THE YAKIMA DEMOCRAT,

J. D. MEDILL, Editor and Proprietor.

Published every Saturday morning, at The Democrat Printing House on First Street, North Yakima.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

THE order of secretary of the interior Hitchcock excluding sheep from the summer range in the "Ranier forest reserve," will, without doubt, if allowed to stand, work a great deal of hardships on the sheepmen of central Washington. As the secretary is invested by law with almost absolute authority in his control over the reserves and is reported to be determined in the stand he has taken, it seems probable that the salvation of the sheepmen depends upon new legislation and it seems doubtful at this time whether such new legislation can be procured. In view of the fact that sheep under the restrictive regulations now in force are allowed pasturage only in the higher altitudes—where cattle will not go, it seems that the secretary's position is untenable. That sheep are not hurtful to the standing timber that grows in limited quantities in the higher mountains is obvious since what timber there is there is entirely of a resinous character which in its nature is distasteful to sheep. The republican party said Congressman Cushman at the sheepmen's meeting in this city last Saturday, is the especial friend and champion of the flockmaster; and while the sheepmen owe their present discomfiture to that party, it is probable that they will procure some measure of relief from that organization which cannot ignore them now, as it will need their votes again next year. Abraham Lincoln Cushman will probably stand in the halls of congress and talk until the matter is remedied.

THE shabby treatment accorded Admiral Schley by the McKinley administration will win for the man in the White House or his prejudiced secretary of the navy no new support. Admiral Schley who by his brilliant victory over Cervera at Santiago—when Sampson was several miles away—happens to be a democrat and for that reason it seems is snubbed and humiliated by the department with the approval of the president. His recent appointment to the command of the South Atlantic squadron was evidently put upon him for the express purpose of humiliating him. This squadron embraces only three vessels and fourth or fifth raters at that. They are the Chicago, Wilmington and Machias the last two being but little better than gunboats. Admiral Sampson the pet of the department is in command of the North Atlantic squadron, which includes some of the best ships in the navy. It is immaterial what indignity that McKinley and his mean and narrow minded secretary may put upon Schley, all fairminded Americans will give him the credit just the same for having won the greatest naval battle of modern times and this petty persecution may in the end elevate Schley to a position far above the contemptible secretary of the navy when that official will be forgotten.

ROOSEVELT, who by the grace of boss Platt occupies the great office of governor of New York, in a speech opening the republican campaign in New York last Saturday, went even farther than any republican orator has yet done in his strained attempt to make a virtue of expansion and to villify and malign the millions of people in this country who are not believers in President McKinley's policy of "criminal aggression." "Teddy" used to be a Cleveland mugwump, but latterly since the presidential bee has got to buzzing in his ear, he has come to be the rankest kind of a machine republican. Seeing that his party is unalterably committed to the policy of "expansion" and the defense of the trusts, Teddy has taken his cue and outlined the plan of campaign. Since his ambition is the attainment of the presidential chair he would have better stuck to his original role, for if we do not mistake the temper of the American people, he will now never succeed in reaching that exalted station.

"WARHORSE" Bill White, who misrepresents the democracy of Washington on the democratic national committee, has again broken loose. The Seattle P.-I.—a newspaper which Bill always goes to with his troubles, this week published a letter from Mr. White to National Committeeman Thomas in which he states that he will not vote for Wm. J. Bryan or any other man on a "copper-head" platform and heartily commends the administration's policy in the Philippines. The democrats of this state have grown weary of Mr. White's endless platitudes and covert insults in relation to this question. If he is determined to go over to the republicans let him do so by all means since he is so completely out of sympathy with his party, but he should first tender his resignation as a member of the national committee.

THE irrepressible Cushman was unable to restrain himself from ringing in politics in his talks to the sheepmen in this city on Saturday notwithstanding the hint said to have been given him in advance that political discussion was to be tabooed at the meeting. "The Abraham Lincoln of the West" took occasion to say that the republican party was the especial champion and defender of the sheep industry and that he, Cushman, could be relied upon to fight for that interest to the last extremity. This kind of talk must have sounded rather queer to the assembled sheepmen, who had just been ordered off the reserve by a republican administration, and coming to from such a man as "Cush," who but a few short years ago was a Wyoming cattle man imbued with no love for the flockmasters or their industry.

THE state fair this year is unquestionably a great success. The exhibits in every department are certainly superior to those of any preceeding fair, while the racing feature is much better and more satisfactory to visitors than any meet of former years. An effort should be made—aside from any thing the fair commissioners are doing—to transplant as much of the splendid fruit exhibits as possible to the Seattle exposition, where it would be viewed by thousands of people who were unable to come here. Such advertising of our horticultural resources would be worth more to us than a whole carload of descriptive circulars.

DEWEY is receiving a grand reception on his return to his native land. The people of this country are proud of the great admiral; not alone for the great valor shown at Manila, but largely because he has kept a cool head since and it is believed that he will continue to do so, notwithstanding the immense amount of slobbering that promises to be done over him. Sampson and Hobson have largely discounted their popularity by their conduct since they won great fame; but Dewey's hard Yankee sense will doubtless save him from their mistakes.

IT is rather disgusting says the Oregonian, the fuss that is made in this country over the marriage of American girls to foreign counts and princes. Fred Grant's daughter has married a cheap foreign fellow out of a job, who calls himself Prince Cantacuzene. It is merely a craze for a title on the part of the girl and her relatives, for the groom is prince of nothing under the sun. But the daughter of a plebian American family gets a title. She is a "princess." The name, however, is a jawbreaker. We will have to call her Princess Cant for short.

IT IS quite true, as the Republic asserts, that the democratic party was almost unanimously in favor of the war with Spain. It is likewise true that there would have been no war with Spain had it not been for the patriotic democrats in congress; but they favored a war of humanity, not of conquest as the republican administration has turned the war into. That it has degenerated into a war of conquest intelligent men cannot now deny.

The Logic of War.

"As we did not seek these acquisitions, which came to us through the irresistible logic of war," says Secretary Hay, in his campaign document addressed to "Dear Mr. Dick," "we are not striving anywhere to acquire territory or to extend our power by conquest." It would possibly not be dignified to make a downright accusation of lying against the state department, under ordinary circumstances; but since Mr. Hay has got down to the gutter line in politics along with such party agents as Charley Dick, we may be permitted to say that Mr. Hay is not telling the truth. He may think he is. He may be so skillful in the direction of his intellectual engine that he can make himself believe what everybody else knows is a falsehood.

Nothing has come to us by "the logic of war," unless it is Puerto Rico; and the desirability of that island as a part of the United States is yet to be shown. The Hanna administration is unquestionably carrying on a war of conquest against the Filipinos. The object of the war, as now conducted, is plainly to absorb the Philippine Islands, and make the people of the islands subjects or vassals. If this is not true, why is there not a proclamation of intent to establish the Filipinos in a government of their own after order shall have been restored?

It is not the "logic of war," but the war itself that is depended on to involve us in a British system of foreign conquest and vassalage.

Not only are we in a false, dishonorable position toward the Philippine Islands, but the administration is not taking much trouble to conceal its purpose to grab Cuba, in violation of the solemn pledge made by congress when war was declared with Spain. There has been miserable "pottering" with the situation in that island. It has been under our protection for a year, and not a substantial step has been taken toward setting up an independent government. All that has been done has been in the direction of perfecting our military rule there. When do we begin to make a permanent settlement of the affairs of the islands? Is Mr. Hay's "logic of war" to be applied to Cuba?

How long do the administrationists think they can fool the people with such stuff when common sense and common decency are opposed to it?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Getting Together.

In an editorial showing how the democrats of the different states are getting together the Chicago Chronicle, that opposed Bryan in 1866 now says: "The status of the democratic party in Iowa is the status which it should have throughout the country." It argues that the party should "get together" everywhere without regard to minor differences. In regard to the candidate for president it says: "It matters not who that nominee is, he will deserve and should receive the support of a united party. If it is Mr. Bryan the country will have nothing to fear and nothing to regret. A more honest man than he does not live, not one of wider grasp of political issues not one of stronger and purer Americanism, not one that is franker or more to be depended upon. Whatever may be said of his belief, no man denies that he is above board. We know where to find him. We know that he is incorruptible and that if elected he would give the country a clean, scandal-free administration." It goes on to show its old readers that they have no cause to fear any radical change in finances because the senate will be hostile for at least six years, and then it says. "Upon every other question of public import—imperialism, opposition to trusts, restriction of the encroaching tendencies of the federal judiciary; insistence that legislation for the benefit of the few and the curse of the many shall cease, denunciation of grave army scandals, elimination of unscrupulous bosses—Mr. Bryan is as sound as a nut."—Walla Walla Argus.

Ways of Actors.

In the country one has few opportunities of meeting these children of nature. Occasionally one sees an individual or a company at the railway stations, and then it is curious to note how instinctively they treat the platform as a stage and take up the important positions on it. I wonder if acting now is as lucrative a profession as it was under Elizabeth. Shakespeare, we are told, got nothing to speak of for his plays, but made his fortune as an actor, and Alayne, another actor, after providing for his family, founded Dulwich school. Another curious point about actors is that they should not be content with their own names, like painters and writers, but take names, the ladies especially, that belong to other people. Is there no property in names? N. told me of a model of his who wished to go upon the music hall stage and whom he asked, "What should you call yourself?" "Oh, Alice Burne-Jones, certainly."—Cornhill Magazine.

If those tropical people are fit for ultimate citizenship in the United States, they are fit for ultimate independence, and should have it. We do not need their help as citizens of this country. They bring nothing into such a partnership that is of profit or importance to us."—Tacoma News.

The good people who are making such a fuss about the admission of Polygamist Roberts of Utah to congress should pay their respects to the treaty recently negotiated with the Sultan of Sulu by the terms of which our government gives his royal highness an allowance of $6000 a year to maintain his harem and his slaves. This act seems to stamp the approval of our "christian civilization" on the "benevolent assimilation" of the twin relics of barbarism, polygamy and slavery.—Walla Walla Argus.

Ohio politics may be productive of some great surprises this fall. Some well informed Republicans are fearful of the result there and believe that the independent candidacy of Jones for governor will hurt the republican candidate. As Ohio is the home of both McKinley and his malodorous Warwick, Hanna, a republican defeat is almost certain to make a change in national candidates for the presidency. In that case if the public sentiment, which is so rapidly growing, against imperialism continues to grow, very likely the money changers will switch from McKinley to Reed. The exploitation of the people will however continue.—Olympia Journal.

If Bourke Cochran is so very anxious to know some of the injurious effects of the trusts he might ask the 30,000 drummers who were thrown out of employment; he might ask the job printers all over the country in regard to the advance in the price of paper; he might even come to Everett and find that the nail mill was closed down and 100 men thrown out of employment, and at the same time the price of nails was raised 100 per cent. In fact if he would wake up long enough to draw a good honest breath he would find evidences of the injurious effects of the trusts on all sides and in every hamlet throughout the country.—Everett News.

It is a mystery where, outside of office holders and their friends, the bankers and the unthinking business men, the republican party expects to get any amount of votes in 1900 The administration has made enemies of the German-Americans and the Irish-Americans through its new colonial policy, the negroes through its re-establishment of chattel slavery in the Sulu islands, the bimetalists through its equivocation concerning silver, the civil service reformers through its course in shrinking the civil service list the soldiers through its embalmed food contracts, and every honest American, whether imperial or anti-imperial, through its war scandals. Everyone takes a shot at the rapidly expiring republican party, which is so rotten it will go down to everlasting oblivion even amid the pomp and glory of its reign.—Vancouver Register.

The fourth grade of the Central school will for the present be accommodated in the old Congregational church on the west side.

Sheepmen in Convention.

The mass meeting of Central Washington sheep owners convened for the purpose of considering the matter of the expulsion of their flocks from the "Rainier forest reserve," took place on Saturday afternoon at the Commercial Club rooms. The number in attendance was hardly up to expectations which was due to the fact that the date of the meeting had been changed last week from the 27th to the 23rd the news of which had not reached a number of flock masters in the mountains. The gathering was called to order by John Cleman, president of the Wool Growers Association, who stated briefly the object of the meeting. Secretary Sam Cameron then read a number of communications, including letters of regret from Senators Turner and Foster and Ex Senator Wilson, who all stated their hearty sympathy with the object of the meeting and the cause of the sheepmen. Col. Howlett, who has been acting in the capacity of secretary for the association, then read a communication which he had sent to Secretary Hitchcock of the interior department, in which he vigorously protested against the recent order of that official ordering the sheep off the reserve.

E. F. Benson of the N. P. land department was then invited to address the meeting and did so. Mr. Benson also read a number of copies of letters from Northern Pacific officials to Secretary Hitchcock protesting against the recent ruling. He also read letters from certain government officials of the agricultural and forestry department to the effect that the presence of sheep on the mountain ranges was neither detrimental to the commercial timber thereon, or to the value of the district as a water shed.

Congressman Cushman was then introduced to the meeting and evidently intent on making the most of the opportunity, squared himself and began one of his characteristic harangues assuring the sheepmen that in this their hour of trouble that they had his undivided sympathy as well as that of the republican party, which organization had always been loyal to the interests of the sheepmen. The man that "looks like Lincoln" in his own peculiar and jocular way then related the story of his recent interview with Secretary Hitchcock, which was highly amusing and at which everyone present heartily laughed. Congressman Jones then followed Cushman in a brief but sober set speech in which he assured the sheepmen of his devotion to their interests, at the same time impressing upon them the necessity of procuring data to back up the congressional delegation at the next session of congress.

Mayor Fechter, R. K. Nichols, Miles Cannon, S. J. Cameron, Edward Whitson and Col. Howlett were then called upon in the order named and discussed the question in all its bearings, each speaker in turn assuring the meeting of his sympathy and support.

Col. Howlett then introduced a resolution thanking Commissioner Biuger Herman of the general land office for his labors in behalf of the sheepmen. The resolution was unanimously passed.

D. G. Goodman then moved that a committee of five be appointed by the chairman to gather data on the question at issue. The motion being passed Chairman Cleman appointed D. G. Goodman, Edward Whiteon, Geo. Mc-

Cready of Bickleton and Smith of Ellensburg as such committee. The general meeting then adjourned after which an executive meeting of the Wool Growers Association was held.

The same evening the sheepmen gave a grand banquet at the Hotel Yakima, at which Congressman Cushman was the guest of honor and most of the leading lights in the local republican party were present by invitation. Col. Howlett the well known wit and philosopher acted as toast master at the "Belshazzar feast" as it was jokingly called.

A number of responses were made to toasts proposed, and eloquence and wit flowed ceaselessly for a time as did the bright colored fluid along the festal board. Those responding to toasts were Messrs. Cushman, Englehart, Whitson, Nichols, Fechter, Cleman, Barge, Cannon, Hare, Redman, Benson, Lynch, and Boyle. The affair was wound up about 1 p. m.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruption and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth velvety skin and rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at Louis O. Janeck's drug store.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22, 1899.

Nothing could more clearly show the republican fear that Mr. McLean will be elected governor of Ohio than their frantic efforts to make it appear that Mr. McLean is a secret enemy of Col. Bryan, and that if elected governor of Ohio, he will seek to prevent Col. Bryan's nomination for president next year. Their object, of course, being to make the Ohio democrats who wish for Col. Bryan's nomination, lukewarm in their support of Mr. McLean. The trick is too transparent to fool anybody. It is well known in democratic circles that Mr. McLean is entirely favorable to Col. Bryan's nomination, and equally well known that Col. Bryan is willing and anxious to do everything in his power to help Mr. McLean carry Ohio this year. There is nothing in the story that Mr. McLean had asked Col. Bryan not to speak in Ohio. When Mr. McLean was first nominated Col. Bryan notified the Ohio state democratic committee that he would speak in the state, if the committee deemed it advisable, and that is just where the matter stands today. If he doesn't speak there, it will only be because the committee may decide, as a contrast to the wholesale importation of speakers by the republicans, to confine the democratic speakers to citizens of the state.

The administration has again climbed the mountain of hope, and all sorts of mysterious hints of early peace in the Philippines are being scattered around Washington semi-officially. All the foundation that these gorgeous air castles have is the granting several days ago by general Otis of a request that two Filipino officers be allowed to go to Manila to negotiate for the surrender of the American prisoners held by Aguinaldo. The administration has apparently jumped to the conclusion that Aguinaldo wishes to surrender, although there was nothing in the cablegram from Otis, as published, to justify any such conclusion. The anxiety of the administration for a speedy and successful closing of the war in the Philippines is growing so great that it cannot be hid.

Although Mr. Wayne MacVeagh, leading counsel for Gapt. Carter, reached Washington early this week, the argument he is to make before the attorney general, for which that official claims to be waiting to hear before making a recommendation to the president in the case, was postponed until next week. Attorney General Griggs feels so sore over the general criticism of the delay in disposing of this case that he took the extraordinary course of making public, through an authorized interview, a defense of himself and his department.

The Washington bar is considerably worked up over a report that Mr. McKinley has decided to appoint an Ohio man United States district attorney for the district of Columbia, and a meeting of the Bar Association has adopted a strong resolution in favor of home rule, but, of course, the Washington Bar Association does not wield any influence in Ohio politics, and if Boss Hanna says that another Ohio man must be given a Washington office, it is likely to be done.

The following letter from Ex-Senator Henderson, of Missouri, whose home has been in Washington since he retired from the senate, was received by the secretary of the anti imperialist league, recently organized in Washington: "I shall be home in a few days and shall join the league with pleasure. If imperialism goes up to success, this republic will go down to ruin."

Mr. Lawrence Gardner, whose resemblance to Mr. Cleveland resulted in both annoyance and amusement during the two terms of President Cleveland, and who has been closely connected with the democratic congressional campaign committee, and the national committee, of which he was the district of Columbia member died this week. Mr. Gardner has been a resident of Washington for forty years, and every democrat who has attained national prominence during the last twenty years was his personal friend.

Like the good sailor he is, Rear Admiral Schley says he will obey the order for him to assume command of the South Atlantic Squadron, if it is issued by the navy department. So far the only order issued directs him to hold himself in readiness to take that command. Meanwhile, Schley, the man whose honors in the Spanish war are second only to those of Admiral Dewey, will go to New York to participate, as a private citizen, in the welcome of his old friend, Dewey. Such is the result of not standing in with the clique.

Children

THERE are many children in school who ought to wear glasses. Eyes which are naturally weak always become worse under the strain of constant study. Headaches, squinting the eyelids, holding the book close to the face, are all symptoms of eye strain and overwork. Children are frequently "marked down" in their studies through inability to make out characters upon the blackboard. The eyes of every pupil in the schools should be examined by a competent optician at least once a year. You cannot afford to be indifferent in this matter. By giving attention to slight defects now, their school work will not only be lightened, but the necessity of wearing glasses constantly in after years may be avoided. I will be glad to examine your children's eyes at any time. I will tell you in what condition I find them, and will advise you as to the necessity of wearing glasses.

Pavilion Exhibits.

Among the remarkable displays in the pavilion this year, which were much admired by visitors, was the exhibit of several Yakima ladies in their large and commodious booth, which was subdivided into three departments for the display of their beautiful collections in art, embroidery and curios.

The Spokane business college, Moore & Wenner, T. G. Redfield, Claude Briggs, T. H. Rutter and T. R. Hopkins the Seattle florist, all had very handsome and creditable exhibits.

Miss Edith Spain of this city exhibited a very fine collection of photographs—all her own work which excited much interest. P. Y. Heckman exhibited his fine cabinet of curios which are very valuable, not only on account of the age of many of the articles in the collection but for the unique character of the whole. In Mr. Heckman's exhibit were a number of very rich mineral specimens.

W. H. Wroe of this city also had on display a number of rich specimens of ore which came from the Colville country.

The exhibits of dairy products was the finest by all odds ever seen at the fair here and excited much commendation from visitors.

Some Premium Winners.

The judges of the fruit exhibits at the fair this year, were certainly the hardest worked and most sorely perplexed men on the grounds. For three days those worthy individuals labored and perspired in minutely examining and awarding premiums in that department.

Wm. Lee jr. was given the prize of $100 for the best general exhibit of fruit and farm produce. H. Benthien of Puyallup received the special premium consisting of a top buggy donated by Studebaker Bros.

C. R. Harris was given a special premium of $25 for the best separate fruit exhibits while H. Campeter received the first premium on potatoes.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever, that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong, I can't say to much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles free at Louis O. ### The Fair a Grand Success.

The Washington state fair opened last Monday under the most auspicious conditions. The weather was all that could be desired and has continued throughout the week. The exhibits were all in place by Monday and everything in readiness to receive the public. The attendance on the first day was comparatively light as was to be expected. The gate receipts, however, have increased largely with each day since. The average attendance would of course be much greater, if hop picking throughout the country had been farther advanced.

Concerning the quantity and quality of the exhibits, it is a common remark of many visitors present that the collection as a whole is much the best ever got together in this state. The fruit and general farm products displayed in the pavilion, were especially admired by all who viewed them for their excellence, beauty, and for the skillful manner in which they were displayed.

There was very strong competition this year among growers and collectors for the big prizes this year and every nerve was strained among the numerous exhibitors for the highest degree of excellence. While the displays made by all were good it was plain to be seen that the contest for the two big premiums lay between Wm. Lee Jr. of the Natchez and H. Benthien of Puyallup, owing to the great varieties of products included in their exhibits. The size of the pumpkins, squashes, water melons, potatoes and other products in Mr. Lee's exhibits were truly astonishing even to Yakima people who are used to big things in those lines. The exhibit of Mr. Benthien of Puyallup was likewise very remarkable, although made up more largely of purely garden products. The exhibits of P. J. Eschbach, John Garrecht, M. Roland, Cameron Bros., A. W. Speyers, D. S. Shanks, Orlando Beck and C. R. Harris while not as extensive as the two first named, (being confined mainly to fruit) were nevertheless extremely fine displays and were very much admired, especially those of Mr. Shanks, Mr. Beck and Mr. Harris.

The poultry exhibit also attracted much attention. This department under the able supervision of H. H. Collier was made up of what all agreed was the finest collection of fowls ever brought together in the state. Mr. Collier who is a practical as well as a theoretical poultryman, brought over from Tacoma a number of his own finest birds, as did also a number of his friends on the Sound. Messrs. Schott and Carvosso of this county also put on exhibition some of their finest chicks. The success of this department is due almost entirely to the untiring energy of Mr. Collier, both personally and through his paper, the Pacific poultryman.

The live stock exhibits particularly cattle, are especially worthy of mention. In the fine herds exhibited this year, which embraced nearly all of the well known breeds, were several here at home. Namely: G. Mac L. Richards with his fine herd of Holsteins, 12 in number. A. J. Splawn, the well known cattle man of the Cowychee was on hand with a herd of his fine white faced Herfords which everyone admired.

D. S. Shank's Jersey herd and J. E. Shannon's Guernseys were also much admired. A. M. Stevens of Ellensburg also exhibited a herd of the gentle Jerseys, which captured several ribbons.

Messrs Coggsell and Sullivan of Olympia exhibited a large herd of red Polled cattle. Two fine herds of Oregon Short-horns were in evidence, being the property of W. O. Minor of the "Mountain Valley" stock farm at Heppner, and Chas E. Ladd of the "Oakhill" farm at North Yamhill. These latter two are especially valuable herds.

The sheep and swine exhibits are also exceptional. We failed to get the names of the owners of the stock in the two last named departments.

Recognize His Ability.

The enemies of James Hamilton Lewis who love to refer to him as a brainless blatherskite who would never be heard of after his defeat for congress, must be feeling rather uncomfortable these days. If they fail to recognize the ability of Mr. Lewis as a lawyer, others do not. The American miners who were driven out of the Atlin district by the Canadian government have employed Col. Lewis to represent their interests, involving several million dollars. Col. Lewis went to Washington, presented his case to the state department, was given credentials to Ambassador Choate, who will by request of Secretary Hay, present to Lord Salisbury an official request to have the joint tribunal take up the claims for consideration.

Colonel Lewis has gone to London on this mission. The eastern newspapers gave him as much attention as when he was a member of congress, all of which goes to prove the truth of the old saying that "You can't keep a good man down." —Colfax Commoner.

Four reasons why many of our first families go out of their way to trade with Pearson:

Do you know that many of our customers are the wealthiest and most particular in this town? They are the people who have tried other stores but were never fully satisfied until they came here.

WHY?

FIRST—Because we sell "guaranteed groceries." No auction goods; no seconds.

SECOND—Because we give your money back the minute you want it.

THIRD—Because our groceries are fresh and clean and pure. Nothing allowed to become shelf-worn.

FOURTH—Because our prices are lower than any other grocer who sells good groceries.

If you are not fully pleased with your present grocer, give us a trial order. You can go back to him—if you choose.

Dealers Exhibit.

An article that appeared in the Herald this week reflecting on the right of the dealers to enter fruit exhibits for premiums is very unfair, in as much as it was at the special request of the fair commission that displays were made by dealers. The commission profiting by the experience of last year, when the fruit display was very poor on account of the indifference of the growers, determined to have a better showing this year. The collection of Mr. Harris was gathered at great trouble and expense and while it was ruled out by the judges on points, it certainly added much to the whole display.

The Rocky Mountain Locust.

The following directions given by Professor Otto Lueger, state entomologist of Minnesota, in view of the appearance this season of the Rocky mountain locust in North and South Dakota are worthy of note and emphasize the fact that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

The best remedy is to destroy the eggs or to prevent their hatching. This can only be done by plowing all land containing eggs during autumn and early spring; hence it is too late now to apply this remedy.

If the young locusts are scattered over a field, and if the crops are too much injured to be worth saving, the field should be plowed. A number of plows should be used at the same time, the plows following each other as closely as possible. By commencing the operation at the outer edge of a field we force the insects toward the center, where they are crowded together and covered up.

If the young locusts are still feeding in regular armies side by side, the plants in front of them should be dusted with paris green or london purple. This will kill most of them.

Feeding Whey.

Whey is a valuable feed for hogs. There are about 7 pounds of solids in 100 pounds, and that quantity of whey fed properly in combination with other feeds should produce two pounds of increase in live weight. Whey is a poor diet when fed alone, although hogs will live on it and gain in weight. Whey may be turned to lard, but it does not give good results when fed alone. To young, growing pigs it may be fed with profit on clover pasture. The use of a field in that way puts it in a capital condition for the growth of a crop of Indian corn for fodder purposes the following year. Whey should be fed in a sweet and clean condition. A clean and comparatively sweet whey is wholesome, whereas a very sour whey is dangerous. Often its use is injurious to the swine. The whey tank at a cheese factory should be above ground, and for the sake of the value of the whey for the production of pork the tank should be cleaned thoroughly at least once a week.

Indian corn, ground or unground, should not be fed alone with whey. It is unprofitable in that combination, and results in the production of very fat bacon. A good mixture would be (a) one-third shorts, or bran, (b) one-third ground oats, peas, barley, wheat, mixed or single, and (c) one-third ground Indian corn. The best results from Indian corn are obtained when it is fed in combination with skim milk or buttermilk, which supplies the flesh forming materials in which the corn is deficient. —Report of Commissioner of Agriculture and Dairying of Canada.

WASTED MANURE.

The Greatest Leak on the Farm — Value of Covered Yards.

"We cannot, in actual practice, apply the manure to crops as we make it, though we would desire to do so. As it is done in actual practice, the manure is thrown out of the stables and generally scattered over the yard to remain until needed or a convenient time comes to haul it out on the land. The sky is the roof, and the rains and snows descend and leach away the very best and most valuable ingredients. Roofed or covered manure yards were not approved of by our older authorities. Even so great an agricultural authority as Professor Storer speaks in a rather deprecatory way of covered manure sheds. Of late there has been a general revision of opinion along this line, since intelligent practice by actual farmers has proved the contrary of the general preconceived opinion.

"Quite a number of experiment stations have investigated the matter and reported some rather startling results. At Cornell the loss varied with the rainfall and other conditions, but ranged up to 62 per cent. The Geneva station reported a loss of 46 per cent, the Kansas station 50 per cent, and the Ohio station about the same. At the Massachusetts station the leachings, though 93 per cent water, were worth $2.94 per ton. Thus I might continue to cite many more instances pointing to the fact that about 50 per cent, or one-half of our yard manure, is annually wasted. The worst part of the matter is that the best half—the half that is readily soluble in water and could be used by the plants immediately—is wasted. The manure made on my little farm was worth over $500, so if carelessly handled and thrown out into the open yard to leach and ferment until the end of the season the loss would foot up at $200 or $250, or, in other words, I would have to purchase plant food ingredients to that amount to replace what passed off in gas or went down stream or into the rocks as leachings. If an item of that size is not worth looking after in these times of close competition, when there are thousands of farms barely holding their own, then I would like to ask how large a leak has to be to demand attention. This can be remedied quite inexpensively by constructing a roof over the yard, or part of the yard, to keep the manure under. The reason such shelters were not recommended in the past is because the manure was not properly handled and would fire fang or burn up from overrapid fermentation."

A writer in Country Gentleman, who has the foregoing to say about what he characterizes as "the greatest leak" on the farm, mentions also the requisites for bringing out manure in the most perfect condition for plant food and soil improvement:

The manure must be compacted as it is put on the yard. If the cattle are allowed on it, they will do this to perfection.

All the liquid manure should be incorporated with the solid and the bedding to produce an even and proper fermentation.

Some land plaster should be used in the stable and on the yard to absorb the odors. Dissolved South Carolina rock can be substituted, as it is in fact land plaster with 12 to 14 per cent of available phosphoric acid. Plaster generally costs $6 to $7 per ton, while the dissolved rock can be bought close to seaboard for $10 to $11 per ton, and by using it in this way it balances up the manure better, as it otherwise has an excess of nitrogen, and the phosphoric acid costs only 1-2-3 cents per pound, counting the plaster at $7 per ton. This plaster or rock will capture and hold all the ammonia that might otherwise escape during the process of fermentation.

Manure made and cared for in this way is valuable though to be applied with care, and four tons per acre properly distributed is sufficient for any ordinary farm crop, and each crop should have about that much, which would make 12 tons in the course of the three year rotation. By using the manure spreader this can be so evenly distributed that each plant will get its share of food, and none will get an overdose. Topdressing is preferable whenever it does not interfere with the tillage of an intercultural crop. By having the manure sheltered we can apply it just when the crop is most in need of it or when most convenient to ourselves. Let us not forget the manure crop while we care particularly for all other crops and tools. Care and shelter here pay as well as with any of the others.

Nice clean eggs always find ready sale. If they are dirty, they should be washed with warm water. A southern exchange says that if this does not take off all the stains cider vinegar will. It will pay to try this if you have a nice lot of fresh eggs that by accident or otherwise have become stained, for a dirty egg is distasteful, even if the egg is all right inside. The sight of it outside is obnoxious to the delicacy of one's taste. —Massachusetts Ploughman.

John L. Wilson Robbed.

Ex-Senator John L. Wilson was the victim on Wednesday night or rather early Thursday morning of a daring burglar who found his way into the C. F. Meyer residence on Natches avenue where the senator was quartered, and entering his room on the second floor, secured his valuable gold watch and chain and $110 in money. Mr. Wilson was not aware that he had been robbed until he arose in the morning disconcerted at not finding a portion of his wearing apparel. Subsequently the missing clothes were found in the yard. Mr. Wilson on the following day received the condolences of his many friends, over his loss. He felt much more disturbed over the loss of the time-piece and chain, than the money, on account of the former article having been a gift to him. As yet no clew has been obtained of the light fingered burglar who performed the operation. The police officers, however, feel certain that the robber is a member of a gang of "Sound crooks," here to work the town during the fair.

"A Breezy Time"

For the last few years, it would seem as if the public has been seeking that class of plays having as their fundamental principal, the creation of merriment.

Working for this idea, the author of "A Breezy Time" has given an amusing and well told story that Fitz and Webster's Cleyer Company of comedy players have succeeded in elaborating into an enjoyable entertainment. Meritorious from the fact that it now only has all the elements of music and fun, but it's story is coherent and full of well sustained interest.

The three acts of "A Breezy Time" have been happily impregnated with music, songs, dances and amusing specialty features, all of which are introduced in an easy and perfectly legitimate manner, and the presentation gives a bright and crisp entertainment.

The finale of the last act was arranged by Fitz and Webster in which they introduce a number of "Rag Time" airs, closing the show with a grand cake walk by the entire company.

"A Breezy Time" will be at Mason's opera house Thursday, Oct. 5.

The Jonathan Apple.

The Jonathan is pre-eminently an apple for dessert use in the fresh state, and by its beauty and convenient size is particularly adapted for sale in small lots from stands and stores for immediate consumption. It is a late autumn or early winter variety, except in the more northern districts, and is inclined to wilt and wrinkle in ordinary storage after New Year's, but in cold storage it is successfully held to a much later date. Because of its tender flesh and thin skin special care in picking, handling and packing is imperative in marketing the Jonathan. It is easily bruised, and its market value is materially lessened by careless handling.

J J Macdonald expects to move his store into the Dudley block next week.
