Mr. H.W. Johnson,
Box 74,
Gowrie, Iowa.

Dear Mr. Johnson:

Your request concerning information as to where you could procure a copy of the Yakima Centennial Book was received today.

To expedite your receiving a copy, I am mailing you one in this same mail dispatch.

I am also enclosing a circular of my book that is to be published next spring. It is Drummers and Dreamers.

It occurred to me you might wish a copy of this.

You may send $1, payable to the Yakima Indian Tribe, for the Centennial Booklet to me. Or, return an advance order for Drummers and Dreamers on the enclosed circular. The publisher will notify you next spring a short time before publication date and payment can be made then. That means there will be no charge for the Treaty Centennial booklet.

I am sorry I had to rush through the centennial book (12 nights to write three sections and edit it to meet the printers' deadline. Because of my contributed work, I received several copies of the Centennial book to use in connection with promoting my more ambitious book. You may determine from this time that the Indians are quite historical, having one of the Priest Rapids dams named for them.

If you are not interested in the book, Drummers and Dreamers, I will turn over the check to the Yakimas and obtain another copy of the booklet from them to replace the one in today's mail.

Sincerely,
