"TEDDY" IS COMING.

The President of the United States to Visit North Yakima May 25---To Be Here Thirty Minutes.

Congressman Jones Monday morning received two dispatches from Washington City informing him that President Roosevelt and party would make a thirty minute stop in this city on May 25th, while enroute east from Puget Sound. The first dispatch received was from Wm. Loeb, Jr., secretary to the president, who stated that the party would "probably consist of Elihu Root, secretary of war, myself, Assistant Secretary Barnes, a physician, three stenographers, several press representatives, a photographer and three special men," presumed to be detectives. The second telegram was from Senator Foster and stated in effect that the presidential party would arrive in North Yakima at 10:30 a. m., on May 25, and would remain here for 30 minutes. The congressman was asked to reply within 48 hours outlining the program to be followed while here. Regarding the program the president's secretary stated that "it is desired that drives be substituted for receptions, a program consisting of drive and brief remarks would be satisfactory."

Congressman Jones immediately communicated with Mayor Shaw and President Cornett of the Commercial club, asking their cooperation in the matter. Mayor Shaw laid the matter before the city council Monday evening. It was the unanimous feeling of that body that proper steps should be taken by the city government towards giving the president a suitable reception. Mayor Shaw intimated that he would appoint a reception committee from the council at the next meeting.

So far as is now known the president's itinerary in this state is as follows: Leaving Portland, Or., Friday, the 22nd, the party will make brief stops at Chehalis and Olympia, thence to Tacoma, where a visit of several hours will be made Saturday. The president will then go to Seattle, where he will remain until an early hour Monday morning. No stop will be made of consequence until reaching Ellensburg, where the president will devote 15 minutes. After leaving Yakima the party will visit Walla Walla, Colfax and Spokane, thence east over the N. P. route to the Yellowstone National Park, where the president will rest up for a period of three weeks.

The Anti-Gambling Law.

Gov. McBride approved the anti-gambling law on March 5th. As no emergency clause was attached the new law will not go into effect until June 5. Its passage and approval seems to have created a good deal of furore all over the state, although on the whole it seems that public sentiment endorses it. The measure, according to the following from the Tacoma Ledger, is likely to interfere somewhat with the mild form of gambling that exists in society. In effect it says on this point:

"Any person who shall conduct, carry on, open or cause to be opened, either as owner, proprietor, employee or assistant, or in any manner whatever, whether for hire or not, * * * any game played with cards, dice or any other device, whether the same be played or operated for money, checks, credits or any other representative or thing of value, shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary for the period of not less than one nor more than three years."

"Many social games are 'games at cards,' which are played for 'things of value.' If the law is strictly enforced by the officers, society must abandon some of its pleasures or get into trouble. Even if its members wink at it, the officers wink back again, there will be no getting round the rude fact that the law has called a spade a spade and placed the 400 along with those who employ their talents in the foul atmosphere of the dive."

Leaming-Kester.

E. R. Leaming, a well known pioneer resident of this city, and Mrs. Minerva Kester of Portland, Or., were married at 11 a. m. Thursday at the Presbyterian parsonage, Rev. F. L. Hayden officiating. The happy couple, it seems, took their friends by surprise. The bride is a comparative stranger here. She is a sister of Mrs. C. A. Sherwood of Fruitvale. The Democrat extends congratulations to the happy couple.

Doty-Friend Nuptials.

The marriage ceremony uniting as one A. A. Doty and Miss Ada Friend was performed by Rev. H. M. Bartlett at the rectory Sunday evening, the happy couple being attended by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Grafton. After the ceremony the quartet sat down to a specially prepared and sumptuous dinner at the Hotel Yakima. The newly wedded couple received congratulations from a host of friends during the week.

A local "ad" that was placed in this paper by a Seattle lady who wanted a husband provoked a good deal of inquiry at this office by would-be beneficiaries. For particulars they were all referred to the lady who thus offers herself as a sacrifice on the altar of matrimony. A letter received from her this week contained an order to stop the "ad," as she needed time to consider the number of flattering offers that she had already received. Moral—It pays to advertise in the DEMOCRAT for what you want.

Ernest McCullough, the practical engineer, at present in charge of the drainage work on the Hiscok ranch in the Moxee, requests the DEMOCRAT to announce that he is at liberty to accept engagements to superintend irrigation or land drainage, sewerage or water works construction. He is also prepared to take contracts to construct water tight basements and will guarantee to make cellars or basements absolutely impervious to water.

Machine Failed to Work.

A good deal of interest has been felt by farmers of this valley in the experiment recently made at the Hiscok ranch in the Moxee with the drainage machine invented by R. P. Tjossem, the well known mill man of Ellensburg. The machine is said to have worked very satisfactorily on Mr. Tjossem's own farm near Ellensburg and to have thoroughly redeemed a considerable body of land that had gone to alkali. Unfortunately, on the Hiscok land, obstacles were encountered that could not be overcome and the machine therefore failed to work. The result of the experiment is best told in the words of Mr. Ernest McCullough, the engineer in charge of the work at the Hiscok place. In reference to the matter, Mr. McCullough said:

"We found the soil to be so irregular that the machine proved a failure. The ideal conditions for its use are to be found in marshy or water soaked soil free from heavy tenacious clay. The soil in the hop field of Mr. Hiscok is generally loamy, and at depths varying from three to five feet we find sand and gravel. The machine went through the loam readily enough, but when it struck a 'bone' of heavy dried clay (called by some a hardpan) it was all up with it. These 'bones' were found sometimes 10 feet apart and at others 50 feet. Sometimes they were in streaks a few feet wide and again in patches of from 50 to 200 feet in extent."

"So we are doing the work by hand and endeavoring to keep from 30 to 40 men at work. Any able bodied man with blankets who wants a job can find it here. We expect to complete the work by April."

Congressman Jones Returns.

Hon. W. L. Jones reached home Sunday morning from Washington. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Guthrie, of Bethany, Ill., who will remain here for some time to visit her sons.

Regarding governmental irrigation schemes in this section, Mr. Jones says that the Indian bureau of the interior department is now ready to proceed with the big reservation ditch. He has advised Engineer Redman that the department has set aside the sum of $30,000 to begin work on the big ditch, which amount, it is estimated, will build the first four miles of the main canal. The sum of $15,000 has also been appropriated to build a lateral extending to Toppenish creek, a distance of two miles. Mr. Redman estimates that even with the small amount of money available, nearly 30,000 acres of land can be covered. The department has not yet given the order to proceed with the work, but such an order is expected now most any day.

As to the Cowiche canal Mr. Jones says that before leaving Washington he received a promise from the secretary of the interior that a survey would be ordered and an investigation made this season. The secretary also promised to extend this investigation so as to include reservoir sites in the Cascades.

Mr. Jones says that he is glad to be home again and that the weather is much more pleasant here than anywhere that he has been in the east.

Getting Rich Quick.

E. F. Zaspel, a local dealer in hay was taken in charge by Sheriff Grant this week on the complaint of several people who had had dealings with Zaspel and had come to the conclusion that he was in too big a hurry to get rich. Zaspel, it seems, was accused of raising the figures on his weight bills and collecting from his customers for a quantity of hay never delivered. The victims becoming suspicious began to compare notes and then proceeded to take the sheriff into their confidence. That official got after Zaspel and compelled him to disgorge his ill gotten gains, which he has since been endeavoring to do. If he squares himself with his customers it is not thought that he will be prosecuted.

Later—Zaspel was arrested Thursday and is now in the county jail awaiting trial.

Trapshooters' New Plan.

Members of the Yakima Rod & Gun Club have determined upon a new plan for the club championship medal contests. Hereafter there will be three classes, as follows: Class A, those scoring over 20 in a 25 bird race; class B, those scoring between 15 and 20; class C, the others. In the contests class C men will have a second chance at the number of birds missed out of the 25, and class B men at half of the misses, thus establishing a kind of handicap. The plan was first tried on Sunday with eight members at the traps and with the following result: Stacy 22, Bell 14, Bilger 13, Walker and T. Fisher 11, Sitton 6 and Sinclair 5. Considerable shooting was done, including several "jackpots," but the scores were not very high, the day being chilly.

Teach Your Daughter to Work.

Any American girl is possibly, and probably, going to need to fall back upon her own resources some time. The ups and downs of fortune are too certain, too conspicuous, to need pointing out. To bring up a girl without any training in a useful occupation is not simply imprudent and foolish, but it is wicked. Feminine character needs independence to make and keep it sweet and perfect. The darkest tragedies of life grow out of the ignorance, helplessness and dependence of women. Courage, training in work, independence of character and self-reliance—these, with high ideals of womanhood for inspiration, are what every girl needs. Only through intelligent work can the highest character be attained, and the growth of character is the whole purpose of this school which we call "the world."—Woman's Home Companion.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

THE eighth legislature of the state of Washington is now a thing of the past and as a result the people breathe easier.

It is in no wise exaggeration to state that the late session was the worst in the history of the state and this is saying a good deal, for it had several rotten predecessors. However, the last beat them all for its sins both of omission and commission, for never before in the history of this young state have the forces of evil been so thoroughly organized. This applies particularly to the senate. The house was not so bad, although it too was demoralized to a considerable extent through the pernicious influence of the lobby. But what the house lacked in corruption, as compared with the higher body, it made up for in incompetence and general weakness.

There is perhaps a shade of excuse for the weak record made by the house, in the fact that the better element of that body became utterly disgusted and discouraged by the course pursued by the corporation ring in control of the senate, which seemed to take a fiendish delight in killing all bills designed in the interest of the people. As a prominent commission republican leader of the house explained to the writer: "What is the use of our trying to pass decent bills in the house when we know that they will certainly be killed in the senate." While there is some reason in this, still it is a pretty flimsy excuse. The house should have gone ahead and performed its duty to the people regardless of the corrupt senate ring. As it is that body must accept its full share of responsibility for the criminal record that has been made.

The vile record for incompetency and corruption made can be attributed chiefly to the pernicious, far-reaching policy of the railroad lobby. The lobby simply owned a majority of the senate, body, boots and breeches. The notorious Geo.
Stevenson, representing the three transcontinental railways of the state, sat in his iniquitous den in the Carlton house and there issued his edicts to the faithful who scurried back and forth between there and the legislative hall to receive and carry out the orders of the king of the lobby. Stevenson's fiat was law and in every case seems to have been carried out to the letter. During the closing days of the session Stevenson was the busiest and most sought after man in Olympia. Even members of the legislature who entertained the most utter contempt for the man and his methods found it necessary in the interest of their pet measures to truckle and humiliate themselves before the all powerful boss in order that bills demanded by their constituents might run the gauntlet of the railroad majority in the senate. In cases where members had made themselves obnoxious by persistently denouncing the methods of the lobby they were politely refused, their bills killed and the legislators forced to go back to their constituents with a record of failure charged up against them.

The senate ring was composed of twenty-three republicans and one weak-kneed, renegade democrat, Earles of Whitcomb, who is a lumber manufacturer and is said to have been whipped into line. Another democrat, Moore of King county, on the start lined up with the gang and voted against the commission bill. Subsequently becoming disgusted and repentant, he quit the railway camp and acted with the opposition. The gang got even with him, however, by killing such bills as Moore was interested in.

It ought to be a source of satisfaction to the people of Yakima county, regardless of politics, to know and feel that their senator, A. J. Splawn, lined up throughout the entire session on the side of right and justice and in opposition to the solidly organized forces of evil. He voted, we believe, on every measure as his conscience and his sense of right dictated. Indeed so consistently did he follow this course that he won the admiration and respect even of the leaders in the railway camp whom he so stoutly opposed.

COL. BLETHEN of the Seattle Times ought to and doubtless does construe the refusal of the senate majority to confirm him as a university regent as a personal compliment. Still there is no excuse for the senate's action. The majority in that body was animated with the idea of securing revenge on the editor of the Times for having held them up to scorn in such a dramatic manner. They again failed in their scheme for yengeance in the futility of their efforts to repeal the present libel law.

NORTH YAKIMA is not receiving its share of the new comers from the east this spring. Will somebody explain the reason for this?

THE reservoir bill found its way to the senatorial boneyard. Senator Sharp and Splawn killed it with their little hatchets.

When all things are taken into consideration it is probably a good thing that the measure was laid to rest. The people of this valley whose interests would have been effected by the proposed law want time to consider the matter and also to give the federal government a chance to act in the premises.
Moreover, the proposition was sprung upon them suddenly and the provisions of the measure changed so often and so radically that a Philadelphia lawyer would hardly have been able to have kept track of the matter to say nothing of the average Yakima farmer or business man. Let no man, however, make the mistake of assuming that this problem of water storage has been finally disposed of, for nothing could be farther from the truth. To state the fact plainly we are simply "up against" the storage proposition in this valley and the question will not go down. It will come up again within the next two years more forcible than ever. The future greatness and prosperity of the Yakima valley is bound up in a great measure in the storage of water and the question affects the interests of every inhabitant.
Our people would do well to inform themselves on this problem in order that they may act intelligently when the issue is presented again.

WARREN W. TOLMAN, one of the democratic senators from Spokane county and minority leader in the upper house of the legislature, deserves unstinted praise for his splendid work in the senate. Senator Tolman is a man who believes in doing right for right's sake.
Besides being conscientious he is possessed of a brilliant, grasping mind, quick to detect any fallacy or weakness in the argument advanced by an opponent.
This faculty of Tolman's, taken in connection with his thorough knowledge of parliamentary law had the effect of frequently placing the blundering railroad leaders of the senate in a hole, from which they were never able to emerge save by the use of their brutal majority which never failed to hold together.

Time and again Senator Tolman and his Spartan band, usually allied with the McBride wing of republicans, assaulted the position of the railroad gang and drove them from under cover and into the open. The result in most cases was the same, however. It was like going up against a stone wall.

Senator Tolman has proven himself a most wise and valiant leader and one that can be trusted under any circumstances. The splendid record that he has made in his fight for the people's rights entitles him to any recognition that he may hereafter desire. And the DEMOCRAT is free to say that it will take great pleasure in supporting the Spokane statesman.

THE DEMOCRAT is opposed to the scheme now on foot to appropriate city and county funds in order to build a fruit stand in the railroad park in this city to be turned over to somebody to conduct a private business in. Let us pass up these cheap John methods of advertising, and if we are going to advertise the country, let us do it right and in a legitimate way. The community has no money to fool away.

WHAT is the prospect for a ditch this year? That is the question asked us perhaps forty times a week. There is much ditch talk, but what will come of it all is more than we can say, but one thing we do know, there is too much jealousy and strife in our ditch schemes and too little water.—Ellensburg Dawn.

In other words, you have too many knockers in your town. Isn't that about the size of it, neighbor?

Gov. McBride finds it necessary to prune the general appropriation bill severely. It is generally assumed that our Cascade road and the beet sugar bounty appropriations will be lopped off with the executive ax. The senate ring purposely permitted enormous appropriations, knowing that the governor would feel compelled to use the veto power.

We imagine that most of our republican friends hereabouts had they been at Olympia during the closing days of the late legislative session and seen how Geo. Stevenson, king of the lobby and an alleged democrat, bossed their party leaders around and made them dance to corporation music, it would have made them sick and sore of heart.

NORTH YAKIMA is the best town of its size in the state, is an expression that one hears everywhere, and what everybody says must be true.

Preparations for Baseball.

Grading of the new baseball park at the foot of South Moxee avenue was completed today, ten teams and a score of men being engaged two weeks. Captain-Manager Bert Dunn has signed his team, all but a third baseman. The new men are said to know their business. At present the team is composed of the following named: Taylor and Klinkhammer, pitchers and out fielders; Wilkins, lately of Des Moines, catcher; Gibson, first base; Dunn, second base; Spidell, shortstop; Irby and Shaw, out field. Games are being arranged with Walla Walla, Dayton, Pendleton, La Grande, Ellensburg and other places. Manager Dunn says he has offers of many dates.

The splendid time the Monarchs play Will make you dance till break o' day.

Hope for the Dead.

The following oration delivered by the late Col. Robt. Ingersoll at the grave of a friend is published by special request:
"My friends: I know how vain it is to gild a grief with words, and yet I wish to take from every grave its fear. Here in this world, where life and death are equal kings, all should be brave enough to meet what all the dead have met.
The future has been filled with fear, stained and polluted by the heartless past. From the wondrous tree of life the buds and blossoms fall with ripened fruit, and in the common bed of earth the patriarchs and babes sleep side by side. Why should we fear that which will come to all that is? We cannot tell, we do not know, which is the greater blessing—life or death. We cannot say that death is not a good. We do not know whether the grave is the end of this life or the door of another or whether the night here is not some where else a dawn. Neither can we tell which is the more fortunate—the child dying in its mother's arms, before its lips have learned to form a word, or he who journeys all the length of life's uneven road, painfully taking the last slow steps with staff and crutch.

"Every cradle asks us 'Whence?' and every coffin, 'Whither?' The poor barbarian, weeping above his dead, can answer these questions as intelligently and satisfactorily as the robed priest of the most authentic creed. The fearful ignorance of the one is just as consoling as the learned and unmeaning words of the other. No man standing where the horizon of a life has been touched by a grave, has any right to prophesy a future, filled with pain and tears. It may be that death gives all there is of worth to life.
If those we press and strain against our hearts could never die, perhaps that love would wither from the earth. Maybe this common fate treads from out the paths between our hearts the weeds of selfishness and hate, and I had rather live and love where death is king than have eternal life where love is not. Another life is naught unless we know and love again the ones who loved us here.

"They who stand with breaking hearts around the grave need have no fear.
The larger and nobler faith in all that is and is to be tells us that death, even at its worst, is only perfect rest. We know that through the common wants of life, the needs and duties of each hour, their grief will lessen day by day, until at last this grave will be to them a place of rest and peace, almost of joy. There is for them this consolation. The dead do not suffer. If they live again their lives will surely be as good as ours.

"We have no fear. We are all children of the same mother, and the same late awaits us all. We, too, have our religion, and it is this: Help for the living—hope for the dead."

In the Valdez Country.

Now that the Tanana country and Valdez are attracting the attention of argonauts, and all seekers after quick wealth and plenty of it, it may be of interest to the general public to know that the town of Valdez was named after a Spanish explorer of that name, who sought the country a century or more ago.

His associate, a gentleman equally honorable, was Galiano, and in his recent petition Judge Wickersham suggested that the center of the new oil region on Kayak island, where a city must certainly be built, might be named after the other explorer.

Accordingly when the department of the government appointed Charles F.
Whittlesey of Seattle to the position of U. S. court commissioner, the credentials read, "U. S. court commissioner to Galiano." And thus the new "oil town" received its christening.—Seattle Mail and Herald.

Yakima People in Seattle.

The DEMOCRAT man while in Seattle last week had the pleasure of meeting several former Yakimans who are now residents of the Queen city. All were found to be prospering and apparently happy in their new home.

W. T. Clark, well known all over the Yakima country as "Artesian Well" Clark, was found at his desk in the handsomely appointed office of J. W.
Clise in the Globe block. For nearly a year past Mr. Clark has been engaged in superintending the work of construction on his high line canal in the Wenatchee country. He expects to have the ditch completed and ready to turn water into by the 15th of May. It has been a big undertaking and a very costly one. Mr.
Clark conceived the idea of building this ditch and himself financed the proposition and will make a good thing out of it for himself, which will be pleasing information to his many friends here.

On the top floor of the handsome new Arcade block we found our old friends, E. E. James and his partner, Mr. Bushnell. It is probably no exaggeration to say that there is no photographic studio in the state that will compare for beauty and fine appointments with that of Messrs James & Bushnell. A visitor from this city certainly ought to feel at home in these sumptuously furnished apartments, for the pictures of a number of well known Yakima people seem to smile a welcome to one from their places on the wall. The junior member of this firm, who, since he left Yakima, has wedded a lovely Oregon girl, now goes about his daily labor with a beaming face, apparently as happy as a big sunflower.

Will Prosser, now doing the "police stunt" on the reportorial staff of the P.- I., was met with and regaled us for awhile with stories of newspaper work in the state's metropolis. The young man is kept busy hustling three columns per day of local chaff for his paper and is in love with his work. He confessed, however, that he gets a little homesick sometimes and wishes that he was back again in sunny Yakima, the home of his childhood, where he has many warm friends and well-wishers.

Our old friend Isaac Davis of the cigar jobbing house of the Meyer-Davis Co., was next met with and he carried us off to his office and salesroom on the sixth floor of the Pacific block, where we inspected his large stock of goods stacked up to the ceiling awaiting shipment to the retail trade. This firm enjoys a large business and Mr. Davis says that Yakima is unquestionably the best town in the state to sell goods in. We enjoyed our visit to the headquarters of this wide awake and reliable firm and before leaving, through the generosity of Mr.
Davis, we were almost loaded down with samples of the "Manuel Lopez" and other choice brands of fragrant Havanas.
M. L. G. Wheeler, of pneumatic pump fame, has recently received a patent on his new invention to utilize water power to better advantage. By the new contrivance power can be taken from a water pipe or flume any number of times without diminishing the power in the stream. Arrangements are now being made by Mr. Wheeler to place his new device on the market.

We left the busy, bustling town of Elliott bay with the feeling that we had been royally entertained during our short stay there and that Seattle is a whale of a town and is all the better for having within her gates so many good people from Yakima.

Griffith in "Macbeth," March 23.

"Macbeth" appears to have been one of the latest, as it is one of the greatest of Shakespeare's dramatic achievements.
It is believed to have been written and first performed some time between the years 1603 and 1610. The traditions on which the plot is founded, are related by Hollingshead in his "Chronicles," first published in London, 1577; and also by George Buchanan, in his Latin "History of Scotland." Not only the historical outline, but the principal incidents of the drama, may be found in the works of these writers. The prophecy of Macbeth's destiny and that of Banquo's issue, the interview between Macduff and Malcolm, and the influence of Macbeth's wife, whom Hollingshead describes as "burning with unquenchable desire to bear the name of a queen," have all a legendary or semi-historical foundation in truth.

There is reason to believe that "Macbeth" was often represented with success at the Globe during the lifetime of the author; and that Burbage, who was the most distinguished tragedian of the day, was in the habit of personating the hero. The tragedy had been banished from the stage, however, for some time, when in 1672, Sir William Davenant produced a version of it at the Duke's Theatre, "with alterations, amendments, additions and new songs."

To Garrick belongs the merit of restoring to the stage the original "Macbeth," and the present acting version is that which he prepared, and which was afterwards improved by Philip Kemble.
The language, except in one or two of the characters, is almost exclusively that of Shakespeare. There are more of the elements of the sublime, as it seems to us, in this character, than in any other known to the drama; and this, perhaps, is the reason why it is so rarely embodied to the satisfaction of a judicious audience.

John Griffith, who is to play "Macbeth" at Larson's Theatre, Monday evening, March 23, is probably one of the best of all the representatives of the character. From the first scene, where he is accosted by the witches, to the last desperate encounter with "Macduff," he is said to be animated, consistent and impressive.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

At the regular meeting of the city council Monday night, Mayor Shaw presided with all the seven councilmen present.

A petition was read signed by Felix Roy and Joseph E. Brule asking that they be granted a license to conduct a saloon in the wooden building situated on the west side of S. First St., on lot 17 of block 11. The petition being in regular form, the same was granted.

A petition from numerous property owners on South Third St., asking that that street be graded from lot 9 block 51 to Race St. was read and granted. Other petitions read and granted were as follows: For the grading of South Sixth street from Walnut to Maple, for the building of a sidewalk on the west side of the same street for the same distance. Resolutions of intention were also ordered published for building a plank sidewalk along the south side of West Yakima Avenue from Front St. to Moxee Avenue, also for the building of a plank walk along the east side of South Second from the Central school four blocks south. The council then proceeded to consider and pass a number of ordinances establishing improvement districts authorizing the building of sidewalks on the west side of S. Second St., the west side of Selah St. and the south side of West Yakima Avenue.

The clerk read the assessment roll as published in the Democrat for the paving of Second street. Afterward a long remonstrance was read signed by a number of property owners on that street and by H. J. Snively, their attorney, protesting against the acceptance of the work and refusing to pay therefor.

The matter of grading and macadamizing South First street, Councilman Aikins objected on the ground that the proposed improvement was not needed as South Second street could accommodate all the travel. Councilman Switzer took issue with him and stated that if the property owners were willing to pay for the work that they were as much entitled to it as the people in any other part of the city. On a roll call, however, Aikins' motion to lay the petition over prevailed.

Engineer Wands laid before the council the specifications for the grading of North and South Fourth street. The same were approved and the clerk directed to advertise for bids.

A resolution accepting the sidewalk built by G. H. Moulton on the east side of North First street was passed.

Bids for the construction of a sidewalk along the south side of West Yakima Avenue from Moxee to the city limits were then opened. That of G. H. Moulton was for 51 1/2 cents per lineal foot, the bid of J. E. Kauffman was for 48 cents per foot. The contract was awarded the latter. The same parties submitted bids for the building of a plank walk along the west side of S. Second St. Mr. Moulton's bid was 45 1/2 cents per foot, the bid of Mr. Kauffman was 43 cents and the contract was awarded to him.

The bond of James Lemon, street commissioner, in the sum of $1000, with the names of Geo. Donald and I. H. Dills as sureties was submitted and approved.

Chairman Liggett of the cemetery committee, reported that the committee of the Catholic church had selected 10 acres of the Lince tract and was prepared to purchase the same. He also reported that it would be necessary to at once plat a portion of the ground for the city's use and that the balance could be rented for $10 per acre. The committee was given power to act in all pending matters pertaining to the cemetery.

The matter of changing the channel of the Schanno ditch for a distance of two blocks on the west side was referred to the street and ditch committee with power to act.

Mayor Shaw read copies of telegrams received by Congressman Jones regarding the coming visit of President Roosevelt. On motion of Congressman Switzer the mayor was authorized to appoint a reception committee to represent the city on the occasion of the president's visit, May 25th. The committee was instructed to cooperate with a committee from the Commercial Club. Mayor Shaw stated that he would appoint the committee at the next meeting. Adjourned.
