctrine. The enunciation of such liberal views a decade ago would probably have retired Mr. McKinley into innocuous desuetude.

THIS is the banner year in the history of the Washington State Fair. In each and every department the exhibition this year is incomparably better than any that have preceded it. The fruit and vegetable display is particularly worthy of mention. To the people of this valley, perhaps, who are used to big things in these lines, there is nothing remarkable about these exhibits; but to the visitors from other sections they are naturally enough a source of great admiration. The live stock exhibit, too, is much superior to what the average patron expected. The improvement in this department clearly shows the great advance that is being made from year to year in the blooded live stock industry of this state—an industry, by the way, that has before it a most promising future. As for the racing program and other attractions, a very notable improvement is manifested over last year. Undoubtedly the fastest string of horses that have ever been brought together in the Northwest are here this week. The records that have been made not only speak for the high quality of the horses entered, but for the track as well, which is unquestionably the fastest in the Northwest. The Fair on the whole this year is of such character that the management and our home people may well take a commendable pride in it—a fact that augurs well for next year's exhibition.

SOME effective means ought to be adopted at once to rid this town of the dangerous element that infest it. We would not counsel a resort to mob violence to remedy the situation, but at the same time we have no hesitancy in offering the suggestion that a well-organized vigilance committee can find plenty of work to do just at this time in Yakima. When thieves become so bold as to plunder business houses almost nightly and hold up citizens at the point of a revolver, it is time to adopt extraordinary measures. Railing at the local police and doing nothing besides talking will not remedy the evil. What is needed is sensible, moderate, immediate action. Let every citizen be on his guard and aid in spotting the suspicious characters and report them to the authorities. The moral effect, too, of concerted action of our citizens in ridding the community of lawless characters cannot fail to be good. For when the news goes abroad that the climate here is unhealthy for these vermin of society, they will be likely henceforth to give the town a wide berth.

SOME amusing things are said to have occurred during the arrangements made at Victoria for the reception of the Duke and Duchess of York. The committee in charge, it seems, had planned to make the public reception to their royal highness a very exclusive affair, and provided that only about 100 of the elect should be present. At this such a roar of indignation went up from business men and others who had contributed liberally that the committee was obliged to extend the privileged list to 400. Then the working people began to kick for the right to be present, and so effectively that the figures were raised to 4000. The program now appeared so ridiculous to the committee that an edict was issued in which it was stated that everybody was invited, but that nobody would be admitted unless they were properly arrayed in evening dress. This happy thought solved the question. But it is safe to assume that every member of that committee will die unforgiven.

ABOUT 1200 people from the Sound cities took advantage of the low excursion rate and have visited the Fair this week. As near as we could learn, about 500 came from Tacoma, about 400 from Seattle and the remainder from suburban towns. The excursion was planned and organized by Fair Commissioner E. F. Benson. Mr. Benson's untiring efforts were ably seconded by the Chambers of Commerce in both cities and the daily press. The State Fair management and the people of Yakima generally recognize the good work that was done, and return thanks accordingly.

THE people of Yakima and the State Fair management feel under obligations to the press of Seattle and Tacoma for the good will and generosity that has been exhibited in behalf of the Fair. The daily papers of those cities have given up much valuable space in their columns, both in their editorial and news departments, for the purpose of advertising the different features of the Fair, and urging their readers to attend it. The good work that has been done is worth thousands of dollars to the Fair and to the people of this valley, and ought to be appreciated at its true value.

IN SPITE of all the croaking that has been done, North Yakima has taken care of all Fair visitors and could have taken care of still more. The fact should not escape attention, however, that more adequate arrangements will have to be made to handle the crowds in the future. And it is a matter, too, that ought not to be left unsettled until the eve of another Fair, when we would find ourselves in the same boat. We are up against the proposition and it must be solved in some way.

SETH LOW, who is the nominee for mayor of all the disgruntled elements in Greater New York, would probably not make a satisfactory mayor if elected. Low is what is known as a college or book politician. He is president of Columbia University and is no doubt a very good man. In case that Tammany Hall nominates Bird S. Coler, which seems likely, Low will lose, as he did three years ago, when he was defeated by Van Wyck, the present incumbent, by over 30,000 votes.

TIMES must be hard with the hobo fraternity when the necessity is felt of "holding up" a poor devil of an editor. It may be true, of course, in the case of Col. Robertson, that the "weary Willies" were ignorant of their victim's calling. The colonel was probably too much dazed at the audacity of the robbers to tell them of the enormity of their crime, but had he done so the spoils would likely have been returned, together with a suitable apology.

THE Manufacturers' Association of Seattle has favored this office with a copy of a neat little booklet that it has just published which is a complete manufacturers' directory of the Queen City. Every article made in Seattle is listed in the book in alphabetical order. It ought to be in the hands of all our local business men.

EXPLANATIONS in republican organs for the massacre of American soldiers on the island of Samar are certainly very lame. The public had accepted the oft-repeated assurances of these same organs that the war was over in the Philippines.

IF YOU happen to secure a sample copy of this paper, read it carefully and prayerfully and see if you don't come to the conclusion that it is the best and cheapest paper published in Yakima county.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

T. H. Manning is erecting a neat and commodious cottage on his property on North Second street.

The Nob Hill school opens Monday morning with Prof. Swartz, Miss Owens and Miss McKinney in charge.

A man named Taylor was held up and robbed near the Yakima hotel, Tuesday morning about three o'clock. The footpad secured about $11.

George Wilson accused of stealing an umbrella valued at $3.50 from H. H. Schott's store Tuesday, was given thirty days by Justice McCrimmon.

The government surveying party in charge of Mr. Sylvester came in Monday from the upper Natchez, where they have been at work the past four months.

First street presented an animated appearance this week, particularly at night. Practically all the licensed fakers in town have been doing business on that thoroughfare.

Eighteen vagrants were rounded up by the city police Tuesday. Judge Lince gave them until noon Wednesday to leave town, except one who was given 30 days for theft.

The hop house belonging to T. L. Lynch Jr. was burned Sunday night. The building and about $100 worth of hops were destroyed. The loss was fully covered by insurance.

Mr. Robinson, a newcomer recently from the east, has purchased residence property on First street near C and has let a contract to A. E. Howard for the erection of a $2500 residence.

Bert Bullock of Nob Hill, was thrown from his buggy Tuesday evening by colliding with another rig. He received a severe blow in the stomach and was carried to Sloan's drug store. It was not thought that any serious results will follow.

The show window of Pearson & Watt was the cynosure of all eyes, especially so with visitors, this week. The splendid and artistically arranged fruits and vegetables on exhibition were procured from different sources but principally the Moxee.

The announcement was made the first of the week that the Tuesley brothers and Robt. McComb, who have been conducting the Herald for several years under a lease, had bought the paper from the owner, E. M. Reed. The price paid is believed to have been $3500.

The town has been pretty well over run this week with toughs, hoboos and bad men generally. Ex-Sheriff Vandevanter, of Seattle, stated that he had not been in town more than an hour until he had spotted at least half a dozen crooks that had been run out of Seattle.

J. D. Noonan, of Tacoma, who arrived here overland from Tacoma a few days ago, died Tuesday morning at St. Elizabeth's hospital of typhoid fever. The deceased had evidently contracted the disease while enroute to this point. The remains were shipped back to Tacoma.

County Auditor Kelso granted the following marriage licenses this week: Monday—David C. Ross and Miss Annie

C. McVish, B. N. House and Miss Aelma Petersen. Tuesday—Forest S. Wenner and Miss Ina Coffin, John Biggins and Miss Ella Sandstrom. Wednesday—Edward Martin and Miss Lula E. Jayne.

Through the courtesy of Congressman Jones the DEMOCRAT is in receipt of a goodly quantity of agricultural department year books for 1900. As is well known this book contains much valuable and practical information. Our farmer readers are welcome each to a copy which they can procure by calling at this office.

Mrs. Oogha, of Roslyn, who has been picking hops, left her satchel containing some money and the return tickets for herself and family lying on a seat at the depot. Returning a few minutes later she found the satchel missing. It was soon found but the money to the amount of $9.65 had been abstracted. The affair was reported to the police.

Walter J. Reed and wife returned Sunday morning from their 30 day trip to the east. Mr. and Mrs. Reed visited the Buffalo exposition, the G. A. R. reunion at Cleveland and finally their old home at Carnegie, eight miles out of Pittsburgh, where Mr. Reed's aged mother still resides. The trip though pleasant was most tiresome and they seem glad to be home again.

A young man who has been working all summer at Parker, whose name we were unable to learn, was held up at the point of a revolver by two masked men on the railroad track just south of the avenue crossing Wednesday night about 8:30. The rascals secured $10 from the boy, all the money that he had. The matter was promptly reported to the police, but the robbers escaped in the darkness.

The contract of Messrs. Coe and McCormic as lessees of the DEMOCRAT and its job office expired by limitation October 1st, at which time J. D. Medill, who retired temporarily from the paper last May, again assumed charge of it. Guy McCormic remains with the paper as asst business manager and foreman of the composing room. The services of Floyd Hatfield, a late graduate of the High School, have been secured as reporter.

One of the Zirkle boys was knocked down for making some remark about one of the thriving games that are carried on at the fair grounds. The remark was made to a bystander and one of the boosters of the game overheard it, knocked him down. Before he could arise a second man jumped upon him and began kicking him. The game was stopped and the men arrested but they were soon after released.

In the support of Stuart Robson at Larson's on Saturday, October 12, are such star players as Maclyn Arbuckle, Russ Whytal, Dorothy Rossmore, Mary Kealty, Estelle Carter, Laura Thompson, Clifford Leigh, Joseph P. Keefe, Charles Lane, Roy Atwell and Charles R. Gilbert. Mr. Robson will of course, personate in "The Henrietta" his famous character of "Bertie the Lamb."

Senator Lincoln Davis and ex-Senator Easterday were among the Tacoma visitors at the Fair.

Harry Van Horn, the well known sage of the lower Yakima, has been taking in the Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Sisk and children of Sunnyside, were guests of Geo. Allen and wife this week.

Gov. John R. Rogers arrived Thursday morning to see the Fair. He has been the guest of H. J. Snively.

Dell Hiscock delivered three cars of hops this week that were sold early in the season to eastern brewers at 15c.

O. W. Stoner came over this week and is preparing to start up his evaporator. Prunes will be the first crop handled.

Geo. E. Gandy, who came here recently from Dakota, bought from J. M. Clark a half interest this week in the canning factory.

Hop picking will be wound up this week in all yards, a majority of growers in fact finished last week. The outlook for fair prices is said to be improving.

Fifteen drunks, pickpockets etc. were gathered in by the city police Wednesday. The drunks were fined $5 apiece by Judge Lince while the pickpockets were held for trial later.

Mayor Rowe of Portland, is here for the Fair the guest of Geo. Donald. Mayor Rowe was held up in Portland Tuesday night within a block of his home by a masked highwayman.

Two men giving their names as John Hart and J. P. Daly, were arrested by officer Starrett Thursday evening for having in their possession two suits of clothes which were thought to have been stolen.

James Cronin and James Mulligan charged with selling whiskey to Indians, were released by Commissioner Howlett Wednesday. William Bradshaw was bound over to the United States court at Walla Walla.

Among the prominent Tacoma people who came over on the excursion Wednesday were his honor, Mayor Campbell and wife, L. J. Pentecost and wife, Secretary Whitehouse, of the Chamber of Commerce and O. G. Ellis.

Lucy Williams and another colored woman from Tacoma, were arrested by officer Starret on a charge of grand larceny. The theft was committed on Wednesday's excursion. Their bail was placed at $250, which was furnished by their Yakima friends.

Rev. Robt. Warner, presiding elder of the Columbia River conference of the Methodist church arrived here Thursday with the body of his one year old child, who died at The Dalles Tuesday. The little one was laid to rest beside another child of Mr. Warner's, who was buried here six years ago.

An Indian named Charles Lewis, while crazed with liquor shot himself through the abdomen Wednesday evening. He was riding near the stock yards and stopped and began shooting in the air. He emptied his gun and then reloaded it and turned the weapon against himself. Before the officers were notified the body was robbed of about $20 and the revolver. No inquest was held.

H. C. Benthien, of Puyallup, with his Pierce county exhibit, was awarded the first premium of $300 for the best county exhibit on Thursday. H. Kampeter, of this county, received the second premium of $200, while Clarke county was given third money, $100. The judges had a hard time, apparently, in awarding the first premium, but they finally decided to give it to the man from Pierce on the ground, principally, that his exhibit was the best arranged. Many visitors thought that the blue ribbon had been fairly earned by Mr. Kampeter.

A Bold Robbery.

John F. Black of Kiona, was robbed of $81 Wednesday night while in his room at the Lowe lodging house. A man came into the room late that night to occupy another bed, but instead of retiring he jerked the vest and trousers from Mr. Black's room and rushed down stairs. Mr. Black followed him to the head of the stairs, but stopped to examine what he thought to be his pocket book but which proved to be a note book that had fallen from the vest. Willis Lindsey was arrested on suspicion.

A Holdup at Yakima City.

Two masked men held up three men from Zillah who were at the Old Town station late Tuesday night. The robbers forced their victims into an empty freight car, locked them in and then turned their attention to the depot safe. Four shots were put in the safe which damaged it seriously, but failed to open it. They then broke open a trunk belonging to the agent, B. H. McNeal and took several articles of clothing. They left no clue as to their identity.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A GREAT SHOW.

Is The State Fair This Year. Best Class of Exhibits yet Made. A Splendid Racing Program.

The State Fair this year is better in all its departments than any previous exhibition. That is the verdict at least of nearly every individual of the great crowds that have attended it daily. Space is at a premium in the big pavilion this year, most of the room being occupied with luscious fruit, grain and vegetable displays of this and other counties of the state.

The agricultural and horticultural exhibits were not all in place before Tuesday evening, the delay in the placing of outside exhibits being caused by the slow arrival of trains.

Besides that of Yakima the pavilion contains exhibits from Pierce, Columbia, Chelan and Clarke counties besides scattering exhibits from other sections of the state.

Clarke county has a very complete exhibit which extends the whole length of the north wing. It covers a great variety of products and attracts much favorable comment from visitors. Opposite the Clarke county exhibit is that of Chelan county composed entirely of a fruit display. The large red apples and luscious looking grapes in this display gives it a very attractive appearance.

The Pierce and Columbia county exhibits which are located side by side in the west end are constantly surrounded by an admiring and curious crowd. The Pierce exhibit is made entirely by H. C. Benthien, the well known market gardener of Puyallup, and is entered in competition for the first prize of $600 which is offered for the best county exhibit. It is certainly very fine and complete. The Columbia exhibit while less extensive is very good. Some very fine samples of grain, grasses and broom corn are to be seen in this display.

The exhibit being made by H. Kampeter, of this county, is deservedly attracting much attention. It is without question the finest and most complete and extensive display of agricultural and garden products that has ever been gathered together in Yakima county. Nearly everything outside of some of the fruit was grown by Mr. Kampeter, who has spared neither pains nor expense in growing and preparing this fine display.

The large central display of fruit which every body stops to admire was grown by Redman & Kenyon on their Nob Hill fruit ranch. Is is an extremely fine display, particularly the apples.

There is probably no exhibit in the building, however, that attracts more favorable attention from visitors than that of Sunnyside. The big yellow peaches, red apples and luscious grapes in this display just simply make peoples' teeth water. A portion of this exhibit was grown on the ranch of Rev. F. Waldron near Zillah, which portion was entered for premiums. Mr. Granger is entitled to credit for the fine showing that he has made for his section of the county.

The Women's department of which Mrs. Edward Whitson is superintendent, is better this year than ever before. The floral collection is a very good one and a quantity of rare plants is on display. A number of very fine specimens come from the green house of Prof. Balmer at CleElum. In the Women's department are to be seen a very large collection of curios, mainly Indian curios, kindly loaned for the occasion by L. O. Janeck, of this city, who is a very enthusiastic collector.

The Rockwood Creamery and the Yakima Honey Co. are also exhibitors of their respective products. Among the trade exhibitors in the pavilion, is the well known music house of Briggs & Dam, E. E. James and F. W. Beck photographers, Spokane Marble Co. and the Crescent Mtg. Co. of Seattle.

The poultry department is well represented, every cage in the house being full. On the whole it is at least equal to the very fine showing that was made in this division last year. E. E. Johns a well known fancier of Tacoma, is superintendent of this department and Mr. Browning, of Walla Walla, judge.

Wyman & Fraser have a very excellent exhibit of everything in their line in the machinery hall.

STUART ROBSON

In the Famous Play, "Henrietta,"
Saturday, October 12.

Although the sale of seats has not as yet begun for the engagement here of Stuart Robson in "The Henrietta" on Saturday night, Oct. 12, many demands have been made upon the box office of Larson's theatre for choice positions. It would seem that the confidence of Manager Fornier in offering a guarantee to Mr. Robson to appear here, was not misplaced. Seldom, indeed, is so eminent a comedian as he seen in a city of this size. The fact that he is to present the Bronson Howard play "The Henrietta," is a confidence of his appreciation that North Yakima and the surrounding towns wish to see the attraction which has made such a great success in the metropolises of the country. It is scarcely necessary to say that "The Henrietta" is universally regarded as the greatest of American comedies. Dealing as it does with all phases of American life it enjoyed a vogue unprecedented in the history of the native stage, having netted Mr. Robson over $1,000,000 in a few years' time. "Bertie, the Lamb," the character portrayed by Mr. Robson, in the original production and in this revival, will live forever in dramatic history as surely as will the character of Rip Van Winkle or Bob Acres. In fact, only a few nights ago when Joe Jefferson and Stuart Robson shook hands in parting at the Players Club in New York, Mr. Jefferson said: "Governor, which character will live longest, dear old 'Rip' or good little 'Bertie'?" As neither player could answer they went back into the Club and said good bye all over again. The importance of this engagement can be better understood, and Manager Fornier's enterprise better appreciated when it is announced that this is positively Mr. Robson's farewell tour as "Bertie the Lamb." In the support of Mr. Robson are two men who have starred with their own companies—Maclyn Arbuckle, and Russ Whytal, the former as Mr. Smith in "Why Smith left home" and Mr. Whytal in "For Fair Virginia."

RUSS WHYTAL

The Potato Famine.

The potato famine is becoming serious in the east. A late issue of the Kansas City Journal said: "There never was a time in the remembrance of the oldest commission dealer in Kansas City when potatoes were so scarce. The demand is a peculiar one, too, in that it comes not only from the city, but from every town and hamlet hereabouts. Ordinarily the smaller places are well supplied with potatoes, and much of the supply comes from them. This fall, they are sending in letters every day begging for carloads of them. The country has almost none, and the demand is bound to increase every week from now on till spring. There were as many as half a dozen cars of potatoes in Kansas City at the same time yesterday, and on account of this 'glut' prices broke a little. But they are still up to $1.25 a bushel, wholesale, where ordinarily they are not that a barrel, the price usually asked nowadays is about $1.40 to $1.50. Retail, they are 40 to 60 cents a peck. In New York they are selling from $3.25 to $3.50 a barrel of about three bushels, when usually they sell for $1 to $1.25."

Sought to Assassinate Jackson.

A republican newspaper of considerable prominence, referring to the mad act which has bereaved the nation, says, "They only seek to kill republican presidents." The partisanship which seeks to make party capital out of such a great calamity as the assassination of a president is, happily, not widespread. Decent journalism does not stoop to such methods and men who belong to party because of love for its principles are above such expressions. Again, the party organ that seeks to influence weak minds by such an expression is not well acquainted with American history. Abraham Lincoln was not the first president whose life was sought by an assassin. On January 30, 1835, Richard Lawrence sought to assassinate President Jackson by shooting him. President Jackson was crossing the portico of the capitol building when Lawrence attempted the crime. From some cause the assassin's pistol failed to explode. President Jackson sought to knock him down with his cane but was restrained, while an officer near by seized Lawrence and disarmed him. The assassin carried two pistols, both loaded to the muzzle with slugs. Caps found on the person of Lawrence were placed on the pistols and at the first attempt both were exploded with terrific violence. Bryan's Commoner.

WASHINGTON LETTER.
(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26, 1901.

Theodore Roosevelt had scarcely seated himself in the presidential chair before he was besieged by men who devote a large share of their time to seeking offices for their friends and adherents. Close upon the heels of congratulations and pledges of hearty support have come importunities for the designation of this or that man for this or that position in the public service. And, though he has not yet been chief magistrate for two weeks, Mr. Roosevelt finds that questions of policy are accumulating at a rate that promises to make them mountainous by the time congress is ready to begin its season of legislation.

One of the leading problems will involve the Philadelphia postmaster ship. Both senators Quay and Penrose are said to be unalterably opposed to the present incumbent, Mr. Hicks. As Senator Penrose has already presented his card at the White House and had an audience with the president, it is presumed in political circles that he made known both his opposition to Mr. Hicks and his nomination of a successor. The present Quaker City postmaster has administered his office in an eminently satisfactory way, but this is a minor consideration in the opinion of some of the republican leaders of the Keystone commonwealth, for they contend that senatorial courtesy gives them the inalienable right to name another man when the term of the present official has expired. Even the Postmaster-General admits that the Philadelphia office has been raised to the highest state of efficiency by Mr. Hicks, but when the combined efforts of the senatorial representative of the state are put forward to decapitate the incumbent and when it is considered that the approval of the senate is necessary to confirm a candidate, it looks as though even a sternuous man would have to yield to the pressure.

Then comes the collectorship of the port of New York to worry the executive. The late president reappointed George R. Bidwell. For fear that Mr. Roosevelt may select another beneficiary, Messrs. Platt, Woodruff and Quigg have become most uncomfortable. Inasmuch as they were partially influential in forcing the present chief magistrate into the second place on the republican national ticket, with a view to sidetracking him as a presidential possibility, they now fear retaliation. It is said that they have sent a whole detachment of messengers to the capitol, each generously supplied with olive branches and carrying a message to the effect that it would please them greatly to have the hatchet permanently interred. There will be a nervous galaxy of republican leaders in the Empire state for some time to come. It is reported that the president received the floral tributes and the messengers of good will with great courtesy, but that he failed to indicate his position in the momentous matter.

There is no way to compel action or to secure a pledge and the New York combination fully realizes that fact; so they must wait as patiently as they can for the arrival of that time when action must be taken. In the meantime, the row of notables on the political anxious seat are furnishing an interesting spectacle.

Despite the tragic changes at Washington, interest in democratic presidential possibilities for 1904 has not been even temporarily eliminated. It is a significant fact that republican leaders who drop into the capitol from time to time—and they are coming now in droves—discuss the matter with quite as much speculative energy as their opponents. Democrats are silent but confident. They know that the crisis will bring the man. A great party is never without a conspicuous champion, and there is such a quantity of good democratic timber to be brought into requisition when the time arrives that the future may be considered with equanimity.

Among the well-known representatives of the party, who are now here, the question of candidates is being confidentially considered. There is no need of heralding names at this early day, but the disciples of Jackson and Jefferson may rest assured that the hour will bring the leader and that the competitors for the high honor are sufficiently numerous and capable to guarantee a choice that will mean a united battle front and a brave fight for victory.

Although handicapped by the sudden death of his chief advocate, Rear Admiral Schley will continue to press his case for vindication before the naval court of inquiry with the determination that characterized his engagement with the Spanish fleet off the coast of Cuba. During the past few days considerable testimony, pro and con, has been adduced, but none to weaken the belief that Schley performed his duty and even triumphed over the limitations that confronted him in the way of red tape strung out from bureaus at Washington.

The acknowledgement of a navy department witness that the government charts concerning the detailed movements of the squadron are inaccurate and practically worthless was a strong point in favor of the popular admiral. The counsel for the victor of Santiago succeeded in scoring another bullseye yesterday when they forced into evidence a message from Sampson, instructing Schley to remain Cienfuegos during the blockade and to ignore the orders of the navy department if they interfered with necessary operations. Schley's attorneys base their case largely upon this and believe that in itself is sufficient to prove that their client did not disobey orders as alleged by those jealous of his fame. They contend that in the pursuit and defeat of the Spanish fleet he acted according to the demands of the situation and the instructions of his superior officer, who did not happen to be within hailing distance when the Americans reduced Cervera's ships to junk.

Admiral Schley has received from all parts of the country sympathetic telegrams concerning the death of his leading legal defender, coupled with the advice to fight on. While Schley is by nature a last ditch man, the knowledge that the American people are following his case closely and with responsive sympathy has served to encourage both the admiral and his energetic attorneys. After an absence of three months, during which he made an investigation tour of the Philippines, Adjutant-General Corbin has returned to his desk at Washington. In presenting his views as to conditions in the archipelago, he is very optimistic, out certain of the statements made by him indicate that there is a long and thorny path before the American authorities in the islands ere the Filipinos can be completely subdued and peaceful conditions established. General Corbin acknowledges that outside of the island of Luzon there is a great deal of trouble, necessitating military operations on a considerable scale. He also admits that it will be a full year before the army can be safely reduced to 25,000 men and that that number of troops must be retained in the islands for a long period, "for moral effect." In addition, he states that from $600,000 to $700,000 will be required to provide permanent quarters for the soldiers who are to terminate the revolutionary habits of the natives.

Expelled Girl Tells Why She Doesn't Care.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Sixteen letters sent out from the Northwestern University request sixteen students not to come back to school. The number includes both sexes, and the charge is that the young people have been too much given to tender sentiments.

During the lecture hours they were wont to steal forth and listen to the murmur of the lake. As a consequence they were short on examination and long on the starry night and the far-away blue hanging over the water.

One of the young women is quoted as sending back this reply:

"Gentlemen: You must think you are very smart, telling me that I shan't come back to your institution. You say that I neglected my studies, but, in the language of our Greek letter society, let me remark that you are off. I learned more than either of you gentlemen will ever know. I learned what love is. I learned what true poetry is, and that is far more than you will ever comprehend.

"What is the use of studying botany if I am not permitted to gather flowers? Why should I devote myself to astronomy if I am not allowed to look at the stars? What is the use of giving all my time to figures and neglecting my own figure?

"The idea of not being permitted to dress in low neck and short sleeves and stroll beneath the silvery moon? You must think that a girl is still living in the tallow-candle age.

"And I understand that my fiancé is also expelled. Well, he doesn't care. We are to be married soon."

Freedom of Speech.

Some of the republican papers are suggesting limitations upon the freedom of speech as a cure for anarchy. The editor of The Commoner has as much reason as any living man to know of the abuse sometimes heaped upon candidates for office. He has been the victim of as much malice and vituperation as have ever been employed against an American, and yet he is opposed to placing any restriction upon the freedom of speech or the freedom of the press.

First, because the evils of restriction are greater than the evils of freedom, and, second, because abuse does not hurt the man or the party made the subject of attack. The death of President McKinley cannot be traced to anything ever spoken or written against him. The assassin spoke affectionately of his victim and said that he killed him not because of his dislike for the man but because of his opposition to government of any kind. Some who are engaged in schemes which will not bear the light will shield themselves behind the murderous deed of the assassin and denounce freedom of speech because they do not want the public to be informed of their doings. Others, stirred by a righteous indignation, strike at free speech because some have abused the latitude allowed. It is time for liberty-loving citizens to protest against the attempt to suppress free speech. The warfare must be against anarchy, not against freedom of speech. Anarchy is an European product and thrives most where there is least freedom of speech and least freedom of press. Let us not make the mistake of undermining our institutions under the delusion that we are thus protecting those institutions.

Free speech and a free press are esse

DON'T FORGET IT!

The surest way to keep the womanly health is to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription at the first symptom of local disorder. There is no other preparation, for the peculiar diseases of women, which has so great a hold on woman's esteem. "Favorite Prescription" differs from almost all other medicines offered for woman's ills, in that it contains no alcohol, and is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It promotes perfect regularity. It dries the drains which weaken women. It cures inflammation, ulceration, and female weakness. It soothes and strengthens the nerves, drives away despondency, and gives a healthy appetite and refreshing sleep. It makes childbirth easy, and nursing mothers will find in it a strength giving tonic.

There is no substitute for "Favorite Prescription," because there is no other non-alcoholic and non-narcotic medicine for women which always helps and almost always cures. Don't let the dealer turn you aside from "Favorite Prescription" to any so-called "just as good" medicine.

Women suffering from disease in chronic form are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Replies to letters are sent in plain envelopes. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I never courted newspaper notoriety," writes Mrs. E. A. Bender, of Keene, Coshocton Co., Ohio, "yet I am not afraid to speak a good word for your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' Over a year ago I suffered terribly for nearly four weeks with prolapsus and weakness. After using one bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Pellets' I was a well woman. I have taken no medicine since and have had no symptoms of my former trouble. Have used the 'Favorite Prescription' at different times for more than four years and find it has no equal."

Biliousness and sick-headache are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the simplest and safest laxative for women.

"Yon Yonson."

The attraction offered to the patrons of the Larson theatre next Monday night October 7, will be a visit of that enjoyable comedy-drama, "Yon Yonson." Although in its tenth season, "Yon Yonson" is reported this year to be more successful than ever before. For a play to live for any time in the popularity of the theatre-going public it must possess both novelty and merit. These elements are true of "Yon Yonson" for it offers much novelty in its exposition of Anglo-Saxon life and comedy, and further is fruitful of original features in the fact that in plot, story and dramatic scenes it treats in quite an exhaustive manner of life in the pine woods district of northern Minnesota, a field which the ambitious playwright has hitherto left unexplored to a great extent. The central feature of the play is "Yon Yonson", an unsophisticated Swede, who, while on his way from North Dakota to accept a situation in the lumber woods of Wisconsin, falls in with a party of travelers bound for the same place. The Swede is an uncultivated but honest-hearted young man, and through his unselfish devotion to the interest of his newly found friends, disturbs the efforts of a black-leg to swindle them, and in the incidents that follow he finds a long-lost sister among the ladies of the party, and loses his heart to another, who accepts his hand in marriage, and is restored to a legacy which brings him wealth and position. No doubt a large measure of the success of "Yon Yonson" can be ascribed to the fact that instead of allowing it to retrograde in any manner, the management has, from year to year, continually improved its production, and this season is said to offer the best producing company and the most elaborate scenic environment the play has ever received. In the name part this season is found Mr. Knute Erickson, a native Swede being "to the manner born" as it were. Mr. Erickson is said to invest his impersonation of the unsophisticated Swede with all the little characteristics that indicate a true conception of the role. His interpretation is not a burlesque or a caricature, but an attempt to naturally and faithfully portray the requirements the role demands. The assisting contingent this season, admittedly the best that has been seen in the play in some time, includes as before in the role of the Irishwoman, "Mrs. Laffin," Annie MackBerelein, conceded to be one of the cleverest impersonators of Irish comedy characters in the profession, Beatrice Norman, Georgie Bryton and others. The famous Lumbermen's Quartette, the original "Yon Yonson" vocal four, are with the company this season and are said to offer a budget of new and up-to-date ballads. The scenic investiture is said to be the most elaborate the production has ever had and the log jam scene, one of the most striking of modern stage effects, is said to be given with more realism than ever before.

The Commoner.

(Mr. Bryan's Paper.)

The Commoner has attained, within six months from date of the first issue, a circulation of 100,000 copies, a record probably never equaled in the history of American periodical literature. The unparalleled growth of this paper demonstrates that there is room in the newspaper field for a national paper devoted to the discussion of political, economic, and social problems. To the columns of the Commoner Mr. Bryan contributes his best efforts; and his review of political events as they arise from time to time cannot fail to interest those who study public questions. The Commoner's regular subscription price is $1.00 per year. We have arranged with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish his paper and the DEMOCRAT together for one year for $1.75. The regular subscription price of the two papers when subscribed for separately is $2.00.

A Bold Holdup.

Editor Robertson and Wallace Williams on their way home Friday night of last week, were held up at the corner of Second and C streets by three masked highwaymen and forced to surrender their money and watches.

The summons, "Throw up your hands, we want what you got," was the first intimation that they were up against the real thing. The two men were loth to comply, but lost no time in putting up their dukes when the demand was made the second time, reinforced by the ominous click of a revolver.

One man held the gun on the victims while the two confederates went through them. Robertson lost his watch and chain and $7 in money, while Williams was relieved of a valuable gold watch and chain and $37 in cash. A gold ring was also taken from each of the gentlemen but were subsequently returned.

After finishing the job the man with the gun told his victims to "hike out down the back track" which they did promptly and gave the alarm. Mr. Williams spent most of the night in company with police officers in the endeavor to ferret out the robbers, but without result.

Death of Mrs. Frank Bartholet.

The many friends in this vicinity of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartholet were shocked to learn on Tuesday of Mrs. Bartholet's death which occurred at a hospital in Spokane the morning of that day about 5 o'clock. Death was due as the result of an operation performed to relieve a trouble of several years standing.

The deceased went to Spokane some three weeks ago to visit her family who reside there. Her husband, who went up hurriedly Monday in response to a telegram notifying him that the patient's condition was worse, telegraphed to relatives here that the funeral would take place in Spokane Tuesday at 9 a. m.

Mrs. Bartholet was formerly Miss Flora Haas. She was married to Frank Bartholet about nine years ago during which time she made her home in this city. The deceased was a lady of culture and refinement and had a large circle of friends in this city, who often enjoyed the hospitality of her home. Besides a husband, she leaves one child, a bright and handsome boy of six years to mourn her untimely demise. They have the sympathy of the entire community in their affliction.

The most important event of the dramatic season is the coming appearance of Stuart Robson and his all-star company, on Saturday, October 12 in "The Henrietta." Society ladies will be out in a solid phalanx to see the gowns worn by the ladies of the company, the most costly ever made for stage use, and all designed by Worth last summer in Paris. One gown cost ten thousand francs.

Fair Notes.

Picked Up About the Fair Grounds.

The fruit and vegetable display of W. L. Wright in the pavilion attracts much notice. It is the product of Moorpark ranch.

The likeness of George Washington, made of the grains and grasses of Clarke county, is one of the centers of attraction in the pavilion. It was made by W. T. Jackson, of Vancouver.

The Seattle Brewing and Malting Co. of Seattle have a neat display of their product in the pavilion.

The artistic display made by E. E. James, the photographer, creates a very favorable impression on visitors.

The Rockwood Creamery of this city has some very unique exhibits of their product in the pavilion.

The attendance at the Fair on Thursday was estimated by some of the commissioners at 6000, although it was admitted that the paid admissions would be considerably less.

The little French madam and her three trained lions seem to be the principal attraction among the side shows. The little woman handles the big brutes just as though they were so many kittens.

"The Petrified Woman," as she is called, said to have been unearthed in the Klondike, attracts fully her share of attention. The defunct lady, in fact, has reaped a great harvest of shekels for her owners.

Diodine, owned by D. M. Shanks, won $750 for her owner in Tuesday's pacing race by winning in three straight heats. Diodine made it in 2:10, 2:11½ and 2:11½, the fastest time that has ever been made on the Yakima track.

Tot Causes Night Alarm.

"One night my brother's baby was taken with croup," writes Mrs. J. C. Snider, of Crittenden, Ky., "it seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor, so we gave it Dr. King's New Discovery, which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect our children from Croup and Whooping Cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchial trouble that no other remedy would relieve." Infalible for Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at W. E. Ayres.

By far the most important event of the dramatic season in North Yakima is the engagement at Larson's of Stuart Robson, America's greatest comedian, in his elaborate revival of "The Henrietta". This comedy is to be given on the night of Saturday, October 12. The management of the theatre, and the residents of this vicinity are to be congratulated in obtaining so eminent a player and so famous a play.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Harris returned from a short visit to Hot Springs Sunday night.

Mrs. Jessie Sweeney came over with the Tacoma excursion party Wednesday. Mrs. Sweeney is a sister of Miss Patton, whose guest she is during her visit here.

Marriage licenses were issued Wednesday to J. F. Kauffman and Miss Martha A. Logan; O. H. Hansen and Miss Marie Jensen, S. H. Bonney and Miss Myrtle Dell Glead.

The register and receiver of the local land office on Tuesday rendered a decision in favor of Mrs. Virginia Bartholet in the contest case that has been pending for some time for the possession of a tract of desert land in the Sunny-side.

Burglars secured entrance to the residence of Michael Schorn on Natches avenue some time Thursday night, and made away with about $60. The money was secured from Mr. Schorn's trousers while that gentleman and his family, all unconscious of the fact that robbers were in the house, slept peacefully. A gold watch in the vest near by was not taken for obvious reasons.

A great deal of unnecessary trouble and annoyance was caused the local reception committee, as well as many visitors, by persons renting rooms after they had listed the same with the committee. In a number of cases tired strangers were piloted to houses at a considerable distance only to find on their arrival that the rooms sought for were already occupied. This practice, it is needless to say, was the cause for much dissatisfaction and a great deal of profanity.

It requires not only enterprise but courage for the manager of a theatre in a city of this size to offer a very large guarantee to a famous star, but this is what Mr. Fournier, of Larson's did to induce Stuart Robson to play here on Saturday, October 12, as "Bertie, the Lamb" in his revival of "The Henrietta." But that it will prove a shrewd business stroke there can be no doubt as the house will certainly be sold out and many turned away.

Elks' Social Session.

The Elks gave a social session at their lodge-room Thursday, which was a most enjoyable affair. Quite a number of visiting Elks and their friends were present and enjoyed the feast of good things prepared for them. Ex-Senator John L. Wilson, in the capacity of temporary exalted ruler, provided a bushel of fun for all present. The meeting adjourned at 12 o'clock. Everybody had a good time.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at W. E. Ayres drug store.

Getting Away From Land.

The question has been asked, Is it possible to sail 1,000 miles from land? This can be done at several points. By leaving San Francisco and sailing northward into the north Pacific a spot is reached where there is no land, not even an islet, for 1,000 miles in any direction. So, too, sailing from the southern point of Kamchatka south-eastward ships reach a point equally distant from land of any kind, the nearest to the north being the Aleutian islands and to the south the outlying members of the Sandwich group. In the southern Indian ocean it is possible to sail 1,000 miles out from the southern points of Australia and New Zealand and still be as far from any other land, and the same may be done in a westerly direction from Cape Horn. Indeed, from this point a much longer distance might be reached, for the southern Pacific between the Horn and New Zealand covers a space of 80 degrees of longitude and 40 of latitude of absolutely unbroken sea, making its central point over 1,200 miles from anywhere.

Mother Goose Repartee.

The Little Boy had been trying to go into vaudeville, with ill success, and he was obviously in a fault finding humor as he sat under the haycock with Bopeep.

"I fail to see the reason why you secure such widespread advertisement," he exclaimed pettishly.

"Especially," retorted Bopeep, "when you are so vigorously blowing your own horn."

"You neglect your charges shamefully. I believe even now they are lost," he pursued.

"Oh, they'll all come home, like your press agents, bringing their tales behind them," returned Bopeep airily.

Hereupon the Little Boy looked rather sheepish for an instant. "Your long continued association with crooks is corrupting your morals and manners," he cried, recovering himself.

At this Bopeep blushed, but made no reply. Perhaps, after all, it was jealousy that made the Little Boy Blue.—New York Sun.

An Anecdote of Greeley.

A call was once made by a dozen noted artists of the Academy of Design, in 1870, on Horace Greeley. Mr. Clarence Cook, then the art critic of The Tribune, had been saying things about the academy exhibition which caused the venerable chiefs of that establishment to boil with indignation. One day a committee went down to The Tribune to complain. Mr. Greeley, having listened in silence to what these gentlemen had to say, looked up from his desk, a twinkle in his eye, and said, with his peculiar nasal falsetto: "Gentlemen, I judge from your remarks that Mr. Cook's articles are widely read. They will therefore continue to be printed in The Tribune. Good morning."

Attest: H. B. DOUST, City Clerk.

Charley's Aunt and Jane.

Reaped a rich harvest from their American tour and certainly took their audiences by storm. There seems to be more finish to comedies written by English authors. And, by the way, "A Wise Woman" was first produced at the Strand Theater, London, where it had a phenomenal run of 238 nights and was the hit of the season. They come high, but we must have them.

Means ought to be adopted both in this town of the danger-infest it. We would not mob violence to remedy at the same time we have the suggestion that vigilance committee can do just at this time thieves become so bold.

C. F. Bailey, a former editor of the Herald, is over from Seattle this week. Mr. Bailey was acting as purser aboard the ill-fated steamer Charles D. Lane when the boat sank off the Alaskan coast a few weeks ago.

C. A. Jenson, the Prosser druggist, was in the city Tuesday. Mr. Jenson ent year books for 1900. As is well known this book contains much valuable practical information. Our farmers and others are welcome each to a copy which they can procure by calling at his office.

Mrs. Oogha, of Roslyn, who has been picking hops, left her satchel containing some money and the return tickets for herself and family lying on a seat at the depot. Returning a few minutes later found the satchel empty. F. H. Plumb returned home from his sad trip to Wisconsin Sunday. He began his duties the following day as principal of the Central school. Mrs. Spafford, a sister of his late wife, accompanied him home and will remain with the family for some time.

Rev. F. L. Hayden left Wednesday to attend the Presbyterian synod, which convenes at Lewiston, Idaho. He reports his daughter, who has been seriously ill at Waterville, to be much better. He hopes to bring her home in about a week if she keeps on improving.

Harry Collier, the well known editor of the Poultryman at Tacoma, came over Sunday. Mr. Collier had again been selected by the commission as superintendent of the poultry department, but finding himself unable to keep the engagement he brought with him Mr. C. C. Johns, an accepted authority on poultry to act as his substitute.

Rev. P. B. Jackson on Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coffin on Third street, tied the nuptial knot that united for life Mr. Forest Wenner and Miss Ina Coffin. The ceremony was witnessed by relatives and a few intimate friends. The groom is an employee of Coffin Bros. and is a nephew of Chas. Wenner and Mrs. Stanley Coffin. The bride who is well known here is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coffin. The newly wedded couple will make their home in this city.

There are admittedly but two great American comedians left, and but two great characters, Stuart Robson, as "Bertie, the Lamb," and Joseph Jefferson, as "Rip Van Winkle." The fact that Mr. Robson will present the famous comedy "The Henrietta" in North Yakima on Saturday, October 12, will serve to draw to Larson's the largest and most fashionable audience of the season. The engagement is certainly the most conspicuous ever obtained for this city.
